GREAT MEN GRILLED.

Taft as a Matador in Scene from the Latest Version of "Carmen."

Awful Democratic Carnage in the Tariff Revision Armageddon.

Tender and Touching Ballad of Farewell Is Sung for President.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The landslide of 1912; how it happened and the futility of an attempt to reorganize the "G. O. P." on the old lines, were the themes upon which played the wit and humor of the Gridiron Club at the annual fall dinner tonight. Events of political importance and actions upon which turned national issues were treated in a spirit of levity and fun. Underlying each jest and quip and skit were touches of human sympathy and kindliness for the victims of the November avalanche, as well as some bits of homely advice and warning for the victors, that kept everybody in good humor.

Not even his late political enemies failed to welcome the pathetic tribute to President Taft in the song rendered by the Gridiron Quartette, appealing to him, "not to forget when you go away." The President sat and listened, with the members of his Cabinet seated about the banquet hall.

CAMPAIGN LITTER.

The fun started early. It was discovered that the usually immaculate hall was not as tidy as it should be, and a "white wing" was sent about gathering all sorts of litter. This turned out to be "campaign rubbish," and each find brought forth a ripple of applause. He pulled out from the band stand a pair of moose horns, and the club members tossed into his bag some worn-out souvenirs of the campaign. Such were the "last positive predictions of Senator Dixon and Charles D. Hilles;" "That smile that wouldn't come off;" the "Bluff at Big Business, O. K.'d by Bill Bryan;" a couple of old empty wallets, one marked, "C. P. T." and the other, "G. W. P.," the peace treaties, the Commerce Court, and the "hopes of Henry Cabot Lodge for the chairmanship of the Foreign Relations Committee."

BY HECK!

Unlike other clubs, the Gridiron Club initiates its members in public, and this time it acquired two worthy young journalists in novel fashion. Hobbling into the hall on crutches, bandaged, hats knocked in, and clothes dishevelled, came caricatures of President Taft, "Uncle Joe" Cannon, "Nick" Longworth, Murray Crane, and Representatives Sulloway, McKinley and Dalzell. "Sons of the landslides," who declared their purpose to reorganize the Republican party rallying around the States of Judge Says He Wants to Perpetuate Dream of Childhood.

[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 7.—To protect the happy illusions of the city's children, the police of Kansas City, Kan., ordered today that Santa Claus must stay off the streets there. "The practice of sending out men dressed in Santa Claus regalia has become obnoxious," said Judge J. L. Carlisle of the Municipal Court today. "Besides, children whose parents never could afford to buy them expensive toys, would meet Santa Claus on the street and shake his hand and request that he deliver a great number of toys at their homes. 'Sure, I'll bring them to you,' Santa would say, but when Christmas came there would be only disappointment."

SUMMARY.

THE SKY. Forecast: Fair Sunday, heavy [illegible] in the morning; light northeast winds. For complete weather report see page 15, Part I.

THE CITY. The Civil Service Commission in a resolution adopted yesterday, commands the City Councilmen by subpoena to appear before it tomorrow morning to explain alleged criticisms, and a policeman has been detailed to enforce their attendance if necessary.

[illegible] millions are to be expended by a [illegible] power of hydro-electricity, [illegible] in railway traffic.

The grand jury has subpoenaed other witnesses to appear before it in the investigation of the Lloyd case and its ramifications, it being understood that the latest angle to be taken up is the alleged endeavor to involve the Chief of Police.

Refusing to give up her fiance because death threatened, a local girl married him at his bedside last night and vowed that if love could drive away the illness she would do all in her power to accomplish it.

In re the razing of Bunker Hill facts and figures were given here yesterday, showing how Pittsburgh expended twenty millions to cut down similar landscape obstructions.

A unique banquet was given last night by the deaf and dumb of Los Angeles in honor of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet, who founded the system of education for those so constituted.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. The home of a wealthy Pasadenan was entered by a burglar and $5000 worth of jewelry taken. Seventy thousand dollars' worth was overlooked by the thieves.

San Fernando does not make as much noise as some other places, but it yields to none in enterprise. Bids for two new school buildings are now being received by the architect and other material moves are the daily programme.

San Bernardino favors the northern route for the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway and the Chamber of Commerce of that city will give a banquet and ask representatives of various cities to participate in the movement to see that it is built that way.

The Jobbers' and Manufacturers' Association of California elected C. C. Hilles of San Francisco, chairman for the ensuing year. Elbert H. Elliott, also of San Francisco, was chosen secretary.

PACIFIC SLOPE. Julius Nyhagen, arrested yesterday at San Francisco, confessed to landing forty smuggled coolies on Sunset Beach near Los Angeles, and implicated two men now in Los Angeles jail in the conspiracy.

A violent patient at the Napa Hospital for the Insane escaped yesterday and set fire to the straw barn of the institution. He was recaptured.

GENERAL EASTERN. Gen. Frank Reeder, son of the war Governor of Kansas, died yesterday at Easton, Pa.

William D. Cramm, for two terms collector of the port at Charleston, S. C., and then Minister to Liberia, died yesterday of the African fever.

R. I. Farrington resigned yesterday as vice-president of the Great Northern, presumably to head the merger of the First and Second National banks at St. Paul.

THE GREAT WAR. The Servian Merchants' Union has decided to boycott Austrian products.

The Serbs have planted batteries on the Danube commanding Austrian positions on the opposite bank.

While the table is set in London to serve peace pie to the plenipotentiaries of the warring powers of the Balkans, a number of "desperate" engagements were reported yesterday from the scene of carnage.

WASHINGTON. President Taft and Secretary of Agriculture Wilson have agreed on the appointment of Dr. Carl Alsberg to succeed Dr. Harvey W. Wiley as chief of the Bureau of Chemistry.

FOREIGN. Because a babe was born to his morganatic wife, Grand Duke Michaeel of Russia formally renounced his right to the succession to the throne of Russia, although his mother, the Dowager Empress, is seeking to persuade him to renounce wife and child because of the crisis caused in the succession by the fatal illness of the Czarevich.

FINANCIAL. Wall street has recovered for the time being from the crisis that threatened values earlier in the week. The clearinghouse banks have wiped out the deficit of last week and show a surplus.

Russian Imperial Family Much Upset and Dowager Empress Real Angry Because of Break in Succession — Illness of Czarevich Cause for Grave Concern.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 7.—Emperor Nicholas and the members of the imperial family are greatly upset by the decision of the Emperor's only brother, Grand Duke Michael Androvitch, definitely to renounce his rights of succession to the throne. The morganatic marriage contracted in 1910 by the Grand Duke with the divorced wife of a brother officer was recently blessed by the birth of a son. This event prompted Grand Duke Michael's decision. He wishes to retire to the private life of a country gentleman, assuming the title of Count in order to enjoy domestic bliss far from the atmosphere of the court.

The Emperor is opposed to this step, all the more because of the recent illness of his only son, Crown Prince Alexis, which has revived fears for the succession.

The sons of the late Grand Duke Vladimir, who would become the next candidates for the throne, unhappily share their father's intense unpopularity. All classes of well-informed Russians, indeed, regard the possibility of their ascending the throne as disastrous for the dynasty.

The Dowager Empress Marie is so incensed at the action of the Grand Duke Michael that she announces she will not return to Russia unless he changes his mind. Such a change would involve dissolution of the morganatic marriage.

Credit System for Farmers to Be Considered by House Committee in Currency Reform Measure.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—A general credit system for the financing of farmers, as outlined by President Taft to the Governors' conference here today, will be considered as a part of the general currency reform to be attempted by the subcommittee of the House Banking and Currency Committee, it was decided today. Myron T. Herrick, United States Ambassador to France, will be accorded a special hearing by the subcommittee, seeking a substitute for the Aldrich currency plan, of which Representative Glass of Virginia is chairman.

At the instance of Representative Bulkeley of Ohio, Representative Glass decided to call a special meeting of the subcommittee on either Tuesday or Thursday of next week to hear Mr. Herrick. The full committee hearings will not begin until the week of January 6, but in view of Mr. Herrick's enforced return to Europe within two weeks he will be accorded the special hearing.

Mr. Herrick, since becoming Ambassador to France, has made a special study of the system of rural credits conducted in Europe, and made a complete report to President Taft.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann, the Berlin physician who says he has evolved a cure for tuberculosis, will open his first institute for the treatment of the white plague in the Luetzow-Strasse in Berlin next week.

Since the announcement of Dr. Friedmann's discovery he has been bombarded with cable and letter inquiries from all parts of the United States and Canada. His correspondents, both sufferers and fellow-physicians, all want more details. Scores make frantic requisition for samples of his antidote. Others wish to know if Dr. Friedmann will treat them if they undertake the journey across the seas to Germany.

A SCIENTIST.

Dr. Friedmann, like the average scientist, is inexperienced as a business man. He is still too much immersed in the medical and humanitarian aspect of his alleged discovery to give attention to his correspondence and the result is that his study at the present moment contains a mass of undigested cables, letters and newspaper cuttings.

To such of his supplicants as Dr. Friedmann has found time to answer he has issued a general statement that he is prepared to treat all who are willing to undertake at their own responsibility the trip to his new institute here.

He refuses to supply any of his cure material to doctors. He has not yet patented his process and intends to run no risks in the meantime.

RAPS THE DOCTORS.

"Physicians of the world," he declares, "are kept going to a large extent by humanity's cruelest and deadliest foes, cancer and consumption. They have every reason in the world to throttle a thing like mine while still in its swaddling clothes."

Dr. Friedmann is only 36 years old. He has devoted practically his entire life, since leaving medical school, to seeking a cure for the white plague. For the moment he is going through the same experience that nearly annihilated Prof. Robert Koch, but he is confident that his story will not repeat itself in his case.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Lancet is disinclined to pin much faith to the reported cure for tuberculosis discovered by Dr. Friedmann of Berlin, the details of which have been given in these dispatches.

"Dr. Friedmann claims," says the Lancet, "that the bacillus he uses is devoid of the slightest toxicity. There is no evidence, whatever, that he is able to do this and every ground for believing that he is mistaken.

"The general clinical evidence that Dr. Friedmann has been able to produce is not in any way a sound, scientific support of his theories or procedure."

COLDBLOODED CRUELTY, ONE PAPER CALLS IT.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Under the heading "Newspaper Cures," the Lancet Clinic, the leading Cincinnati journal for physicians and surgeons, brands the recent publication referring to the discovery of a cure for tuberculosis by Dr. Frank Friedman of Berlin as a "coldblooded cruelty." The article appearing in this week's issue of the Lancet Clinic in part follows:

"It appears that we have another cure from Berlin. This time it is a cure for tuberculosis. It seems that several weeks ago a certain doctor, Friedrich Franz Friedman, "astounded German physicians by declaring in a public conference (whatever that may be,) that he had been successfully treating tuberculosis for the past two years and that now he has nearly 600 cured cases to display to scientists.

"The treatment is very simple.

"It's a serum. This sounds very well, for we have serums for so many things nowadays. But the serum is from a turtle. This is very gratifying, for it shows that Dr. Friedman has succeeded where so many earnest men have failed. Another gratifying fact is that the doctor has 'produced enough of the culture to supply the world for all time.' This being the case, patients need not hurry to Berlin for fear that if they do not arrive within a few weeks the supply will have been exhausted by the treatment of the multitudes who may have preceded them."

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The prospects for a satisfactory and reasonably rapid settlement of the Balkan war and of the greater European interests hanging upon it seem brighter tonight than at any time since the allied armies took the field against Turkey. The envoys from the Balkan kingdoms, Greece—if Greece decides to participate—and the Ottoman empire will hold the first meeting of the peace conference next Friday. At the same time the Ambassadors of the great powers at London, charged with the task of protecting the interests of their countries, will meet as a sort of court of appeals to watch, advise and admonish the peace delegates.

PARTY LEADERS IN CONFERENCE

Reorganization Is Theme of the Governors.

Would Wait a Year to Realign Forces.

Hadley Canvasses Sentiment of the Senate.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Republican Governors from a dozen States and party leaders in Congress with whom they informally conferred today, have agreed that no definite steps toward a reorganization of the Republican party, and a realignment of its working forces, are practical within a year. Opposition from Progressive Republicans whom it was desired to bring into the movement and apathy on the part of men who have been identified with the party's greatest activity have helped convince the leaders in the reorganization movement that no concerted plans should be undertaken until late next year.

IN THE CONFERENCE.

A conference planned by Governors Hadley of Missouri and Tener of Pennsylvania and presided over by Gov. Goldsborough of Maryland, brought together here today Republican Executives from State covering the entire area where the Progressive Republican fight was most severe during the recent campaign. This conference was called for "an exchange of views," and nothing further was attempted by those back of the movement. As the result of the conference, however, it became apparent that any general plan of reorganization will embrace a reduction of representation from Southern States, and an adoption of primary systems for the selection of delegates to the National Convention of the party.

Prior to the conference of Governors, Gov. Hadley of Missouri had canvassed the Republican and Progressive forces of the Senate to ascertain the feeling toward proposed action to strengthen the party. It is understood that Progressive Senators, who still maintain their alliance with the Republican party, gave little support to the proposition for reorganization; and that many "regular Republicans" declared emphatically that they believed it too early to attempt any concerted effort toward party rehabilitation.

THOSE PRESENT.

Those present at the conference were Govs. Hadley, Tener and Goldsborough; Eberhart of Minnesota, Carroll of Iowa, Pennewill of Delaware, Oddie of Nevada, Vessey of South Dakota, Spry of Utah, Glasscock of West Virginia, McGovern of Wisconsin, Carey of Wyoming and Gov.-elect Hanna of North Dakota. No formal statement was issued by the conference and its participants declared no action had been taken as to a party convention next year, or a committee to consider political conditions. Gov. Hadley made a personal statement later, however, with the explanation that he undertook to speak only for himself. He declared that the defection of 4,000,000 voters from the Republican ranks in 1912, "requires a careful consideration," and urged that a national convention be called before the beginning of the next campaign to redraft party rules so that no question could be raised over the "representative character" of the National Republican Conventions.

Gov. Vessey of South Dakota, one of those present, is a Progressive National Committeeman from that State and announced that he would attend the Progressive gathering at Chicago next week. He remained in the conference, however, and participated in the discussion. Gov. Tener of Pennsylvania stated tonight that there had been a free exchange of views and a general expression of hope that the Republican party could be strengthened.

Criticism.

WILSON'S RAP AT JEFFERSON.

HEADS OFF DEMOCRATIC SHOT AT REID.

President-elect in His "History of the United States" Said of the Founder of His Party: "Washington Found in Him a Guide Who Needed Watching."

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Whether the President-elect or Ambassador Whitelaw Reid had been the most critical of the inconsistencies of Thomas Jefferson was a question which the House debated in spirited fashion for almost an hour on Friday. Democratic attacks upon the tenor of the recent speech of the American Ambassador to England, delivered at the University College of Wales, October 7, brought the emphatic retort from the Republican side that no one had been more severe in his treatment of the character of Jefferson than had Wilson in his "History of the United States." The debate ended with the insertion in the record of a paragraph from Wilson's book in which he said of Jefferson: "Washington found in him a guide who needed watching."

OBJECTED TO REID'S SPEECH.

Representative Gillette, Republican, asked unanimous consent to insert in the record the full text of Reid's speech. Two Democrats, Representatives Jones and Shackleford, objected.

"I had no idea of making the subject a political issue," commented Representative Mitchell Palmer.

"Of course not," said a score of Republican voices in unison. Republican members insisted that if the entire speech of Reid were read it would be found that it was laudatory of Jefferson and that the customs of the different phases of that statesman's character were based upon undisputed history.

Nevertheless, Mr. Palmer contended that the Ambassador's speeches deserved official denial, if not censure and that Mr. Reid had misrepresented not only Jefferson, but the great party founded by him.

REID LAUDED JEFFERSON.

"I have read the address of Reid," answered Representative Mann, minority leader. "My impression was that in the main it was laudatory of Jefferson and there is certainly nothing in the address which in any way whatever so condemnatory of the life of Jefferson as the expression in Wilson's printed article."

"And these statements of the Ambassador are in the main sustained by citations from the various volumes to which he referred." said Langey of Kentucky.

"In order that the American Ambassador may be put right I shall print with the remarks of the gentleman from Pennsylvania an estimate of Thomas Jefferson by Woodrow Wilson in his 'History of the United States,'" said Representative Good of Iowa.

Plays His Way Into the Human Heart.

Mr. and Mrs. Janczy Rigo,

Who figured recently in a tangled love affair. Mrs. Rigo hurried from California to Portland, Or., to be with her husband during his recent trouble, but he is supposed to be on his way to New York. Mrs. Rigo was at one time the wife of Caspar E. Emerson, a newspaper illustrator, who divorced her after her flight with Rigo. The violinist was once the husband of the Princess Chimay, the beautiful Clara Ward of Detroit. The wonderful playing of Rigo is declared to have an irresistible influence over susceptible female hearts.

Enchantment.

FAMOUS FIDDLE OF RIGO TO BE SEIZED FOR DEBT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rigo, the gypsy violinist who first became famous by running away in gay Paree, years ago, with the Princess Chimay, who was the beautiful Clara Ward of Detroit, is in more trouble, and his wife has hurried here from California, apparently, to rescue him.

Rigo has lost his position with the Louvre, one of Portland's restaurants, and the management has levied on the gypsy's famous fiddle.

Just why Rigo has lost his violin has not been clearly disclosed, but it is said the manager of the Louvre lent Rigo $1500, and this same amount has not been paid back yet; therefore, proceedings were started against the violinist. Rigo, according to the court records, declares Theodore Kruse, proprietor of the Louvre, still owes him $800 on a contract, and has started suit here against him.

Neither Rigo nor his wife could be located here tonight and Mr. Kruse says he understands the violinist is on his way to New York. He had announced some time ago that he was going East.

Rigo was arrested a few days ago in a crusade, but was released because of insufficient evidence. He was under contract at $600 a week and he was a big drawing card.

The Human Race.

BUILD HURDLE FOR CUPID IN SUNFLOWER STATE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Can the legal enactments of a State stop the antics of Cupid? Kansas is thinking of taking a whirl at it to find out. A committee of Kansas probate judges, headed by D. A. McCandless of Sedgwick county, is drafting a law to prevent marriages of contracting parties who are guilty of "love at first sight."

The State Association of Probate Judges will meet in Topeka this month to study the proposed law and offer suggestions and get it ready to present to the Legislature, which meets a month later.

The District Court judges of the State are going to help the probate judges get the law through. The probate courts transact all the wedding business, while the District Courts can only grant divorces, and the judges of both courts are determined something is needed to stop hasty marriages that result in divorce.

ONE IN SIX.

The average for the country now is about one divorce in six marriages while figures gathered from thirty Kansas counties show one divorce in each five marriages.

The proposed law provides that notices must be filed with the probate judge three months before a wedding. The probate judge is forbidden from giving out the notices, or bans, until a month before the wedding, when a notice is to be published and the world is to be asked to present any objections it may have to the marriage. The law also is to provide for an examination by the judge into the character and physical fitness of candidate for married life.

PHYSICAL FITNESS.

Two years ago the physicians of the State tried to get a statute through the Legislature requiring medical examinations before a marriage license could be granted, but this failed, and while the probate judges will not incorporate into their law a requirement of physical fitness it is probable that the physicians and welfare workers will enter their bill again and that the two will be combined.

NEVADA CLERGYMEN PREFER THE OLD WAY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO, Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By a vote of 7 to 3 the ten Episcopal clergymen of Nevada, gathered in the annual convention at Trinity Church, Reno, today decided to lay on the table a resolution providing that Nevada clergymen should refuse to marry couples who do not present with their marriage license a certificate of health from a physician in good standing.

The opponents of the measure fought it on two grounds, one that the resolution would not be binding enough to prevent discrimination by clergymen in favor of their friends and the other that the time is not ripe for such an advanced step.

THE RESOLUTION.

The resolution was worded as follows:

"Resolved, That the convocation is in hearty sympathy with the suggestion of the bishop that the clergy of Nevada take a step forward in safeguarding the marriage ceremony by refusing to perform this sacrament unless the license be accompanied by a certificate of health from a reputable physician."

The convocation also expressed itself by resolution as favorable to proposed changes in the Nevada divorce law and commended Gov. Oddie for his Richmond, Va., speech in which he announced his intention of recommending an increase of the residence required in Nexada for a divorce from six months to a year.

The Rt. Rev. H. D. Robinson, bishop of Nevada, is presiding over the sessions.

TO PUT ROMANCE ON A CASH BASIS.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Chicago girls have formed a "five thousand a year club." It has ten members of the younger set in the South Side. Miss Florence Catherine Falke, No. 4331 Indiana avenue, the president, today outlined the scope of the organization.

No member shall marry unless after a full consideration of the executive board it shall have been established that the family income will not be less than $5000 a year and that there is not undue restriction upon the wife in the dispensation of family resources.

"We know that a man who won a $5000 a year position at the age of 30," said Mrs. Falke, "is going to get $25,000 at 50 and we need the money, because America is a spot cash territory. The purpose of the organization is to conserve happiness among young women who have been bred in comfort and even luxury by Chicago fathers and mothers."

DEPONENT FURTHER SAYS.

Mrs. Falke further says:

"The $5000 a year feature is likely to mislead possible critics. We already have ten members. We may have fifty or 100 members a year from now. But whether the membership increases or not, we are firm in our conviction that:

"Five thousand dollars a year is only a starter for an American businessman—only ammunition for a really up-to-date American girl. Five thousand dollars is the dividing line betweeen a career and a living. American girls want husbands with careers; they can get a living.

"Five thousand dollars a year is a nucleus. The rest is up to the man and to the girl he marries. There are thousands of $5000-a-year men in Chicago. Many of them are bachelors.

"A $5000-a-year man will get a real girl for a wife—one who knows what is expected of her; one who will stick by him if the game goes wrong. But the $5000-a-year club is a sacrifice; every girl in it deserves a $10,000 husband.

"There is no sense in the perpetuation of antiquated ideas about matrimony. Of course, we all fall in love—many of us fall out again. Even so, no woman should marry just because she is unmarried. No woman should buy a home with a lifetime of tears. No woman owes to humanity the sacrifice of her life, her soul and her body for mere bread and butter. None should go into matrimony because it is respectable for women to be married at 18 when her grandmother was a girl. Time has changed; so have men and women. The American business man is par excellence the world's champion. He wins when others lose. The American girl, bred in the American school, properly looked after at home, is his mate. She is the social end of the combination."

She added in conclusion that there are thirty-five girls on the waiting list of the Five Thousand Dollar a Year Club.

"DUST TO DUST."

Funeral of Late Attorney-General of Nevada From Home of Senator Perkins at Oakland.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND, Dec. 7.—The funeral of Cleveland H. Baker, young Attorney-General of Nevada; who died at his home in Carson, Nev., Thursday morning, after an internal hemorrhage, was held this afternoon from the residence of his father-in-law, United States Senator George C. Perkins, in this city, the body was cremated at Mountain View cemetery. The pall bearers were:

Lieut. and Acting Gov. Gilbert C. Ross of Nevada; United States Senator Key Pitman of Nevada; Chief Justice J. G. Sweeney of the Nevada State Supreme Court; Eugene Howell, Nevada State Banking Commissioner; Clem C. Perkins, nephew of United States Senator Perkins of Oakland. Wagonloads of flowers were sent to the Perkins home from friends on both sides of the bay, the State officers of Nevada, guards at the State prison and friends throughout the entire State of Nevada.

WIDNEY MAKES EXPLANATIONS.

LOS ANGELES MAN REITERATES LOVE FOR WIFE.

Wounded Real Estate Broker Will Pass Crisis by Monday—Insists that He Did Not Shoot Himself and that Many Stories Printed About Him Are Foolish and False.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Robert J. Widney, the wealthy Los Angeles real estate operator, who was shot while in the Hotel Sorrento several days ago, by Mrs. W. C. Lyons, the ex-wife of a Denver politician, is resting comparatively easy tonight. The crisis as to his injuries is expected to be passed by Monday. If there is a turn for the worse, an ante-mortem statement will be taken, but not otherwise.

This morning Widney had sufficiently recovered from the shock to write two statements giving his side of the shooting. The first of these reads:

"Referring to the recent affair at Hotel Sorrento, wish to say that all the stories recently printed in newspapers to the effect that I was to leave my wife are unqualifiedly false; also all the rot about leaving my present wife when this trouble is over. Also in justice to my wife I wish you to state that it would be impossible for me to attempt to kill myself over another woman—and did not.

[Signed] "R. J. WIDNEY."

REPUDIATES MRS. LYONS.

The second statement is as follows:

"Owing to the numerous statements which have been printed at the instance of Mrs. W. C. Lyons, it seems to me that this is the right time that the truth be told.

"First, my affection is altogether for my wife and not Mrs. Lyons.

"Secondly, over 95 per cent. of the stories recently printed as coming from her are foolish and false.

"Thirdly, so long as matters have been forced so far by Mrs. Lyons herself, regret that it has been necessary, on account of family and business interests, to tell the truth. I did not shoot myself. Mrs. Lyons's first statements to Dr. Joslen were correct.

[Signed] "R. J. WIDNEY."

It is said by Widney's friends that his anxiety to get hold of certain letters in Mrs. Lyons's possession sufficiently accounts for his calling on her.

The Gridiron Dinner.

Utah and Vermont. The messengers from these States each announced their four votes in a limerick, Vermont declaring:

"In the Green Mountain State, recollect',
Old Taft won out by a neck;
And we'd 'ev elected him,
Ef they hadn't neglected him,
In forty-six States, by heck."

BULL MOOSE SPIES.

The messengers, it was discovered were "Bull Moose spies," in disguise, who, when stripped of their false beards, turned out to be the new members of the club, Charles P. Keyser, correspondent of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, and Edward B. Clark, correspondent of the Chicago Evening Post.

The Republican Electoral College insisted on meeting while the dinner was in progress to name a candidate for the second place, for which various names, were suggested, only to be instantly withdrawn by solicitous friends. Of such was that "stable-minded, never-changing-his-views, patriot," Herbert S. Hadley, the "sterling revisionist," Reed Smoot, the "Invincible Borah," the "great friend of the common people," Senator Penrose, and Robert Marion La Follette, whose motto is: "Forgive your enemies," who recommended that the "place be given to Oyster Bay."

ARMAGEDDON.

Then the scene changed to the Orient and the Battle of Armageddon was fought in realistic style, as described by half a dozen war correspondents, for the benefit of old Saul who had come to the scene of his early conflicts.

Correspondent Lodge reported that Field Marshal Dixon had mowed down Field Marshal McCombs with a harvester machine. McCombs had poured a hot statement into Field Marshal Hilles and Hilles had hit Dixon with some majority claims. Midshipman Gifford Pinchot, aid to Gen. Perkins, reported that the general needed ammunition and had sent him for a fountain-pen to write a check. What Saul supposed to be a horse turned out to be a Bull Moose, and the two men hanging on on his flank, Adam Bede and John Harlan, were said to be the "Truth Tellers." "Do they tell the truth?" inquired Saul. To which Correspondent Champ Clark replied, "Say, Mister, you're not a king, you're the court jester."

TARIFF CARNAGE.

Fresh from the battlefield on his horse, Correspondent Watterson reported that as he left the field, the Democrats of the House were trying to arrange the tariff schedules, "and the carnage was frightful." Through his glasses, Saul discerned the general on the Bull Moose, dashing towards the large general seated on the putting green, followed by the tennis Cabinet. Saul's inquiry as to the identity of the nine men surrounding Taft, was answered by the explanation that they were his Cabinet, "who will get into the battle after it is over." What was at first supposed to be "the dawn of day" turned out to be Col. Jim Ham Lewis and an "engine of war" to Saul's ancient eye was only Gov. Hiram Johnson. Even his old friend, "Joan of Arc," was really Albert J. Beveridge, disguised as "Mary of the Vine-clad Cottage."

The action progressed until the Bull Moose and its followers were fleeing and the man with the golf stick was preparing to leave the green. The battle was soon over and Saul started post-haste for Washington to seek a job, declaring that he had been a "lifelong Democrat since the battle ended."

IN THE BULL RING.

One of the striking features of the evening's entertainment was a rendition of a complete act of the tuneful opera of "Carmen" by the vocalists of the club in full costume. This was the famous act of the bullfight, only it was rendered with stranger characters than Bizet ever dreamed of, and even the bull was replaced by a full grown Bull Moose. Entered Don Jorge Perkinsario, champion Bull Moose trainer of the world, who announced that the Mexicans, tired of bullfighting, wanted a sport that had some real hot tamales and chile con carne in it, which meant a Bull Moose fight. President Garthe, after a whispered conversation with President Taft, announced that the President of the United States assures me that you can have him (the Bull Moose) and welcome."

TOREADOR LA FOLLETTE.

Carmen appears, "Historys gay coquette," as "Popular Applause" and sings "To win my smile the greatest statesman pause, but when my glances seem most fair, then have a care, beware, beware."

The Bull Moose, pawing and snorting, enters, and then in order the toreadors are introduced and invited to explain their methods of attack. Don Roberto La Follettio replies: "If I had got a chance to catch my breath, I'm sure I could have talked the brute to death," but hastily retires into the group as the Bull Moose makes a demonstration. Toreador Don Champ Clarkio sang:

"I know the way to get that Moose so grim,
Why didn't they turn Bill Bryan loose on him?
If they did that, I'd have a good excuse
For saying: 'Go it, Bill; go it Bull Moose!'"

Then they sang Carmen:

MATADOR TAFT.

Carmen appears, "History's gay co-
That's the man I'd call by far the worthiest Matador of all."
Don Jorge: "Don Taftio's a good fellow people say."
Carmen:
"Too good for any rough and tumble fray,
Frank and forbearing, inclined to show
A liberal mind to an ungenerous foe,
This little message he has paused to write,
'I'm busy now, let Hilles run the fight,'
Yet he's the kind of man I hate to see,
Fonder of duty than he is of me."

Then the climax: Don Woodrow singing and waving his blade asserts:

"I'll bowl him over with classic lore,
Lines of Euripides, phrases of Sophocles,
Plato and Plutarch, at him I'll bellow and roar,
Oratory in all its glory, I'll hurl at him with might and main,
He'll get no chance to tell the story,
I'll never let him explain."

Whereupon he turns upon the Bull Moose, who falls and is dragged off by the S.P.C.A., while Don Woodrow turns to Miss Popular Applause, who greets him, "Woodrow I'm yours for four long years, per—haps."

FAREWELL, A SAD FAREWELL.

The farewell to President Taft was touchingly conveyed in the verses entitled, "On the Ohio," set to the music of "Moonlight Bay," as follows:

Nestling down,
By the old Ohio shore;
There's a town,
Famous since the days of yore,
Cincinnati—good old station—
For the leader of our nation
Waits with welcoming ovation,
On the Ohio.

Chorus:

When the moon beams shine,
On the Ohio
And electric lights on Vine Street,
Are all aglow
Or if the Rhine,
You should chance to be,
Won't you think of us in Washington, D. C.
We have met,
Where the broad Potomac flows
With regret
We will lose the friend that goes,
When to Fountain Square you wander
Won't you sometimes pause and ponder
On the friends so distant yonder
From the Ohio.

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS.

The guests included President Taft, Secretaries Knox, MacVeagh, Meyer, Fisher, Wilson and Nagel, Atty.-Gen. Wickersham, Postmaster-General Hitchcock, James Bryce, British Ambassador; Count von Bernstorff, German Ambassador; Associate Justice Pitney, Speaker Champ Clark, Governor-elect Louis B. NAMES OF GREAT MEN.

[Washington Post, Dec. 5:] It is a serious question whether the name of a great man attached to a new baby helps or hampers the child's future career. In the Senate we have Augustus Octavus Bacon and John Randolph Thornton, while in the House we have John Alden Thayer, Ben Johnson, Napoleon Bonaparte Thistlewood, Winfield Scott Hammond, Robert E. Lee, Robert Lee Henry and Hannibal Lafayette Goodwin.

Talks On Teeth

A Sensible Gift

Most artificial teeth are made for looks—not for service.

The wearer puts the burden of the work on whatever natural teeth are left. But—

OUR REX METHOD OF ALVEOLAR TEETH, AS PERFECTED BY DR. RANKINE

are so near like Nature's teeth that the one who has them in the mouth would have some difficulty in telling which he was favoring—Nature's or "Alveolar."

That is as it should be.

And this is the very reason that this system of restoring missing teeth has revolutionized the science of dentistry.

This is the reason that over [illegible] thousand patients of ours are now wearing and enjoying the blessing of a full row of teeth—upper and lower—every one of which is capable of doing its share of the work it is called upon to do every day in the year.

Has it occurred to you that one of the most sensible gifts to yourself or someone near and dear would be an order on us to replace all the missing teeth by this wonderful plan?

Think of the blessings that follow: good, sound, nut-cracking teeth—beautiful to look at—beautiful to eat with!

Only a suggestion, but if you wish to know the cost of carrying it out our examiners are at your service.

PLATES.

There are a large number of people who through force of circumstances are compelled to wear plates. We have a department to take care of all persons who require that class of work. We have one of the most expert men in plate work on this Coast at the head of that department, which assures all of our patients better fitting, better looking and most serviceable plates than [illegible] have ever more been able to procure elsewhere.

Our Charges Are Reasonable

We do not ask fancy prices for our work. Just a fair fee—a reasonable fee—just what anyone will gladly and willingly pay for high-grade work such as we invariably execute. Remember you can always consult us free of charge regarding your tooth troubles, and there is no obligation incurred on your part in so doing.

"A FAIR EXCHANGE IS NO ROBBERY"

Owners of city property often want to trade their holdings for ranch property.

Farmers frequently desire to exchange their acres for city real estate. It it one of our missions in business to get such parties together upon terms that are agreeable to both.

We have been successful in bringing many a deal of that kind to a happy issue. Our facilities are unequalled and our best services are at your command.

We have 100 acres, improved, adjoining good town, clear of incumbrance, and some cash, to trade for good city property.

Also several 10, 20, 40 and 80-acre tracts, clear, to exchange for Los Angeles city property. Consult our

RUSH BIG BILL TO EARLY VOTE.

Few Changes in Supply Act for Government.

To Close Six Assay Offices Is Present Plan.

Indian Appropriations Cut Million Dollars.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—When the House adjourned tonight, work on the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation Bill, the first of the government's great supply measures, was so far advanced that a vote not later than Monday night seemed probable. Very few changes have been made in the measure as reported by the committee.

By an agreement offered today by Representative Cox of Indiana, chairman of the Committee of Expenditures in the Treasury Department, appropriations aggregating $10,700 for maintenance of the assay office at Deadwood, S. D. was stricken out. There have been efforts from time to time to abolish all assay offices. Six were eliminated.

PENSION PROGRAMME.

The pension programme of the Democrats in the House has been definitely settled by the determination of the Committee on Invalid Pensions to attempt no general pension legislation at this short session. Chairman Sherwood said today, however, that the private pension bills, affecting several hundred pensions, would be consolidated into one, two or three omnibus private pension measures.

CAMPAIGN FUND BILL.

Senator Clapp, chairman of the committee investigating campaign funds, introduced a bill today to prohibit the sending of campaign funds from one State to another to aid campaigns of candidates for President, Vice-President, Representatives or Senators.

The measure does not represent the concerted action of the investigating committee, but was presented by Chairman Clapp as his suggestion of the remedy for excessive use of money for campaign purposes. In a statement to the Senate he declared such a law would prevent the "dumping" of great sums of money into outlying States by wealthy communities like New York.

"This bill is aimed to meet the vice of gathering funds in large centers and then sending them to distant States to influence the election of President, Vice-President, members of Congress or Senators," said Mr. Clapp.

At his request the bill was referred directly to the investigating subcommittee without the usual formality of consideration by one of the standing committees of the Senate. Senator Clapp stated that he hoped the measure would form the basis for a bill to be passed by the Senate at this session.

The campaign fund bill would permit national political committees to gather funds from any State, to pay the expenses of traveling and special trains for candidates or speakers; to pay for the distribution of literature and the placing of advertisements. Any collection of money in one State and its distribution in another, however, by a "person, firm, corporation, association or committee," would be punishable by a prison sentence of from six months to one year for the persons convicted.

A bill authorizing the government to take over the farm and homestead in Kentucky where Abraham Lincoln was born was introduced in the House today by Representative Johnson. The bill would allow the government to accept the memorial as a gift from the Lincoln Farm Association and create an endowment fund of $50,000 for the maintenance of the farm as a national reservation.

MONEY TRUST HEARING.
MANY BANKERS SUMMONED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—A formidable list of witnesses will confront the Banking and Currency Committee of the House, when on Monday it resumes its inquiry as to the so-called "money trust." The deputy sergeant-at-arms of the House returned to Washington today, after serving subpoenas on a number of bankers and business men in Boston and New York. Jacob H. Schiff of New York and Cornelius A. Pugsley of the American Bankers' Association were in the list of witnesses served with subpoenas. Twenty-three other New York and Boston bankers were summoned to appear before the committee next week. These witnesses, who represent the financial interests of the big cities, will be examined after the nine Pittsburgh and Baltimore bankers, who will appear on Monday, have been examined.

MONEY FOR INDIANS.
HEAP BIG REDUCTION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The annual Indian Affairs Appropriation Bill, providing $8,132,028 for conducting the Bureau of Indian Affairs and fulfilling treaty stipulations with the various Indian tribes, was reported to the House late today. There is a reduction of $1,016,585 from last year's appropriation. The measure probably will be passed during the coming week.

Premonition.

HAUNTING FEAR SHORTENS DAYS.

SURVIVORS OF TITANIC STILL SUFFER FROM SHOCK.

One of Those Last to Jump Declares that to End of Life He Will Be Followed by Visions and Memory of the Harrowing Experiences of the Great Disaster.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Many Titanic disaster survivors are agreed, according to one of them, that their harrowing experiences in that calamity will have the effect of shortening their lives. R. W. Daniels, a bond salesman who was one of the last men to leap from the deck of the sinking steamer with the late Col. Archibald Gracie, and who arrived on the Cedric today, had an engagement to dine with Col. Gracie, of whose death he was ignorant until informed by a newspaper man. Mr. Daniels nearly collapsed when told that Col. Gracie's funeral had just been held.

"It is hard for me to explain just how terrible that news is to me—over and beyond the respect and affection I had for Col. Gracie," he said. "All of us who came through that experience have felt that our lives were shortened. There is a great fear and apprehension in our minds which will follow us for the rest of our lives. I have talked with survivors of La Bourgogne. Most of those who were brought to shore from her were short-lived."

HIGHWAY IS LOGGED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GUTHRIE (Okla.) Dec. 7.—The logging of the proposed Canada-to-the-Gulf highway was completed from Winnipeg to Guthrie today by John C. Nicholson of Newton, Kan., who is in charge of the work. From here Mr. Nicholson will proceed to Oklahoma City.

LOVE FINDS A WAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JOPLIN (Mo.) Dec. 7.—Sweethearts fifty years ago and separated because of a trivial quarrel, Isom White, aged 72, and Mrs. Lydia Ann Jenkins, 69 years old, renewed their courtship here recently, and today were married. During their long estrangement both had married and reared large families. White's wife died ten years ago and Mrs. Jenkins was a widow when she and White resumed their acquaintance.

YULETIDE HARVEST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Employees of big establishments in Chicago are to reap a bigger harvest during the coming Yuletide season than has been the case within the memory of the oldest head, according to announcements which have been made.

More than $3,700,000 is to be distributed in various forms to workers in banks, big stores, manufacturing plants and other industries. The spirit of generosity is said to have been strengthened by a year of trade well above the normal.

JANE ADDAMS'S COMPLAINT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 7. — Miss Jane Addams, head resident of Hull House, last night advocated before the annual conference of the Western Economic Society, vocational and industrial training as a means of safeguarding young girls in the city and breaking up boy "gangs" that are the training schools for criminals. Miss Addams expressed surprise at teachers losing sight of boys and girls as soon as they leave school.

POISON IN CANDY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Dec. 7.—Frank McKanna of Oskaloosa, Kan., is in jail here, having been arrested at Valley Falls, Kan., on a Federal indictment charging him with sending a box of poisoned candy through the mails to Mrs. Ida Coons, divorced wife of George Coons, a lumber dealer of Oskaloosa. When Mrs. Coons received a box of chocolates by mail several weeks ago, the appearance of the candy aroused her suspicions and an investigation by the Federal authorities led to the discovery of poison. McKanna was arrested, the authorities stated, because the handwriting on the box bore a marked resemblance to that on letters he was known to have written. He denies the charge against him. McKanna's wife sued him for divorce and she and Mrs. Coons became joint proprietors of an Oskaloosa hotel. George Coons is said to be in Mexico.

AVALANCHE OF EGGS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Another avalanche of cold storage eggs was thrown on the market today and the price dropped from 22 to 19 cents, wholesale. This was in addition to a decline of 2 cents yesterday when more than a half-million eggs were sold at a loss to speculators.

When the market opened yesterday there were 1,670,000 cases of eggs in storage. The transformation of the butter and eggs board into an open market is said to have precipitated the selling.

NEPHEW OF IRONMASTER WEDS WORKER'S DAUGHTER

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] William C. Carnegie, eldest son of Mrs. Thomas Morrison Carnegie, who has just been married to Miss Ada C. Bell, a poor working girl, is not a bit perturbed over the indifference of his relatives regarding his marriage. His bride is the daughter of Mrs. Jane Dewart Bell, widow of Thomas Bell, who was a workingman.

The bride is 26 years old, and Carnegie is 45. The couple met in Watch Hill, R. I., four years ago and have been engaged ever since. They will spend the winter with the bride's mother in a five-room flat in Palo Alto street.

Carnegie is the son of the late Thomas Morrison Carnegie, who, with his brother, Andrew Carnegie, founded the Carnegie Steel Company. Mrs. Lucy Carnegie, widow of Thomas, is reputed to be one of the richest women in America.

FLIES TO BITE MONKEYS TO SAVE HUMAN RACE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 7.—The secret of infantile paralysis may be solved by the State Board of Health with the help of monkeys and flies, now being handled with care at the State Laboratory in Berkeley.

The biting fly, the kind that breeds and multiply around stables, has been charged with being the distributor of the infantile paralysis germ. This is the kind of flies that Dr. W. A. Sawyer, director of the bureau of the hygienic laboratory of the State Board of Health, is investigating.

Eight monkeys—two having died—will be subjected to the fly-biting tests. In addition to flies, Sawyer has collected a large amount of the larvae of these flies, and it is the plan to make it possible for the flies to get hold of the infantile paralysis germs. Then they will be placed in the monkey cages, where they will bite the animals, and the scientists of the hygienic bureau and laboratory will await results.

Blind Physician to Give Half of Windfall Fortune to Teach Sightless Men to Massage.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. William J. Nealon of No. 415 South Ninth street, who has just learned that he has been left $30,000 by a man he befriended fourteen years ago, will devote half the money to the establishment of a school to teach blind men to be masseurs. Phillip Sheridan of California was the man who left the money to Dr. Nealon.

Dr. Nealon is a graduate of Jefferson Medcal College. In the summer of 1898, while a student, he obtained a position as clerk in an Atlantic City hotel. Phillip Sheridan, a guest who registered from Siskiyou county, Cal., became attached to him. Sheridan had trouble with his eyes and Nealon brought him to an eye surgeon in this city. An operation was performed which was successful.

When Sheridan left the hospital he could not find Nealon and he went back to California. Nealon heard nothing more from until a few weeks ago, when a letter came to the surgeon who had performed the operation, from a law firm in California, saying that Sheridan had left $30,000 to a young man named Nealon.

The surgeon communicated with Dr. Nealon, who in the interval since he met Sheridan had himself become blind.

THREE CANADA EXCURSIONS.

Special Trains to Be Run from Dominion Through Portland and California.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Three special train excursions from Western Canada will be operated through Portland to California early in the new year as a direct result of the series of lectures conducted by John P. Clum, representing the O. W. R. and N. Company and the Southern Pacific, who will complete his work in Northwestern Washington early in the new year.

W. F. Carson, advance agent for Mr. Clum, returned to Portland today and reported to the passenger department of the O. W. R. and N. Company that the course of the present tour includes sixty-four lectures in various cities and towns in the northern part of the United States and in Southern and Southwestern Canada. Travelers were recruited by the score. Schedules for the California trains provide for three trains to be operated, the first, January 7, another on January 14 and the third on January 22. It is probable that each of them will have to be run in two sections as the demand for accommodations is so heavy.

BEGGING PAYS HER WEL.

Woman Who Owns Property in California and Illinois Is Ordered to Leave Cincinnati.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI (O.) Dec. 7.—Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Emma Schuyler, a widow who says she is the owner of property in Oakland, Cal., and Peoria, Ill., was compelled to leave Cincinnati yesterday by order of the police officials, intent upon ridding the city of beggars.

According to the police the woman has been going around with a man named Schuyler, who, the woman says, has adopted her name. Their daily graft through begging is said to have amounted to $25.

The man was sent to the workhouse.

The woman left the city, saying she was going to Peoria.

"CASCARETS" MAKE YOU FEEL GREAT

A 10 Cent Box Will Keep Your Liver, Stomach and Bowels Clean for Months

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated togue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver, delayed fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system, is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Salts, cathartic pills, oil and purgative water force a passageway for a day or two—yes—but they don't take the poisons out and have no effect upon the liver or stomach.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels clean and regular for months.—[Advertisement.

FIRE COMPANIES MERGE.

Los Angeles Concern and Western Empire of Spokane Unite With Six Hundred Thousand Dollars Assets.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The consolidation of two fire insurance companies into one concern with admitted assets of about $600,000 is announced by the Western Empire Fire Insurance Company of Spokane, one of the companies concerned. The stockholders of the Western Empire Company have voted to consolidate that company with the Los Angeles Fire Insurance Company of Los Angeles, Cal. The name of the new company will be the Los Angeles Fire Insurance Company of California. The home office will be in Los Angeles. The consolidation will become effective December 31.

J. Harvey Patterson, vice-president and general-manager of the Los Angeles company, will continue in the same capacity with the new company. T. S. Lane, former president of the Western Empire; F. P. Greene, former treasurer of the Western Empire, and Ernest Carstens, president of the German American Bank of Seattle, will become directors of the new company.

NEWS CENSORS AT STANFORD.

Undergraduate Body Agrees to Restraint.

Expulsion Is to Be Penalty for Violation.

Correspondents to Observe Honor Rule.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 7.—No more news from this institution unless it shall first have passed through the nets and filters of the official censor.

Such is the decision promulgated today by the undergraduate body known as the Associated Students which, when it sits jointly with the faculty, is known as the University Conference. Oddly enough the censor's appointment comes as the result of a very efficient piece of censorship, the truth of which only transpired today.

Shortly after the annual big game between Stanford and California, a freshman, the son of a Californian known throughout the State, was expelled because he had sent to a newspaper for which he was acting as correspondent, the story of a somewhat riotous jinks in which a number of San Bernardino students were said to have participated.

EXPULSION.

The publication was held to be in violation of the undergraduate code of ethics, the student was expelled and news of the expulsion, together with the reasons prompting it, was suppressed.

Hereafter, when an undergraduate correspondent has doubts about the truth or the policy of a news item, he will submit his "copy" to the censor. If he is directed not to file the item and does so against orders, his expulsion will be recommended by the student body and presumably acted on by the faculty.

HONOR RULE.

Honor will be relied on to control the correspondents. It is not understood that the censor will have access to the files of the telegraph company or that he will try to spy on telephone conversations, but inasmuch as the affiliations of every correspondent are supposed to be known it will not be difficult to trace a majority of items published to their authorities.

The present attempt to censor Stanford news is not the first. For a number of years the university has striven to see that the newspapers printed only what the authorities thought was good for the institution and during a period when there was much public interest in a series of changes in the faculty, one newspaper quartered a staff correspondent who happened also to be a Stanford graduate in Palo Alto, and kept him there for weeks.

DESERTS WIFE AND NAVY.

Charge of Model Tenement Manager Who Secures Reno Divorce from Her Author Husband.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Harold Max Bender, magazine writer, was divorced yesterday upon grounds of desertion and failure to provide, by Rose Bender of New York, who testified that since 1906 she has supported herself and has kept her small son in a Long Island boarding school by acting as manager of the Model Tenements on Seventy-eighth street, where she is in charge of 1141 tenants and seventy employees.

Bender, she said, married her under an assumed name. Harold Max Bender, she alleges, is his true name. He deserted her in 1906, enlisted in the navy without her knowledge and, she testified, deserted after two months. He enlisted in the army under the name of Henry Gordon, she said, and she last heard of him in Texas.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] The California Railway and Power Company has been organized in Delaware to acquire all of the outstanding capital stock of the United Railways of San Francisco, the San Francisco Electric Railway, Sierra and San Francisco Power Company and the Coast Valley Gas and Electric Company.

The new company has an authorized capital of $50,000,000 common, 7 per cent. cumulative preferred and $5,000,000 prior preferred 7 per cent. cumulative stock. The common, of which $40,000,000 is issued, and the preferred, of which [illegible] is issued, is owned by the United Railways Investment Company. Ladenburg Thalmann and Company, Bonbright and Company, and other banking houses have purchased [illegible] of the prior preferred stock and are placing the same at $24. The company will, from its profits, retire all this stock by purchase at or below par, or by call at par, in amounts of $100,000 annually, on or before 1914 to 1917 and $360,000 from 1918 to 1927.

Ownership of $2,475,000 of the United Railroads of San Francisco [illegible] stock will be held by the California Railway and Power Company, subject to the lien of $1,900,000 serial notes of the United Railways Investment Company. The company will have no floating debt except current accounts, payable, and [illegible] two year 6 per cent. notes of the United Railways of San Francisco, which have been acquired by the California Railway and Power Company. Funded debts of the several companies as of June 30, amounted to [illegible].

NEWS CENSORS AT STANFORD.

Undergraduate Body Agrees to Restraint.

Expulsion Is to Be Penalty for Violation.

Correspondents to Observe Honor Rule.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 7.—No more news from this institution unless it shall first have passed through the nets and filters of the official censor.

Such is the decision promulgated today by the undergraduate body known as the Associated Students which, when it sits jointly with the faculty, is known as the University Conference. Oddly enough the censor appointment comes as the result of a very efficient piece of censorship, the truth of which only transpired today.

Shortly after the annual big game between Stanford and California, a freshman, the son of a Californian known throughout the State, was expelled because he had sent to a newspaper for which he was acting as correspondent, the story of a somewhat riotous jinks in which a number of San Bernardino students were said to have participated.

EXPULSION.

The publication was held to be in violation of the undergraduate code of ethics, the student was expelled and news of the expulsion, together with the reasons prompting it, was suppressed.

Hereafter, when an undergraduate correspondent has doubts about the truth or the policy of a news item, he will submit his "copy" to the censor. If he is directed not to file the item and does so against orders, his expulsion will be recommended by the student body and presumably acted on by the faculty.

HONOR RULE.

Honor will be relied on to control the correspondents. It is not understood that the censor will have access to the files of the telegraph company or that he will try to spy on telephone conversations, but inasmuch as the affiliations of every correspondent are supposed to be known it will not be difficult to trace a majority of items published to their authorities.

The present attempt to censor Stanford news is not the first. For a number of years the university has striven to see that the newspapers printed only what the authorities thought was good for the institution and during a period when there was much public interest in a series of changes in the faculty, one newspaper [illegible] a staff correspondent who happened also to be a Stanford graduate in Palo Alto, and kept him there [illegible] weeks.

Charge of Model Tenement Manager Who Secures Reno Divorce from Her Author Husband.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Harold Max Bender, magazine writer, was divorced yesterday on grounds of desertion and failure to provide, by Rose Bender of New York, who testified that since [illegible] she has supported herself and has kept her small son in a Long Island boarding school by acting as manager of the Model Tenements on [illegible]-eighth street, where she is in charge of 1141 tenants and seventy employees.

Bender, she said, married her under an assumed name, Harold Max [illegible], she alleges, is his true name. He deserted her in 1906, enlisted in the navy without her knowledge and, she testified, deserted after two months. He enlisted in the army under the name of Henry Gordon, she said, and she last heard of him in [illegible].

Californians Send Protest to President.

Charge Violation of Treaty With Britain.

Petition, Text, Signatures Made Public.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—A petition to President Taft asking that the administration seek "an honorable and amicable settlement" with Great Britain of that country's protest against the Panama Canal act has been signed by Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California; David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University; Archbishop P. W. Riordan of the Roman Catholic diocese of San Francisco; Representative William Kent and other influential Californians, to whom it seems that parts of the act are a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. The text of the petition and the list of signers were made public here tonight.

It is recommended that "the administration seek an amicable and honorable settlement of this matter either through diplomatic negotiations or by recommending to Congress the amendment of such parts of its recent act as may be questionable."

The petition states that the issue is "whether our country is observing an international pledge," and holds that neither nation would have the right independently to interpret the treaty. The petition concludes:

"It is our earnest conviction that as a people we can better suffer some limitation of our freedom of legislation and some commercial disadvantage, rather than disregard, or appear to disregard, a treaty negotiated in good faith and solemnly ratified."

EYEGLASSES TWO CENTS

You wouldn't even give that much for a pair of spectacles or eyeglasses if you were not compelled to use them. An eminent medical man predicts that a few years hence they will be good only as curiosities and sold at a cent or two, to get rid of old stocks. Why? Because of the wonderful progress in science, which has led Dr. Corish to assert that eyeglasses will soon be unnecessary to millions of people who adopt the principle set forth in his new book, a copy of which will be sent absolutely free to any one who writes (a postcard will do) to Okola Laboratory, Dept. 526 E. Rochester, N. Y.

The book tells of a safe, agreeable home self-treatment method whereby weakened and ailing eyes may be strengthened so that they will become more normal, natural and magnetic, and allow the wearer The book explains also how eye strain causes headaches, nervousness, despondency, paralysis, stomach disorders, insomnia, neurasthenia, lack of vigor, inability to think, dizziness and other troubles, which may be cured by getting rid of eye weakness and throwing away glasses. The free book above referred to should be obtained by all who use glasses or who have any signs of trouble in their eyes. It may save loss of sight, while the information will be a surprise and delight to all slaves of "opticians' windows."

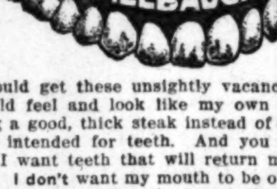
Have You as Many Teeth as You Need? Answer Me Personally



YOU SAID: If I could get these unsightly vacancies in my jaw filled with teeth that would feel and look like my own once did. O, how I would enjoy chewing a good, thick steak instead of compelling my stomach to do the work intended for teeth. And you said (as you looked into your mirror:) I want teeth that will return my mouth to its once youthful appearance. I don't want my mouth to be older than the balance of my face. I want a pleasing, attractive expression about my mouth, so my friends will think me good to look at. Furthermore, I want them comfortable and durable, and the work must be done gently and without pain.

ALL RIGHT, LISTEN TO WHAT I SAY: I'll agree to every one of your demands and replace either one or twenty-eight (a full set) teeth equal in every respect to nature's best. And now to price—Can't you afford to take the time to come and get my estimate, together with expert advice, free, as to the best method of putting your teeth in first-class condition. Get busy.

Why Duffy's Malt Gives Health and Strength

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has been for fifty years one of the greatest restoratives known to medical science

Why? Because it contains in a form most available for the human system, the wonderful strength-giving power of nature's greatest food—grain—combined with unusual tonic properties obtained through the process of malting and distilling which has been exclusively used by us since the beginning.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

One of the results of this process is to obtain a whiskey of such purity and quality as complies with the test requirements of the United States Pharmacopoeia.

As the pharmacopoeial standard does not require that the grain be all malted, as found in Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, it will be seen our process gives a whiskey superior to the requirements of the United States Standard.

Another result is to secure that wonderful palatability and delicacy of flavor for which Duffy's has always been celebrated and which renders it acceptable to stomachs which will not even retain other whiskies or the most easily digested food.

For the aged, for those who are "run down," for persons suffering from stomach disorders, nervousness or similar ailments who need a real builder-up of the whole system, nothing is so certain to bring quick and positive results as Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

Other so-called malt whiskey are not the same.

So Be Sure You Get Duffy's

Sold in Sealed Bottles only—never in bulk. Price, $1.00 a large bottle. Write our doctors for free advice and medical booklet.

McNamaras.

UNION FUNDS IN THE GLARE.

Financial Origin of the McNamara Conspiracy.

Over a Hundred Thousand Spent in Los Angeles.

Government Alleges Cash Promoted Violence.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 7.—Funds contributed by the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers to sustain its strike against open shop iron and steel contractors, which was begun in 1905, and which still continues, were investigated in the cross-examination of witnesses by the government at the dynamite conspiracy trial today. The government charges money was contributed to promote violence out of which grew the McNamara dynamite plots.

NEW YORKER TESTIFIES.

Patrick F. Farrell, New York, former member of the union executive board, testified that $10,000 kas contributed to the New York district council of ironworkers on account of the strike there, but he denied it was used for improper purposes.

Asked about a letter to John J. McNamara in which, referring to organizers, he said: "It takes good hard cash to push them along," Farrell replied he meant only that the men required pay for the work.

On February 3, 1908, a drawbridge in construction for the city of New York at Palham fell into the bay because some of the supporting guys had been removed. The next day Farrell wrote to McNamara, "I enclose a newspaper clipping about what the high winds did last night."

The witness said he understood the wind had blown the structure down. Two depredations and one explosion occurred on structural work in and around New York in the following April, but Farrell asserted he knew nothing as to the cause.

"As an official of the International union, did you ever appropriate money for buying nitroglycerine or dynamite, or did you know McNamara was engaged in dynamiting?" asked Senator John W. Kern, for the defense on redirect examination.

"I never heard of it until McNamara was arrested."

SAN FRANCISCAN ON STAND.

Andrew J. Gallagher, member of the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco, who was secretary of a committee appointed in connection with the California Building Trades Council to unionize trades in Los Angeles, testified that he received $15,000 from the ironworkers through Olaf A. Tveitmoe, a defendant, and altogether from other sources he received $119,000 through Tveitmoe. After the Los Angeles Times Building was blown up, Gallagher said, he sent Eugene A. Clancy, another defendant, to eastern cities to solicit for the fund.

"Was any part of that strike fund used to defend the McNamaras at Los Angeles?" asked Dist.-Atty. Miller.

"About $1000 was loaned to the defense fund, but later it was returned," said Gallagher.

Other witnesses testified that when Clancy came East after the Los Angeles explosion he met James B. McNamara in Chicago when the latter was in hiding and a fugitive on charges of murder and that Tveitmoe met John J. McNamara at a labor convention in St. Louis and asked that other explosions be caused in Los Angeles as a result of which Ortie E. McManigal caused an explosion in an ironworks in Los Angeles in December, 1910.

UNION LETTERS.

Many letters written between John J. McNamara, secretary of the ironworkers' union, and William E. Reddin, Milwaukee, a local business agent, were read by the government in its cross-examination of Reddin.

Reddin testified that Milwaukee was the headquarters of the structural iron and steel firm against which the union had called a strike and McNamara was accustomed to write asking about jobs to be put up by the firm. The witness said he usually supplied the information, but denied knowing it was ever used in connection with explosions.

In one letter McNamara wrote:

"In referring to matters of this kind, it would be well to write them on a separate piece of paper and mark them 'personal.'"

Reddin asserted he did not know McNamara's meaning.

As the eighth of the defendants to testify Frederick J. Mooney, Duluth, Minn., explained letters he wrote to McNamara during the period when explosions about the country were frequent.

Referring to a phrase by him that he thought the ironworkers' union was going to lose in its strike against "open shop" contractors unless "a new trick" was adopted, Mooney said he meant by it that the rules of the International Union should be modified so that the members of the local unions might work on local jobs regardless of the general strike. The rules prohibited the men from working on a local union job if the same contractor had a non-union job elsewhere in the country, he said.

Mooney testified he told McNamara that labor conditions at Duluth were "slavery." Three days after the blowing up of an unloading rig on the docks at Superior, Wis., in August, 1910, Mooney said he wrote to McNamara "real dynamiters" had visited there. He said he meant only to convey news of the explosion, although he personally had nothing to do with it. Ortie E. McManigal confessed to the Superior explosion.

Andrew J. Gallagher, who was secretary of the Los Angeles strike committee, appointed by the labor unions, testified this afternoon that before the Los Angeles Times Building explosion he received $1000 from Olaf Tveitmoe of San Francisco as coming from the Ironworkers' Union. It had been charged the ironworkers' union officials appropriated money to be used for promoting explosions. Gallagher said he sent E. A. Clancy of San Francisco East to solicit funds.

Altogether the witness said he had received through Tveitmoe $119,000 for the Los Angeles strike, and had expended it at the rate of $20,000 a month toward unionizing Los Angeles trades, the $1000 given to Tveitmoe being the ironworkers' contribution to the fund.

Gallagher testified Tveitmoe was the editor of a labor union publication in San Francisco which Dist.-Atty. Miller charged published criticisms of the trial here that were in contempt of court.

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Save your hair! Danderine destroys dandruff and stops falling hair at once—Grows hair, we prove it.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous you must use Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate, but get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincere believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now? A 25-cent bottle will truly amaze you.—[Advertisement.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER PERISH DEAD IN EACH OTHER'S ARMS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Melville B. Mendell, a lawyer, after rescuing his wife and son from their burning home in the borough of Queens early this morning, lost his life in an attempt to save his 14-year-old daughter Lillian. The girl also perished. Mendell, awakened by smoke, first carried out his wife, who had already been overcome. He then returned and rescued his 12-year-old son. Neighbors attempted in vain to prevent him from making a second trip into the burning house to save the daughter. When the flames were extinguished the father and daughter were found dead in each other's arms on the floor of a bedroom.

FIFTEEN GUESTS IN PERIL. SIX BUILDINGS IN ASHES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WHEELING (W. Va.) Dec. 7.—Fire which swept the business district of McMechan, eight miles from here, this morning destroyed six buildings and damaged two others which a total loss of $75,000. Firemen and appartus from near-by towns succeeded in getting the flames under control after four hours' work. Fifteen guests at Hart's Hotel, where the fire originated from an overheated stove, narrowly escaped suffocation.

MINE BUILDING DESTROYED. INCENDIARIES AT WORK.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, Dec. 7.—The Reiner Gravel Mine buildings, located one-half mile north of Altaville, Calaveras county, were destroyed by fire this morning. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin. The loss is estimated at $75,000, partially covered by insurance. Among the heavy losers are John C. Benson, president; J. P. Simon and Dr. L. R. Johnson, directors, all of this city. The fire began in the mill and soon spread to the pump house and other outlying buildings. No one saw it until it gained considerable headway. The miners were practically without fire-fighting apparatus and were unable to check the flames. "I am pretty sure that some one set the place afire," declared Percy Webster, one of the directors, this afternoon, when asked about the loss.

ARE YOU SICK?

MANOLOGY WILL CURE YOU

What is MANOLOGY? MANOLOGY is the Gospel of healing, and is to the physical body what theology is to the spiritual body. What relation, if any, does Theology bear to Manology? They are twin brothers and go hand in hand. There is a key to the Scriptures that unlocks the hidden treasures to the spiritual realm. Theology unlocks the prison door and teaches spiritual healing and soul salvation. Theology gives the key. There is a key to MANOLOGY which unlocks man's hidden energies and latent talents. MANOLOGY unlocks the prison door and teaches physical healing. But man must learn the secret of the keys. The teachings of MANOLOGY will tell him all about his own set of Keys. MANOLOGY is a Balm for every ill.

It is the Greatest and Most Powerful Curative Agent, performing veritable Miracles in bringing Health to the afflicted. Dr. S. A. Richmond is the author and promulgator of MANOLOGY. His wonderful cures, based on the knowledge of Manology, have astounded the people. Professors, Physicians, Ministers of the Gospel and critics of every sort are dumbfounded in the presence of his astounding success. Hundreds are being continually cured where others have failed, giving sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, making the lame walk, and curing every disease that afflicts the human family.

Stories of cripples hobbling on their crutches into trains from all parts of the country, bound for Los Angeles and later, returning to their homes carrying their crutches under their arms and sounding the praise of the great doctor, are told daily in Los Angeles, and are spread broadcast throughout the land.

Many come on crutches and go away leaping and shouting for joy, thankful that Dr Richmond has found the key to Manology that heals every known disease. Ear Trumpets are laid aside, Trusses, Bandages, Braces, Canes, Crutches, Pipes and Tobacco, Morphine Habit, etc., quickly, speedily and permanently cured. Drugs of every kind and character are laid aside as of no further use. Case after case could be cited including every known disease—Cancer, Tumors, Rheumatism, Asthma, Consumption, Constipation, Stomach Troubles, Paralysis, Locomotor Ataxia—each and every one are cured by this wonderful power of Manology healing. Skepticism melts away like dew in the light of Dr. Richmond's facts.

MANOLOGY knows no defeat. No racking fevers raging for days and weeks need horrify future generations, for they can put their trust in MANOLOGY TREATMENTS, that never fail. No terrifying Typhoid Pneumonia spectres now need haunt the human race. No pulmonary Tuberculosis (consumption,) need now rob the earth of its joys by its terrifying ravages and merciless onslaught upon humanity. MANOLOGY cures Tuberculosis when all else fails. Constipation, Indigestion, Heartburn, Appendicitis and all Stomach and Bowel troubles, no matter of how long standing, are subdued and their victims made cheerful and happy again. Rheumatism, no matter how bad or how torturing its pain and agony, is completely eradicated from the body. Epilepsy, with all its horrors, takes wings and flies at the touch of Dr. Richmond's hand, backed by the mighty healing powers of MANOLOGY.

Wonderful it appears to be according to the testimony of hundreds who have been healed right here in Los Angeles. Dr. Richmond cures all who wish it without money and without price. When asked, "How do you live?" the Doctor replied: "By teaching the laws of life, and by selling my literature, lessons and books on MANOLOGY. In other words I treat free all who purchase my books." Don't remain sick. Come today and get healed. Cut this out and remember location.

HIS VERY SOUL IN THE KISS.

TEXT FROM A CHICAGO DIVORCE ACTION.

Wife Denies She Said Her Husband Didn't Understand the Art of Osculation and She Insists that Jealousy Is Nothing but a Disease Like a Cold.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] "Jealousy, a disease—not a token of love."

Thus did Mrs. Jessie Nickerson Whitlock answer charges of her husband, Harry I. Whitlock, that she ceased to love him because he had never learned how to kiss. This was her denial that she bestowed her affections on Dr. Charles C. O'Byrne, "the other man," because he "puts his very soul into his kisses;" and that she had really never been kissed until the physician got there.

"My husband," Mrs. Whitlock said, after announcing her intention of going on the witness stand and preaching a sermon, "to all mischief making, home-breaking and character destroying mothers-in-law" in her divorce case next week, "has the love disease. My mother-in-law has wonderful eyes. Mothers-in-law alone see the invisible.

"Harry was jealous. He is of an almost insanely jealous nature. He was jealous of every man that looked at me. His mother was jealous of me because I had taken her son away from her. That's the story. That is what wrecked my life and brought a cloud over the lives of my two innocent little babies.

"The first time Harry took me out we quarreled. He was jealous. On the way home he was [illegible] it maddened him to see another man about me in a dance. Usually a girl reads a young man's jealousy as a token of love. It is not. It is a disease—a malady worse than measles.

"Harry and I belonged to the same clubs. We thought we understood each other. We were mistaken."

COUNCIL LOCKS HORNS WITH CIVIL SE

Commissioners Subpoena City Councilmen Officials to Give an Account of Themselves Alleged Criticisms — Policeman Commande force Presence if Necessary.

THE feud between the Civil Service Commission and the City Council took a sensational turn last night when Councilmen were served with subpoenas commanding them to appear at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning and explain their criticisms of the commission regarding the examination and rating for a chief engineer for the Bureau of Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph.

It is understood that the commission is acting after asking and receiving advice of the City Attorney, and fortified in what it believes is the proper course, it has instructed the police to send an officer to compel, if necessary, each of the nine Councilmen and such other officials as have been subpoenaed, to be present at the hearing.

Councilmen who have already been served were wrathful last night at what they term unwarranted and illegal action of the commissioners.

"I do not intend to appear as 'requested,'" snapped Councilman Topham. "I have carefully examined the charter and find the commission has not the power it is attempting to exercise."

"I shall certainly look into their rights to issue subpoenas in this case before responding," said Betkouski. "They are sore and are merely trying to get revenge on us and blind the public to the real issue."

Others, while perhaps not so emphatic, spoke with feeling and determination.

John D. Irons, who has held the emergency appointment of City Sealer of Weights and Measures, and Frank O'Neill, emergency appointee to the position of chief engineer of the Bureau of Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph, were also subpoenaed.

These men are to be interrogated concerning alleged statements which the commission by a resolution yesterday declared are "seriously reflecting upon the integrity and impartiality of the official employees of this commission in the discharge of their official duties."

Following a complaint and petition by unsuccessful candidates in the examination for the office in question, the Council, against the advice of the City Attorney, provided for the appointment of a committee to "investigate" the Civil Service Commission, even though they were informed they had no right to investigate. Accompanying the proceedings Councilmen indulged in strong opinions and hot a little criticism.

The commission, by its action of yesterday, apparently seeks to forestall the "investigation" and resorts to its legal powers to fire the first battery. The resolutions were prepared by the City Clerk for service yesterday.

COUNCILMEN TALK.

Councilman Andrews said last night that he is willing to be on hand whether compelled to or not, but asserted that he had seen nothing of a subpoena. President Williams and Topham admitted having been served.

"I have criticised the commission and stand by all I have said," said Topham. "I have no confidence in Dr. Haynes, nor in one or two other members. The commission's resolution speaks of viewing the Council's activities with suspicion; the suspicion is mutual. The investigation to be made by the Citizens' Committee will cover a lot more ground than the recent examinations, and I expect startling things to be brought to light."

Betkouski said the commission was a subordinate body and had no right to subpoena its superiors in the persons of Councilmen.

"I guess they think they have been unreasonably criticised by members of the Council," he remarked. "If they get us before the meeting they may be told to their faces that they have not been unreasonably criticised. They may hear a good deal in this same connection that will not be music in their ears. I, for one, will not hesitate in expressing my views."

Williams said he would go to the meeting if he had to, but that he had nothing to conceal and nothing to reveal.

"I cannot imagine what they expect to accomplish by this meeting," he said. "They must be put out because we didn't meet with them and want to punish us. I haven't studied the charter, but doubt very much if they have the right to summon us in this fashion. They merely want to show their authority, and try and humble us. It is rather amusing.

"I haven't yet appointed the committee of three disinterested citizens to investigate acts of the commission, according to my instructions, because I want to take the time to get three good, unprejudiced men. Possibly I'll have the committee ready next Tuesday."

McKenzie said he would be willing to appear before the commission.

"It looks like a move to forestall this other investigation," he asserted. "I don't remember having criticised the commission. I favored the investigation, however, and stand willing to back whatever I may have said. I fail to see where they have the right to subpoena their superiors in office."

HOW IT STARTED.

The squabble between the City Council and the Civil Service Commission has been dragging along for several weeks. The bureau of fire alarm and police telegraph was taken out of the fire department and given a separate maintenance. This bureau is to install a general alarm system throughout the city.

The first appointee of the Mayor as chief engineer was not approved by the Council, and after much looking about, which included a trip to San Francisco and the bay cities, Councilman Reed took up the campaign for the appointment of Paul Ost, an expert electrician of San Francisco, while other members of the Council favored local candidates.

Finally the Mayor appointed Frank O'Neill, and this appointment was confirmed, although Reed protested. Then the next move was to try to secure from the Civil Service Commission exemption of this office from the provisions for examination; but the commission firmly maintained that it would not be for the good of the public service to make such an exemption, and flatly refused to do so. Examinations for the position were called for, and O'Neill refused to file his application as a candidate. Eleven men took the examination, several of them men of well-known general qualifications as elect Paul Ost was given and thus he became eligible to appointm of this bureau.

HOW IT STARTED.

The squabble between the City Council and the Civil Service Commission has been dragging along for weeks. The bureau of fire alarm and police telegraph was taken from the fire department and given separate maintenance. This bureau is to install a general alarm system throughout the city.

The first appointee of the Mayor as chief engineer was not approved by the Council, and after much looking about, which included a trip to San Francisco and the bay cities, [illegible] Reed took up the campaign for the appointment of Paul Ost, expert electrician of San Francisco, while other members of the Council favored local candidates.

Then the Mayor appointed Frank O'Neill, and this appointment was [illegible], although Reed protested.

The next move was to try to obtain from the Civil Service Commission exemption of this office from the call for examination; but the commission firmly maintained that it would not be for the good of the service to make such an exemption and flatly refused to do so.

Examinations for the position were held, and O'Neill refused to file his application as a candidate. Eleven took the examination, several of them men of well-known general qualifications as electricians; but only Paul Ost was given passing marks, and thus he became the only man eligible to appointment to the head of this bureau.

Several of the other candidates filed a petition with the City Council asking for an examination of the methods employed in this examination, and there were various charges made, until the Council took up the subject on a resolution introduced by Councilman Topham, and instructed President Williams to appoint a special committee of citizens to investigate the Civil Service Commission.

The commission last week issued an invitation to the Councilmen to meet with it last Monday to discuss the situation, but this was ignored. Now comes the commission, exerting its rights under the city charter to summon such witnesses as it may desire to have appear before it, and the Councilmen must submit themselves to its quizzes.

At the time the controversy was going on, John D. Irons, who was emergency appointee as city sealer of weights and measures, took the examination for this permanent appointment, but he also failed to attain passing marks. Irons appealed to the Mayor to withhold any appointment to this position until he had the opportunity to secure a review of the examination papers and proceedings. Irons must also tell the commission what he knows about statements that have been made in connection with the commission's examinations.

THE RESOLUTION.

"Whereas, it has come to the knowledge of this commission that certain City Councilmen have made statements in and out of Council session seriously reflecting upon the integrity and impartiality of the official employees of this commission in the discharge of their official duty, and particularly in the matter of the recent examination by this board for the position of engineer fire alarm and police telegraph; and,

"Whereas, it has come to the knowledge of this board that like criticisms have been made by certain persons in the matter of the recent examination held by this board for the position of sealer of weights and measures;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved: That this commission meet Monday, December 9, 1912, at 9:30 a.m., in special session to investigate into the truth or untruth of said criticisms, and to fully inquire into the same, and that subpoenas issue requiring the attendance upon said special meeting of all persons who have made any of said criticisms, and for all persons who may know of or have any information concerning the truth or untruth of said criticisms, and that each of the Councilmen of this city be served with subpoena and be required to attend said special session that they may be interrogated as to the said statements of certain Councilmen, the truth or untruth of said statements, and the source of the criticisms heard by the Councilmen."

"And, whereas, since this board has indicated its intention to hold a competitive examination for the position of engineer fire alarm and police telegraph, the individual members of this commission have been importuned and urged to rescind such action by persons of the highest standing in this city, who, without exception, after having been made acquainted with the facts, have approved the board's action in relation thereto; and

"Whereas, great publicity, accompanied by reflections not only upon the employees of this board but upon the members themselves, has been given this action of the board, which action is in every way usual and in accord with the charter; and

"Whereas, this board views with suspicion this unusual activity, directed as it is toward an effort to retain one man in a position without any competitive examination whatever after he has declined to take said competitive examination;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, That at said referred to special session this board proceed to thoroughly investigate all matters in connection with said criticism and activity, and that subpoenas issue for competent witnesses having knowledge thereof, and that representatives of the press and the general public be invited and urged to attend said session. All to the end that the Civil Service Commission may be informed of irregularities, if any, in civil service examinations, or on the part of interested persons toward the retention of the referred to one man in a civil service position without examination; and that the public may know of the falsity of the referred to accusations against the Civil Service Commission and its employees, if not true."

Trio of Frenchmen Who Dared Indians in Hair-raising Exploit Start Back to France.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Three French aviators who crossed the Andes in a biplane through blinding snowstorms and dared poisoned darts of hostile South American Indians sailed from New York for home Thursday on La Savoie.

The aviators were Dr. Ignacio Allende, Pierre Villiard and M. Le Compte St. Croix de la Ronciere, who had previously failed to fly over the Alps.

The trio started from San Diego, Chile, August 14 in a biplane. They intended to make 150 miles a day and land in Southern Bolivia.

On the fourth day at an altitude of 4000 feet the airmen became lost. Villiard became frost-bitten and the men descended in a blinding snowstorm. The aeroplane landed on a narrow ledge barely wide enough for it to rest on, where eagles had made their nests.

In danger of freezing they started out again in three hours and reached a sheltered valley.

On the sixth day the biplane descended in a thick forest. Indians with blow guns and poisoned darts attacked them and the aviators fled after a hard fight, leaving their machine. They made their way through thick forests to the village of Essang, Bolivia.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

To Raze or Not to Raze Bunker Hill.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I cannot resist appealing to our lawmakers of today and to those who form public opinion now, concerning a grave and far-reaching question which now confronts us. The problem to which I refer is the proposed removal of Bunker Hill or of both Bunker and Fort hills.

One of the objections to this really necessary piece of work, is naturally, the expense. Now, I am going to make a statement which is indeed far-reaching. Disregarding entirely the relief of congestion and other similar benefits, in my opinion, the expense of letting those hills stay where they are will, in the course of time, by far exceed the cost of their removal. And I shall mention some of the reasons why I believe this.

It has already been seen, that if nothing is done towards the removal of the hills, both the First and Second street tunnels must be bored. The tunnel proponents declare that the bores will be magnificent in structure, beautiful, light, airy and "finished so that we can wear our Sunday clothes while going through them." To say that such tunnels could be constructed for less than $1,000,000 would be dealing with castles in the air rather than tunnels in the ground. After these are bored, we people who own property between Third and Sixth, beyond the hill would demand an enlargement of the dingy, disease-breeding hole going by the name of the Third-street tunnel. Then, after the development of the vast area in the same district within two or three miles of the city's heart, we should clamor that a Fourth-street tunnel be put through. That an inlet of some sort to the proposed civic center for the great West and Northwest would have to be arranged for, is a certainty. Petitions are already being circulated for two or more tunnels in the northern part of Bunker Hill and Fort Hill. That all of these constructions would amount to a figure in the millions, no one can deny. Then, after all of this is done, what will we have? Nothing but a veritable honeycomb in our far-famed city.

Another "bugbear" that the enemies to this improvement throw out is the destruction of the buildings. True, there would be some waste of property. But not by any means to the degree they would have us believe. By 1920, even the most confirmed pessimist of our city's growth admits that we should have a city of more than double our present size. And no matter which direction the city grows, there must be an enormous destruction of property. The number of available and suitable vacant lots is surprisingly small. Then I should like to remind you of the important fact that beginning with Eighth and Ninth streets, and extending to Washington is the automobile district of Los Angeles. Fine garages and autoplaces are going up constantly. Even now that part of town is congested with machines. What will happen when the business section is twice as large and when the congested part of the city extends through there? Because of the nature of this business, it would become absolutely necessary that all of these places move farther out of the city.

Besides this, I should like to call your attention to the fact that in this district are found two or three hospitals, and a dozen large expensive undertaking parlors.

It doesn't take an expert productive engineer or a skilled physicist to realize, after a little thought, that thousands of dollars are lost every week by the presence of those hills. Inasmuch as the hills rise to an approximate height of seventy-five feet it can be seen that for anything, (or person) that goes to the top or over them, there is enough energy lost to raise the weight of that article seventy-five feet in the air.

Let us suppose that the delivery wagons and automobiles that supply the 75,000 people on the hill, or travel beyond, number only 400 per day; also that they have an average weight of one ton each, with a raise of seventy-five feet. This gives 30,000 foot tons. (Meaning that sufficient energy is expended to lift that many tons one foot in the air.)

There are three car lines running a total number of about 600 cars per day which go over the hill. These cars weigh approximately sixteen tons each and we shall say that the lift is only fifty feet. You will see that this would envolve a loss of about 480,000 tons of energy. The Hollywood and other North Hill cars are entirely disregarded, although a steep grade is found on that street.

So, counting these means of conveyance, disregarding entirely other means and disregarding the people who walk, we have the surprising amount of 500,000 foot tons per day. This means sufficient energy to raise one ton 500,000 feet or one pound 188,000 miles in the air. Barring atmospheric conditions, almost enough energy would be wasted in one year to raise one pound to the sun—92,000,000 miles distant.

Engineers will tell you that this amounts to approximately 22,500 kilowatt hours energy which we shall say costs on an average of five cents per kilowatt hour. This would result in an absolute loss of over $1100 per day—due directly to this class of conveyances pulling up that hill.

One fact a person may overlook in considering this question is, that the energy and time expended because of the existence of the hill is an absolute loss to the community. While on the other hand, if the hill were removed, only a small percentage of the amount expended would be absolutely wasted. Most of the money would be paid for labors or spent in such a way that it would again be placed in circulation.

Throughout this article, I have purposely not alluded to the increase of property values, to the solution of the congestion problem, to the proper civic arrangement of the city, nor even to the enormous amount of time which is wasted daily by the busy business people in getting from behind the hill and from on top of it. These matters have been referred to by others. It has been my purpose merely to show that the hill is in other ways a burden to the community; that the actual expense of removing it would not amount to what a person may imagine; and that if we consider the future welfare of the city, it is the only thing to do.

WILSON HAS OBJECT LESSON.

Bermuda Fighting Beef Trust Imports Cattle from Argentina, Then Local Agent Drops Prices.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

HAMILTON, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Bermuda is fighting the high cost of living and an object lesson about the tariff and the island's war on the beef trust was given President-elect Wilson Thursday. Importation of cattle from Argentina began with the arrival of a shipload of cattle. All the population of Hamilton, including Gov.-Gen. Bullock and Mr. Wilson, saw the vessel unloaded. Following its usual tactics, the trust's local agent made a drop in the price to meet this latest competition.

Asked to sit in a chair of a local shop, which is said to have been occupied by President Cleveland and President Hayes, the President-elect obliged. As he rose one of the party asked:

"Did you feel any sensation?"

"No," was the laughing reply. "I guess they forgot to turn on the switch."

Dr. Hartman Speaks About Catarrh of the Lungs.

S. B. Hartman, M.D., Columbus, Ohio.

Quite a stir in medical circles was produced by Dr. Hartman's last article in which he refers to the remarkable cure of Mrs. Eberlein of Pittsburgh. The impression prevails that Dr. Hartman claims to be able to cure incurable diseases. A report of these statements reached the doctor's ears. As soon as he heard what people were saying he was very quick and emphatic in his denial of any intent on his part to create such an impression.

No, said the Doctor, I do not claim to have any magical cures. I do not claim to have a cure for anything. Judging from the number of letters I receive, however, concerning Mrs. Eberlein's case, from people who have similar complaints, I should judge that catarrh of the lungs is very prevalent. The number of people afflicted are increasing. In spite of the strenuous efforts of health boards catarrh prevails more and more every year.

No, I do not claim to have a miraculous cure. I only recite some of the things the people tell me who take Pe-ru-na. The case of Mrs. Eberlein, for instance. She was apparently dying of catarrh of the lungs. Her physician had told her so. Many people who had seen others die under similar conditions thought her to be dying. She commenced taking Pe-ru-na and recovered.

Now, I do not undertake to explain her recovery. I certainly do not undertake to say that Pe-ru-na will cure anybody in the last stages of catarrh of the lungs. I make no such claim. But I do undertake to say this. As long as there is life there is hope. The doctors are liable to be mistaken. They often condemn people to die when they do not die. They say, "Mrs. So-and-So cannot live twenty-four hours," and then Mrs. So-and-So gets well. They say, "Mr. So-and-So has not a ghost of a show of living," but Mr. So-and-So gets well. Now, what is it that cures such cases?

Every doctor knows that it is the vitality of the patient. The last grain of vitality was not exhausted, just enough vitality left to make one more struggle, and the disease was overcome.

Now, it may happen that Pe-ru-na is taken at the critical moment in the patient's struggle against disease. The patient may have been losing ground day after day. At last the fight seems hopeless; death inevitable. Some one suggests Pe-ru-na. The patient takes it without any hope. The medicine actually does infuse new life into the circulation. They feel its genial influence as soon as it is swallowed. This constitutes the turning point in their disease. The little assistance which Pe-ru-na gives Nature at this important point turns the tide of affairs in favor of the patient.

Not that Pe-ru-na cures incurable diseases. No, not at all. But Pe-ru-na does lend a little much-needed assistance at a time when a feather-weight on one side or the other of the balances turns the scales in favor of or against the patient. Scores and scores of times Pe-ru-na has come in at these critical moments and saved patients from imminent death. At least it seems so. I have bushels of letters reciting such things.

Pe-ru-na is a diffusive stimulant. It stimulates the circulation. It causes a warm glow of health to pervade the mucous membranes of the body. The mucous membranes of the stomach, alimentary canal, kidneys, bladder, lungs, all the mucous membranes are apparently revivified, rejuvenated, re-endowed with the glow of health. That is what Pe-ru-na will do. And this often saves life. There can be no doubt of it.

Whether the case be one of catarrh of the lungs or any other chronic prostrating illness, the right stimulant at the right time, in the right doses, does the work. Explain it as you may, such things are happening every day.

I prefer not to use the word cure. I do not like the sound of it. I do not like the idea that people generally attach to the word. But that Pe-ru-na helps Nature, and helps Nature sometimes when she is sadly in need of help, that I know to be the truth. That I do not hesitate to proclaim. That is exactly what occurred in the case of Mrs. Eberlein, the account of which has caused so much comment.

Of I or any of my immediate relatives had catarrh of the lungs, Pe-ru-na would be given a thorough trial, I assure you. That being the case, I can conscientiously advise any one else to do the same.

MAIDEN DEFIES DEATH ANGEL.

Weds Man of Her Choice at His Bedside.

Says Love Will Save Her Husband's Life.

Refuses Gift of Freedom from Fiance.

With the grim Death Angel as a rival for the hand of her fiance, a winsome Los Angeles girl fearlessly entered the lists as a champion of love last night and in the very shadow of outstretched sable wings became the wife of the man who trembled on the verge of the unknown. Remarkable, indeed, is the romance attaching to the marriage of Paul D. Proper, a youthful student, and Miss Eva C. Pries, both well-known young persons of this city.

A physican's verdict that young Proper's hold on life was fragile and that a few hours might bring the snapping of the thread, was responsible for the hurried wedding. Unable to move from his bed, scarcely able to lift his wearied head from the pillow, the boy was willing to release his fiancee from her promise, but she would have none of his sacrifice. Secure in the belief that her great love would wean him back even from the valley of the shadow, she insisted that the wedding take place at once.

The determination to wed came yesterday. The condition of the young man precluded the thought of inviting friends. In the presence of their immediate relatives the two plighted the vows that made them husband and wife. The young girl smiled bravely down into the face of the sufferer as her tremulous lips responded to the questions of the minister and in that moment she was rewarded by the light in his eyes for all the sacrifice, if, indeed, it was a sacrifice. Rev. Baker P. Lee, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, officiated at the wedding ceremony at 8:30 last night at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Proper, No. 1331 Carroll avenue.

The sudden marriage of the young couple will surprise even those most intimately acquainted with them. Although they had been boy and girl sweethearts and their engagement had been announced several months ago, it was generally understood that young Proper's serious illness would cause an indefinite postponement. The bride spoke regretfully last night of the disappointment of her many friends who had planned with her for this great event in her life, but was secure in the knowledge that they would approve her course.

Miss Pries is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pries, No. 4807 Melrose avenue, and has lived virtually all her life in Los Angeles. Proper, up to the time of his illness, was a medical student. Although faint hope is entertained for the recovery of the young husband it is probable that he will be taken to a hospital tomorrow where he will submit to a major operation as a last hope of saving his life.

Lower Living Cost.

EGGS CHEAPER THAN YEAR AGO.

BIG DECLINE IN PRICES NOTED IN THE LAST WEEK.

Relief Is Only Temporary, Dealers Say, and Advances Will Begin With First Wave of Cold Weather. Higher Butter Figure to Be Expected in a Short Time.

Housewives may draw a temporary sigh of relief for during the last week prices on eggs have declined no less than 8 cents, and are now several cents lower than at this time last year. Although advances may be expected with the coming of a general wave of cold weather, the cost of living problem has for the last few days presented a brighter aspect.

That the decline in egg price was larger than is warranted at this time of the year seems to be the opinion of many of the dealers who are in touch with the situation. For this reason it is predicted that advances will occur soon again, especially at the time of the Christmas holidays. There is a bare possibility of a further lowering of prices in the next few days, but it is believed that any further decline will be small if it occurs, and it is more likely that firmness will characterize the market until the advance.

The local market is influenced to a great extent in its action by prices in San Francisco, and the tendency there has been rather weak. Should prices be firm in the northern city, a similar condition will be felt here. The receipts of fresh eggs have not grown in size to any extent, and are still far behind the demand. This, it is believed, makes the foundation for the recent decline rather shaky and a strong reaction as a consequence is likely to set in just as soon as conditions are right.

No relief is in sight as far as butter prices are concerned, and they are scheduled for an advance in two or three weeks at the outside. It is predicted that San Francisco will set a higher rate by the fifteenth of the month, and should this prove the case there is practically no doubt that the market will be higher here. Butter has been very high in nearly every section of the East—higher, in fact, than locally in some cities as New York and Chicago—and the fact that prices have remained steady here for about a month is to be regarded as rather fortunate. An advance in butter will probably mean what will seem an almost exorbitant rate on the retail market, but a limited supply and the growth in population with a consequent expansion of the city's needs, are becoming important factors in forcing the prices up.

The market on northern fresh cheese has been much easier during the last two weeks, probably due to a falling off in the demand because of higher prices and the cheaper rates in San Francisco.

CLEANSE YOUR LIVER AND BOWELS WITH DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS."

Removes the Sour Bile, Gases and Clogged-up Waste Without Gripe or Nausea. No Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Biliousness or Coated Tongue.

Foul breath, coated tongue, dull throbbing headache, stomach sour and full of gases, indigestion, biliousness and a sallow complexion, mean that your thirty feet of bowels are clogged with waste matter; that these drainage organs of the body are obstructed; liver stagnant and stomach full of poisonous gases, sour bile and undigested, fermenting food not properly carried off.

Most of our ills are caused by constipated bowels. We all need a laxative sometimes; nobody can doubt that. The only question is, which one is the best? and that isn't a question any more. Syrup of Figs, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics, must act in a harmless, gentle and natural way. Syrup of Figs can be constantly used without injury. Its action is the action of fruit—of eating coarse food—of taking exercise. It is a true and effective liver and bowel cleanser and regulator.

Most folks dread physic—they shrink from the taste and after-effects. Syrup of Figs is delicious, and, besides, you don't realize you have taken anything until morning, when all the clogged up waste of the system is gently but thoroughly moved on and out of the bowels without griping or weakness.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." This is the old reliable and only genuine. Refuse, with contempt, any other Fig Syrup recommended as good. They are imitations meant to deceive you. Read the label carefully and look for the name California Fig Syrup Company.—[Advertisement.

Big Business.

GASOLINE WAR MAY BE RESULT.

ROTHSCHILDS PREPARING TO ENTER COAST TRADE.

Representatives Have Been Here Perfecting Plans for Extensive Importation of Asiatic Product. Standard's Great Rival May Prove Factor in Lowering Price.

Although those who are in a position to know contend that the Rothschild interests do not intend to enter the fuel oil business in this State, it is evident from announcements made yesterday by the representatives of the great English financiers in this city that Rothschild money is to be used extensively in exploiting the gasoline business in California. The import of these announcements was that a number of importing stations to cost several million dollars are to be constructed along this coast from Vancouver, B. C., to San Diego.

F. P. S. Harris of London, head of the Transport and Trading Company; J. C. Van Eck, president of the American Gasoline Company, and H. R. Gallagher of San Francisco, an executive officer of the American Gasoline Company, have been in this city and the surrounding localities, for several days, perfecting plans for the projected importation of gasoline from the oriental fields. It is understood the plans are now awaiting the approval of the Rothschild interests, to whom reports of conditions have been sent, and it is stated that active work will probably begin this week.

Several months ago it was announced that the Rothschilds had started to bring gasoline to this country from the Asiatic fields, and much speculation was engaged in at the time as to the probable effect that this action would have upon the business in this State. That the production which will be imported by the big English interests will have a considerable effect upon the shortage of the product, is admitted by nearly every one conversant with the business, for it is generally believed that the importations will be quite extensive.

It was quite generally known several months ago that the subsidiary Rothschild concern—the Asiatic Petroleum Company—was figuring on building large distributing stations at different points along the Coast, for the purpose of providing adequate facilities for shipping to the adjacent regions. It was reported at that time that an option had been taken on land at San Pedro for the erecting of such a station. So a definite announcement that a station will be built at the harbor comes as no surprise to those who are familiar with the oil situation in this State.

That the Rothschild interests would, in the establishment of the stations, not in any case overlook Los Angeles, the gateway to the great Southwest, there was no doubt. It is probable from the information which has been let out that Los Angeles is to become one of the most important, if not the most important, distributing station on the Coast.

CAUDRON IN SANDSTORM.

Terrific Wind Forces Speedy Flying Machine to Descend in the Cucamonga Region—Turns Over.

A terrific head-on wind yesterday morning brought E. Bonney and his Caudron monoplane, credited with a speed capacity of eighty-seven miles an hour, to a standstill in midair over the Cucamonga region, near San Bernardino, and the aviato rwas forced to make a landing in the sand at great risk to his life.

As the machine struck the earth it turned over, but Bonney escaped unhurt. He asserts that there was so much sand in the air he completely lost his bearings immediately after encountering the storm. He was seeking to make a new cross-country record n a flight from the rifle range beyond Eastlake Park to Bloomington, fifty-two miles.

A forty-horse-power Buick auto, with Roy Nikrent at the wheel, and Montgomery on a motorcycle, were racing the airship. Nikrent was the only one to finish. His time was one hour flat.

WILLOW BAR DAM FINISHED.

Water From Stanislaus River to Reclaim Three Hundred Thousand Acres Around Oakdale.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The big diverting dam at Willow Bar, built by the Oakdale and South San Joaquin districts, for turning the water of the Stanislaus River on the plains around Oakdale, making that town the center of 300,000 acres of irrigated land, was finished this week, and now the water is flowing over the crest of the dam. The dam is eighty feet high and 300 feet long, and built of reinforced concrete masonry.

The main canals of the Oakdale district are finished from the dam to the plains and a large mileage of laterals are completed, awaiting the concreting of half a mile of the main ditch, which will be finished about the middle of this month. Water will be flowing in the main canals and some of the laterals by the first of the year.

STATE IS ASKED TO CHASE WOLF.

LEGISLATIVE BILL TO HELP MOTHERS AND BABES.

Parents to Be Made to Feel Responsibility When Possible, and in Other Cases Public Assistance Is to Be Provided by Law—City Club to Hear Judge Wilbur.

A bill which is to be introduced at the next session of the Legislature providing for the creation of the funds for pensioning mothers and for a scholarship fund to assist poor but worthy children was expounded to the City Club by its author, Judge Wilbur, at the club's luncheon yesterday.

A general summary of its provisions shows that it is designed for the custody, maintenance and support of indigent, dependent and poor persons, orphans and half-orphans, and for the education of such and other worthy persons under 21 years of age; fixing the responsibility of parents and relatives, step-fathers and fathers of illegitimate children; authorizing the creation and maintenance of funds to be derived by taxation and donation for a "mothers' pension fund" and a "scholarship fund, etc."

The speaker advocated that provision be made for action through the courts in every case before children become public charges and to determine the status of each child or person so that this would tend to fix the parental responsibility. He showed that investigations of cases in charitable institutions indicated that in many instances parents or relatives are able to at least partially support children that have been made public charges.

But, regardless of what may be accomplished to place proper responsibility in this line, Judge Wilbur believes that the State is not doing its full duty in extending aid to the unfortunate dependent children and mothers. He gave statistics showing how the funds for expenditure in care of such cases have been diminished and declared that this appears to be a case where the great State of California is supporting itself at the expense, to a certain degree, of helpless babies.

The speaker urged that there should be a reform in the laws so that residents of California might be permitted to make such bequests as they desire to the proposed funds for the aid of mothers and children, without regard to relatives who may be located in distant States and especially that provision should be made for a certain percentage of inheritances above a certain amount accruing to such funds.

The scholarship fund plan, said Judge Wilbur, is decidedly novel and is in accordance with plans made by the State Parent-Teachers' Association through private funds.

The proposed bill provides that the State Board of Charities and Corrections, assisted by the State Controller and State Superintendent of Public Instruction, shall devise some appropriate plan of recognizing those who have contributed to the "State Mothers' Pension Fund," or to the "Mothers' Pension Fund" of any county.

A request from the Alembic Club was presented asking that the City Club send a delegation to a proposed conference to discuss amendments to the City Charter, but the club voted to refer this and similar subjects to the Board of Governors to take such action as it may see fit, but that in no case shall the City Club be committed to the support of any proposed charter amendment without an open and free discussion of the same in public sessions of the club.

FILIPINO BILL AROUSES TAFT.

SEES GREAT HARM IN MEASURE OF INDEPENDENCE.

Tells Member of Committee if Plan of Bestowing Independence to Islands in Eight Years Carries He Will Veto It Before Ink Is Dry.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Those who recall the harm done by William J. Bryan's advocacy of independence for the Philippines, which served to prolong the insurrection and cost many American lives, are seriously disturbed over the Jones bill, which provides for complete Philippine independence by 1920. According to advices reaching Gov.-Gen. Forbes, this matter has already begun to do harm and will seriously interfere with the course of legislation in the Philippine assembly.

The fact that Jones is chairman of the Insular Committee and that he purposes to apply for a special rule for its consideration practically insures its passage this session, but the President sent for Representative Olmstead, the ranking Republican member of that committee, today and told him that if the bill were sent to the White House he would veto it before the ink on the measure had had time to dry.

HIGH-O-ME

That's the Proper Way to Pronounce Booth's HYOMEI, the Famous Catarrh Remedy Made From Australian Eucalyptus and Other Antiseptics —Just Breathe It.

It Banishes Catarrh

When you can go to any drug store in any civilized community on earth and secure for only $1.00 a remedy that will quickly rid you of hawking, spitting and snuffing, why do you allow the devilish germs of catarrh to undermine your health and destroy your efficiency?

Quit sprays and douches. Liquid cannot penetrate into the nooks, folds and crevices of the irregular mucous membrane. Neither can it get into the bronchial tubes that lead to the lungs and where germs thrive and multiply.

If you believe that liquids reach the air tubes, try to swallow a little water the "wrong way." Such a test will effectually demonstrate to you that idle theory that sprays and douches can cure catarrh.

HYOMEI is a pleasant antiseptic air which, when breathed, penetrates into the folds and crevices of the sore, germ-infested membrane and also goes deep into the air cells of the lungs, killing all germs.

A HYOMEI outfit costs $1.00. Extra bottle of HYOMEI, if needed, 50c.

For catarrh, coughs, colds and croup, Booth's Hyomei is guaranteed. —[Advertisement.

Opening of Trolley Line to Owensmouth Attracts Seven Thousand Persons, Who View the Wonderful Development of Valley and Crown — A Place that Has What It Wants and Gets It if It Hasn't.

SEVEN thousand persons went from Los Angeles to Owensmouth yesterday to help celebrate the opening of the Pacific Electric line between the two cities. Scores of the purchased lots in the "town that had to be," bringing the total of its business sites to $225,000 and its residence property to $350,-00.

Owensmouth, the fair keeper of the gate of the Van Nuys Lanker- hads in the amazingly rihc and San Fernando Valley, was on the map March 30 of the year by the Janss Investment representing the Los Ange- burban Homes Company, of H. AND AUTOS.

traverse the new line yes- was a special car con- Whitley and a large From 9 a.m. until 3 Electric trains of from two to four cars hourly increased the gay multitude at Owensmouth. Its numbers were also swelled by the arrival of at least 500 automobiles. On the day the town was opened the March morning was golden and perfect, but rain fell that afternoon. Yesterday morning a stiff wind which held all Southern California in its thrall prevailed at Owensmouth, too, though to a less extent than in many other sections; but in the afternoon the winds were still and the people were comfortable. At noon they were fed by Jose Romero with the established dishes of the Spanish barbecue and the people ate, drank and were merry. During the afternoon the visitors went to the baseball game, won by the Owensmouth Babes, or were driven about the city.

When they were there in March not a lot had been sold. Yesterday they found block after block occupied and sometimes that entire streets had been taken. Indeed, on Sherman way, the principal business street, only a single lot was yesterday available to purchase. In Syndicate block the visitors found five completed business buildings with nine others under course of construction, besides several good buildings erected by private enterprise.

Prominent on Sherman way is the Owensmouth Gazette of which R. M. Lamoreaux is the editor and manager and which issued a handsome celebration special edition yesterday solemnly delcaring that the Gazette had "appeared to fill a long-felt want." In view of the youth of the city, readers could only assume that Owensmouth had also appeared for the same reason and that the town had not wanted the newspaper any longer or any worse than the public had wanted the town. Market street has a hay and grain market, a grocery store and two lumber yards.

Of course, the city has a garage, a blacksmith shop and a plumber. The latter is not a millionaire, but his intentions are honorable. In view of the experiences of J. J. Clark, the plumber's expectations should meet with early realization. Clark went to Owensmouth six months ago to be the station agent at a naturally small salary. He now has a big grocery store in one part of the town, a drygoods store with a men's furnishing and shoe department in another section of the city and is building a three-story department store which he expects to occupy within sixty days and for which he is already planning the biggest special, cut-rate, grand sacrifice sales that were ever offered a bargain-seeking public. Farmers' wives in that locality are getting ready to take a basket of eggs and a pound of butter to Clark in order to return home with an automobile.

GETS WHAT IT WANTS.

The first bank of Owensmouth has been organized and has a fine building under way. If the town wants anything which it does not own or has not started, it is only because its citizens have forgotten to remember it. A few miles southeast of the city is the station of Marion, which is likely to become a city itself any day. Marion's anxiety to materialize is that it may get itself on the map before it has been gobbled as a suburb of Greater Owensmouth. Those who passed Marion yesterday were interested in the vast herds of sheep and cattle in sight and in watching several caterpillar plows upturning unnumbered tons of prime sugar beets.

The cattle on a thousand hills serve admirably as a Bible metaphor. Hillside cattle are easily imagined. They are also exceedingly poetic, but for practical purposes the cattle on the level fields of a San Fernando Valley ranch are much more numerous and in better condition. This valley contains 165,000 acres of unsurpassable land. It was once the property of a few ranch companies and large individual land holders. Now it contains the homes of the many. When it was organized the Los Angeles Suburban Homes Company held 47,500 acres. Individual home-seekers have reduced the company's acreage to almost nothing and today the valley is held in fee by thousands of prosperous home biulders who are successful and happy and who have a common share in the valley's welfare.

POPPIES AND PUMPKINS.

From Los Angeles to Owensmouth the twenty-seven miles through the valley are linked by a perfect asphalt boulevard. The day that Owensmouth was pronounced a city the whole boulevard was a crowded speedway for a merry procession of 2000 machines. The fields on either side of the road that day were lined with yellow poppies. Yesterday they were dotted for the most part with golden pumpkins, especially between Cahuenga Pass and Van Nuys. A party of New Englanders refused to go beyond sunny Van Nuys. They said that they had spent all of their lives looking for a city where it was Thanksgiving every day of the year with pumpkin pie on tap for breakfast, dinner and supper and now that they had found it they would take no chance on ever losing it again.

Those who had made the trip by automobile were pleased to note that the construction of a fine concrete bridge over the Los Angeles River, a mile and a half southeast of Lankershim, is under way, and that both a boulevard and Pacific Electric street car line are being built from the San Fernando Valley boulevard to the city of San Fernando, the branch leaving the main line about four miles west of Lankershim.

STIFF WINDS WERE GENERAL.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA SWEPT BY A TERRIFIC GALE.

Some Damage Was Done in the Way of Grounded Wires and Avalon Ocean Front Property Suffered Greatly — Weather Forecasters Say It Means Rain.

From Tehachepi's ridge to the Imperial Valley the wids frolicked nearly all day yesterday. The storm was not severe enough to do material damage to the fruit crop generally, but telephone and electric power lines were blown down in some quarters and considerable inconvenience caused.

At Anaheim the electric light system was temporarily put out of commission and in the vicinity of San Bernardino similar instances were reported. At Cucamonga and in the vicinity of Etiwanda some fruit was whipped from the trees. At the beaches the winds stirred the salty depths into a foam and bathing was stricken from the daily programme. The Jobbers' and Manufacturers' Association of California had this year's meeting scheduled at Catalina, but the strong winds and rough sea made landing at the island impossible and the meeting was held at Long Beach.

Forty thousand dollars is the estimated damage at Avalon by the storm during the past two days Roads were washed out and nearly every building on the ocean front was damaged more or less. Early yesterday morning the waves dashed over the aquarium building and broke on the veranda of the Hotel Metropole. The bath-house, which cost $30,000, was almost totally destroyed. Several launches were sunk in the bay.

In Los Angeles, the wind reached a high velocity, but no damage was done. Amateur prognosticators asseverate that the unusual manifestation is the forerunner of a rainstorm.

Eat Any hing Without Fear

Tightness of the Stomach Caused by Undigested Food Stopped With a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet.

When you feel as if your stomach was being tightly choked—when the pain is intense and you break out in a cold and clammy perspiration and there is a lump in your throat and you are weak and nauseated—all you need is a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet to clear away the wreckage of undigested food left in the stomach and intestines and restore you to your normal self again. And this can all be accomplished within a few moments.

You May Have Often Envied the Hearty Eater! Why Not Emulate Him?

Thousands of people have learned so well how sure and dependable Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for all stomach ills that they now eat anything they want without fear of distress. They are never without a package at home and at the office, and upon any indication that the stomach is a little weary, they take a Stuart's Tablet after each meal for a few days until the digestive organs get rested up again.

This is a splendid plan to follow and always results in much good. The appetite is improved, the food is relished more, your sleep is more refreshing, and your disposition will make you friends instead of enemies.

For Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Belching, Gas, Coated Tongue, Intestinal Indigestion and all Stomach Disorders and Pains—or for Loss of Appetite—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are invaluable.

Use them freely—they are as harmless as sugar would be—and are not to be classed as "medicine." They have no effect whatever on the system except the benefits they bring you through the proper digestion of your food.

All Drug Stores sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The price is 50 cents per box.—[Advertisement.

To Serve Peace Pie.

Germany, which stood aside awaiting the decision of its ally, announced its acquiescence today. This will be by far the most important assembly of diplomats since the Berlin conference of the Russo-Turkish war. Giants like Bismarck, Beaconsfield, Salisbury and Gortchakoff, to be sure, will not tread the stage, but their successors who do will have an equally important work to perform.

FIRST ISSUE.

One question charged with the possibilities of disaster is Servia's unquenchable determination to have an Adriatic port, and Austria's determination that she shall not have it.

Servian official newspapers make it plain, however, that the little kingdom has made up its mind to take instructions from the powers, so far as public opinion in Servia will let it.

SECOND STRUGGLE.

A second interesting struggle will take place over Turkey's endeavors to hold as much of the conquered territory as oriental diplomacy and the help of friendly powers can save for her. The best bargain the Sultan can make probably will reduce his subjects in Europe from more than 6,000,000 to less than 2,000,000 and the Turks seem reconciled to this.

THIRD FACTOR.

A third important factor will be the Greek attempt to gain Salonika.

Besides, various difficult questions will arise over the commercial status of the various states, the disposition of the Turkish debts attached to the conquered country and the final status of Adrianople.

That the peace negotiations proper will be less complicated than had been feared is promised by the two facts that Turkey and Bulgaria appear to have reached an understanding already and that the dissension among the allies, portended by the failure of Greece to sign the armistice is mostly a myth, a prearranged plan having been agreed to by the allies that Greece should stand out so that her navy could continue the blockade and acquire the islands, which are Greece's natural share of the spoils.

London was set for the conference because England was nearer neutral than any other power, because the powers have the ablest Ambassadors in London, and because Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, who will naturally hold a commanding position, has a unique reputation for honesty among European diplomats.

The King has provided St. James Palace for the meetings of the peace commission. The palace is quaint and contains rooms gorgeous with paintings, tapestries and armor, and has the advantage of unusual quiet.

The Greek Premier, M. Venizelos, who shares with King Ferdinand of Bulgaria the honors of cementing the Balkan league, has started for London.

The Egyptian Prince, Ahmed Fouad, who is a candidate for the Albanian throne, is coming to make a personal campaign in his own behalf. The premiers of three of the Balkan kingdoms are also expected.

ANOTHER ATTACK MADE BY THE TURKS.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

CETTINJE (Montenegro) Dec. 7.—Notwithstanding that an armistice has just been concluded the Turks from Tarabosch made a heavy attack yesterday against the Montenegrin front. In accordance with orders the Montenegrins refused to return the Turkish fire which did no damage.

The Montenegrin troops around Tarabosch and Scutari have received the news of the armistice with great discontent. The army was impatiently awaiting a general offensive movement for the capture of Scutari.

Public opinion is gradually becoming reconciled to autonomy for Albania, but the proclamation of Albanian independence at Avlona is not regarded seriously.

GREEK TROOPS ON THE MARCH.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

ATHENS, Dec. 7. — The Greek troops operating in Epirus have occupied the towns of Delviro, Argyro-Castro and Santi Quaranta, about fifty miles northwest of Janina.

The bombardment of Avlona, on the Adriatic Sea, which has evoked Austrian and Italian protests, was insignificant, according to official statement. All that occurred was the firing by the frigate Peneics of a few shots at a body of armed Albanians gathered on the shore.

Fifteen hundred Albanians are reported to have made an attempt to capture the Himara passes by surprise. A force of volunteers dispersed and pursued them.

DESPITE ARMISTICE THE WAR GOES ON.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 7.—The following official message has been received from the Vali of Adrianople, under date of December 4:

"At 9 o'clock yesterday evening before the armistice was signed the enemy, with the intention of approaching the forts, made a general charge with all their forces of infantry and artillery on the south, north and west, and also on the Marash side. Our brave soldiers repulsed the attack with great vigor and did not give way a step from the advance posts which they were occupying.

"During terrible fighting, which lasted nearly six hours, the enemy sustained considerable losses and had to retreat on all sides in a lamentable state. The enemy fired nearly seventy shells at the town, without, thanks to God, causing any loss. The armistice was proclaimed today."

BOAT BATTLES WITH ICE.

SAULT STE. MARIE (Mich.) Dec. 7.—The oil steamer Imperial, covered by an almost unbroken sheet of ice, arrived today from Port Arthur, Ont., bringing tales of a terrific battle with the heavy sea on Lake Superior yesterday. Pilot Morrison reported seven large steamers bound in shelter behind Whitefish Point, where they have been held up for three days. He also passed six other boats on his way across Lake Superior, but none of them seemed to be in serious trouble.

Five Hundred Society People Attend Hotel Opening.

PASADENA, Dec. 8.—While Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hewlett, who live in one of the Oak Knoll mansions, corner of Hillcrest and Oak Knoll avenues, early yesterday morning conjectured what could have been causing certain faint noises in the house that had awakened them, and, concluding that it was one of the servants at the medicine chest, went to sleep again, a burglar pocketed $5000 worth of Mrs. Hewlett's jewelry and $200 in money. He overlooked jewelry amounting in value to about $70,000 that lay on a shelf near the table from which he took the stolen pieces.

In addition to the services of a watchman, the Hewletts protect their home with a number of dogs, some of which are savage. The one most to be feared slept throughout the night on a couch in the room where the jewelry reposed and, for some reason which cannot be understood, neither it nor any of the other dogs barked.

The same thing was true of the burglarizing of the home of John B. Miller, president of the Southern California Edison Company, several days ago, where also a watch dog failed to sound an alarm. The police believe that both robberies are the work of one thief and that he is an expert who steals about so quietly that even the dogs do not hear him.

A burglar also attempted to enter the home of Dr. Webster Marrifield in San Rafael Heights last Thursday, but was frightened away before he could effect an entrance.

The one who robbed the Hewlett residence yesterday morning made his way into the house by opening a window near the front door with a jimmy. He evidently entered the building between 2 and 3 o'clock. L. W. Coombs, a special watchman, called at the Hewlett house as he made his rounds at 1:30 o'clock and saw no one about. He was very likely watched by the burglar.

The man, to get to the dressing-room where the jewelry lay, had to pass through an upstairs hall, past the doors to the bedrooms of Mr. and Mrs. Hewlett. Mrs. Hewlett heard him, and, awakening her husband, asked him if he did not think some one was in the house. He said that he guessed it was a servant, probably going to the medicine chest. He started to summon Coombs, to have him look about the premises, but, realizing that he had but recently left the house, and would not return for some time, dismissed it from his mind and went to sleep.

In the meantime the burglar took a ring set with diamonds, valued at $2000; another ring set with diamonds and a pear-shaped pearl, valued at $2000; a pearl necklace with a diamond clasp, valued at $800; and $200 in money, from the dressing-room. The remainder of Mrs. Hewlett's jewels, which were in the same room, were within reach of the man, but he evidently used no light except a flash lantern and failed to direct its shaft that way. As he left the house he carefully closed the window after him, so that when Coombs came by on his next round nothing out of the ordinary was observed. The robbery was not discovered until morning.

Coombs, when he first visited the Hewlett premises, left his bicycle to walk around the house. On returning and starting to ride away he discovered that one of the tires was punctured. He now believes that the man may have been present then and have disabled the bicycle in order to make pursuit more difficult in case he should be discovered.

As soon as word of the burglary was received by the police, Detective Betts and Secretary Hax of the department, the latter of whom has charge of the finger-print registration system, went to the house, but no finger prints were found on the glass of the window or elsewhere.

SOCIETY ASSEMBLES.

The formal winter opening of the Hotel Maryland last night was the first large social event of the year. Over 500 Pasadenans and visitors attended the dinner and ball. The hotel was gorgeously decorated with flowers and many handsome gowns were worn.

Among those who gave dinner parties are: Miss Mary Manning, Mrs. E. L. Benjamin, Roy Macomber, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Newcomb, Mrs. J. O. McCamnet, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Raymond, Dr. Z. T. Malaby, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gray, G. A. Carpenter, H. T. Major, J. E. Crawford, W. D. Clark, Spring Killian, Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, R. D. Davis, Mrs. N. I. Lyon, F. M. Williams, F. Jenkins, H. H. Sinclair, R. E. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Card, H. G. Morehouse, Mrs. Florence Stewart, Mrs. George Brown, R. H. White, H. C. French, H. F. Felton and T. W. Sprague.

In the afternoon a reception, tea and fashion show was given, which was attended by most of the society persons of the city and many who are winter residents here. The two new shops which have been built into the hotel were opened. One is that of I. Magnin & Co. of San Francisco and the other a branch of the [illegible] Jewelry Company of Los Angeles. A large variety of rich costumes were worn by models, who promenaded through the music-room in the brilliance of a calcium spotlight.

TO IMPROVE SERVICE.

In response to requests of City Attorney Carr that tests be made with view to bringing about an improvement in the telephone service, against which there have been many complaints since the consolidation of the Home and Pacific companies, James T. Shaw, a telephone expert connected with the State Railroad Commission, has arrived in the city from San Francisco. Other telephone men in the city yesterday were C. F. Mason, division commercial superintendent of the Home company; J. P. Downs, general superintendent of traffic on the Pacific Coast, and M. D. Sedam, division superintendent of traffic. Nineteen operators and traffic helpers have been brought to the city from Los Angeles and it is announced that they will remain here until the new system is in smooth running order.

NAMING THE CONDITIONS.

Long Beach Political Foes Get Together and Agree Upon Stipulations to Be Presented.

LONG BEACH, Dec. 7.—City Attorneys Long and Hoodenpyle and Attorneys Whealton and Jackson, representing the Progressive League, held a conference this morning and agreed upon stipulations to be submitted to the court next Monday in the hearing of the writ of mandate asked to compel the Council to call a special election on an additional set of amendments to the city charter, or postpone the election called for December 30 to such time as legal publication will make the extra amendments available for the same election.

In the stipulations practically everything alleged in the complaint is agreed to and the validity of the petition will not be attacked as was at first expected.

ROUGH SEAS.

The Jobbers' and Manufacturers' Association of California had this year's annual meeting scheduled for Catalina, but the sea was so rough at the island Thursday night that a landing was impossible, and after waiting a day the association met this morning at Hotel Virginia. Officers were elected as follows: Chairman, C. C. Hillis, San Francisco; secretary, Albert H. Elliott, San Francisco. There are thirty-three in attendance and in addition to the business session golf matches, pool and billiard tournaments are being played off for the possession of six cups which are contested for annually. The golf finals were played off this afternoon at the Virginia Country Club and the pool and billiard finals will be concluded tonight. A banquet tonight closed the session. Among the delegates in attendance are representatives from San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose, Los Angeles and Portland, Or. The visitors leave for home Monday.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Some days ago a boy named Alfred Connel sought to sell the police a nearly-new Dayton bicycle, showing a bill of sale for it. Later he sold it to a second-hand man and went to San Diego. This morning the wheel was listed in a Los Angeles police bulletin as stolen. It was recovered and an effort will be made to locate young Connel.

Russell Naye, aged 14, attempting to alight from a moving Pacific Electric car on Ocean avenue, was thrown to the cement pavement and badly cut, bruised and shaken up, though no bones were broken.

The basketball team of the Harvard School faculty came down from Los Angeles last night, and in a lively contest defeated the Y.M.C.A. business men by a score of 28 to 21.

Overhead Irrigation System Is Being Installed on Ranch Near Covina—Short News Stories.

COVINA, Dec. 8.—An overhead irrigating system, something after the method employed on some ranches in the Porterville district, but having incorporated also a number of his own ideas, is being installed for David Overholtzer on his navel and Valencia orange orchard fronting on Badillo street. It is the first to be installed in Covina, and the first to be tried of its kind in Southern California. It does away entirely with the concrete lateral system and the system of irrigating in furrows or in basins.

The Overholtzer grove is one of the largest in its growth of trees in the district. The trees have become so large that each year finds the problem of irrigation and cultivation under the old system, just a little more difficult, and, although the owner has made no such statement, the time is rapidly arriving when ordinary systems of cultivation will be abandoned for that of mulching and the growing of vetch and other cover crops. The overhead system is one of the steps being taken toward handling a mature grove in the most modern and practicable way.

The First Baptist Church held its annual meeting Friday evening, with 200 members and guests present. The meeting was presided over by W. Q. Custer. The principal feature of the evening was the big supper which the ladies prepared.

Covina High School defeated El Monte at debating at the auditorium Friday night, the subject being the practicability of the commission form of government. Covina had the negative. Judge Willis of the Los Angeles county superior bench gave the decision.

Chief Engineer Joyner of the county "good roads" system has announced that the county will lay down Lark Ellen street in macadam rock and oil. The county will supply the material, and the property owners have agreed to pay for the labor, which amounts to about $300 for every ten acres. The distance to be improved is about two miles.

Twenty-seven Hundred Corporations Fail to Pay Annual License Tax When Due.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 7.—Secretary of State Jordan today announced that 2700 corporations had forfeited their charters December 1 for failure to pay the annual corporation license tax. A majority of these concerns were organized loosely and had never been placed on a permanent basis.

PASSES PEACEFULLY AWAY.

Tri-city Commission After Starting a Movement That Resulted in a Combination of Twenty Cities Retires.

SOUTH PASADENA, Dec. 7.—The Tri-city Commission met last evening. Those present were T. P. Lukens, Arthur Noble and E. Root of Pasadena; Dr. C. P. Waring of Alhambra, William Hazlett and John D. Reavis of South Pasadena.

Mr. Reavis, who presided, presented a report covering the year's work of the commission, in which he showed how it had been formed to take up the construction of a sewer to the sea for the three cities, Alhambra, Pasadena and South Pasadena, and how the Trunkline Outfall Sewer Commission was evoluted from this idea, with a membership of seventeen cities and definite plans completed for a sewer that will cost over $2,500,000. Reavis explained that all the Intercity ideas in the San Gabriel Valley had originated in the Tri-city Commission and this organization was the nucleus from which had grown the San Gabriel Valley Intercity Commission.

Into this latter organization the work of the Tri-city Commission has been merged, and it was decided at the meeting to dissolve the smaller commission, pay all bills and wind up its affairs.

REORGANIZE CONCERN.

At a meeting of the stockholders of Growers Home Canning Company, a transfer of the plant and business was made to the Growers Home Canneries Company, recently incorporated in the sum of $1,000,000. The new concern will soon erect an entirely new canning and preserving plant in Los Angeles. The stockholders elected the following board of directors to serve until the next annual meeting: E. B. Rivers, R. J. Morrell, C. S. Albright, H. E. Houk, A. T. Patterson, M. D. Bates and J. L. Stevenson. At a directors' meeting held subsequently the following officers were elected: President, E. B. Rivers; vice-president, H. E. Houk; secretary, J. L. Stevenson; manager, M. D. Bates. It is the intention of the new company to close out the goods as soon as possible, in order to start the new plant in time for the coming season's work, removing such portions of the old plant to the new, as may be available.

There was not a dull moment in the evening of short plays given in the High School auditorium last evening under the auspices of the Women's Improvement Association, for the benefit of the clubhouse fund. Miss Virginia Rowell of Huntington Hall, who was the coach, had drilled her performers well and fine actors and actresses were developed from local amateurs.

The first play given, "The Piper's Pay," was of society problems, and the scene opened just after a fashionable afternoon reception. Mrs. Hereford-Carr (Mrs. William Cochrane) dominated and played her part with all the necessary poise and hauteur. Mrs. John Monohan as Mary Clark, the detective, and Mrs. W. W. Huntington, as Evelyn Evans, the newspaper reporter, were clever bits of work. Others in the cast were Miss Bessie Gardner, Miss Dolphine Fort, two young matrons; Miss Mae Foster, as Miss Freda Dixon, and Mrs. S. E. Burke, as Katie, the maid.

Mrs. H. E. Allen, in the title role in "Nance Oldfield," the second play of the evening, scored a decided hit as the famous Drury Lane actress. Seward C. Simons, who plays the opposite character of Nathan Aldworthy, played the part of an old man to perfection. Others in the cast were Dr. Maurice Crow, a poet, and son of Oldworthy, Miss Dorothy Foster, who took the part of Susan, the sister of Nance Oldfield, and H. E. Allen as Robert, the butler.

Mrs. Ada Longley in the third play of the evening, "The Real Thing," did some clever character work in her role on the Irish "culinary artist." The play was a take-off on the present day employment offices, and the scene was laid in Maginnis Employers Bureau. Others in the cast were Mrs. Walton Wood, Mrs. Walter Clements, Mrs. Mary Stringfellow, Mrs. B. F. Huntington, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Bush and Dudley Robinson.

CITIZENS HOLD MEETING.

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 7.—At a meeting with citizens this afternoon to discuss the water situation here Mayor Dow announced that he assented to the proposal to hire Engineers Cody and Quinton to make an exhaustive research into the water situation in the vicinity of this city at a salary of $250 per month. Mayor Dow, who favored, heretofore, the buying of Owens River water and the building of a municipal system for distribution, has formerly withheld his approval of the plan. Melvin Bunker, C. A. Hile and E. H. Sweetser represented the Chamber of Commerce at the meeting, and W. J. Stadelman, J. H. McCall and E. Lillingston the Greater Santa Monica Club. The men grew serious over the urgent need of Santa Monica in the matter of both fresh and salt water systems.

Tuesday evening a mass meeting will be held in the City Hall to determine the temper of the citizens regarding the proposed new charter. If only a small gathering is the result, the plan to have the new commission form of government here will be abandoned. The call is signed by a committee of thirty progressive citizens.

Defeats Folger and Walker in Great Sprinting Battle—Latter Captures One-Mile Professional.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Frank Kramer, the world's greatest short-distance bicycle rider, retained his title at Madison Square Garden tonight when he won the one-mile world's indoor championship. He defeated Joe Folger of Brooklyn and Gordon Walker of Australia. Kramer's time was 2m. 27s.

Eddie Root of Boston defeated Percy Lawrence of Salt Lake City in straight heats in their one-mile race.

Lloyd Thomas of Salt Lake City captured the one-mile professional handicap. He was in receipt of forty yards' handicap and defeated a big field of riders in sensational style.

Gordon Walker, the Australian, though beaten in the indoor championship, rode a wonderful race to victory in the ten-mile professional open.

The card was wound up with a ten-mile motor paced race between Bobby Walthour of Atlanta, Ga., and Elmer Collins of Lynn, Mass. Walthour gave up the fight after the eighth mile. His time was 16m. 5s.

WANT HIGHER PRICE FOR OIL.

OFFERS TURNED DOWN BY LOW-GRAVITY PRODUCERS.

Big Operator Says He Can Report on Better Proposition Within Ten Days and that Opening of Panama Canal Warrants Asking for Higher Price.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] General optimism prevailed today at the meeting of the producers of low-gravity oil who gathered to discuss means of disposing of their product which the Standard Oil Company some time ago refused to continue to take. Although many or most of the companies would have renewed their contracts with the Standard at the former price of 30 cents, the meeting today refused offers from the General Petroleum and the Independent Agency, both of which were based on a price of 35 cents for the next two years.

Representatives of twenty-three companies entered into an organization to last for sixty days for the purpose of marketing their oil jointly and a committee, consisting of H. A. Jastro, I. Benson Wrenn, L. P. Guiberson, T. M. Young and C. A. Barlow, was appointed to receive offers for the entire quantity, which is approximately 10,000 barrels per day. The committee hopes to report within ten days.

Col. Timothy Spellacy, one of the producers affected, stated his belief that within ten days he could report an offer of 40 cents per barrel for the first year. He said the purchasers he had in view might want to tie the oil up for the second year at 50 cents, and possibly would want to make sure of it for the third year at 60 cents. He hoped, however, to get an offer for the one year only at 40 cents as he believed that a year hence oil will be worth much more than 50 cents.

During an adjournment for lunch a committee waited on L. P. St. Clair, W. L. Stewart and H. H. Welsh of the Agency, and suggested a modification of that organization's offer. St. Clair and Stewart, however, were able to offer no better terms off-hand.

Col. Spellacy declared that conditions are more favorable to the producers now than they were at the time that St. Clair succeeded in jumping the price of Agency oil sold to the Associated from 30 cents to 60 cents.

"Eastern concerns," he said, "are now seeking 10,000,000 barrels of oil to store for the use of steamships when the Panama Canal is opened. Despite all the talk of restricting production during the past two years, all the big marketing concerns have been bouncing the drills as vigorously as possible and they have not been able to maintain their production." Spellacy argued strongly against considering any offer for less than 40 cents for the first year and more thereafter.

The following were the companies having representatives at the meeting, and included in the sixty-day organization under the name of the Oil Producers' Marketing Association: Alberta Midway, by W. W. Colm; Midway Peerless, by R. H. Henderson; Combined, by Harry W. Thomas; G. F. Manley, by Rufus G. Smith; John T. McGinn, R. H. Henderson; Elk Horn, by R. E. Graham; Traders, by J. Benson Wrenn; T. W. Carbo, W. T. and M. and M. G. and P., by T. A. Wright; Dominion, by W. M. Corsett; Paraffine, by T. H. Minor; Rico, by T. H. Minor; the Indian and Colonial Development Company, by L. P. Guiberson; Mascot and Cresceus by Timothy Spellacy; Stockton Midway, by B. F. Walker; Millie Francis by R. E. Graham; Boston Petroleum by W. R. Wardner; B. R. C., by C. A. Barlow, and Wilbert, by H. A. Jastro.

TAFT'S CHRISTMAS GIFT.

Promises Congressman Berger to Commute Sentence of Private Who Drank and Lied.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—President Taft today made his Christmas gift. He promised Representative Berger of Milwaukee to commute the sentence of two years' imprisonment imposed on Herald A. Otey, a private in the 136th Co., Coast Artillery, to expire Christmas morning. According to Berger, Otey was sentenced to one year for drinking and another because he lied when he was on trial.

"I suggested to the President that he let Otey out on Christmas Day and he agreed to make Otey's freedom a Christmas present," said Mr. Berger.

Get Rid of Drink and Drug Habit

Men Who Have Become Regular Drinkers and Drug Addicts Should Take The Neal Treatment.

If you drink or use drugs, and cannot stop at once, and never take another drink, or grain of drug, you should go to the Neal Institute, and take the Neal Drink and Drug Habit Treatment, which is a harmless, vegetable remedy that will quickly and safely remove all craving and necessity for false stimulants and narcotic drugs, without the use of painful, dangerous hypodermic injections.

Fifty-four Neal Institutes in the principal cities of the United States, Canada and Australia are annually redeeming thousands of drink and drug poisoned men and women, and restoring them to useful, happy lives. You, also, can be redeemed and should not postpone taking treatment until it is too late to be restored to your normal life.

Dr. Neal, originator of the Neal Drink and Drug Habit Treatment, will spend the winter at the Los Angeles Neal Institute, 945 South Olive street, and will be pleased to give full information to all who are interested for themselves, relatives or friends. AT PERRIS IRRIGATED FARMS

Where the Crystal Waters Dress the Fertile Fields in Green Alfalfa.

$150 an Acre---Water Rights Free

WHETHER your means be much or little, these farms will make you more. Water is water, wherever you find it, but you cannot always find it abundantly.

You do not need to be an expert judge of soil to appreciate the dormant wealth of Perris Valley, under irrigation. You only have to look about you and see the successes of others, to realize the importance of the opportunity confronting you there.

The Great Standard Crop of the West Is Alfalfa

It thrives always, but flourishes with abundant water. It requires no reseeding for several years. No blights injure it. No frosts destroy it. Its crops are unfailing. The warmer it gets the faster it grows. The market for it is always hungry. The prices are always good, but it may be baled and kept indefinitely for the season of highest prices. From seeding to cutting, one man can care for it.

No Man Ever Left an Alfalfa Crop on the Ground Because It Would Not Pay to Cut It—Think of That!

An additional advantage of the Perris Irrigated Farms, is the fact that the land is so rich and deep and fertile, that fruits and farm products thrive equally well. You can not only secure independence on your alfalfa farm, but develop your family or commercial orchard, your garden and your flowers, and improve your home surroundings, in a locality where every prospect is pleasing, and the ground under your feet growing more valuable every day you live.

It is only eighteen miles from Riverside, and only 2½ hours ride from Los Angeles. The town of Perris is close by. The Santa Fe has a station on the land.

We Are Going to Make a Special Trip Next Wednesday—Go With Us

You can go and come in a day. Remember that you can buy these farms in 20 to 80-acre tracts at $150 an acre and that water rights are free. Four years' time, with small payment down. This is a rare opportunity to get real soil and real water so close to Los Angeles at such little prices and on such easy terms.

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 7.—For the boosting of the northern route of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway from this city to Needles and by way of the Grand Canyon, the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce will issue an invitation to the leaders of the movement in Barstow, Needles, King- Williams, Flagstaff and other towns on the route to a banquet in this city in the near future. The event will come as the finish of a trip to be made by automobile by a large number of the good roads enthusiasts of those communities over the route of the proposed highway to San Bernardino. A large delegation of San Bernardino men in machines will go out as far as Barstow or Daggett to meet the incoming party and escort them to this city.

The invitation is to be issued by President M. C. McKenney of the Chamber of Commerce, while R. E. who also is taking a leading part in the movement at this end of the line. There is already an excellent road over the entire route which contains wonderful scenic qualities and gives a direct road via the Foothill boulevard and the State highway into Los Angeles from the Grand Canyon.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE.

An advisory committee of thirty has been named by Vice-President C. M. Grow of the Chamber of Commerce to assist in the selection of sites for the proposed City Hall and also in boosting the bond issue for the erection of the building. The action was taken at the request of Mayor J. S. Bright and the City Council, with the object of uniting all interests of the city behind the project. The committee includes Baylis, W. W. Brison, Byron E. D. Roberts, E. E. Katz, Wall, B. F. Bledsoe, John An- F. F. Oster, W. M. Parker, Swing, R. C. Harbison, A. M. F. G. Stickney, Joseph Inger- R. F. Garner, Herman Harris, Drew, C. W. GIRL PREVENTS BLAZE.

Telephone Operator, by of Mind and Courage, Disaster.

Dec. 7.—The presence of Miss Hazel Lemon, night for the Sunset Telephone saved one of the blocks from being destroyed this morning. At 2 Lemon noticed the reflection of a light at the rear of the and thought it was the flash lantern, who was seeking by the rear door. When into a rear room she saw the top of the wall. With the heavy wind that was blowing there was no time to be lost in putting the blaze out. She turned the red light, a signal that something is wrong. This brought two nightwatchmen, who discovered that the blaze started from the stove pipe where it entered the wall.

The fire was apparently extinguished by chemicals and the crowd which had gathered left and Miss Lemon was alone again in the building. At 3 o'clock the blaze started once more, but with the aid of the nightwatchman, who succeeded in climbing to the ceiling by means of a ladder and a table, the fire was again extinguished. To add to the excitement at 3 o'clock this morning, Miss Lemon was without a light, and the room was in total darkness, as the wind had blown down the electric light wire. She used matches to see the switchboard as the numbers were turned in. Miss Lemon refuses to have a gun handy, as she says she is not timid, with the telephone service at her command.

END OF GREAT RANCHES.

Famous Tracts Near Santa Barbara Are Being Cut Into Small Homes for Modest Purchasers.

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 7.—Predictions a year ago that many of the big ranches in Santa Barbara county would soon be subdivided and placed on the market thereby allowing development of the rural district have been realized and financial interests claim that the county now is on the verge of its most prosperous era. Among the big ranches to change hands of late was the Ellwood Cooper property of 2000 acres, only twelve miles from Santa Barbara city. This was purchased by J. M. Crichton of Pasadena. It is said he paid $200,000 for the ranch. In addition it was learned yesterday that Mr. Crichton had bought 137 acres from E. A. Robinson and twenty-seven acres from the Santa Barbara Savings and Loan Company. The purchaser will make a number of improvements to the ranch.

FALLS OVER CLIFF.

Falling over a cliff near La Mesa, Mrs. Daniel Pena suffered a fracture of both bones of the right leg and being quite a distance from the city was compelled to lie on the beach in great pain for an hour, when assistance arrived. Mrs. Pena had been walking along the cliff with her daughter when she ventured too close to the edge and slipped over the bank. She was removed to the St. Francis Hospital where the fractures were reduced.

WORK BEGUN.

Actual work was started yesterday on the new Federal building to be erected at a cost of upwards of $100,000 at the corner of State and Anapamu streets. Excavation for the massive foundation was begun and it is announced that the contractor has agreed to have this feature of the work completed in sixty days. The fact that Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh included $10,000 in the appropriations submitted to Congress to be added to the $110,000 already provided for the local postoffice, gives promise of the city being able to have just the kind of a Federal building it planned. The original appropriation was too small to allow a number of essential features.

NEWS BRIEFS.

A bill presented by Engineer Mayberry of Los Angeles to the City Council for plans which he submitted for the erection of a bridge on lower State street will not be paid unless the city is compelled to do so through the courts. Mayor Boseke yesterday refused to sign the warrant notwithstanding the Council had approved the bill. The Mayor took the stand that Mayberry had simply proposed to the Council that he had a better plan for the bridge than that submitted by the City Engineer and when the Council told him it would be glad to inspect it, there was no intention of paying anything for the plans unless accepted. They were not approved and the Mayor contends that is all there is to the matter.

A. S. Cooper, former State Mineralogist, has informed the County Commissioners that he has a patent on the asphalt grinder used in preparing material for paving in the county and that he expects to push his claim for a royalty. The commissioners have not decided what course to take but it was stated yesterday that the proposed action will be stubbornly resisted. It is said the patent was received by Cooper in 1887 and the commissioners want to find out whether it has not expired by the patent law.

LOSS WAS FIFTY THOUSAND.

Upland Fire Rages Unchecked Until Half a Dozen Business Houses Burn—Want Modern Apparatus.

UPLAND, Dec. 7.—The fire which seriously threatened to destroy a good share of the business section last night, happily was checked with but the loss of some half a dozen business houses. The combined losses aggregate a bit less than $50,000, as reported.

The high winds prevailing at the time of the fire constituted one of the most serious menaces, but fortunately the wind lulled for some fifteen minutes, almost at the height of the blaze. The members of the Upland Volunteer Fire Department did herculean work, considering the handicap of meager equipment, and they were glad to witness the arrival of the brothers from Ontario, bringing their modern equipment. Certain it is that all the members of both companies are deserving of commendation for the splendid fight which they put up.

A few of the fire boys were caught in tight places, and some of them are today suffering from the breathing of flames and smoke. Withal, however, there are none of the members of either company seriously injured. Upland business men feel very grateful to the fire boys, both of this city and Ontario, and there is now serious talk of taking steps to secure more adequate protection, in the way of extended main and fireplug service, as well as in the investment of some modern apparatus for the hose boys.

One of the incidents of the fire was the breakage of so much plate glass in windows of stores on the opposite side from the more serious fire. It is said the loss from this source alone will foot up well into the hundreds of

TWO CARDS OF OPERA SINGERS.

Body of Man Found Near Dripping Springs.

Slender Chance of Identity Becoming Known.

Neighbors Resident Disappears; Suicide Feared.

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 7.—The remains of a man, which had lain exposed to the elements for presumably eight months, figured in an inquest held today on the Great Pauba ranch, near Temecula.

The body was found about 100 feet from the road, near Dripping Springs, located on the ranch. There was no evidence of violence, and it is believed the man died from natural causes. Identification was impossible. In the pockets of the clothing were found two cards of opera singers and a note addressed to "Joe," asking him to meet the writer at 951 South Olive street, Los Angeles.

SUICIDE FEARED.

Word received here today from Neighbors, on the Colorado desert, indicates that H. E. Taylor of that place has taken his own life. He disappeared from a camp at Blythe last Saturday. His burro, saddled, was found tied to a tree on Sunday, but nothing has been seen of Taylor. He has been acting strangely for some time, and it is feared he may have drowned himself in the Colorado.

BIG ESTATE ADMINISTERED.

The executor in the estate of the late George N. Reynolds, one of the largest appearing among the probate causes in the Superior Court in this county, was discharged this morning. By the terms of the will, Charles L. Reynolds, sole distributee, receives property valued at more than $100,000, while the widow receives a legacy of $10,000, automobiles, house furnishings, etc. Mrs. Reynolds already owned the home place, and deeds executed by her late husband gave her the Reynolds Hotel property and other holdings amounting to more than $230,000.

STRONG BATTERY SECURED.

Walter Johnson of the Washington American League club has been secured to pitch for Riverside in the game being arranged for Christmas Day with the Henry-Cornett Company team of Los Angeles. With Johnson and Jack Meyers of the New York Giants as a battery, local fans are assured of some real baseball.

DAMAGE NOT SERIOUS.

That the Riverside citrus fruit district suffered less severely than some others as the result of the recent windstorm, and that the damage to fruit will be less than 1 per cent., is the opinion of fruit men who have made a careful inspection of the orchards. On first blush some of the estimates of damage were pretty high. That the first statements placed the loss at too high a figure is a matter for gratification on the part of the growers and shippers.

ADDITIONAL STREET LIGHTS.

San Jacinto Trustees Close Deal with Power Concern to Increase the Lighted Area.

SAN JACINTO, Dec. 7.—At the meeting of the City Trustees this week a proposition was accepted from the Southern Sierras Power Company for additional street lights. Under the new arrangements lights will burn during the entire night, and the lighted district will cover an area several times the size of the present lighted territory. The gas service is also being improved and perfected, and the new owners promise to continue their work until the local system is second to none.

The Los Angeles Construction Company has completed the task of driving piles for the bridge to be built across the San Jacinto River. This week a force of men is employed with the frame work, and it is expected the bridge will be ready for traffic by the middle of the present month.

George H. Gray suffered a broken wrist, as the result of an automobile accident near Pala. His machine skidded, running into an embankment and Gray was thrown forward in such a manner as to break his forearm.

While playing with an air gun Warren Bentley, the small son of L. J. Bentley, shot a finger of his right hand. The bullet embedded itself in the flesh so deeply that a physician was called to extract it.

The San Jacinto High School defeated the Cahuilla Indian team in a hotly-contested ball game. Both teams showed good training, with odds only slightly favoring the home team. The Cahuillas are not satisfied and will be back Christmas Day for another game. So far the San Jacinto High School has defeated every team that has played with them.

JUGGLES BEFORE DEATH.

Santa Ana Man Performs Tricks With Revolver, Then Shoots Himself in Los Angeles Hotel.

After juggling a revolver three-quarters of an hour yesterday afternoon in his room at the Rosslyn Hotel, C. E. Dutton, of Santa Ana, shot himself through the head. The tragedy followed the mystery of the well-to-do insurance man's absence from his home. He disappeared on Wednesday.

Ed Chase, a guest at the hotel, looked across the court into Dutton's room yesterday and saw the man performing exciting juggelry with a revolver. He twirled it back and forth around his hand, tossed it in the air, catching it with his little finger, kept it revolving around his fingers while his hand circled his neck, and did numerous feats with the weapon. Dutton was a clever amateur performer in skillful feats with his hands, and according to Chase seemed to take the greatest pride in the dexterity with which he handled the gun.

Chase wearied of the performance before Dutton committed suicide. The report of the revolver brought the attaches of the hotel, and the body was taken to the Peck and Chase mortuary after the Coroner was notified. Dutton's widow and mother live in Santa Ana. He was about 45 years old.

Smoke of Battle.

NON-PARTISIAN WOMEN'S LEAGUE HEAD RESIGNS.

THE smoke of battle—though the election is over—has not yet cleared from the local field of woman's politics, a fact that was bitterly emphasized yesterday afternoon in the resignation of Mrs. George A. Barry as president of the Southern California Civic League, an organization entirely non-partisan and boasting a membership of more than 3500 women.

Ostensibly Mrs. Barry resigned in order to have all her time to devote to her successful journal, the Woman's Bulletin, but in reality she withdrew as the capable executive head of a well-balanced and valuable association of women in order to divorce it as compeltely from all personal and business interests as the women divorced it from political motives and party affiliations when they stirred up a hornets' nest among the Roosevelt women of the city last July by changing its name from Progressive to Civic League.

The day on which this name was changed, and on which Mrs. Barry was elected president, was the beginning of a stubborn fight on Mrs. Barry, which culminated yesterday in her withdrawal from the office in order to free the league from any identity with the periodical which she edits. Nor was Mrs. Barry alone in bearing the brunt of this battle of gossip. Mrs. Oliver P. Clark, as president of the Woman's City Club, and Mrs. D. C. McCan, active in both organizations, president of the Friday Morning Club, and member of the Civil Service Commission, each came in for a generous share of the Progressive partisan rebuke.

It happened that the invitations to the Women's City Club picnic to candidates last August and the invitation to candidates to put their pictures in the Woman's Bulletin at so much per were placed in the same envelope. This was done, the women said, to save the time of making two sets of addressed envelopes. At a meeting of the Woman's City Club held a few days later this was made the subject of a red-hot attack by Mrs. A. S. Lobinger, Miss Lloy Galpin, Mrs. Cora Lewis and others. The fight thus started was never dropped. Among others accounted as enlisted in it were Mrs. O. C. Bryant and Mrs. Frank Gibson of the Progressive wing of the political factionalism. Mrs. Barry was herself a Progressive, but maintained that the Civic League should keep out of politics and it did. On her board were three other Progressives, two Democrats and a Taft woman.

The league's first vice-president is Mrs. Seward Simons, a Taft woman, who would probably have supported La Follette had he been the Progressive candidate, but who could not stand for Roosevelt. Mrs. Simons would seem the logical successor of Mrs. Barry as president of the Civic League, and could probably harmonize all factions, provided any of the disgruntled Progressives care to come back. She is a wonderful organizer and a tireless worker. The board also has other excellent presidential timber in Mrs. Josephine Abramson, Mrs. C. F. Edson, Mrs. W. H. Houser and Mrs. Frank Scherfee. Mrs. McCan is, of course, out of the running and will have to retire from the board because of her duties on the Civil Service Commission. Mrs. Josephine Abramson, the newest member of the board, and a strong favorite in many quarters for president, is a Democrat in politics, but up to the minute in civic ideals.

I CURE

PILES

FISTULA AND ALL RECTAL DISEASES WITHOUT AN OPERATION

BY MY PAINLESS DISSOLVENT METHOD

I Guarantee to Cure Every Case I Accept for Treatment

For twenty-five years I have been curing diseases of the rectum and lower bowel. During that time my experience as hospital and railroad surgeon, as college lecturer and professor has enabled me to develop a method that is superior to all others. I cure without surgery and my patients are never confined in bed and never lose a moment's time from their business.

With my method I absorb pile tumors by medication, applied (or driven in) by a mild electric current. The piles are absorbed in a few treatments, leaving the rectum in a healthy, normal condition. There is no danger, no bad after effects and no pain or soreness.

My method is not a "home cure" or a "correspondence treatment," but it is an application of skilled treatments administered by me in my office.

If you are a sufferer from rectal trouble, I invite you to investigate my method thoroughly by talking or writing to any of my cured patients. If you will call at my office I will be pleased to give you the names and addresses of many well-known Los Angeles people I have cured, whom you may interview in regard to my treatment.

I Treat No Diseases Except Those of the Rectum and Bowels

REV. EDWARD BROOKS CURED

My Dear Mr. White: I wish to express to you again my heartfelt appreciation for what you have done for me. After suffering for years with the worst form of hemorrhoids YOU HAVE CURED ME COMPLETELY, and during the treatment I did not turn aside from my usual work. I therefore commend you and your method to all sufferers from rectal disorders. Very gratefully yours,
REV. EDWARD H. BROOKS (Baptist Minister,) 2812 Menlo ave., Los Angeles, Cal.

REV. D. N BURTON CURED

This is to certify that Dr. White cured me without pain of piles, hemorrhage and ulceration of the rectum. Before going to him I was a semi-invalid, hardly able to get about. Since taking his treatment I have not missed a single Sunday from being in my pulpit. It is one year since he cured me, and I have not had the slightest return of the trouble. I recommend him to all and will gladly write to any sufferer who is in doubt and tell them what Dr. White did for me.
REV. D. N. BURTON, Pastor First Christian Church, Collinsville, Ohio.

MR. D. R THAYER CURED

After suffering twenty years, Dr. C. H. White cured me of prolapsus and ulceration of the rectum. I know of many Los Angeles people he has cured and I will be glad to talk or correspond with any one needing treatment.

The Most Wonderful Gift of All!!
Mr. Edison's Motion Picture Marvel—
The HOME KINETOSCOPE

This is not a toy, but a practical, well built machine that does everything that the professional models do, but on a smaller scale. Just imagine the splendid educational and amusement advantages the Edison Home Kinetoscope and Steropticon will bring to your children and yourself. With a Kinetoscope in your home you can give the youngsters just the kind of amusement they get in the moving picture theaters—BUT you will choose the pictures they see at all times, and the kiddies are constantly under your eye while they are enjoying themselves. Films are exchangeable at small cost.

The price of the Edison Home Kinetoscope is well under $100—therefore it is a gift that you can consider. Come to the store tomorrow afternoon between four and six o'clock and see the Home Kinetoscope at work.

Have You Made Any Money

in the Venice Short Line-Washington boulevard property? Been out that way lately? Noticed the many new subdivisions?

Would YOU be interested in a new, high-class residence district, where lots are ACRE lots, cement walks and curbs, streets paved with crushed rock (not just oiled roads,) wide parkings, planted with big palms, gas, water and electricity, not "coming" but there.

This tract was bought by the present owners before Short Line Acreage jumped to its present value.

THAT'S WHY we can sell these big lots for less than is asked for adjoining unimproved acreage.

THAT'S WHY we assert that PALM PLACE LOTS are the best investment on the Venice Short Line, as well as the most desirable from a residence standpoint. Easy terms, 6 per cent. on deferred payments.

Find Out Your Disease Free This Week

DR. A. J. SHORES

DR. G. W. SHORES

A Thorough Free Medical Examination

EVERY sick person is vitally interested in knowing the exact nature of their disease, and the probabilities of a permanent cure. It is presumed that if you are sick you are taking medical treatment. Does your doctor tell you frankly what your trouble is, or does he evade your questions? Does he know how to treat your trouble and give you relief? Or does he experiment with first one thing then another? Are you getting results from his treatment, or do you stay the same or get worse? Answer these questions for yourself—look at the matter in a strictly business light. You are paying for a cure; but what are you getting for the money? Make no mistake.

If you want to know all about your trouble—what it is, if and how it can be cured and what it will cost—DRS. SHORES offer a FREE medical examination and FREE ADVICE to all who apply THIS WEEK. Prices low and payments easy. Call today.

We Treat All Chronic Diseases

Drs. Shores not only treat Catarrh, but they treat Nervous Diseases, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Bladder Troubles, Heart Diseases, Rectal Diseases, Chronic Diseases of Women and Children, Nervous Debility, Skin and Blood Diseases, Asthma, Consumption, Chronic Bronchial and Lung Trouble, Sciatica, Rheumatism, Hay Fever, Neuralgia, Hysteria, Deafness, Ear Diseases, Goitre, Epilepsy, La Grippe, Varicose Veins and all forms of Nervous, Chronic and Private Diseases that are curable. Call or write—advice free.

Catarrh, Deafness and Ear Noises

Why not try the treatment that cures? We have published many testimonials from well-known and reliable people who have been cured of Catarrh, Asthma, Deafness and Ear Noises. If you suffer from any Chronic Ailments, why not come and see the Doctors who cure?

Asthma

No one but an Asthmatic can appreciate the terrible distress of this disease. Gasping, smothering, panting for breath—suffocating feeling, sitting up in bed all night, are but a few of the terrible torments of an Asthmatic sufferer. If you are an Asthma victim, let not another day pass until you try our wonderful treatment—which gives almost immediate relief and lasting benefits. Terms are very low and consultation free.

KIDNEY

Troubles, Pain in the Back, Burning or Smarting when urinating, Puffiness under the Eyes. Heed these warnings. Bring a sample of urine and have it tested free.

ECZEMA

This affliction often baffles the skill of the regular doctor—and tries the patience of the specialists—but our methods have proven successful in so many cases that no matter who has failed to cure you, it is worth your time to consult us. We show you charts and explain our method of treatment free of charge.

DRS. SHORES, Specialists

Drs. Shores have spent many years in the study and treatment of Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases of Men, Women and Children. They have treated over 100,000 cases in the past 20 years, an experience rarely ever granted any specialists, and have gleaned therefrom information that is invaluable to sick people. They would not attempt to treat Scarlet Fever or Diphtheria at any price, not because they don't know how, but because they have not given it the thought and constant study that other doctors have, and, in short, it is not in their line of specialties. Every moment is given to studying CHRONIC and NERVOUS DISEASES. There is where they excel and there is where they can serve you better than most anyone else. Don't be a permanent invalid.

They know what causes Catarrh. They know how to cure it. They know what causes Stomach Trouble. They know how to CURE it, instead of merely relieving it. They have studied the Liver, the Kidneys, the Ears, the Throat and the Lungs, and they know what to do for these troubles. If you are a chronic disease sufferer and want the best treatment, YOU CAN DEPEND ON DRS. SHORES & SHORES. They are each regular graduates and are duly licensed by the California Medical Board to practice medicine and surgery, and are strictly reliable. They will tell you honestly IF and HOW you can be cured, and exactly what it will cost, and if your case is curable they will cure you to stay cured. Write if you can't call. Advice free.

WOMEN: Weak, tired-out, sickly women, suffering from the ills peculiar to the sex, find Drs. Shores' Treatment prompt and wonderful in results. Get busy and get well.

STOCK LETTER.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury Bldg., Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The bank statement issued after close today in the exhibit as to actual conditions, denoted an improvement in the money position. The substantial reduction in loans was doubtless a reflection of the recent heavy liquidation. The cash loss was only nominal and that item will doubtless be amplified by the expected receipts of the new gold secured in London early in the week. The action of foreign exchange is somewhat suggestive of the further efforts on the part of New York bankers to secure additional supplies of yellow metal, especially as the political news from the other side during past few days has been somewhat more reassuring. While the position of the stock market has been greatly improved by recent selling, elimination of weak accounts and expansion of the short interest, still there has not as yet appeared any distinct sign of a pronounced revival in the investment inquiry which has long been a barrier to constructive hopes. It appears most essential that investors should take hold of corporate issues on an increased scale, owing to the amount of new financing which will have to be conducted during the first quarter and the remainder of 1913. Hysteria has been primarily responsible for much of the recent weakness, for which reason it is believed that there is little warrant for pressing the selling side on the breaks. But at the same time the maintaining of a conservative attitude when buying is advisable, particularly in so far as the industrials are concerned, as they will doubtless be called upon to bear the brunt of fears, hesitancy and pressure incident to discussion and actual revision of tariff schedules during next few months.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Although egg receipts were heavier than usual yesterday—140 cases—there was no decline in prices. Some dealers assert that the heavier receipts on some days recently have been caused to some extent by the recording of the incoming storage product from the Petaluma-Santa Rosa district. The egg market has apparently steadied down somewhat after the recent declines.

Butter receipts were light—17,128 pounds—and the market, as usual, was firm. Cheese receipts were 200 pounds, and there were no changes.

Changes in the vegetable and fruit markets were of minor importance. No apples were reported in, and receipts of potatoes were 3525 sacks, and sweet potatoes 68 sacks. The demand for celery and lettuce was good, and tomatoes were selling as high as 70 cents a box.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

Union Provident Exhibits Tendency Toward Strength, Advancing Eighth of a Point—Union Oil Weak.

Union Provident was strong again yesterday, opening at $106.87½, and advancing an eighth of a point. Closing quotations were $106.87½ bid at $107.12½. Union was weaker but was not traded to any extent. Amalgamated sold off a quarter of a point from Friday's close. National Pacific was stronger, selling at 02½. United Oil was weak, changing hands at 34¾. Four hundred shares of Los Angeles Investment stock were traded at $3.93. Olinda Land sales off-board at 39 were reported. The volume of business was light until about the close of the session, which lasted until 12:15 o'clock.

SAN FRANCISCO EXCHANGE.

Big Decline in Belmont Yesterday. Goldfield Consolidated and Merger Gained a Few Points.

[Special service to The Times by B. F. Taylor, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—Goldfield stocks were quiet, but Consolidated improved five points and Merger was up one. Manhattan stocks were unchanged. Belmont was 17½ points weaker for no apparent reason. Merger was up a point. Montana was offered at 1⅞. Nevada Hills made a 2½-point gain and Round Mountain was up 1. The Comstocks were very quiet.

New York Cotton Market.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Cotton was quiet and steady today with a great deal of evening up on both sides of the account in preparing for the government report Monday at the opening. Traders generally appear to be looking for a report around 11,510,000 to 11,800,000 bales,—or considerably less than forecasted by the National Ginners' Association. Last year 12,816,807 bales were reported ginned to December 1, as against 10,139,712 in 1910 and 11,080,661 in the previous 14,000,000 bale crop year of 1908. The average amount of cotton ginned after December 1 for the last five years, not including linters, has been 2,010,000 bales. Last year 2,737,000 bales were ginned after December 1, against 1,329,000 in 1910 and 2,178,000 in 1909. A very nervous market is expected generally during the coming week, due to the desire of everyone to even up before the government report, due on December 12. Following is range of quotations:

California Realty Corporation Pays a Dividend Dec. 15th

Right Now Is The Time to Buy a Block of This Stock

Join us now—this week—and get the benefit of our earnings for the past three months—that's a pretty liberal proposition—isn't it? And remember—when you put your money into California Realty Corporation stock, every dollar goes into the soundest security in the world—gilt-edge Los Angeles real estate. Here's a point we want to drive home and copper rivet, Mr. Investor, a big proportion of the earnings of this corporation is going right back into the business—buying more real estate, building apartment-houses, sub-dividing tracts, etc. We're building a 60-room apartment-house on our own lot, corner Ottawa and Georgia streets—it's already leased for $40,000 per year—we're handling five of our own subdivisions—have 20 bungalows under course of construction—and we've handled over a million and a half dollars worth of property through our Brokerage Department in the past twelve months.

When You Buy This Stock at Today's Price---$1.25 Per Share

You're Actually Receiving Over $1.50 Worth of Sound Real Estate

A strong claim to make, but one that our books will prove. Plainly the price of this stock must soon advance—buy now—there's a good, straight pointer. That you'll see it quoted at $3.00 per share before a twelfth-month passes, and worth it too, is a conservative prediction. But come in Monday—go over our books—balance sheet—lists of assets, etc., that will tell you the whole story. You'll find that some of our investments are earning over 30% per annum and steadily increasing in value. Easy terms if you want them.

RALLY CHECKS MARKET CRISIS.

WALL STREET RECOVERS FROM MERGER DECISION.

Clearinghouse Banks and Trust Companies Wipe Out Deficit Reported Last Week and Show a Surplus of Thirty Million Dollars. Decrease in Loans and Deposits.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—While it is yet to be shown whether the stock market has recovered its poise, the heavy selling movement for the time being at least has been arrested, and fluctuations today were comparatively unimportant. The rally which followed yesterday's severe break marked the crisis in the week's movement for there was no recurrence today of the persistent pressure which unsettled the list on previous days. To what extent the improvements in the market tone represented the passing of the week's disturbing influences as market factors was a matters of conjecture. The market, however, has plainly recovered from the first effects of the Harriman merger decision and the urgent liquidation of specialties apparently has run its course. After an irregular opening, stocks gained slowly. A break of 2½ points in American Beet Sugar and 5 points in Texas company affected the general list adversely and encouraged bear traders to renew operations. The list sold off easily, but the movement was limited and net changes for the day were small.

The clearinghouse banks and trust companies made their expected favorable return, showing that the deficit reported last week had been wiped out, a surplus of $30,000,000 appearing in the actual table. There was a decrease of $42,000,000 in loans and of $40,000,000 in deposits, indicating that out-of-town institutions had assumed part of the burden of loans as they were in a position to do with the call from the controller for a statement of their condition out of the way. The bond market was steady. Total sales, par value, $883,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

New York Curb Stocks.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—There was a better tone to the curb market today. Braden was especially active and strong. Giroux advanced fractionally on moderate trading and Mines of America was in demand at 2⅞. The industrial list was comparatively quiet with a narrow range. The market closed steady. The Boston coppers opened dull, but fractionally higher, continuing dull throughout the session, with many of the low-priced issues not quoted. About 11:30 the market showed a disposition to rally. It closed dull, with recessions from the high. The copper producers' statement for November will be published Monday.

COPPER INDUSTRY.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

There was no London Metal Market yesterday.

A Butte correspondent wires that Sunday work has been resumed at the mines of the Anaconda Company, but the continuance of this depends on the ability of the smelters at Anaconda and Great Falls to care for the ore which is hoisted. During the summer the shutting down of the mines on Sunday and occasional days during the week was due to the fact that the second section of the smelter was undergoing improvements with a view of increasing the capacity. The improvements have been completed and if it is found that the two smelters can care for the ore hoisted, there will not be any rest on Sunday. Of course, some of the mines are closed down for repairs and the installing of the compressed air system, and this condition of affairs will continue during the greater part of next year, for just as soon as one mine is started up another will be closed. According to the amount of ore handled up to the present time the production of the Anaconda Company for this month will be in the vicinity of 25,000,000 pounds.

D. C. Jackling, who has returned from a trip of inspection to the properties under his care in Arizona, will immediately visit the Butte and Superior in Butte. Mr. Jackling occupies the enviable position of being one of the leading mill men of the United States. His ideas have been carefully followed in the remodeling of the Butte and Superior mill. This mill is completed and ready to start operations, as is also the extensive mining equipment enabling the handling of 1500 tons of ore per day. It has been learned that while the re-equipment of the mine and mill has been going on the old section of the mill has been handling about 400 tons of rock per day, largely from the stock pile. The company has shown net profits of about $6 per ton in the handling of this ore.

The following table will give some idea of what has been done and can be expected to be done by the Butte and Superior, and explains in a measure the recent extensive buying of the stock in anticipation:

Tons per day.	Net profit per ton.	Earnings per share per annum.
400	$6	$ 2.50
1000	6	8.00
1500	6	12.00
1000	10	13.35
1500	10	20.00

It is the expectation of the management to be able, ultimately, to treat 1500 tons per day, at a net profit o $10 per ton, and, of course, such a production would show sensational earnings.

The United Verde Extension has been quite a favorite among the low priced stocks the past few months, probably due to the fact that some of the most influential copper men of the country have become interested in the company.

In the past few months, a deal was closed with Mr. James S. Douglas for the control of this property. Mr. Douglas, we understand, is acting in the interests of a syndicate composed of the following: James S. Douglas, identified with Phelps-Dodge interests; Arthur James, director of Phelps-Dodge; John Ryan, president of Amalgamated; Henry Hoveland, director of Inspiration; George Kingdom, superintendent of Old Dominion, and George E. Tener, Chester A. Congdon and James Hoatson, all directors of Calumet and Arizona.

As far as can be learned the above-mentioned gentlemen have taken 50,000 shares of treasury stock at 50 cents and have an option on 400,000 shares more at the same price until June 15, 1915. Mr. Douglas is to receive 150,000 shares for his services in financing the company. United Verde Extension is now capitalized for 1,500,000 shares of a par value of 50 cents, of which 500,000 shares are to remain in the treasury of the company. The property comprises about seventy-five acres in the Jerome, Arizona, district and adjoins Clark's famous United Verde. While development work to date has met with indifferent results, the fact that such strong interests have become connected with it, would indicate that the possibilities were not fully demonstrated by the former management. From the best opinion at hand, it is a worthy prospect, and while it is likely to take a number of months to develop ore of any great extent, it is very possible its shares will show a speculative advance.

Boston Copper Market.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury building, Los Angeles.]

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—In spite of the better feeling at the close last night there was no increase in the volume of buying today and shortly after opening the whole list showed signs of sagging. Local coppers are doing little one way or the other, but the discouraging feature is the fact that nobobdy seems to consider them cheap, regardless of price. The bank statement was better than expected and the necessary surplus has been restored. The copper producers' report will be issued Monday and will probably show 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 pounds increase, due to the small exports the past month.

WHEAT SLIDES A FEW POINTS.

FINE WEATHER FOR HARVEST IN ARGENTINA.

Market on Chicago Board of Trade Easy After a Decline of Half a Cent Net—Trade in Provisions Is Slow, but After Some Loss There Is a Shade Advance.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Wheat slid down today under moderate selling, due mainly to fine weather for the Argentine Harvest. The market closed easy ⅜@½ to ½ under last night. May wheat sold from 90⅞ to 90¼@⅜, with the close at 90⅜, a decline of ½ net. May corn closed at 48¼@⅜. Cash grades were weak. May oats closed at 32¾. Trade in provisions was slow. The close was 7½ lower to a shade advance.

A. L. DENNIS,
Superintendent of Circulation, The Times.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 3d day of December, 1912.

[Seal] T. L. CHAPIN,
Notary Public in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

The Times is the only newspaper in Los Angeles that does not make a practice of permitting agents, newsboys and dealers to return unsold copies of its issues. Neither does it misbrand or predate its editions, or inflate its circulation by printing more copies than are actually necessary to supply its patrons.

The Times' entire circulation is practically net, and it is more genuine and superior in every respect to that of any other newspaper in Southern California.

PIONEER POETRY FROM "THE OUTPOST."

Hollywood, No. 7069 Franklin avenue, November 30, 1912.

My dear—: Your kindly favor is at hand. I am sorry to hear of your indisposition, but I believe that, notwithstanding the handicap of a doctor, your vigorous constitution will cure you in short order. As for myself, the following little squib will show you how I am feeling:

The way to win a life of joy
Is always to remain a boy,
That is, stay young; it can be done.
For instance. I'm near eighty-one,
But still a youth of so much levity,
I snap my fingers at longevity,
Despise pretense and masks and shams,
And ditto human owls and clams,
Prefer what's natural and free
To artificial dignity.

At eighty-one life's sunny rays
Still rival those of earlier days,
For Nature ever looks the same
To all old boys who know the dame;
I cannot dance because rheumatic,
But have, well stored up in my attic,
Enough bright memories of the past
To keep me joyful 'till the last.
Mydebt to Nature, t is true,
Is now a good deal overdue;
But Time, collector, on his trips
Right often some old joker skips,
And leaves him here to waste away
Until he'd rather go than stay.

At present I prefer to stay, and expect to do so for a long while yet.

Yours most cordially,
J. D. LONG.

Manuflections.

THEY "TALK," YET LIPS SPEAK NOT.

WITS FLASH, SMILES SPARKLE, BUT SILENCE REIGNS.

City's Deaf and Dumb Make Merry With Their Fingers While Tongues Hold Their Pease and Ears Slumber—Gallaudet's Birthday Occasion for Banquet.

A unique and interesting banquet in honor of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet was spread at Christopher's last evening. It was replete with good fellowship, where wit scintillated, humor glowed, and flashes of oratory held guests thrall-bound—yet all without a sound! Friends smiled and bowed, greeted one another cheerily, even exchanged bright repartee—yet nobody spoke a word!

The scene was quite all it should have been—well-dressed persons, lights, flowers, flashing silver and sparkling glassware. Yet it was like some enchanted scene where, the guests assembled for joyous talk and laughter, the fairies laid their fingers on the revellers' lips and held them speechless.

Still the guests hailed each other across the eternal silence—for this was a banquet for the deaf and dumb of Los Angeles, and, in honoring the birthday of the man who founded education for the mute in this country, they "spoke" with their hands; and the speeches, instead of being drawled forth with the nasal intonation and indifferent accent, usually employed in such festive gatherings, were flashed forth on facile fingers.

It was all very odd to an outsider—this banquet which was like a thought-transference convention, where one best managed hs dinner conversation with food between his lips, and where one's only aceptable excuse from speech-making was rheumatism in the hands!

The toasts were given as follows: Miss Roy, "Gallaudet's Birthday," touchingly alluding to the passion for the lovely deaf girl which sent him across the seas in fruitful search of aid for the deaf and dumb of his own country; Mrs. Acheson, "Recollections" of the establishment of the first school for the mute at Hartford, Conn.; Miss Schrom, "His Mantle;" Mrs. Terry, "Some Instances of Great Love;" Miss Taylor, "Pastimes;" Mrs. Regensburg forshadowed the deaf and dumb convention at Cleveland, in 1913, and Miss Reeves, a teacher in the Los Angeles city schools, who is not deaf but whose parents are both deaf and dumb and who is as adept with her fingers as with spoken language, touched eloquently on "The Brotherhood of Man."

Mrs. A. M. Andrews was toastmistress and Mesdames Waddell and Dahl and Misses Roy and Duffy composed the committee on arrangements. Conn.; Miss Schrom, "His mantle;"

Is This Man Gifted With Strange Power?

Prominent People Say He Reads Their Lives as an Open Book.

Do You Want to Know About Your Business, Marriage, Changes, Occupation, Friends, Enemies or What to Do to Achieve Success?

TEST READINGS FREE TO ALL LOS ANGELES TIMES READERS WHO WRITE AT ONCE.

Attention of the mystically inclined seems to be centered at present upon the work of Mr. Clay Burton Vance, who, although laying claim to no special gift of supernatural powers, attempts to reveal the lives of people through the slender clues of hand-writing and birth-dates. The undeniable accuracy of his delineations leads one to surmise that heretofore palmists, prophets, astrologers, and seers of divers beliefs have failed to apply the true principles of the science of divination.

Asked to explain the method by which he gives his delineations, Mr. Vance replied: "I have simply resurrected an ancient science and moulded it into a key to human nature."

The following letter is published as evidence of Mr. Vance's ability:

Prof. Dixon, M. A., Director Lanka Observatory, member of the "Societe Astronomique de France," member of the "Astronomische Gesellschaft," Germany, writes: Prof. Clay Burton Vance:

Dear Sir—"I duly received your letter and Complete Life Reading. I am perfectly satisfied with your Reading; it is in nearly all the items as exact as it could possibly be. It seems strange that you should refer to my suffering from throat trouble. I have just had a bad attack and usually have it two or three times per year. I shall certainly recommend you to my friends who desire a Life Reading."

Free test Readings to all readers of The Times will be given, but it is especially requested that those who wish to avail themselves of this generous offer make application at once. If you wish a delineation of your own life, if you wish a true description of your characteristics, talents and opportunities, simply send your full name, the date, month and year of your birth (state whether Mr., Mrs. or Miss.) and also copy the following verse in your own handwriting:

"Your power is marvelous,
So people write.
Please read my life—
Are my prospects bright?

Send your letter to Mr. Clay Burton Vance, Suite 504-F, Palais Royal, Paris, France. If you wish you may enclose 10 cents (stamps of your own country) to pay postage, clerical work, etc. Please note that 5 cents postage is required on letters posted to France. Do not enclose coins or silver in your letter.

WORLD'S GREATEST WORKS TO TURN WHEELS HERE.

Three Hundred Thousand Horse-power Hydro-Electricity in Sight for a Local Company, Which Will Expend Twenty Millions.

TO FURNISH motive power for many hundreds of miles of additional street railway lines in Southern California, the Pacific Light and Power Corporation is bringing hydro-electric power in vast amount from the snow-capped Sierras, 240 miles to Los Angeles. The immediate expenditure exceeds $10,000,000, and the total development contemplated involves twice that amount.

Nearly 3000 men are at work now in the Big Creek region, pouring cement for the great dams, at the rate of 2200 barrels a day. Ten miles of railroad system have been built for construction purposes. This week the first snow-plows on the road will be put in operation, and kept busy until spring, for the fall there averages from twenty to thirty feet.

It was stated yesterday by E. R. Davis, general manager of the company, that progress has been so rapid that the initial installation will be made August 1, next. At that time, 70,000 horse power will be ready for delivery over the new line—almost as much as the present aggregate capacity of the company's hydro-electric and steam plants. Ultimately the Big Creek line will furnish 300,000 horse power, and all construction work has been done with that end in view. When the great work is complete it will furnish power sufficient for street railway lines more than three times as extensive as the present Pacific Electric and Los Angeles systems. It prepares for electric railway growth for many decades.

Because of its stupendous size and spectacular features, the project is attracting world-wide attention from engineers and many have traveled thousands of miles in inspect it. In its entirety it is the biggest development enterprise of the kind ever undertaken.

LONGEST TRANSMISSION.

Covering a little more than 240 miles from its power plants to this city, it will be the longest transmission line in the world. Providing for maximum future needs when the system is complete it will at the outset carry a transmission voltage of 150,000. No other plant in the world equals it in this respect. The nearest is a plant in Jackson, Mich., with a voltage of 130,000 to 140,000. It will have the largest water wheel-driven generators ever constructed—23,500 horse power.

Its principal reservoir with a capacity of 140,000-acre feet, 7000 feet above the level of the sea, will contain so much water that it would require 170 days of maximumflow to empty it. One of the dams composing it will be the biggest in the world, and twice as large as the next largest dam in the country. This da will be more than 200 feet wide at the base and has been sunk thirty feet below the bedrock to get beneath all fissure formations.

The storage area averages about a mile and a half above sea level. Situated in a region of perpetual snows it presents one of the most picturesque views in America, but data on precipitation show it to be one of the best catchment basins in the country. The annual snow and rain fall ranges from eighty-two to 150 inches.

The big reservoir, the fountainhead of the whole system, will be filled by the waters of Big Creek and Pittman Greek, which are being diverted from their regular courses. The initial enterprise, which will be completed next summer, includes a reservoir with a capacity of 102,159-acre feet and requiring three dams of 160 feet, ninety feet and seventy-five feet in height. It will be six miles long, one mile wide and 160 feet deep. Its ultimate capacity, to be secured by adding to the height of the dams, will be 140,000-acre feet. A second reservoir, lower down the mountainside, wil have a capacity of 25,000-acre feet.

ENORMOUS DAMS.

The specifications call for concrete dams of enormous size and strength. The largest will be 203 feet wide at the base. According to last week's progress report it is 60 per cent. completed. The second dam is 35 per cent. and the third and smallest 15 per cent. completed. The progress is in proportion to the size of the structures and all will be finished at about the same time. The contractors say that the big dam will not be thoroughly dry for a year or more.

For construction purposes a railroad system has been built in the basin and locomotives and cars have been hoisted up the 75 per cent. incline by means of a 300-horse-power electric motor. The railroad must necessarily begin and end with itself because of its great altitude and precipitous approach. The San Joaquin and Eastern Railroad brings the supplies and materials to the foot of the incline from Fresno—fifty miles to the westward.

Enormous trestles paralleling the dam sites have been erected for the use of the trains hauling cement and gravel. The job is too big to be reckoned in drayloads or carloads. The concrete mixture is dumped a trainload at a time and as rapidly as the trains can be run. More than 300,000 barrels of cement will be used in dam construction in the basin. The electrical and hydraulic machinery to be hauled to the power-house sites will weigh 50,000,000 pounds.

The dams will be completed in time to hold the waters of the melting snow next May or June, and when the system is put in operation in August there will be plenty in storage. The water will first be utilized in plant No. 1, which will be installed at the foot of Kerckhoff Dome with a static head of 2100 feet and installed capacity of 60,000 kilowatts. The excavation and blasting for No. 1 and No. 2 plants will be begun in about three weeks.

THROUGH GRANITE DOME.

The huge rock dome is being tunnelled and the solid granite walls are being lined with concrete. This tunnel is twelve feet in diameter and nearly a mile long. The water from the diversion works will enter immediately into this tunnel and upon coming out to the forebay will be taken by means of five steel pipes almost precipitately downward 2100 feet into No. 1 power-house below.

From this plant the water will pass into a settling basin and will then be taken through a cement-line tunnel three and a half miles long. It will then fall through steel pipes 1900 feet, down to No. 2 plant. Additional water from Pittman Creek will increase the volume enough to offset the difference in the fall, and the installed capacity of No. 2 will be the same as that of No. 1. These two power plants are being built at this time to furnish 70,000 horse power upon completion. Their capacity can be readily increased fifty per cent. by adding more units.

The water wheels will be of the tangential type and directly attached to the generating units. The power houses inclosing them will be steel and concrete and will be fireproof.

A third power plant will be built ultimately, but is not provided for in the present contracts. This will have a fall of 1300 feet and will have all the water from Big and Pittman creeks, after it passes through No. 1 and No. 2 plants, and in addition, a considerable volume to be diverted from the San Joaquin River. All three plants built to maximum capacity will generate 300,000 horse power.

The transmission line will consist of a double set of steel towers, each tower supporting six wires. The line is being built to its ultimate voltage of 150,000 even, though it will not be needed for some time. At intervals along the line, lightning protective apparatus and switches will be installed. The double independent set of tower lines will involve heavy additional expenditure, but it is considered necessary to insure continuity of service in case of accident.

WILL BE NEEDED.

The Pacific Light and Power Corporation furnishes all the power used by the Los Angeles Street Railway and 80 per cent. used by the Pacific Electric. Its various plants, including a steam power house at Redondo, have an aggregate capacity of 75,000 horse power, which is already overtaxed to meet the growing demands of the railroad companies.

The Pacific Electric has 1000 miles of trackage now and plans to build an additional 1000 miles. Doubling the trackage will require much more than double the power. Officials of the power corporation believe that the railroads will requqire 150,000 horse power within two or three years and that the maximum capacity of 300,000 which will be developed at a cost of $20,000,000 will ultimately be needed for the network of electric car lines which will spread all over Southern California.

Next year the Pacific Electric will complete its lines through the citrus belt, connecting Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Redlands, Riverside and other points. A line to San Diego, one to Santa Barbara and many short-line extensions have been decided upon by the company. The city system is also being extended to keep pace with the city's growth, and its Stevens Creek Falls, in the high Sierras two hundred and forty miles from this city, where a Los Angeles company is building the greatest of all hydro-electric power systems, and H. E. Huntington, the chief financial force behind the mammoth enterprise. The trestle is the site of the world's largest reservoir dam, where trainloads of gravel and cement are dumped every day in the course of construction. This dam is one of three which will form a water basin six miles long, a mile wide and a hundred and sixty feet deep. Three hundred thousand horse power will be developed.

DEATH IN EARNESTNESS?

Man Crossing Street with Friend Fails to See Car in Time and His Skull Is Fractured.

The earnestness with which James Ceruth of No. 813 Park Terrace carried on a conversation with a friend while crossing North Broadway at the Alpine-street intersection early yesterday morning may lead to his death. Ceruth, who is single and about 35 years old, did not notice the approach of a car. His friend saw it, jumped, and called to him to look out, but Ceruth failed to get out of the way in time. He was knocked down, his head striking the pavement, and his skull was fractured. He is in the French Hospital.

GRAND JURY'S NOT THROUGH.

Will Look Into Alleged Plot Against Chief.

Arraignment of Raymond and Arlington Monday.

Hotel Clerk Says He'll Tell All He Knows.

A possible new angle to the investigation of reasons underlying the alleged false imprisonment of F. W. Lloyd, a former special officer working under the direction of Chief of Police Sebastian, will be inquired into by the grand jury tomorrow. It relates to an alleged attempt to discredit the Chief of Police by inducing him to visit the apartments of Mrs. Queenie Mack Nicholson at Eighth and Flower streets. There, according to information in the possession of the police, he was to have been subjected to the "badger" game.

The Chief stated yesterday that he received advance information concerning the alleged plot and never went to the place indicated. He dressed a friend, who somewhat resembles him, in his own uniform, and this man stood ready to go in his place. The final telephone call did not come, so the Chief of Police says, and his friend, R. E. Dill, waited in vain Thursday and Friday nights.

Yesterday Jack Arlington, already under indictment upon a charge of conspiring to bring about the false imprisonment of Lloyd, was taken to the Central Station, where he was interrogated concerning the alleged badger game. He disclaimed knowledge of it.

Mrs. Nicholson was also summoned to the Chief of Police's private office. She admitted that "somebody" had asked her to say if called up on the telephone that she had sent for the Chief. She denied that she had consented to participate in any plot to injure Sebastian.

Mrs. Corinne Mull, a woman living in the same apartment-house with Mrs. Nicholson, was also interrogated by police detectives. While under examination she was served with a subpoena to appear before the grand jury tomorrow. Officer Wedge, who participated in the arrest of Lloyd, was also subpoenaed. It is expected that Mrs. Nicholson, Arlington and Nicholson will also be taken before the grand jury.

SAYS THERE'S A PLOT.

'I believe the apparent plan to injure Chief Sebastian was a 'badger game,' " said Deputy District Attorney Shannon after he had conferred with the police official. "I think the plotters were going to try to secure some sort of immunity from the Chief of Police under threat of making a fabricated exposure of him.

"Now that the facts are made public I am at liberty to state that we have known of the matter since Wednesday. While of course I am unable to state what action the grand jury may take, I expect something will be done tomorrow."

After talking with Mrs. Nicholson, Arlington and Frank Faulk, the latter his first informant, Chief Sebastian stated that in his judgment the alleged plot to hurt him in his position as Chief has many ramifications. He hesitated to fasten the blame upon any particular clique or set of individuals, stating that this is a matter for the prosecuting attorneys and the grand jury.

The Chief stated in substance: "Faulk, a friend of Arlington's, informed me that a conspiracy was under way to discredit me. The gist of his information was that Arlington had told him that Queenie Mack Nicholson or some other woman had agreed to make unpleasant advances to me in her room if I called there to secure supposedly valuable information. It was doubtless planned that witnesses would come into the room.

"Arlington came to the Central Station as Faulk had predicted and sounded me as to my willingness to go to the apartments of Mrs. Nicholson at Eighth and Flower streets. I assented and got R. E. Dill to put on my uniform. He was ready to keep the appointment Thursday and Friday night, but nothing developed."

NEW WOMAN IN CASE.

Sebastian stated that the same plan was followed Friday night but that no telephone message was received. He considers it possible that the arrest of Arlington may have interfered with the supposed plot.

Police detectives who gave Mrs. Mull a careful examination, declared they have a sworn statement from a business man who says he was mulcted out of a large amount of money by Mrs. Mull. He told the officers, so they assert, that he was placed in a compromising position before witnesses and compelled to give "hush money."

This will be inquired into by Deputy District Attorneys Blair and Shannon tomorrow when Mrs. Mull appears before the grand jury. None of the officers would positively assert tha the officers would positively assert that originated from the same sources that tried to inculpate Lloyd. Some declared they believed the supposed conspiracy was part of a general scheme of gamblers now operating in the city to involve the Chief of Police in such a way that he would not arrest them for plying their illegal games.

The evidence thus far, say the police, does not connect the framers of the alleged plan to injure Sebastian with the former attempt to fasten a fabricated crime upon Lloyd, an important witness against Eddie. Chief Sebastian, however, is to be a witness against Eddie and took a positive stand against the procedure of George Baker Anderson, Fred M. C. Choate, and others on the night Lloyd was arrested without the previous knowledge of the Chief of Police. The county investigators also stated that the information thus far gained does not point conclusively to any one outside of Mrs. Nicholson, her husband, Mrs. Mull and Arlington, as being the instigators of the second alleged plot to discredit witnesses against Eddie.

However, the two deputies of the District Attorney will place all available information before the grand jury

Before Gringo Came.

PATRIARCH'S PICTURE OF EARLY CALIFORNIA.

FRAGMENTS of history glamorous of the early days of California were gleaned from Augustine Apapas, patriarch of the Coahuilla Indians, in the hearing of a petition yesterday in the United States District Court for a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of ten tribesmen, but failed of the result desired by the defendants. The braves, charged with having conspired to murder W. H. Stanley, superintendent of the Swobda Reservation, Riverside county, May 1 last, were arraigned and given one week to plead.

Outside of court, it developed there is a difference among the Indians as to the contention of the accused men that they are American citizens and that the Federal court lacks jurisdiction to try them. Will Pablo, Francisco Lugo and Celso Serrano visited The Times office yesterday afternoon, and Pablo, acting as spokesman, declared those Indians who are proclaiming themselves American citizens and resisting the government's authority are "bad men" and in the minority.

"The Mexicans took our lands and gave us their religion," he said. "The United States government allows us to hold the land in common until such time as we shall be sufficiently educated to take care of our allotments, when it will be surrendered to us. We are satisfied that it should be so."

Pablo said word was sent to the Indians at Martinez to raise money to fight the Apapas case, and that he Along Beulah Route!

SCUDS AHEAD O' JOY BREEZE.

Philanthropist Stimson on Bliss Boulevard.

Holliday Greetings Go Round the Whole World.

Making Others Happy Is His Hobby.

BY A. M. ROW.

Charles M. Stimson, always traveling on the highway of happiness, is just now scudding ahead of the joy breeze on the Boulevard of Bliss.

The holiday season having come again, he has issued 100,000 of his "Beulah Railroad" leaflets and 25,000 copies of his forty-page Christmas-New Year booklet.

These unique publications are not alone filled with directions how to reach the Land of Beulah on the Salvation route, but they carry with them a lesson in patriotism by appearing in red, white and blue.

Mr. Stimson began this work a few years ago, as a holiday letter to his personal friends, but gradually it broadened until his greetings now reach every part of the civilized world, and they have been instrumental in putting him th personal touch with thousands of people scattered over the Globe, and of making him one of the most notable figures in the country in connection with Christian missions.

When I dropped in at his office in the California building the other day I found him as busy as a banker, getting ready to start his greetings on their way around the world. They are sent gratis to everybody who wants them; they cannot be bought at any price.

I not only found him engrossed in this work, but entertaining a missionary from Africa—Dr. Silas F. Johnson, now here on a furlough. He talked with Dr. Johnson as intimately of his work in fArica, as if he stood on the banks of the Congo. He has interests there as elsewhere in the support of missionaries, and you can count on Mr. Stimson knowing the lay of the land where he has missionaries at work, as he has all over the world. Dr. Johnson, who has been spending several months in this city, will leave early in the week to return to his field, and was there to say good-bye to his friend.

While they talked, Rev. H. A. Musser, a missionary from India, came in accompanied by his wife and two children. They had just arrived from the jungle country, after an exile of eight years, and as Mr. Stimson is supporting four missionaries in that field they were coming together to talk things over. Mr. Musser is district superintendent for the Methodist church, over a district that is thousands of square miles in extent, and has come home for medical treatment. He will remain here a month or more, while his wife and children have already proceeded on their way to their former home at Columbus, O.

This may be said to be only an average day at the office of the philanthropist, for he has most extensive property interests, covering hundreds of pieces of real estate, which require his constant supervision and that of a secretary. This is the source of his benevolence, and necessarily requires close and business-like attention—else the fountain would cease to flow. He says himself that he rarely has any considerable sum of money in his possession—money is not to keep!

The reader would not imagine for a moment that he has a shortage of callers! He has phalanxes of them. Some of them are on business—most of them are after money.

"But I have no money," he said to me. "If I want any big sum, all of a sudden, I have to go and borrow it."

QUICK MONEY TO CHINA.

He some time ago promised to give $40,000 for a site for a Young Men's Christian Association building at Shanghai, China. He immediately made a trip around the world, secured a map of the city of Shanghai, with every block distinctly marked, and a copy of the assessment roll, showing the valuation of every piece of property. His money was not to go until he knew just where it was to be invested. Picking up the map, he said to me:

"Now here is the present building. I wanted the new one located right up here on this beautiful lot, but they wanted $40,000 for the lot. It is too much but they wouldn't do any better, so we came down here, right across from the present building, where we can buy for a little less."

You might have thought he was talking of the streets and locations in Los Angeles, so familiar is he with the situation. A few days ago he received a telegram from the East, asking him to make his remittance of the sum of $39,000 (which is the balance of the subscription) to New York.

"I didnt want to do that,' he said. "Id rather send it direct, and know that it goes where I want it to go, so I sent it to the three secretaries of the association at Shanghai. I didn't have the money, but I had arranged for it in half an hour; the bank telegraphed to San Francisco, guaranteeing the money; San Francisco cabled to Shanghai, guaranteeing the Shanghai bank, and directing the payment to be made to the three secretaries mentioned—Charles L. Boynton, from Los Angeles; F. S. Brockman and W. N. Lockwood. I know the three young men and I know the money will be properly handled, and I didn't want to have it any other way."

This will purchase the lot upon which Miss Helen Gould has obligated herself to erect a building, at a cost of not less than $50,000, but it is anticipated that it will cost a great deal more than that sum.

This intimacy with the details, characterizes everything Mr. Stimson does. He wants to do good with his means, but he wants to be the judge, to a reasonable extent, as to whether it is being used to the best possible advantage.

HAPPINESS HIS HOBBY.

In his holiday greetings, he has this year held much closer to the spiritual line than formerly, as it has been his custom to so spice his religious ideal and purpose that almost anyone would read it with interest. It surely cannot be otherwise than that he accomplishes much good, in the broadest possible sense. He has hundreds of letters from all parts of the world, in which the writers express their gratitude toward him for the good they have experienced through his efforts. Of course, as a rule, the writers of the letters are entirely unknown to him, and generally accompany a request for more booklets.

His is the simple faith in the power of the Holy Spirit to save men to the uttermost. He has no fads. His entire purpose appears to be, and I sincerely believe it to be, that he may come to the end of his life feeling satisfied that he has tried to make people more cheerful and happy during their life, and that he has pointed them on the way to salvation. He is so supremely happy himself, and so wrapped up in what he is doing, that no other motive is possible—and no one who knows him believes that there is any other motive. He doesn't mention himself or his motive—except in his little personal word of greeting, as follows:

"My Dear Friends—and others too: I have come to see you again with my little booklet of good cheer, that we may all pull together in the work for our Master, during the coming Happy New Year as well as on this joyful Merry Christmas. Let us all give love, joy, peace and happiness to others each day, lend a helping hand, then much will come back to each of us in untold blessings."

You can surely end Grippe and break up the most severe cold either in head, chest, back, stomach or limbs, by taking a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, running of the nose, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this wonderful Compound as directed, without interference with your usual duties and with the knowledge that there is nothing else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist can supply—accept no substitute—contains no quinine—belongs in every home. Tastes nice.—[Advertisement.

RETIRED VETERAN DIES.

Served Through Civil War and Became Prominent in Business and Church Work Afterward.

S. S. McKenney of No. 360 South Burlington avenue, a retired merchant and a veteran of the Civil War who had resided in this city for about twelve years, died at the Columbia Hospital of pneumonia Friday afternoon at the age of 78. He leaves three sons and one daughter—C. S. McKenney of this city, George F. McKenney of Kansas City, Albert S. McKenney of Minneapolis and Mrs. J. M. Broad of Lincoln, Neb.

McKenney was born in Enfield, Me., on September 29, 1834. He joined the Union army during the Civil War and was connected with the hospital service. At the close of the war he settled in McHenry, Ill., and in 1888 went to Lincoln, Neb. During the last three years of his residence in that city he was Street Commissioner.

In 1901 he retired from business and came to Los Angeles to pass the remainder of his days. His wife died about seven years ago.

McKenney was an earnest church worker and was honored by being appointed deacon for life in the First Baptist Church in Lincoln, Neb.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow at Pierce Bros.' funeral parlors, and the interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

CHECKING OWL SERVICE.

Number of Passengers on Late Cars Increasing but Not Enough to Make Them Profitable Yet.

The Los Angeles Railway Company is preparing a schedule showing the number of passengers carried nightly on the owl cars since the service was inaugurated December 1. The daily record sheets show that more passengers are using the 3 o'clock cars than when they were first put on, but that the travel at that hour is not as heavy as at 2 o'clock. There is no doubt that the service will be continued, however, as the company stated that it intends to maintain the late service if there is a reasonable demand for it, even though the cars are run at a loss.

The only change in the schedule as first announced was the addition last week of a 1:30 o'clock car on the Washington-street line. The company's routing men have nearly completed their work on a proposed working car schedule and it is probable that a 5 o'clock service will be established on most of the lines soon. When that is done the only further change necessary to make an uninterrupted twenty-four-hour service will be to put on cars at 4 o'clock a.m.

Advice From the Gallery.

[Washington Star:] The late Police Captain William H. Hodgkins of New York, who died from cardiac strain that he brought on by reducing his weight over fifty pounds in three weeks, hated corpulence, and often regaled his friends with anecdotes that had corpulence for their butt.

"I went to a melodrama the other night," Capt. Hodgkins said one afternoon to a police reporter. "The heroine was fat—fatter than myself.

"In the second act she fell overboard, and the hero, a little scrawny chap, plunged after her and seemed to be having a good deal of difficulty in swimming with her toward the yacht.

"As the hero splashed and struggled under his heavy burden a god yelled from the gallery:

"'You'll never do it that way, bo! Save what you can now and come back for the rest. Make three trips if necessary.'"

Wanted to Learn the Secret.

[Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph:] A. P. Gardner, Congressman from Massachusetts, tells of a little shooting party which was attended by some of the elite of that vicinity.

"More than one of the party," says Mr. Gardner, "felt a trifle nervous about a certain young Englishman, as he and his gun seemed strangers. Nothing occurred, however, until I felt something poking me in the side as we crept along. Turning quickly I found the novice prodding me with the muzzle and fumbling with the hammers of his gun.

"'Hi, Gus,' he whispered, 'before we get on to the birds you might just show me 'ow you let these 'ere triggers down!'" and let that body decide whether the testimony warrants additional indictments.

Arlington was not in Department Twelve yesterday, for he was taken from the County Jail to the office of the Chief of Police as soon as the alleged new conspiracy was heard of. Raymond, however, was in court with his attorney, W. S. Baird. Both defendants will be arraigned tomorrow morning. Raymond is at liberty on $2000 bond, but Arlington will probably remain in jail until his trial.

Early last evening Faulk was taken into custody and booked at Central Station on "suspicion." This action was taken, say the police, to insure the man's presence tomorrow when he will doubtless appear before the grand jury.

In the presence of a number of newspaper men, Mrs. Mull denied that she had ever extracted money from men by unlawful means.

PERSONALS.

C. H. Wingmore of Fort Worth, a cattleman who makes it his custom to spend the winter in Los Angeles, registered at the Lankershim yesterday. Another guest is W. E. Langdon of Seattle, head of a large wholesale woolen company.

Judge W. W. Dunbar of the Superior Court, is at the Hollenbeck, from Blythe Junction, Ariz. Recently he was severely injured in a mine accident and is now here to have his eyes treated as a result. A. H. Burns, a Libby, Mont., cattleman, is at the Hollenbeck. Fred Engel of Colorado Springs, mining engineer, is another guest. G. A. Ennis, Indian agent at Banning, arrived yesterday.

A. L. Kinworthy of Minneapolis, largely interested in Northern Minneota timber is at the Van Nuys. Others registered there are Mrs. F. H. Kellogg of Santa Rosa, J. H. Miller of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. English of Vancouver, B. C., Mrs. M. R. Howell of Philadelphia, Mrs. Edythe H. Sinnott of Philadelphia and Mrs. H. V. Marvel, also from the Pennsylvania city.

C. G. Cowden of Tacoma is at the Van Nuys. He is assistant manager of a gold mine near Nome, and left there only five weeks ago. He is in Southern California on a pleasure trip.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Muckenhen of Detroit, who expect to pass the greater part of the winter in California, are at the Angelus.

O. B. Benjamin of New Orleans arrived at the Alexandria yesterday. He says that city will be well represented at the Panama-Pacific exposition. While the people there are sorry they did not get the exposition, a good many of them are determined to see it even if they have to travel half way across the continent to accomplish their purpose.

World's Greatest Works.

demands for power will increase rapidly from year to year.

H. E. Huntington is the chief financial power behind the enterprise, and he is the largest owner in the Pacific Light and Power Corporation. G. C. Ward is the director in charge of the power development enterprise, and E. R. Davis is general manager. Stone and Webster of New York are the contractors. All the material on the job is of American production except the electrically-welded steel pressure-pipe, which comes from Germany.

An important adjunct in developing and transmitting power in the Big Creek region is the San Joaquin and Eastern Railroad, which is controlled by the Huntington interests. It branches off from the Polasky branch fourteen miles east of Fresno, and makes its way independently to the east.

ELECTRICITY PULLS STEAM.

The road stops at Big Creek and passengers are taken the remainder of the distance by wagons. In making the distance of four and a half miles they rise 3000 feet in elevation. For construction purposes the road extends upward from Big Creek. For 6600 feet it climbs the precipitate sides of a great mountain. In that distance it rises in elevation, 2260 feet and the grade for a part of the distance is seventy-five per cent. Up this grade the cars and locomotives are drawn or hoisted by an electric windlass.

While the people of the San Joaquin Valley are interested in watching the tremendous power development, they are speculating as to what will become of the water. Having furnished the driving force to generate power for the electric railroads of Southern California, millions of gallons of water will be released at the bottom and would be available for some vast irrigation project.

It is like the Owens River enterprise reversed. The Big Creek enterprise was undertaken solely to get power, while on the aqueduct job, the power, even though it has proven to be of enormous value, was a secondary consideration.

OCEAN PARK BRIEFS.

OCEAN PARK, Dec. 7.—The tent saloon in the center of Navy street, against which such a strong protest was made a few days ago, must be removed. So decided the Venice Board of Trustees in Committee of the Whole meeting yesterday afternoon. The Trustees gave the owners of the saloon sixty days in which to get a new location, in which event the license will be transferred. The petitioners, while not satisfied with this disposition of their protest, claiming that the alleged nuisance should be immediately abated, are appeased.

Miss Alma Peterson took the lead today in the race for the Queen of the Boardwalk carnival, which is to be held eight days, beginning December 14. She has 1538 points to her credit. Miss Beatrice Smith is second in the list, with 1295 points and Miss Georgia Winters is third, with 790 points. There are eighteen contestants.

Ocean Park boosters are endeavoring to convince the American Potash Company, recently incorporated, that this is the best spot wherein to locate the proposed new factory which will manufacture potash from kelp. It is pointed out that huge quantities of the kelp may be procured in the vicinity of the long wharf.

C. P. Fogg, a workman on the Bristol pier, made a misstep and fell seventy-five feet from the top of the new cafe to the dock of the pier. His fellow workmen expected to find his dead body badly mutilated, but Fogg after being picked up unconscious was found to have suffered mainly lacerations and bruises. No bones were broken.

TUNGSTEN is KING of INVESTMENTS

It has been proven by the Department of the Interior—U. S. Geological Survey, that investments in Tungsten have yielded larger returns than any other minerals.

Since 1900 Tungsten concentrates assaying 70 per cent. have advanced steadily and its price today has reached $600 per ton—a profit of 150 per cent.

Railway Superintendent Now Ready to Retire.

In Charge in Days of Cable and Horse Cars.

Factor in Growth of City's Big Traffic System.

After having served nearly a quarter of a century as superintendent of Los Angeles street railway systems, John J. Akin has announced that he will retire January 1, next. Coming here when horse-drawn cars moved slowly through the streets of a small area, continuing in charge through the physical and financial vicissitudes of the cable-car companies and later as superintendent of the splendid electric system built up by H. E. Huntington, he has been closely identified with the growth of the traffic and of the city and has been an important factor in both.

Following his retirement from railroad work, Akin will devote several months to his private interests and contemplates a trip abroad later. He pects to spend a year or more on the Continent. He will be succeeded as superintendent of the Los Angeles Railway Company by Edwin L. who, like himself, has been connected with the local railway system from the time of the horse cars. was receiving clerk of the old company when Akin took charge. he was made chief clerk and assistant superintendent. HIS DISMAL PROSPECT.

Gambler Shot from Rear Will Be Life Cripple, Doctors Fear—Assailant Refuses to Talk.

Fred R. McCracken, one of the reputed proprietors of the El Dorado Club in the Germain building, who was shot there Friday evening by W. W. Willis, will probably be a cripple for life, in the opinion of doctors.

At the Clara Barton Hospital, to which McCracken was removed after the wound had been probed and sutured at the Receiving Hospital, it was said yesterday, that the man's right side has become partially paralyzed. That condition indicates, doctors says, that the bullet either injured the vertibrae or passed dangerously close to the bone in the neck.

McCracken suffered considerably Friday night and yesterday. His general condition is such as to give some apprehension as to whether he will recover.

Willis is held at the Central Station awaiting the outcome of McCracken's injuries. He still refuses to discuss the shooting.

Detectives have been unable to solve the mystery surrounding the shooting. McCracken declares Willis did it because he would not lend him $10, and Willis says McCracken had threatened to kill him.

Willis says that about ten years ago he shot a man at New Westminster, B. C. For that crime, Willis admits, he served a sentence in a Canadian penitentiary. He says he intends to employ counsel and plead self-defense.

The detectives have recovered the bullet which pierced McCracken's neck. It was found in the room where the shooting occurred. They have not found the revolver Willis used.

J. C. McCracken of Lees Summit, Mo., father of the injured man, telegraphed Capt. Flammer yesterday, asking as to his son's condition.

UNDER HIS BICYCLE.

J. F. King, No. 3160 Winter street, was the victim of a peculiar accident yesterday. At First and Gless streets, while riding home on his bicycle, he fainted from exhaustion, having left a sick bed too soon. He was found pinioned under his wheel by a patrolman, who took him home.

Postoffice Laborer Arrested on Charge of Having Secreted Articles Deposited in the Mails.

Barney H. Gasenhaus, who lives with his two children at No. 835 Lyon street, and who since May last has been employed as a laborer at the postoffice, was arrested yesterday on a complaint sworn out by Postoffice Inspector Webster. He is charged with having secreted certain articles that have been deposited in the mails.

These articles indicate the operations of a very peculiar mind, as they consisted for the most part of piles of twine, copies of German newspapers, a wool scarf, a bottle of perfume, a sample of malted milk and other stuff of slight value. The twine had been abstracted from the workroom of the postoffice and had been used in the operations of the office.

Gasenhaus was held in $300 bond by United States Commissioner Van Dyke. The old man had $400 in bank and was able to furnish bail. He said he had saved it all up since May at a wage rate of $54 a month, keeping his family in addition.

NEW MEMBERS ADDED.

The Parent Teachers' Association of the Jefferson-street school has many reasons to be proud of its organization. Much interest is being shown, and every member seems anxious to take an active part. At the November meeting, fifty-two new members were added to the roll and twenty-six at the December meeting.

The meetings are held the first Wednesday of every month and an instructive programme is presented. The programme for December fourth was especially interesting. Miss Minnie Martin rendered a beautiful piano solo. Mrs. E. C. Stockwell, a soprano singer from the Lyric Club, delighted her listeners. The Jefferson-street Orchestra played two selections. The mothers were both surprised and pleased with the orchestra, as the majority of the players were very youthful—in fact one serious-faced little fellow did not look to be over 6 years of age.

Mrs. Nanno Woods talked to the mothers on the subject of "Roses and Rosebuds—Mothers and Daughters." Every one listened with rapt attention and all were eager to have her prolong her talk, but the time did not permit. Many gathered about her as the refreshments were served, to hear more.

The circle is fortunate in having Mrs. J. D. Taylor for its president. Although a very busy woman, she has the welfare of the circle at heart and works unceasingly.

STOPS TOBACCO HABIT.

Elders' Sanitarium, located at 978 Main street, St. Joseph, Mo., has published a book showing the deadly effect of the tobacco habit, and how it can be stopped in three to five days.

As they are distributing this book free, anyone wanting a copy should send their name and address at once.—[Advertisement.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Inspector of Public Works Hansen filed his annual report on street maintenance yesterday, showing that during the year 4340 miles of streets have received attention, and that 600 miles of streets are receiving regular sprinkling service, and many miles of paved streets are regularly flushed with water.

Announcement was made yesterday that the people of Garvanza will appeal to the City Council and Board of Public Utilities this week to take steps to hurry forward the proposed double-tracking of Avenue 64. The City Attorney holds that the Pacific Electric will have to secure a new franchise for the second track, and the resolution to grant nothing but indeterminate franchises may make trouble for the Councilmen.

The Building Ordinance Commission announced yesterday that it has taken action on only fifty of the 250 building ordinances and that it has several months' work ahead to complete its task. It asks for a further appropriation of $600 for secretary's salary.

Dr. Charles E. Hill, who asserts he was a practicing dentist at Toledo before coming to this city, has brought suit against the State Board of Dental Examiners. He seeks a writ of mandate to compel the board to give him a license to practice.

FILE FIGURES ON STREET WORK.

SIX HUNDRED MILES OF HIGHWAY SPRINKLED.

Comprehensive Report Made by Inspector of Public Works Shows Enormous Amount of Work Necessary to Keep Up City's Thoroughfares.

Inspector of Public Works Hansen yesterday filed the annual report of the Bureau of Street Maintenance and Inspection, and it will be transmitted to the Mayor for use in his annual message. This report is replete with interesting statistics concerning the upkeep of the city's thoroughfares.

It shows that 600 miles of streets are receiving regular sprinkling service, and that from seventy to 102 teams are employed daily. The expenditure up to the 1st inst. has been $133,401.03, and the estimate for this month is $14,323,08, making the total expenditure to the first of January, $147,724.11 for street maintenance and inspection.

The report also shows that an effort has been made during the past year to oil as many of the unpaved streets as possible, and so increase the sprinkling service over a greater territory.

During the winter months the street work daily uses 1,400,000 gallons of water; and during the summer months, 2,200,000 gallons.

During the year 240 miles of streets have been oiled, this requiring the use of 44,886 barrels of road oil. Attention was also given to 143 miles of paved streets, and these, except at Hollywood and San Pedro, are patrolled by hand sweepers. In these two localities rotary sweepers are used. In the congested district of the city ten miles of paved streets are flushed every night and seventeen miles every other night; forty-three miles of streets are flushed twice a week, and thirty-six miles once a week.

The accumulations that must be removed from the paved streets are enormous, and so far this year amount to 57,900 cubic yards.

This report shows that the city has a total of about 1270 miles of streets to maintain. Of this, thirteen miles of macadam streets have been resurfaced; forty miles of graveled streets have been rooted, disced and rolled; 135 miles have been patched with gravel, and seventeen miles have been resurfaced with gravel.

The report covers many items of interest in regard to the streets, among them being information in regard to storm drains, spur tracks in streets, excavation permits, prosecutions for violation of street ordinances, etc., and sections relate to methods used in handling street improvements and repairs. The report altogether is very comprehensive.

MUST GET FRANCHISE. FOR AVENUE SIXTY-FOUR.

Garvanza people are becoming anxious to see work started on the double-tracking of the Pacific Electric line on Avenue Sixty-four, and will present a petition to the City Council and Board of Public Utilities this week, asking that steps be taken to hurry forward the work which they understand President Shoup of the Pacific Electric has promised to do. As the street is to be paved from Pasadena avenue to the city limits, the property owners are anxious to have the second track constructed before the paving is started.

It appears that when the franchise was secured it made provision for either a double or single track on Avenue Sixty-four, but there was a provision that unless a double track was laid within a certain limit this right would become forfeited.

The Board of Public Utilities has been notified by the City Attorney that it would be necessary for the Pacific Electric to secure a franchise for the second track before it could place such track in the street.

Now the Pacific Electric doesn't care to build this line, and has shown the Utilities Board that its present line is losing money. This line has a thirty-five-year tenure, and it is not likely that the company will care to undertake the building of a double track on anything less than a twenty-one-year franchise, which is the limit placed by the present city charter. The City Council, however, went on record some weeks ago as being of the determination not to grant any further franchises except with the indeterminate clauses in them.

It must be said, nevertheless, that the Council has twice reversed itself since this stand was taken, having voted to grant twenty-one-year franchises on South Main street, and with the pressure that the people of the northern part of the city proposes to bring to bear, it is quite probable that a similar franchise will be granted for the Avenue-Sixty-four second track should the Pacific Electric company ask for it.

Ordinance Revisions.

The Building Ordinance Commission, appointed several months ago to revise and condense the ordinances of this character, has several months more of work in order to complete this talk. So far the commission has passed upon fifty out of the 250 ordinances pertaining to building construction. The commission has applied to the City Council for a further appropriation of $600 for the salary of its secretary.

Undertakers' Permits.

All but two of the undertaking establishments of the city have made application to the Health Department for permits to conduct their places of business under the provisions of the amended ordinance. This amendment eliminates the prohibition of any undertaking establishment within fifty feet of any residence, and certain other modifications have been made to eliminate what were practically dead-letter provisions.

Bills for Party Wall.

The Pacific Electric Company has sent to the city officials bills intended to cover one-half of the cost of the common wall betwen the railroad tunnel on Hill street and the tunnel now being constructed by the city between First and Temple streets paralleling the railroad tunnel. The amount asked for is $11,172. The City Engineer reports to the Board of Public Works that he has no knowledge that any agreement to pay such costs has ever been entered into on the part of the city. The company has also made a charge of $174.47 as interest, which the City Engineer recommends be not considered.

City Hall Brevities.

The underpinning of the piers of the Aliso-street bridge has been completed and work is in progress on the riprapping of the river bank where the Arroyo de las Posas discharges its storm waters, as a further protection to the bridge piers.

A demand is being made for the permanent paving of the Buena Vista bridge and its easterly approaches. The City Engineer reports that the fills have settled so that the permanent pavement can be put in at any time, and he estimates that this improvement will cost $16,600, none of which can consistently be paid for by an assessment district. The Board of Public Works has referred this subject to the City Council for instructions, as the city doubtless will have to paw for the work out of its own funds.

The Board of Public Works has recommended to the City Council that Coronado street and Angelica street, between Reservoir street, Waterloo and Mayberry streets, be abandoned without compensation from the property owners adjacent thereto other than the cost incident to vacation proceedings, provided other streets and alleys are dedicated for public use as proposed by such owners.

The Health Department is making a determined campaign against the unsanitary use of milk bottles that have not been properly sterilized, and during the past week has served notice on several milk purveyors to change their methods or they will be prosecuted.

J. Tanaka wants to conduct a Japanese hospital at No. 605 Turner street, but the Chief Inspector of Buildings finds that the building does not comply with the requirements of the building ordinances for hospital service. Tanaka has appealed to the health officer for a recommendation that the hospital be allowed to operate if certain changes are made.

HE'D RATHER BE PULLING TEETH.

DENTIST SAYS IT'S HARDER TO SECURE LICENSE.

Sues for Writ of Mandate to Compel Board of Dental Examiners to Grant Permission to Practice. Calls It Scheme to Discourage Competition.

Dr. Charles E. Hill, who asserts he was a practicing dentist at Toledo before he came to this city, makes serious charges against the State Board of Dental Examiners in a complaint filed yesterday, asking for a writ of mandate to compel the board to give him a license to practice.

Dr. Hill says he thought he could open an office and engage in dentistry pending an examination. This was in 1907, but the day preceding the meeting of the board, as he was preparing to take the examination, he was arrested and put in jail for practicing without a license.

In 1908, he says, he was sick and unable to go before the board. Believing in the old maxim, "If at first you don't suceeed, try, try again," Hill says he was a candidate this year, and for the second time was refused. Meantime, he had been ad-

HUSTLING.

The fact that there were fifty-four accidents within four hours in Los Angeles ten days ago doesn't mean that this city is careless, but merely illustrates how busy it is.

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE.

It is certainly pleasant to read about the snowstorms in the East and to then go through the local markets and see bright strawberries grown in the open gardens and retailing at two boxes for 15 cents. Of course it is more pleasant to see these berries than to eat them, as no strawberry in December has the spice of April in its system.

A GREAT WORK.

More than a thousand high-school boys had dinner together Friday night and heard an important address. This Students' League, organized by the Y.M.C.A. among the boys of Los Angeles county, is a significant movement and its large success attests the quality of manliness upon which the security of the next generation rests.

ACIDS AND SUFFRAGE.

The campaign of the suffragettes in London has taken a peculiar course. Instead of using clubs and flatirons on mere men who oppose woman's rights they take it out of inanimate things. Window-smashing has been temporarily discontinued and is superseded by pouring acids into the mail boxes. Several thousand letters were thus "et up alive" recently. In what way this aided the suffrage contest is not clear to the American mind.

THE SENATE TIE.

The appointment of a Republican to succeed Senator Rayner of Maryland will make the United States Senate, after March 4 next, stand forty-eight Democrats and forty-eight Republicans, and Vice-President Marshall will have a determining vote wherever there is a tie. This may make a difference with tariff legislation and it may not, for the Vice-President is a Democrat of ancient vintage and an active and unyielding partisan.

LYCEUMS, ATTENTION:

From the jail to the lecture platform is no longer a far cry, but a speedy and natural transition.

Ettor and Giovannitti, who escaped conviction at Salem, Mass., for the murders which were committed in what Darrow calls "an incident of industrial war" at Lawrence, Mass., are booked for a lecture tour beginning at Sulzer's New York Harlem River Casino.

When Gompers emerges from his twelve months' sojourn in jail, or maybe before his term commences, may not the people expect to hear his mellifluous cockney accents in behalf of the sacred right of union labor to boycott and beat all non-union workers out of their jobs?

INHERITANCE TAXATION.

August Uhlein of Milwaukee left an estate valued at $2,875,000 on which the inheritance tax is $75,000. But Wisconsin is not satisfied with a rake-off of $75,000. Its vigilant officers have discovered that during the last year of his life Mr. Uhlein gave away to his children and kinsmen $6,000,000 in property besides clothing valued at $100. If he had not been thus zealous as a benefactor the State of Wisconsin would have collected an inheritance tax on $6,000,100 more.

When Andrew Carnegie passes in his checks will the State of New York demand an inheritance tax from all the libraries he endowed during his lifetime?

NO LYNCH LAW.

Many of the ladies in the audience left the hall when the morbid Governor of South Carolina shouted the war cry of the late Francis B. Heney, "to hell with the Constitution." The Governor unhesitatingly avowed himself as an advocate of lynch law for negroes accused of assaults upon white women. That the fate of such wretches should be death many men will concede. But why lynch law? It is in the power of the Legislature of South Carolina to amend the criminal code so as to mete the punishment of death to brutes found guilty of the crime of crimes. Why, then, resort to lynch law? The Governor of South Carolina forgot himself when he made that speech.

SHAKE!

We don't know whether to congratulate Owensmouth or Los Angeles most on the connection of the two cities by the Pacific Electric street car system. If anything, Los Angeles has a little the best of it, for never was a better opportunity for a glorious outing offered the citizens of a metropolis. As a site for a city the location of Owensmouth is unsurpassable. Its beauty is supreme. Los Angeles people might spend a year in Europe with all the money that such a trip would cost and no one day abroad could hold so much of beauty as they could purchase for 75 cents any day in the year by making the round trip to Owensmouth. That city, however, has more than beauty to offer to its larger neighbor. It is surrounded by fertile and productive fields which have long been under cultivation and is in the neighborhood of those famous San Fernando Valley ranches which have been the foundation of many of the largest Los Angeles fortunes. City business blocks were built out of money produced by these farms.

AN ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

During the past week, with its two days of formal dedication and rejoicing, in its new home, The Times has been the recipient of well-nigh numberless courtesies and kindnesses. They came like showers of blessing, and The Times presents its grateful acknowledgments.

The Times heartily thanks the thousands of people who came to visit the plant and extend their congratulations and good wishes. The Times would express its sincere appreciation of the hundreds of favors it enjoyed at the hands of many loyal friends whose ministrations helped so materially in making the days of restoration and celebration so happy for all concerned. For all these gracious acts and gifts, kind friends, our heartfelt gratitude!

The Times could not and would not say less than this. It wishes it might have a personal word and hand-clasp for all to whom it is obligated—but that is impossible. The cheeriest greetings and best wishes of the season, the best thoughts of these busiest and best days be ours and yours, dear friends!

GOVERNOR BLEASE.

From the mouths of I.W.W.'s, vermilion Socialists and radical labor-union agitators we are so accustomed to hear the Constitution blasphemed and mob rule deified that the wild utterances of this irresponsible minority, except when they excite to criminal acts of violence, are treated generally with the contempt they deserve.

But when the head of a sovereign State, invested with temporary authority by the people of that State, publicly approves lynching and mob rule, and publicly execrates the Constitution whence he derives his authority, he becomes a subject for Federal prosecution or for the lunatic asylum.

Gov. Blease of South Carolina, in his avowed intention to refuse the support of the law to his colored fellow-citizens when they are victims of illegal acts, has proved himself unworthy to carry on the duties of the office to which he was elected and should be promptly forced to vacate. Gov. Blease, when he publicly screamed, "To hell with the Constitution," simply advertised his incapacity to fill even the role of a private citizen—let alone to assume any position of authority. Since he is so proud of his unpatriotic and un-American sentiments, he should purge his native country of his offensive personality.

No American gentleman would use the language in a public meeting attended by many refined and well-bred American women, that this negro-baiter indulged in. But then without doubt Gov. Blease has no desire to be mistaken for an American or any other kind of gentleman. He prefers to pose as the rough-house champion of lynching bees. It is more in his line to shock women than to resist a mob.

He calls himself a cold-blooded fighter, while on the contrary he is a hot-headed shirker, a cold-footed official, and a red-handed condoner of law-breaking. He finds it more easy and comfortable to defend lynching than to defend the negro—especially as the negroes in South Carolina are practically disfranchised. He pretends to be standing for the virtue of the white women, as though there were no law to protect them. If the ordinary law in South Carolina is impotent to reach the criminal negro, so that mob violence has to be resorted to, then South Carolina is no longer fit to take its place among our glorious galaxy of States.

Of course this is not the case; the Governor was simply playing to the gallery. A fearless and capable Executive in South Carolina, as in any other State, has ample power to see the law enforced against all criminals, whether white or colored. Gov. Blease, toadying to the disreputable elements in society, not only first of all insulted the taste of the fair southerners in his audience, but cast a foul aspersion on the honor and dignity of the commonwealth he was supposed to represent. He has not the earmarks of either a hot or a cold-blooded fighter; only the weakness of the demagogue truckling to the worst passions of the mob.

THE RELIABLE AMERICAN HEN.

On Page 9, Part VI, will be found fresh poultry literature from high authorities on this multifarious domestic topic. This is a subject that interests thousands of farmers, breeders and growers. The annual earnings of the American hen foot up to an aggregate sum which is simply enormous—vastly more than most people suppose.

This new feature is unique in that it contains a combination of news value and publicity merit. It appeals to breeders, back-yard poultrymen, farmers and manufacturers representing the second largest industry in the United States, and, according to government statistics, producing a yearly income of approximately $900,000,000. This series of papers will be continued in the Illustrated Weekly.

FIAT MONEY AND BRYAN.

Fiat money is a necessity in times of civil war. It has an artificial and temporary value imparted to it by the law which makes it a legal tender for all debts, public and private. Its value does not survive the destruction of the government which issued it, and does not always continue even when such government is successful in its contest for existence or supremacy.

The French assignats of the revolution did not survive the accession to power of Bonaparte. Confederate currency fed the camp fires after Richmond fell, and even the old continental money was valueless after the surrender of Cornwallis.

The greenbacks issued by our government during the Civil War were fiat money, in that they were made receivable by law for all debts, public and private, and for all dues to the United States except customs duties, which were required to be paid in gold. This was done in order to provide metallic money for government use where gold and silver was required.

California resisted the introduction of greenbacks into general circulation in this State by what is known as the Specific Contract Act—a law validating and providing for the enforcement of contracts made payable in gold coin. This law was not made applicable to indebtedness contracted before its passage. Such, under the legal-tender law, could be discharged in greenbacks, which, in the early stages of the Civil War, could be bought at from 70 to 80 cents on the dollar, and which at one time, after several Union defeats, fell as low as 40 cents. The merchants of San Francisco, however, succeeded in building up a public sentiment that made it disreputable for their debtors to pay them anything but gold, although they themselves quietly used the gold with which to buy legal tender exchange on New York at 70 cents, and paid their eastern creditors therewith.

The Nevada Legislature, following the example of California, enacted a specific contract act, which the Supreme Court of that State declared void as being an act in conflict with the act of Congress and as a kind of legislation "which" in the language of Justice Brosnan, "practically pursued in many States during the reyless period of the nation's travail might have inflicted a wound upon constitutional liberty which the coming ages might not see healed."

The force if not the beauty of this language was marred when some months later the same judges ruled that the decision did not apply to their own salaries, which must be paid in gold.

Gold certificates and afterwards silver certificates were added to the greenbacks, and with them are still in use, but about one-third of the paper circulation of the country is in national bank notes, which are so perfectly and uniformly secured that whether issued by a bank in Maine or a bank in Texas, are received everywhere at par, without even an examination to ascertain from what bank they emanated.

A national bank for which a charter has been issued, upon depositing with the treasurer an amount of bonds not less than one-third of its capital stock, may have issued to it in its circulating notes 90 per cent. of the amount of the bonds so deposited.

If the bank fails to redeem such circulating notes on demand the United States will sell the bonds deposited with it and with the proceeds redeem the currency, returning the surplus to the bank. As a matter of fact, nobody ever does demand redemption. Even if a bank breaks, although its depositors and other creditors may suffer, its circulating notes pass current as usual. The national banking law provides for such examination and supervision of national banks as guards the interest to a certain extent of their depositors.

The national banking system is an admirable one. It costs the government nothing and affords it a market for its bonds. It gives to the banker a small interest on his capital and enables him to borrow without interest 90 per cent. of such capital to use in loans, and it furnishes the people of the country with an adequate supply of currency to transact business.

Six hundred and eighty-three million six hundred and fifty-nine thousand five hundred and thirty-five dollars of national bank notes were outstanding in 1910, as against $234,787,870 of United States notes, $802,754,199 in gold certificates, $478,597,238 in silver certificates, $590,877,893 in gold coin and $208,016,245 in silver coin—an average of $34.33 per capita.

And now comes Warwick, the king-maker, alias Bryan the President-maker, and proposes to extirpate the national banks by a financial policy which he will endeavor to have formulated into law. He will not seek to dishonor poor old sixteen-to-one from the grave in which an enormous production of gold throughout the world has placed him. He will not protest against the crucifixion of labor on a cross of gold. This time he proposes to place a crown of thorns on the brow of capital. He would call in all national bank notes and issue either government fiat money or nothing at all in their place.

It is difficult to conjecture who would be benefited by such "monkeying" with the finances of the nation. Not the government, for it would not save a dollar, and it could not make a dollar unless it usurped the business of the banks it would destroy. And it is doubtful whether the 50,000 or more government appointees who would take the places of the present banking force would manage the affairs of the banks as prudently or as successfully as they are managed now.

In his crusade against the banks Bryan may have the co-operation of Col. Roosevelt, for one of the planks in the Progressive platform of the late Progressive party reads: "We believe the present method of issuing notes through private agencies is harmful and unscientific. The issue of currency is fundamentally a government function and the system should have as basic principles soundness and elasticity."

There is plenty of "elasticity" in the Bryan-Roosevelt plan of smashing the national banking system. But the "soundness" of it is not apparent to the common mind.

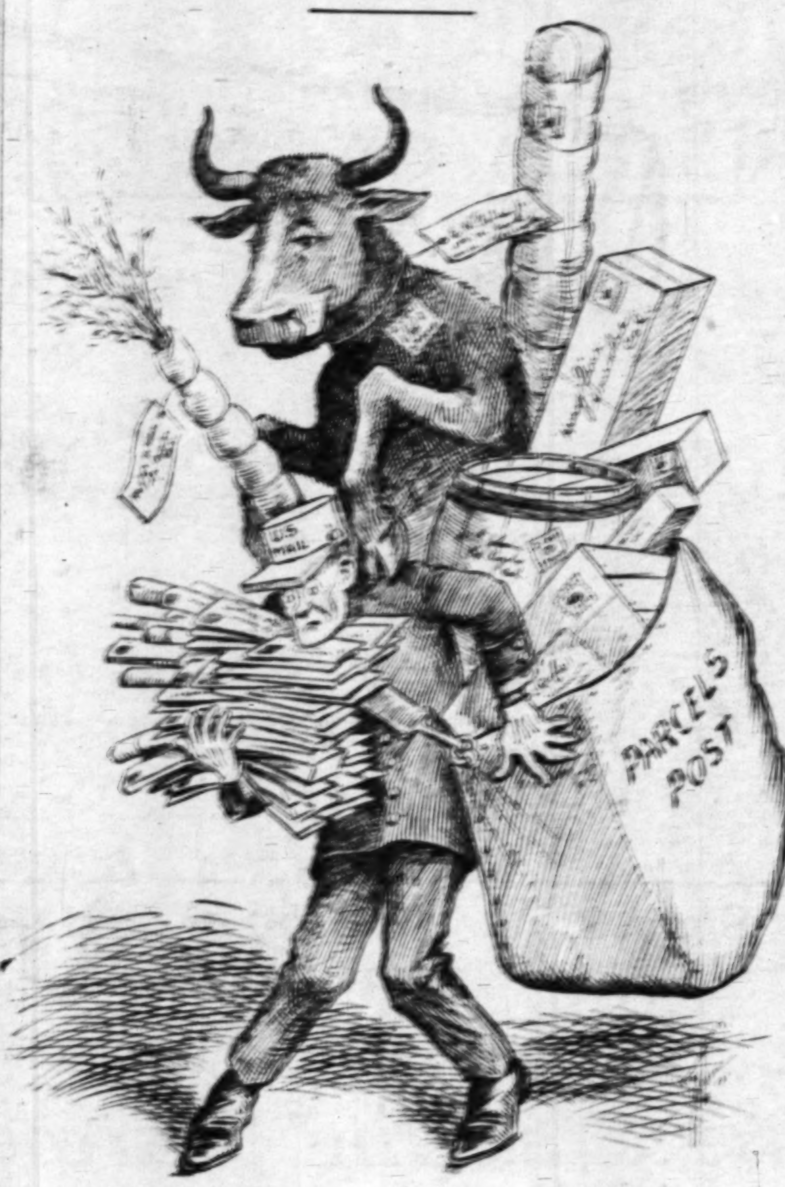
TAKING LEAVE.

When Polonius said to Hamlet, with a courtly genuflexion, "My Lord, I take my leave," and the bored Prince of Denmark uncivilly replied: "Sir, you could not take from me anything that I would more willingly part withal," there was reproduced upon the dramatic stage an incident that occurs every day in tens of thousands of American households. And with the same result. For, after all, Polonius did not go. He stayed around and stayed around, to the discomfiture, and disgust, and righteous wrath of Hamlet.

If such visitors would only remain in their seats until they were ready to go, and then go, one could endure the infliction of a prolonged visitation from them with more patience. It is the standing at the door and the iteration of the remark, "Well, I must be going," that hurts. Dr. Holmes says, "How hard it is for some people to get out of a room after their visit is really over. They want to be off, and you want to have them off, but they don't know how to manage it. One would think they had been built in your parlor or study and were waiting to be launched. I have contrived a sort of ceremonial inclined plane for such visitors. Lubricated with certain smooth phrases, I back them down, metaphorically speaking, stern-foremost, into their 'native element,' the great ocean of outdoors."

It is difficult to say the final word that immediately precedes the going. You can fill a quart jug with molasses in a minute. You can empty the jug of all except the last gill in the same time. But that last gill? Nor minutes, nor hours, nor days will avail to drain the jug and leave it as free from molasses as it was when you began to fill it.

Will It Come To This?



UNCLE WALT

The Poet Philosopher.

Poor old year! He's marked for slaughter, 'neath his load his shoulders bend, and we sadly watch him totter feebly to his destined end. Soon, ah soon he will be skiting where Time's sextons dig and delve; he is near there at this writing—poor old weary Nineteen Twelve! Recently so strong and burly, now we see him weak, decayed, while we do our shopping early in the busy haunts of trade. Soon Time's funeral director this old hoary year will shelve, and he'll be as dead as Hector—poor old crippled Nineteen Twelve! And it brings us somewhat nearer to our own appointed end; and we see now, somewhat clearer, shadows of the dusk descend; and our locks, once bright and curly, now begin to thin and fade, as we do our shopping early in the clanging marts of trade. Now our eyes are somewhat dimmer, and we long to wear a wig, and our legs are somewhat slimmer, while our waists are twice as big, and our briny tears are dropping as we view our double chins, while we wisely do our shopping ere the Christmas rush begins. Let us therefore live correctly, being fair and just to all, doing all things circumspectly, ready for the final call; for we may fly off the surface as an ay flies from its heive and be planted where the turf is like the old year Nineteen Twelve.

WEEK-END RELIGION.

BY LILLIAN COLLINS.

Not long since I was standing on the corner of Main and Second streets, waiting for a northbound car. It was a little past the noon hour and a trifle early for my appointment. The jangling of the cars, the moving stream of traffic, jarred upon nerves already a little rasped by a long morning at my desk. I looked about for a quiet place to rest for a short while and collect myself, before proceeding to what the afternoon might hold for me.

As though directed by my special need, my eyes rested upon the facade of St. Vibiana Cathedral. I had perhaps been within a Catholic edifice of worship but a half-dozen times during my life. I hesitated to enter, as one who fears to intrude upon some sacred rite in which he is not privileged to share.

But a longing for the cool shadows I knew I should find inside urged me, and the constant stream of people passing in and out through the swinging doors gave me courage to cross the threshold—and immediately my soul was enclosed in a deep silence. No sound from the outer world penetrated to that dim interior.

When my eyes had grown accustomed to the soft twilight, I looked about me. Not inquisitively, but with a curiously restful and interested attention. In the constantly-changing group of worshipers I saw young girls in frilly clothes, eager-faced boys, alert young men, old women with bowed shoulders and toil-worn hands, gray-haired men of affairs, workingmen, business and professional men—all husbanding from the hours of their busy lives a few moments each day for devotion and prayer.

Don't you know, it was a beautiful sight. I hope never to lose the vividness of that impression of holy silence. I am sure I brought with me out of that dimly-lighted church a something of aspiration which I did not carry in.

Presently my attention focused upon the figure of a man who occupied a seat several rows in advance of me. He had thrown himself forward upon the pew in front, and there was such an utter abandon in his attitude that only a great need could have held him so prostrate. He was still for a long time—so still that not a muscle moved, and even breathing seemed suspended. At last he rose and came slowly down the aisle.

I looked searchingly at him as he passed. Here was no lean-faced ascetic, dreaming away the midday hours that belonged to toil. Here was a man of brawn and muscle, manifestly used to heavy work. His face was strong and deeply lined with life's experience. A thrill of sympathy and understanding stirred in me. I felt as though grim tragedy brushed my garments in passing. The man looked neither to the right nor left. An expression akin to despair sat upon his rugged features.

I wonder if he found the way out of his trouble—don't you?

But wasn't it fine, and splendid, that this big, strong man should bring his problem to the listening ear of his Creator, at a time when so many able-bodied men elect to adjust their relations to life with a sandbag on a dark street corner?

Don't you wonder what his problem was? Was he out of work? Was he perhaps hungry? Was he wondering where his tired body would rest at night? So many things could have brought that awful look of despair to his virile features. For it was the face of a fighter—the face of a fighter at the last ditch—the face of a fighter as he goes down to defeat.

Don't you think that is just what churches are for? Not to be dusted and sunned and aired once a week for formal praise—but just a place where all travelling souls may find opportunity to lay down their burdens for a moment, when the load grows too heavy, or the way seems too long.

Religion is nothing if not intimate. Religion was never intended to be bound in vellum and gilt, to be handled with clean-washed, daintily-gloved fingers, to be chanted as an obligato to the harmony of deep-voiced organ tones. Religion was ordained expressly to serve the need of toil-spent, weary souls who need it most in their workday lives.

Don't you think it is a pity that our Protestant churches do not follow this beautiful Catholic custom of the open door? Don't you think it is a pity to keep the spirit of religion imprisoned within the dim sanctuary?

I never look upon the frowning, weekday exterior of our fine new churches but I see, invisibly written across the sealed doorway, the scroll-like legend: "Open next Sunday."

In the meantime——

Religion has gone about its weekly business.

Chance for Missionaries.

[Sunday Magazine:] A missionary stationed in a land where the natives were cannibals, wrote for assistance as follows:

"Our small force of brethren seems to be unable to cope with the distress which prevails in this dark and benighted land. Many of the natives are starving for food. Please send a few more missionaries."

A Precocious Child.

[Sunday Magazine:] Harriet was a very precocious little girl. One evening a friend of the family was asking her some questions in mental arithmetic.

Harriet thought for a moment, then: "Was the person a man or a woman?"

FAITH AND DOUBT.

Let a valiant Faith cross swords with Death
  And death is certain to fall.
For the dead arise with joy in their eyes;
  They were not dead at all.
If this were only a world of chance,
  Then faith, with its strong white spark,
Could burn through the sod and fashion a God
  And set Him to shine in the dark.

So in troublesome days, and in shadowy ways,
  In the dire and difficult time,
We must cling, we must cling to our Faith, and bring
  Our courage to heights sublime.
It is not a matter of hugging a creed
  That will lift us up to the light.
But in keeping our trust that Love is just
  And that whatever is, is right.

When the hopes of this world into chaos are hurled
  And the devil seems running the earth,
When the bad folks stay and the good pass away
  And greed fares better than worth,
Oh, that is the hour to trust in the Power
  That will straighten the tangle out.
For death and sorrow are little things,
  But a terrible thing is doubt.

Bishop & Company of California

THAT NEW LAW
BEWARE

A year or more ago Drastic Legislation to regulate investment and so-called "Home Building" enterprises and other corporations was strongly scented.

Inroads were then being made by new corporations, in a way, on the business of real estate dealers, building and loan associations, savings and other banks, and other established institutions. The "complexions" of the business of some were being changed by these inroads.

About that time a legion of "new companies" began the publicity act and those institutions began to grow and prosper.

It was then that a menace to general business became apparent—certain. It was impossible, for instance, that money should be drawn out of the pockets or accounts of the many to be replaced by stocks or other securities of problematical or even certain value without a protest from some source. The very large number and great variety of such offerings made it impossible for the most discerning and astute to intelligently and fairly discriminate and use, or traffic in such securities. There were two many offerings for any one person to investigate all.

Hence, two plans or policies were adopted:

1.—TO AVOID DANGEROUS SPECULATIONS AND COSTLY DEBTS—to be safe as possible under all circumstances, and thereby conserve the assets and the investments of the company and its customers, in any event.

2.—TO OFFER GOLD NOTES fortified by INDIVIDUAL SECURITY on a basis of as large interest as possible (8%.) looking for a fair profit beyond.

These undertakings have been unsuccessful. Consolidated Securities Company has created assets of over $450,000 with only 5% of debt in about eight months. Its accounts are regularly audited by a certified accountant (M. H. Bennett, Esq.) and its published statements certified to. Its attorney and general counsel (Richard Ingalese, Esq.) is frequently called into consultation to watch over and guide all transactions of moment. Hence, the officers and directors of this company are comfortable—its stockholders and investors are satisfied. Its future is as assured as the permanency and growth of Los Angeles.

The office of this company is at 637 South Hill street. Ground Floor.—[Advertisement.

GIBRALTAR
Scores Another Record!

Again has the Gibraltar Investment and Home Building Company received the unqualified support of the investor, who believes in California land values and the co-operative dollar. Hundreds who were anxious to inspect close at hand the Gibraltar Home Acre Tract at Bloomington have been registered for excursions to be run in the near future, after the capacity of the two special Southern Pacific trains chartered for Saturday and Sunday December 7 and 8 had been exhausted. The thousands VISITING the 1897 acres of Gibraltar on these two days attest to the greatness of the Gibraltar plan.

STRONG SUPPORT of CALIFORNIA ACRES

The purchase of the rich tract by the same company that is to plant it with its own trees from immense nurseries and sell on easy terms to orchard homeseekers and investors in California land has been approved in a manner that admits of no dispute. THOSE WHO WERE DISAPPOINTED AT THIS TIME AND WHO WISH TO STAND WITH THEIR FEET UPON THE SOIL AND BE SATISFIED AS TO THE RICHNESS OF THE GIBRALTAR LAND AND THE SATISFACTORY TERMS OF PURCHASE SHOULD REGISTER AT ONCE FOR THE FUTURE EXCURSIONS.

Great Endorsement of Co-operative
Land Investment

Gibraltar, incorporated in May, has established a record that means something to every prospective investor. The amount of stock subscribed for is now $1,002,267.84. The amount paid in is $700,656.01. Gibraltar has sold more stock to the public on the strength of the co-operative plan since July 1, than any co-operative investment company in Los Angeles or on the Pacific Coast. Gibraltar has sold more dollars worth of stock than any other co-operative investment company incorporated within the last 10 years, upon the Pacific Coast. This is a record for Gibraltar to be proud of and for the buyer of land or the investor to consider carefully. Gibraltar 8 per cent. preferred stock is unlimited in sharing greater profits and is exchangeable for the land.

SKYSCRAPERS TORN DOWN TO MAKE THOROUGHFARES LEVEL.

Excavation in Heart of Pittsburgh's Business District Is Almost Half Done—Cost Is Twenty Millions, But Profit Is More.

HILLS and bumps, standing in the pathway of the business district growth and presenting troublesome obstacles to adequate expansion, have become a serious and important problem for the people of at least a dozen American cities to solve. Seattle is just completing the removal of 14,000,000 cubic yards of dirt from its business section in order to establish level grades. Pittsburgh is about half way through the job of cutting down its famous "hump." Boston has long since reaped the reward of its big cutting and filling work. The profits were many millions.

In Los Angeles, leading business men and bankers are fighting on the advisability of cutting down Bunker Hill. Here, as in other cities which have taken a similar step or are considering one, the vital question is: Will it pay? A majority of the people of Seattle believed the work there would pay. Officials of the Chamber of Commerce there say this majority has so increased that the verdict is now practically unanimous.

Pittsburgh's task is one of the most spectacular and expensive regrading operations ever undertaken in the country. Business men of this city are interested in it because in some respects it offers a parallel situation to that here. It was undertaken after years of discussion because it was decided that there would be some immediate profit and an immensely greater future profit.

The Pittsburgh hump could have been cut down a hundred years ago for $1,000,000. Now it is costing $20,000,000. It probably would not have paid to do it a century ago. Now, there seems to be little doubt among those interested, that the smoky city will win several hundred per cent. on its investment.

According to statements made by the men who have figured prominently in the movement there, the question of cost, present and prospective values to individuals, prospective value to the city by reason of the addition of assessable property and the benefits of better traffic facilities were first considered. These formed a basis for arriving at the result as to immediate profit or loss. They found that the question of future benefits was answered differently by different persons and depended almost altogether on how optimistic each individual was concerning his city's future growth and importance.

The average Pittsburgh man believes the topography of his city is undergoing a transformation that will stand as one of the greatest civic engineering jobs ever undertaken by an American municipality.

The hump is a part of the downtown district that rises abruptly from Smithfield street to the crest of Grant Hill. When Pittsburgh was an outpost and the settlers at old Fort Pitt were defending themselves against the attacks of Indians, one of the military leaders, Grant, erected breastworks on the hill standing east of the blockhouse. Hence the name Grant Hill. This defense served well in the French and Indian War, but after that, the hill became an obstacle in the city's growth.

TALKS OVER CENTURY.

For more than a century Pittsburgh talked of cutting away the hump. In 1847 a seven-foot cut was made and forty years ago, another slice was taken from the top of this elevation. From that time until last May Pittsburgh talked hopefully of the time when the obstruction would be entirely removed. Mayor William A. Magee got the people to authorize a bond issue. Bids were advertised and almost before the residents realized the full import of the work, the streets were closed, the street railway system was changed and its cars temporarily diverted, and blasting gangs and great steam shovels were tearing into the most valuable property in the city.

Last week, Fifth avenue, the main traffic artery, was opened to street-car traffic on the new grade and all Pittsburgh is amazed at the change.

The work is not half completed. There are two and one-half miles of streets right in the heart of the city to be set on lower grades and repaved. This entails the lowering of sewers, tearing up and relaying car tracks, lowering telegraph and telephone wire conduits and other numerous contingencies of construction resulting from the improvements.

This operation upon the very vitals of the city involves an expenditure of approximately $20,000,000—this including razing many old buildings and the reconstruction of other buildings. The actual cost to the city of the hump removal is $700,000 including the reconstruction of sewers in the district affected.

What will be spent on new buildings following the completion of the work is largely speculation. The Hump district is crowded with old buildings. Owners of property, with the prospect of the regrade in mind, have for generations let the old buildings stand, fearful of erecting improvements that might prove losses through the very change now being effected.

When the time came to start regrading, property owners, almost without exception, waived damages and prepared to improve their property. Hundreds of old residences, stores, warehouses, churches, small office buildings, hotels and, in fact, buildings of nearly every description have been demolished because it was wiser economy to build anew than to bolster up the old. There are, however, scores of substantial buildings that are being lowered to conform to the new grades. Other big structures will be wrecked and many will be rebuilt.

The Allegheny Courthouse, crowning the top of Grant's Hill, was built at the anticipated grade and its beauty will be enhanced by its new setting. The Frick building, twenty-two stories high, and the Carnegie building, fifteen stories high, are being remodeled at their bases and their elevator shafts lengthened one floor. Hotel Henry, Kaufman's big department store which covered an entire block, bank buildings, newspaper plants are being reconstructed and made adaptable to the new grades.

Many Pittsburgh people were aghast when they first contemplated the stupendous contract undertaken, but now that it has been begun they are proud of it. The manner in which seemingly impossible reconstruction contracts were handled gave the city an insight into the resourcefulness and ingenuity of latter-day engineers and contractors.

Among the landmarks that have disappeared already were the old St. Paul's Cathedral and the Third United States Presbyterian Church, both immense stone structures that occupied most of the block bounded by Fifth and Sixth avenues, Grant street and Cherry alley. The towering spires of the cathedral came down without a brick balling into the streets. The tons of brick and stone were hauled away and the block left bare for the first time in more than a hundred years. Henry C. Frick owns this property and has not announced what he intends to do with it.

The question of disposing of the dirt found its answer ready-to-hand in Pittsburgh. While the city is cutting down the hill to expedite traffic and open up a fine business district, it is raising six miles of streets in the north side that lay inside the flood lines. There, each spring, after the snows melted in the mountains and rushed in torrents down the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers, the water rose in those streets sometimes to a depth of twelve feet.

Hundreds of families were driven from their homes and hundreds of lives went out as a toll to the disease the floods left in their wake. Now the Hump is being carried in wagons across the Allegheny River, one mile distant, and dumped into streets that will probably never again be inundated.

This is the longest haul required on the job. Most of the street elevating has been done in the north side of town and now the Pennsylvania Railroad is taking the dirt in cars from its Try-street yards for use in roadbed filling. The haul from any part of the excavation to the yards will not exceed a quarter of a mile.

Nearly all the Hump was solid rock and the contractors in attacking it have used dynamite in small charges to loosen it. Because of the rock formation and the necessity of constantly working around valuable buildings, the task has been more difficult and more expensive than if the soil had been shale.

A Store of Xmas Gifts Practical
The Christmas problem, always a difficult one, always a source of thought and worry and care, can be solved satisfactorily to all parties, only when you, the giver, adopt what is most practical for your Holiday remembrances. Now we are moderately certain that no woman will fail to appreciate a suit, or a coat, or handsome plume, or a pair or a box of gloves, or a petticoat, or a dainty waist, especially when that gift comes to her in one of the New York Store's Holiday boxes and bears the imprint of New York Store quality. To the woman who wishes her Christmas presents to other women to be, above all else, practical, this store holds forth myriad suggestions.
—A New York Store Merchandise Order—Splendid!

Petticoat Sale at $1.95 to $3.95
More than one thousand new petticoats have arrived this week; all colors, all smart materials, all newest styles.
Twelve Wonderful Values to Benefit Monday Shoppers
Some time ago we announced in one of our Sunday advertisements, what we considered the ten greatest values in the entire store. Our judgment was accepted unquestioningly. Women thanked us for selecting, for their benefit, the greatest bargains, where great bargains are the invariable rule. And encouraged by the success of our former effort, we have selected for you now, a dozen other splendid values which we believe can not be approached, much less duplicated, in any other shop in Los Angeles.
Suits Worth $27.50 at $15. A number of those splendid blue serges which you have appreciated—a number of those new English designs which you have wanted—smart new models in various other fabrics—all fully guaranteed to be up to the New York Store standard. For Monday, values to $27.50 will be offered at this price of $15.
And $45 Suits for $25. In this assortment the real imported fabrics which none but the most exclusive tailor shops have heretofore been able to obtain, made up into suits on plain or fancy lines, and never intended to be sold for less than $45.
Dress Sale, Velvets at $14.75. Some of the richest gowns we have shown this year, worth conservatively as high as $35, will be grouped for Monday buyers and priced at $14.75. Here are blacks or colors or combinations of attractive shades in a grade of velvet that it will surprise you to see offered for less than $30 or $35.
Charmeuse Dresses Worth $25 for $11.75. Another dress sale of the utmost importance includes these splendid charmeuse creations in black and in the popular shades in the newest clinging, draped designs.
Your Furs Bought Now. Will give you an advantage of wide selection not lightly to be overlooked. Exclusive ermine sets and pieces, those in mink, in fox, in wolf, in civet are priced now at figures which make purchasing a decided attraction. And, owing to the lateness of the season, the lines at present are full—the stocks almost as extensive as a month ago. Prices, to facilitate quick selling, have been reduced to a minimum.
Sale of Motor and Johnny Coats $14.75. We shall start right out by calling these $25 values, and we challenge a comparison of these coats with any $25 garments which are offered, even at special prices, anywhere on Broadway. Lined or unlined models, in three-quarter or full lengths, in all the new fabrics, in the latest styles.
New Plush Coat Arrivals $22.50. For more than a month women have been waiting for the arrival of these handsome new plush coats. But they have come at last, and we have priced them, though never intended to sell for less than $30, at $22.50.
Waists in Chiffon and Fine Lace Reduced One-Fourth A uniform reduction throughout our entire line of better waists in chiffon and fine lace. The prices formerly were from $12.75 to $27.50—the prices now are from $8.75 to $21.50. Not a single one of our more exclusive models has escaped this general price-cutting.
Trimmed Hats at Three Prices, $1.95, $3.95, $9.75. A really remarkable offering in trimmed hats for morning, afternoon and evening wear, including felts, bright-finished felts, beavers, and every other material of which smart hats are made, trimmed with latest flower designs, with newest ribbon effects, with most uncommon fancy feathers. We shall take pleasure in demonstrating to you beyond all question that the hats in each price division are now nearly one-half lower than their true values.
French Plume Sale, $5 to $12.50
And Hat Shapes, Also at Three Prices, $1.00, $3.50, $7.50 Here is the chance that you have been waiting for, to pick up a really beautiful hat shape at a price that represents less than its actual wholesale cost. All colors, all sizes, in felt, velvet, plush and beaver.
Very Special New Auto Veils at $1.95. It would be difficult to conceive of a more appropriate or more practical Christmas gift than one of these handsome automobile veils. New lines, new colors, new ideas.
Others at $3.95. Veils in this assortment that we are confident you could not possibly equal at any other store in the city for less than $5. The new double chiffon effects included.

TRAVELER CLIPS LONG END FROM HIS TIME.

WHEN Aaron L. Chamberlin made his first trip to California, it occupied five months and fif- een days. Now he has made the trip ain and clipped five months and ten ays off his first running time, though 9 years old. The first trip was made n a two-horse wagon, the second in a ullman. As he reviews the two trips f his new home in Covina, Chamber- n is of the opinion that he enjoyed he first more than the second. He as been living in New York and hiladelphia since 1868, engaged in usiness.

ut to cross the plains in 1850, om Savanna, Ill., to Nevada City, as to experience pleasure liberally ed with fear and doubt. Cham- erlin says so, and he is corroborat- d by others now living, but the band f men and women that made the rek in the year after Marshall found old is very small, and dwindling ore rapidly than the Grand Army f the Republic.

About the only thing which this enerable man of the gold-rush days ould point to out of the Covina alley and recognize as of old is he stern head of "Old Baldy" tow- ering white out of the lesser peaks f the Sierra Madre. About the only hing he might recognize in Los An- eles as a comrade of 1850 is the ld Plaza church, which Chamberlin ays he saw from a bare hill above he pueblo. He could have bought he hill he stood on for less than the rice of a sack of flour, but if any- ody had sold it to him they would ave grinned behind their hands. ow the patriarch hears that millions ay be spent to tear this hill away, ecause there is need of the level round.

ixty-two years is a long time to emember details, but Chamberlin ecalls clearly some of the things of that ong journey with eight other young en which will persist in the mem- ory, such as hunger and thirst. He emembers the courage of the wom- en he saw on the long trail. He re- members the day the water gave out.

WATER AND BREAD.

"We had been struggling several days toward a spring in one of the ...s," said Chamberlin yesterday. "It's so long ago I don't even remem- ber the first names of the men with me—there was Buchanan, and Stead- ... and King, and the two McCon- ... brothers, and yes, there was ... Barker. It finally came to a ... where they played out, and I left John back on the desert, for we were pretty close to where it was said we would find the spring. When I got to the place, I found several men camped in a little canyon, and when I looked at them one of them was at that moment drinking out of a can. I asked them to show me the spring. They replied that there was no spring—that there was no water in the hills. It seemed that some one had left a big keg of water, hung up at some time when the rains were washing down the hill, and these men had found it. I told them that I had to have water—that John was lying in the desert. I finally got ... back with canteens full, and when I had found John, we stumbled upon the trail of two people, and very soon we saw a man and woman staggering along. They had their arms about each other. They were ... for want of water. I told John that whatever happened we would have to give these people wa- ter, because they never would make it the way they were stagger- ing. We caught up with them. They couldn't speak, but looked at our cans, and I handed the woman one of them. She handed it imme- diately to her husband and began to thank God for their deliverance."

Chamberlin and his companions reached the Truckee River, where he found hundreds of caravans, prepar- ing to make the hazardous hike over the high Sierras. They were out of food, and although they had money, they could not buy.

Starvation, when success seemed in sight, was a maddening thing to con- template. Chamberlin's party lay down and gave themselves up to the ... that comes of hunger. But Chamberlin, who had ridden his horse from one outfit to another, saw an- other encampment across the river, and tried it as a last resort. An old man and woman, with a sorry team of horses, were huddled be- neath the trees. The woman was baking loaves of bread from the ... They would not sell, but the woman gave him bread, and the blood flowed back into the disheart- ened voyager as he ate. As he looked at the woman he recognized her. They were the same whom he had met in the desert months before. Fate caused them to meet for the second time, and the woman told of having been saved in the desert by young men. The story came from Chamberlin's mouth. The woman heaped her thanks upon him with tears running down her haggard ...

"You needed water and we had wa- ter and gave it to you," said Cnam- berlin. "We needed bread. You had bread and gave it. We are square."

IN THE GOLD COUNTRY.

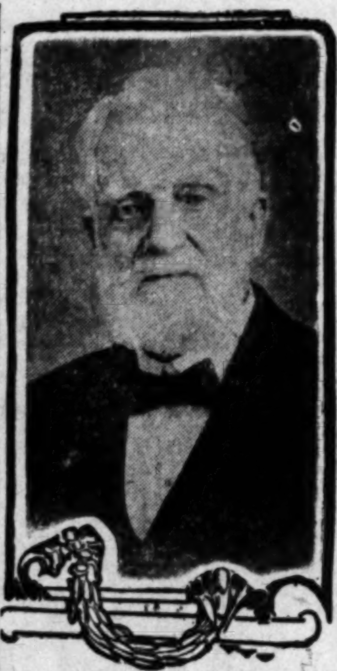
The venerable Chamberlin speaks of a man Waldo, whom all know who have studied the history of Cal- ifornia. This man, who once ran for governor, was the Good Sa- maritan of that terrible journey over the Land of eHart's Desire. Many blessed him in that time, and Waldo was accused of having made money out of the helpless emigrants, but Chamberlin says this is not so—that this here is the truth—that Waldo spent his fortune in a desire to re- lieve the situation during the years of ... 1853. Flour was dealt out under his command.

It was to one of these free-flour stations that Chamberlin applied after his experience with the old couple who had given him bread. The man in charge asked him if he had money. "Of course I have money," said Chamberlin; "if I had no money I would not come here for flour."

"Then you can get nothing here," said the provision man. "This flour is for those who have no money."

A little farther he could buy at the provision stores, he was told. At one of these Chamberlin purchased a sack of flour for $62.50, gold. The sack weighed fifty pounds.

On the Feather River Chamberlin took ... out of one pocket, only to see the river wash away all trace of most of the gold during the ... He finally became a mer- chant in San Francisco, and during ... he was offered a place on the board of directors of the newly- formed ... Pacific Railroad. Col- ...ngton, a merchant in San Francisco in those days, urged Chamberlin to join the others in this great project. But Chamberlin be- lieved the building of a railroad over the Sierras was a chimerical dream.



Aaron L. Chamberlin,

Whose first trip to California took five months and ten days longer than that just completed.

In 1854 Chamberlin became a mem- ber of Butte Lodge, No. 36, F.&A.M., and in 1855 of Mt. Moriah Lodge, San Francisco. A few months ago the secretary of this lodge told him that he is the only member of that period living.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE CALLED TO LOOK IT OVER.

Chairman Lee Summons Executive Committee Into Council to Consider the Municipal Situation Next Tuesday—Will Meet Tuesday Afternoon.

At the instigation of many persons who are alarmed at the present tan- gled situation in municipal affairs as a result of the duplicity, inefficiency and inanity of a coterie of adminis- tration weaklings, Chairman Lee has summoned the Executive Committee of the Citizens' Committee to consid- er the situation. The attached letter was issued yesterday and mailed to the members of the Executive Com- mittee:

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 7, 1912.
To the Executive Committee of the Citizens' Committee, Los Angeles, Cal.

Gentlemen: A special meeting of the Executive Committee will be held at Room 839 H. W. Hellman Build- ing, Tuesday, December 10, at 3 p.m. This meeting is called by Chairman Bradner W. Lee in response to a re- quest, signed by members of the Gen- eral and Executive committees, asking that he call such meeting for the pur- pose of considering the advisability of having the General Committee meet to consider the present municipal sit- uation.

Every member of the Executive Committee is earnestly urged to be present.

Very truly,
J. J. PETERMICHEL,
Secretary.

WHAT IS THIS ROCK?

Puente Man's Find, Five or Six Hundred Million Years Old, Presents Strange Geological Paradox.

"Two thousand years ago," says the slavey girl in Hoyt's "Trip to China- town," "I vas a geese." That is about as far as the imagination will carry with anything like accuracy, yet there is in the possession of W. C. Strickler, Puente, a strangely-shaped fossil- like formation out of a past so dis- tant that figures convey no intel- ligence. Five or six hundred millions of years the rockologists of the Phila- delphia Academy of Natural Sciences say, and these specialists ought to know. At any rate a little matter of a few millions of years does not seri- ously affect the narrative, which has been generating its news value all that time.

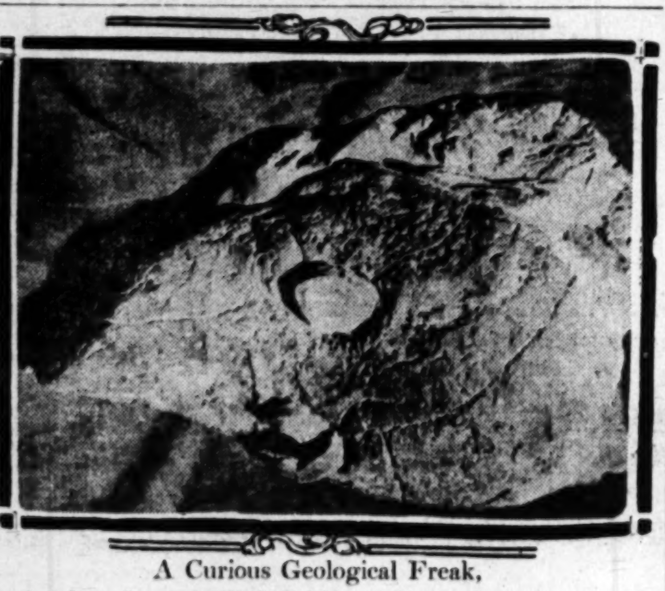
Mush is a queer simile to use in describing the origin of this ante- diluvian chunk, but just the same it was formed when the crust of the earth was boiling and bubbling for all the world like a pot of mush ready to serve with cream and sugar.

This particular bit of "mush" didn't know anything about Puente then, and when gradually the cooling process went forward the section of the earth in which it had its bub- bling start sank and was covered with salt water and little animals called because their shells were reticulated like a woman's veil, deposited bit by bit the upper part of the rock which is full of the shells of these low-browed ancestors of ours.

The specimen is of two distinct for- mations, the whole taking on the shape of a fox's head. The eyes are determinable, and also the back of the head, with possibly a glimpse of an ear or two, if the imagination is especially good. The remarkable freak of nature involved in the exhibit, which was found near Lake Coyuga, lies in the amalgamation of the two entirely separate formations and the eruption of one through the other to make the eyes.

If, as the scientists claim, the upper rock was deposited shell by shell, by the base or under rock belongs to a much older period. Prof. Ernest Haeckel of Ger- many believes that the antiquity of the fossil reaches back to the "mush" period, and that it belongs several miles beneath the surface of the earth.

The piece was probably broken off from the parent rock during the glacial period when most of what is now the United States was covered with ice. It is said to be the only specimen representative of so "an- cient of days" in visible existence. Its owner is interested in exhibiting it to those who have a knowledge of geology, and it may be placed on view at some accessible point in Los An- geles.



A Curious Geological Freak,

Found at Lake Cayuga by W. C. Strickler of Puente. It is not a fossilized fox's head, but an odd combination of rocks of widely different ages and of igneous and aqueous origins, according to experts. The peculiar thing about it is the fact that one kind of rock has boiled up through the other, to form the "eyes" shown, in spite of the long hiatus of years between them.

HOT BATH IS FATAL.

Young Man Dies of Heart Trouble from Entering Warm Water Too Soon After Hearty Meal.

William Litschge, 22 years old, who roomed at No. 1637 Girard street, succumbed to an attack of heart trouble yesterday afternoon, superin- duced by taking a hot bath too soon after eating a hearty meal. The body was removed to the Bresee mortuary after the Coroner had been notified. Litschge was an employee of the Union Hardware and Metal Company.

Shortly after Litschge retired to the bathroom, Miss Minnie Sutton heard him call for help. Unable to force the bathroom door, she summoned two carpenters from across the street. They broke open the door. The life- less body was found in a sitting pos- ture, with the head tilted back against the faucets.

Litschge came from New Kensing- ton, near Pittsburgh, where his par- ents, said to be wealthy, reside.

CHANUKAH SERVICES.

Hebrew School Children and Their Elders to Celebrate Today With Extensive Programme.

Several hundred Jewish school children, pupils of the educational de- partment of the Congregation Beth Israel, will participate in the Chanu- kah services to be held in the syna- gogue at Olive and West Temple streets this afternoon. An extensive programme, including vocal and in- strumental music as well as addresses by the principal of the school and teachers, has been arranged.

The recurrance of this celebration is one of the most important events of the year. These services are held in commemoration of the miracle of the oil in the synagogues burning eight days when it was supposed that but enough for one day remaind. The services also commemorate the vic- tory of the ancient Hebrews over their enemies. In all synagogues and Hebrew temples over the country the services are being commemorated.

Although strictly speaking, the celebration of this Hebrew holiday began last Thursday, it will be con- tinued for a period of eight days. The programme arranged for today at the Beth Israel Temple will be the most elaborate anywhere in the city. Among the principal speakers will be Rev. M. A. Alter and Mr. Jaffe of the Hebrew school.

IMMANUEL ACTIVITIES.

The Brotherhood of Immanuel Presbyterian Church will be addressed tomorrow evening by Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher. On Tuesday an all-day meeting of the Women's Missionary Society will be held, when Dr. Mary H. Fulton of China and Miss Leila Quimby of Colombia will deliver ad- dresses.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS.

The following examinations by the Civil Service Commission will be held on January 8: Entomological assist- ant, for service outside Washington, salary from $1400 to $1800 per year; laboratory assistant, in physics, in the Bureau of Standards, salary, $900 to $1200 per year.

CHRISTMAS SALE.

A sale of Christmas articles will be held in the Holy Cross Hall, begin- ning on Monday night and continu- ing through the week. Donations of fancy articles are solicited. There will be a special musical programme each evening.

TEACHERS' MEETING.

E. J. Meacham of Cincinnati, re- garded as a leading Sunday-school expert, will address Interdenomina- tional Teachers' Union at Broadway Christian Church, tomorrow evening. The fellowship supper will begin at 6:15; the programme at 7. All in- terested persons are invited.

SANTA CLAUS LETTERS.

Mails Full of Missives from Little Folks to that Dear Gray-bearded Gent, St. Nick.

Already the letter-carriers of Los Angeles, on their daily rounds col- lecting mail in all parts of the city, are beginning to encounter curiously- scrawled missives from the wee folks of great faith who know that Santa Claus can decipher their letters, even though big brothers and elder sisters may laugh at their attempts. The few weeks before Christmas are always productive of hundreds of Santa Claus letters which in some mysterious manner find their way into the gov- ernment mail boxes.

Occasionally the clerks at the post- offices, or perhaps the carrier who collects the mail, is able to read the letters. Seldom if ever do the chil- dren who write Santa Claus go to the unnecessary trouble of putting stamps on their communications. Oftentimes the letters are free of envelopes, but always the intention of the writer is apparent. Even experienced clerks sometimes disagree over the meaning of foreign letters, but there is never a question as to the intended destina- tion of a Santa Claus letter.

Everybody knows that a Santa Claus letter reaches its destination. Whether the letter is properly writ- ten, encased in an envelope and stamped, or is simply scrawled on a piece of wrapping paper, or put into the grate and permitted to go up the flue, the result is the same. Santa Claus knows the hearts of little boys and girls and Postmaster Harrison is in sympathy with him so that no let- ters will go astray.

PANAMA RESERVATIONS.

Applications for accommodations on the Chamber of Commerce Pan- ama excursion cannot be received aft- er Tuesday next as the chamber must make its remittance to the United States Fruit Company to hold the res- ervations which have been made, their custom being to require a de- posit six weeks in advance of sale date as business is heavy at this time of year. The chamber has been able to obtain this extension of three days and all who have not made their reservations and desire to go are re- quested to do so at once. On the re- turn trip the railroads will allow stopovers at New Orleans, El Paso or the Grand Canyon.

BEEKEEPERS' MEETING.

The California State Beekeepers' Association will meet at the Young Men's Christian Association, this city, on Thursday next for a three-day ses- sion. The convention will open at 10 o'clock Thursday morning and close with an afternoon session on Satur- day. Addresses will be delivered by many men expert in apiaculture.

In the matter of taking care of sewers, mains, wires and the like methods vary according to conditions. The gas mains were provided for temporarily by lines strung under temporary sidewalks. These sidewalks were erected at the beginning of work just over the old walks. As the work progressed the old walks were torn out, leaving the wooden substitutes for the use of pedestrians. Water lines, where they could not be cut out by reason of lack of supply from other sources, were generally maintained in their old positions, being supported in various ways while the workmen were excavating underneath.

Leveling the Hump in Pittsburgh's Business Heart.

The work was begun last May and is almost half done. Although the hump is less than one-tenth as large as Bunker Hill in Los Angeles, the job is costing $20,000,000. Hundreds of buildings have been wrecked and scores of others are being lowered to the new level. Great stone churches, landmarks for half a century, have disappeared and twenty-story buildings are being remodeled. The cuts vary from six feet to sixteen feet in the principal thoroughfares. All the excavation is being done by means of dynamite and steam shovels. The Pittsburgh hill is composed largely of solid rock and is costing more per yard than the estimate for Bunker Hill, which is chiefly composed of soft shale.

WILL NOT ENTER POLITICS.

Chamber of Commerce Declines to Take Initiative in Framing New Charter or Amending Old One.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce yesterday formally declined to take the initiative in framing a new city charter or amending the present charter as suggested and requested by the Municipal League last Wednesday.

Resolutions passed by the Board of Directors of the Chamber yesterday declare in favor of immediate steps to redraft the present charter or to make amendments with a view to remedying what they term obvious and grave difficulties in the city's organic law.

The resolution further states "that it is inadvisable and in conflict with the well established precedents of this Chamber of Commerce to undertake to appoint or to suggest the appointment of a Board of Freeholders as requested by the Municipal League."

The resolutions were referred to the municipal authorities, as in the judgement of the Chamber of Commerce directors the initiative should be taken by the responsible city officials.

TOLL CENTENNIAL REQUIEM.

Destruction of Old Mission Church in Orange County to Be Commemorated by Impressive Services.

The destruction of the Mission church at San Juan Capistrano in Orange county 100 years ago will be commemorated in the present Mission church in that city tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock by a high mass of requiem.

The church fell in the earthquake of December 8, 1812, while services were being held. Forty Indians were killed. It is for these that tomorrow's services will be held. Jose de Gracia Cruz, the hereditary bell-ringer and almost the only San Juaneno left, will toll the Mission bells forty times in honor of the forty dead.

FALLS THIRTY FEET.

Workman No More than Bruised After Long Drop—Mail Driver Has Broken Leg After Fight.

Contusions of the left hip, wrist and ankle were the only injuries Tom Tracy, 42 years old, No. 1107 West Eleventh street, sustained yesterday when he fell thirty feet off a pole at Grand avenue and Pico street. That Tracy was not either killed or more seriously injured is considered remarkable for he landed on the ground. He was working at the top of a tent pole when the guy-rope supporting him parted.

Jacob W. Rosswurm, 40 years old, No. 528 New High street, a mail driver, sustained a fracture of the left leg near the ankle yesterday during a fight at the Santa Fe Depot with Clarence McCracklem over the handling of mail sacks. Rosswurm said that McCracklem broke his leg by kicking him after he had been knocked down.

Mrs. Mary Schmidtke, 64 years old, a widow, living at No. 176 West Thirty-sixth street, sustained a fracture of the left leg yesterday afternoon while alighting from a funeral car at Main and Jefferson streets. Mrs. Schmidtke was en route home from the Inglewood Cemetery where she attended the funeral of the late H. Diehr.

SHOAF MAY BE HERE.

Anarchist Supposed by Friends to Have Been Sandbagged, Reported Very Much Alive.

Private advices from Kansas supplemented by information in the possession of the District Attorney, indicate that George H. Shoaf, the employee of an anarchistic sheet published in Girard, Kan., has once more returned to this city, presumably to attend the trial of Clarence Darrow which is set for January 5.

Information received from Kansas tends to show that Shoaf is under cover here and is secretly communicating with Warren and Wayland of the Appeal to Reason, the rabid red sheet which has been under Federal surveillance for some time because of the alleged obscene character of many of its articles.

When here previously, Shoaf did the "disappearing act," leaving his cap and a bludgeon stained with red ink, in an alley. His friends at once raised a hue and cry that he had been slugged by Burns men and his father came on from Texas in pretended grief at the fabricated disappearance of his son.

Shoaf while here tried to get some notoriety by declaring that the Times Building was destroyed by gas and by other malicious assertions. He was supposed to be a pseudo detective for the McNamara defense.

Soon after he disappeared, he was traced East and finally the Appeal to Reason, which had shed hypocritical tears of ink over the affair, was obliged to acknowledge the fake.

"EL CASINO MEXICANO."

Home Building to Be Erected Here by Mexicans Who Desire to Perpetuate Spanish Arts.

The Mexican colony of Los Angeles has formed a club which is planning to rear a home building and to incorporate under the name of "El Casino Mexicano."

The size and cost of the structure are undetermined and the plan is still in the preliminary stage. All the funds necessary to carry out the idea are not yet available but it is understood little difficulty will be met with in raising the money.

The building will be located on Pico street, on a site to be definitely selected later. Members of the organization are greatly interested in the project and their enthusiasm seems to assure its being carried through.

The club's membership is made up of the higher class of Mexicans and a number of concerts and dances recently given by them have been featured by the gallantry and courtly manners peculiar to this type, recalling those of France in the Eighteenth century.

One purpose of the organization is to promote an interest in the Mexican republic, its literature, art and people, and to extend knowledge along this line to persons of other nationalities.

It will be necessary to raise a fund here estimated at $6000 to finance the campaign, in addition to outside subscriptions, but local business men seen today believe that sum can easily be raised for this purpose. To consider Raisin Day matters, a meeting of the Kings County Chamber of Commerce has been called for next Thursday night at Armory Hall, when it will probably be decided whether or not this city will take up the project.

SELL SCHOOL BONDS.

The Supervisors today sold the $36,000 worth of Hanford school district bonds recently voted for the purpose of constructing another new building in this city and make improvements on the present structures. The First National Bank of this city was the purchaser, paying $2160 premium. The Trustees will probably now proceed with building operations.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Declaring that wherever her husband went she would follow, Mrs. Erminia Giusta of Grangeville this morning refused in Justice Meadows's court to give bonds on a charge of "blind-pigging," and was taken to jail with her husband. The date of their trial has not yet been set.

The Supervisors have apportioned $30,000 from the county general fund into the road funds of the several districts, as follows: District No. 1, $8769; No. 2, $8466; No. 3, $5184; No. 4, $7581.

Dr. Ralph Motheral, who was a few days ago appointed county physician, has resigned and the Supervisors have appointed Dr. R. W. Musgrave to the position.

That the bounty of $2 per head placed by the county on the scalps of coyotes killed within this county is proving effective in ridding this district of the destructive beasts is shown by the fact that during their present session the board allowed bounty on 378 scalps.

In a sensational raid last night on a number of Chinese gambling joints, participated in by Mayor Charles Coe and a number of officers, thirty prisoners and a large amount of gambling paraphernalia were taken. Every one of the prisoners put up $10 bail in the Police Court, which today was declared forfeited when the defendants failed to appear for trial.

This morning was the coldest of the winter here and the coldest experienced here in a number of years, it is believed, the thermometer dropping to 26 deg. No damage is reported, however.

A meeting is soon to be called for the purpose of organizing an athletic club here. Harry Dalton, former football coach, is heading the movement and reports many interested in the enterprise. It is proposed to equip a large gymnasium and also go in for various outdoor sports.

GRADE FIGHT GROWS BITTER.

Glendale Residents Ask the Pacific Electric to Lower Its Tracks the Entire Length of Brand Boulevard.

GLENDALE, Dec. 7. — The residents of this place have reopened the fight between this city and the Pacific Electric Company by refusing to accept the terms of the railroad company in regard to the lowering of the company's tracks on Brand boulevard.

After being requested for the past three years to lower its grade on the boulevard, the tracks now being from one to three feet above the grade of the street and making the tracks, except at cross streets, uncrossable, the proposition made to the city by the company was that if the city would improve the side streets with asphalt the company would improve the boulevard from Third to Fifth streets and would lower the tracks between these two points. The company agrees to establish more crossings over the tracks for the convenience of the Glendale people, but refuses to give up its private right of way and only proposes to pay one-half of the cost of improvement of its right of way in the event of the streets being improved.

J. McMillan, general manager of the railway company, has stated that the company would be willing to have its property condemned if paid for, and if the people desired such car service as would result. As to putting the grade of the tracks down to the grade of the street along the entire length of Brand boulevard, McMillan assures the local public that the company will certainly object.

Residents have become indignant and have again thrown their hats into the ring, by declaring that they will agree to nothing less than the railway company lowering the grade, of its tracks across the entire length of Brand boulevard to the seven-inch grade, meaning that the crown of the tracks shall be seven inches above the curb line. With the object in view of securing this seven-inch grade a committee of citizens, consisting of Mattison B. Jones, Ezra F. Parker, Dr. L. N. Rudy and J. H. Foley was appointed to act with two Trustees to take the matter up with the railway company.

LEAGUE DEBATE.

Glendale High School's first debate of the season takes place at the High School auditorium Friday evening, December 13. It is a simultaneous affair in which both Santa Ana and Glendale will have two teams. The question, "Resolved, That the United States Should Accede to England's Proposal to Submit to the Hague Court the Question of Free Tolls for American Vessels Passing Through the Panama Canal," was submitted by Santa Ana. Fred Blackington and Earl Farnsworth of Glendale will uphold the affirmation in this city, and will be met by Miss Elsie Wingood of Santa Ana. Miss Alma Turner and Presley Moore will go to Santa Ana to uphold the negative view against Bertrant West and Ruth Inwood of Santa Ana. The local teams are training diligently for the affair.

The Glendale News has won its case against the Jewel City Press, both weekly publications in this city, in their fight for the legal printing of the city. About a month ago when the yearly contract for the legal printing was to be let both papers gave a bid for the work, the News bid being 30 cents for the first insertion and 25 cents for each subsequent insertion, while the bid of the Press was 18 cents per inch, straight. The question then arose, on account of the Press having been printed in this city for only the last three months, whether or not that paper was in line for the legal work. The case was before Judge Frank G. Finlayson for about a month, decision being finally given to the News.

HE QUITS; SHE LOSES.

DESERTION MAKES TROUBLE.

An interesting suit was decided by Judge Houser yesterday, involving Mrs. Anna Johnson; George W. Porter, who purchased her property; a building and investment company and a husband who disappeared. Judgment was given for Porter against Mrs. Johnson.

The Johnsons owned a lot on Hill street, valued at about $1250. In order to make the lot profitable they decided to build a house on it. They made a deal with the Maine Building and Investment Company which was to advance the necessary money, taking a mortgage on the premises. The house cost $6000.

While the Johnsons were living in the house and paying on contract a monthly installment, Johnson informed his wife that he was going to leave home. He departed and she alleged she never saw him again. It was charged that she fell back on the payments, and it was agreed that the place be sold. Porter bought it and brought suit to foreclose.

Mrs. Johnson contested the foreclosure on the ground that she was a married woman and that her husband should be joined in the suit. The court found that as Johnson had deserted her, this was not necessary. It was contended that the mortgage was in form of a deed. The court held that she estopped herself to set up that right against Porter as he was an innocent purchaser for value.

YOUNG LAWYER DISCOURTEOUS.

A young attorney, whose Police Court methods in the trial of a suit before Judge Fred V. Wood of Amador county last week disturbed the dignity of Extra Sessions One, brought down on his own head a severe rebuke. His associate apologized for him.

Judge Wood waited until the conclusion of the trial, remarking that he had been a humble member of the bar for more than twenty years, had been a Police Court judge, where such conduct from a lawyer might be expected, had sat on the Superior Court bench in a dozen counties, and in this county had conducted trials where the attorneys have a reputation for courteous conduct. He was forced to say, more in sorrow than in anger, he declared, that the conduct of the young attorney had been insolent.

He said if he had been in his own court he would have fined the attorney, but being a visiting judge he wanted to make it plain that he did not intend to try an action in which he was engaged as counsel.

It is understood the court's criticism will be used as a basis for action on the part of the Bar Association to inquire into the discourteous methods of certain attorneys, especially the younger members, with the view of teaching them court ethics.

STOCKHOLDERS' FIGHT.

PLACER CLAIMS IN DISPUTE.

Charles H. Gilman and others, in behalf of the stockholders of the Cadiz Marble Company, ask for an accounting of forty-seven placer locations which they allege were appropriated and conveyed to the use of the Cadiz Consolidated Marble Company, and for a restraining order to prevent the transfer of the claims. An order to show cause was made returnable by Judge Willis yesterday in Department One on the 16th inst.

The suit is against the Cadiz Consolidated Company, D. W. Blakeslee, president, and J. W. Forster. It is alleged Blakeslee had the assignment work on forty-seven placer locations and when the company's funds gave out he was notified to discontinue work. This, it is averred, he did not do, and the plaintiffs allege they are held as trustee and belong to the stockholders of the company.

ANOTHER WOMAN.

WIFE ASKS ALIMONY.

Edith Leach is named as the cause of the marital trouble of Emilie L. Whittingham, who filed suit for alimony without divorce against Maj. Whittingham yesterday. She says Whittingham earns $150 a month and she asks $90 a month alimony.

Mrs. Whittingham alleges her husband deserted her September 29 last, and since then has sent her $75 a month, but now threatens to deprive her of the allowance. The couple were married at Milwaukee December 7, 1898, and have no children.

IN THE INFERIOR COURTS.

Woman Past Seventy Defends Herself Against Charge of Having Conducted Disorderly House—Loses.

Mrs. A. Nickles, 73 years old, was a spectacular defendant in the Police Court yesterday, charged with having conducted a disorderly house at No. 464 East Fourth street. Despite her years and feeble health, Mrs. Nickles acted as her own attorney—and lost.

The house was raided recently by the Metropolitan Squad. For an hour Mrs. Nickles was subjected to a fire of questions. She was found guilty and ordered to appear in court tomorrow for sentence.

Violates Quarantine.

Mrs. C. Ketchum was convicted in Police Judge Frederickson's court yesterday of having violated the quarantine ordinance by visiting the home of her daughter, where her grandchildren were stricken with scarlet fever. It was testified in Mrs. Ketchum's behalf that the attending physician told her she could visit the house. As there was no testimony to discredit her assertion the court suspended a $10 fine.

Two Speeders Fined.

Claud Livermore was fined $25 or twenty-five days yesterday by Police Judge Chambers for having speeded on South Figueroa street. Livermore said he was in a hurry to get home to a sick wife. B. W. Janney, who offered no excuse for a similar offense, paid a like sum.

Year-old Plea.

Theodore Maass, who was arrested for intoxication after returning from Pasadena, where he said he had dinner with a friend, is the first man to be arraigned in the Police Court and on conviction, ask for a suspended sentence on the plea that he doesn't want to spend Christmas in jail.

"I want to get home for Christmas," said Maass. "I live in Chicago."

Lieut. Adams testified that Maass insisted he was not intoxicated when arrested and declined to be released at the Sunrise Court, insisting that he be brought before a trial judge. Judge Chambers fined Maass $3 or three days.

ATMOSPHERIC WORRIES.

Two Kinds of Attachments Cause Constable Considerable Apprehension Over Violin.

The atmospheric conditions at the home of Constable Thomas, attached to Justice Reeve's court, are causing Mrs. L. Moran much concern. She is wondering whether the Thomas residence is high and dry, how moist the air is, and a lot of other unusual things.

This is because Thomas has in his possession a violin reputed to be a Stradivarius, said to be worth literally its weight in gold. Suit to recover this property was filed yesterday in the Justice court and will be heard next week. It is stated that Thomas took the instrument on attachment after the C. M. Staub Shoe Company had assigned a claim of $20 against Mrs. Moran to W. L. Pate who started action. The violin was taken by Thomas from the home of Mrs. M. Lewis, Mrs. Moran's sister.

Mrs. Moran's present worry is that Thomas lives in a neighborhood where atmospheric conditions are such as to harm her precious instrument.

PROTECT INVESTORS.

The California Association of Investment Corporations met yesterday and authorized the law committee to prepare a bill for presentation to the meeting of legislators at the Chamber of Commerce on December 20. It will be designed to protect the buyers of stocks and bonds, and before presentation to the legislators will be submitted to the Realty Board for indorsement.

To Overcome Winter Complexion Troubles

(From Woman's Tribune.)

If the chill air causes your skin to dry and scale or become unduly red or spotted, before you go to bed spread a thin layer of ordinary mercolized wax over your entire face. Remove next morning with warm water. This is the ideal complexion treatment for the winter girl. The wax gently absorbs the dead particles of surface skin, so gradually there's no discomfort. This gives the underlying skin a chance to breathe and to show itself. In a week or so the new and younger skin is wholly in evidence and you have a really matchless complexion. Naturally all its defects disappear with the discarded cuticle—as chaps, roughness, blotches, pimples, freckles, blackheads, sallowness. Usually an ounce of mercolized wax, procurable at any drug store, is enough to renovate even the worst complexion.

Wrinkles need bother you no more if you'll use this simple face wash: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. Just one application will affect even the deepest lines, and soon your skin will be smooth as a child's.—[Advertisement.

PURITAS, The Water Essential To All Stages of Growth

Infants, Grown-Ups, Grandparents—All Should Drink PURITAS.

Your baby must have the best of everything, of course, because your baby's delicate organs are quickly affected by impurities of any sort.

PURITAS is the only water that should be used about a baby—even baby's bath might well be given in PURITAS.

And when the baby grows into childhood, PURITAS is essential; for children who constantly drink PURITAS are far less liable to all forms of contagious disease than those who do not. PURITAS will save many an anxious night with a sick child.

Especially when the child reaches the student age, or forms sedentary habits in an office, the use of PURITAS is essential. The irregularity of habit caused from lack of systematic exercise is greatly corrected through the use of PURITAS.

And with older people PURITAS Distilled Water is absolutely essential, for it is a natural solvent, and prevents that clogging of the system which results in rheumatism, gout, liver and kidney troubles.

The reason for the beneficial effect of PURITAS upon everyone is the fact that it is absolutely pure; free from mineral salts, alkali, or foreign matter of any sort soever.

Moreover, PURITAS is distilled, and thoroughly aerated; it is palatable—a genuine pleasure to drink. You do not have to learn to like it—it is instinctively desired by your body.

Yet PURITAS is not expensive—for 40c you can obtain a five-gallon demijohn, delivered anywhere in the old city boundary lines—a slightly greater charge is made when it is necessary to deliver to points beyond.

All you have to do, in Los Angeles, to obtain PURITAS is to telephone Home 10053, Sunset Main 8191; or to send your address to The Los Angeles Ice & Cold Storage Company.

And as we have dealers all through Southern California, you can probably obtain it wherever you happen to be—at beach or inland town. If not, a direct request to the Home Office will secure you a prompt supply.

The Cousins Shoe

for Discriminating Women

THE ONE great aim of the Cousins Organization is to provide, at moderate prices, Footwear of authoritative designs and unquestionable merit. The prevailing Boot Styles are in button, although there is a decided tendency toward the revival of Lace Boots with low heels and short tops for street wear. Button Boots are shown in plain kid and calf; and in patent, dull and tan calf, with colored cloth toppings. These cloth toppings are in color tones to harmonize or contrast with suits and costumes, and are shown in many pleasing effects. This reference to style tendencies would be incomplete without mentioning Suede Boots—in black, grays of several shades, and browns—which are meeting with much favor. The "Cousins" Trade-mark is an assurance of honest effort to give the woman who wears a Cousins Shoe the same satisfaction that is felt by the organization which makes it: and of a desire to merit the increasing good will of the wearer by putting into each shoe the maximum of quality. The enormous modern equipment of the Cousins factories, and the unprecedented sales of Cousins Shoes, have made their moderate prices possible. The integrity of their construction, and the carefully selected materials that go into them, make it real economy to wear Cousins Shoes—and the five or six dollars which they cost represent the extent of boot-making ability; while those that sell at four dollars and four-fifty, have the advantage in manufacture that have made the finer grades famous throughout this country, and in Europe.

Gift Certificates

PRACTICAL gifts are becoming more popular each year. Any woman would appreciate a pair of Cousins Evening Slippers, or Cousins Boots for street or dress wear—at $4.00, $4.50, $5.00 and higher.

For Men, Gude's House Slippers—at $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 and up to $5.00—a gift that would be a constant reminder of pleasant evenings at home, and of the thoughtfulness of the donor.

The best way is to give a "Gude" Shoe Certificate. These Certificates are issued in any amount desired, and may be presented for redemption at either "Gude" store, before or after the Holidays.

Boots at $3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00 and up to $6.50

MUST ANSWER.

"Ambrosio Apapas and his companions must answer for their crime," he said, "and it makes no difference whether they are tried in the Federal court here or the Superior Court of Riverside county."

In denying the petition, Judge Rudkin said that doubtless under the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo a number of California and New Mexico Indians were invested with American citizenship, but he did not believe the number considerable.

The story of Augustine Apapas, who says he is 115 years old, but who couldn't tell the court in what year he was born, was obtained with the aid of two interpreters, who seemed to have difficulty in understanding him. The interpreters are Gabriel Acosta and Will Pablo.

Apapas said he has lived among the Coahuillas all his life, having been born on what was once known as the Ramona Reservation. He well remembers the country when it was occupied by the Mexicans, before the gringoes came in to settle it and convert a wilderness into an empire. He recalled Baptista Alvarado, one of the early Spanish governors, and said he was a friend of Pio Pico, the last Spanish Governor of this State.

As long as he has known the Coahuillas, Apapas said, they have lived in the immediate vicinity of their present home, engaged in raising cattle and horses. With others he often journeyed, in the early days, to the San Luis Rey Mission, near San Diego, where he was baptized by priests half a dozen times. In the olden days each family had its little farm, and the women made blankets and other things from the wool shorn from their own sheep.

FORGOTTEN NAMES.

He recalled the days when the Indians in the section now occupied by the Coahuillas were known as Tapamakinaks, who, after the death of Chief Baptiata Antonio, broke into smaller tribes and were known as Los Coyotes, Chimukatas and Hulacalyuchaims. Some of the tribesmen still live at San Jacinto. All of the land tilled by the Coahuillas was held in common until this government assumed charge of Indian affairs, and the small plots were awarded by the chiefs for farming purposes. The last chief of the Coahuillas was Manuel Largo. He stepped down and out in 1875, when President Grant by proclamation set aside the Swaboda Reservation for the Coahuillas.

The Coahuillas did not remain in one section long, but were scattered around San Mateo, Colton, San Bernardino, Santa Ana, Ramona, Riverside, Aguapa and other places. In a measure they sustained their tribal relations until assembled on the reservation by the President's proclamation. They were governed by some chief in all the years of wrich Apapas had any knowledge of the affairs of his family and friends. Captains and councils determined what should be done with lawbreakers, for the Indians had their own government before the United States took a hand. They made hegiras to San Diego to attend religious services at the mission, but also had their own religious rites, and scrupulously observed them.

An imposing array of talent assisted Asst. U. S. Dist.-Atty. Robinson, who opposed the granting of the petition. There was M. L. Dorr, special inspector of the Interior Department; Supt. Frank A. Thackeray of the Indian school at Pima, Ariz.; Supt. Howard Hall of the Swaboda Indian School, and Francis A. Swain, superintendent of the Indian school at Ft. McDermott, Nev.

HASTY LEAP COSTLY.

Woman Becomes Frightened at What Looks to Be Auto Accident and Is Painfully Injured.

Mrs. J. C. Blake, 28 years old, suite No. 200, Mayhew apartments, No. 1350 Orange street, was painfully injured early Friday morning in an auto accident at Seventh and Hartford streets. The machine was driven by H. E. Lusk, No. 147 North Soto street, son of Councilman Lusk. Blake, Mrs. Blake's maid, and Daniel Cates, the latter of No. 1709 West Washington street, were the other occupants of the auto.

Mrs. Blake sustained her injuries, which consist of a bad scalp laceration and body bruises, by leaping from the machine after a front tire had exploded and the car swerved into the curbing, striking a telephone pole. Mrs. Blake stumbled when she leaped from the auto, her head striking the curbing, rendering her unconscious. She was removed to her apartments and Dr. Bayliss summoned.

Lusk gave the following version of the accident, and is corroborated by Sergt. Hickok in his report to Capt. Murray:

"I met Mr. and Mrs. Blake and Mrs. Blake's maid when they came from a theater Friday evening and they accepted my offer to take them home. Near Seventh and Hartford streets a machine suddenly rounded the corner onto Seventh. The driver was going so rapidly that he swung wide. To prevent a collision I swerved my machine to the right and a front tire exploded. The sudden turning of the car and the report of the blow-out caused Mrs. Blake to become frightened. Acting on the impulse of the moment she leaped from the car, stumbled and struck her head in falling. Had Mrs. Blake remained in the car as the others did, she would not have been injured."

The statement was given out at the Mayhew apartments yesterday that Mrs. Blake is rapidly recovering from her injuries, which are not expected to prove serious unless unforeseen complications manifest themselves.

Pumice Deposits in Nebraska.

[Harper's Weekly:] Nebraska possesses extraordinary deposits of pumice. Practically the whole State is overlaid by natural deposits of this substance, in all stages of consolidation, from fairly solid rock to the finest dust.

Pumice is a volcanic product, and its presence in such large quantities in Nebraska and some adjoining States, is taken to be evidence of former volcanic activity in that region. It is produced by the rapid expansion of gases in lava, due to sudden release of pressure, which either forms a very light porus rock or may completely shatter the lava into dust, in which state it may be transported great distances by wind and deposited in drifts.

In the western portion of Nebraska there are impure masses of it, probably deposited in this way, 100 feet or more in depth. Nearly all the pumice or the volcanic ash used in the United States is made ... powder or incorporated ... soap. Other uses are the ... ture of semi-fused filling ... mineral wool or ... cheap kind of glass.

President Wheeler of University of California Says School Children of Today Should Be Taught Our Language, Not to Solve Verbal Conundrums of Long Ago.

Criticism of present-day educative methods employed in American colleges and high schools was voiced by Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California, Friday night at the Browne University Alumnae Association banquet in the University Club rooms.

"Neglect of the English language is education's greatest defect today," he asserted. "Asking and answering difficult conundrums relative to the doubtful meaning of passages written long ago occupies time and attention that might better be devoted to a study of the proper use of words.

"A vast amount of time and mental energy is wasted in our high schools and colleges. Our professors are lacking in that they literally ladle out subject matter to so great an extent that it cannot possibly be grasped by the student. Better be stingy in this respect; then the student can mentally digest what is given him.

"There is power in the English language. The man who can speak and write so as to be understood has a great power at his command. It is a glorious thing when the schoolboy is made to feel that our language is not a thing to be trifled with.

"Too many persons believe gaining of knowledge is the one object of a college education. The primary purpose is to gain the power to become an effective personality. Knowledge is secondary to this. There is nothing specific in education. It is development of personality.

"It is a fine thing to be a gentleman, with a sense of dignity and form. A sense of the decencies is more essential than an acquirement of knowledge. The two should go hand in hand. There is no royal road to efficiency, educational or otherwise. Continued effort along the right lines is needed.

"Students should be taught respect for things that are high and noble. It is only by means of visions of great men now and then concerning things that are high and noble that we are given a hold on the eternities. There is a materialistic hell for those who have no power to mentally grasp these visions.

"We are reaching out too far in our high schools. Children are being taught there what we used to learn in college. A sense of form and refinement is badly needed here. Too much is undertaken in the way of higher education, that should not come until after the university stage is reached.

"Men who do the work of the world and act as leaders of mankind, attain their positions of efficiency through no patent recipe. They have won through personality."

President Wheeler gave many interesting reminiscences of Browne University of which he is a graduate, and others present followed his example.

ESPEE OFFERS EVIDENCE.

Business Men Testify that Elk Hills Country Is No Good for Oil-bearing Purposes.

The witnesses yesterday in behalf of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company in the complaint of the government praying for an abrogation of patents to land in the Elk Hills were S. J. Dunlap of Taft; Fred H. Hall, president of the Board of Trade of Bakersfield, and B. T. Dye, an oil operator, with large holdings in the Coalinga field.

Their testimony was similar to that furnished by all of the witnesses subpoenaed by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. They are all business men intimately acquainted with conditions in the Elk Hills. They have made no investments themselves in the field in question, and their personal inspection of the territory, together with the information to be had on the subject, was all to one effect—that the Elk Hills are of no appreciable account as oil producing; that while oil might be found in small quantities in isolated sections, it would be necessary to bore at least 4000 feet, and the quantity then secured, if any, would not be sufficient to pay for the work of development.

Under the stipulation entered into by the attorneys representing the government and the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, the latter has until February 1 to present its evidence, and it is the understanding that at least fifty witnesses will be placed on the stand.

FRANCIS ON DR. WHEELER.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—I am asked for my opinion on the speech of President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, before the Brown Alumni Club, in our city, in which he is reported to have said that the educational pace is too rapid, and that we should go back to the good old days of fewer and simpler things.

If President Wheeler is properly reported, he is either childish or dishonest. No reasonable man who understands the first principles of education can fail to recogniz that modern conditions, with their complex social and economic problems, demand a different kind of educational training from that required to meet the conditions of earlier times. President Wheeler is not following his own philosophy in the administration of the affairs of the University of California.

His complaint that the high schools are doing university work, is the arrant cry of the academic man, who fails utterly, to appreciate that the high schools of the land have other and even bigger problems than that of preparing for college.

I challenge President Wheeler's statement that the work of the schools today is inferior to that of any other time. On the contrary, the schools are far superior in every way, including the mastery of the fundamentals.

I seriously doubt that President Wheeler possesses sufficient knowledge of the public school system to pass judgment upon it, and I take it, therefore, as a matter of poor grace on his part to citicise it.

MRS. O'BRIEN'S LAND.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office has affirmed the decision of the local register and receiver, giving Mary A. O'Brien 320 acres in the Imperial Valley, north of Brawley. The right of the contest to the land turned entirely on the amount of work that had been done by each, and to determine this at first hands the register and receiver made a personal trip to the Imperial Valley, at the expense of Mrs. O'Brien, with the result that they decided the case in her favor. It was shown that she had spent about $2000 on the land, while Welch had not invested more than as many hundreds.

WOMEN TALK OF REFORMS.

Executive Committee of the Women's Christian Temperance Union Held Meeting Here.

The State Executive Committee of the W.C.T.U. held a meeting in executive session yesterday, in Temperance Temple, and passed a resolution strongly opposing the proposition to give the Police Commission authority to assess fines against violators of the liquor license ordinance, and insisting that the commission continue to enforce the revocation clause.

The principal subject to occupy the attention of the meeting during the afternoon was a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee to confer with churches, the Anti-Saloon League and other organizations, with the idea of bringing about a State-wide vote in 1914, on the question of prohibition of the liquor traffic.

The proposed act of the Legislature, referred to as 'the red-light injunction and abatement law," was also discussed, and Mrs. Hester Griffith will be sent to Sacramento to lobby for the passage of the bill. It provides that the owner of property proven to have been rented for lewd purposes may be restrained by injunction, and if the injunction is violated is subject to fine and imprisonment, the fine to be a lien upon the real estate in question.

IS "ALL CUT TO PIECES."

But When Police Patrol Arrives Woman Is Found Unhurt by Flying Glass—Auto Skids.

Mrs. Henneyman was the recipient of a glass shower yesterday morning that frightened more than pleased her, and caused a panic among other employees of the Rapid Package Delivery Company, No. 112 Winston street, where she is a stenographer. H. W. Maddox, chauffeur of a large auto-truck belonging to the Salt Lake Oil Company, extended the shower, for which he received no thanks from the woman. A slippery pavement, a protruding length of pipe and a skidding machine were the principal factors.

Maddox attempted to back his truck into an alley near the offices of the delivery company, when one of the pipes was forced through the plate-glass window, near which Mrs. Honneymon works. The shattered glass fell all about her. Somebody telephoned the Central Station that a woman "had been all cut to pieces." When the patrol arrived it was discovered Mrs. Honneyman was unscratched.

FAIR ANGELENOS HIKE.

Trio of Women Trekking Across the Veldts to Phoenix Sleep in the Great Outdoors.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 7. — [Exclsive Dispatch.] On a hike from Los Angeles to Phoenix, sleeping outdoors when night overtakes them between stations, and braving any perils they may encounter, three pretty women arrived from the former city this evening, fresh and determined, after their 139-mile tramp. The tourists are Misses Mafie Gordon, vaudeville actress; Katherine Tibbetts, settlement and Y.W.C.A. worker, and Eleanor McLernan, school teacher, recently from Seattle. They left Los Angeles a week ago Monday and en route here visited Whittier, Fullerton, Santa Ana, Capistrano and Del Mar.

"We started with a push cart loaded with luggage," said Miss Gordon, "and have been shedding luggage ever since. We have had a jolly trip so far—only two or three unpleasant experiences. From here we will go to El Centro, then to Phoenix. Our itinerary from that point is indefinite."

HERMOSA BEACH.

HERMOSA BEACH, Dec. 6.—Work on the new pleasure pier to be built by the city will probably be commenced early next year. The plans of Munoz and Munoz revised with the assistance of City Engineer G. H. Atchley and City Attorney Frank Perry were accepted last night by the City Council and bids for the contract will be opened December 20.

The plans call for a reinforced concrete pier to cost about $55,000 to be located at the foot of Pier avenue, where the old pier now stands.

The pier will be 1000 feet in length and at the approach, which is to be 220 feet long, it will have a width of 100 feet, while the main part will be sixty feet wide.

A feature of the pier will be four Spanish tile-roofed summer houses and for the convenience of the fishermen there will be an extension 100 feet square.

Ornamental lights will add to the beauty of the pier, which will have reinforced concrete piles and an asphalt

Breaks a Cold in a Day

And Cures Any Cough That Is Curable. Noted Doctor's Formula.

"From your druggist get two ounces of Glycerine and half an ounce of Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine.) Take these two ingredients home and put them into a half pint of good whisky. Take one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bedtime. Smaller doses to children according to age." This is the best formula known to science. There are many cheaper preparations of large quantity, but it don't pay to experiment with a bad cold. Be sure to get only the genuine Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine.) Each half ounce bottle comes in a sealed tin screw-top case. If your druggist does not have it in stock he will get it quickly from his wholesale house. This has been published here every winter for six years and thousands of families know its value.

Sore Feet, Corns, Callouses, Bunions, Frost Bites, Aching and Sweaty Feet. A spoonful of Calocide in the foot-bath gives instant relief. Get a 25c box at any drug store.—[Advertisement.

REDONDO BEACH BRIEFS.

REDONDO BEACH, Dec. 7.—For the fifteenth consecutive time, Peter Brown of Benita avenue was elected treasurer of Redondo Lodge No. 328 of the Masons, at the annual election last evening. Ever since the organization of the lodge in this city Mr. Brown has held that office. The other officers elected were: Worthy Patron, Ernest Heath; Senior Warden, Louis H. Heath; Junior Warden, C. S. Coleman; Secretary, A. M. Harter. The officers will be installed in January.

George Freeth, Ray Kegeris, Sidney Williams, Gerald and Tom Witt and Miss Dolly Mings of this city gave an exhibition of fancy diving and swimming last evening at the Los Angeles Athletic Club at an entertainment given for ladies' night.

The Woman's Club met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. A. Anderson of Catalina avenue. Reports of the recent fair given in the pavilion showed that the proceeds amounted to $225. This, with the amount on hand in the treasury, $251, makes a fund for the new clubhouse of $476.

WILSHIRE BRIDGE.

Mrs. O. W. Weidler, No. 621 Cahuenga boulevard, charmingly entertained the Wilshire Bridge Club at luncheon Thursday. Those present were Mmes. L. W. Snow, Ralph R. Rae, C. C. Cobb, S. W. Belden, O. C. Hatch, George W. Gilbert of Pasadena, L. C. Poney, E. A. Todd, C. L. Daggy, A. H. Goltra, A. Christian, M. A. Henry, J. H. Fairchild, G. H. McNish, W. L. Wheeden, Stephen Carver, Thomas Chattel, John Rush, Charles Donovan, Sydney Morse of Long Beach and Miss Harriet Andrews.

Rheumatic Advice

Prominent Doctor's Best Prescription Easily Mixed at Home.

"From your druggist get one ounce of Toris compound (in original sealed package) and one ounce of syrup of Sarsaparilla compound. Take these two ingredients home and put them into a half pint of good whiskey. Shake the bottle and take a tablespoonful before each meal and at bedtime." This is said to be the quickest and best remedy known to the medical profession for rheumatism and backache. Good results come after the first dose. If your druggist does not have Toris compound in stock he will get it for you in a few hours from his wholesale house. Don't be influenced to take a patent medicine instead of this. Insist on having the genuine Toris compound in the original one-ounce, sealed, yellow package. Hundreds of the worst cases were cared here by this prescription last winter.

The Los Angeles Times Booklovers' Contest

Look Sharp! You May Be One of the 141 Successful Contestants

The undersigned, constituting the Committee of Judges in The Los Angeles Times Booklovers' Contest, herewith transmit to The Times and to the public the results of their work.

A number of letters received by the Los Angeles Times, and delivered to this committee of judges called attention to possible differences of opinion as to the aptness with which certain of the pictures illustrate the book titles selected for the correct answers. This committee unanimously decided that the conditions of the contest were such that there was no power in the committee to consider any such question, as its work began after final submission of all possible contestant's papers, and the committee was likewise of the opinion that whatever misleading features might have been in the pictures, they were equally prejudicial to all entrants, thus placing all contestants on a plane of equality of opportunity.

Material errors in the spelling of titles and authors' names reduced the number of correct answers in several books, which otherwise would have won one of the 100 boxes of candy.

Having fully canvassed all answers submitted, and taken every precaution that we could devise, or was suggested to us to insure the fairness of the count, we make the following awards:

Honorable Mention

The Answer Books submitted by Mrs. M. A. Copps, Miss Marie Sault, Ora Nye, V. S. Drake, Louis W. Roberts, Charles W. Clay, Walter Jones, A. M. Vincent, Willard Elmes, Hugh R. Snelling, Mrs. Charles G. Hezmalhatch, Mrs. G. K. Groves, Nellie Martin, Milton Kranz, Mrs. I. S. Devitt, Fannye Meyer, Mrs. C. G. Munson and Mrs. John J. Hart show evidences of painstaking care and artistic talent, but none of them contains a sufficient number of correct answers to be adjudged a prize winner.

Some of these books are handsomely bound in leather, and the covers of others are beautifully adorned with water color sketches and paintings.

Instructions to Prize Winners

There will be mailed to each successful contestant an order for the prize awarded them. This should be signed by the contestant and presented to the firm to whom it is addressed, and the prize awarded will be given for it.

KRUPP GUNS OUTRANGED.

Kaiser Calls a Conference of Artillery Experts.

Italian Foreign Minister Visitor at Potsdam.

Prince and Princess Henry Home from Far East.

BY MALCOLM M. CLARKE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE, BY WIRELESS OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—The manner in which the Krupp guns were apparently outranged by the French-made Creusots during the fighting in the Balkans has caused the German Emperor considerable anxiety. His Imperial Majesty has called into conference the most famous artillerists in the Empire and the experts at the ordnance works at Essen. It is almost certain that the German system of the gun manufacture will be completely revolutionized as a result of the Balkan war.

ITALIAN GUEST OF HONOR.

The imperial family is in residence at the New Palace, Potsdam, until after Christmas. Their Majesties are enjoying a comparatively quiet time before the beginning of the winter festivities. The Kaiserin's health, it is said, is much better; she is, in fact, in excellent spirits, and does a good deal of entertaining in a quiet way.

One of the visitors at the palace is the Italian Foreign Minister, the Marquis San Guligano. He is, of course, made much of. An imperial motor car conveyed the marquis to Potsdam for a state dinner at the New Palace, and His Majesty himself fastened the Black Eagle Order upon his guest's coat.

The following day the marquis went over to the palace again to have afternoon tea with the Kaiserin. This was a family affair, the Kaiser and his fair daughter being present, as well as several of the princes and princesses of the imperial house. It was on this occasion that the visitor was shown, by his request, the beauties of the Hall of Shells more closely than he had seen them the previous day. He was delighted with the gorgeous room, as is everyone else who sees it. The Kaiserin wore for her tea party a dress of soft heliotrope satin, and Princess Victoria Luise was in white, as was her sister-in-law, Princess Eitel.

KAISER GREETS BROTHER.

The Kaiser is very pleased to see his brother back again from Tokio. Prince Heinrich, who was met in Russia by his wife, who traveled with him the rest of the homeward journey, looks very well and fit after his long absence. One of the Kaiser's motor cars met His Royal Highness at the Berlin station and took him and the Princess over to Potsdam. After a day or two here Prince Heinrich went on to Kiel.

EMPEROR IS STUBBORN.

Her Imperial Majesty recently visited with the Princess the Chrysanthemum and Cyclamen Exhibition, spending a couple of hours there. The Kaiserin, who had motored direct from Potsdam, wore a becoming coat and skirt of pale gray velvet, with chinchilla furs, and a large hat with blue plumes. Princess Victoria Luise was in a white coat and skirt, with an ermine stole and muff, and Her Royal Highness's hat was very large and flat—of white felt, with a simple wreath of pink roses. I have seldom seen the fair young daughter of the Prussian King looking so pretty. The Kaiserin was so pleased with the show that she told the directors she would make her husband come. His Majesty did not, however, prove amenable, and now the fine display is closed.

OKLAHOMA COURT A LEADER.

Trivial Reversals of Decisions Is Reprehended and Pronounced Unjust to the People.

[The Docket:] A deaf ear can no longer be turned to the great cry which has long emanated from the public denouncing the law's delay and reversals because of technicalities. Courts are forced to give heed to this strong demand, and the maxim is finding more and more support, "Justice delayed is justice denied."

Reversals, because of trifling technicalities in procedure, process, etc., affect not alone the parties litigant, but the public who believe in speedy justice, and especially the taxpayers of the State who foot the bills for criminal prosecutions. To give a criminal a fair trial is mandatory and righteous. The taxpayer knows the great expense of this also, but does not complain. It is where he is forced to repeat payment of the same bill because of some trifling, harmless error, which could in no manner have affected the result, and where the prisoner's guilt has been clearly shown, that the shoe pinches, and Mr. Taxpayer objects, and, it may be added, that his objection is generally overruled. However, courts are adjusting themselves to meet this objection fairly.

The Criminal Court of Appeals of Oklahoma, even though Oklahoma as a State is yet in her infancy, has taken the lead. An example is found in the recent case of Gonzalus vs. State, 123 Pacific Reporter, 705. The Court says: "The habit of reversing cases upon slight and trivial grounds is to be reprehended from every standpoint. While it is true that a price should never be placed upon the administration of justice, and no man who has been unjustly convicted should ever be denied a rehearing simply upon the ground of the expense of a second trial, yet this court will take judicial notice of the fact that the people of this State are already heavily burdened with taxation; and that one of the principal items of expense to the State is the enforcement of its criminal laws. It would therefore be unjust to the people of this State to add to this expense by reversing convictions and sending cases back for retrial, and thereby greatly increasing the expenses of the government, unless a necessity for doing so really existed."

Vatican Treasures.

LIBRARY IS UP TO DATE.

REARRANGEMENT OF THE VALUABLE COLLECTION.

Pope Pius Has Caused the Art and Literary Treasures Scattered Through Pontifical Palace to Be Brought Together and Carefully Arranged in Remodeled Rooms.

[Pittsburgh Gazette Times:] One of the works of Pope Pius X., which will undoubtedly pass down in pontifical history as among his most notable achievements, is that of the rearrangement of the vatican palace, the latest phase of which, just finished this month, is the complete systematizing of the vatican library, one of the most notable book and manuscript collections in the world.

The reorganization of the library follows the installation on a modern, artistic basis of the picture gallery of the vatican, and will be followed in turn by similar undertakings in those portions of the vatican open to the public. Owing to conditions in the vatican it is a most momentous task.

To begin with, the vatican has in the neighborhood of 1100 rooms, twenty courts, eight grand staircases, 200 ordinary staircases and other architectural features in proportion. Despite the fact that the best known architects for centuries have been employed in adding to and remodeling the palace, it appears to have been thrown together in a manner that would make the ordinary mystic maze look like the straight and narrow path of Biblical admonition.

Into this conglomeration of rooms, salons, halls and courts, popes for centuries past have gathered the art and literary treasures of the world, massing them together with about the same degree of care that the architects appear to have used in massing together the place itself. The straightening out of all this is the task which was undertaken by Pope Pius some nine years ago.

As has been stated, the first collection upon which Pope Pius bestowed his care was that of the paintings. While the vatican collection dates back to, and includes the best works of the Renaissance, the present collection can almost be said to date from the time of Napoleon, who, following his victories in Italy, carried back to France most of the art treasures in Rome on which he could lay his hands, but under the terms of the treaty of Vienna these were returned to Rome and became the basis of the present vatican collection.

The pictures, however, were scattered around in a goodly portion of the 1100 rooms of the vatican, and although later popes gathered most of them into a so-called gallery, they were poorly arranged, were displayed under bad light and were hung without artistic plan.

On his elevation to the papacy Pius set aside an extensive suite of rooms for the art collection, had them remodeled especially for that purpose, gathered together all of the most important masterpieces in the palace and had them arranged and hung by some of the best art authorities of Europe. The result was that the Vatican gallery at once became one of the most important in the world.

The same thing has now been done, after work extending over a period of years, to the library. This collection had its origin in the fifth century, since which time the various popes have made almost priceless additions to it by the purchase of private collections, such as that of the Borghese family, the dukes of Urbino, the Capponiana Library, that of Queen Christina of Sweden and the libraries of Sforza, Altemps and the Salviati.

In spite of all these additions, however, which brings the total up to only 27,000 manuscripts and 280,000 printed works, the library, for quality and for the rareness of its works, is one of the most famous and important in existence. Until the present work of systematizing was undertaken by Pope Pius these works were scattered about in such a manner that visitors were only allowed to go through the library with special guides who had spent years in learning just what there was and where it might be found. With the completing of the work undertaken by Pope Pius the library will now be open to the public, as are the painting and sculpture galleries, and anyone interested will be able to find or see what he wants without the assistance of the Vatican experts.

Santa Maria.

NEW GASOLINE PLANT STARTED.

GAS VERY VALUABLE FOR MAKING COMMODITY.

New Establishment Will Be Sixth of Its Kind in the District—Product Is Sold Locally and Shipped to Surrounding Points and Even as Far as Los Angeles.

[Special Correspondence to The Times.]

SANTA MARIA, Dec. 5.—The American Gas Company has entered the ranks of gasoline manufacturers from natural gas in the Santa Maria field and has a big motor truck hauling material to the Brookshire property in the old field where a compressing plant will be erected.

This will make the sixth plant in the Santa Maria field for the manufacture of gasoline from natural gas and the industry gives promise of great potential value and adds a valuable factor to the oil industry in the conservation of a natural resource that has been permitted to go to waste.

The waste of this natural gas was due to the fact that a ready market was not available for it and, as the handling of the product is difficult, efforts at proper conservation have not heretofore been entirely successful, and even today one can see many gas torches needlessly burning twenty-four hours a day.

The Western Gasoline Company erected the pioneer plant in the Santa Maria field for the manufacture of gasoline from natural gas. This concern has two fifty-horse-power Bessemer compressors on the Hall and Hall lease and take the gas from this lease and also from the New and Pennsylvania property.

The Pinal-Dome Oil Company obtained such satisfactory results from the operation of its original plant which consisted of two eighty-horse-power Bessemer compressors—one low stage and one high stage—that it immediately installed another unit of like capacity—which has just been completed—and has started work on the installation of of a third unit.

The Purity Gasoline Company has an eighty-horse-power unit on the Rice Ranch property and a plant of the same size on the Western Union property. These plants take the gas from the holdings on which they are located, respectively. The Union Oil Company has one eighty-horse-power unit, consisting of high-stage and low-stage compressors, located on the Santa Maria Oil and Gas lease.

The gasoline content of the natural gas in this field is from two to three gallons per thousand cubic feet and it comes from the compressors ranging in gravity from 74 to 93 deg. Beaume. It is then mixed with No. 1 engine distillate—the gravity of which is about 54 deg. Beaume—and reduced to about 68 deg. gravity for commercial use. Each unit of a plant uses about 600,000 cubic feet of gas per day and requires about the same amount of operation and power. However, the gas is first compressed and then returned for use in the gas engines. It is claimed that the removal of the gasoline content by compression does not diminish the value of the gas for power-plant operation or domestic use, the only change being a reduction in volume by about 15 per cent.

A considerable amount of this gasoline is sold locally and the remainder is shipped to adjacent points, including Los Angeles, where the Pinal-Dome Oil Company maintains a distributing station.

The Kern River Oil Fields, Limited, has acquired a lease on 1040 acres of the Fugler ranch in sections 3 and 10, 9-33, and section 35, 10-33. This lease was obtained through the instrumentality of A. A. Daugherty of the Santa Maria Oil Fields, Limited, and is for twenty years at one-eighth royalty. W. W. Orcutt has just completed an examination of the geological and structural conditions of the property and well No. 1 has been located near the center of section 35.

The deposit of asphaltum at Fugler's Point, which is about half a mile north of the location of well No. 1, indicates that the oil-bearing beds that underlie the main portion of the Cat Canyon field are unquestionably continued toward the Santa Maria River and underlie this property. Material is being placed on the ground for the first rig and work will be commenced immediately.

The Pinal-Dome Oil Company's well No. 2-T, located on the Tognazzini lease, near Los Alamos, is drilling at 2700 feet in shale. Favorable results are looked for in this well as it is situated between the Dome's well on the Wickendon tract, which obtained a heavy grade of oil at 2540 feet, and the well of the Oilfields Syndicate of San Francisco on the John Bell tract which is now being redrilled, owing to casing troubles, after having produced 200 barrels a day of 20 gravity oil. A distance of about five miles separates these two wells but the results obtained in each indicates that the oil-bearing formation underlies the intervening territory.

Chandler Ranch Lands at $100 Per Acre Offer Great Opportunities

Probably no agricultural section of the entire world has a better arranged water supply than the famous Salt River Valley of Arizona. Uncle Sam has put forth his best engineering efforts in supplying this wonderful valley with a vast amount of gravity water, and has expended $10,000,000 to do it.

The fame of the Roosevelt Dam has spread from continent to continent. A rancher who owns lands under this great, dependable water system is fortunate, indeed. His water supply is practically guaranteed by the Government for all time. He is absolutely independent of rainfall. The Roosevelt Reservoir, when full, contains enough water, with the normal flow of the river during the dryest year ever known, to irrigate all the lands of the Water Users' Association for three years.

The ownership of land under this system gives you crop insurance, which protects you in dry years—it gives you water when you need it. Uncle Sam gives you water under the Roosevelt system a dozen times cheaper than you can secure it in the average ranch district of Southern California. Your water supply here is not only dependable — but it is almost absurdly low-priced.

And in owning land on Chandler Ranch, you cannot only look forward to a permanent, inexhaustible water supply, but you can also expect dividends from electricity, produced from the sale of electrical power, generated from the great fall of water from Roosevelt Reservoir—a lake 18 miles in length. Bear in mind that the ranchers of the valley are unitedly buying the great $80,000,000 system from Uncle Sam (without interest) at a cost that is many times less than the average yearly water rates in Southern California. That is, it costs the Salt River Valley rancher less per year to buy Roosevelt water and participate in the purchase of the entire system than it does to buy water in Southern California.

Nearly $1,000,000 worth of Chandler Ranch lands have been sold during the past year. A large advertising campaign is now in full swing. The bulk of the lands sold to date have been purchased by practical California ranchers, many of whom have actually sold their California holdings and placed the money in Chandler Ranch lands—realizing that the latter presented better opportunities from the standpoint of water, soil, climate and general productivity.

Make arrangements now to take in one of our low-rate excursions. Go and see the best alfalfa and dairying proposition in the Southwest. Go and see the land of the early sweet orange and grapefruit—records of $1200 net per acre on the latter. For further information relative to Chandler Ranch lands, see MESA IMPROVEMENT COMPANY, 122 WEST SIXTH STREET. Ground Floor, near S. P. Ticket Office, Los Angeles.—[Advertisement.

RESULT OF INVENTIONS.

Has Enormously Increased Production in Almost Every Line of Industry Covered by Patents.

[Leslie's:] How tremendously patented inventions have contributed to the prosperity of the United States appears from the growth of industries depending entirely on inventions. In the generation between 1880 and 1910 the value of our iron and steel manufactures leaped from $207,000,000 to $1,377,000,000—an increase of 588 per cent. Between 1860 and 1910 the output of sewing machines grew from less than $4,500,000 to over $28,000,000—an increase of 542 per cent. Between 1850 and 1910 the production of agricultural implements increased from less than $21,000,000 to over $146,000,000—an increase of 846 per cent. In the generation from 1880 to 1910 the output of photographic apparatus increased from $142,000 to nearly $16,000,000—an increase of 1064 per cent.

Coming down to more recent examples of manufactures covered by patents: In the decade between 1899 and 1909 the output of automobiles leaped from less than $5,000,000 to over $249,000,000—an increase of 5200 per cent. During the same period the production of wire jumped from less than $9,500,000 to nearly $90,000,000—an increase of 800 per cent.; the output of photographs increased from about $2,000,000 to nearly $12,000,000—a growth of 324 per cent.; the production of cash registers and calculating machines jumped from $5,500,000 to nearly $24,000,000—an increase of 321 per cent.; the output of patented food preparations grew from $39,000,000 to $125,000,000—a growth of 220 per cent.; the production of fountain pens increased from a little over $1,500,000 to over $4,500,000—an increase of 178 per cent.

Over the same period, the output of photo-engraving grew from $4,000,000 to over $11,500,000—an increase of 177 per cent.; photographic products from less than $8,000,000 to over $22,000,000—an increase of 189 per cent.; the production of rubber goods from $52,000,000 to $128,500,000—an increase of 144 per cent.; typewriters from less than $7,000,000 to nearly $20,000,000—an increase of 185 per cent.; production of electrical machinery from $92,000,000 to $221,000,000—an increase of 140 per cent.

Times' Midwinter Number

Southern California's Message to the World

First Forms Now Ready for the Press

The Greatest Special Edition of a Newspaper Ever Published in Western America.

Complete in Six Magazine Sections

IT IS THE TALE of the "Land o' Heart's Desire"—a graphic recital of the bulwark of mighty forces that is making of California, and especially Southern California, not only a "Land of Promise," but a "Land of Fulfilment"—a "paradise on the hither side the grave."

IT DEALS conservatively and convincingly with the stupendous development of the Southland. . . . It recites the story of the sensational unfoldment of Metropolitan Los Angeles. . . . It details golden opportunities in unnumbered fields of endeavor for breadwinner and capitalist. . . . It reviews the inconceivable wealth of natural resources tributary to Los Angeles. . . . It dwells at length upon the marvels of climate and scenery that make Southern California the "all-year out-door playground" of health, wealth and pleasure-seeking America. . . . It enlarges upon the vast commercial and industrial expansion of recent years—the result of the splendid enterprise of the Southland's progressive, energetic citizens.

TURKISH MENU TICKLES GUEST.

Adrianople Chef Concocts Startling Feast.

Wife Fatally Wounds Spouse in Father's Defense.

A Human Interest Incident in Parisian Cafe.

BY PAUL VILLIERS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE. BY WIRELESS OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Dec. 7.—To the American hostess who wants to give her guests the latest and greatest treat in the way of strange and unusual menus here is the authenticated copy of fare from the beleaguered city of Adrianople. It is vouched for by the Constantinople correspondent of the Paris Figaro.

The Turkish Pasha has as his principal guest a beautiful French lady, who refused to leave Adrianople when the Bulgars began their bombardment and when most of the foreigners had already sought havens of safety. To mark his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him in the visit of the fair Frenchwoman the gallant Pasha instructed his chef to spare not the larder in preparing the banquet. This was the result translated from the chef's witty and picturesque French:

Chopped grass from the fortress moat
Consomme a la Ravine
Fig-snails a la Scutari
Castropod jelly garnished with
Bria spiders' heads
Prime fattened rats broiled and seasoned with cheese and chopped walnuts
Bay leaves steeped in oil
Cafe.

Several of the smart hostesses of Paris are already proceeding to make use of this menu with judicious improvements.

Late in the evening, when the Palais de Justice was closing its doors, a young woman heavily veiled and richly dressed, entered and demanded an immediate audience with the official in charge. It was granted her. In a low, firm voice she made her statement. "My name is Madame X. I have come to give myself up, for I am guilty of my husband's death."

Then the story was told. Five years ago the self-accused prisoner married the son of a wealthy dealer in precious stones. From a worldly point of view, the match was ideal. Husband and wife each brought a sum of $60,000 into the settlement. The former also received a salary of $10,000 a year in his capacity of junior partner in his father's firm. The newly-married couple took a luxurious flat in a fashionable quarter, and a year later a child was born.

From the first, however, the marriage proved unhappy. M. X. was a man of violent temper, and of not too scrupulous fidelity. Questions of interest also arose to widen the breach between husband and wife. M. X. considered that he had a just grudge against his father-in-law and scenes between the two men were frequent. A few days ago, the father-in-law, as happened from time to time, was dining with his daughter and her husband. M. X. seemed moody and preoccupied, but the dinner passed off without unpleasantness.

Over their cigars, M. X. and his father-in-law discussed the question of the Balkan war and its possible reaction on the Great Powers.

"In any case," said the father-in-law, "one can be sure that our army will never fail us in the hour of need." This innocent and eminently natural remark infuriated M. X. He leaped from his chair and shouted: "It's sheer nonsense you're talking," adding, "If there's a war we'll be beaten, and thoroughly. You're mad, mad, mad!"

"You make me think that it's you who are mad," retorted the old man indignantly.

The words were hardly spoken before M. X. was at his throat. "This has gone on long enough; it must be ended," he cried, and flung his father-in-law to the ground. Then, placing his foot on the old man's chest, reached out for a Persian poniard that hung from the wall among other arms. Mme. Reinhardt, who was the lady in question, had been a witness of the whole scene. When she saw her father on the ground she ran swiftly into the next room and seized a loaded revolver, which, as she knew only too well, her husband kept in a drawer by his bedside. The poniard was at her father's throat when she fired twice. M. X. fell unconscious over the body of his father-in-law. For a moment, Mme. X. stood as if turned to stone, with the smoking revolver in her hand. Then she ran to the window, flung it wide open and called for help. Servants and the concierge ran in. To their questions the husband, who had recovered his sense, replied: "There's nothing seriously the matter; I was foolish enough to try to kill myself—it's all right."

A doctor was called in, and on his advice the injured man was taken to a private hospital. There good hopes of his recovery were held out, as neither bullet had touched a vital spot. Three days later, however, when M. X., who had persisted in his version of the affair, was writing a letter to his wife, he fell back on the pillow and died in a few moments. It was under the influence of the shock of her husband's tragic and unexpected death that Mme. X. made her confession. She has been charged with voluntary homicide, but for the present has been left at liberty.

The cafe was full in the late afternoon—it was the hour of the "aperitif," the "green hour." Swiftly and sinuous the waiters hurried in and out between the little tables, setting down glasses here and there and gathering "pourboires" with the "merci" of intonation. From end to end the conversation rose in a noisy buzz. Paying no heed to it all, not once raising his head to regard who came or who went, sat a man alone, wrapped in a somber reverie.

There burst into the tumult, stilling it by virtue of their cries, a band of "camelots" hawking their wares. "Defeat of the Turks!" they cried. "Terrible Turkish disaster!"

Like wildfire, the sale of the "speshul," till one copy remained to be bought. The "camelot" held it before the man in the corner.

"Defeat of the Turks!" he cried. "Terrible Turkish disaster!" The man gave no sign that he heard. "Forty thousand Turks dead on the field," said the "camelot." Still the dreamer sat absorbed in his dream. Then the "camelot" looked at him more closely and understood. The lonely man in the corner was a Turk. With a touch of the swift and sure element, sympathy, which links the peoples, the boy murmured, "Pardon;" gravely, impassively, with no word of speech, and yet more movingly than many volumes, the Turk inclined his head. That was all. But the "camelot," making no attempt to sell the copy in his hand, stole from the cafe, and near the dreamer everyone moved a little away. The rustling of papers ceased. Somehow a sense of shame seemed to stir in the breasts of those who a moment ago had so feverishly bought up the edition. The one simple gesture had brought home to them that, without intending, they had trampled publicly on the body of a fallen foe.

The Turk fell into the reverie from which the entrance of the "camelots" had only half aroused him.

POLITICAL TIPS.

According to the report filed with the Secretary of State of New York, $790,682 was used in that State to promote the election of the Third-termer. Testimony given before the Clapp Investigating Committee at Washington showed that the amount of money raised in the contest to make Col. Roosevelt the Republican candidate was about $700,000, and these returns were not thought to cover all the States. It is evident, however, that the ex-President controlled nearly $1,500,000 in the effort to return to the White House.

Every person supposed to have any influence with the members of the incoming Democratic administration is beset by aspirants for offices. John Sharp Williams, Senator from Mississippi, says that while the population of his State is put at about 3,000,000, he has received approximately 6,000,000 applications from the people of the State for positions. Mgr. Eugene J. Donnelly, pastor of St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church, Flushing, N. J., says the triumphant Democrats of that county have been fairly falling over themselves in rushing to his rectory to seek his aid in their quest for political office, and he has been obliged to issue a statement that he will have nothing to do with recommending men for offices under the incoming administration, and he does not want to be annoyed by those seeking political patronage. A million others are undoubtedly suffering the same way.

The "Progressives" in Congress seem to be ashamed of the name, and will continue to be classed as Republicans. Not one of the supporters of the Third-termer changed his political classification in the Congressional directory, though given the opportunity to do so. It cannot, therefore, be charged that the Republicans are stealing anything, but instead the Progressives are appropriating the prestige of the Republican party.

The Democratic majority in the House of Representatives knew as well before the national election as they known now, that the number of members would be increased by the reapportionment from 392 to 435, but no measures were taken to provide seating privileges for the additional forty-three members. In a statement by Representative Henry of Texas, the Democratic "big head" is prominently displayed. "I do not know where we are going to put the few Republicans who have been elected to the next House," he said. "You see the next House will have forty-three more members than the present House, owing to the reapportionment, making a total of 435. We are crowded in the House chamber already. There doesn't seem to be room for any more desks and there will not be time between March 4 and the beginning of the extra session to remodel the chamber.

"Of course, the Democrats, who will number nearly 300, will have to get first consideration. We are the fellows that will do the work, and the Republicans will just look on, talk a lot and try to obstruct. It look to me as if we would have to put the Republican overflow up in the gallery."

William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is receiving some heavy mail at the present time, and he thinks that at least 3,000,000 of those who voted for Wilson want to hold office.

"Just pick out a good job for me," writes one man, and there were many others who had no preference concerning how they were to get on the pay roll. "You don't know me," said another, "but you can take my word that you can recommend me as highly as you want to. I have always been a Democrat."

Most of the letters begin by telling Mr. McCombs that he is the greatest political general the country has ever known. Then they quote from Jackson "to the victors belong the spoils."

So persistent have been the rumors that Senator Burton of Ohio would not be a candidate for re-election, that he has had to make a formal announcement to the contrary. He says he will go before the voters of his State in a primary election so as to have a full and fair expression of public sentiment, on the question of the succession. He wishes also to ascertain whether the people wish their Senators to participate in framing legislation or serve merely as messengers "for selfish interests and dispensers of patronage and spoils."

The political mix-up in Tennessee is so bad as to defy a forecast as to the probable action of the Legislature as to the choice of a United States Senator to succeed the late Senator Robert L. Taylor. The Legislature is Democratic, but there are those who style themselves "regulars," others who are pleased to be called "independents," and the Republican minority. Gov. Hooper was re-elected by a fusion of the "independent" Democrats and Republicans, fusion being the only avenue by which a Republican may reach the Governorship of Tennessee, and the Republicans will probably vote with the "independents" in the election of a man of that faction.

The Manufacturers' Record points out the fact that the franking privilege of the members of Congress has a good deal to do with the high cost of living. Of the total of 1,612,000,000 pounds of mail handled in the past fiscal year, 61,377,000 pounds represented 310,245,000 pieces of mail franked for Congress, the executive departments and other government establishments which, if postage at the ordinary rate had been paid, would have yielded nearly $20,000,000. Of that sum, $3,250,000 would have been paid or political documents, including speeches, many of them not made in Congress; reports of various kinds, and a complete campaign-book, "all of which had been made technically frankable by insertion in the Congressional Record."

So the people of the United States really paid $3,250,000 for the purpose of enabling candidates for Congress and others, to circulate free of cost, the excuses for their election to public office.

Reuben F. Kolb, State Commissioner of Agriculture of Alabama, evidently believes that the early bird has the first chance, for he has already announced himself a candidate for Governor at the next election, which does not occur till the fall of 1914, though the nomination will probably be made in the spring of that year. Capt. Kolb ran twice for Governor some twenty years ago, during a period when conventions selected the chief executive of the State. Both times he was defeated by Thomas G. Jones, who is now Federal judge at Montgomery.

Capt. Kolb was elected Commissioner of Agriculture in the autumn of 1910 and has slightly more than two years to serve the State yet in that capacity.

The next collector of the town of Newton, N. J., was determined by the flip of a coin. Joseph Palmer, Democrat, and John Master, Republican, rival candidates for the position, were so equally well thought of by the voters in the recent election, that when the ballots were counted they stood tied, each with 186 votes. It would have cost either candidate $100 to obtain a recount, and they agreed upon a cheaper method of determining the right to office. A 50-cent piece was produced and the Democrat called heads and the Republican tails. The coin fell with the head upward, and the Republican, with a handshake for his opponent, conceded defeat.

Palmer will have the lucky coin framed.

The fact that the present year is a leap year saved J. G. Taylor, who moved into the State of New York November 6, 1911, from getting into trouble by having voted at the recent election. His vote was challenged on the ground that he had not lived in the State a full year, as required by law.

The challengers did not take into account, however, that the present year is a leap year, and has 366 days, and when the matter was brought to the attention of Supreme Court Justice Blackmar he ruled that having lived in the State 365 days Taylor was entitled to vote.

Louis F. Payn, the New York politician, says regarding Mr. Roosevelt's future:

"Mr. Roosevelt's next fight will probably be in the State convention two years hence. It is my prediction that he will not have 20 per cent. of the following then that he had from the Republican party on November 5, and should he after that time continue his aspiration for office, he will not have a corporal's guard to follow him."

The returns of the national election for Virginia show that Wilson received some 15,000 more over Taft and Roosevelt than did Col. Bryan over Taft four years ago. The majority for Wilson in the State this year is 45,269, and his increase over Col. Bryan as compared with the vote for Taft was 7366.

Women are crowding into the offices in Kansas at a rapid rate, now that they have the right of suffrage. At this year's election, more than 200 women were elected to county offices —fifty more than the previous year. The offices to which the women were chosen are among the most responsible in the counties. There are women probate judges, District Court clerks, registrars of deeds, County Treasurers, County Clerks and County Superintendents.

The only offices the women have not involved are county commissioners, county attorneys and district judge. They were eligible for these as far as sex is concerned even before they had suffrage. A woman could have been elected Governor of Kansas twenty years ago, or any time since, if she could get the most votes. There are 105 counties in Kansas and at least seventy of them have women in one or more offices.

Victor Rosewater, who was strongly in the limelight at the beginning of the last National Republican Convention as presiding officer, and who is publisher of the Omaha Bee, says of the election in Nebraska that if the Republicans were defeated, the Progressives were licked too. "The result of the election," he says, "does not indicate in any manner, that the Republican party has been wiped out. In the primary in April the Roosevelt and La Follette forces joined, and polled 62,000 votes. In the election, Roosevelt got only 4000 votes more. Taft polled 29,000 more votes in the election than in the primary, and the total vote polled in the State was 30,000 short of what it was four years ago, Wilson getting 20,000 fewer than Bryan did in 1908."

"GETS-IT" Will Get Any Corn, Sure!

ALMOST LIKE MAGIC—GUARANTEED

You'll Quit Everything Else for "GETS-IT."

Any corn just loves to be cut and gouged, but it's mighty rough on you. Plasters and salves usually take away some of the toe with them, and leave the corn to flourish.

The new corn cure "GETS-IT" is perfectly harmless to the healthy flesh, but it does go for a corn, bunion, callous or wart right off the reel. The corn shrivels away from the healthy flesh and drops off.

You can apply "GETS-IT" in two seconds and it begins its work right off. Pretty soon you'll forget you ever had corns or bunions.

"GETS-IT" is sold at all druggists, at 25 cents a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

New Home-Made Syrup.
From Boston Press.

Progress in medical compounds never ceases, and now it is stated by a prominent medical man that any deep-seated cough or cold on the lungs can be actually cured in five hours by the clock. Opium and morphine have been resorted to in the past, as relief measures. But now it is learned that the system must be treated to rid it of inflammation and congestion. A tonic laxative cough syrup does the work so quickly and thoroughly as to be almost magical. What heretofore has taken weeks to cure can be accomplished in hours. Get this formula filled or mix it at home and always keep it on hand: One-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardiol and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Shake the bottle and take twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then take one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day until the system is purified and toned up. Give your children less, according to age. One filling will usually cure a whole family, as the dose is small.—[Advertisement.

The Beauty Who Is Ever in Distress.

MAUD LEONE
MATZENE PHOTO

The Lady of the Thrills.

Maude Leone, the heroine of the good old-fashioned melodrama, that is coming back into vogue. The revival at the Lyceum is part of a general call for the stirring plays that the movies dealt a solar plexus to.

Over and Over.

HOOPLA! HERE WE ARE AGAIN!

MELODRAMA, LIKE CLOWN AND CAT, COMES BACK.

It's Same Old Melodrama and People Like It, but the Old-timers Have to Be Revamped to "Get Over"—Telephones and Svelt Gowns Have the Call.

Melodrama, temporarily tossed into the dramatic discard with the coming into popularity of the 5 and 10-cent motion picture shows, is experiencing a revival that promises once more to place the good old style of stage entertainment back on the high plane of prosparity it occupied a decade ago.

There never will be any more of the once popular "Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model," "Chinatown Charlie," "The Millionaire and the Policeman's Wife" and other alleged plays of similar slight import and huge drivel, but theatergoers—if the views of the best posted of the theatrical managers all over the country may be accepted as an accurate estimate of the public's fancy—will again be offered plays that have the melodramatic touch, plays that are human in their direct appeal, plays in which the moral is obviously apparent and in which light and shade are splendidly blended.

In New York, at the big Manhattan Operahouse, the imported English melodrama, "The Whip," has just made a success of the most pronounced and overwhelming sort. In London "The Whip" was acclaimed one of the best Drury Lane melodramas of recent years, but across the water the invasion of the moving pictures never had made the same dent into the taste for melodrama that it has in America, and when William A. Brady, the Shuberts and a few other associated managers at first discussed the project of bringing "The Whip" to New York, the scheme was surrounded by so much distrust that no manager could be found with sufficient faith in it to undertake it personally. Instead, a half-dozen managers clubbed together and invested in the production.

Twenty-four hours after the first performance, when every theatrical reviewer in Gotham had declared in no uncertain languake that "The Whip" was the very thing the theatergoers of New York had been waiting for, each manager who had put money into "The Whip" venture was vainly endeavoring to buy out his partners.

"The Whip" is the one big success of the day and it promises to pile up a fortune of $250,000 for its lucky owners before the current theatrical year is a thing of the past.

Here, in Los Angeles, with the passing of the Grand Operahouse into the moving picture field, went the last chance of the public to enjoy melodrama at the historic Main-street theater, where all the thrillers of the past eight or ten years were presented.

To all intents and purposes, melodrama—aside from the moving picture projection of this sort of theatrical stuff—was to be laid away in the dramatic cedar chest for good and all.

And this would surely have happened had it not been for one fact. This singular reason was that in his early theatrical experience Oliver Morosco had been brought up in the melodramatic atmosphere of the old Grand Operahouse, San Francisco, where Walter Morosco made a fortune of imposing proportions by presenting melodrama with really good actors and with scenic equipments that were almost colossal in their elaborateness and accuracy.

Mr. Morosco always has evidenced a fondness for the melodramatic type of stage play. He, alone of the city's theatrical purveyors, has had faith in the idea that the public had not tired of melodrama—that the people who go to the playhouse had merely become wearied of the Al. H. Woods sort of melodrama, which, when you get right down to the bottom of the matter, is not melodrama at all, but a hodge podge of alleged melodramatic situations of the most improbable sort, embellished, garnished and illumined by sensational pictorial advertising matter.

The public, argued Mr. Morosco, had not lost its sense of proportion.

Melodrama, likewise believed Morosco, had surely not lost its attractive character when properly presented.

And taking a firm grip of his bank account and with pen in hand, the local manager signed the lease whereby he annexed the Lyceum to his list of other Los Angeles theaters.

For a few days he did not disclose his plans even to his most intimate business associates.

The unknowing, the unthinking, the unversed openly declared that a new musical stock company was to be installed in the former home of Orpheum vaudeville.

Some people had it that cheap vaudeville was the answer, but these spoke without knowing of the provisions for no-vaudeville the lease contained.

"Well, what's the answer?" asked Morosco's partners and friends.

"M-e-l-o-d-r-a-m-a," replied Morosco.

"You're daffy," asserted the well-meaning friends, et al.

"Am I, then watch me get into my financial straight-jacket," commented the manager.

That was only a brief three weeks ago. And in a trio of seven-day periods one cannot actually accomplish all one sets out to do, even if that one persons happens to be a very energetic theatrical manager.

But in a single week Morosco had engaged the best available players in the city and other coast towns, had entirely renovated the Lyceum and the first week's business with "The White Slave"—by many well versed critics believed to be the best melodrama the American stage ever has known—was so good that a profit of $1500 was recorded.

The Morosco faith in what the public wants had won out so easily that the victory was almost a joke. Then the scoffing ones commenced to murmur that perhaps, after all, melodrama was in for a revival while all the time the theatergoers of Los Angeles continued to step up to the boxoffice window and lay down their money for Lyceum tickets.

Oh! it was so very, very easy—for the manager.

Mr. Morosco frankly confesses that by "melodrama" he does not mean the sort of monstrosities the public was fed on for several years.

There is hardly a theatergoer in the country who is not familiar with such thoroughly good melodramas as "The Lights o' London," "The Romany Rye," "The Soudan," "Cheer, in the Ranks, Boys, Cheer;" "Youth," "The Cherry Pickers," "The Still Alarm," "The Black Flag," "Siberia," and other plays of similar repute that in their days enjoyed a vogue just as great as any of the latter day plays.

And while the dramastists of the country have been writing "Easiest Ways," "Paid in Fulls," "Lions and the Mouses," "Escapes," "Jimmy Valentines," and other plays of like recent popularity, there are other dramatists who have been writing good, sound melodramas for the simple reason that all life is melodrama and these playwrights have been recording the experiences of real people, men and women who have lived real melodramatic careers.

"I have a number of these new melodramas and I am very firmly convinced that the theatergoers of today will appreciate them just as much as our parents did the George R. Sims type of melodramas of a generation ago," said Mr. Morosco.

"I am going to make elaborate revivals from time to time of some of the celebrated old melodramas, but I am going to have them re-written for, if you view them by present-day standards, they are impossible. It is worth remembering that when the best melodramas the American stage ever knew were written there were no telephones—and what would the modern playwright do without the aid of a telephone on the stage?

"The old dramatic construction is just as unfashionable today as are the one-time popular and muchly worn and ridiculed bustle and its predecessor, the hoop-skirt. But the wearer of the hoop-skirt, the bustle and the ham sleeve is just as beautiful, just as alluring and just as popular today as she ever was—in fact, I will be a trifle gallant and say she is more attractive and loveable than ever, and the same condition prevails in regard to the melodramatic play.

"It is hampered by a lot of old-fashioned language, and ancient methods of construction that would not be tolerated today by any theater attendant but the main story that appealed to the melodrama audience a score of years will please the playgoer of today with equal force if it only is properly produced and played—and all this I propose to do.

"Melodrama is not necessarily for the masses any more than vaudeville is for the person who can only afford the price of a seat for this sort of stage entertainment.

"Since the commencement of the season of melodrama at the Lyceum we have had in our audiences scores of persons whose names figure prominently in every record of local fashionable happening; bankers and professional men have liked our Lyceum performances so much that they have written to me and thanked me for what they have termed a 'real theatrical treat, entirely removed from so much of the frivolous and worthless stuff with which the stage has been littered for the past few years'—while the small boy and his older brother have crowded the 'peanut heaven' as we used to call the uppermost section of the theater and have revived the fashion of not being afraid to applaul the hero and heroine while they hissed the billain.

"The American stage has sorely missed the gallery occupants for a good many years and if my venture of putting on melodrama at the Lyceum has resulted in nothing else but bringing back the prosperity to the long vacant gallery, I am satisfied, much more so than I can tell you."

Now, if the galleryite only had a chance he, undoubtedly, would tell you that he is vastly more pleased and thankful than is Mr. Morosco.

All of which means that, very much after the former popular circus clown, melodrama may well exclaim "Here we are again."

Free Show, Too.

CHRISTMAS TREE FOR KIDS ON PANTAGES STAGE.

FRIDAY, December 20!

Eleven o'clock!

What is it? Of course you don't know but over on the north and east side of the city, where they don't read the newspapers, and speak a language of their own, almost anyone can tell you all about it. Hundreds of childish hearts are beating in anticipation of the event.

A week ago it was whispered in the settlements that the Pantages free matinee and Christmas tree for poor children would be given on the Friday before Christmas. Now everybody over there knows it and has known it for the last six days.

Last year and two years ago a thousand children were the invited guests of the Pantages Theater, and those events are still topics of conversation among the guests. Manager Walker could not tell you without referring to the books what the programme was on those occasions, but the children who attended know, and will compare last year's entertainment with this year's. It is their only standard of comparison, for they never see the inside of a theater at any other time.

For a month past the postman has been delivering letters addressed to "Santa Claus, Pantages Theater," and Manager Carl Walker has been forwarding them to Mr. Pantages at Seattle, for Alex Pantages is the Santa Claus of the Pantages circuit. Not only in Los Angeles, but in fifteen other cities where the Pantages shows are seen, Christmas is observed in this same way.

Twenty-thousand poor children receive a free entertainment, a Christmas tree, a bag of candy and a toy.

Mr. Pantages wishes this entertainment to be exclusively for those who are unable to attend the theater at any other time. All others are carefully excluded from the poor children's matinee.

The programme given for the children will be identical with the regular Pantages show of the week, and the actors appearing on the bill have always made an effort to present their specialties with the nature of the occasion in mind. The programme this year will include the following: Thiossen's trained dogs and cats, Paul Florus on the xylophone, Mr. and Mrs. Rose in a dramatic playlet, "A Matter of Custom," Tom Linton and the Jungle Girls, Sol Berns, the funny little Hebrew, Duke Johnson and Mae Wells, the Texas Tommy and Fandango dancers, and a moving picture. Then will follow the biggest act of all, Santa Claus and his tree. The children are marshaled across the stage, where every actor on the bill helps to pass out to the guests the little presents provided for them.

Alien Drama.

DEUTSCHES HOUSE NEW VENTURE.

IMPORTED PLAYERS TO GIVE PRODUCTIONS IN GERMAN.

Rapid Americanization of Teutonic Emigrants Make Attempt Doubtful Financial Success but Move Has Solid Foundation That Will Eventually Bear Fruit.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

For more than a quarter of a century attempts have been made to introduce companies of foreign players, presenting the drama in their own tongue in a house specially constructed for their work.

While the drama and the opera have long emigrated together and have been successfully transplanted the imported alien theater has not taken root among us, to any extent.

The one that has been able to maintain itself for years and become a financial success is the Chinese Theater of San Francisco.

It has there two distinct classes of clientele. The Mongolians from everywhere on the Pacific Coast who visit their "Paris" ever so often on vacation bent or on their way to China. The theater is for them a unique treat, affording the only way for hearing their mother tongue and enjoy the music and drama given according to their esthetic conceptions of these arts.

The greater revenue, however, comes from the numberless tourists, who pay dearly for seating on the stage and very often for the rare privilege of exhibiting to orientals the shocking lack of good breeding of occidentals.

The Yiddish Theater is the only one that retains the position of legitimate playhouse with actors producing the drama for a certain clientele, without counting on the coefficient of the curious tourist, as an income producer.

Here we have a survival of the early form of the seventeenth century company of players, presenting in the frame of very inexpensive settings, the simple drama of everyday, without great expense for costumes, for salaries or house lease.

For several years, however, the Germans, French, Italians, Spaniards and Scandinavians have made brave attempts in founding a home theater for the propogation of their tongues.

Owing to the great number of German-Americans the German Theater has had more money spent in its maintenance than any other.

In Milwaukee, after years, it is at last established on a basis of some certainty as to its future. It would seem, however, that New York should be the home of a German theater really worthy of its splendid colony. It must be because the emigrants from Austria, Germany and Rhenish provinces become at once American and forget their mother tongue in one generation, almost always, that a German theater cannot be financially successful in New York with over a million Germans to draw from.

Years ago the old Thalia Theater was the house wherein the German artists, native or imported, used to present the dramas in that language.

Later the Deutsches Theater at the corner of Irving place and Fifteenth street, sometimes known as the Irving Place Theater, became the home of Germanic players.

Under the management of the great Conried, it occupied a most enviable position as a playhouse of extraordinary importance.

Norman Hapgood did not hesitate to say then that the Deutsches Theater stood above everything else in New York, because it was a small house, comfortable, intimate, with excellent acoustic qualities, simple in taste and decoration, wherein the best German drama was presented by German artists of recognized standing abroad.

That was an ideal, typical of Herr Conried's great vision; it met also the views of German bankers and captains of industry, who approved, and very generously went into their pockets and paid the losses of the boxoffice.

The artistic triumph had been secured and might have been maintained if the Deutsches Theater had had a good fairy like the Boston Operahouse. But there is only one Jordan in the world; only one man in the whole of the United States who is willing to pour in thousands and hundreds of thousands just for the mere satisfaction of having real high art, without any other personal return.

With Conried's change of base, Dr. Baumfeld took the management and the success of former years was repeated "diminuendo." The clever doctor thought, and very wisely, that Irving place was too far down town and he induced friends to back him up in a new venture—the German Theater at Madison avenue and Fifty-ninth street. Here for a season or two, very good plays were given to excellent houses, but frost came to nip this new and latest effort and Baumfeld's new venture was gathered in by the great harvester of new and impractical theatrical enterprises.

But, undaunted, Dr. Baumfeld is now starting on a new tack. The plan is admirable and one that should appeal to all organizations seeking to obtain something new and valuable in the educational field of foreign drama.

The list of new plays is made from the latest and best works from the leading living German dramatists. The company is formed of thirty artists who have been accepted among the professional ranks of the foremost theaters in Berlin, Vienna, Munich and Stuttgardt.

Well-known stars like the Baroness Stranz-Fuehring, Countess Metternich-Vallentin, Court Actor Rudolph Christians, Gutav von Seyffertitz and Rudolph Schildkraut.

Just now when all these guests will be together at Deutsches Theater, an opportunity will be given to produce German plays with a cast hardly to be surpassed in Europe.

French, Italian and German drama and operatic productions will gradually be given in English a little more every year; the tone of the American stage will be elevated by the demands of those who come from or have visited the foremost European centers; their music will remain the great universal property of all cultured people.

The Week.

YOUNG STAR AND OLD PLAY.

FARNUM AT MASON; MAJESTIC TO HAVE "OLD HOMESTEAD."

Last Week of Belasco Under Oliver Morosco's Management With "Wedding Bells" as Attraction. "Escape" Must Relinquish Hold at the Burbank.

"The Littlest Rebel," in which Dustin Farnum opens a week's engagement at the Mason Operahouse tomorrow night, is crowded with heart-touching incidents and thrilling climaxes. The end of the first act witnesses the destruction by fire of a southern mansion by northern soldiers. This act of incendiarism is perpetrated by a drunken orderly who is promptly shot to death by a superior officer.

Act two closes with a thrilling picture of a northern officer and Confederate scout standing with clasped hands over a promise of the one not to betray the other while passing through his lines.

The realistic and exciting battle scene occurs in act three and constitutes the thrilling climax of the play, although the heart-touching scene when the littlest rebel comes before Gen. Grant to plead for her father's life strikes a responsive chord in act four.

As the northern colonel, Mr. Farnum has a role picturesque, sympathetic and forceful. In Mr. Farnum's support will be seen Miss Zenaide Williams, who plays with exquisite charm the role of Capt. Cary's wife, the typical woman of the South during the days of the great strife; the woman whom the author characterizes as "the crutches on which the tottering cause of Dixie leans."

A splendid portrayal of the Confederate scout is by Alexis B. Luce; a remarkable picture of Gen. U. S. Grant, "the war machine," is contributed by Morris Burr, who requires almost two hours to make-up for this character. When the curtain rises he stands with his back to the audience. Upon turning around the likeness to the illustrious patriot is so truthful that the actor never fails to receive a burst of applause. A humorous slave type is that of the old darkey by George Thatcher. Theater-goers will never forget the dainty and captivating child study as exhibited by little Mary Miles Minter in the role of Virgie.

The engagement includes the regular Saturday afternoon performance and a popular price matinee on Wednesday.

Majestic.

America's great success comes to the Majestic tonight, for a week's engagement. Denman Thompson's "The Old Homestead" has been played continuously for a longer period than any other play ever staged in this country. Some seasons it has been played by as many as three companies. It has been seen in every city of any consequence in this country and has been played in New York City more than a thousand times.

Plays of great merit usually last five or six seasons and then go into the stock houses for occasional presentation. The one exception has been Mr. Thompson's play, and it has been on the go now for many years, this being the twenty-seventh season. "The Old Homestead" did but little traveling during the first two years of its existence, it having remained in and about Boston for that period, after its initial presentation at the Boston Theater in April, 1886. It was not until after its three year's run at the Academy of Music in New York City that it entered upon its perambulations.

The first traveling season of the company was one of extraordinary length, they remaining out continuously for ninety weeks. During that time the company traveled 35,000 miles or nearly one and a half times the circumference of the globe.

All parts of the country were touched. The demand for the play became still heavier as its fame grew apace and Mr. Thompson soon had three companies before the public. It would be next to an impossibility to give anything like an accurate distance of the territory over which the home of Joshua Whitcomb, Grace Church and the other well-known scenes of the play were moved back and forth during the first half of their existence, but it is safe to say that 175,000 miles would not be an exaggerated estimate. Probably "The Old Homestead" has during its entire existence traveled a distance of at least seven times around the globe. What is more remarkable is the fact that the play has been seen in this country alone and the movements of the various companies presenting it have been restricted to practically the same territory there being indeed but a few, if any, towns of any consequence in the United States that have not been introduced to Josh Whitcomb, Cy Prime, Aunt Matilda, Happy Jack, Rickety Ann, Eb Ganzey, and all the other familiar characters in "The Old Homestead."

Orpheum.

Quite the most appropriate and beautiful act ever offered with a purely local color is "California," the big musical play which toplines the Orpheum bill for the week opening Monday matinee. Not only does it carry a company of twelve principals, with a large chorus, but its very scenes are laid hereabouts, at the Mission San Juan—easily recognized in the sets and the atmosphere—and its story, concise, but authentic, is of the days of early American and late Spanish regimes, with the saving of the missions as its topic. The cast is headed by Lisle Leigh and Harry L. Griffith, and the very large company, elaborate scenic and lighting effects and all around perfection, is doubtless certain to make its appeal from the first.

This is one of five new acts next week, with James J. Morton, "a fellow of infinite jest," running next. He is noted for his rare quips, and impromptu wit, and his fun is so spontaneous and genuine that it is doubly enjoyable.

Nonette, the lovely singing violiniste, is another most welcome addition to the bill. She will, of course, appear in her favorite gypsy garb and make the songs of the zingara known, even with the latest in rags—for her taste and ability are far and away ahead of any hopeful rivals.

Stelle Maye and Margie Addis are two stunning girls, of fine face and figure, who offer songs and comedy. Unknown here, they have yet made good all along the line, and are certain on this, their first visit, to make many friends.

David Kidd is a Scotsman, who is a light comedian—a combination hitherto deemed impossible. He has a witty way wi' him, he can deliver the goods, and his Scotch burr adds much to the fun of it all.

Remaining another week are the notable Nazarros, athletic artists; Sydney Ayers, and his company, in "A Call for the Wild," and McConnell and Simpson, in that riproaring farce, "The Right Girl."

—o—

Belasco.

"Wedding Bells," Edward Salisbury Field's fine farce which scored such an instantaneous laughing success on its premier at the Belasco one week ago, has achieved such a remarkable degree of popularity, and the demand for seats has been of such uncommon proportions, that it will be given for a second week, beginning with the performance tomorrow night.

The second week of "Wedding Bells," however, will positively be the last, although this hilariously funny farce could undoubtedly enjoy a long and prosperous run, were it not for the fact that it will mark the closing of the Belasco Stock Company, and the last week of the theater under the Morosco management.

Mr. Field's story is original in every particular, telling of the troubles of a young couple in their attempt to elope and the humorous incidents that befall them almost every time they turn around. These situations following one upon the other are extremely fast and funny and provoke a constant gale of laughter throughout the four acts of the farce.

Two weeks after the closing of the Belasco Theater, the new Morosco Theater on Broadway, will be thrown open to the public with a big production of Paul Armstrong's new play, "The Love Story of the Ages."

—o—

Lyceum.

Hirshall Mayall, generally regarded as one of the best leading actors in America, and who has been seen at the head of some of the foremost stock companies in this country, will make his first appearance as the new leading man of the Lyceum Stock Company this afternoon, when this popular organization will offer a spectacular production of the most famous of all detective plays, "The Sign of the Four."

No fiction has been so widely read as the famous Sherlock Holmes stories and "The Sign of the Four" is a stage version of these stories by Walter Edwardes, at present a member of the Burbank organization.

Almost everyone is familiar with the wonderful exploits in the detection of crime of this famous character, and it is needless to say that the play is one of the most thoroughly interesting and thrilling that has ever been written.

The production of "The Sign of the Four" will be by all odds the most elaborate and complete that has been given by the new Lyceum company, there being a score of spectacular and exciting scenes, wherein all of the achievements of modern stagecraft are brought into play.

Mr. Mayall will find exceptionally fine opportunity for splendid acting on his first appearance, being cast in the role of Sherlock Holmes, while Andrew Bennison will be seen in the important part of Dr. Watson. Maud Leone will enjoy the best opportunity she has had since her first appearance on the Lyceum stage, in the chief feminine role in the detective play, while Richard Allen, John R. Radley, Dohl Davies, Richard Barbee and the other Lyceum favorites will be found well cast in the supporting roles.

Burbank.

Paul Armstrong's powerful drama of the tenements, "The Escape," continues to break all previous attendance records at the Burbank Theater and this afternoon will enter upon the seventh week of its immensely successful run.

About once a year a really great play finds its way to the local stage and "The Escape" will unquestionably be the one big hit recorded on the pages of local theatrical history of 1912.

"The Escape" will shortly be given at the Garrick Theater, Chicago, and it is not unlikely that several members of the present Burbank cast will be seen in the Chicago production of the piece.

Following "The Escape," Izetta Jewel, the new leading woman of the Burbank company, will make her first appearance in Mr. Armstrong's recent success, "A Romance of the Underworld."

—o—

Empress.

By far the greatest novelty that the Empress Theater has ever offered to the patrons of vaudeville will be shown this week when "Prince Floro," the man-monkey, makes his debut before local audiences.

Prince Floro was the sensation of the variety stages of London, Paris and Berlin, and is a most unusual novelty, imported to this country expressly for the Sullivan & Considine circuit.

The origin of Prince Floro is very much of a mystery. Some scientists declare him to be a "man-monkey," while others claim he is a chimpanzee. He is unquestionably the most intelligent of the many highly educated chimpanzee wonders, such as Consul, Charles I, and Susie, all of which died in this country while on their way to the Pacific Coast. Prince Floro makes his appearance in evening clothes and silk hat, the scene being a cafe, after which he proceeds to order his lunch, which he eats with knife and fork, handled as deftly as a human being, tips the waiter, and departs.

After this highly amusing performance, he discards his evening clothes and proceeds to play billiards, ride bicycles and perform other clever and amusing tricks.

The second feature of the new bill will be the remarkable dancing of McGinnis Brothers, who are today considered among the most clever dancers on the vaudeville stage, while another exceedingly attractive offering will be the famous equilibrist Marseilles, who will demonstrate some particularly daring and wonderful balancing feats.

One of the distinct fun hits of the new bill should be Catherine Chaloner and company's lively comedy, "Kate's Press Agent," the exceedingly funny story of the actress who achieved her desire to become famous over night in a most ingenious manner.

McClain and Mack, the "musical kidders," will furnish much of the music on the new bill, while Frank Morton completes the bill.

—o—

Pantages.

Pictures of His Holiness, Pope Pius X, will be a prominent feature of the Pantages show opening Monday afternoon. This is the first time the cinematograph has penetrated the sacred precincts of the Vatican and the event is notable in itself. The pictures show wide range of Vatican life. Every interesting feature of the church's great capital is intimately shown and pictures of many church dignitaries.

Of course, the principal interest of the picture centers in His Holiness, the Pope, who at the time the pictures were taken was giving audience to a delegation of French dignitaries. In another scene the Pope is shown walking in the Vatican gardens. To the Vatican pictures is added a series of pictures of the last Eucharistic Congress, the most notable that has taken place in modern times.

The Hamada Japs are the titular head-liners. Seven active little brown men and women in characteristic Japanese gymnastics on the wire and perch poles give an entirely new conception of what is commonly known as a Japanese act.

A decided novelty is Karsey's Giant Myriaphone. This instrument is the only one of its kind ever constructed and Prof. Karsey claims to have it so fully protected by patent that another like it can only be built by his consent. The instrument occupies the full stage and is operated by two players. It resembles the harp in tone and technique, but is as superior to it in volume and varied effects as the pipe organ is to the cabinet instrument.

—o—

Bessie Leonard presents a novel singing and dancing act in the course of which she makes several complete changes of costume in full view of the audience.

Whitney's operatic dolls, or living marionettes, are a novelty that has been well received along the circuit. The company includes an attendant for each figure, so that the songs and conversational parts for each are rendered in different voices. The act is presented on a miniature stage with mimic orchestra, and all the features of a real marionette show.

John Zimmer, juggler, and Rutherford and Munro in a conversational comedy with musical trimmings, are also promised. Green and Parker are a snappy pair of entertainers who deliver some good comedy and songs. The Pantages orchestra under Herr Rachman will be on the job as usual.

"Heinz's Troubles" will be the bill coming to the Century Theater commencing with Monday evening's performance, and from present expectations it is going to be one of the best bills ever presented at this home of musical comedy.

Many opportunities are given the principals for comedy situations as well as rendering musical numbers. The Prize Chorus of sixteen [illegible] will again be seen at their best in a variety of new songs and dances, while the costumes used in last week's production will be of the latest styles and designs. These costumes have just been purchased by Manager Loewen's personal representative in New York City, and arrived in this city the last part of November and were used for the first time in last week's production.

Two new additions to the company will also be noticeable in next week's production, Harry Russell, a comedian of note, who has played extensive engagements in the East, will join the aggregation playing character roles, while Miss Fern Melrose, the heroine of the St. George Hotel fire, whose opening with the Century Company has been postponed on account of injuries, will positively appear in next week's bill. The contest held nightly by the members of the Prize Chorus will [illegible]

The other members of the company which includes Jules Mendel, Walter Spencer, Al. Franks, Rose Mendel, Ransdale and "Sis" Mathews will all have suitable parts.

—o—

Mozart.

Beginning Monday afternoon the special feature for the Mozart Theater all next week will be Balfe's famous opera, "The Bohemian Girl." This magnificent masterpiece in photography will be shown with a star cast, splendid settings and accompanied by a special musical programme. Elegance, richness and realism characterize every scene of the picture production of this delightful opera, which has charmed lovers of music the world over. The action of this three-reel drama begins at the Chateau of Count Arnheim in Austria. It tells a story of the nobility and peasantry and involves a band of Gypsies. Arline, the heroine, is kidnaped and is [illegible] in a Gypsy tribe. After several [illegible] her identity is established, as a result of her trial for theft, the judge in the case being her father. She is later returned to her birthright, [illegible] the end the romance that [illegible] the story is brought to a happy culmination.

The programme will include [illegible] features of interest and the music as always, especially enjoyable.

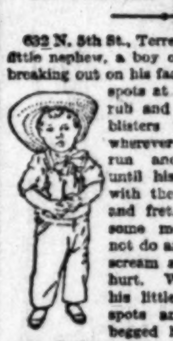
FACE ALL RED SPOTS AND BLISTERS

Rubbed and Scratched. Would Cry and Fret. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Face Got Well.



632 N. 5th St., Terre Haute, Ind.—"My little nephew, a boy of four years, had a breaking out on his face. It was little red spots at first then he would rub and scratch and water blisters would form and wherever the water would run another would come until his face was covered with them. He would cry and fret. His mother got some medicine, but it did not do any good. He would scream and cry and say it hurt. We hardly knew him, his little face was all red spots and blisters. So I begged him to let me put some Cuticura Ointment on them. The next morning I made a strong soap suds with Cuticura Soap and washed his face in the warm suds. The little blisters burst by pressing the cloth on them. After I had his face washed, I put the Cuticura Ointment on and in a short time his little face was all red and dry. I kept using the Cuticura Soap and putting on the Cuticura Ointment and his face got well and it did not leave a scar. He was entirely cured in about one week and a half." (Signed) Mrs. Arthur Haworth, Jan. 10, 1912.

A single cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment are often sufficient when all else has failed. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T Boston."

☞Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

Evening Coats and Gowns
Are Very Much Less!

—There's a coat of brocaded chiffon over white satin and white satin lined.

Brocaded in the rose shades and old gold and with a touch of coral panned velvet. It's very Frenchy—and will go with most every shade of gown.

Then there are evening coats in the amber and champagne tones—a lovely gray silk velvet—and a brocaded velvet in old rose, fur trimmed.

As for the Gowns

They're in the new evening shades. One a changeable chiffon in the blue and amber shades—and beaded in amber and pearl.

Another is of the most delicate of sea shell pinks—a satin foundation—with a drape of chiffon—beaded in pearl.

And priced at very much less than usual.

ON SALE MONDAY—THE BALANCE OF THOSE REDUCED TO $15 DRESSES FOR YOUNG GIRLS AND SMALL WOMEN. A JUST-IN SHIPMENT OF FRESH, NEW STYLES—DRESSES THAT ORDINARILY WOULD BE MARKED $25 AND $35. THEY ARE $15.

—always with a tiny conventional design—either in self-tone or in some attractive contrasting shade—Fleur de lis—French knot clusters—

They practically trim themselves.

"Dress" and Tailored Hats
$25 and $35 Values
Are On Sale Monday at $10

What to Give—
One of the New Corsage Boquets

These are very Frenchy—especially when worn as a boutonniere.

But the flowers themselves are just as fascinatingly old-fashioned as our grandmother's gardens.

Verbenas, Mignonette, Larkspur, velvety Dahlias, Lily of the Valley, Forget-me-not and Old Fashioned Pinks.

One of these dainty flower sprays—in an attractive box—a lovely gift.

Buried in a Silk Tufted Basket
Direct from Paris
Sachet, Soap and Toilet Water

—a Christmas Gift that's been planned especially to please the woman who likes Dressing Table things that are dainty—new.

And something else that's new in toilet necessaries—a big glass bowl—glass covered—filled with bath salt. The bowl is banded in tufted satin ribbon. And there's a bow of the ribbon around the knob on top and around the handle of the accompanying bath salt spoon.

An Italian Silk Vest

They are as little as $1.50—the plain ones. When they are embroidered the price is $2.50 and up.

Or Silk Stockings

There was a sale of silk stockings last week. There are a few pairs left—at 95 cents. Either embroidered in self-tons or in the plain all-silk black-and-white.

The colors:—black, white, tan, bronze, cardinal— and champagne. The values:—$1.50 and $2—sale priced, 95 cents.

Men's Lounging Robes
That Are Good Style---and Comfortable

—There's one in a dull brown shawl cloth—faced, lined and with pocket flaps—of brown and white check. And a gray, lined and trimmed in black and white check. These have the self-tone heavy silk cords.

Another example of the Lounging Robe that's soft and warm, and at the same time, good style. A brown Zibeline cloth with just a fleck of white in the weave. Very effectively bound and belted with a cording of brown and white silk.

SOCIETY.

Mrs. J. G. Sloan, Mrs. William Jamison and Miss Jessica Lawrence, Tuesday afternoon at Symphony Hall, in the Blanchard building. A yellow and green decorative scheme was carried out by the use of huge clusters of the fluffy yellow chrysanthemums and asparagus plumosus. Honor guests for the afternoon were Mrs. David Campbell of Kansas City, Mrs. Jason Walker of Memphis, and Mme. Lebegott, who presented several solos, her husband accompanying her. One hundred and fifty guests were entertained. Others taking part were Miss Grace Kellar, Mrs. Louise Butler, Miss Carolyn Gilbert and Phillip Zobelein.

Wintering Here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wheeler of Wabash, Ind., are the guests of their daughter, Mrs. H. H. Lamport, of the New Maryton Hotel, for the winter.

Miss Forbes to Wed.

Mrs. Margaret Forbes of the Edgerly apartments announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Isabelle, to Ralph Archibald White, who is teaching at the University of California. The ceremony will be solemnized in this city on the 30th inst.

Children's Party.

Mrs. William B. Corwin, assisted by Mrs. George D. Roberts of Hotel Alvarado, entertained last week with a party in celebration of the fifth birthday anniversary of Marguerite Corwin. The table around which the youngsters were seated was gay with a giant rose, with satin streamers extending to the fourteen covers. Large rose trumpets were given as favors. The little tots were Dorothy Johnson, Louise Fitzgerald, Celeste Ryus, Marian Whitten, Bernice Arnold, Dorothy Ginn, Constance Lanz, Laura Larson, Homer Laughlin the third, Tommy Lee, Richard Star and William Irving Hollingsworth, Jr.

Luncheon Delightful.

Mrs. M. L. Carter of No. 678 Kingsley drive and Mrs. F. C. Langdon of No. 941 Alvarado street entertained with a beautifully-appointed luncheon at the home of the former Thursday afternoon. The table centerpieces were Japanese baskets filled with Cecile Bruner roses, and perky bows of pink tulle rested on the handles. Gold monogram cards marked covers for sixty. Assisting ladies were Mrs. J. Nott, Miss Eugenia Rixon, Mrs. T. L. Inch, Mrs. J. E. Carter and Mrs. P. B. Inch.

Musical Evening.

Mrs. David Campbell of Kansas City and Mrs. Jason Walker of Memphis, Tenn., were the complimented guests at a musical evening given Tuesday by Mrs. William Jamison at her home, No. 2024 Hoover street. Those presenting the programme were Mrs. L. J. Selby, Mrs. Phillip Zobelein and Harry Clifford Lott, voice; Mrs. Cecil Franker, readings; Alfred Butler, pianist, and Freda Peycke, who played and sang her own compositions. All of the programme was the work of local composers excepting that of Mr. Butler. A Dutch luncheon was served following the programme and about fifty guests were asked to meet the complimented guests, who are officers in the National Federation of Musical Clubs.

Departing Guest.

Mrs. R. F. Prettyman, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Thomas McKee of No. 1683 West Twenty-fourth street, for two months, has returned to her home in Lawton, Okla.

Oliver-Smith-Cooper Wedding.

The home of Mrs. M. G. Cooper of No. 2708 West Ninth street was the scene of an interesting wedding Tuesday evening, when Miss Margaret M. Cooper became the bride of C. E. Oliver-Smith at 8 o'clock, Rev. Baker P. Lee, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, officiating.

The bride, attired in a white charmeuse gown with an overdress of lace and chiffon, and carrying a shower bouquet of white bride's roses, wore a necklace with a diamond pendant, the gift of the groom. She was attended by her sister, Miss Evelyn Cooper, as maid of honor, who was gowned in a pale-blue satin with chiffon overdrape, carrying a shower of the same flowers. M. C. Cooper, Jr., stood with the groom.

In decorating for the affair white and green were used exclusively. The service was read under a canopy of roses and asparagus plumosus, and in the dining-room, where supper was served, white carnations were effectively arranged and the bride's table, above which was suspended a floral umbrella, had as a centerpiece a cut-glass vase filled with the carnations, while at either end were small vases of these flowers, together with green-shaded candelabra.

A short wedding trip has been planned to Coronado, at the conclusion of which Mr. and Mrs. Oliver-Smith will reside in their own bungalow, which has just been completed at No. 2002 West Forty-second street, where they will be at home to their friends after January 15.

Mrs. Frank Cramer, a sister of the bride, from San Francisco, came here to be present at the wedding.

Among the many delightful affairs given for Miss Cooper, since the announcement of her engagement, was the kitchen shower and five-hundred party Saturday, a week ago, the hostess being Miss Eleanor Dougherty, at her home, No. 2014 South Figueroa street.

The home was lavishly decorated with white roses and ferns, and a delightful feature of the afternoon was the readings by Mme. Boni. The shower was presented in a wicker basket, and assisting the hostess were her mother, Mrs. F. T. Dougherty, and her sister, Miss Adelaide. Following the games, prizes were won by Miss Marguerite Cooper and Miss Ford. Those enjoying the hospitality of the afternoon were Mrs. J. Russell, Mrs. C. Howell, Mrs. M. C. Cooper, Mrs. H. B. Hyatt, Mrs. Frank Cramer, Miss Marie Sweet, Miss Eunice Garrett, Miss Blanche Griffith, Miss Annette Stose, Miss Willa Shambeck, Miss Blanche Ford, Miss Evelyn Cooper, Miss Flossie Cole, Miss Ida Lewis, Miss Gladys Larimer, Miss Edith Sherfy and Miss Alpha McKnight.

Theater Party.

A congenial coterie of friends formed a theater party at the Mason, yesterday afternoon, to witness "The Fascinating Widow," after which they went to the Alexandria where a pleasant hour was passed at tea. Included were Mrs. John W. Monahan, Mrs. George C. Bush, Mrs. De Lano, Mrs. Mary Stringfellow, Mrs. William Bradshaw, Miss Patterson, Mrs. Robert Hardy, Mrs. Fannie Manasse, Mrs. Helen Gowans, Mrs. M. G. Ritchie, Miss Mattie Sears, Mrs. B. F. Huntington and Rebecca and Catherine Patterson.

St. Cecilia Club.

Mrs. George Crandall of South Pasadena entertained the members of the St. Cecilia Club at her home, Monday, which had been adorned with the pink and white Maman Cochet roses. Robert Franz and Johannes Brahms were the subjects of the afternoon, and the hostess gave a paper on each. Others taking part in the programme were Miss Rose Chilcote, Mrs. Elmer Grey and Miss Helen Smyser, piano numbers; Miss Kie Jule Christin, Mrs. Harry Duffil, Miss Willie Smyser and Mrs. D. Porterfield, solos; current events by Mrs. Edward B. Jones; critic's report, Miss Christin and violin numbers, Mrs. Jones. After the programme refreshments were served. Other members present were Mrs. J. Lorainne Barnard, Mrs. Harry Baxter, Miss Sadie Douglass, Mrs. Roy S. Kellogg and Mrs. Harry S. Ross.

Invitations Out.

J. V. Herbelin of No. 219 North Olive street has issued invitations to the wedding of his daughter, Eliane, to Marcel Rebout. The service will be held the morning of the 12th inst. in St. Joseph's Church. Miss Herbelin has been prominent in social circles in the local French colony, the family being old and respected residents of the city. Monsieur Rebout is a well known young business man.

Hollywood News.

Mrs. S. W. Garrettson of No. 1728 tions for the luncheon tables consisted hostess at a luncheon and bridge party given at the Beverly Hills Hotel last Tuesday afternoon. The decoration for the luncheon tables consisted of baskets of pink roses and ferns. The places of 100 guests were marked with the hostess's monogram cards. Tables for cards were arranged in the sun-parlor and drawing-room. Mrs. G. Aubrey Davidson of San Diego and Mrs. H. K. Williamson received with Mrs. Garrettson. The assisting ladies were Mrs. Frederick Johnson, Mrs. Edwin S. Rowley, Mrs. John W. Trueworthy, Mrs. Louis Meyers, Mrs. R. B. Williamson, Mrs. Alexander Barret and Miss Isabel Carpenter. Prizes for the afternoon went to Mrs. William Thompson, Mrs. Ingle Carpenter, Mrs. E. F. Bogardus, Mrs. Henderson Hayward and Miss Isabel Carpenter.

Matinee Party.

Miss Serilla Jones of West Hollywood boulevard was the complimented guest at a matinee party given at the Orpheum last Friday afternoon, followed by tea at the Alexandria. The affair was given by the members of the Um Zoo Ee Club in honor of Miss Jones's departure for the East, where she expects to visit for an indefinite time. The party included the Misses Eulalie Grass, Irene Combe, Phyllis Richardson, Mildred Isaacs, Lillian Grass, Ruth Hoegee and Florence Isaacs.

To Minneapolis.

Mrs. Harriet Balch and her daughter, Miss Margery Balch, who are sojourning at the Hershey Arms, will leave next Wednesday for Minneapolis and St. Paul, where they will spend the holidays with relatives and friends.

Social Dozen Bridge.

Miss Ada Groves entertained the members of the Social Dozen Bridge Club at her home, No. 218 West Eighteenth street, Thursday afternoon. The Christmas motif was used in decorating the home and the prize fell to Mrs. Andrew Swanfeldt. Following the games a dainty repast was served and present were Mrs. E. A. Abbott, Mrs. Andrew Swanfeldt, Mrs. Delois Castle, Mrs. Hinton Marr, Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. Fred Ussher, Mrs. Clayton Ward, Mrs. J. C. Rupard, Mrs. Karl Fishburn, Mrs. Will Pennel and Mrs. McPherson.

Week-end Outing.

A jolly group of young people enjoyed the week-end at Hoegee's Camp, chaperoned by Mrs. A. H. Gurney. Those present were Miss Julia Woodcock of Los Angeles, Miss Tompkinson of Alaska, the Misses Barbara Gurney and Lavinia Brown, Messrs. Donald Wilcox, Martin Mastrovich and William Hoegee.

OUT-OF-TOWN-SOCIETY.

Pasadena.

ONE of the largest functions of an uneventful week was that of last evening when the members of the Valley Hunt Club to the number of one hundred and fifty enjoyed one of the most artistic concerts ever given at the clubhouse. The programme was furnished by Madame Beatrice Priest Fine, dramatic soprano, George von Hagel, cellist, with Madame Gertrude Ross at the piano. The stage was charmingly decorated with potted palms and bay trees and quantities of flowers and after the concert supper was served in the dining-room. Among those present were Rt. Rev. and Mrs. Joseph H. Johnson, Commander and Mrs. J. J. Hunker, Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hibbard, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Folsom, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Gaylord, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Boice, Lieut. and Mrs. Walter S. Volkmar, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Lockwood, Dr. and Mrs. David B. Van Slyck, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Macdonnell, Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Ltuz, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Macomber, Mr. and Mrs. Torrey Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. John Earle Jardine, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Marble, Mr. and Mrs. C. Warring Leffingwell, Dr. and Mrs. F. F. Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Laws, Mr. and Mrs. S. Hazard Halsted, Mr. and Mrs. William St. John Ranney, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Sinclair, Mr. and Mrs. John Murray Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Volney Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. William Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Underhill, Mmes. Henry Goss, S. M. Hamilton, F. B. Winslow, Theodore Welch, Helen Childs, Prof. and Mrs. C. C. Bragdon, Mrs. H. W. Barlow, Misses Ransone, Underhill, Peterson, Markham, Hibbard, Sinclair, Lutz, Messrs. J. H. Booge, Robert Devereaux, N. W. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. G. Lawrence Stimson, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Stimson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Daggett, Miss Maud Daggett, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Barber, Miss Louise Barber, and many others.

Mrs. Roydon Vosburg of California Terrace entertained Thursday afternoon with a delightful auction bridge party given in honor of Miss Bessie Mattison, who has been the recipient of much social attention since the announcement of her engagement to Ernest Behr. Tables were provided for twenty players and among those present were Mmes. Benjamin Douglas, Samuel B. Martin, George A. Vedder, Walter Barnes, Samuel J. Mattison, Misses Mattison, Louise Hawkins, Anita Hartel, Irene Vedder, Emily McBride, Mabel Seibert, Elizabeth Childs, Frace Greenwood, Marjorie ward, Katherine Wadsworth, Marion and Alice Hamilton.

Mrs. Lawrence Hurlburt of South Orange Grove avenue gave the second of a series of beautifully appointed luncheons Tuesday at her home, when covers were laid also for Mmes. Walter S. Wright, Walter L. Wotkyns, Ernest N. Wright, Henry H. Sherk, Helena Childs, Hampton L. Holloway, I. Stuart, Torrey Everett, Joseph B. Durand, and Walter Raymond. After luncheon, auction bridge entertained the guests.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Jones Burdette entertained Tuesday evening at their home, Sunnycrest, with the first salon gathering since their return from Europe. The occasion was unusually delightful and Dr. Henry H. Cathart, president emeritus of Michigan University, gave sketches of eminent men he has known. Mrs. Ernest Batchelder, with Mrs. Walter Raymond, delighted the guests with piano music and vocal solos.

Mrs. MacD. Snowball of North Los Robles avenue entertained at the Rose Teahouse Wednesday afternoon, with a prettily appointed luncheon given in honor of Miss Bessie Wilson of Youngstown, Ohio, who is spending the winter here. Covers were laid also for Mrs. William H. Vedder, Mrs. Robert C. Kennan, Mrs. Carl Enos Nash and Mrs. Snowball.

One of the more elaborate social functions of last week was the musicale given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Everett W. Brooks and her daughter, Mrs. Robert Ladd Gifford, at the Altadena Country Club Seldom has the clubhouse been so charmingly decorated, quantities of potted plants and tropical foliage being used in adornment. Miss Eleanor Mille read, accompanied by Sydney Hoben on the piano, and Mrs. Louise Schnellschmidt Koehne gave a selection of lullabies with harp accompaniment. Tea was served after the musical, in the tea-room, which was softly illuminated with shaded candles. There were one hundred present.

Among larger affairs of note was the at home given yesterday by Judge and Mrs. George A. Gibbs of East California street, celebrating their silver wedding anniversary. The house was artistically decorated for the affair and a collation was served on the flower-decked dining-room. There were one hundred present.

Mrs. William Stanton of Grace Hill entertained a few friends Tuesday with a motor party and luncheon at Carter's Camp, the outing being arranged in honor of Miss Thomas, who spent a few days with Mrs. Stanton early in the week, returning to Hotel Virginia yesterday. The trip was made in two motor cars and covers were laid for eight.

Two of the delightful functions of last week were in the way of an aftermath from the Christmas Shop, in which so many society matrons and maids were interested two weeks ago. The first was a luncheon given by Mrs. D. M. Linnard at Hotel Maryland for the young matrons and maids assisting in the day nursery department, and covers were laid for twenty. The table was decorated with Maman Cochet roses and maidenhair ferns, and the appointments were unusually attractive. Among those present were: Mmes. G. Lawrence Stimson, Lawrence Macomber, Ray Zug, David Blankenhorn, John Visscher Eliot, Mason, Maclintock, Misses Cora Auten, Marion Gwinn, Emily McBride, Theodora Robbins, Gladys Gardner, Marjorie Ward, Dorothy Foster, Grace Clark, Julia Holmes, the Misses Lyman, Fillius and Underhill. The second affair was the reception given Friday afternoon by Mrs. Edmund G. Barry at her home on South Orange Grove avenue, for which a large number of invitations were extended, including all who assisted at the Christmas Shop. Assisting Mrs. Barry in receiving were the executive board, including Mmes. Norman Henderson, George A. Vedder, Holloway I. Stuart, F. W. Austin, Misses Marjorie Sinclair and Grace Thomas. In the dining-room, which was charmingly ornamented with poinsettia suggesting the Christmas season, Mrs. William Franklin Knight and Mrs. J. C. Fitzgerald presided over the tea table. Assisting about the rooms were: Misses Geraldine Barry, Mamie Nimmock, Lucy Smith, Elizabeth Childs, Sara Slavin, Ada Black, Gladys Waterman, Gladys McLachlan, Irene Grosse, Mabel Ayers, Mina Hertel, Margaret Mears, Jane Rowland, Helen Rowland, Mabel Seibert, Elizabeth Storrow and Florence Grosse. Between 3 and 5 o'clock there were 200 guests present.

CANADIAN STEER CHAMPION.

Animal, Awarded World's Prize in London International Exposition, Had Never Tasted Corn.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Dec. 7.—A Canadian steer was awarded the world's championship at the international livestock exposition here Tuesday.

The winner is "Glenmarnock Victor," a 2-year-old grade Angus steer, raised and exhibited by James D. McGregor of Brandon, Man. Second prize went to the last year's champion, "Black Rock," a cross-bred steer exhibited by the Iowa State Agricultural College.

"Glenmarnock Victor" was fed on Canadian barley, oats and hay, a feature of his fattening being that the animal never has tasted corn.

CHINESE CATCHING ON. THE LATEST FADS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The Chinese in Manchuria have become addicted to the use of walking sticks, tight-fitting shoes and other marks of an effete civilization, according to a report from American Consul Albert W. Pontius at Darien, Manchuria.

CAMORRIST INSANE. SENT TO AN ASYLUM.

PISA, Dec. 7.—[By Cable and A. P.] Giuseppe de Martinis, one of the members of the Camorra, who was convicted at Viterbo of being implicated in the murder of Cuoccolo and sentenced to thirty years imprisonment, has become insane. He has been transferred to an asylum for the criminal insane.

Russia to Publish Statement of Trade Relations.

Spirit Will Be Friendly to United States.

Main Object Is to Protect Its Home Market.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 7.—It is officially announced that the Russian government will publish on January 1, the day of the expiration of the Russo-American treaty of commerce and navigation, a statement outlining its future commercial policy toward the United States and also a provisional tariff which will not contain any great increase over the existing tariff.

The policy of the Russian government, it is said, will not be imbued by any spirit of animosity but will be directed solely to the protection of the Russian markets and to assuring the Russian consumer the most favorable condition of supply of the staple imports hitherto coming direct from the United States—namely, cotton, farm machinery and implements.

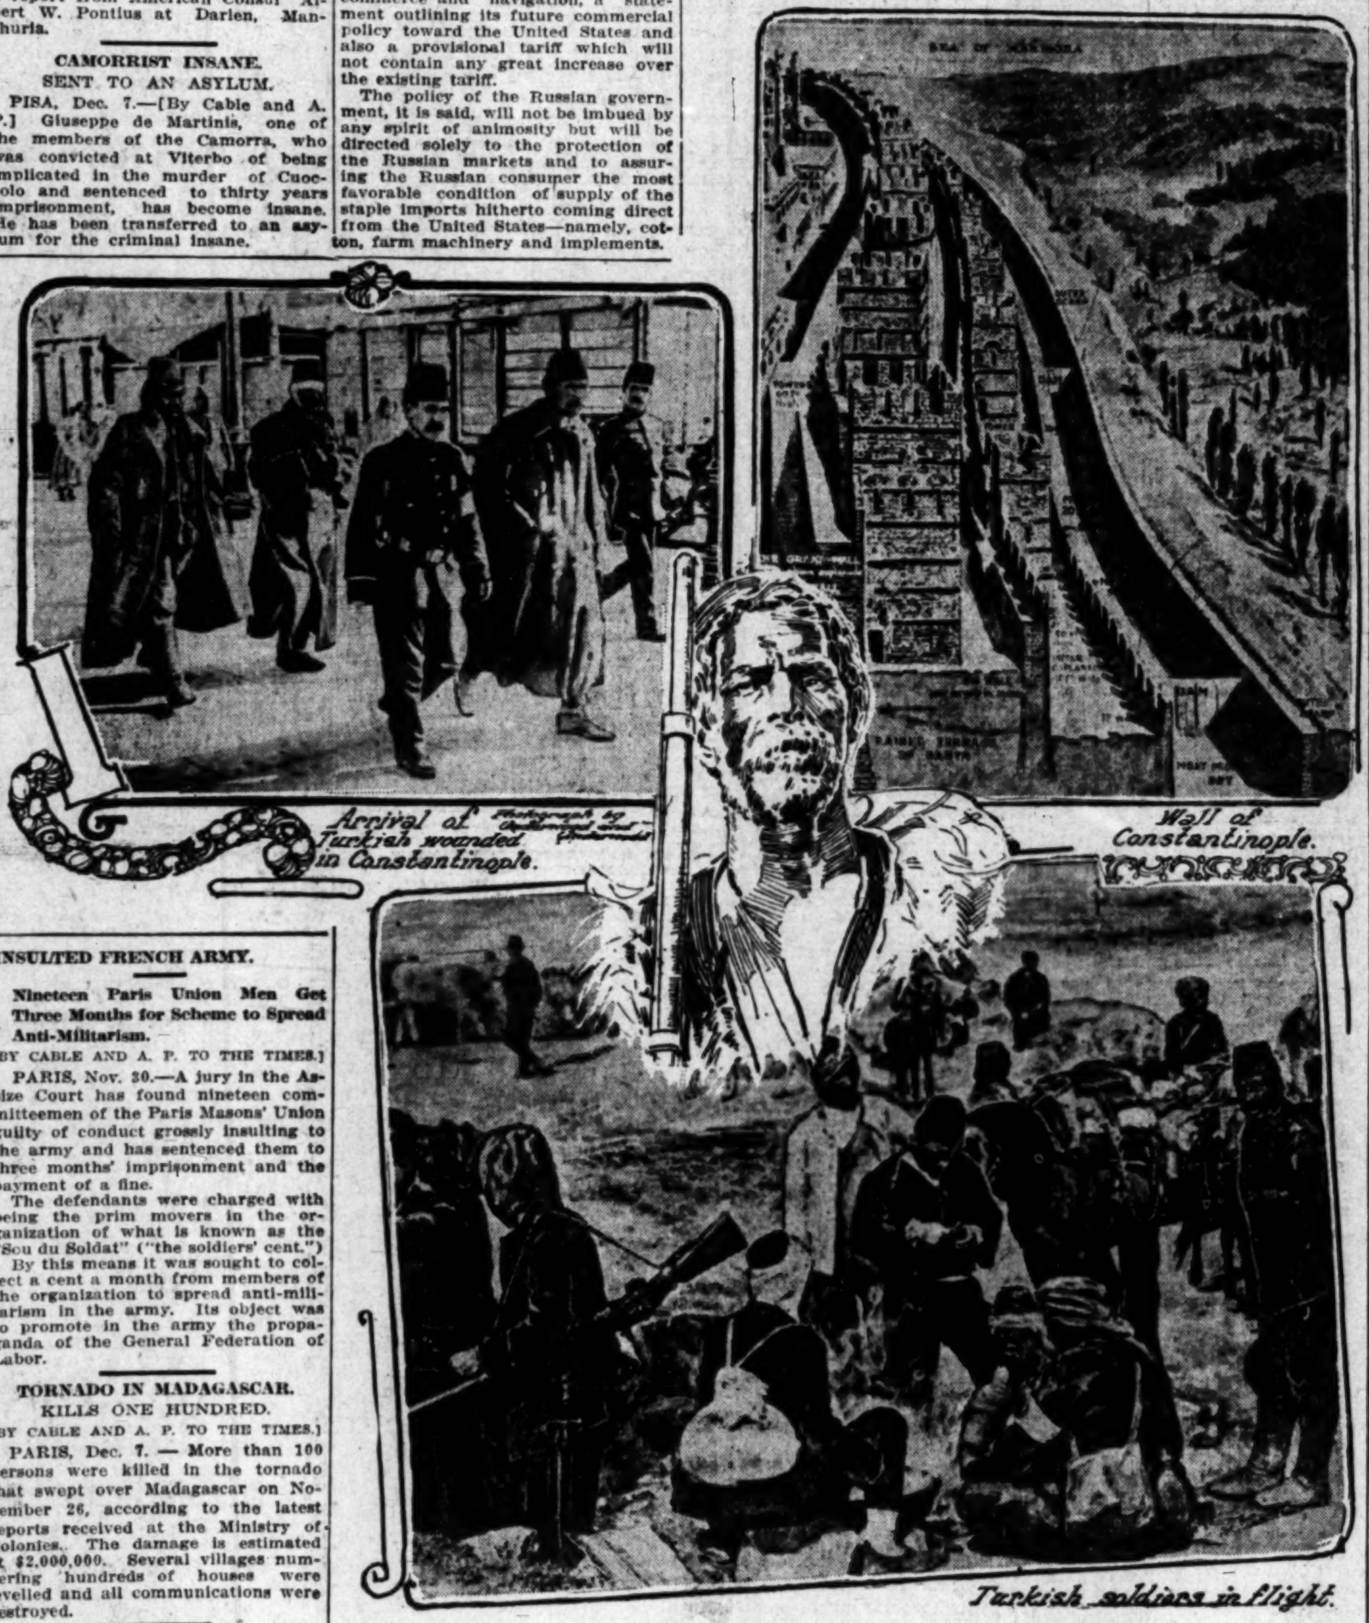
Analysis.

TURKISH CHRISTIANS BLAMED FOR DEFEAT.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—The chief responsibility for the failure of the Turkish army rests with the Christians of that army, says a correspondent, writing from Semlin. The Turkish soldier is "the same brave fellow he used to be," but he was deserted by his Christian allies, confused by his officers and left by his commissariat to starve, while mountains of rice, bread, beans and zwieback were piled up less than twenty miles away.

In the battle of Koumanowo, says the correspondent, 25 per cent. of the army was made up of Christians—Armenians, Greeks, Bulgarians, Servians and Catholic Albanians. Not much confidence was placed in the Bulgarians and Servians, but the Turkish leaders had no conception of the new unity of the Balkan States and could not have imagined that the Greeks, always bitter enemies of the Bulgarians, would favor them. Accordingly, while the Bulgarians and Servians were generally employed in the munition trains, the Greeks were put at the front, generally in charge of the artillery. When the clash came the Christians promptly deserted to the enemy, leaving the guns unserved and disorganizing the troop units. At the same time the Bulgarians in charge of the military supplies showed no desire to bring up munitions for use against their blood brothers, and when munitions were at hand it was found that thousands of the cartridges were blank, and soap, instead of shells filled the caissons.



Arrival of Turkish wounded in Constantinople.
Wall of Constantinople.
Turkish soldiers in flight.
SEA OF MARMORA

Dark Days for Sublime Porte.

"I have surpassed Solomon," Emperor Justinian exclaimed as he put the finishing touches to Saint Sophia, and to the great triple wall around Constantinople of which a glimpse is given in the picture in the upper right hand corner. The wall withstood eight centuries of attacks, but finally crumbled, as the Ottoman empire is crumbling. The first cut in the group shows dejected and wounded Turks returning to Constantinople from the front, while the lower cut shows the Turks in flight before the Bulgars, a typical face of whose peasant fighters appears in the center. It is a far cry from Justinian to Mehmed V, but what a wonderful panorama of history passes before the eye as it gazes at the graphic pictures above, mute evidence that the sick old man of Europe seems to be in his last throes.

INSULTED FRENCH ARMY.

Nineteen Paris Union Men Get Three Months for Scheme to Spread Anti-Militarism.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Nov. 30.—A jury in the Assize Court has found nineteen committeemen of the Paris Masons' Union guilty of conduct grossly insulting to the army and has sentenced them to three months' imprisonment and the payment of a fine.

The defendants were charged with being the prim movers in the organization of what is known as the "Sou du Soldat" ("the soldiers' cent.")

By this means it was sought to collect a cent a month from members of the organization to spread anti-militarism in the army. Its object was to promote in the army the propaganda of the General Federation of Labor.

TORNADO IN MADAGASCAR. KILLS ONE HUNDRED.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Dec. 7. — More than 100 persons were killed in the tornado that swept over Madagascar on November 26, according to the latest reports received at the Ministry of Colonies. The damage is estimated at $2,000,000. Several villages numbering hundreds of houses were levelled and all communications were destroyed.

FUNERAL PYRES ILLUMINE CONSTANTINOPLE'S MISERY

Dore's Picture of Inferno No More Terrible Than ..Scenes of Horror Enacted in Stricken Capital of Mahomet—Vivid Dscription by First Man to Arrive in New York from Golden Horn Since War Began.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] "Constantinople is one great pesthouse lit by the fires of burning ghats, where the dead are burned by night. Yet its people do not know they are whipped, and are fighting like demons."

Thus did Quill Jones, returning today on the North German Lloyd liner Koenig Albert, characterize conditions in that beleagured city. The first man out of the Turkish capital to come to America, he gave a graphic first-hand description of the things he had seen, of circumstances and incidents of a realm as terrible, as he said himself, as Dore's pictured Inferno.

Mr. Jones said: "I cannot begin to relate the tales of horror that are stamped on my memory," when reporters found him on shipboard, coming up the bay. "The suffering in the city and in the war-swept environs is indescribable.

CHAFF OF THE FRAY.

"I made a tour of the city's outskirts one day. Away off to the north where the Tchataldje lines of forts were holding back the wave of victorious Bulgars, I could hear the grumble and subdued roaring of great guns. Fighting was going on there, but all I could see was the pitiable chaff—the refuse thrown back by the grim machine of war.

"Long lines of bullock carts carried the wounded down from the Tchataldje heights toward the city. The men, torn by shot and bullet, lay in the straw of the carts' bottoms, jolted horribly by the springless vehicles, with not even first aid bandages about their wounds. Those able to walk staggered along, holding for support to the sides of the carts.

"Refugees and wounded soldiers mingled in one interminable line of retreat. The non-combatants who were pouring in toward the capital from all the territory which the Bulgars had swept or were sweeping were no more fortunate than the wounded. They, too, came in carts, their household effects piled high about them. They were starving; they were sick. Whenever a bullock dropped with exhaustion—there was no feed for the animals—its owner would cut its throat and men would scramble over the carcass with knives to cut the flesh from the bones before the poor brute had ceased trembling.

FUNERAL PYRES.

"Then there were the fires where the dead were destroyed. They burned constantly in pits by the roadside. Bodies were dragged to the pits and cast upon the embers, with no semblance of funeral rites, no weeping; in many instances, no kin of the dead was there to assist. The bodies were simply so much fuel for the burning ghats.

"With all of their sufferings," Mr. Jones said, "the Turks are showing wonderful optimism. They are all fatalists; they don't know what defeat means. They do not admit they are defeated. I do not believe the allies will ever take Constantinople, even if the present armistice results in no peace and the war is continued."

The French Don't Want to Return to the Horse Meat Diet in Case of War.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Dec. 7.—M. Galli, president of the City Council, called Thursday on M. Millerand, Minister of War, and urged that the government take steps to insure the efficacy of the law of 1892, providing for the proper provisioning of Paris with wheat in case of war.

M. Galli affirmed that if war was declared tomorrow, Paris would be without bread in three or four days.

This was due, he said, to the fact that all the railroads leading to Paris would be used for the mobilization of troops and no merchandise or food could be brought to the metropolis.

ITALY APPROVES TURKISH TREATY

Chamber of Deputies Adopts Pact of Lausanne.

Aegean Island Occupation a Military Measure.

Premier Asks for Protection of Inhabitants.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, Dec. 7. — After two days' discussion the peace treaty between Turkey and Italy, known as the treaty of Lausanne, has been approved by the Chamber of Deputies. The vote was 335 to 24, the latter being Socialists.

Premier Giolitti, in replying to the various speeches in the chamber today, said the occupation by Italy of islands in the Aegean Sea was merely a military measure and had been so declared to the powers. Peace between Italy and Turkey had been concluded before the declaration of war between Turkey and the Balkan states. Therefore, he argued, Greece could make no complaint with regard to these islands.

Italy, continued the Premier, had asked for guarantees for the protection of the inhabitants of the islands in case of evacuation. If this occurred before peace was arranged between Greece and Turkey, Italy could not oppose their occupation by Greece. If evacuation occurred after the conclusion of peace Italy could fulfill whatever terms were agreed to in the treaty between Turkey and the Balkan allies. At any rate, through the treaty, Italy was free to make her voice heard in the European concert in favor of the legitimate interests of other peoples.

MANUEL SEEKS RUSSIAN BRIDE.

EX-PORTUGUESE KING ENGAGED TO GRAND DUCHESS.

Fiancee's Name Is Not Announced but Is Said to Be Marie Alexandrovich, Who Has Scores of Royal and Semi Royal Suitors—Prince Victor to the Front.

BY GEORGE FRASER.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 7.—The visit of ex-King Manuel of Portugal to Russia was in connection with his engagement to a Russian Princess. He has completely recovered from his recent severe illness.

While the name of Manuel's fiancee has not been announced, the lady is said to be the pretty, but capricious young Grand Duchess Marie Alexandrovich, who has scores of royal and semi-royal suitors.

OFFERS HIS SERVICES.

Prince Victor Napoleon, a general in the Russian army, is closely following the progress of affairs in the Near East, and is said to have offered his services to the French government in the event of France being drawn into a European conflict.

Prince Victor is now the accepted leader of the French Bonapartists. He is said to be more like the "Little Corporal" than any member of the Napoleon's family in the present or previous generations.

ORIGIN OF POLKA.

It is now established that the famous polka dance was the improvisation of a Wallachian maid servant in 1830, who, tired of kitchen work, began to dance at her own sweet will, singing the while a native folk song as accompaniment. A musician named Neruda happened to see her dancing, and then and there transcribed the music.

SAVED TZAR'S LIFE.

The cowardly attack on the heir to the throne of the Romanoffs recalls the fact that the Tzar Nicholas owes his life to the second son of King George of the Hellenes. It was Prince George of Greece who accompanied the then Tsarevitch on his tour to Japan in 1890-1, and while the royal couple were at Otsu, near Kioto, a violent attack was made upon the Russian heir by a fanatical policeman in consequence of a supposed breach of religious etiquette when going over a temple. The Tzarevitch had already received one serious blow from the policeman's sword, and it was raised high for another blow, when Prince George was just in time to seize the fanatic and give him a smashing blow over the head and save the then Tzarevitch from a violent death.

ANARCHIST EDITOR SHOT. GANG'S ACT OF VENGEANCE.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Dec. 7.—What is believed to have been an act of vengeance by a surviving member of the notorious Bonnot gang of anarchists, which early in the present year terrorized Paris, occurred in Montemarte Wednesday, when an anarchist burst into the bedroom of M. Ducret, editor of the Freeide, a newspaper of anarchist tendencies, and shot and mortally wounded Ducret. The anarchists allege that Ducret had turned informer. Ducret, as he lay dying, accused a man named Lacombe.

Society Awaits Debut of Her Royal Highness.

Christmas Pantomime Ball a Brilliant Affair.

King Is Patron in Aid of College Hospital

BY LADY MANWARING.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE. BY WIRELESS OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Dec. 7.—Princess Mary is to have a Lady-in-Waiting of her own next season. The time is coming all too soon when she will be brought into the light of day, and will take her place in the social world as a personality to be talked about and admired. Some there are who have already taken upon themselves the officious task of finding for her a husband, and before long this will be done in the Royal Ramily in real earnest. Because of all tihs, and of other considerations which need not be detailed, it will be seen that much convenience will result from the appointment of a lady of experience and discretion to undertake her correspondence, and to give those hints and bits of information which are often the most enduring things in education. Next summer, too, Her Royal Highness will be appearing at some of the State pageants, and her entry upon public life—if such a phrase may be used of her—will be scanned with eagerness and interest by the social world, and by the nation at large.

CHRISTMAS PANTOMIME BALL.

In aid of the University College Hospital, of which his Majesty the King is patron, the Christmas Pantomime Ball took place at the Albert Hall on Wednesday night. The function was a most brilliant one under Royal and distinguished auspices, as Prince and Princess Christian and Princess Henry of Battenberg headed the list of patrons present. An exceedingly large number of tickets was sold; fancy dress was de rigueur and present-day uniforms or Court dress were prohibited. But gentlemen not taking part in any of the processions were permitted to wear "hunt" dress or Venetian cloaks and ladies ordinary fancy costume.

Situated at the junction of Gower street and Euston road, the University College Hospital draws its patients from some of the poorest districts in the West Central and Northern divisions of London. One of the principal features of the hospital is the splendid accommodation provided for children, of whom hundreds pass through the institution yearly. But only three or four cots are endowed, and in order to enable the committee to keep all the cots open, funds are urgently needed.

This is the cause for which the ball was organized by Lady Constance Hatch and Duchesses of Marlborough, Roxburghs, Beaufort, Bedford and Devonshire.

BRINGS NOVEL SUIT.

A novel business was described in the Law Courts during the hearing of an action brought by Lady Campbell, wife of Sir John William Campbell, C.B. of Southsea, against Mr. William Creer, a High Holborn commission agent. Lady Campbell said she had lost $10,000 which she invested in the Anglo-American Cold Storage Company (Limited) and the K.S.B. Syndicate, the last named having been formed for the purpose of obtaining options in Utah Bingham Mine shares. She alleged that she was induced to take up the shares owing to representations which the defendant at the time knew to be false. The defendant denied that he made any of the misrepresentations alleged, and counterclaimed for alleged slander.

Lady Campbell stated that she met Mr. Greer at the house of a Mrs. Walters in Ashley-gardens. "Mrs. Walters bought and sold pictures," she declared, "and provided directors for companies, and that sort of thing." "Did you know," inquired Mr. Greer, "that she received 10 per cent., commission out of the sale of your shares?"

"I have no idea," replied Lady Campbell. "If I had known I would not have touched them."

"Would you be surprised to know that Mrs. Walters, or Capt. Gordon, her secretary, received the whole of the commission?"

"I did not know that any money was going to be paid."

Later Capt. Alan Gordon gave evidence. He said he used to be in the army. "Is this description of Mrs. Walters's business right?" asked Mr. Justice Horridge—that she bought and sold pictures and provided directors for companies?"

"She also placed shares," replied Capt. Gordon. "She apparently had ladies at her house," said the judge, "and received a big commission on shares which Mr. Greer sold, and you were her secretary?"

"Yes," agreed Capt. Gordon.

JURY DISAGREES.

After an absence of over two hours the jury announced that they were unable to agree and were discharged. Mr. Buchanan applied for judgment for Lady Campbell and on the counter-claim for slander. His Lordship said that he must enter judgment for the plaintiff on the counter-claim, as Mr. Greer had not seen fit to proceed with it.

POLICE SCANDAL GALLS BRITISH.

LONDON OFFICIAL SUSPENDED IN SECRET TRIAL.

Location of Opium Den Revealed to Authorities by Woman Who Finds Address in Husband's Desk. Detective Says Murderers Walk Streets Unmolested.

BY PAUL LAMBETH.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Dec. 7.—Yet another British police scandal! Really, this is becoming simply unspeakably awful. You see, we were so very, very good and those terrible Americans were so shockingly, abominably wicked when the Becker scandal was first unfolded that eight British police "affairs" coming one on top of the other is to John Bull a pill as bitter as gall. The latest case has involved the suspension of a prominent official of the London Metropolitan police force. The proceedings, while secret, are creating much discussion in the clubs, but no details have been allowed to leak out.

BALKAN WAR DELAYS DEAL.

The sale of Hammerstein's operahouse to a prominent financier was all but completed, but owing to the oscillation of the money market, due to the Balkan war, the deal had to be put off.

RESTAURATEUR RETIRES.

M. Fiascati, a well-known city restaurateur, has just retired, having earned a small fortune as the result of twenty-five years' activities. His customers included notable authors and journalists. On occasion he has had visits from members of the peerage, who, accompanied by lady friends, have desired to dine in Bohemian surroundings.

MURDERERS UNMOLESTED.

A Scotland Yard official confessed the other day that at least a score of murderers are now walking the streets of London safe from interference by the law.

RING MAKES TROUBLE.

The diamond ring of a fair housekeeper is the cause of trouble that has arisen in the menage of a well-known baronet. The ring, which accidentally dropped off the housekeeper's finger when removing her glove, happened to be noticed by the mistress, who, struck by its value, insisted on certain questions being answered, with painful result.

TIME FOR DISAPPEARING.

Just at the present time there are quite an extraordinary number of very well-known men who have forsaken their usual haunts for reasons known to few beside themselves and the police. One is a gentleman whose brother formerly occupied an exalted post in the public service. Another is a gentleman, said to be an American of unsavory repute, who managed, somehow or another, to get himself elected to one of the most exclusive clubs in London.

$1.00 Satin Messaline 67c

36-inch messaline of a rich, lustrous, heavy quality. The most popular colorings—cream, pink, light blue, taupe, navy, brown, rose, etc. It's all silk and an extraordinary value!

$1.50 All Silk Crepe de Chine 95c

It's 40 inches wide, so only a few yards will be needed for a handsome gown. Soft, clinging and of excellent weight. In 25 of the favored colorings, such as taupe, navy, brown, wistaria, etc. A weave at present highly favored for street or evening costumes, waists, etc.

$2.00 Brocaded Charmeuse $1.35

In the 40-inch width. Rich, lustrous and altogether exquisite! In every conceivable shade—light blue, pink, gendarme, Nellrose, navy, taupe, brown, etc. The always wanted black is also included. No silk is scarcer or more fashionable than the beautiful, clinging charmeuse.

$1.50 Brocaded Satin 98c

Yard wide and of a deep, rich black. All silk and extremely lustrous. One of the season's newest creations and it will make up most effectively for elegant afternoon dresses, etc.

$1.00 Black Silks 69c

Several popular kinds—satin duchesse, messaline, chiffon taffeta and peau de soie. All of them 36 inches wide, pure silk and of a beautiful, lustrous black. Heavy quality.

$2.00 Black Silks $1.35

These are 36 inches wide and include extra heavy, rich and lustrous peau de soie, satin majestic and satin duchesse, than which no black silks are more favored for dresses, coats, etc.

$2.00 Black Satin Charmeuse $1.35

There are just 15 pieces of this and it is of extra heavy quality, so rich and of such beautiful luster that it will arouse keenest enthusiasm. Will make extremely elegant costumes. At Monday's feature price, it will not last a great while, so we strongly advise early choosing.

$3.50 Brocaded Crepe de Chine $2.45

An imported silk that is 40 inches wide. In all the most sought for street and evening shades, including light blue, cream, navy, brown, black, etc. Will make marvelously rich and dainty costumes for evening wear, or stunning gowns for afternoon functions, etc. (Main Floor.)

LADIES RIDING TO THE HOUNDS.

AMERICAN COUPLE TO HUNT IN MALTON DISTRICT.

The Caseys and the Sweeneys of County Mayo Hauled Before Justice at Kiltimagh Because of an Amusing Feud That They Paraded in Public Places.

BY THOMAS EMMETT.

DUBLIN, Dec. 7.—Though there are many lady "masters" of harriers, few of the fair sex care to undertake the responsibility of running a pack of hounds, and the list of ladies who are at the head of foxhound countries is very small. One of the very few is Miss Edith Somerville (joint author with her cousin, "Martin Ross," of those interesting sketches of Irish life,) who is this season hunting the West Carbery hounds in Cork, a pack with which she used to show wonderful sport some time back. There were three lady M.F.H.'s last season, but Evelyn Lady Craven has given up the foxhounds she started six years ago at Ashdown, Berks, though she is keeping on her harrier pack. Lady Decies may head a pack of her own next season.

AMERICAN NIMRODS.

Mr. and Mrs. Strawbridge will be among several well-known Americans hunting this season in the Malton district. Neither spend much time in London, both devoting the greater part of their time in this country to following hounds in the Shires, where they are very popular. Mr. Strawbridge has a large stud, and he and his agreeable wife are always very well mounted.

AN IRISH FEUD.

An amusing feud of two families in the county of Mayo, the Sweeneys and the Caseys, was before the justice at Kiltimagh recently.

One of the Caseys having been ordered to wear spectacles, Sweeney, for ridicule, paraded before their house in a pair of tin goggles. Two Caseys next appeared. One dropped a purse which the other seized and ran away with. This, said the police inspector, was to indicate that a Sweeney had been sent to a reformatory for purse stealing.

Two Sweeneys retaliated in the street by one of them, with dramatic flourish, aiming a wooden gun at the other. This meant, said the inspector, that a Casey, a water bailiff, had been indicted for shooting at a man.

CALLS HALT ON SOCIALISTS.

Berlin's Police President Refuses to Allow Speeches in English and French at Big Meeting.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—Herr von Jagow, the energetic police president of Berlin, who has made an international reputation by his drastic measures, has just caused something of a sensation by refusing to allow speeches to be made in English and French at a big Socialist meeting in Berlin. M. Jaures, the well-known French Socialist leader, and the British Socialist O'Grady, were scheduled to address the meeting, each in his own language. Jaures made his speech in bad German, while O'Grady's speech was translated into German and read by another.

In rejecting the application of the management to permit English and French to be used, the police president said: "I regard the purpose of internationally influencing Germany's foreign policy as being contrary to the interests of the empire. I therefore decline to recognize the exception to the law of public assemblies asked for."

BRITISH NAVY PAY RAISED.

Officers and Men to Get Increase for First Time in More Than Half-Century.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The pay of the officers and men of the British navy, which has remained practically unchanged for half a century, is to be raised. Increases in the wages of the men totalling $1,932,365 annually were announced in the House of Commons yesterday by Winston Spencer Churchill, first Lord of the Admiralty. Of the sum named the officers will receive $176,000, while the non-commissioned officers and men will get $1,756,365. The increase affecting seamen and stokers is about 15 per cent. of the present pay rates.

MILITANTS AS DYNAMITERS.

Rabid Suffragettes at London Decide to Use Bombs Inside and Outside of House of Commons.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The militant suffragettes decided at a recent meeting to resort to the use of explosives if the government refuses to incorporate woman suffrage in the forthcoming franchise bill, according to a statement issued by a news agency today.

Volunteers are to be called for to use bombs both inside and outside of the House of Commons.

British Government Insists on Home Rule for Ireland, Disestablishment of Church in Wales and Reform of Popular Franchise Despite Opposition of Lords.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Dec. 7.—Notwithstanding the delay caused by its temporary effect on the financial provisions of the Home Rule bill, the government has decided to persist in its programme and to pass through the House of Commons at this session the three big bills providing Home Rule for Ireland, the disestablishment of the church in Wales and the reform of the franchise, the principal clause of which aims at putting an end to plural voting.

The bill to deal with those unfortunates suffering from mental deficiency and other measures of a purely departmental character will be dropped.

Seldom has a government undertaken such a task as that involved in the passage during one session of three such controversial bills, and the present government has less than half a year in which to accomplish it. Parliament must rise before March 30, the end of the government financial year. Before the temporary defeat which caused a delay of over a week the government schedule provided for getting rid of the Home Rule bill, so far as the House of Commons is concerned, before Christmas. Now it will be after Christmas before the bill reaches the House of Lords. They are not likely to waste much time over it, and when they have thrown it out, as they certainly will, Parliament could be prorogued were it not for Welsh disestablishment and the franchise bill. The government, however, have pledged themselves to the Welsh Liberals, who have been getting rather restless under the long delay to pass the church bill at this session and as for the franchise bill, the members of the government, as well as every Liberal in the country, are anxious to see it become a law, believing that the repeal of plural voting and an extension of the franchise will be all to their benefit when it comes to a general election. To get all these things done before their term expires the bills must be passed this session.

VETO BY LORDS.

Welsh disestablishment and franchise reform will, like Home Rule, be thrown out by the Lords, and, under the Parliament act, which the Liberals passed last year, they must be passed again twice, in new sessions, before they become law, despite the veto of the House of Lords. As there must be an election in 1915, the government has just time enough to accomplish this, always on the understanding that they can hold together that long.

ANNOYED BY WOMEN.

SUFFRAGETTE ACTIVITY.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

GLASGOW (Scotland) Dec. 7.—Annoyed by suffragette verbal interruptions, while Augustine Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, was delivering his rectorial address at the University of Glasgow Thursday, the students subsequently smashed the windows of the suffragette offices here. Ten students were arrested. Ten women were ejected during the installation ceremonies.

Leaves.

Hour after hour have I beheld the leaves
Adrift, aglow,
Flutter to death, until my spirit grieves
At this vast overthrow
Of airy legions that the mire receives.

They die, you say, that life may multiply
In other springs?
I know, I know; but what shall glorify
These prostrate things
Forlorn, dishonored 'neath the pitiless sky?

They shall not rise again, these hapless ones
Whose summer pride
Was fed by dewy moons and mastering suns;
Nor shall abide
Record of these while time unresting runs.

We pass, but not as they, below the sod—
Ah, rest is good;
Just for a little to forget the rod
In utter solitude—
Then, lo, the fadeless gardens of our God!

Paris.

PICK BACHELOR FOR PRESIDENT

French Talk of Successor to M. Fallieres.

Chinese Fairy a Vagrant in City of Paris.

War of the Authors Is Raging Once More.

BY PAUL VILLIERS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE. BY WIRELESS OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Dec. 7.—On January 17, M. Fallieres's successor as President of the republic, must, by the law of the Constitution, be elected. Between this and then there will be no time or excuse for serious conflicts in home politics. The Senate as well as the Chamber will adjourn by the end of the year before there has been time for M. Clemenceau's Electoral Reform Commission to take any decisive action.

When the two houses meet again after that they will meet merged into one national assembly at Versailles to elect the new President of the republic. Who the latter will be, is still an extraordinarily open question. Public opinion points to M. Poincare, but, although I cannot vouch for the statement, friends of his tell me that he does not intend to stand. Election to the highest office in the State means that after his seven years of tenure a statesman's political career is over, and M. Poincare is too young a man to retire from public life seven years hence.

Another candidate put forward is the veteran M. Bourgeois, but there is no Mme. Bourgeois. M. Paul Deschanel, now president of the Chamber, and already a candidate, not only seven years ago, before M. Faillieres's election, but fourteen years ago, before that of M. Loubet, is again in the running; and there is a Mme. Paul Deschanel. Fourteen years ago, M. Loubet was elected because M. Clemenceau, then the great journalist, wrote one of his red-hot leaders under the title "Je Vote Pour Loubet." Why not M. Clemenceau himself for President? A senior veteran, M. Ribot, is also mentioned; but of the two, M. Clemenceau would make by far the more picturesque chief of the State.

FAIRY A VAGRANT.

I saw her—the vision of a moment as the auto swung around a corner—in Chinese costume selling toys. Her eyes had a look of appeal, and her feet were the tiniest I had seen in any woman. Today she is in the "petit parquet." Giant "guardiens" led her through the gloomy corridor, and she must have looked at the juge d'instruction something in the fashion as Crainquebille did when they hauled him before the court of justice because he cried, "Mort aux vaches!" and he marvelled that the law in its majesty should concern itself with an event so small in the life of one so humble.

Alone, unfriended, knowing no word of the language of the men who detained her, whose law she had by some act—but what she knew not—offended, she stood mute before her captors, holding out simply a roll of silk paper on which were markings that none could understand. They told, these markings, when one who knew came to enlighten the darkness of those who sat in judgment, that Hu-Fu-Sen, who was born upon the banks of the Blue River, wandered in the world. But, wandering in the civilization of the West without "visible means of subsistence," she had been guilty of "vagabondage," and presently those in whose presence she stood, might commit her to a prison of the state.

Divining all this, or some of it, she turned frightened, searching eyes upon all around, especially upon the man in black, with head uncovered, to whom all addressed themselves, and who spoke as one having authority. What would he order should be done to her? What chastisement, for what offense? Presently he began to speak, and his tones were kind. For her forlorn little figure had touched him, M. le Juge, and to add to her desolation and unmeaning punishment—he could not. So he interceded for Hu-Fu-Sen with the envoys of her native land, and tomorrow, Hu-Fu-Sen goes back to her own country. After all, to the banks of the Blue River, where she may wander under radiant skies, with none to say her nay, from the boulevards on such a day as yesterday, from the cold black rain splashing upon the black street, the bare and leafless trees under leaden skies, the jostling, fighting crowds, the strange faces, and the pitiless babel of tormenting sounds, the change should be pleasant.

FLOWER SHOW.

At the autumn floral exhibition the leading feature is a display of the favorite flowers of all the queens of Europe. Queen Mary of England is represented by a splendid collection of carnations; while the Empress of Russia has mauve and white orchids as her emblem. La France roses denote the floral preference of Queen Ena of Spain. The favorite flower of the Queen of Italy is lilac, of which there is a magnificent display. It seems rather odd that the tulip should be selected as the favorite flower of both the Queen of the Belgians and the Queen of the Netherlands; but perhaps the promoters of the exhibition felt a little doubtful, and chose the Dutch national emblem so as to be on the safe side.

Nothing that actors do can leave Paris indifferent. The formidable M. Guitry, who quarrelled some time ago with M. Paul Bourget, and dismissed him from his horizon with the final words, "Alas, poor Bourget!" has now fallen out with another dramatist, M. Henri Bernstein. He was to have acted a part in a new play of M. Bernstein's which the Gymnase will soon bring out. Owing to differences the dread secret of which is withheld from a feverishly curious public, M. Guitry will no longer be entrusted by M. Bernstein with a part in the new play.

The manager is accordingly distraught between his anxiety to keep the actor, Guitry, and the new Bernstein play, which is an apparently impossible conjunction. There is also the risk, if he tries to be over diplomatic, of his losing both the actor and the play. Interviewed by breathless reporters, M. Guitry loftily declared: "There is no incident between M. Bernstein and me. There can be no such incident. I have a contract with the director of the Gymnase; I have none with M. Bernstein. It pleases M. Bernstein to declare that he no longer requires my services to act in his play. How entirely I agree with M. Bernstein!"

STORY OF A STORM.

The most stirring story of the storm was contributed by the bold cruiser Fleurus, while she was being towed to Rochefort to end her days as a hulk. Suddenly, in the height of the tempest, the tow-rope broke The tug was unable to reach the Fleurus before, with fifteen seamen aboard, she was swept into the storm. For a day and a night, helpless, because the Fleurus was nothing but a shell with a rudder and an anchor, the seamen were tossed about at the mercy of the winds and the waves. Then, happily the search which had been set on foot for them from the port of Rochefort, to which the tug had carried the news of their disappearance, was successful, and they were transhipped to safer and sounder quarters.

A POOR POLITICIAN.

Augustin Bey is not much of a politician. If you spoke to him of the Balkans, he would probably ask you whether it was the name of a drink outside his own already ample repertoire. Augustin did not realize that his patronymic might get him into trouble. One night, his last sou gone, Augustin stumbled out of a Montemartre bar into a cold and thirsty world. At the same moment a party of Greeks and Servians, who had been drinking to the success of their countries and the confusion of their foes, entered a smart restaurant next door.

Augustin, who was in the pathetic stage of intoxication, thus apostrophised these elegant folks: "Drinks, drinks for everyone in the world; but who will stand a glass of wine to poor Augustin Bey?" At the sound of the surname, pronounced in a wailing crescendo, the allies turned, patriotism and champagne hot in their veins. "Infidel dog!" they cried, "Just wait a moment and you shall have something." In a trice poor Augustin was stripped stark naked, carried to the tramlines, and there deposited. But, Bacchus, being gentle to her votaries, Augustin found the rails soft as down. His groans changed imperceptibly to snores. Augustin slept. Still asleep, he was found by passing policemen and carried to the cells, where he spent the fagend of an eventful night.

A DUEL.

Coming away from a lunch—which was probably a good lunch, as it was served by a swell-known restaurant in the Champs Elysses—M. Aubry, president of the Association of French Parliamentary Journalists, and a deputy. M. Pierre Leroy Beaulieu fell to talking about M. Poincare's speech on foreign affairs at Nantes.

"M. Poincare won his popularity." said M. Aubry.

"His speech at Nantes did not win it for him," said M. Leroy-Beaulieu, "because there, he put his foot in it."

"How?" asked M. Aubry.

"He said that France had refused Bulgaria money," explained the deputy.

The journalist protested his admiration for M. Poincare. The deputy said: "In France, foreign secretaries can always find admirers, because they have a secret fund."

"Do you say that for me?" asked M. Aubry.

The deputy said he did. The journalist forbade him to say so. The deputy said: "If you go on, I will box your ears."

"I should like to see you do it" said the journalist; and he did see it.

As a result the deputy and the journalist fought a duel this morning, and we were relieved to hear later on that the two antagonists "exchanged four bullets without result."

CAR SHORTAGE IN GERMANY.

ESSEN COAL REGION UNABLE TO SHIP PRODUCT.

Prussian State Railways Failed to Keep Pace With Growth of Freight Business in Country—Many Mines Close Down, Causing Heavy Loss to Laborers.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—The "car shortage" problem is not confined to America, if that is any comfort to the railway men and shippers across the sea. German business men are complaining as never before.

The president of the Council of Prussian railways takes an optimistic view of the situation which he charges against the unusual prosperity and does not give much encouragement to the suggestion that the government should make a great addition to its rolling stock and its working force.

CAN'T MOVE COAL.

In the great coal region, of which Essen is the center, there was a shortage of about 10,000 cars a day during the second week of November, and since then the deficiency has risen to more than 12,000 cars. The society of coal mine operators of Essen has issued a statement, in which it shows that the Prussian State Railways have far from kept pace with the growth of the freight business of the country. While the total tonnage of freight transported on the railways has increased by 70 per cent. within ten years, the number of employees has increased only 16 per cent. and the mileage of the roads only 20 per cent. The statement further tells that in the last week of October not less than ninety-one coal companies in the Essen district had to throw off extra shifts of miners, and that the loss of wages thus caused was nearly [illegible]

MAKES FRENCHMEN FAT BY APPLYING ELECTRICITY

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Dec. 7.—Prof. Bergonie, the originator of nourishing the human body by means of electrical currents, has communicated to the Academy of Science the remarkable results of a series of experiments, which seem to fully confirm his claims. Thus, a patient who was a physical wreck owing to inability to assimilate food, and weighed only forty-nine kilograms (107 pounds,) was subjected to a series of five-minute applications of high frequency current. He now weighs over sixty-three kilograms (138 pounds) and is of normal strength, although he eats much less than before the treatment.

Prof. Bergonie concluded his statement with the remark:

"The moment is not distant when all troubles of malnutrition will be cured electrically."

ENGLAND THANKS CANADA FOR THREE NEW WARSHIPS

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The London morning papers, more especially the conservative organs, are tremendously impressed not only by what is characterized as Canada's splendid contribution to Great Britain's naval power, but by the frank avowal of the peril the empire stands in by the rapid growth of rival navies, as pointed out in the naval memorandum published in London and referred to in Premier Borden's speech.

The Telegraph says:

"Canada has spoken. What response shall we in the motherland make to her unique and magnificent tribute to the ideals of peace and freedom?"

The Morning Post, expressing profound gratitude to Canada for her magnificent evidence of loyalty and faith in the empire, says:

"If the reciprocity agreement with the United States had been carried out, this great contribution would never have been proposed."

The Standard says:

"If the Canadian Parliament accepts the proposals we shall enter into a new era of hope and security, supported by the knowledge that it is not an island kingdom, but a world empire with which Great Britain's enemies will have to reckon."

LONDON TIMES APPROVES.

The Times heartily approves of the appointment of a Canadian minister as a member of the Imperial Defense Committee,

The Hollow of Her Hand
By George Barr McCutcheon

From "The Hollow of Her Hand."

A tale of modern American Life—a situation that is original and daring even in fiction, involving a tragedy and a romance. A bold, yet convincing conception of a remarkable woman. A novel that moves with all the smooth mastery of story-telling that has the power to hold your attention to the very last word. Illustrated in color by A. I. Keller. $1.30

A Cry in the Wilderness
By Mary E. Waller

This story is marked by power of narrative, sureness of character and subtlety of feeling. It is a novel of today, the story of a young woman alone in the world, who, in attempting to earn her livelihood unaided, finds herself entangled in a mesh of thwarting circumstances. $1.30

From "A Cry in the Wilderness."

The Place of Honeymoons
By Harold MacGrath

Nora from Tuscany is the heroine of this racy story. She is a grand opera singer and a beautiful woman. Courtlandt, the young American hero, delighting in feminine charm, is presented as past thirty and without a wife. Not until the closing pages of the book do we learn the secret it contains. Illustrated by A. I. Keller. $1.30

From "The Place of Honeymoons."

Between Two Thieves
By Richard Dehan

The tremendous struggle of a man with temptation is the central theme of this remarkable novel, which has been so highly praised by critics who know. The background involves the Crimean War, and the genesis of the Red Cross Society. Among the characters are Florence Nightingale, Napoleon III, Victor Hugo, Czar Nicholas and a host of others. $1.40

The Lost World
By Conan Doyle

A thrilling and highly adventurous tale of a sort to stir the pulses and arouse the wonder of even the most "jaded" novel reader. It goes back of the hindermost beyond of man's knowledge, and has its little company of twentieth-century scientists and adventures test their courage and skill against prehistoric men and beasts. Illustrated by Joseph Clement Coll. $1.25

From "The Lost World."

Cease Firing
By Mary Johnston

In imaginative power, vividness and impressiveness the book is even greater than "The Long Roll," which many critics styled "the greatest war novel ever written." Throughout the book General Lee is the dominant character, as Jackson was in "The Long Roll," and although the story, following history, must close with the defeat of the South, it ends, nevertheless, with a fine and sane note of hopeful looking forward to the future. Illustrated by N. C. Wyeth. $1.40

From "Cease Firing."

The Valiants of Virginia
By Hallie Erminie Rives

The story of a multi-millionaire who gives up his millions to save his father's name and the corporation he has founded. On his estate in Virginia he finds happiness and love, only to have it snatched from him, then restored in time to save the situation. A tale of the South, with its courtesy and hospitality, superstitions and charms. Illustrated by Andre Castaigne. $1.35

From "The Valiants of Virginia."

Chronicles of Avonlea
By L. M. Montgomery

A collection of delightful chronicles in which Anne Shirley of Green Gables and Avonlea fame plays some part, and which have to do with other interesting persons of Avonlea. A book to recommend to the whole cityful and countryside. The stories touch the heart by their natural, wholesome and quaint appeal. $1.25

From "Chronicles of Avonlea."

The Lady and Sada San
By Frances Little

The sequel to "The Lady of the Decoration." The later story of "The Lady" and Jack, and their part in the romance of Sada San—"one-half American dash and the other half the unnamable witchery of a Japanese woman," an altogether adorable girl. Told in letters as rich in sparkling humor and in glowing descriptions as the earlier ones. $1.00

From "The Lady and Sada San."

The Bride's Hero
By M. P. Revere

How a charming American heiress loved a British Army Officer, made a big sacrifice for his sake, and what came of it, is splendidly told by an author of "best sellers" writing under an assumed name An essentially human story worked out in a skillful manner. Illustrated by A. G. Learned. $1.25

From "The Bride's Hero."

Stover at Yale
By Owen Johnson

A gripping novel of a man's fight for a principle. It tells of a boy's first grapple with the world of social ambition, the victory of character and personal popularity. It is not only a good story, but shows the working in our great universities of the same social ferment that permeates American life generally. Illustrated. $1.35

From "Stover at Yale."

Smoke Bellew
By Jack London

The sting of real appetite, the goodly ache of fatigue, the rush of mad, strong blood that bites like wine through all one's body as work is done, love and comradeship such as the world of civilization seldom knows—all these are vividly portrayed in this splendid tale of adventure and love in the Klondike. Illustrated by Monahan. $1.30

From "Smoke Bellew."

A Young Man's Fancy
By C. Coles Phillips
Decoration and cover design by Earl Stetson Crawford

The 21 full-page pictures (9½x11½ inches,) will capture any man or woman, young or old. 48 pages of text, surrounded by handsome decorations in full color. The pictures show Mr. Phillips' cleverness, ingenuity and high art. A beautiful gift book. $3.00

The Tempting of Tavernake
By E. Phillips Oppenheim

How an unromantic young Englishman learns a few things about women is set forth in Mr. Oppenheim's autumn novel. In intricacy of plot, superabundant wealth of incident and rapidity of movement "The Tempting of Tavernake" is unsurpassed. The story is fascinating; the characters clean cut and strongly contrasted. Illustrated by Edmund Frederick. $1.25

From "The Tempting of Tavernake."

Mrs. Eli and Policy Ann
By Florence Olmstead

A delightful character creation, comparable to Mrs. Wiggs and Miss Minerva. Policy Ann—his real name is Policiander, because his father is a Greek—is a little boy of most uncommon interest. The Streets of Ascalon
By Robert W. Chambers. 57 Pages of Picture, by Charles Dana Gibson

A novel of high society life—the butterfly existence of the idle rich. A young man, society's pet harlequin, determines to forsake this "magic-lantern" world for a bigger, broader and more useful life. His love for a beautiful society woman inspires him with the resolve to be a man in a man's world. $1.40

From "The Streets of Ascalon."

The Joyous Adventures of Aristide Pujol
By William J. Locke

Aristide Pujol is a most attractive personality. He is a lovable, tender-hearted, gasconading gamin of a creature, full of aplomb in the most embarrassing situations, and honorable according to his lights. With a chuckle and a sigh of regret, we close the book on Aristide's last adventure—that of matrimony. Illustrated by Alec Ball. $1.30

From "The Joyous Adventures of Aristide Pujol"

The Inner Flame
By Clara Louise Burnham

The story of a young mining engineer whose ambition is to become an artist, but who is held back by lack of funds. How a way is opened for him, the young man's ingenuity in economizing with the money placed at his disposal, his efforts and final success—make a novel of constant interest. $1.25

From "The Inner Flame."

Mary Ware's Promised Land
By Annie Fellows Johnston

The new volume in the famous Little Colonel Series brings in many of the characters of the earlier books, but especially Mary Ware herself, as good, generous and lovable as of old. It is full of life and action, sorrow and trouble, mingled with fun and sunshine and a delightful charm. Illustrated by J. Goss. $1.18

From "Mary Ware's Promised Land."

A Romance of Billy-Goat Hill
By Alice Hegan Rice

A dramatic picture, rich in coloring, drawn on the broad canvas of Kentucky, America's romance land. Quaint humor is woven into a love story of unusual charm and much power. It is a book that has a general appeal—smiles, tears, humor, tragedy, a basic understanding of human nature and a love for its frailties. Illustrated by Wright. $1.25

From "A Romance of Billy-Goat Hill."

The White Shield
By Myrtle Reed

A charming book of vivid imagination, quick transition from pathos to humor, facility of utterance, wholesome sentiment, purity of thought, delicacy of touch, spontaneous wit. Twenty stories that will prove delightful reading for the busy person who [illegible] exhausting perusal of a long novel. Illustrated by Dalton Stevens. $1.50

From "The White Shield."

The Net
By Rex Beach

A stirring, vigorous story in a Southern setting of Sicily and New Orleans, giving an intensely interesting account of the workings of "La Mafia." A physical coward makes himself into a brave man and helps in the cleansing of a great city. Love and humor lighten danger and mystery. Illustrated by Walter Tittle. $1.30

From "The Net."

The Rich Mrs. Burgoyne
By Kathleen Norris, Author of "Mother,"

A cheerful, optimistic story, carrying a valuable appeal for a quieter, sweeter home life. It subtly reveals one phase of San Francisco social life and cleverly criticises present-day club women. The book contains good reading, good sense and good argument, combined with a love story of uncommon interest. Illustrated. $1.25

From "The Rich Mrs. Burgoyne."

The Return of Peter Grimm
By David Belasco

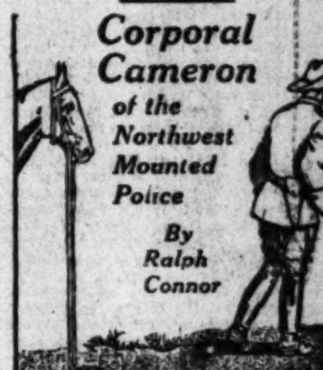
Peter Grimm dies, but does not depart. While the everyday life goes on about the helpless, pleading figure of the old man, he is a part of it and yet shut off by an impassable barrier; but in the end he does bridge the chasm between the living and the dead. Illustrated by John Rae. $1.25

From "The Return of Peter Grimm."

Their Yesterdays
By Harold Bell Wright

From "Their Yesterdays."

The love story of a man and a woman, in which there is sentiment, pathos and realism. This story is told between the lines with charm and grace. Its style is unlike the heavy stroke of a sword, but is rather the skillful thrust of a rapier. It exalts life and love, honors the home, and supremely glorifies the wife and mother. Illustrated by F. Graham Cootes. $1.30



Corporal Cameron of the Northwest Mounted Police
By Ralph Connor

From "Corporal Cameron."

This is the latest of Ralph Connor's famous novels on the making of the Great Northwest. Never before has the author had a more picturesque subject, and not in any of his earlier books has he so risen to the opportunities and possibilities of his theme. It is a novel to inspire and to thrill and to satisfy. $1.25

The Upas Tree
By Florence L. Barclay

A story of rare charm, powerful in conception, compelling in narrative, dealing with a successful author—young and attractive—whose absorption in his work leads him into unconscious selfishness toward his devoted wife. The Upas Tree symbolizes this selfishness. The book has a strong love interest and contains many tender passages. $1.30

From "The Upas Tree."

THE STREET CALLED STRAIGHT

By the author of THE INNER SHRINE

From "The Street Called Straight."

The story of how a girl with fine instincts, beautiful and loyal, was placed by her father's misdeeds in a position towards two men, both of whom loved her, which made her life a question mark staring her in the face. Idealism, electrified into the motive force behind human deeds, is its keynote. Illustrated by Orson Lowell. $1.[illegible]

George Helm
By David Graham Phillips

A story of politics and love. George Helm is a young country lawyer, who, in the face of intense machine opposition, rises to be Governor of his state. A story of strong and tenacious emotions, written with a remarkable foresight into political conditions. $1.30

From "George Helm."

Murphy, Mrs. J. Milton Fleck, Mrs. Grove Ketchum, Mrs. William Fenn, Mrs. Roy Rose, Mrs. Horace Bingham and Mrs. Alfred Bradley; Mrs. E. A. Edwards of Pasadena and Mrs. Paul H. Helm of Oak Knoll. Assisting the hostess was Mrs. William A. Bradshaw and Mrs. George Diver Werden.

Mrs. Z. L. Parmelee has as her house guests her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Martin, and their son, Irving Martin, Jr., of Stockton. They came to this city to be present at the marriage of their niece Wednesday evening, Miss Clara Parmelee to Frost J. Knight of Los Angeles, and will remain until after the holidays.

"Dutch kiddies" was the motif used in decorating by Mrs. Harry Lord, No. 1136 Fair Oaks avenue, Thursday, when she entertained with a juvenile party, honoring the fifth birthday anniversary of her little daughter, Jane Harriett. Merry games were played on the lawn, followed by refreshments served at the table, the center of which was adorned by baby Cecile Brunner roses, with "Dutch kiddies" scattered over the cloth. Favors were miniature market baskets filled with candies, and a small doll, the handle tied with blue ribbon, to which was attached the "Dutch kiddie" place cards. Covers were laid for Gladys Speer, Virginia and Elizabeth Crow, Margaret Antoinette Bush, Jane Plumb, Harold Kelley, Malcolm Archibald, T. G. Parsons, Jr. Frances Kennedy, Marion Marsh, Stanley Waldrop Lawrence Lord, Edgar Jacobs and Mary Catherine Lord.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. Benjamin Fitch Huntington and Mrs. George Clarence Bush for a musical reception to be given at Hotel Maryland Thursday, December 12, honoring the two sisters of the hostesses, Miss Mary Huntington of Pasadena, who has just returned from a year's study of voice in Berlin, and Miss Mattie Sears of Bedford, Ind., who is the house guest of Mrs. Bush for the winter. Assisting the ladies for the afternoon will be Mrs. George Adams, Mrs. Norman F. Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Robinson, No. 1518 Fremont street, who have recently removed to this city from Monrovia, are entertaining with a dinner party today, complimenting the Mexican Consul and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Baz. A low cut glass bowl filled with Madam Chatney roses and maidenhair graced the center of the table, and covers were laid for ten. Mr. Robinson is United States Deputy District Attorney.

A delightful event of the current week was the evening affair given by Miss Mabel Bishop Monday evening at her home on Fremont avenue, when she entertained the members of the Monday Evening Musical Club. Red poinsettias made an effective decoration throughout the home and a musical programme was presented by H. Babcock and Mrs. Norton Bobo, each giving a series of songs; two piano numbers by J. V. Seyler, one a minuet written by Charles E. Pfantt and dedicated to Mr. Seyler. Miss Edith Chapman was the accompanist for the evening. Dainty refreshments were served in the dining-room, following the programme, pink enchantress carnations decorating same. Present were Miss Rose Chilcote, Mr. and Mrs. H. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Norton Bobo, Miss Edith Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chilcote, Miss Grace Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Willis N. Tiffany, Miss Clara Bosbyshell, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Miller, Miss Harriett Wall, Miss Anna C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Seyler, Miss Grace Horner, Miss Mabel Bishop, Miss Lulu Finney, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Sweetser, Mrs. E. A. Merritt and Mrs. Lily Link Brannan.

Miss Eola Crippen entertained Thursday with a five hundred party at her home, corner of Elm avenue and Monterey road, complimenting a card club of which she is a member. The fragrant violet was used throughout the home, the same flower embellishing the table, where refreshments were served, and the tally cards were hand-painted, ornamented with girlish faces, surrounded by violets. Members present were Miss Gladys Willett of Los Angeles, Miss Dolphine Fort, Miss Bess Gardner, Miss Lill Wendling, Miss Laura Hoffman and Messrs. Wendel Kuencer, Carleton Gilbert, Hugh Crippen, John Orbough and Gaylor Snyder of Stanford and Billy Allen and Mr. Bettinger of Pasadena.

MRS. GEORGE H. HUTTON was in charge of the programme at the meeting of the Santa Monica Bay Woman's Club this week. She is chairman of the music section of the club and district. She spoke on "Modern Orchestras." Mrs. D. G. Stephens, president emeritus, was presented with a beautiful topaz and gold pin. Mrs. C. A. Tegner and a bevy of assistants served refreshments after an interesting programme. A short session of the board of directors was held before the programme.

Many invitations have been received here for the wedding of Miss May Sutton and Thomas C. Bundy, which occurs at Christ Church, Los Angeles, Wednesday evening. Miss Sutton passes at least part of every year here, and has hosts of friends who will be present at the important nuptial event.

Mrs. George Hart entertained the members of the Foreign Missionary Society at her home on Sixth street. Twenty-five women discussed ways and means for extending the work, and talks upon China were given by Mrs. Jennie Boyce, Mrs. Leslie Griffin and Mrs. George W. Southcott. A pleasant social hour followed the session. Mrs. Southcott will entertain the members of the three Santa Monica Bay societies at her home on Fourth street, January 7.

Mrs. T. R. Crotty of Palisades avenue was at home to her friends Thursday afternoon, this being the third informal reception held by Mrs. Crotty, who came here recently from Canada, and is a popular society matron.

Last evening at the High School, the girls of the school, chaperoned by the women teachers, enjoyed a masquerade party. Many entertaining "stunts" were hugely enjoyed by the maskers. The teachers entered into the spirit of the fun as much as did the maidens.

After having been the guest of Mrs. L. M. Hutchinson for a few days Miss Laura Hubbard left Tuesday for St. Louis, where she will become the bride of Frank Wyatt, of San Diego.

Mrs. H. E. Hasse entertained the members of the German Reading Circle Friday afternoon at her home on Berkeley street and Nevada avenue. German prose and poetry was the theme of the afternoon. Light refreshments were served.

COMPLIMENTARY to Mr. and Mrs. Merle Dutton James, whose wedding was solemnized last week, and to Mr. and Mrs. Delmar H. James, bride and groom of a few months, Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. James entertained with a delightful reception at their home, No. 221 East H street. Mrs. Merle Dutton James, before her marriage was Miss Etta Alice Alford, while Mrs. Delmar H. James was formerly Miss Leila Wimberley. The rooms were tastefully decorated for the occasion with pepper boughs, roses and chrysanthemums. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening. Those calling to pay their respects to the brides and grooms included Mayor and Mrs. W. A. Freemire, Mr. and Mrs. Letis Wimberley, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Alford, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Traphagen, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Wyckoff, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Warner, Miss Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bence, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Millard, Miss Marie Millard, Miss Lucie Millard, Mrs. L. H. Millard, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Chapman, Fred Alford, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Willmert, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Howarth, Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Steele, Mrs. D. W. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kimball and Rev. and Mrs. Charles Coke Woods.

Complimentary to her sister-in-law, Miss Alice Allen, of Pittsburgh, who is spending the winter in Ontario, Mrs. Charles Crombie Allen entertained with charming informality at her home, No. 127 West F street, Friday afternoon. Roses and pepper berries made an effective decoration. A pleasant hour at fancy work and chat was followed by a tempting luncheon. Those present included Miss Alice Allen, Miss Grace Brackenridge Craft, Miss Ala Ballou, Miss Muriel Hamilton, Miss Mary Goss, Miss Frieda Graettinger, Miss Vera Towner, Mrs. Charles Hugo Ford, Mrs. Hugh Harris Frankish, Mrs. Harold Lynn Allen and Mrs. Charles Crombie Allen.

Miss Ala Ballou very prettily entertained a number of her young women friends Tuesday evening at progressive bridge. Pink chrysanthemums made an effective decoration, while candles shaded in the same color added to the attractiveness of the table at the supper, which followed the tournament. The guests included Mrs. Lester Ray Kennedy, Mrs. Charles Crombie Allen, Mrs. Hugh Harris Frankish, Miss Katheryn Salter, Miss Grace Brackenridge Craft, Miss Mary Goss, Miss Frieda Graettinger and Miss Muriel Hamilton.

The choir of St. George's Catholic Church honored their patron saint, Cecilia, with a dinner Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dederichs. Those gathering about the board included Rev. Fr. F. X. Becker, Mrs. G. Gilmore, Mrs. Chase Miller, Mrs. A. Crist, Mrs. M. McMullen, Miss Katheryn Salter, Miss Josephine Dederichs, Miss Hattie Finnigan, Miss A. Nortiman, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Fries, G. Gilmore, A. Walton and C. Miller. The dinner was followed by a pleasant talk by Father Becker, with the details of his recent trip to Vienna.

Miss Frieda Graettinger entertained Wednesday afternoon with a bridge luncheon. Violets were used in decoration and the lunch was served in courses. The guests included Miss Mabel Gray, Miss Minnie Hubbell, Miss Grace Craft, Miss Katheryn Salter, Mrs. Charles Latimer, Mrs. Hugh Harris Frankish, Mrs. Lester Ray Kennedy and Mrs. Charles Crombie Allen.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Pasadena district of the Methodist Episcopal Church held an all-day rally Wednesday at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, this city. About seventy-five delegates from the different societies of the district were present and an enjoyable and profitable session was enjoyed.

Sierra Madre.

ON FRIDAY afternoon and evening all social interests were centered at the Woman's Club House when the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church held a most enjoyable sale of useful and fancy articles. The club rooms, under the direction of Mrs. Martha Rust, were very artistically decorated with greenery and Christmas colors and in different parts of the auditorium booths were placed, and with soft lights and flowers, the effect was most pleasing. Home-made candies and punch were sold by Miss Hilda Caley, while in the fancy work booth Miss Lottie Humphries showed a splendid display of novel and new designs in the way of embroidery. A display of bags and other useful articles was in charge of Mrs. A. N. Adams, while aprons were sold by Mrs. Greer Caskey. The art table was under the able direction of Mrs. H. G. Flint, while Mrs. George Coapman kept the children pleased with new surprises. A delightful supper with Mrs. W. E. Walker in charge was greatly enjoyed, during which musical selections by Miss Rena Hathorn, Miss Maybelle Caley and Miss Ethel Powell were rendered. Light refreshments were served by Mrs. A. T. Gay. During the evening Miss Maybelle Caley was assisted in giving a musical programme of vocal and instrumental selections, those taking part being Miss Muriel King of Inglewood, George Hannaford and the Misses Hazel Hill, Mildred Sherman, Ethel Powell, Ruth Sparks, Mildred Rasmussen, Dorothy Mitchell and Jessie Ward. The many guests were welcomed by Mmes. W. H. Hannaford, M. Mackerras, M. W. Copps, J. C. Dickson and Mrs. Howard Hill, who deserved much comment for the success of the affair.

On last Thursday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Conard were the host and hostess at a delightful tennis party at their home. Many exciting sets were participated in during the afternoon and in the evening supper was served. In the evening games were played and a very clever game called "Funny Characters," an original with Mrs. Conard, caused great merriment, the victorious carrying off dainty prizes. Miss Alma Jones, Miss Florence Vannier and Paul Baugh were winners. Those present were Mrs. Burton Andrews, the Misses Edith Blumer, Alma Jones, Lottie Humphries, Dorothy Humphries, Marjorie Rice, Edith Steinberger, Clarice Merrell and Florence Vannier, Messrs. Harold Davenes, Donald Ashmore, Burton Andrews and Paul Baugh.

Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Cornell spent a few days this week in Orange, where they were the guests for a short time of Mrs. Whiteback. Dr. Cornell was formerly the rector of the Episcopal Church there and both he and Mrs. Cornell took an active part in the annual bazaar which was given this week.

Mrs. C. S. Kersting and Miss Katherine Kersting returned Sunday from Long Beach after having spent a few days there visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gruner of Los Angeles, Miss Nina Somner and Jean Somner were the dinner guests last Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. J. Krafft.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMeekin of Nevada City, Cal., have been the guests for a short time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Nourse. Mr. and Mrs. McMeekin are spending a few weeks touring Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Farman and Miss Bae Farman returned Sunday by motor from Huntington Beach, after having spent a short time there at the home of friends.

The Gift of Pearls is the Gift Supreme

BUT few of us can realize the intense interest and the loving care that surrounds the gathering and marketing of Oriental pearls.

The pearl buyers who haunt the fisheries, seeking for barter and trade, sometimes have to wait months and years for the real gem pearls. And then comes the journey to London or Paris, the world's great pearl markets. Here they meet the American buyers.

The real East India pearl merchant is a character study. Black, swarthy fellows—all of them absolutely honest and honorable, if you are honorable with them. And all of them almost sacredly loving their pearls, even more than the artist or sculptor may love his creations.

Feagans and Company have gone to the very bottom of the pearl situation.

We have gathered the most precious pearls the gem markets of Europe can provide—matched strings of them for the neck, large lustrous ones carefully graded and matched, the string ending with a simple Nouvette diamond, the pearls needing no other companion stone but the diamond. Other strings of them of lesser importance, even down to the dainty little twisted strings of seed pearls, costing only a few dollars.

Perfectly matched pairs of gem pearls for ear pendants, and for studs and buttons there are matched pairs and sets, and for rings, for lavallieres, for brooches, for bar pins, for collar pins and scarf pins, the single gem pearls.

Few establishments in all America feature pearls as do Feagans and Company. No establishment prices them more fairly and none mounts them with more thought and care.

We emphasize pearls at this time, because we regard the pearl as the gift de Luxe.

We shall be very glad to show you the many rare pearl jewel pieces we have gathered, as well as the many other appropriate and unusual gift suggestions that are here.

Traveling clocks with crystal sides and leather cases. Folding leather desk or traveling clocks. Night clocks, with small electric globe, to quickly see the time of night. New mantel clocks in all the new Gothic and Tambour shapes in mahogany and Circassian walnut. Master time-pieces for the hall or living room—dependable when we sell them and dependable in the years to come. Waltham watches are featured because we believe in them.

New Dresses $9.75

Purchased for less than regular and just in from New York. Go on sale Monday. We've sold nothing like them this season for less than $15 and from that, values range to $22.50 and $25.

Cleverly designed, beautifully made street and afternoon dresses of very fine French serges and eponge, in a variety of effective styles. Colors are navy, brown and black, with silk braid trimmings (some extending full length of front,) crush satin girdles, and velvet collars and cuffs. We believe they will sell so readily that Monday will see the entire lot go.

Bath Robes for Xmas

One big table piled high with pretty blanket robes, eiderdown and terry cloth robes; big variety colors and patterns. Others range $5, $7.50 and up to $12.50. Put up in fancy Xmas boxes. All at $3.95

Chic Coats

For Street and Motor Wear... $12.95

And at that they're a full third less than usually asked for such values.

Double-faced coating and luster finished zibelines in navy and Alice blue, tan, gray and brown in the novelty styles, each of which admit of two or more ways of wearing front—double-breasted, military, or with wide revers. Surprisingly good coats for this money, $12.95.

SOCIETY.

wife and two children. Mr. and Mrs Sebree expect to spend the winter in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. C. Webb spent a few days of last week in Los Angeles, where they stayed in their city home.

Col. and Mrs. A. S. Moore were the dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Holcomb of Washington street in Pasadena.

San Dimas.

A NUMBER of the business friends of O. W. Hoke, the hardware merchant, surprised him on Thursday evening, which was the anniversary of a birthday, by dropping in upon him and spending the evening at five hundred. There were three tables. The decoration of the rooms was pink carnations and ferns. Appropriate refreshments were served.

Miss Ruth Martin was hostess to the Wednesday Morning Club at her beautiful ranch home. The house had been beautifully adorned with pink roses and ferns. There were eight tables, among whom were the following special guests, Mr. and Hrs. H. S. Gilman, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Teague, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Calkins and the Misses Agnes Serry and Etta McDonald. Prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Jones.

The Wednesday Afternoon Club was entertained this week by R. M. Teague and Mrs. E. W. Thomas at the Bonita avenue home of Mrs. Teague. The house was charmingly adorned with a profusion of flowers, white roses being the flower used in the living-room, pink roses in the dining-room and red geraniums in the den. Two new members were taken in to fill the vacancies made by two resignations. At the close of the afternoon dainty refreshments served.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Billheimer and daughter, Vera, who have been spending the past three months in Kentucky, Missouri and Colorado, returned Saturday.

Miss Emma L. Hawks, attended the banquet and meeting of the College Women's Club, at the Hotel Lankershim on Saturday.

Glendale.

ONE of the prettiest society events held here for some time was the "camp fire party" given by Miss Blanche Lyons at her home. Part of the evening was passed in sitting around a large camp fire and toasting marshmallows. At a late hour refreshments, consisting of popcorn balls, fruit and pumpkin pies, were enjoyed. Those enjoying the evening were Misses Alma Turner, Barbara Mitchell, Elizabeth Russell, Katherine Hobbs, Ruth Williams, Irene Grady, Alpha Clemment, Ruth Brown, Rae Davis, Lula Green and Pearl Goode; Messrs. Lewis Leppleman, Fred Farner, Church Carroll, Will Livingston, Tom Richards, Tom Thornton, Leo Goode, Cecil Vendercreft, William Jewet Hose Brown and Chuck Wells.

Mrs. T. R. Grady, assisted by her daughters, Misses Irene and Grace, entertained with a dinner party early this week. Carnations and ferns were used to good effect in the decorations of the various rooms, the color scheme of which was white and green. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. W. Hudson, Misses Birdie Hansen and Blanche Gregg, Messrs. Fred Fisher and Will Keyes of Los Angeles.

Miss Jane Baxter McPeak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McPeak, was married this week to Clarence Tryon Manwaring of San Francisco, the affair taking place at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lewis J. Adams, only the family and a few intimate friends being present. Semoure Montgomery of San Jose was best man, while the bride was attended only by Miss Katherine Campbell, her niece, who acted as flower girl. Mrs. Charles Stivers sang "O, Perfect Love," and played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin. Mr. and Mrs. Manwaring left immediately after the ceremony for the East, where they will spend their honeymoon. They will be at home to their friends at No. 2850 Union street after February 1.

Dr. Jessie A. Russell entertained with a luncheon on Tuesday complimentary to Mrs. R. D. Meeke, who assisted in a recent social event given by the Parent-Teacher Association of the Sixth-street grammar school.

A pretty dancing party was given recently by Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Russell of Fifth and Central avenue. Red and green was the color scheme, carnations and ferns being used. A musicale, dancing and games were enjoyed. Punch and home-made ice cream and cake were served at a late hour. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Duetwilier, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ayers, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gaston, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Sullivan, Miss Lulu Kolb, Miss Frances Kolb, George Gaston, W. Lobemstine, John Gaston and S. C. Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Cherry arrived in Glendale this week from their home in Ohio and expect to pass the winter here. Mr. Cherry is a brother of F. M. Cherry, the local electrician.

The ladies of the First Methodist Church met Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Kimball, No. 124 Orange street.

Monrovia.

A LUNCHEON at which was announced the engagement of two of Monrovia's most popular young people was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed S. Armstrong of North Myrtle avenue, Tuesday. The people to wed are Miss Eloise Armstrong and Hugh Gibson Marshall, the date of the event being set for January 8. The interior of the Armstrong home was lavishly decorated, chrysanthemums, marguerites and ferns carrying out the color scheme of yellow and white. The luncheon was served from small tables. In the center of each stood a dainty basket of marguerites with streamers of yellow ribbons leading from each plate. The streamers terminated at a small envelope containing the names of the young couple. Both Miss Armstrong and Mr. Marshall are very well known in Monrovia, each having lived here for a number of years. Miss Armstrong is one of the most popular of the younger set. Mr. Marshall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Marshall of West White Oak avenue, a graduate of Stanford University, and at present engaged in the automobile business in Los Angeles. The guests at the luncheon included Mrs. John Rose Layng, nee Miss Kathleen Spence, who will be Miss Armstrong's matron of honor; Miss Margaret Orr of Los Angeles, who will act as Miss Armstrong's maid of honor; Edna Chess, Anna Crews and Helen Davis, the three bridesmaids; Bess Bailey, Mary Smith, Laura Dickinson, Hope Ainley, Grace and Luella Kellar, Irene and Clara LeFetra, Pearl Post, Laura Newcomb, Audrey Post, Ella Miller, Eva Harvey, Opal Rives, and Mesdames Jack Hosfield, Sidney Holman, John Jones, Charles Jernegan, E. W. Knapp, James McCullagh and W. F. Marshall.

Two social organizations, the S.H.R. and Octo clubs, figured in a very pretty function on Thursday evening of this week, when the S.H.R. Club entertained the Octo girls at the home of the Misses Nettie and Ella Miller, on East Orange avenue. The handsome rooms of the Miller residence were elaborately decorated in the club colors, red and white, poinsettias and red geraniums being used with exceptionally good effect. Whist furnished the amusement of the evening, at the close of which the young ladies were served with dainty refreshments, the color scheme being further employed in the table decorations. The hostesses in this delightful party were the Misses Ella and Nettie Miller, Florence Kelly, Ethel Hendrickson, Alice Loops, Bessie Thayer and Pearl Stark, and their guests included the Misses Eva Harvey, Eloise Armstrong, Edna Chess, Anna Crews, Helen Davis, Laura Newcomb, Audrey and Pearl Post.

Mrs. Benedict Schupp entertained informally at cards Thursday evening at her home on Wild Rose avenue. Her guests included Miss Mable Russell, Nell and Lou Badgeley, Irene Hammond, Lorita Shobe and D. C. Ferguson, Dr. Day, West Smith and John P. Dunn.

Long Beach.

ON FRIDAY EVENING Miss Rhoda Nilson was united in marriage to Ray Head, Dr. S. E. Wishard of Highland Park, an old friend of the family, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Head will reside at Bakersfield.

One of the merriest frolics of the week was the outing of the "L. S. Bunch" Thursday at the salt works. The large room of the factory was cleared for feasting and games and in the evening under the chaperonage of Mrs. O. S. Dunn the party explored the salt factory from cellar to garret.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cree were surprised Thursday evening by friends and relatives, who called to aid them in celebrating their thirtieth wedding anniversary. Five hundred was the main diversion of the evening.

At the Congregational Church at high noon Wednesday Miss Eulalie Kay was united in marriage to Glenn Hankins, Rev. H. K. Booth officiating. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hankins left for their home in Osborn, Mo.

Mrs. D. M. Cate was hostess Thursday for the Christian Women's Missionary Society at her home on East Ocean avenue.

Mrs. J. Ellsworth Hatch on Tuesday entertained the sewing club of which she is a member at her home on East Fourth street.

Members of the U.E.D. Club were guests Thursday of Mrs. J. W. Kent at her home on Rose avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Gundy Nicklas of Ackley, Iowa, who are spending the winter here, celebrated their golden wedding Thursday evening at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Ezra Whiteside on East Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Graves on Friday celebrated their twenty-eighth wedding anniversary at their home on East Seventh street.

Mrs. J. A. Rominger on Saturday entertained Chapter G of the P.E.O. Sisterhood at her home on Cedar avenue.

Miss Hattie Dower of Cedar avenue entertained a party of young people Friday evening at an informal affair.

At the home of Mrs. J. B. Petrie on Chestnut avenue Wednesday Miss Annie Hall of St. Joseph, Mo., was united in marriage to John Prueller of San Francisco, Rev. F. M. Rogers officiating.

Mrs. J. Forest McClure and Mrs. Fred Hudson, both brides of the year and sisters, celebrated Thursday with a dinner which was in the nature of a family reunion. Covers were laid for twelve guests.

Mrs. C. J. Boutellier entertained at dinner Thursday at her home on Esther street.

The Merry Wives were the guests Friday evening of Mrs. G. W. Gibson at her home on Magnolia avenue.

The Daughters of the American Revolution tendered a reception Monday to the State Regent and Vice Regent at the home of Mrs. W. H. Dunn on Elm avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Folsom celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary Wednesday evening at Ebell Clubhouse, entertaining the officers and members of Del Mar Rebekah Club.

Mrs. Roland Swaffield entertained her Five Hundred Club on Wednesday afternoon.

The Friendly Fifteen were the guests Tuesday afternoon of Mrs. C. H. Wade.

Mrs. H. S. Callahan entertained at dinner Tuesday evening complimentary to Mrs. Frank Hirsch of St. Louis.

Azusa.

THE Women's Club held its semimonthly meeting Wednesday afternoon in their new clubhouse. Mrs. Ella P. Hubbard, who has recently returned from a year's visit to Europe, Egypt and Palestine, attended and gave an interesting resume of her journey through these old countries. Miss Margery Ellis rendered a number of piano selections, and later dainty refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ellington of Saugus were the guests of Mrs. George W. Ellington of Cerritos avenue.

D. Cornelius Smith and bride have returned from a month's honeymoon trip to the Eastern States. Mr. Smith is a prominent merchant of this place and has been in this locality since boyhood.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Collins of Azusa avenue had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Naugh, Miss Naugh and Mrs. Harriett Prebble from Tustin.

Mr. and Mrs. Jermiah Sitton were the hosts at a dinner given to relatives and friends. Twelve guests were present, among them being Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sitton of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Young and family of Santa Barbara.

The third meeting of the Valley Dinner Club was held Wednesday evening at the home of R. W. Hamlin of Vermont avenue.

Mrs. Silas Judd entertained a few friends Thursday, the occasion being her eighty-first birthday. The dining-room was festooned with pepper boughs with roses for the table. A birthday cake and cherry pie were baked by Mrs. Judd herself for the occasion. Mrs. Fox, a lifelong friend from Syracuse, N. Y., was present and she and Mrs. Hoges, Mrs. Judd's sister-in-law, were the same age; four at the table totaling 320 years. This would seem to be ample proof of what California climate does to prolong life.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Skidmore entertained at their home on Dalton avenue Mrs. Luce and Mrs. Upson, friends from Los Angeles.

Mrs. W. T. Forsythe was the guest of her daughter, Miss Forsythe, at "Ye Foothill Inn" this week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Rench of Glendora spent Thanksgiving Day at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bouldin.

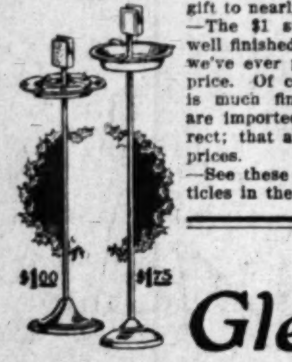
Furriers"
STREETS

These Burnished Brass Smokers' Sets at $1.00 and $1.75

—Will suggest to you an appropriate and acceptable gift to nearly any man.



—The $1 stand is remarkably well finished and the best value we've ever presented at such a price. Of course, the $1.75 set is much finer. Both of them are imported from Germany direct; that accounts for the low prices.

—See these and other brass articles in the basement.

Over 5000 Pairs Felt Juliets 95c

—These are indeed extra special, and, my, how they're selling. So many pretty colors to choose from. Naturals, grays, browns and black with fur trimming to match.

—We want you to compare these with the higher priced felt Juliets you've been buying and there's a free holiday gift box with every pair.

Christmas Cards

Printed to Order

—Our printing department, rear of aisle 5, will take your order for personal Christmas cards in one or more colors. Satisfactory work and low prices. Rear aisle 5.

Sale of Long Kid Gloves Regular $3 and $4.00 Values $2.25

—Here are the details of this purchase from a prominent glove manufacturer. We secured a liberal quantity of 16-button kid gloves, which, if we were to price them in the regular way, we'd mark them $3—and that's conservative.

—Extra quality kid in champagne, white, pink, and mouse color. To this we've added a lot of light blue, pink and pearl gray gloves. Full elbow lengths. These latter have been taken right out of regular stock and are marked $4.

—These gloves are 3-button and 3-clasp styles.

—We know there will be liberal response to this item because the values warrant it. If you are interested, however, we advise you to come early for such values cannot last long.

This Work Basket 27-inches High, $1

—Here's a Christmas present for the woman who sews. Just the handiest imaginable work basket. Stands 27 inches high with tripod base.

—The basket is tufted with either pink or blue satin.

—We have just 125 of them that we've marked $1 for a special Christmas feature, in the Art Department, 3rd floor. Come early—they won't last long.

California's Sun-Warmed Flower--The Poinsettia

Gleams Brilliant in the Christmas Store--Ready Monday

—Just the soft finishing touch of the Christmas decorations—all that was needed to give the proper setting to Christmas stocks that have been so painstakingly assembled.

—Monday the store in all its brilliant Christmas dress stands revealed a typical California Christmas Holiday store.

—It's the climax of months of preparation.

—The dashing red of California's own Christmas flower, the poinsettia, intermingled with the rich green of the beach bows, amidst the twinkling of hundreds of tiny lights, spread the Christmas warmth on every hand.

—With but 14 more Christmas shopping days gift selection will be at the very highest tide.

—14 days of most wonderful holiday shopping and in anticipation of it, service everywhere has been strengthened.

—Was there ever such a holiday season? Was there ever such a holiday store? Just a visit through the various departments will fill you with the Christmas spirit.

—Remember the Wells Fargo Branch—The Postoffice—The Nursery—The Telegraph Office—The Rest Room—The accommodation Desk, etc.

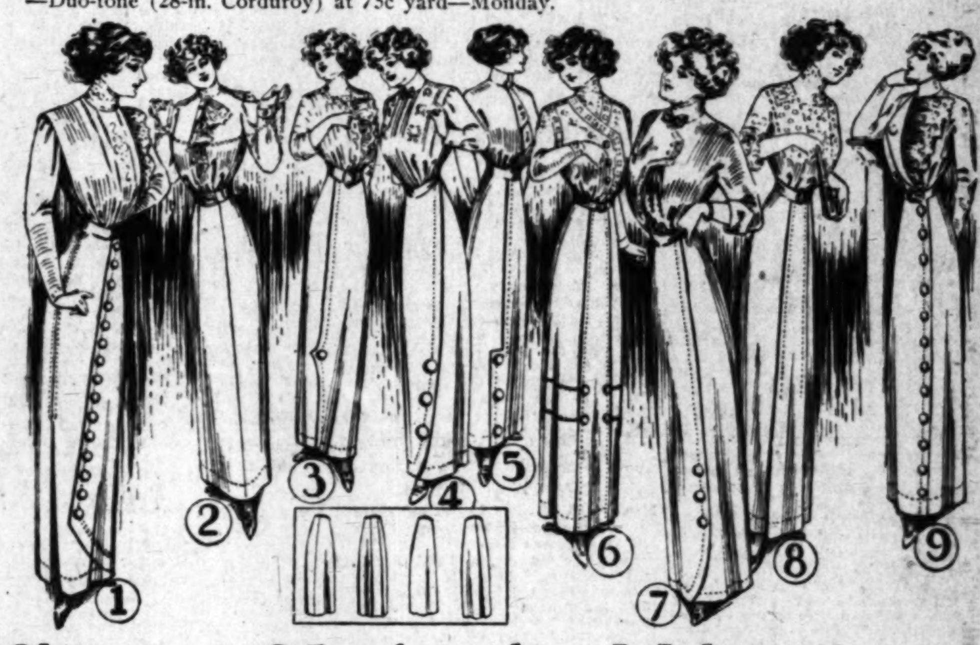
A 36-in. Satin is to be 85c yd.—A very attractive Silk Offering, Monday—

—"Two-Season" and other satins—as staple as can be at regular price—a feature in the silk store at 85c yard—

—Duo-tone (28-in. Corduroy) at 75c yard—Monday.



Skirts—"95c for the Making"

—From any Dress Woolens at $1.00 yard or more. "I can take orders for a large number of Skirts with my new establishment, if you will not hurry me too much concerning time"—So this advertisement.

—Bullock's Tailor is ready for another great order. Note: HE ASKS NOT TO BE HURRIED TOO MUCH. This is important, he will not ask an unreasonable length of time—but he insists on having sufficient leeway to do the right kind of skirt-making—the kind that satisfies customers—the only kind that Bullock's will permit.

—If you want a new tailored skirt that will fit you perfectly and be made in the latest mode—choose your skirting Monday at $1.00 yard or more, and pay 95c—a ridiculously low price for the making—Note the pictures—There are many other styles—

—Black and White Checks at $1.25—and others that are probably more remarkable, at $1.65.

—There are Cream Suitings at $1.50 and more, that are splendid. Bedford Cords, Whipcords, Surahs, Serges, Cloakings—

—Cloakings for Children—A very few pieces at $1.50 yd.—53-in. Navy Serges at $1.00 and $1.25 yd.—And other Dress Goods—exclusive novelties and staple weaves—an extensive, beautiful display now.

Flannels at Half and Less—35c Yd.

—2500 yards of French and Scotch flannels—fine ALL WOOL flannels, mind you—at 35c a yard—

Sounds unreasonable, but it is absolutely true. Never mind how it happens—nothing need concern you except that you get here in time to get your share of this 2500-yard lot of pure wool waistings at 35c a yard. Some in dainty solid colors with neat border designs. Some in plaids, some in stripes. Some of the French flannels are in beautiful Persian designs.

—None of them worth less than twice the price we quote for Monday. Some worth practically three times as much.

—It is just another example of Bullock's masterful merchandising. Main Floor.

SOCIETY.

ding of Miss Sutton to Thomas Clarke Bundy to take place Wednesday evening, December 11, at 8:30 o'clock at Christ Church, Los Angeles.

The anniversary of the organization of Chapter H., P.E.O., will be celebrated Friday evening, December 13, with a dinner for the members and their husbands and friends at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Hembree on the Esplanade.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Thompson of San Diego, who were married Monday evening at the Temple Auditorium, Los Angeles, were guests Thursday of the bride's aunt, Mrs. C. W. Grassel of the Esplanade. The bride was Miss Mabel Hunter of San Diego.

Miss Edna McCaddon of San Diego was the guest of Mrs. C. T. Gulliver of the Garland the past week.

A. W. Hewth, F. Foster Ena, Alfred Cooke and Linford Maxwell were guests at a dinner given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Slingluff of the Esplanade.

Miss Ethel Elliott of Santa Fe, N. M., and Wilbur Culler, a young business man of this city, were married Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Linda at 738 Merchant street, Los Angeles, by Rev. Mr. Fisher. Only relatives of the groom were present. They were Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Culler and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Culler of Redondo Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Culler will live on Elena avenue, this city.

—o—

Norwalk.

MISS DORA D. STOKER of Long Beach spent the week-end with her friend, Miss Hattie M. Spoufle.

Miss Margaret White spent the week-end with her father, John Dollard.

Mrs. Adam Stiffler spent Thanksgiving with her daughter, Mrs. Nora Melvin at Garden Grove.

Mrs. Ruth Baugh has lately come home from China, where her husband is Vice-Consul.

—o—

Hemet.

THE largest social event of the season occurred here last week, when the Hemet Tennis Club gave its annual Thanksgiving ball. The dance hall of the Hemet opera-house, where the ball was given, was appropriately and beautifully draped with tennis nets from which were festooned graceful pepper boughs and smilax. Tennis racquets and balls here and there throughout the green added the last needed touch. The invitation list of the pleasurable occasion included more than a hundred of the local set, most of whom responded with their presence. Among the out-of-town guests were: Misses Andrews and Bates, Messrs. Garvey and Sullivan of Corona. The patronesses of the affair were: Mmes. Hill, Whitten, Fast, Stump, Dow and Eadie. A delicious intermission luncheon was served at the end of the ninth dance. Prof. J. H. Sutherland, violinist, and Miss Adelaide Clarke, accompanist, furnished excellent music for the programme of twenty dances.

Last week saw two affairs among the younger High School set. The first was a reception tendered the members of the faculty by the seniors of the school. An interesting form of entertainment devised for the members of the faculty by the seniors took the form of a pantomime, in which the members of the outgoing class took part. After the pantomime a delicious luncheon was served which had been prepared unaided by the girls of the class. The second was the freshman reception, a very pleasant affair, at which Miss Grace de Fremery and Guy Hudgins were faculty guests.

Mrs. H. L. Jackson and son, L. M. Jackson, returned Saturday from Berkeley and San Francisco, where they had been visiting for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Edwin Knight Holden of Claremont has been the guest for the past week of Miss Georgia Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Ellard were guests of their daughter, Mrs. J. Alfred Jacques, this week.

—o—

Puente.

MRS. E. RAMBAUD delightfully entertained with a shower in honorof Miss Celina Reta. At 5 o'clock refreshments were served to the following guests: Mesdames Abel Garnier, Louis Didier, H. Heinze, R. J. Slack, C. Didier, J. Didier, W. J. Welsh, H. Dodson, A. Bidart, George Cross, and the Misses Louise, Renne and Claire Didier, Cecelia Cross and Marian Ytcaina.

Mrs. E. Parmalee Morehouse was the hostess at a miscellaneous shower given at her home November 29 in honor of Miss Ethel Edmunson. A very pleasing musical programme was rendered by Miss Spurlock, Mrs. Spurlock, Miss Chase and Mrs. Osmeyer. Delicious refreshments were served. Those present were Mesdames Branton, Osmeyer, Cross, Hopper, Crouch, Clabaugh, Edmunson, Shank, Norton, Lewis, Baldwin, Reynolds, Stark, Isabel, Feddersohn, Metcalf; Misses Paden, Spurlock, Smith, Robinson, Fickewirth, Norton, Morehouse, Chase, Gird, Hardison, Chase, Carber, Edmunson, and Ralph Morehouse.

Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock Miss Celina Reta and Dominic Salthu were united in marriage by Rev. Raphael at St. Joseph's Church. The church was beautifully decorated in asparagus ferns and bows of tulle. The bride was becomingly attired in a blue broadcloth suit. A wedding breakfast was served to the immediate families after which the happy couple departed for Coronado. Mr. and Mrs. Salthu will reside in Venice.

Beatrice Frijo, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Frijo, was married last week to Jesse Choate of Azusa.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Reynolds entertained at their home Thanksgiving Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lofthouse, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ferrero, Mr. and Mrs. F. Norton and family and Percy Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Watts had with them over Sunday Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wilbur, Mrs. Millie Watts and Carl Watts of Compton.

Ernest Carrey and Miss Frances Baque were married at the Pomona Catholic Church Wednesday morning. After the ceremony they left for San Diego for a few days.

Colton.

IN THE presence of a large company of guests Miss Rhoda Irene Roberts of West Redlands became the bride of Royal T. C. Roberts of Colton on Wednesday last, the ceremony taking place at the ranch home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace J. Roberts at Bryn Mawr. The ceremony-room was embowered in thick ropes of smilax and fern studded with Shasta daisies and as the marriage lines were read by the Rev. E. L. B. McClellan of the Colton Presbyterian Church, the bridal pair and their attendants, Miss Ruth Wood and Milton Frink, stood beneath a suspended basket of daisies and fern. A charming frock of ivory silk with old lace trimmings was worn by the bride and she carried a sheaf of white carnations. Following the benediction and congratulations a wedding breakfast was served and later the couple sped away to pass a honeymoon at Los Angeles and Catalina. On their return they will reside here as the groom is an electrician at the cement plant and has prepared a cosy home on C street. The at heme date is after December 12, and Mrs. Roberts will receive a cordial welcome in the city to which she comes as a bride.

A number of local friends of Col. J. B. Shepardson, who made his home here for many years were in San Bernardino Wednesday to attend a large dinner party given at his present home there on the occasion of his eighty-second birthday anniversary, the group including Mr. and Mrs. Seth Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Gilbert, W. W. Wilcox, Miss Fannie Gilbert and Milo Gilbert. Dinner was served at noon, covers being laid for twenty guests and the festive table having decorations of pink roses, carnations and fern, with an immense birthday cake glittering with eighty-two candles forming an artistic centerpiece. In the evening the colonel was "surprised" with a visit of some fifty neighbors from the Shepardson tract of which he is owner, who came laden with good wishes and congratulations.

Mrs. Hebberd, Mrs. N. Davenport and Miss Daisy Davenport, who have spent the past three months in a delightful stay at Honolulu and on the other islands of the group, docked Thursday at San Francisco and were met there by City Clerk Davenport, who secured a few days lay off to go north to meet his wife and daughter. The party is now en route home.

The Colton Woman's Club held an unusually pleasant session this week, out-of-town speakers having been secured by the curator of the day, Mrs. Robert M. McHargue. Rev. Marsh of Bloomington, whose parents are Bulgarian missionaries, spoke on the Balkan War most interestingly and treated his hearers to the contents of letters received from relatives who live near the border, the scene of many of the conflicts. Mrs. R. F. Garner of the county seat, who was a delegate to the Democratic convention in Baltimore, told of the impressions gained of the big meeting and of many incidents taking place aboard the "Clark Special." Mrs. McHargue closed the programme with a paper on "Resume of the World's History During the Past Year." Musical selections were interpolated throughout the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Finnen have arrived from Illinois and are guests of Mrs. Finnen's sister, Mrs. G. A. Fisher and Mr. Fisher, who is superintendent of the Colton Portland Cement plant. The visitors will probably spend the winter here.

A MOST delightful and novel children's party was given last Saturday afternoon at "Red-Cote," the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Montague, on Cedar street. About 100 boys and girls were charmingly received by little 4-year-old Juliet Carnegie Montague, in whose honor the affair was given, and little Edna Florella Montague, the baby sister. They were arrayed in bewitching costumes, representing Prince Charming and Queen Titania. The dainty favors were dolls for the girls and small horses for the boys. The home was beautifully decorated with Cecile Bruner roses and greenery. During the same afternoon Mrs. I. I. Gerson, mother of Mrs. Montague, received the mothers of the little guests at her home adjoining. Those who assisted her in receiving were, Mrs. A. I. Warren, Mrs. J. E. Bolten, Mrs. A. G. Dougherty, and Mrs. A. C. Hunt. Those assisting at the Montague home were, Dorothy Boyce, Isadora Beatrice Dougherty, Cecil Alice Gerson, and Edna Florella Montague.

Miss Gladys Knesel will entertain the Music Study Club next Monday evening at her home in Los Angeles. It is to be history night, and an unusually fine programme has been arranged, consisting of papers, vocal and instrumental music.

On Tuesday evening occurred the impressive installation ceremony of the Eastern Star in Masonic Hall. The hall was beautifully decorated in green and white for the occasion, while smilax and carnations were used on the punch table. Mrs. Lena W. Stannard of Long Beach, who is the Past Grand Worthy Matron of the State of California, conducted the installation. The officers for the coming year are, Mrs. Clarence Van Graham, Worthy Matron; Edward Lingenfelder, Worthy Patron; Florence H. Clapp, Associate Matron; Frances Knight, Secretary; Laura H. Green, Treasurer; Rose Ebert, Conductress; Florence McDonald, Assistant Conductress; M. Ednell Hanscome, Marshall; Theodore Knight, Sentinel; Mrs. L. D. White, Organist; Star Points, Mmes. Perkins, Joslin, Graves, Frieda Chandler and May Hitch.

The Wednesday Afternoon Club has announced a most delightful programme for the coming month. The first meeting, which was held last Wednesday afternoon, was a business and social hour. Next Wednesday an address will be given by Frank G. Tyrrell on "Business Law for Women." The following evening Mary Linck Evans will appear in grand opera recital, assisted by Mrs. John R. Fleming, pianist. This will be a benefit for the Wednesday Afternoon Club. A Christmas cheer social, with a short programme, will be given December 18, when Mrs. J. M. Armstrong will read a Christmas story. At that time the Philanthropy Committee is asking each member to bring a gift for "an otherwise empty stocking." This programme promises to be unusually interesting, as well as varied.

The members of the Die Schwalbe Club royally entertained their friends at their clubhouse on Rose road Thanksgiving night. A most tempting and delicious eight-course turkey dinner was served. Those enjoying this elaborate function were, Miss Erma Dunbar, Miss Hersel Feutz, Miss Harriet Dunbar, Miss aKte Mu-Ferguson, Miss Lois Dunbar and Miss Josephine Dunbar, Miss Margaret Ferguson, iss Lois Dunbar and Miss Louise Sexton, Messrs. Puckett, Richard Hazelhurst, Clarence Hatch, William Graham, William Carr, Wallace Dunbar, Dwight Warren, Roy Ashbrook and Clyde Champion. Mr. and Mrs. Mulock chaperoned the jolly party.

F. C. Johnson and Miss Ruth Davis, both of the firm of the Alhambra steam laundry, surprised their friends on Friday afternoon, when they went to Los Angeles and were married by Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, at the Temple Auditorium.

Mrs. De Garmo and daughter, Mrs. Gibbons, who are spending the winter in Southern California, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Mitchim, at their bungalow home on South Fifth street.

Mrs. C. L. Saunders of North Marguerita avenue entertained on Sunday, friends from Houston, Tex. American Beauty roses formed an exquisite centerpiece for the table.

Miss Marian Southwick of Berkeley is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. James H. Hunt, of Lindaraxa place, and will remain until after the holidays.

Miss Shipp's dancing class met last evening as usual at the Woman's Clubhouse. At 8:30 o'clock there was an after dance for the older pupils and their friends, which was well attended and as enjoyable as those affairs always are.

Miss Grace Smith of San Bernardino spent several days last week at the home of Mrs. Harriet Smith and daughter, Lilly, on South Third street. Miss Grace and Miss Lilly were formerly schoolmates at Redlands, but had not seen each other for four years. Miss Smith came in time for Thanksgiving Day, and remained for the week-end.

Mrs. Mont M. Waddle and two sons, Eugene and Jack, of South Third street, accompanied by Miss Ethel Cooper, spent Thursday at Redondo Beach, as guests of Mrs. Waddle's aunt, Mrs. Backus, and family.

Miss Nellie Boyce was the charming hostess to the Embroidery Club at her home on North Marguerita avenue last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. J. B. Sexton returned the last of the week from Bakersfield, where she went in the interests of the Delphian Society, to organize a Delphian study club.

Rialto.

UNUSUALLY interesting was the meeting of the Woman's Club at the L.M.L.A. Hall Wednesday afternoon. The room was most inviting in its timely decorations of Christmas bells and greenery. The tea table was adorned with a pretty Christmas tree. "Household Economics," was the subject for the afternoon's programme. Beautiful vocal selections were sung by Miss Hill of Highland, who also accompanied Thomas Ewing, whose cello numbers were the delightful feature of the programme. Interesting and instructive papers were read by Mrs. Ewing on "Household Economics," and "Cooking as an Art, a Handicraft, a Science and a Profession," by Mrs. Homer Lash. Mmes. F. W. French, Mary Husted and Bertha Zeigler were the hostesses for the afternoon.

Friends of Miss Ada Smith, former resident of Rialto, received the announcement of her approaching marriage to Lloyd L. Abbey of Wendling, Or. The wedding has been planned for New Year's Day and will be solemnized at the home of the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. Fry, in Irving, Or.

Mrs. T. C. McDonald, was the hostess at a happily planned party which Personality

To increase the usefulness of our store—to make it the greatest good to the greatest number has been the underlying motive of our every improvement and increase. The equipment of our store with its beautiful and modern fixtures was undertaken without any thought of pomp or display, but solely from the point of utility. If certain improvements would add to the customer's convenience—would display our stocks of Diamonds—our Silver and Gold Jewelry to better advantage—to preserve in faultless condition until it became the property of our customers—then such improvements were justified.

No business could complete more than 30 years of service in Los Angeles without acquiring a personality—something more than Fixtures and Show Cases and Merchandise. That personality is not expressed either in merchandise, in store policy or service. You might have difficulty in defining it, but you immediately recognize its presence in any business—it is the impression that has grown in many years. It is the recognition of this personality that gains your confidence—that makes you prefer to pay a dollar for an article of merchandise in our store rather than to give 100 cents for identically the same article somewhere else. It is a guarantee without any spoken or written word. That personality in which you have implicit faith and you know is back of the article you buy. Personality makes the large store with all its resources a little store in the character and detail of the service it gives you and the importance placed upon you as its customer.

Whether developed studiously or unconsciously, Montgomery Bros. like to feel that their store has its personality, and that in its growth and expansion, the feeling that the little store of almost one-third of a century ago has not been lost. It is gratifying to feel that the spirit of partnership between customer and store has only been more closely cemented as the opportunities for service have broadened.

This helpful feeling of confidence is a valuable asset to us.

Jewelers' merchandise is one on which few customers are able to use expert judgment. When we say we have a stock of Diamonds at this present time in Perfect, Fine Blue Jaegers and Perfect, Fine Blue Wesseltons that we are able to offer at a price much below the value of these rare goods today, that statement is accepted as True without a question —why—simply because we say so—our reputation backs it up, and the reason is this—We have owned this stock of Diamonds for several years. We have not been able to use all these stones. This Christmas we want to turn them into money. We are willing to let them go at the old prices. If you are in the market for a Fine Diamond—we can interest you. If Quality and Price—if a large and varied selection of Strictly High Grade Perfect Jaeger and Wesselton Diamonds means anything to you—surely on the strictest commercial lines of business this is an opportunity for you to invest in fine Diamonds at old time prices. All we ask is comparison of values. Our Diamond business is a purely commercial business conducted without sentiment—with only one idea in view—to give the highest value in goodness—in perfection—in Quality—at the very lowest price we can place on our Diamond Merchandise that price and that High Grade quality—we absolutely guarantee.

We quote no prices today. It would be a pleasure indeed for us to show you our wonderful line of Diamond goods, without any obligation upon your part.

Remember, please, we sell Diamonds of only One Quality —The Best—Inferior goods have no place in our stock—We have None to sell.

Tomorrow in our beautiful center window we will make an Exhibit of Diamond Rings, more in number, of greater value than you have ever seen displayed, at one time, in Los Angeles. The value of this exhibit represents a fortune.

Miss Hazel Cochrane of Los Angeles, who is a guest of San Bernardino friends for a few days, was the honor guest at an informal dinner given Monday evening by Mrs. James C. Love and Miss Coyla Davis at the Love home on G street. Pink was the prevailing color in the floral decorations, and bridge was enjoyed after the serving, Miss Ernestine Conner winning the honors.

A large company of ladies were entertained Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. L. Mespelt on Eighth street, whist being played. Yellow was the color scheme, California poppies and chrysanthemums being used to beautify the parlors. The score cards were decorated with poppies. Luncheon was served following the card play, autumn fruits and yellow being the decorations.

Miss Roxy McNeill entertained the Saturday Afternoon Reading Club, a delightful menu of travel and history being served. La France roses decorate the parlors, while red roses were used in the dining-room. A paper on Brazil, written by Mrs. O. M. Caldwell of Los Angeles, and one on local history by Mrs. B. M. Wall, were read by Mrs. George T. Brooks.

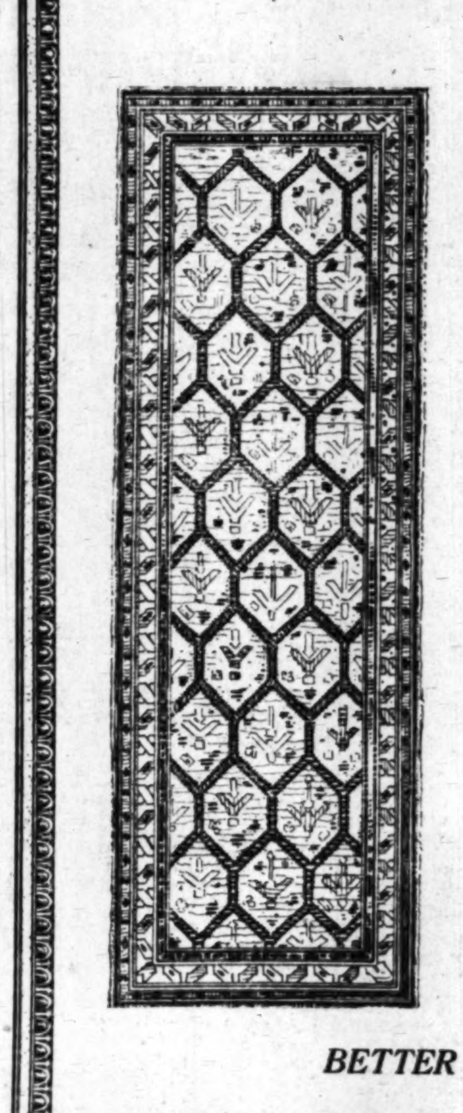
The Runner Rug



THE "Runner" Rug seems to be a sort of special dispensation, and fills "a long felt want."

Its uses are manifold and its possibilities great.

For a long, narrow hallway, a stair landing, up-and-down the staircase, in front of a fireplace, through a doorway, between rooms, across the end of a large rug, it is indispensable.

Nothing is more attractive on a wood or marble staircase, softening the hard clatter of the treads, than a rich, subdued, Oriental Rug invisibly fastened in place; and where there are two flights of stairs, these "runners" may be different, or matched if one is fortunate enough to find an appropriate pair.

This is the only possible regret about these serviceable specialties—the difficulty in securing suitable widths, lengths, colors or pairs; and much time and trouble is involved in their selection.

We can minimize these annoyances for you, as our carefully chosen stock is replete with fine examples of matched pairs and of unusual lengths, most appropriate for the best modern homes.

We would be pleased to accord you a satisfying inspection of our special facilities for meeting particular conditions and the undoubted reasonableness of our charges for so doing.

Bring the Children to See the Toys and Dolls

Our Third Floor is thronged these days. The Toy Season is at hand. Bring your Little Ones. Let them see the wonderful Trains that run by electricity—the Cannons that shoot real Caps—the Boats that run themselves—the Fire Engine House with its Engines that rush out automatically at the alarm. Then show them the Soldiers and the Dogs and Bears that walks. With Christmas so near, it is well to remind you that early selections of Toys assure you of having fuller assortments from which to choose.

Inexpensive Toys

We have countless small Toys that you should see. Wooden Chickens, Ducks and Animals — miniature Xmas Trees—tiny Wax Dolls, Whips, Games, Iron Trains—in fact, everything that makes Christmas morning what the children expect it to be. We have full varieties of ornaments for the Xmas Tree.

Distinctive Dolls

See "Mary Jane"—Known the world over—in her fetching one-piece dress, trimmed with hand-embroidery and sash. She comes in several sizes and in several different dresses of the same distinctive style. And see "Susanna Sue," the little school girl, in her cunning gingham dress and quaint hair ribbon.

Books Christmas would not "seem itself" without Books. For the best Stories and Picture Books that are procurable, visit this Department on the Toy Floor. Your selections can be made from an unusually extensive stock of fiction, biography, travel, history and nursery rhymes.

Our Art Department has many beautiful things that make admirable Gifts. We suggest Breakfast Caps—fancy Shawls—Collar Boxes—Toilet Cases—Work Bags—Sewing Baskets—Jewelry Cases—Vanity Folders—Sachet Cases—Bureau Trays—Embroidered Bags—or stamped Pieces that you can work into exquisite Centers, Pillows, Doilies and Scarfs.

J. J. Gorman, M. Reedland, M. Tayne.

Mrs. J. B. Myer of Redondo Beach, who has been visiting the past week with Mrs. George W. Fuller on Blythe avenue, returned home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Congdon Tuesday night entertained a large number of their friends at their home on O street, the occasion being the celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. An interesting programme of music had been arranged for the entertainment of the guests during the evening, the opening number being given by Mrs. McDaniels, who played a violin number. Miss Laura Schramm was next with an interesting reading, Mrs. Sam Lonsdale played a selection on the piano, and Miss Hickman gave a reading. Immediately following the musical programme, the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march were heard and the "bride and groom" entered with the pastor and took their marriage vows over again. Mr. and Mrs. Congdon received a number of handsome gifts in the way of cut glass and silver. Those who participated in the jollification were: Messrs. and Mmes. H. Q. Breeden, A. D. Ewing, Edward Jones, Shirley Shaw, O. J. Woodward, W. K. Washburn, W. M. McDaniel, R. J. Woodward, Peter Droge, R. W. Woodward, Joseph Green, C. J. Craycroft, W. E. Toms, Henry Radin, F. J. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene D. Northup and Miss Aileen Northup of "Inglenook" were the host and hostesses of a number of friends Thursday at an outdoor dinner party. The affair partook of the community spirit and about a glowing bonfire the viands of the meal were roasted. Dr. Bertram C. Davis was chef and the product of his art was barbecued steak. The table was spread under a canopy of trees that grace the garden of "Inglenook" and those who gathered about it were Mr. and Mrs. Northup, Dr. and Mrs. B. C. Davis, Mrs. Morgis R. Conable, Miss Cessiar, Miss Gertrude Gibbs, Miss Aileen Northup and Morris E. Conable.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Anderson opened their home Thursday evening to the members of the Five Hundred Club. The rooms where the ladies and gentlemen were received were gay with bunches of Gen. Grant geraniums, and tables were arranged for sixteen players. After the games supper was served in tempting style.

Mrs. Mary Hoagland was the hostess of a pleasant luncheon party at 1 o'clock Thursday, at her country home on Falling Leaf avenue. Lovely red roses and graceful ferns were massed for a centerpiece and covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Walter K. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sarwine, Mrs. Ludie GerhartCross, Mrs. John Dickie, Mrs. Blackman and Mrs. Arthur Church.

Varble of Eagle Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Rhodes and Mrs. S. S. Rhodes of Park avenue had as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Breckenridge and two daughters, of St. Louis. Mrs. Hutchinson and son, of New York, who are spending the winter at the Albemarle apartments; Mrs. E. E. Hamilton and Miss Dean of the same apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Kingdon of Fairmont avenue had as dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McOmber, Margaret and Maynard McOmber, Mrs. Blanche Miller and Miss Frances Miller of Glendale.

Mrs. O. A. Runngren will spend a few months in the East. She expects to spend the Christmas holidays in Chicago with her sister.

The Knife and Fork Club gave a masquerade dance in the Masonic Hall Wednesday evening. There were many original and pretty costumes. About seventy-five attended.

The Parent-Teacher Association held a meeting Wednesday afternoon at the schoolhouse. A novel number by four of the children was given, called the convention of Easter, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving and Christmas. Those taking part were Muriel Gardiner, Helen Burg, William McBurney and Oran Branscomb. Miss Mable Munyon recited "'Twas the Night Before Christmas," after which Miss Smith, a professional story-teller, charmed her audience with stories. Mrs. Putnam, assisted by the pupils of the fourth and fifth grades, served refreshments. The association will give a Christmas bazaar December 14, to raise funds to buy a phonograph for the school. In the afternoon a punch and judy show will be given for the children, and in the evening a musical entertainment.

Covina.

ONE of the most brilliant affairs of the current week was the reception given on Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Matthews at their home on Navilla Place in honor of the teachers of the Covina public schools. Among the guests were Prof. and Mrs. J. J. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Healy, Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford H. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Groom, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Tredway, Prof. and Mrs. W. J. Newsome, Mr. and Mrs. Burton L. Easton, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Brownfield, Mr. and Mrs. Lucy, Mr. and Mrs. Heath, the Misses Effie Lemonds, Mildred Price, M. E. Griswold, Leila Edgar, Gertrude D. Graham, Aura L. Fitch, Clara Thompson, Ada Blanchard, Helen M. Hawley, Eva D. Edwards, May Hull, Mary Doyle, E. Louise Mills, Florence Jackson, Julia Jennings, Hope Wells, Bernice Budlong, Jennie M. Ross, Florence Phillips, Olga Krey, Edith Sanborn, Marian Groves, Allda M. Kring, Ray Elliott.

Seldom is it the privilege of music lovers of Covina to enjoy an hour of such harmony as was afforded on Monday afternoon at the Monday Afternoon Club, where the talented musician, Stanley F. Widener, his wife and two students gave an entire and delightful programme, from his own compositions. The affair was arranged by Mrs. E. P. Warner, chairman of the club's Musical Committee. The programme included vocal and instrumental music, devotional, lyric and popular selections, interpreted by solo, duet and trio work.

The marriage of William Waldeck and Mrs. E. Tanner took place on Monday evening. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. W. Catherwood of the Baptist Church. Mrs. Tanner is a lady who has made a success of her life as an efficient woman of business. Mr. Waldeck is a man of middle age, and both have lost the first partners of their life-journey. They knew each other in the early days, and have now decided to make each other happy in the riper and more mature portion of life.

The news has leaked out concerning the marriage on Thanksgiving Day of J. K. Strosnider, a well-known Covina rancher, to Mrs. Alice Washborn of Brawley. Mrs. Washburn has been making her home for some time with relatives at Redondo, and the marriage ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Dr. Atkins of the Redondo Methodist Church. The marriage was a quiet one and witnessed by only a few relatives, and Mr. and Mrs. Strosnider arrived here on Monday night to take up their residence on Citrus avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morgan of Hollywood, and the latter's mother, Mrs. Smith, of Nebraska, spent last Sunday as guests of the C. B. Elliott home.

Thanksgiving guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Ross were Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Rose of Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Backman of Alhambra, Mr. and Mrs. R. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Ross and Miss Anna Perry of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Chew, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Chew, Jr. of Irwindale.

MAY SUTTON, BRIDE-ELECT.

Hearst Photo.

Miss May Sutton,
Soon to be Mrs. Thomas C. Bundy.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

The most interesting young person in California today is May Godfraye Sutton, tennis queen of the world, and bride-elect of another famous tennis celebrity, Thomas C. Bundy. The announcement of their forthcoming wedding last week created a delightful flutter in social circles and really conversation at the country clubs these days is Sutton-cum-Bundyish to the exclusion of other topics.

I found her in the midst of all the fascinating paraphernalia, radiant, charming, mischievous, with trousseau, "bottom drawer" treasures and wedding presents all around her in that exceedingly becoming disarray that affects the artists so subtly. She really is a most attractive girl and her smile is quite fatal. Poor "Tom" is never going to be able to withstand that smile, no matter how seriously he decides to "put his foot down" or to be "master in his own house." His photograph enjoyed the place of honor in front of the mirror on her dressing table and one must confess he is a very presentable young man. I feel sure a story on the bridegroom-elect would be quite as exciting as that of the bride, but it is not comme il faut yet.

THE WEDDING DRESS.

The wedding dress has been made for over a week and all her girl friends are appreciating very fully just now why "May" has been so very occupied with dressmakers of late. It is a dainty little gown of that elegant and expensive simplicity so dear to the heart of the discriminating mondaine. A heavy white satin foundation, draped in white net embellished with white beads, with a beautiful ornament clasping the drapery in place. White swansdown is cleverly introduced into the corsage and also edges the slight train which hangs straight from the shoulders in the most graceful line. The sleeves are a work of art alone.

The veil is of the finest net caught into a wreath of orange blossom which looks quite distracting on her radiant young head. May Sutton is slender and graceful now—it is not so very long ago that she was a distinctly plump little girl to whom grace was a superfluous accomplishment. Indeed, one feels that May Sutton has grown up later than most girls, and although she is actually about 24 or 25, she appears to be a particularly captivating 20 to her friends. Whatever her age, we are all convinced it is the loveliest age of all for her, she has never been so sweet or so attractive as she is now.

THE RING.

Her engagement ring is a large simple diamond of peculiar brilliance and cut in the DuBarry style. It is really an unusually large stone, as big as a pea—and a California pea, at that. The wielding of many tennis rackets has made her hand broad, so that her glove must needs be size six and a quarter, but her small fingers should really entitle her to a five and a half.

SOME OF THE PRESENTS.

Of course, the loveliest of presents are flowing in upon the highly popular young couple and really their friends must be congratulated in their thoughtfulness. It is no easy matter to select presents for people whose shelves are weighed down with wonderful silver trophies from all countries, evidences of fame and fortune. May Sutton loves her silver pots and she declared impulsively that if ever financial misfortune should befall them, she would go out and do any sort of work rather than part with a single cup. There are rooms full of them, as can well be imagined, from immense bowls and urns large enough to bathe in, to the minutest cups about as big as an egg cup, yet she loves them all and knows each one's tender history.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bundy have sent the young couple a lovely present comprising dozens and dozens of every kind of implement for the table. The Thomas Bundys are going to be able to give the most dazzling of dinner parties.

"I love dinner parties," said the laughing bride-elect. "I should like to give one every few days." Like Mrs. Bruce of Santa Monica (Ethel Sutton that was) May Sutton is very hospitable and those silver dinner services and tea services will be in constant requisition.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas R. Burns of Alhambra have sent an exquisite little liqueur set in chaste silver and cut-glass—but, alas, I understand the bridegroom-elect is at least a teetotaler if not a prohibitionist.

Miss Florence Sutton, affectionately known as "Birdie," who will act as maid-of-honor, is a much-tried person these days. Her well-known and very pronounced affection for her sister May must be receiving frequent tests. Her present is a very large silver frame. Papa Sutton, too, is a model of patience and parental devotion—I think he answered the telephone on an average of sixty times per hour and apologizes gently when he has to take a few minutes' vacation. Everybody wants to speak to May about something or other and they all want to do it by telephone.

THE QUEEN COOKS.

And talking of hospitality, did you know that May Sutton can cook almost as well as she can play tennis? Likes it, too. The queen of hearts will make those tarts all on a summer's day, and everything else that wants culinary attention, and what is more even the family are prepared to admit that it is good.

THE TROUSSEAU.

The trousseau is absolutely fascinating and includes dozens of everything that is charming and pretty. I caught the lady wearing red silk stockings, which I was casually assured were old things thad were going to be left behind, so I am inclined to think that the left-behinds will make a very good trousseau for any ordinary young person that is not quite as particular as the princess.

THE WEDDING.

The wedding will take place at Christ Church at 8:30 on Wednesday evening next and a supper-reception will be held afterwards at the home of the bride's parents, Capt. and Mrs. A. de G. Sutton. The honeymoon will take the form of an automobile trip but the destination is a secret that is not going to be divulged.

When the happy pair return they will live in Santa Monica, near Mrs. Bundy, Sr., who, by the way, entirely approves of her daughter-in-law-elect, which is surprising when one recalls how she idolizes "Dear Tom." It would have been understandable if she had considered even a tennis queen unworthy of her noble boy.

The Rev. Baker P. Lee will perform the ceremony.

Money lenders in New York do an annual business of $20,000,000. More than 100,000 persons, including 30,000 municipal employees, are said to be in their clutches.

OVER THE SEA.

The hobby of Prince August William, fourth son of Emperor William, is the designing of women's dresses, domestic furniture and fittings. At an exhibition in the Hohenzollern art galleries the Prince displays a number of photographs of ladies and gentlemen of the Berlin court clad in costumes designed by himself and fashioned under his supervision. His ideas for summer costumes for ladies and gentlemen next year are shown on a lampshade which is so constructed that the light passing through the shade gives the dress materials the proper tones.

Dr. T. H. Warren, president of Magdalen College, where the Prince of Wales is living, was vice-chancellor of Oxford University from 1906 until 1910. He is professor of poetry at Oxford, and has written several volumes of poems.

Granville Barker, England's youngest actor-manager, made his first stage appearance at the age of 13, though he admits he had previously tortured listeners as an infant reciter. Finally he discovered his proper vocation of playwright and producer. Regardless of the reputation or lack of reputation of the author, he will take chances on any new play that is interesting, actable and stageable—provided it is unique.

Tong Kowh On, at the head of the newly-created Bureau of Education of the Chinese republic, received his education in this country. He was one of the second group of Chinese students who came to America in the early 'seventies. For six years he received private instruction. Graduating from Philips-Exeter Academy, he went to Yale, but was recalled by his government during his first year. He disliked diplomatic life, and turned his attention to business, in which he proved successful. As the head of the new bureau On has before him the stupendous task of inaugurating a nation-wide educational system in a country of 40,000,000 school children, 90 per cent. of whom have never had anything in the way of school facilities.

Councillor Louis Barth, a wealthy Hungarian autograph hunter, whose hobby has cost him thus far $70,000, has come to the United States to secure the autographs of Thomas A. Edison, President Taft, Andrew Carnegie and Woodrow Wilson, the President-elect. Mr. Barth has been offered $200,000 for his book, but he declared that he would not part with it for five times that sum. Among those whose names appear on the pages are Pope Leo XIII, Pope Pius X, King Edward, Queen Mary and the German Emperor. Every time a fresh celebrity looms upon the horizon, regardless of distance, Mr. Barth packs his trunk and starts in pursuit.

Col. Emil Frey, president of the International Telegraphie, an institution or bureau maintained by the civilized nations for the settlement of all questions of international telegraphs, and the only bureau of its kind in the world, served as a captain in the Union army in the Civil War. He was taken prisoner at Gettysburg, following which he served six months in Libby Prison. Afterward he returned to Switzerland, where he was eventually elected President of the republic, after having been honored in other official capacities.

The Quickest, Simplest Cough Cure

Easily and Cheaply Made at Home. Saves You $2.

This recipe makes a pint of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time. You couldn't buy as much or as good cough syrup for $2.50.

Simple as it is, it gives almost instant relief and usually stops the most obstinate cough in 24 hours. This is partly due to the fact that it is slightly laxative, stimulates the appetite and has an excellent tonic effect. It is pleasant to take—children like it. An excellent remedy, too, for whooping cough, croup, sore lungs, asthma, throat troubles, etc.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

Pine is one of the oldest and best known remedial agents for the throat membranes. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and all the other natural healing elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this recipe have endeared it to thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

THE FAMILY BUDGET.

No. 4.

IN SOCIETY ON $200 A MONTH.

By Alma Whitaker.

The one can maintain a decent position in society on $200 a month, providing for mother, father, a grown daughter and a growing son, certainly sounded quite incredible to me at one time; but since receiving the confidences and vouched-for family budgets of no less than two fine families who are achieving this miracle, I am prepared to admit that it can be done.

Both of these families are well known locally, are members of a country club, too, and are not remiss in returning hospitality. They dress well and there is a general air of well being about them. Likewise they enjoy a good measure of popularity and are not in debt. They own an automobile and have frequent domestic help in the shape of the Jap upon whom, I find, so many good housewives are wont to depend.

I surmise that the great secret of their success is affectionate co-operation. As in large business institutions and even State governments, unity is strength. They pull together and they make small concessions for each other's requirements and they are not averse to practicing many small economies. For instance, mamma and daughter always launder their own skirt waists, white petticoats and frippery. They have learned how to repair and clean their white kid gloves, how to remove spots from light dresses, how to press father's clothes, to clean straw hats—and to cook.

They own their own houses, it is true, but there are taxes, water, light and gas bills. They do their own gardening—and make an exceedingly good job of it, too, growing some of their own vegetables. The boy of twelve stidd a schoolboy but the girl is at the "young lady" age. Mamma is certainly very modest in her dress budget but since she always looks well, it is obviously enough.

The automobile was purchased out of an unexpected legacy and its average cost of maintenance is kept down because father and son are good amateur mechanicians and careful drivers.

THE MONEY BUDGET.

Taxes and insurance on house and lot	$9.00
Water, gas and light	9.00
Upkeep automobile	20.00
Telephone and newspapers	3.00
Laundry and help	14.00
Grocer, butcher, baker	25.00
Fruit, vegetables	5.00
Ice and milk	4.50
Country Club expenses	25.00
Family dress	50.00
Church and charity	6.00
	$175.50

This leaves a balance of $24.50 for the innumerable odd and extra expenses that every family is heir to, to say nothing of Christmas presents. The $50 a month dress allowance is liberal, for I am assured that in actual practice mother and daughter dress well on a shade over $100 a year and father declares he never by any chance exceeds $100. The boy costs about $70 or $80. That estimate makes less than $500 annually but I have allowed $600 for safety. It should easily include dyeing and cleaning, and the dressmaker in the house for occasional "make-overs."

There will be many to cavil at the $6 for church and charity, I suppose, but that appears to be a very good average allowance in most families.

THE HOSPITALITY.

Hospitality, both given and received, naturally plays a very large part in society, and the family essaying to maintain their position and an automobile on $200 a month must needs be good managers. Both of our sample families find however, that the country clubs prove a genuine economy in this respect. It is a simple and inexpensive matter to entertain a few friends at a country club besides providing amusement and interest. In one case, they make a practice of giving a small informal party at their home every few weeks and an occasional bridge tea party which mother and daughter prepare themselves. In addition to this they give a fairly large luncheon and afternoon affair at the country club once or twice a year, when $25 or $30 will go a long way, or else they arrange for an evening affair on a club-dance night, concluding with supper.

The initial entrance fee is, of course, the largest item in connection with country club membership and all the local clubs have recently been raising this somewhat; but after that a country club affiliation need not be at all an expensive luxury unless one desires to show off, in which case opportunities are ample, of course.

Afternoon tea at any of the country clubs only costs 25 cents a head and both Annandale and San Gabriel arrange what is laughingly called "a free tea" on Saturday afternoons throughout the season when lady members habitually invite a few friends to make up a bridge party. It may not be generally known, too, that a man's membership entitles his women folk to all the privileges of the club, while single women and widows enjoy an "associate" membership at a reduced entrance fee.

In fact, I know of one couple who live in a very small apartment in the heart of the city and use the country club entirely for entertaining and receiving friends. Many a bachelor's home is but a single room in the city, the country club sufficing for all other needs.

THE FAMILY PLEASURES.

Of course, our family will have to pull most of their pleasures from their automobile and their country club. They cannot expect to show off with expensive theater parties and dinners at the Alexandria. Even their summer vacation must depend largely on the automobile and be as economically devised as possible in other respects. It will be found, however, that the estimates, taken annually, work out well, for while a month now and again may exceed the budget income, frequent lighter months will conteract them. The month that the country club account is large, the home accounts will be smaller, and during the summer when so many bills are lighter, accounts can be balanced against winter's heavy ones.

Lunatics Escape Appendicitis.

[Chicago Tribune:] Even the crazy man may find consolation in his infirmity, for it is now stated that lunatics, at least those confined in asylums, do not have appendicitis.

This surprising announcement was made by Dr. Briscoe at the psychological conference at Gloucester, Eng. The evidence was abundant and the physicians present confirmed it from their own experience. The inference, however, was that insane in institutions have special care taken with their diet. They have their food regularly in rational quantity and quality and without the mad haste of so many individuals.

The Local Stage.

ginning Monday. Pathe Weekly, the ever popular topical pictures, a vitagraph reel featuring Florence Turner and the vitagraph dog, Jean; John Colter's Escape, adapted from Washington Irving's story, "Astoria," and produced at Bear Valley by Hobart Bosworth of the Selig Company; a Lubin photo-drama, "A Lucky Fall;" three comedies, two of them biographs, compose the bill. From all indications it should be one of the best programmes ever put on at Tally's.

For a change from the usual musical programme the singers and orchestra will sing and play this week all the old-time music. Alice Faria and R. W. Borough are the soloists.

—o—

Clune's Theaters.

Five reels of first-run pictures, with a feature film, will be shown at each of the Clune Theaters, the Grand, First and Main streets; the Broadway, between Fifth and Sixth, and the Fifth street, Fifth and Main, this week, beginning Monday.

In addition special musical programmes will be rendered by the eight-piece orchestras at the Broadway and Fifth-street houses. Besides music suitable to the pictures shown, one standard overture and several popular selections with zylophone accompaniment will be played.

Four new songs are to be introduced during the week, with beautiful illustrated slides.

The Clune's Theaters have established a "Clune standard" with their singers, more than a dozen of the songs now popular throughout the country having first been heard in the local Clune houses.

—o—

Brink's.

A cabaret show bill of excellence and merit will open at Brink's Cafe next Monday night with the usual features of vocal and instrumental music. The bill will be well diversified, as there will be strains to suit every taste, and solos, duets, and quartette numbers will be heard, while in the instrumental line violin, 'cello and piano solos will be featured, as well as concert numbers ensemble. The vocal music will range from the grand opera arias, through light operatic airs, musical comedy selections and the latest popular ballads.

Among the more notable performers on the bill will be the Angelus Harmony Quartette, the Trilby Trio, a feminine number; Miss Emilie Gardner, soprano; Hulda Hannelle, contralto; Juan Gilberti, tenor, and Edwin Lowell, baritone; Lorne Ramona, balladiste, and the Buechner Concert Trio.

"The Great Raymond."

"Seein's believin', but feelin's the naked truth," says an old Scotch proverb, but if ever one feels inclined to question the applicability of that it is after a couple of hours spent in witnessing the wonderful performance of Raymond, "Master of Miracles."

To see him is not to believe him for thereby one would have to accept miracle-working as a latter-day fact. Thus one is forced to admit having been pleasantly fooled, puzzled and mystified by this cleverest of illusionists. Out of the hurly-burly of uncanny sensations produced by a Raymond performance one will have mazed recollections of a hundred and one mysterious movements, of very solid bodies vanishing into ether, of flesh and blood things manufactured at a moment's notice, of bonds and boxes burst but not broken, and of many other surprises that cannot be extracted clearly from the mass.

Raymond is full of tricks—deception just comes sprouting out of him all over—he makes his audience feel foolishly myoptic and pleasantly foolish, but never is guilty of keeping them waiting long for more.

No sooner has he produced a fowl from an egg, say, than he is off making a fowlhouse for it, or something like that.

He serves steaming hot coffee to the audience, coffee made from paper clippings in full view of the audience.

He catches pigeons from the empty air, makes little boxes grow big in the twinkling and then extracts charming young ladies from them and transforms his assistants on a throne of mystery in a most amazing manner.

From his wonderful Noah's Ark he produces about as many birds and animals as came out of the original craft and this in spite of the fact that it has been shown, just a moment before, to be absolutely empty!

A charming young lady, with a huge Merry Widow hat, materializes from "nowhere;" a hand, carried down into the audience, raps out answers to questions asked by people in the audience; a head, separate from a body, smokes a cigarette and answers questions; entirely empty dishes provide a bountiful supply of bonbons.

Then there is that wonderful illusion, "metempsychosis," which for several presentations puzzled the great Edison.

"Astrala," the most startling of all aerial illusions, is alone worth the price of admission.

The above are a few of the many unsolved mysteries to be seen in the Great Raymond Show.

When the curtain rises on the Raymond show it discloses a gorgeous sight, as the entire stage hangings and fittings are of elegant silks, velvets, silver and gold. Raymond even carries his own elegant cut glass chandelier that nothing may be lacking in the way of perfect appointment. In fact a fortune is represented in the investment and the equipment consists of seventy tons of stage paraphernalia, requiring sixteen assistants to handle this collossal magic entertainment.

This is more than three times as much as is carried by any other magician in the world. Raymond will begin his season at the Auditorium Theater on Monday evenng, December 16.

—o—

A splendid welcome awaits the international production of "Ben-Hur" which Klaw and Erlanger, after its triumph in London, have brought back to America for the delectation of our citizens. The beauty of the scenery, its accuracy and brilliance, fidelity to the climatic and atmospheric conditions in and around Palestine, the gorgeousness of its trappings and the sheer beauty of its costumes won immediate and magnificent success in the presentation of the great drama at Drury Lane in London last January. In order to fulfill obligations to their loyal followers in America and to see that every part of the great production was in absolutely perfect condition in every respect, Klaw and Erlanger assembled all the parts of the work and in four of the large American cities—Yew York Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Boston—they gave their own countrymen, last season, the first sight of what they believed to be the greatest production ever set on an American or English stage.

It is the fruit of a year's work by a vast army of skilled men and women which the local public will se when the production of "Ben-Hur" arrives at the Mason Operahouse Christmas week.

"A Butterfly on the Wheel."

In the London company of "A Butterfly on the Wheel," the Messrs. Shubert and Lewis Waller production which will be presented at the Majestic Theater Sunday evening, December 22, many of the principals are known to the playgoers of this city.

Miss Florence LeClocq was seen in Los Angeles last season with Forbes-Robertson in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back;" J. Malcom Dunn toured this territory with Mrs. Patrick Campbell, and produced "Electra" for the famous English actress; Vincent Sternroyd was for many years connected with Sir Henry Irving and Richard Mansfield companies; Hamilton Deane, Stanley J. Warmington, Henry Dornton, Miss Alys Rees and many other prominent English stage folks are included in the cast presenting this most-talked-of drama of the age. Miss Dorothy Lane, who plays the leading role, has been a prominent figure on the London stage for the past two years.

"A Butterfly on the Wheel" tells the story of a wife who, believing herself to be neglected by her husband, flirts with another man, with the result that she is sued for divorce. The big scene in the play shows the courtroom with the wife on the witness stand. This is said to be one of the most dramatic incidents ever depicted. The examination proves too much for the "butterfly," who in the end swoons. The play has been praised by hundreds of well-known people, many of whom voluntarily wrote testimonials to Mr. Waller.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kyler of Dennison, Tex., sent a telegram to President Taft, last week, at the White House, announcing the birth of three sons, named William Howard Taft Kyler, Theodore Roosevelt Kyler and Woodrow Wilson Kyler.

THE HELPING HAND.

"How far that little candle throws his beams!
So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

Assistant Postmaster Hubbard of Chicago, who has been with that postoffice forty-one years, is the official Santa Claus, and for several years one of his duties has been the receiving of letters addressed to Santa Claus. He has read them all and referred them to persons able and anxious to render assistance.

Last year Santa Claus Hubbard received more than 1500 letters from children. Speaking of his experience in reading them, he said:

"I have laughed and wept over them. They have been letters revealing every phase of existence in the lower realms where misery and suffering abound. But the cheerful thing about them is that most of them were answered. Most of these 1500 children still retain their confidence and childlike belief in Santa Claus. To them he will remain a very real and a very grand old person. For didn't he bring them just what they wanted, and didn't he come just when they expected him?

Mr. Hubbard will be unable to read the Santa Claus letters this year because he is going blind, and has to wear bandages to shield his eyes from light. He will, however, arrange to have the letters read to him, because they will bring him words of gladness from thousands of happy children whose faces Santa Claus may never see again.

An anonymous gift of $100,000 was recently received by Yale University for the endowment of the chair of missions in the divinity school, but the requirement accompanying the gift is that $200,000 shall also be raised in the near future for the various needs of the school. This movement is part of the plan to obtain a sum of at least $1,000,000 for the development of the interdenominational divinity school into a great university school of religion, with adequately endowed departments of missions and of social service.

By the will of the late Joshua L. Maxwell of Geneva, N. Y., bequests to churches and charities were made as follows: To the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church, $15,000; to the Presbyterian Board of Publications, $5000; to the Auburn Theological Seminary, $5000; to the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, $5000; to the Geneva City Hospital, $5000; to Berea College, Berea, Ky., $5000.

Mr. Carnegie has recently established hero commissions in Italy, Norway and Denmark, the first-named having an endowment of $750,000 and the others an endowment of $125,000 each. There are now ten nations having Carnegie hero commissions, and the awards each year in these will, it is estimated, aggregate $1,000,000.

Among those awarded medals and financial reward by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission the past year was Robert McD. Logan, Jr., of Ft. Worth, Tex. He was presented with a bronze medal and $2000, as needed for educational purposes. Logan, a schoolboy, aged 12, saved William B. Schell, aged 12, from drowning on July 25, 1911. Logan, who could not swim, ran 200 feet, mounted a pony and swam it into the stream toward Schell. When he came up near Logan, unconscious, Logan grasped his hair and guided the pony to the bank, drawing Schell with him. Schell was revived.

Two years ago Dr. Manning, rector of Trinity Parish, New York, at the annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, held at Cincinnati, made a most notable proposition, which was hailed with immense enthusiasm by all the delegates, cleric and lay. That was the calling of a general conference of all the Christian churches of the world, through the most authoritative representatives of each and all. The function of this most remarkable congress of religion which would ever have been held was to be the bringing together of all Christian denominations on a common platform of sympathy and love and mutual helpfulness; to eliminate as far as possible differences in creed, through the greater emphasis laid on essentials, and to cultivate that spirit of religious fraternity inherent in the Founder's teachings which would be most effective in evangelization as well as fanning to a hotter flame in personal religious feeling among all Christians in both hemispheres.

The movement, has, however, lagged for the want of the necessary funds, but this drawback has recently been removed by J. P. Morgan, who has given $100,000 to the Managing Committee with the pledge of more as it is needed to meet the financial side of the project, which, made operative, will be one of the most notable feats in the world's record. It will surpass in the sweep of its aim and purpose any of the great historic councils furthering the advance of civilization through the medium of religion, the locale of which has in some instances immortalized the names of cities otherwise dead in importance.

James J. Hill, the railroad magnate, has donated $50,000 to the endowment fund of McMinnville (Or.) College. Mr. Hill has also given the same sum to the Willamette University of Salem, Albany College and Pacific University, at Forest Grove. Mr. Hill has long been a believer in small colleges, that is, such institutions as have less than 500 students.

Mrs. Robert M. Thompson's efforts in behalf of the little crippled children of the poor are well known to every physician and trained nurse in New York City. It is through her efforts, interest and generosity that the orthopedic ward of the Post-Graduate Hospital, New York City, has reached its present state of usefulness. The young patients in this ward have everything done for them that can possibly relieve their sufferings and further their ultimate recovery; and during the summer, some of them are taken to the Southampton Fresh Air Home, a separate charity for poor children in which Mrs. Thompson is greatly interested. The home is supported wholly by the subscriptions of its board of managers, all of whom are prominent residents of Southampton, and by voluntary gifts. Much good is being accomplished, by this little band of earnest women, among whom Mrs. Thompson is a leader. Her latest gift to the home was a perfectly equipped operating room. Mrs. Thompson is a daughter of the late Admiral Gibbs of Newport, R. I., and the wife of Col. R. M. Thompson of New York, and Washington.

Distinctive Gifts
-An Inspiration and a Revelation-

To visit the store of Brock and Company is for the critical gift seeker at once an inspiration and a revelation—an inspiration in the resplendent beauty of the myriad gems and jewels and rare wares from every land; a revelation in the surpassing variety of new, distinctive, and refined articles to meet every gift requirement at prices to suit every purse.

We most cordially welcome every gift seeker to visit our store before making their selections—and we strongly advise you to take advantage of the immediate present for choosing your gifts, before the throngs of the latter days make critical selection impossible.

Mr. Jepsen, Mr. Glass and Mr. Dunsmoor, of the former Whitley Jewelry Company (which is now a part of Brock & Company) will be glad to personally welcome all former Whitley patrons and show them every courtesy.

Exquisite Circle Brooches and Bracelets

Brock & Company especially feature this season, the extremely popular circle or friendship brooches. We have been fortunate in securing an exceptionally wide range of selections and control a large portion of the best patterns produced by the foremost designers. We show the circle brooches in 14 karat gold, from $1.75 up to the most elaborate gem set pieces which cost many hundreds.

To our comprehensive showing of distinctive bracelets, we have this season added many new and unusual designs entirely exclusive with this house. We especially feature the new flexible bracelets, many of our patterns being faithful reproductions, both in design and color scheme, of celebrated gem set creations.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—A cordial welcome has been extended Senora Godoy and her delightful family on their return to Washington from a large circle of friends in official life and in the diplomatic corps. Few are so well-known as the Godoys or so universally admired. Senor Godoy came to Washington more than twenty years ago with his young wife, who was the daughter of a revered professional man of San Francisco, Francisco Perrin, formerly of Hermosillia in Sonora, Mex. Mr. Perrin had established himself in the capital of California when his daughters were quite young. Senora Godoy, though a patriotic Mexican and ardently concerned about the welfare of her native land, has lived so long under the American flag that she claims both her own and her adopted country. Senor Godoy having elected to become part of the foreign service of Mexico, was stationed in San Francisco as Consul, and there he met his wife and in her parents' home there, the romance came to the usual happy ending, matriomny. Shortly after his marriage he was attached to the Washington legation as it was then, and he served for many years as councillor after the legation had been elevated into an embassy. About seven years ago he was made Minister to Cuba, and is now dean of the diplomatic service in Havana.

The present visit of Senora Godoy to her old home is a rather sad one. She is mourning the death of her oldest son and is trying to nurse back to health a second son who has become somewhat fragile in the tropics, and for whom the physicians recommended the more bracing air of his old home, Washington. Senor Godoy is paying his family a visit, but will return to Havana early next month. He established the home in the high [illegible] the woods near Chevy Chase and here Senora Godoy expects to pass a quiet health-restoring winter and will probably return to Havana in time to celebrate Easter. Being in deep mourning, neither Senora Godoy nor her daughters will take part in the social events of the winter. They are receiving only their most intimate friends.

"Coming back to Washington," remarked Senora Godoy, "is something which I always anticipate, no matter where we may go, and which is always a vague and alluring prospect for my children. We spent many years here, under the different envoys, following the death of Ambassador Manuel Romero in 1906. Then came a transfer to Guatemala, where we remained for three years and again we came back to Washington for another term. Our latest residence is Havana, where we have been more than six years now. It is a beautiful city, and we found Americans coming there in vast numbers, especially from Florida or from New Orleans after the carnival time. It is worthy of a visit, indeed, to spend an entire winter there, if one has the leisure. Many seem to possess that comfortable combination of plenty of time and the requisite cash and it was delightful to run across friends from every part of the United States in the streets of Havana. My long residence in Washington has given me friends in every State, something which adds so much to the pleasure and filling out of life.

"Winter in Havana is a season of delight. We have established our home along the ocean front and truly it surpasses description. The mingling of deep blue water with deep blue sky, the white winding road along the sea and the magnificence of flower and foliage, make a picture which one leaves and regrets. Havana, I am sorry to say, like so many other Latin-American cities, is giving up the patio and the villa type of South of [illegible] and that of the American [illegible] and Southwest is becoming very prevalent. [SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—A cordial welcome has been extended Senora Godoy and her delightful family on their return to Washington from a large circle of friends in official life and in the diplomatic corps. Few are so well-known as the Godoys or so universally admired. Senor Godoy came to Washington more than twenty years ago with his young wife, who was the daughter of a revered professional man of San Francisco, Francisco Perrin, formerly of Hermosilla in Sonora, Mex. This style is where [illegible] of the home look out into a court filled with flowers, [illegible] a fountain tinkles and the [illegible] to gather for intimate communion. Some of the old government buildings have the patio and it was with great joy that I find this typical Latin-American feature in the marble Peace Palace built by Mr. Carnegie for the Pan-American Union. I wish that the architects of the world could realize the possibilities of such a building for great national gatherings.

"I recall the splendid reception given by the Cuban Secretary of State in compliment to the visit of Secretary Knox and his party. The fete was held in the State Department, a fine type of the old architecture of Cuba, low and broad, with the rear building in terraces running out almost to the sea. Flowers in tropical profusion are to be seen in all the public buildings of Havana at all seasons, so the magnificence with which the State Department was decorated for this important celebration can be imagined. The levee was held in the patio, where a riot of flowers, flags and gorgeously clad musicians made the air fragrant, brilliant and full of harmony, and then the guests as they had been presented passed from the open court on the terraces and under the vast arcades, where dancing was in progress and the most delicious of viands temptingly set out. Though all of Havana was present, and I think a large portion of Cuba, likewise, there was an abundant room for all without that crowding and crushing, which makes women in their gala attire try to avoid such functions. Four wide entrances led to the patio and with two for oncomers and two for the departing guests, crowding was impossible. Our home has not the patio, but it is all one could wish, in every other respect and I am afraid that those who cling to this style of a home will be regarded in the same light as those who adhere to lamps and stoves in these days of electricity and steam heating.

"Social life in Havana is as admirable as the climate. I think the mingling of the old ceremonial customs with the less formal ones of today has bred an air of easy social intercourse, which is most agreeable and not at all restrictive. Many of the older residents continue the formal method of life which is part of Spanish civilization. Many others have adopted the easy ways of Americans, so that one may see the customs of two worlds and of two widely differing eras flourishing side by side. There is much gayety in Havana, and for young people, it is the ideal spot for what is comprehended under that popular term having a good time. There are so many balls, and theater parties and dinings without number, in fact, it is rather unusual during the social season, not to have guests to dinner and then go with them later to a ball or the opera or the theater. There is much visiting and one may make a visit after a supper which follows the theater, something unheard of here. But then often the daylight hours are sultry and they are given to home duties and those avocations which keep one out of the sun, while the brisk breezes which spring up with the departing day, inspire energy to visit and enjoy social pleasures. I did not find the heat debilitating or more oppressive, as a rule, than in other parts of the world in summer. Washington can be very warm as all who know will testify, and it has not the advantage of a constant breeze from the sea which Havana enjoys every evening and through the night. But when one has spent many years in a northern climate, to remain for too protacted a time in the tropics, is bound to be enervating. That is why I am making the sacrifice of passing this winter away from my husband who must remain at his post in Havana. We hope to return, however, for the Easter, and in the meantime, Washington offers many charming ways of enjoying the sojourns and of freezing out germs at the same time."

Senor and Senora Godoy have now six children, their eldest son called for his father, Jose Francisco, being the first break in the immediate family. His death occurred under unusually distressing circumstances. He entered the diplomatic service and was recently appointed to serve as secretary of legation in Stockholm. He reported at his post and then returned to marry a lovely young girl to whom he had been betrothed while serving in his home capital. On the way to his post in Sweden Mr. Godoy and his bride paid a long visit to their parents in Havana, and he left them in the bloom of health and full of hopes for a successful and happy career only to be stricken with a fever to which he succumbed four days after he had arrived in Stockholm. His young wife is now in Mexico with her parents, but she may come to Washington if the sojourn of her kindred here is extended. A fever attacked another son and Senora Godoy becoming alarmed, left Havana at once to pass the winter here. The young man, Genge Godoy, who is about 19, is slowly recovering, but his health is still of grave solicitude.

The elder daughter of Senora Godoy, Senorita Mercedes, has been a figure of special social prominence since her debut here a few winters ago. She is younger than Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, but she bears such a striking resemblance to her that even close friends get their identity confused.

Miss Godoy is observing mourning for her brother whom she idolized, and she will take but little part in the social events of the season. She has, however, many intimates among the Latins, and she will visit among them later in the winter. Miss Elena Calderon, daughter of the Minister from Bolivia, is her chum, and they may be seen together frequently in the Washington boulevards. Nearly all the Godoy children have been educated in Washington, and the second girl, Adela, and her small brother, were born here. Miss Adela is attending the Visitation-Avenue Convent, and the younger boys are in the public school of Chevy Chase. The second son, who went to Georgetown and later to the George Washington Scientific School, is in Peru connected with the Dupont Powder Company, established there.

Senora Godoy is a typical type of the gently-born Latin-American woman. She is an excellent musician, and during the fleeting stays at various posts, when she could not place her children at school with any certainty of keeping them there, she taught them music and the languages and prepared her boys for college. Senora Godoy studied in a convent in San Francisco and then was sent by her parents to an excellent school near Toulouse in France. Senora Godoy's sister is married to the Mexican Consul in Philadelphia, Senor Jorge L. Canalizo, and at present her mother, Senora Perrin, now widowed, is living at the Canalizo home. Senora Godoy hopes, during the winter, to have a visit both from her mother, Senora Perrin, and her sister. Though entirely conservative, Senora Godoy is broad minded and well informed. She is well apace of the world of affairs and is a constant reader of good literature, magazines, good dailies and the weeklies, which give such an insight into the literary, political and general events of interest.

THE UNCHLOROFORMED.

Mrs. H. Keith, aged 113 years, and her youngest son, aged 89 years, recently took their first ride on a passenger train in a visit to Joplin, Mo., from their home in Southern Arkansas. Mrs. Keith needed no assistance as she walked. She appeared much younger than she is and walked with a quick step and with shoulders erect. The son, too, was active. Mrs. Keith said she has three sons older than the one who accompanied her here. The eldest is 95, she said. All live with their mother, or near her home. Her husband was killed in the Civil War.

Recently Dr. Zephaniah Hopper, who has devoted more time to the profession of teaching, it is said, than any other man in the country, celebrated his 88th birthday by teaching a class at the boys' Central High School at Philadelphia, in which institution he has been a professor for fifty-five years. The venerable educator has been connected with the public schools of Philadelphia exactly seventy years.

After sixty-eight years a soldier, fifty-three of which have been spent as the King's gunner at Windsor Castle, Gunner Samuel Parsons, now in his eighty-ninth year, has the distinction of being the oldest soldier on the active list of the British Army. Parsons is an institution at Windsor. He lives in the round tower, and his most arduous duty is the hoisting and lowering of the royal standard each day. He joined the Royal Regiment of Artillery in 1825 and went through the Crimean War. He distinctly remembers going over the battlefield after the charge of Balaclava, and it was at the close of the Anglo-Russian campaign that he commenced his work as royal gunner.

Orsamus Page of Joliet, Ill., aged 105 years, is famed as the world's oldest newsboy. He will be the guest of honor at the early dedication of Joliet's new Union station, which is to cost $200,000 and is now nearing completion. Page has peddled papers about the platform of the old depot for the last twenty years, and is known to thousands of travelers. He has been growing somewhat feeble of late, and realizes that 105 is a reasonable age at which to retire from active labor. He lost one leg at the knee in an accident, forty years ago, while engaged as a railroad conductor, and the wooden stump has been a handicap to him since.

Music.

IS CONTRALTO PAR EXCELLENCE.

MME. GERVILLE-REACHE TO SING AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Second Concert of Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra Next Friday Afternoon Promises to Be Treat for Music Lovers—January Will Be Busy Month of Musicians.

Who does not love the rich, sensuous and 'cello-like tones of the genuine contralto voice? Again and again we are promised a concert or song by contralto, and nine times out of ten it proves to be a mezzo soprano. Mme. Jeanne Gerville-Reache, whom Manager Behymer is presenting this week as the first singer in the second Philharmonic series, coming next Tuesday evening, is the possessor of a contralto voice in the truest meaning of the word. Still a very young woman, the organ of this artist is fresh and young, and still possesses that glorious quality that is so difficult to describe, but has often been called the bloom of youth.

Like most operatic artists who enter the concert field, Mme. Gerville-Reache came to us two years ago more of an operatic star than a concert artist, but this is all changed. For the past two years, realizing the broad field for her powers on the concert platform, the brilliant singer has devoted most of her time to preparing a concert repertoire and to seriously studying the "lieder" of all languages.

A glance at her programme will show along what important lines this artist had modeled her plans, yet she has in no way neglected her operatic work, as may be seen from the new and very important arias on the programme.

In Mme. Gerville-Reache we have the true contralto voice as exemplified by Albani and Scalpi. Mme. Gertrude Ross will act as accompanist for Mme. Reache.

"Apaisement" (Beethoven;) Aria del l'aveugle "Roma" (Massenet;) "L'Anneau d'argent" (Chaminade;) "Fedia" (Camille Erlanger;) "La Cloche" (Saint-Saens;) "J'aie pleure en reve" (Georges Hue;) Aria "La Vivandiere" (Godard;) "Le Soir" (Gounod;) "Psychee" (Paladilhe;) "Arioso" (Delibes;) "Les Gars d'Irlande" (Augusta Holmes.)

Second Symphony Concert.

It is indeed gratifying to see that the confidence of the Los Angeles Symphony Association in the Los Angeles music lovers is not misplaced, for at the opening concert last month the attendance was larger than ever before and the symphony appreciation doubled. The various musical interests of Los Angeles have so arranged themselves that the Ellis and Orpheus clubs, the Lyric and the popular symphony organizations arrange their concerts so that one assists the other, and the music life is given just sufficient stimulus to keep it in a live and excited state.

The coming of Mme. Gerville-Reache, the distinguished French contralto as soloist on next Friday afternoon at the Auditorium with Mr. Hamilton's organization, will undoubtedly be a repetition of the interest manifested in her discovery two years ago by the local symphony board.

For next Friday, Conductor Hamilton has arranged a beautiful series of numbers, surrounding the selections of the well-known vocalist. The opening is Debussy's "Prelude to the Afternoon of a Faun," while the programme closes with Liszt's dignified Second Polonaise in E Major. In celebration of Beethoven's birthday, which occurs the 17th of this month, the Fifth Symphony in C Minor will be played. The Gerville-Reache numbers are both new to Los Angeles devotees, being Berlioz's "La Mort de Didon" Les Troyens and Bruneau's "Air de Jacqueline" (L'attaque du Moulin.)

People's Concert.

Music lovers of every class will find something to enjoy in the splendid programme prepared by the People's orchestra for its fifth concert to be given this afternoon at the Auditorium Theater at 3 o'clock. The growth of these concerts has occasioned great surprise, and the increasingly large audiences each Sunday afternoon have been matters for extreme gratification to all members of the Music Teachers' Association, which is undertaking the tremendous work of the management of the concerts.

Through the efforts of this association men and women in all walks of life are enabled to listen every Sunday afternoon to an hour or more of the best music of the world, and the orchestra which now is interpreting this music is fast proving itself one of superior ability. Under the baton of Eduardo Lebegott the players are assuming a pliability which is delightful, and their frequent rehearsals together are enabling them to attain an ensemble which is heard but too rarely in such organizations on this Coast.

The programme will be enhanced to a great degree this week by the presence upon the stage of Madame Bertha Winslow Vaughn, one of the most brilliant dramatic soprano singers of the Pacific Coast. This will be her first public appearance this year, and the first time that a local audience has had the opportunity of hearing her with orchestra, and she has chosen one of the most beautiful and popular of the big Wagnerian arias for her appearance, singing "Dich Thoure Halle" (Beloved Halls) from Tannhauser. The orchestra will open the programme with the Mozart overture to "Figaro's Marriage," and other numbers will be a "Spring Morning Serenade," by Lacombe, the "Vorspiel to Johanna," an unpublished opera by Adolf Tandler, and the famous and justly popular "Peer Gynt Suite," by Edward Grieg.

Mr. Tandler is a young composer whose work is said to have exceptional merit, and as he is widely known through his instrumental work with string orchestra and with the Brahms quintette, the rendition of his opera will have special interest.

Egan Recitals.

Persons interested in music and the drama will be particularly interested in the series of entertainments arranged by the Egan School for the remainder of this month and January. All of these recitals are given in the Majestic theater, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of acquainting more intimately the people with the work of this growing institution. Southern California is so naturally the home of culture and art that an organization like the Egan School is an asset not only to Los Angeles, but to the whole State, as the work of its students has often proved.

Last Thursday's piano recital by Brahm Van Den Berg was so generously-attended that the people will be glad to know more about what the Egan School has in store for them. Accordingly, a programme will be given at the Majestic next Thursday afternoon for the purpose of introducing to this city Herr Franz Adelmann, a violinist of note, who has just joined the faculty of the Egan School. This virtuoso is well known in the East and abroad.

Gerville Reache,

Contralto, who will sing at the Auditorium next Tuesday evening.

In his recital Herr Adelmann will be assisted by Thomas Taylor Drill, dean of the music department, and by Frank Egan, founder and head of the Egan School. For this occasion Mr. Egan has selected "Hiawatha" and "Sandalphon," by Henry W. Longfellow. Mr. Egan will be accompanied on the piano by Brahm Van Den Berg. This feature promises to be one of particular interest.

—o—

Orpheus Club.

The Orpheus Club will give its first concert of this, their eighth, season next Monday evening at Temple Auditorium. The programme is in keeping with the high standard the club is always striving for. Miss Helen Beatrice Cooper will be the soloist, Will Garroway, pianist, and Prof. J. P. Dupuy, director.

"Pilgrims' Chorus" (Tannhauser,) Wagner; "Cato's Advice," Bruno Huhn; "Vissi D'Arte, Vissi D'Amore" (La Tosca,) Puccini; "Valzer di Musetta" (La Boheme,) Puccini; "Chiribiribin," "Forest Harps," (Shultz,) incidental solo by L. L. Russell; "The Retreat," Laurent de Rille; "But They Didn't," Rogers; "Die Bekehite," Max Stange; "Fandschen," Richard Strauss; "My Lover, He Comes on the Kee," H. Clough Leighter; "Comrade's Song of Hope," Adolphe Adam; "Annie Laurie" (by request) Dudley Buck.

Mme. Regina Viccarino, whose introduction to Los Angeles with the Bevani Opera Company two seasons ago made such a splendid impression, has just reached Los Angeles from a most successful season in the City of Mexico, and will be heard with the Lambardis when they return to the Auditorium. Esther Adaberto will probably be an addition to the Lambardis at the same time, and other well-known singers from Havana and the Sigaldi company are being signed. Dates and other information concerning the Lambardi company will be at hand within a week. New operas are promised, and some of the old favorites will still be in evidence.

A listeners' class in connection with an advanced students' class in the piano modeled on the European plan is the means devised by Heinrich von Stein to accommodate the large number of pupils who desire to receive piano instruction from him.

Mr. Von Stein has made one important modification of the European plan. Once a month, he will give a pupil in the listeners' class the benefit of a personal lesson, based on studies outlined for that pupil, independent of the difficult compositions being studied by the advanced students.

An organ recital by Ernest Douglas will precede a Sunday evening service at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral tonight at 7:15. Mr. Douglas's programme is entirely from Mendelssohn and the selections will include: Prelude in C minor, Funeral March, Sonata in D major, War March of the Priests from "Athalia."

The announcement that Mme. Carolina White, who is carrying Chicago grand operagoers in the hollow of her hand this season, is to appear in concert recital in Los Angeles in January, is creating no small amount of interest among the music-loving public of this city. Mme. White is the star, with a capital "S," among the brilliant constellation presented by Andreas Dippel in the Windy City this year for the third consecutive season, and society has given her a reception that is little short of a continuous ovation.

Following is the programme for today's concert at Eastlake Park:

March (selected;) "Pepay Chatting" (Aureola;) "Dance of the Serpents" (Aureola;) "Hungarian Comedy" (Keler-Bela;) "Campue Echoes" (Rollinson;) "Wedding Bells" (Rimmer;) "Mountain Life" (Le Thiere;) "The Grand Duchess" (Offenbach;) "Moraima" (Espinoza;) Finale.

Adelaide Genee, the Danish dancer, scored a tremendous success at the Metropolitan Operahouse, the afternoon of December 3, when she made her redebut to American audiences in a programme whose charm and elegance of conception and execution has not been surpassed by any dancer or company of dancers. She was supported by a ballet and solo dancers brought from abroad and an orchestra of rare merit. Her production of "La Camargo," which has so firmly established her in the hearts of the English, is one of the most fascinating ballets ever staged, giving, as it does, views of the royal palace at Versailles at the time of Louis XV. Genee has toured New England and will make her first transcontinental tour this year, reaching Los Angeles in March.

Over five hundred persons were turned away on the occasion of the recent recital given by Eugene Ysaye in New York, only the newspaper critics received their usual seats, otherwise the great Carnegie Hall was entirely sold out, with standing room at a premium.

Applause that lasted for several minutes marked the entrance of Leopold Godowsky, in his recent Carnegie Hall recital, proving conclusively that the audience regarded the player as an old friend, and incidentally, that they had been watching his momentous artistic doings in Europe for the past decade. Again, when he had finished his performance, the listeners gave this consummate artist a demonstration of their favor that will linger long in his memory, in spite of the many royal receptions he has been accorded. Godowsky comes to Los Angeles as the fourth artist on the First Philharmonic Course in January. He will be the first famous pianist here this season.

Clara Butt, the English contralto, and her equally gifted husband, Kennerly Rumford, have enjoyed a series of triumphs on the continent in the last two weeks. They are sailing in a few weeks for America, spending the remainder of the season on this side, in a most extensive tour. They will be heard in Los Angeles in April.

IN THE LIMELIGHT.

Judge Eugene Langford of Devall's Bluff, Ark., recently had his life threatened by an anonymous writer because he directed the grand jury to investigate the charges and countercharges of fraud in connection with the election of a Sheriff. Whoever, he said, wrote these letters did not know Eugene Langford. "I could be killed for doing a public act, but I cannot be bulldozed or deterred by threats from doing what I think is my duty to do."

Chief Justice Isaac Franklin Russell of the New York Court of Special Sessions, says the juvenile delinquent should be regarded not as a criminal, but as one who needs the care and protection of the State. In reality, what is glibly called juvenile delinquency might with as much accuracy be styled parental delinquency.

Thomas Ryan, for several years advisory counsel to the Secretary of the Interior, and long in public life, will retire on November 25, when he will be 75 years old. He served as assistant Secretary of the Interior under Secretary Hitchcock, was a member of the House of Representatives from Kansas for eleven years, and once Minister to Mexico.

For the twentieth consecutive year Dr. Francis Curtis of Newton, Mass., has refused to accept the salary of $1000 offered by the city for his work as superintendent of the Board of Health. Dr. Curtis always placed $1500 as the proper remuneration for his services, and rather than accept the $1000 offered, has given his services free for the last twenty years.

Henry Gassaway Davis, former United States Senator from West Virginia, spends much of his time in Washington. He has just passed his 90th anniversary and is in good health and regularly attends to the business of his office. He is now watching with interest the efforts of his grandson, Davis Elkins, to obtain an election as United States Senator. Mr. Elkins's father, Stephen B. Elkins, represented his State in the Senate for three terms.

Judge A. W. Fite of the Cherokee circuit was recently found guilty of writing a newspaper article in contempt of the Court of Appeals. He was sentenced to pay $500 and given ten days in which to pay it. In the event of his failure to do so, he must serve ten days in jail. The article in question was a criticism of the Court of Appeals for twice reversing his decision sentencing a negro to twenty years for attempted assault on a white woman.

Judge James H. Blount, whom rumor has picked as the choice of President-elect Wilson as the next Governor-General of the Philippines, is a Georgian, who served as a volunteer officer in the Cuban campaign and in the Philippine insurrection. He was later judge of first instance in the islands for six years. He was instrumental in getting Philippine independence in the Democratic platform at the Baltimore convention and has published a book on the American occupation of the islands, which is considered the standard work on the subject.

John D. Rockefeller is spending the fall playing golf in the morning and giving automobile rides in the afternoon to the teachers of the North Tarrytown (N. J.) High School. He drives to school every afternoon in his car and invites four or five of the teachers for a ride. He takes them up through his estate, shows them his beautiful gardens and tells them of some of his plans for beautifying the place. The drives usually last about two hours.

Col. John S. Mosby, the noted Confederate cavalry leader, has recently undergone a severe surgical operation at a Washington hospital, but is making favorable progress towards recovery.

Brig.-Gen. Edward J. McClernand, who was Shafter's chief-of-staff in the brief Santiago campaign, has been profoundly impressed by the efficiency of the Italian cavalry. He is reported as being loud in his praises to the Count of Turin. The training at the riding school in Rome Gen. McClernand spoke of as wonderful and the exhibitions he declared were extraordinary. There are no harder and more daring riders in Europe than the Italian cavalrymen, and the system weeds out the weaklings.

Tommy Burns, for a short time heavyweight champion prize fighter, is what some of our reformers might term "a brand plucked from the burning." Burns did not go into the saloon business, as many pugilists do, but turned to a peaceful, domestic life in Calgary, Can., with what most of us would consider a fair-sized fortune.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS

BY SYDNEY FORD.

A LARGE audience assembled at the Friday Morning Club last week to hear Dr. William Horace Day on "The Quest of the Holy Grail." The walls of the clubhouse were adorned with the fifteen panels comprising the Grail frieze, done in color from the originals in the Boston library, which were sent from Boston to Mrs. Randall Hutchinson, chairman of the Art Committee, especially for the occasion. The careful attention and frequent bursts of applause demonstrated the appreciation of the audience for the scholarly interpretation given by Dr. Day. The soul of the preacher shone through it all and it was noticeable that the applause was most frequent when a spiritual application was made of the lessons of the quest.

At the outset, Dr. Day observed that as an artist Abbey falls short of the first rank. He is more preacher and scholar than artist, and he referred to the almost brutal frankness of Arnold Bennett in telling "us what he thinks of the United States and incidentally, his criticism of Abbey's frieze. The English author calls the Grail pictures "frigid theatricalities," but Henry Van Dyke says they will repay study and justify praise. "Judged by the test of scholarship and of spiritual intuition," said Dr. Day, "we should be willing to sit at the feet of the artist, for as a scholar Abbey is revealed as conscientious and thorough to the last degree, and as a preacher of righteousness he comes with a message from which we dare not turn away. We of America have too often failed to find what the middle ages found—that inward vision of glory which so enriched and ennobled their lives. Mr. Abbey has given us a beautiful picture of that vision and has called our consciences back to the fact that where there is no vision the people perish."

Graphically he told the story of the search for the Holy Grail, calling attention in turn to each picture of the series illustrating the various stages in the quest of Sir Galahad, and drawing lessons as he went. Commenting on the type of ascetic represented by Abbey in one of the pictures, Dr. Day observed that religion is often feminized—many men in fact, take their religion as they sometimes do their real estate—in their wife's name—but Abbey in this portrait of the knight has chosen a type that has ethereal and more masculine strength, with a rugged saintliness and purpose symbolized—not by the white cowl—but by the red; the type of man like Savonarola, or Luther, or Cromwell, or the piety of Abraham Lincoln with his homely face, high cheek bones and deep-set eyes behind which there was purity as well as purpose and power.

Renunciation was the great cry of the middle ages and the lesson of all the pictures in the frieze comes to the one thing. Sir Galahad was the victor, first of his own soul, and then the deliverer of other souls. His ... pointed first to renunciation which was the gateway to real life, leading through the long way of service and self-denial, and ... in the knowledge that it is not what we give but what we share that makes the gift of worth.

... Corsi, who posed for many of the knights in Abbey's famous frieze, was a guest of the club. ... E. C. Bellows was the afternoon speaker, discussing the civil ... question.

In Honor of Queen Alexandra.

Mrs. Frederick Flemming of Copenhagen was a guest of honor at the meeting of the Queen Alexandra Daughters of the Empire at their ... last week in the Woman's House. Mrs. Flemming exhibited several photographs of the Danish royal family. Mme. Bona gave several recitations in entertaining style, Mrs. C. C. C. Tatum and Miss Mar... Graham, sang. The affair was in honor of Queen Alexandra's birthday and fully 200 people were present.

Songs of the Centuries.

"... as if they stepped right out of Godey's Ladies' Magazine," commented a spectator at the D.A.R. entertainment last Tuesday afternoon, as a group of women appeared representing old ante-bellum days, arrayed in voluminous skirts, beruffled to the waist and extended by huge hoop

Mrs. Frank Philip Young, Vice-Regent of Eschscholtzia Chapter, has arranged, as chairman of the Programme Committee, some interesting entertainments this season; none more ... than that of last Tuesday, when, through the medium of costume and song, three centuries of American ballads were presented by Mrs. James Ballagh, soprano, assisted by ... Werner, accompanist, and Miss Lillian Clark, pianist. Old English songs of '76 as "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," "Black-eyed Susan," and "The Lass with the Delicate Air," represented the colonial period and Mrs. Ballagh ... in the costume of those days, Mrs. Robert Osborne and Mrs. ... C. Denis also appearing on the stage in white wigs, powder, panniers and picturesque patches illustrating the belles of '76.

The second period represented was the ante-bellum days, between ... and 1860—the romantic period ... life, when music was the ... of every woman's education and such sentimental songs as "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "The Last Rose of Summer" were in high favor. The ... and her attendant maids of honor, including Mmes. Dwight Sat..., Frank P. Young and Gideon ..., appeared in the before-mentioned ... and furbelowed Godey ... costumes.

... contrast was marked when Mrs. ... appeared to sing a group of ... from the publishers, illustrating the present day, her tube-like ... emphasizing the modern ex-

Work of Jewish Women.

... Abrahams of Cambridge, England, who spoke before the Los Angeles Council of Jewish Women at their last meeting, told interesting things of the activities of the women of England, particularly those of the Jewish women. "A change has come over the activities of women, and the motive is the same the world over," said ... "When the Jew, re... old prayer, thanks God that he was not born a woman, he gives ... for the greater opportunity ... Woman now objects to ... the same responsibilities and quotes the last chapter of Proverbs, which says: 'Give her of the fruits of her works.'"

Speaking of the suffrage movement in England, Dr. Abrahams said: "... soon, and the Jewish women taking as large a part as ... in politics. I favor ... the women have been ... by public utterances to the effect that they are not in earnest; that man is ever ready to fight for his rights, and therefore the women are showing that they too can seek their rights by force and as a consequence 6,000,000 women are organized in England and ready to demand their rights."

Referring to Jewish woman's work as it affects Jewish affairs, Dr. Abrahams spoke of the Jewish Religious Union, founded by Miss Lily Montague, a liberal organization doing settlement work, founding boys' and girls' clubs, etc., the work having attained such tremendous proportions as to quite revolutionize the religious life of the people. Social work, rescue work, industrial schools and orphanages, he said, are in the hands of the Jewish women. In England the free schools are directed by the government, which appoints boards of managers, and these boards are composed largely of women; many of them Jewish women.

Dr. Abrahams declared the Evalina School for Girls in Jerusalem to be the finest in the world, manual training being an important part of the curriculum. The management of this school, founded by Baroness Rothschild, is in the hands of a committee of women. "Jewish boys," he said, "have always been more or less well educated and it is the girl who needs attention." He advised the Jewish women to identify themselves with some of the schools in the Orient and give the girl the opportunity to taste "the fruits of her works."

American Club Woman Honored.

Club women will be interested to know that Miss Josephine V. Brower of Minnesota, secretary of literature of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, has been appointed a member of the advisory council of the Merry England Society, of which Mrs. George Cornwallis-West is president, and the Queen of Spain patroness. The society has its headquarters in Kent, England, and its object is to promote May Queen festivals and to preserve old English customs, such as country dances, games, songs, pageantry, old-time sports and folk art generally. Miss Brower has been a student of folk dancing for many years and is the first American to be invited to serve on the council.

Long Beach Ebell.

The Ebell Club of Long Beach will enjoy a dramatic reading of "The Littlest Rebel" by Kittie Richard Foote next Monday afternoon at their clubhouse.

The Joy of Life.

I heard a woman remark the other day, in the course of an address before a woman's organization, "It is only when we play that we really live, you know."

I take issue with that statement and beg to suggest that it is only when we work that we really live. The joy of accomplishment; of being of use to our fellow men so far overshadows any possible satisfaction in mere play as to be incomparable. "Happy the man who has found his work," says the philosopher and Browning sings "Duty done is the soul's fireside," and Carlyle tells us that labor, wide as the earth, has its summit in Heaven for in all true work there is something of diveness, while Margaret Fuller wisely observes that drudgery is as necessary to call out the treasures of the mind, as harrowing and planting those of the earth.

Work is life and, Longfellow says, "Work is my recreation, the play of faculty; a delight like that which a bird feels in flying, or a fish in darting through the water," and Jean Ingelow reflects that "work is its own best earthly meed, else have we none more than the sea-born thronk" Once "taste the joy that springs from labor" and life is indeed dull without it.

Highland Park Ebell.

The bazaar given by the Highland Park Ebell last Tuesday was a great success and netted over $150 which will be turned into the clubhouse fund. Ready purchasers and liberal prices quickly filled the cash drawer and at noon a luncheon was served. At the regular club programme in the morning, Hector Alliott spoke on "Christmas in Mediaeval Brittany" which was a timely topic and was listened to with great interest. This week Mrs. O. P. Clark and Mrs. H. C. Stockwell, district chairman of Civics, will address the club on civic subjects, Mrs. Clark's talk being upon Rest Haven the refuge for psycopathic patients maintained at Hollywood, for which splendid philanthropy she was the prime mover.

Mother Musical Club.

The Monday Musicale Club will celebrate its majority this year when it will pass its twenty-first birthday. It is really the mother musical club of Los Angeles, as from its membership most of the prominent musical clubs in the city have sprung. Miss Mary V. Mullins, the present president, and first concert mistress of the Woman's Orchestra, was one of the sponsors for this next oldest organization, which, together with Mrs. W. D. Larrabee and Harley Hamilton, she helped to organize.

Another prominent musical organization—The Dominant — was formed from the ranks of Monday Musicale members, and the founders of Ebell drew from this organization some methods of ways and means. During the years since its organization, the Monday Musical Club has given nearly 200 musicales in the homes of its members, which include some of the most prominent women in the city. Many public programmes have also been given before various clubs, and hundreds of visiting musicians entertained, some of them of world-wide reputation.

Last Monday the meeting was held at the home of Mrs. H. B. Ainsworth on West Adams street and over 100 guests were present. The programme consisted chiefly of Christmas music and the participants included among others, Julian Pascal, Julius Seyler and Ralph Ginsberg, violinist, who has just returned from Europe where as a favorite pupil of Pechnikoff, he won great honors.

Alhambra Women Help Children.

The Educational Committee of the Alhambra Wednesday Afternoon Club realized a snug sum from the tea recently given at the home of the president, Mrs. Clarence Van Graham. This committee is keeping a boy in school during this year who otherwise would be compelled to work to assist his mother in supporting a family of young children.

D.A.R. Reciprocity Luncheon.

The reciprocity luncheon given by local chapters of the D.A.R., at Hotel Maryland in Pasadena last Thursday was a great success and was attended by more than one hundred members of the organization. Mrs. I. N. Chapman, State regent, who is on a tour of inspection in Southern California, was a guest of honor, and another was Mrs. Daniel Lothrop of Boston, author of "Five Little Peppers" and other popular juvenile books, and also founder of the children's branch of the D.A.R. Mrs. William Howe Kennedy of Escholtzia Chapter had the management of the luncheon which was laid in the handsome dining-room of the Maryland amidst brilliant decorations of red carnations and a display of American flags.

Cliff Dwellers Will Meet.

The California Chapter of Colorado Cliff Dwellings Association will meet next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Eaton, No. 2419 South Flower street. John S. McGroarty will be the speaker.

Hollywood Club.

Miss Frieda Peycke presented a programme of original songs and pianologues before the Hollywood Woman's Club last week that was very much enjoyed. As next Wednesday's meeting is a business session, the usual cafeteria lunch will be served at 12 o'clock and the session called at 1 promptly. Following the business meeting there will be a lecture by Miss E. F. Wheeler on "The Quest of Culture in and Out of Clubs." Hostesses for the day are Mmes. J. J. Steadman, Charles L. Wilson, A. O. Haas, G. T. Gower and W. H. Martz.

Dickens Bazaar.

The Dickens bazaar will come off at the woman's clubhouse on December 16, and will be an all-day affair. The stage will be converted into a regular Dickens toy shop and 100 Dickens characters will be portrayed by dolls dressed in costumes to represent well-known Dickens people. There will be a Santa Claus and old English dances, and in the evening Benjamin Scovell will read Dickens's "Christmas Carol."

Sunshine Society.

Next Friday, even though it falls on the 13th, and is the fateful day of the week, is the date chosen by the Westlake Society for their annual Christmas donation and card party. The object is to shed a ray of sunshine into the holidays of the sick, unfortunate and needy, and every sunshiner is requested to bring some toy or article of clothing for old or young. The affair will be held at the Woman's Clubhouse, and all members and friends are invited to come.

Pico Heights Book Club.

Next Thursday afternoon the Pico Heights Book Club will discuss the New England writers—Hawthorne and Emerson, and will review Mary Antin's book, "The Promised Land." On Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 in the rooms of the Pico Heights branch library, Miss Helen Kennedy, principal of the branch department of the public library, will talk to parents and teachers about "Children—Their Books." Miss Hardenburg, principal of the Berendo-street school, will preside.

Next Tuesday evening the formal opening of the new study-room of the Pico Heights branch library will be celebrated with a programme presided over by Rev. A. W. N. Porter, rector of St. James Church. An address will be given by J. L. Wheeler, associate librarian of the public library, on "Books and Life." Music will be furnished by the Y.W.C.A. Mandolin Club, under the direction of Miss Clara Baldwin.

ACTIVE WOMEN.

The Duchess of Marlborough is rapidly taking one of the most important places in English society. She is coming to be regarded as an essential figure at important gatherings, be it house parties or evening functions. Only recently she was a member of a party invited to meet the King at Lord Iveagh's.

Mrs. Horace E. Soule, the second woman wireless operator to sail out of an American port, arrived in San Francisco recently aboard the steamer Windber, eighty-four days out of New York. Mrs. Soule is the wife of the steamer's captain, and became an operator that she might remain with her husband, whom she has accompanied on his voyages for nearly twenty years. They have made three complete cruises around the world together.

Miss Alice Thornton, a co-ed of Beloit College, was awakened by a noise in her room one night recently, and discovered a burgler making off with her violin. She hastily rose from her bed, pulled a hatpin from a hat that lay conveniently near, and chased him across the campus. It was cold running in a pair of pajamas and in her bare feet. But she must have that violin. Miss Thornton kept near enough to Mr. Burglar to stab him in the back every few moments with the hatpin. One directly between the sholder blades did the work. He dropped the violin. Then Miss Thornton hurried back to her nice warm room.

Miss Jeannette L. Gilder says that if it were not for their sense of humor women could not stand a great many of the burdens that are put on their shoulders. "I have in my mind a woman whose life was one tragedy after another, but whose sense of humor saved her from despair. She would probably have gone mad if she had not been able to see the humorous side of situations, that in themselves were anything but humorous."

Dr. Sara Lew Mayo of New Orleans was recently awarded a loving cup by the New Orleans Picayune, as a result of a decision by a committee of disinterested citizens, because of her work in behalf of the needy children and women in the poorer part of the city.

Miss Kristine Bonnevie, already well-known in university circles in this country, has won the distinction of being the first woman to enter the Norwegian Academy of Science. Miss Bonnevie is a doctor of philosophy, and holds an appointment in the zoological laboratory of the University of Christiania. When only twenty years old, she entered the university, making her thesis on zoology. During the following five years, she published several works on mathematics and natural science in Norway, Germany and the United States. In 1906 she had the degree of doctor of philosophy conferred upon her; and in 1907 was elected a member of the Christiania Municipal Council, as she is an enthusiastic politician as well as a scientist.

The Country to the Town.

Gay the gems you wear at night—
A thousand facets, all one light!
Rich the robes you don by day—
One glory, though your heart is gray,
I see your shining strands of hair;
Gold, much gold, is tangled there.
  But I have seen, I have seen
  The silver daisies light the green,
  Have shared the splendors manifold
  That are but bought with cowslip-gold,
  The brilliants strewn on forest floors—
  Is not my realm rich as yours!
And the Town said, "Proudly my days go by."
But the Country made answer, "Queenlier I."

Many pleasures throng your parks
Between the magic dawns and darks;
Wherefore should you heed the hurts
Of children crying at your skirts?
Pomp of a great king's parliament,
A great queen's court, your pride has blent.
  But I have known, I have known
  The White Moon on her mountain throne;
  Have heard the children laugh to see
  The Sun-King's summer revelry,
  The pageant of the purpling moors—
  Is not my lot high as yours?
And the Town said, "Gaily my days go by."
And the Country made answer, "Happier I!"

—[S. Gertrude Ford in Westminster Gazette.

Glen Shipley, a young miner of Bisbee, Ariz., had formed such an attachment for a livery-stable horse which he had used for six years that he frequently rented the horse and kept it tied up all day that careless drivers might not get it. Last week he rode the animal into the hills, where he put a bullet through its head, and then lying down beside it he shot himself just below the heart.

IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

THE formation of a Municipal Art Advisory Committee is one of the most significant movements aesthetically that any school organization has ever undertaken. Such a movement, to grow out of the art section of the coming teachers' institute, is now afoot, and is forwarded by a committee of art teachers in the high schools, composed of Messrs. Roger J. Sterrett, George Dinterburn and Douglas Donaldson and Miss Elizabeth Waggoner. John W. Mitchell, president of the Municipal Art Commission, and Dr. Hector Alliott have been asked to speak at the institute and to voice their views on the need of such an advisory committee.

The Advisory Committee, if formed, will have for its object the assistance of the Municipal Commission on beautifying of the city, selection of pictures for the art museum, and questions of municipal architecture. Invitations have been sent out to all drawing teachers in the county to be present at the meeting and the committee will consist of a number of such teachers, both city and county, who will aid the municipal commission by giving lectures forwarding any cause which the commission may desire to place before the people. Stereopticon lectures will be given before civic organizations and social center meetings, and as many of the teachers have traveled much, both abroad and at home, and have a fine collection of slides, those will be used to illustrate such points as may be so illustrated in connection with improvements which the commission desire to make.

Musicale.

A delightful musicale by loyal artists and school children is planned for Wednesday, December 11, at Los Angeles High Auditorium. Miss Frieda Peycke will sing her own children's songs, "The Toy Maker," "Mah Lil' Lit Sister," and others, and Miss Mary Carter, recently returned from study abroad, will sing "I Hear You Calling Me" and "Thanksgiving." Mrs. [illegible] Adams will sing the "Slumber Song of the River." Vernon Gray, an advanced pupil of Arnold Krauss, will play Dedla's "Souvenir" and Wieniawski's Mazourka.

Elementary school children will give the following programme: First Grade, march, "American Conquest" (G[illegible]nawald;) Valse Maure (arranged by F. N. Laria,) combination orchestras; songs, "Three Little Indians," "Off to Dreamland," "A Letter to Santa Claus." Fourth Grade: "Harvest Song" and "Merry Christmas." Fifth Grade boys: "Folk Game." Fifth Grade: "Deck the Hall With Boughs of Holly," "On Christmas Eve," "Christmas Bells." Sixth Grade: "America to Her Children," "Our Christmas Tree," "Father Christmas." Swedish folk games by Sixth Grade boys. The Eighth Grade Glee clubs will give "Boat Song" (Rossini) and "Bright Rosy Morning."

The concert is under the direction of Miss Kathryn Stone, supervisor of music in the schools, her assistants and Miss Jennie Jones, supervisor of orchestras, and Miss Mary B. Ludlow, assistant.

Loreto-Street School.

Miss Gilbert of the public library addressed the Parent-Teacher Association of Loreto-street school, on the subject, "The Best Books for Our Boys and Girls," last Tuesday, and samples of books which she brought were distributed among the ladies for inspection.

The association decided to assist Dr. Harris of the Federation Clinic with his Christmas tree for the little ones at the Children's Hospital.

Teachers College Reunion.

A Columbia Teachers' College luncheon and reunion are to be held during institute week, on Wednesday, December 18, at Coulter's lunchroom, at which Miss Grace Fulmer, kindergarten supervisor in this city, who for several years was kindergarten training teacher at Teachers' College, and Dr. Suzzalo will be guests of honor.

Small Genius Discovered.

A musical genius, in the small person of Josephine Purliss, McKinley-avenue intermediate school, 13 years old, has been discovered by her music teacher, Mrs. Isabelle Gray. Mrs. Gray is taking such an interest in the child—who already reads the most difficult music for the piano at sight—that she is encouraging her small charge to improvise, which she does quite readily, and is beginning to teach the little girl harmony. Josephine is already a member of the Purliss Brothers Orchestra.

School Gardening.

Special gardening continuation work is being tried out at Gardner-street school, Hollywood, at Grant school and at Alpine-street school. The work will be similar to that done at Seventh-street, where the home gardens correlate with the school gardens, in that the teachers visit the homes, and the children apply the knowledge gained at school to the domestic "cabbage patch." In connection with the gardening the children will learn poultry culture and marketing, even to the extent of selling vegetables grown by them. Lath houses will be built, and plant-growing experimentation indulged in to a limited extent.

A flower festival is planned for next spring, when the posies raised by the youngsters will be exhibited in one of the High School auditoriums. All the "mute, inglorious" Luther Burbanks in the school ranks are vieing with each other to bring out the sweetest sweetpeas and the rosiest roses.

A teachers' class in gardening is to be started in the near future, with "laboratory" on a piece of ground adjoining the Seventh-street school gardens. Those teachers who are interested in the work are asked to communicate at once with Clayton F. Palmer.

Mr. Palmer will deliver a paper before the Bay Section Teachers' Association, on the subject of "The Relation of Agriculture in the Grades to That in the High School."

Euclid-Avenue School.

"The Larger Use of the School Plant" was the subject of Superintendent Francis's address before the Parent Teacher Association at Euclid-avenue school last Friday evening. The superintendent warmly advocated the use of school buildings for all civic and social purposes, under proper supervision. Mrs. Nutting Frederick gave a vocal solo with violin obligato, and Rev. McCann gave a Christmas story. The school orchestra played, and the glee club, under Miss Steinberger, sang Christmas carols. Receipts from the entertainment reached $135, to be spent in pictures and statuary to decorate the school.

Class excursions this year include a moonlight trip to Mt. Hollywood. The United States Weather Bureau, Chamber of Commerce, and the alligator farm will also be visited.

C. J. Fox, principal, is anxiously awaiting the completion of the new building which is to relieve the eleven crowded half-day sessions.

Avenue 62 Social Center.

The enterprising Avenue 62 Social Center has the first evening dramatic club.

As a result of the Social Center Executive Committee meeting of Tuesday evening, a rousing programme has been planned for the meeting to be held Friday, December 13, the last school day of the present year. The jolly farce, "A Perplexing Situation," will be presented by the Dramatic Club. The third and fourth grades will give a folk song. Miss Amy Herzog will sing and the Gym Club will do some athletic stunts, while the social center orchestra will furnish the music.

Wednesday the Parent-Teacher Association listened to Mrs. Mary Brown's talk on "Sensible Christmas Gifts for Children."

Poly High.

Distinctly the biggest thing to happen in January in Poly High social activities is the presentation on the 24th, of Sheridan's play, "The Rivals," by members of the Dramatic Club. The parts could not have been better cast. John Vanderburgh will assuredly score a success as Capt. Jack, the dashing young British officer; Thomas Reynolds will portray the temperamental Faulkland to the life; and Cecil Clary as old Sir Anthony, Alice Bulpinas as the charming Lydia, and Edith Olmstead as Julia, are well fitted to their parts. Of the others in the cast, the most important are Carrol Miller, Don Short, Walter Stanley, Eugene Klyse, Bob Lytle, Alma McEntee and Franziska Fein. Miss Belle Parsons is superintending the production.

Everett Maxwell, who wrote the skit "Buster's Billions," in which Allan Box scored such a hit the night of the vaudeville, entertained the boys who took part in the production for three days during Thanksgiving vacation, in his cabin in the upper Arroyo Seco. Those who enjoyed the outing were Allan Box, Byron Box, John Vanderburgh, Bob Lytle, Herbert Brown and Wiley L. Relle.

The Boys' Glee Club sang for the boys and girls of Juvenile Hall on Wednesday, giving much pleasure to the children.

"The Poly High," which was put out for sale on Thursday, is a big one, combining the November and December numbers, and totaling sixty-five pages. The Polytechnic night school is included in the publication's notices. Some clever stories and sketches appear, and a cartoon of the editor, Herbert Marshutz, drawn by Paul Ickes in his usual piquant fashion, is a feature worth viewing.

The first debate this year was with Santa Monica High, on Friday evening. It was a simultaneous affair, Poly being represented at home by Vesta Wills and Franziska Fein, and at the beach city by Earl Hanson and Vaughn Cobb. The question was, "Resolved, That the Training of American Boys in Military Tactics Is Against the Best Interests of the Nation."

Monday afternoon saw the Scribblers' latest display of talent. Greta Palmer's tale of "What He Wanted for Christmas, and What He Got," was very clever, as were also "The Confessions of a Poly Pie-eater," by Don Cameron, and Franklin Skeeles's "The Legend of the Rhine" aroused much mirth. "The Adventures of a Philanthropist" was the well-written contribution of Wilda Carpenter. Wiley Lo Relle described a football contest as seen by a girl none too well versed in the game, and was much applauded. Helen Naismith's contribution was a pleasing poem on "The Evolution of the Ideal." The club will hold its semi-annual "indoor meet" early in January.

The German Dramatic Club is studying the Schiller comedy, "Der Neffe als Oakel," for presentation in the auditorium on January 17. Thomas Reynolds will take the leading role in a manner that is sure to make the production spell success; Emma Bohlken will impersonate Sophia most charmingly; Charles Stoddard, as the old general, and Frances Fisher as his "frau," are sure to act their parts satisfactorily; Victor Johannsen will portray Lormenil in realistic manner; Clarence Eisenmeyer will provoke mirth as the comic servant; Camilla Servis will be the Widow; Frank Taylor, Herbert Marshutz and others will have lesser parts in the play. Miss Adele Meyer is working tirelessly over the production.

Los Angeles High Evening.

"Santa Claus in Trouble" is the title of a play which the High School girls who are taking the playground training work have written, to be given next Saturday evening at L. A. High auditorium. About eighty children will take part. The story hinges on the dilemma of Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, who find themselves behindhand with their work of making Christmas toys, and who, therefore, summon brownies and fairies to help with the work. Numerous pretty drills are introduced, among them the rag-doll drill and tin-soldier drill. The play will be a very pretty little spectacle, besides containing many bright lines and some catchy music.

Gardena Agricultural High.

A series of talks on opportunities in the various vocations has been arranged by Robert Teall, director of vocational work at Gardena High. One of these was given last Friday by M. A. Schofield, a trained agriculturist and manager of the largest hatchery in Southern California. His subject was "Agricultural Possibilities in the United States." Mr. Wells, superintendent of the American Tool Company's plant in the new industrial city of Torrance, will talk to the students next Wednesday on "Training for Industrial Efficiency."

Observances of the birthday of Ellen M. Richards, founder of home economics education, was held on Wednesday, when the girls of the Household Economics Club entertained the faculty with a programme and luncheon. Goldie Carroll read a paper on "Home Economics in the United States." Stella Boman spoke on "The Life of Ellen M. Richards," and Edith Smart presented a talk on "The Early Home Economist."

The Avon Literary Society also held a meeting on that day, with the following programme: "Domestic Science Course, and Why," Gladys Show; "Mutual Courtesy in the Home," Florence Granger; "Building a Home," Valerie Carson; "Commissary Department of the Home," Ruth Cudebec; "Pin Money in the Home," Greta Botsford.

Debates are now under the charge of Messrs. Boughn and Clarke, with dates and subject as follows: December 11—"That the Defeat of Reciprocity by Canada Was for Her Benefit;" affirmative, Lyle Adams and Lawrence Holman; negative, James Steele and Marvin Fletcher. January 7—"That Tolls Should Be Collected by the United States Government from Vessels Engaged in the Coastwise Trade;" affirmative, John Bathrick and Frank Wilkinson; negative, Fletcher Chapman and Merrill Berry.

Miss Lillian Holt,
Teacher in special schools.

L. A. High.

Chemistry, practically applied, is that which Lisle D. Smith's chemistry classes are learning, nowadays, by frequent visits to local manufacturing concerns.

The debating team, composed of Channing Follette and George Cohen, made such a strong and winning fight against South Pasadena that the local debating enthusiasts are beginning to figure on the championship for L. A. High. The next debate will be with San Pedro High, a school which ought to make a splendid showing under the inspiration of Principal Ralph Daniels's enthusiasm for debating.

"Teaching As a Profession" is the title of an article setting forth the qualities which spell success to the teacher, contributed by Principal Housh to the "Blue and White Weekly."

"Twelfth Night" was presented by the upper dramatic classes last Friday in the school assembly. The drama was given under the direction of Miss Leno Cooper of the expression department. The cast was as follows: Duke Orsino, Wayne Fisher; Sir Tobey Belch, Ward Conway; Sir Andrew Aguecheek, David Shattuck; Sebastian, Burton Brown; Malvolio, Channing Follette; Clown, Garnet Rainey; Fabian, Robert Howard; Antonio, George Dykeman; Capt. Wayne, Jordan Valentine; Maurice Gibson; Viola, Marie Hutchinson; Olivia, Evelyn Moar; Maria, Charmian Poyser.

Miss Eleanor Foshay is organizing a walking club for girls. It will be composed largely of tenth year students, and will be known by the imposing title of the Los Angeles Girls' Country Walking Club. Most of the trips will be taken at the close of sessions on school days. Rather ambitious "hikes" to Laurel Canyon, Hollywood, South Pasadena foothills and other points of interest are being planned.

Manual Arts.

On Wednesday the faculty forsook the classrooms and entertained the student body with a faculty programme of seventeen numbers. The boys and girls were loud in their applause and enjoyed the various features immensely. They were much amused at the roles chosen by some of their staid and serious instructors. The performance opened by the double quartette of men. Mr. Clayton, the vice-principal, gave a burnt cork monologue. Miss Groves's piano solo was especially appreciated. The women's esthetic dancing class gave an exhibition of their work. The students voted the entire programme a success.

The Los Angeles School Boys' Band, which is composed of boys from the grammar schools, will give a concert on the 11th inst., when a hearty welcome will be accorded the youngsters.

The dedication of Manual Arts High School will take place on Wednesday, December 11, 1912, at 1:30 p.m. The school will be open to visitors all day and exhibits of arts and craft, needlework and woodwork will be part of the day's programme.

Hollywood High School.

The approaching Christmas holidays, or the lull in athletic interest following the close of the football season, or spontaneous combustion—something has aroused class activities at Hollywood High. Class interest, class parties are in the air. Every available spare minute seems to be taken up with committee meetings of the various classes, and animated conferences are held over plans to make each party the jolliest ever.

The B9 class led off a short time ago with a successful afternoon party. The Wednesday night preceding Thanksgiving the B10's had a costume party and clowns and darkies, boy blues and sheperdesses, cowboys and cowgirls, swarthy Indians and gallant Spanish dons, had a jolly time together and feasted on apples, sweet cider and pumpkin pie.

Friday night the members of the senior class disported themselves at an "Indian party." The expression-room of the auditorium was decorated with Indian blankets, baskets, tomahawks, bows and arrows. On the stage was a large wigwam arranged in true Indian style, while in the hall were two other wigwams, where charming Indian girls read horoscopes and fortunes. The Entertainment Committee was fortunate in obtaining some Indian phonographic records which were greatly enjoyed. Indian games of chance and skill and pure fun kept every one interested. The refreshments of candy and ice cream were arranged to represent a camp fire. "Fire water," which was harmless fruitade, was served throughout the evening. As a climax to the fun a dozen swarthy seniors, decked in war paint and feathers, danced a war dance on the dimly-lighted stage before a scene of dusky woods. Then the pipe of peace was passed around the "tribe of '13" voted the evening the jolliest one spent in many moons.

The end of the football season is always marked by a jolly-up in assembly and the giving of the football "H" to the fellows who have played a sufficient number of games. The school feels that the team this year has done well, winning its share of victories and meeting its defeats in a sportsmanlike manner, so every one was interested in the awarding of the letters Monday by Dr. Synder. The lucky fellows were Perrin, Briggs, Merritt, Paxton, Muller, Coultas, Mahoney, Richardson, Wilson, Everetts, Turner, Mills, Dozier, Gooding, McKee, Lawton, Henry and Greve. Realizing that the efficiency of the first team is due largely to the practice it gets in bucking up against the second team, it was decided by the board of control to award a white H to the members of the latter team whose faithful work during the season deserved recognition. Those given this H were Sacre, Ziegler, Beattie, Davis, Napier, Hosler, Lewis, Rogers, Witherell, Smith, McFadden, Wallis, Ford, Galbraith and Young.

An effort has been made in the past to bring to the High School students an opportunity to hear artists of note, and such has been the result in creating an appreciation for the really fine in music and reading that this year a regular artistic course is arranged for. It is thought that the course will be of great educational value and an inspiration to students and to their friends. The course consists of five concerts, including programmes by Mrs. Tiffany, soprano, and Mr. Woodmanse, pianist, the Brahms String Quintette, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clifford Lott in their interpretation of Kipling, Bruce Gordon Kingsley in the Story of the Operas with lantern slides, and finally a programme of dramatic readings. The concerts are open to students for a nominal sum and a limited number of course tickets are being put on sale at the High School for outsiders. The first concert will be given on Thursday, December 12, at 2:15 p.m. in the High School Auditorium, and the other concerts will come about a month apart.

Avenue 21 Intermediate.

The tenth grade debating class held a very interesting debate December 2. The question was, "Resolved, That the United States should exempt from toll her coastwise vessels, passing through the Panama Canal." The affirmative was upheld by Samuel Steelman and Claire Eberhard; the negative by Florence Brady and Lloyd Woods. The decision was in favor of the affirmative.

The Intermediate Soccer team of Avenue Twenty-one defeated Custer avenue on Monday last, the score being 1 to 0. The teams being evenly matched the game proved very exciting and no score was made until the last few minutes of play.

On Tuesday, action was taken by the Student Council, to start a school paper. It is planned to get out one edition this term. The council also appointed a committee to have charge of athletics.

The new lunch room at Avenue Twenty-one is no longer a venture. It is an assured success. From the first it has been a paying proposition. This week candy has been added to the list of things purchaseable. Pupils are willingly taking their turns at helping, as they recognize that this is their project, that they are getting better lunches, and at a lower price, than heretofore and at the same time are making money for the school.

The trees are being moved from the site of the new East Side High School. The plan is to save the trees by transplanting. Within a few days the ground will be broken for the buildings. Eastsiders are anxious to see their High School under way.

The B10 and A9 cooking classes visited Bishop's cracker and candy factory December 3. The girls were particularly interested in watching the cracker-making. These excursions will be made a feature of the cooking department.

At the next regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association, December 13, the oral English and music departments of the school will furnish the programme. The music will consist of songs by the Girls' Glee Club, with orchestral accompaniment. A farce entitled "The Economical Boomerang," will be presented by the A8 class. The main plot is to show how a clever wife teaches her husband that economy may not be economy at all times. The husband serves asa dummy for his wife to drape her skirt on, and visitors coming in think he is crazy; natural complications follow.

OVER THE SEA.

King Charles of Roumania, during a recent journey through Switzerland, was obliged to ride in a second-class carriage. A detective accompanying the King, explained the situation to the conductor, who, going to the door of the carriage loked some moments on the royal personage and then exclaimed: "So that is the King of Roumania! Well, all I can say is that if it were the Lord himself he could not travel first-class on this train." The King was so amused that he pressed a coin into the man's hand.

Princess Elena of Servia, who last year married Prince Ioann Constantinovitch, third cousin of the Czar, presented herself at her father's side at the head of the Servian army as a volunteer for the Red Cross as soon as the war with Turkey was begun.

Ratan Tata, a wealthy Bombay merchant, has given $7000 a year for three years to the University of London to promote the study of the best means for preventing and relieving poverty. The fund will be administered by a bureau provided for that purpose.

Prof. Luigi Pagliani, who represented the Italian government at the Congress of Hygiene and Demography, held in Washington recently, has returned home, after studying sanitary conditions in several large eastern cities. He is professor of hygiene and dean of the medical faculty of the University of Turin, and was founder of the first chair of hygiene in his country. While director of the department of health, Dr. Pagliani stamped out the cholera in the memorable campaign in 1886-89.

Auguste B. Leguia, who recently completed a successful term as President of Peru, was one of the country's shrewdest business men before he entered politics. It was not until 1903 that he became actively engaged in affairs of the state, and then only because the late President Candamo, knowing his genius for finance, urged him to become the minister of that important department of the Cabinet. He was born in 1863, and received his education in Valparaiso. When the war with Chile broke out, he resigned from a mercantile position to join the army, where he distinguished himself in battle.

Sir William Conyngham Greene, who has just been appointed British Ambassador in Japan in succession to Sir Claude Macdonald, was two years ago nominated to the post of Minister at The Hague, but was rejected by Queen Wilhelmina and her government as persona non grata owing to the role which he had played at Pretoria as English Charge d'Affaires on the eve of the Boer War. As Ambassador at Tokio he will have a salary of $30,000 a year, besides a very handsome official residence and garden, and a number of allowances and perquisites. Moreover, the English Ambassador at Tokio is particularly favored by the court and government of Japan owing to the latter's alliance with Great Britain.

Lord Kilmarnock, who has just been appointed councilor of the British Embassy at Tokyo, where he will act as charge d'affaires whenever the Ambassador happens to be absent, and who is leaving England for the United States and Canada with Lady Kilmarnock, en route for Japan, is not only a godson of Queen Victoria and heir to the highest office in the kingdom of Scotland, but also has royal blood in his veins. Lord Kilmarnock has been, until recently, secretary of Legation at Stockholm.

Sir Cecil Arthur Spring-Rice, who will succeed James Bryce as Ambassador of Great Britain to this country, is not a stranger, having at one time served as secretary of the embassy at Washington. He was born in 1859 and has devoted his life to the service of his country. His training for a diplomatic career began with a clerkship in the War Office. He was Minister and Consul-general to Persia, 1906-8, and has since that time been Minister Plenipotentiary to Sweden.

Gen. Savoff, commander-in-chief of Czar Ferdinand's army, who has carried the cross of Christendom back to Constantinople, surprising the military experts of the world, is a graduate of the General Staff Academy at St. Petersburg. His earlier education was obtained at the Sofia Military School. In 1885 he was chief-of-staff of a Bulgarian army in the Servo-Bulgarian war, member of the Stambuloff Cabinet, and helped reorganize the present army.

STILL TIME FOR YOU TO GET A PRICELESS ORIENTAL RUGS

"I'M DOING MY BEST. BE PATIENT," BAIDA WRITES CREDITORS

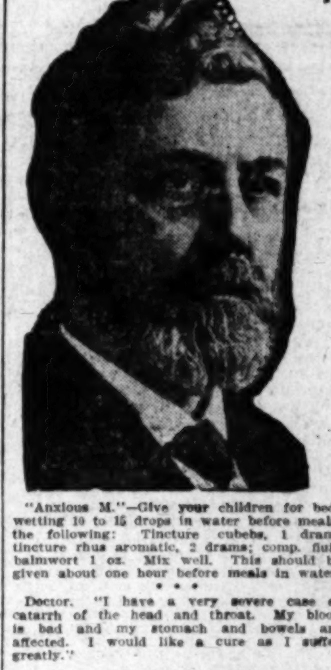
"Gentlemen: Please be patient with me. I'm doing my best. I am honest. I will work my fingers off to pay you what I justly owe you. I'm sorry the splendid rugs in my store brought such low prices at the sale last week. I send you what I can and I will continue the sale during next week until every rug is sold, no matter what prices they bring. You know I am giving away my beautiful rugs. Can you ask more? It breaks my heart, but the Ocean Park fire was lighted by the hand of Fate and it does no good to complain. None of us can escape Fate. Hoping to have more money for you very soon.

"Yours Truly,
"NICH G. BAIDA,
242 South Broadway."

(Written statement of N. G. Baida, read at meeting of his creditors, held yesterday at Ocean Park.)

The bankrupt sale of the entire stock of Oriental rugs owned by N. G. Baida, which was begun last Thursday and at which hundreds of beautiful rugs were sold at ridiculous figures, will be continued throughout this week, or until every rug in the store is sold, according to a statement given out by Baida yesterday. Prior to the meeting of Baida's creditors in Ocean Park yesterday, George Z. Rodeo, one of the creditors who is himself on the verge of bankruptcy, wrote Baida to the effect that any delay in the disposition of Baida's goods would mean ruin to him, and begging him to make haste with the sale in every way possible. The answer from Baida was in the form of the above letter, sent to all his creditors. There still remain in Baida's stock at 242 South Broadway, where the sale will be resumed at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning, more than 800 rarely beautiful rugs which will be sold to the highest bidders, whatever the prices offered. Fifty of the remaining rugs, beautifully designed, and Oriental wonders in point of weave, color and texture, are valued by Baida at from $400 to $900. At last week's sale dozens of priceless rugs were sold to workingmen, many of whom were not able to pay cash for them, but who made small cash payments in order to cinch the trade. It is believed that the majority of the rugs bought in this manner will find their way either to local retailers or into the fashionable homes of men and women of Los Angeles, who can afford to gratify their cultured tastes at any price. Men of small means are finding in this sale the greatest opportunity for a paying investment that has been presented to them in years. One rug sold last week, bearing an embroidered monogram of the late Shah of Persia, and said to have been designed by the ruler's favorite wife, was purchased by L. T. Thommer of Long Beach. Since his purchase, Thommer has been besieged by wealthy art collectors and seekers after the antique, but as yet he has refused to part with the his prize. This sale is open to every one, and the highest bidders take the prizes. Remember the place and hour if you want a chance at these rugs—242 South Broadway—10.30 a.m., Monday.—[Advertisement.

The Doctor's Advice
by Dr. Lewis Baker



"Anxious M."—Give your children for bed-wetting 10 to 15 drops in water before meals, the following: Tincture cubebs, 1 dram; tincture rhus aromatic, 2 drams; comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz. Mix well. This should be given about one hour before meals in water.

Doctor. "I have a very severe case of catarrh of the head and throat. My blood is bad and my stomach and bowels are affected. I would like a cure as I suffer greatly."

B. F.—I would advise the following local treatment: obtain 2 ozs. antiseptic vilane powder, to a half teaspoonful add one pint of warm water and from the palm of the hand snuff the water through the nostrils several times a day. Mix a level teaspoonful of the Vilane powder to one ounce of lard or vaseline and apply this balm to the nostrils as far up as possible. For internal treatment use the following. Obtain the following ingredients at any well stocked drug store, mix by shaking well: Syrup Sarsaparilla Comp. 4 ozs., comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz., fluid ext. buchu 1 oz. Take one teaspoonful four times a day.

"X. Y. Z." writes: "My hair is harsh and dead looking and my scalp is covered with dandruff. Can you help me?"

Answer: Get a 4 oz. jar of plain yellow minyol and use it regularly and your hair will become soft and fluffy and it will bring back the intense natural color to the hair; your dandruff will be cured and you will be rewarded with a healthy growth of hair.

"Mrs. G." writes: "I want something to increase my weight about 15 or 20 pounds. My blood is thin, watery and I have a pale complexion. Doctors say I am aenemic."

Answer: Probably your assimilative functions are impaired and anaema is the result. I would advise that you begin taking three grain hypo-nuclane tablets at once and continue until your blood is re-vitalized with red and white corpuscles. These tablets aid digestion and cause the body to assimilate the fatty elements in food, thus giving color, weight and strength to the abnormally thin.

"Tom K." writes: "I have been unable to work for some weeks on account of rheumatism. What would you advise?"

Answer: Take the following and I am sure you will soon be back at your work again. Mix the following at home and take a teaspoonful at meal times and at bedtime: Iodide of potassium, 2 drams; sodium salicylate, 4 drams; wine of colchicum, ½ ounce; comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz.; fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; and syrup sarsaparilla, 5 ozs.

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Clara" writes: "I have had a cough for about a year and fear I shall never be rid of it, as it gets worse with every fresh cold I contract. Could you give me a remedy?"

Answer: I can give you a remedy that I am sure will cure you and one that is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Make a syrup with one pint of [illegible] sugar and one-half pint of boiling water, put on the fire and let it come to a boil, then cool and add the contents of a [illegible] oz. bottle of essence mentho-laxene, which you can purchase at any drug store and you will have a pint of the finest cough syrup on the market today. It is [illegible] eight times cheaper than ordinary [illegible] cough medicines and will last much longer.

"Mary" says: "I would like something for indigestion. I cannot eat and am nervous and irritable all the time. I fear it will cause appendicitis."

Answer: Ask your druggist for [illegible] triopeptine and take according to the directions. These are pink, white and [illegible] tablets and are to be taken morning, noon and night respectively. This will cure indigestion and prevent appendicitis.

"Nervous Dorothy" writes: "I have no appetite whatever. I cannot sleep nights and my nerves are in a terrible condition. Can you tell what would help me?"

Answer: The following has helped thousands who suffer as you do. Get [illegible] syrup of hypophosphites comp. and [illegible] of tincture cadomene (not cardamom); take a teaspoonful before meals. This tonic will restore your nervous system and you will be strong and well within a short time.

"Carl" writes: "Can you prescribe something for one that is too fat. I have tried several remedies but they do not help."

Answer. I would not advise the use of the ordinary tablets and pills for reducing weight, but here is a safe, [illegible] and sure remedy. Get 5 ozs. of [illegible] elixir and 1 oz. of glycerine [illegible] by shaking well and take a teaspoonful after meals for the first three days, then double the dose. A reduction of a pound a day is not unusual after the first week or two.

"Q. R." writes: "Please advise something to take that will cure chronic constipation. I have suffered for years and have used many kinds of pills, but they do not cure."

Answer: I think most of the illness is caused by chronic constipation. If the following tablets are taken regularly they will gradually effect a cure as they stimulate the liver and bowels into healthy action. They are packed in sealed tubes and are called three grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur tablets) with full directions for taking. They will also purify the blood and tone up the entire system. If you are dyspeptic, take tablets triopeptine. These two medicines you will find in any up-to-date drug store.

"That's what I got for tirelissly listenin' t' indliss spasms iv oratory whin I might iv been abed—ingratitood! If annywan asks ye 'Is Mike a Demmycrat?' ye can say 'No, I know, for he's afther no office.'"

"If Misder Rooseveld got elecded instet of Misder Vilson I make me a try for der postoffice," said Rudolph gently. "Id ain'd so bad for a man to grab for office. Der office-seegers got a righdt, Mike."

"Whist!" said Mike, winking his eye and drooping his voice to a whisper. "D' ye think I'm fool enough t' think that 'tis not th' jooty iv iv'ry Demmycrat t' thry for what he c'n get? Say nawthin', Rudolph. I'm but executin' strategical tactics awn th' rist iv th' hoongry wolves. Whin Woodrow comes back awn th' boat fr'm Onion Isle he'll see but two things—th' trayminjus mass iv sivin million Demmycrats extindin' fr'm th' dock up Broadway t' Albany, an' Michael J. Flannery proudly aloof. He'll see th' sivin million hoongry wans in wan gang, an' Michael J. Flannery all alone in another gang.

"He'll see th' sivin million greedily eyein' annything that looks like a job, an' th' poor but proud agint iv th' Interurbin Ixpriss Company sittin' asthride an egg-crate, with an ixprission iv th' face denotin' 'Let others tear ye limb from limb, Woodrow, I'll worry ye for no office, although iv ye happen t' know what's food for th' counthry ye'll pass me a pa-aper makin' me consul t' some forn town where th' wages is good, room rent low, an' th' food all I cud ask.' 'Tis much for wan face t' ixpriss at wan time, Rudolph, but I'll mek room for ut iv I have t' shave me beard. An' whin Woodrow sees me attitood he'll say: 'Thank Hivin, there's wan Dimmycrat not afther a job; Mike, take ye'er pick!'"

"You vos a patriot like der rest, uh?" said Rudolph.

"Sure!" said Mike, grinning. "I med a pome iv me sentimints:

Primrose-wood.

This is the Primrose-wood, and boldly here
The blossoms, washed with rain,
Light up the greening slope where, year by year,
Spring leaps to life again.

Unchanged, unchanged! The constant earth renews
Her patient round of days,
Sheds sunlight, shower and balm of healing dews
Through all her ancient ways.

I am as one of that new starry throng,
Earth's constellations bright,
Unsealed again, the frozen founts of song
Leap to the living light!

Let memory turn, in memory's darkest hours,
To this starred solitude,
Behold again the happy, nestling flowers,
The slopes of Primrose-wood!

CITY CORRUPTED BY LAW.

[From an address by Frederic C. Howe, Director of the People's Institute, New York.]

We ourselves have created a condition which has corrupted the police for twenty years. The State laws will continue to corrupt the police as long as they remain on the statute books.

The Legislature has decreed that the saloon must not be open on Sunday. It has decreed that before any one can sell beer, wine or intoxicating liquors he must pay $1200 as a license fee to the State. Prostitution is made a crime, as is any business connected with it. Gambling is also a crime. So far as I know, America is the only country that has treated as criminal institutions which in other countries are treated as a nuisance, to be handled like any other nuisance or thing objectionable to the morals and health of the community. We have made these things crimes and ordered the Mayor and every policeman to take an oath that he will treat them as crime, just as he does the laws directed against murder, house-breaking or arson. The Mayors of New York have taken that oath for a quarter of a century. And for a quarter of a century the saloon has been open on Sunday; prostitution still thrives; gambling flourishes; while the police are corrupted, the community is hypocritical and cynical because of the non-enforcement of the laws.

The trouble is not personal. It is not primarily local. It is traceable to State laws so flexible in their commands that they allow no latitude, freedom, or even intelligence in the control of these problems.

Trace the unforseen effects of the Raines law, enacted in 1897. It provides, in effect, that no intoxicating liquors shall be sold on Sunday in a saloon, but that they may be sold in a hotel. What happened immediately following this law? The saloon became a Raines-law hotel. Now we all know that a Raines-law hotel is not a hotel. But it does use its rooms profitably. And Sunday selling continues as it did before. Which is the worse? The old saloon, or the new Raines-law hotel, with the invitation to vice which it creates?

We impose a license fee of $1200 on every place where liquor is sold. Let us trace the cost of this inflexible law. We charge a saloon $25 a week to do business. To pay the State alone the barkeeper must sell from 100 to 200 drinks a day. That many people must be induced to drink just to pay the State tax. And in order to meet this tribute the barkeeper pushes whiskey instead of beer. He sells to children, to drunkards, to women. Drinks are adulterated and poisonous stuff is sold. The rooms upstairs must be kept full. A dozen laws must be violated under pressure of what the saloon-keeper considers necessity in order that one law may be obeyed.

In addition to this, the question of the strict or liberal enforcement of these laws lures the saloon and the underworld into politics; it is active in every election; it seeks to control Mayors, judges and police appointments. Every Mayor who has tackled this problem has been broken by it. There is apparently no escape. If we elect a reform administration that really enforces the law, the work of that administration, even while in office, will be wrecked by this question, while the administration, or any reform administration, could not be re-elected.

In addition, the whole community is stultified. It questions: How far up does the graft go? Respect for law everybody knows the law is being violated a hundred thousand times a year.

Now what is the way out? It has been suggested by what I have said before. I believe these problems are city problems, just like the health, the fire, tenement and educational problems. They are not State problems and they cannot be controlled by the State. Nor are they matters for legislation at all. They are matters to be handled by orders and decrees passed by the Board of Estimate or by the Mayor acting under general direction from the board. They should be handled by decrees that can be charged from day to day or from week to week; bi decrees so flexible that they will differ in different sections of the city; by decrees that will permit the Italian or German restaurant on the East Side to sell beer or light wines in the open and at a low tax or no tax at all. The Mayor should be able to instantly revoke without appeal the right of any man to sell liquors if his place is disorderly or is a nuisance. The loss of this right is the severest punishment that can be inflicted. The city should be able to take taxes off certain kinds of restaurants and encourage them in this way. It should be able to put heavy taxes on certain kinds of saloons and so discourage them. The city should have freedom to work out its own salvation in all these vexed questions.

The Home Hills.

Over the hills a white road calls,
Luring the feet away;
Calling from dawn till twilight falls
Luring through night and day;
Hearts in the vale its call obey,
And go on an endless quest,
But wiser the hearts who never stray—
The old home hills are best!
Regions there are with summer queen,
Regal throughout the year,
Crowned with a bloom forever green,
And mountains blue and sheer;
There come the pilgrims from far and near
Seeking a land gods blessed,
But homeward again their gray barks steer—
The old home hills are best!
Ever the paths await the feet
Eager for scenes unknown,
Fair and faint are their windings fleet,
Running from zone to zone;
But when they have failed and weary grown,
Backward they turn to rest
Where hearts find peace and love, its own—
The old home hills are best!

Complicating the Problem.

There's a strain rather sad which persistently sounds
Through songs of rejoicing so clear,
When generous melody sweetly abounds
A discord rings harsh on the ear.
Some voice will intrude as the patriot's song
Is rising so bouyantly and free,
With the question, in tones elementally strong,
"Oh, what is there in it for me?"

The theories fair that seek gold in the sky
Instead of in caverns below,
Or value the treasures of wisdom which lie
In volumes stood up in a row,
Are shattered too often by that single call
That echoes away off the key
And makes one crude question the foremost of all,
"Now, what is there in it for me?"

WOMEN'S CIGARETTE HOLDERS.

New Devices That Carry the Burning Coffin Nail Out Several Inches From the Lips.

[New York Herald:] The long-suffering men now learn that women have gone to such lengths in cigarette holders that man is likely to have an eye single for their charms.

What, with the new devices, which are anywhere from five to seven inches on the horizontal, and the tobacco roll which is stepped into them, there is a beam with a fiery end which is likely to put some persons out of sight.

These cigarette holders are among the latest importations from London. They are made of bone, carved into the semblance of a quill and ornamented on the end with a silver knob. If women smoked much in public or walked around with cigarettes between their lips, as the masculine smokers do, there would be no man who could have eyes for them. Mankind would be raked by projecting hatpins or branded in passing by the fires of nicotine.

This matter of cigarette holders will have to be taken up as seriously by the Board of Aldermen as it did the ordinance with regard to the sharp points which project from the millinery top hamper.

Cigarette holders for feminine use are becoming more extensive and expensive every day. In one of the well-known hotels of this city, where women are permitted to smoke, there appeared yesterday a contrivance for holding cigarettes which towered above the fair hand to which it was attached. It looked in the distance like a smouldering lorgnette. The holder consisted of two pieces of silver wire, which formed the legs of a pair of tongs, which firmly grasped the puffing cylinder. The hold was made the more secure by a ring which was run up the required distance.

Many of the London novelties yesterday were in the cases of a Fifth avenue firm of tobacconists, and in the windows of other establishments could be seen new importations. They are in different colors. Amber is one of the latest hues which fashion has decreed, and with a fine holder seven and a-half inches long and costing about $50, in correct tint, no woman need feel at a disadvantage.

America Rich in Peat.

[Christian Science Mirror.] It is estimated by the United States geological survey that the peat area of the United States is approximately 13,000 square miles with over 13,000,000,000 tons of commercially dry peat, which at the rate of only $3 per ton reaches the immense value of over $40,000,000,000. In Canada 37,000 square miles are known to exist; but the provinces deficient in coal are also poor in its substitute, peat. Russia has a peat area of about 70,000 square miles. To obtain a proper conception of the vast riches these figures indicate, it must be taken into consideration that each acre yields for each foot of depth 250 tons of marketable fuel, ready for use.

A Staple Medicine For All Families

From Infancy to Old Age a Reliable Family Laxative Is Most Needed—Try This One.

It is inconceivable in this day of general intelligence that any family would be without a simple remedy for the minor ills of life, for often by giving such a remedy in time a serious disease can be frustrated and a life saved.

For example, if at the first sign of a cold a simple laxative-tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin were given the beginning of a serious lung affection or of a typhoid fever might be avoided. And also in headaches, nervousness, etc., a small dose of this remedy would relieve the congestion and replace distress with comfort. Mothers give it to tiny infants and little children and grown folks take it with equal good effect.

Thousands of good American homes are never without it, and among them the homes of Mrs. V. M. Hull, Wyacena, Wis., and Mrs. Ivory Lumbert, Mankato, Minn., who say they would as soon be without the necessities as without Syrup Pepsin. It saves the health of the family, and it saves doctor's bills. It is a guaranteed cure for any form of stomach, liver and bowel trouble, constipation, indigestion, biliousness, gas on the stomach, headaches, drowsiness after eating, etc. Have no hesitancy about giving it to any member of the family, however young or old, for it contains nothing injurious to the youngest person.

A bottle can be obtained at any near-by drug store for fifty cents or one dollar. The latter size is more economical and is bought by those who have already convinced themselves of its merits. Syrup Pepsin users learn to discard pills, salts, cathartics and purgatives generally as they are too great a shock to any average system.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 418 Washington Street, Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.—[Advertisement.

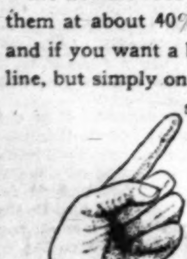
The amount of money involved in this transaction was about $5,000.00, although we bought them at about 40% discount. Now you get this saving, in turn. We have some eight numbers that we shall radically reduce in price; and if you want a bargain in one of these satisfactory stoves, now is your opportunity. Remember, we are not cutting the price on the entire line, but simply on those that the Company desired to close out, because they were giving up their warehouse. The balance of this line we shall continue to carry because they are the greatest fuel savers; have the smoothest finish, and are, altogether, the most perfect Gas Stoves on the market today.

This $46 Model $33.75

Our Special A-B Compact Gas Range—ideal for a small kitchen; 4 burners; broiler; one large oven; tile lined; regular price $46.00; now $33.75.



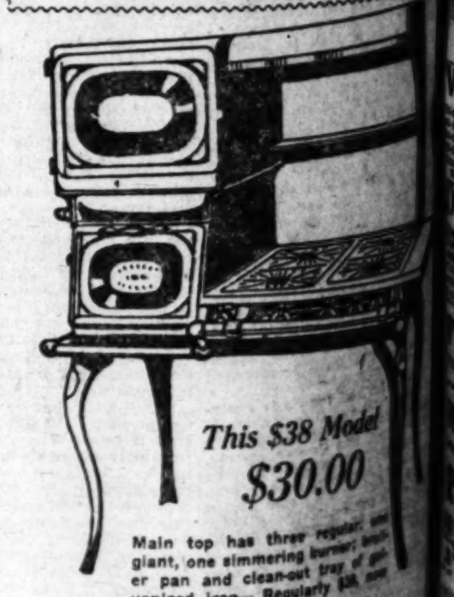
This $11.50 Stove $7.50

One of the biggest bargains we shall offer you is this range that we feature at the very low price of $7.50 on Monday ONLY. There are just 97 of these—exactly as illustrated—just the thing for apartment houses. Top of this stove is 18x24 inches, with 3 burners. Large oven, 17x13x11 inches, fitted with oven shelves and roast pan. Stove is 33 inches high—just table height. Built of tough blued steel, well finished—it is exactly as good, in material and workmanship, as the higher priced stoves. No telephone, mail or C.O.D. orders accepted, nor will we connect these stoves without a nominal charge.

Only 400 households can get the benefit of these ridiculously low prices—don't delay if you want to be among the lucky ones. Very, very seldom are A-B. Gas Ranges even a LITTLE reduced; when such an opportunity as this comes your way, grasp it immediately! We shall expect YOU early Monday morning.

This $50 Stove $37.50

Another New Idea Range that we can sell at a remarkably low price is this Number Four. A splendid model, top has four large burners and simmerer. Top oven is 15x18x12 inches, with broiler oven underneath. Hood of blued steel, fitted with plate shelf. Entire stove heavily nickel finished and fitted with enamel roast pans and cleanout trays. The easiest stove in the world to keep clean; the enamel finish cannot burn off. This range has sold regularly for $50.00. We are featuring it now at $37.50. Obtainable with top ovens at left or right.



This $38 Model $30.00

Main top has three regular, one giant, one simmering burner; broiler pan and clean-out tray of galvanized iron.—Regularly $38, now $30.00.

FACE AND SCALP TREATMENT, 316½ S. SPRING ST., room 14.

MRS. E. B. BADGER AT HOME, 645 BIXEL ST. PHONE 51850.

SPECIAL NOTICES—

THE BEAUTY OF THE HUMAN FACE can be greatly enhanced by the latest methods of electrical treatment. Bleaching the skin by drugs is not only slow, but inadequate. It cannot compare with the electric treatment by galvanism. In many instances one treatment is sufficient to make the skin several shades lighter. This cannot be done by employing antiquated, cheap apparatus, but, like massaging, necessitates the use of expensive and modern instruments to attain lasting and striking results. Falling of the hair can thus be stopped in a short time, gray hair may be restored to natural color without the use of drugs or local applications, superfluous hair can be removed forever without pain and scarring, moles, warts, birthmarks, scars and freckles are eradicated by the use of electricity, and pimples, blackheads, enlarged pores, red veins and many other cosmetic diseases of the skin can be remedied. I have gone to great expense in fitting up my office and laboratory with the best and most modern instruments, and can truly say that I have the best equipment on the Coast for the cosmetic care of the skin and hair. My electric Face Mask for the removal of wrinkles at home is quoting Sanford Bennett, the great physical culturist, the greatest aid to beauty in the world. DR. G. C. LAMMERS, German specialist for the cosmetic care of the Skin and Hair. Consultation free. 702 S. Spring st., Suite 201-203. Phone F5853.

PERSONAL—Business.

PERSONAL. Before hiring detectives because of perhaps unjust suspicions regarding husband, wife, friend or employee, seek to discover if there is reason for your fears. Domestic infelicity may be based upon imagination or a cause easily removed when discovered. Psychological investigation may restore the honeymoon spirit. Few divorces are necessary; ascertain whether one is really wanted or necessary before hiring a lawyer. In business, psychology is a tremendous aid, for the psychologist, trained to investigate problems, gets a better view of that which interests you than you can secure because of your interest in the matter. You can perhaps get a view of life which will fill your pathway with sunshine. Why be a fortune teller's dupe when scientific reasoning can be made to bear upon your problems? I give no legal or medical advice. When possible meet my clients in their own homes or offices wherein lies the true psychological condition in which their difficulties arise. $2500 forfeited for proof of violated confidences. MRS. MASSON, the noted palmist of London, Eng., may be consulted at 222 S. SPRING ST. (over Owl Drug Store) by those desiring CAREFUL, CONSCIENTIOUS AND SCIENTIFIC HAND READINGS FROM ONE OF THE FOREMOST PALMISTS OF THE DAY.
The earnest student and thinker will soon learn in his investigation along psychological lines, that that which pertains to occult phenomena proper can readily be distinguished from crude and oft-exposed SLEIGHT-OF-HAND TRICKS, the most common of which is the telling of the subject's name, age, etc., AFTER HE HIMSELF HAS WRITTEN THAT information.
PALMISTRY, HONESTLY PRACTICED, WILL NOT tell you your name, but it WILL give you information of considerably greater value in every-day life.
Your vocation, your present line of work, matters of health and domestic life, financial conditions, and ways and means of climbing out of a rut of ill luck into wide paths of success and prosperity, can all be told you through scientific palmistry WITHOUT A SINGLE QUESTION, WRITTEN OR VERBAL.
MRS. MASSON DOES NOT APPEAL TO IGNORANT SUPERSTITION, BUT TO THE FINEST INTELLIGENCE.

IF YOU WANT CORRECT ANSWERS TO YOUR MENTAL QUESTIONS, AND A FULL LIFE READING, YOU MUST CONSULT THE MASTER PSYCHIC MIND,— MRS. WESLEY,
736½ SOUTH HILL STREET.

PERSONAL—MADAM, HAS THE GLAMOUR of your honeymoon turned to dross? do you contemplate divorce? Few divorces are necessary; take no action until you have secured the counsel of a trained psychologist whose business it is to know the causes of human action. This knowledge coupled with common sense, almost invariably removes obstacles to happiness and restores the honeymoon spirit; $2500 forfeited for proof of violated confidences. Consultation by appointment only, in your own home if desired. Telephone 71255, 9 to 12 daily, or address Z, box 511, TIMES BRANCH OFFICE.

PERSONAL—HEIRS.
Thousands of families are wanted to claim fortunes; many now living in poverty are rich, but don't know it. Our 400 page index, entitled "Next of Kin, Heirs at Law," contains authentic lists of unclaimed estates and heirs wanted and advertised for in America and abroad to claim fortunes. Also contains Chancery Court of England list. Thousands of names in book. Yours or your ancestors' name may be among them. Send 2c stamp at once for free booklet.

PERSONAL—
PROF. C. IRVIN ALTHOUSE,
NOTED ASTROLOGER AND PALMIST OF NATIONAL FAME AND REPUTATION.
STUDIO PARLORS, 539½ S. BROADWAY.
A RESIDENT OF LOS ANGELES 29 YEARS.

PROF. ALTHOUSE is an experienced practitioner in the science of modern ASTROLOGY, by which he has made many REMARKABLE PREDICTIONS. The horoscope shows the powerful influence of the planets in all affairs of life. It shows diseases, deaths, love and marriage, financial affairs, talents, environments, about children, relatives, when and where to travel, what to seek or to avoid, when in danger of losses, troubles, etc., etc.,—also your good periods coming—GIVING DATES of these events for the FUTURE.
PROF. ALTHOUSE read E. H. Sothern, Nat Goodwin, Schuman-Heink, Gadski, Admiral Schley, David Starr Jordan, ex-Gov. Pardee, ex-Senator Clark, Gen. Chaffee, Edison, Sousa, Modjeska, Julia Marlowe, Anna Held, Jefferson, Capt. Hobson, Lillian Russell, Calve, Admiral Evans, H. E. Huntington, De Wolf Hopper, Maxine Elliott, Ethel Barrymore, etc.
PROF. ALTHOUSE'S SKILLED work must not be classed with other readers. Therefore do not waste your money on the idiotic advice and warning of HUMBUG astrologers, palmists, psychics—those doing dishonest work.
PROF. ALTHOUSE gives expert PALM readings with each astrological reading.
DR. J. A. LARSEN writes: "I want to say that your reading was the most satisfactory thing I have ever had in my life. I know a great deal about these sciences, and I consider your work as the most THOROUGH and reliable of any reader in the United States."
PROF. ALTHOUSE'S wonderful proficiency in the casting of HOROSCOPES and in HAND reading has brought him a LARGE AND SUCCESSFUL PRACTICE. The most private confidences are reposed in him, and his advice is sought in the most difficult and critical circumstances. Personal attention given. STRICT PRIVACY. HIGHEST GRADE OF WORK that skill and many years of experience can produce. HIGH-CLASS PATRONAGE solicited.
Daily and evenings, Sunday, 10 to 3.
STUDIO PARLORS 539½ S. BROADWAY

PERSONAL—SPIRIT ADVISER, PSYCHIC, DR. JEFFERSON causes a person at a distance to think of you, also gives full secret control. BANKER COLLAPSES.

Chicago Man on Verge of Death While Witnesses Testify of a Wire-Tapping Scheme.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] While Dr. William T. Kirby lay in the office of his counsel after a collapse that gave rise to fears for his life, evidence of the operations of wire tappers who, the bank declared, fleeced him out of $20,000 of the bank's deposits, was introduced before Judge Landis today.

Kirby, who was recently adjudged insane, collapsed under the strain early in the day. Judge Landis grilled the witnesses who told of the scheme the wire-tappers worked successfully in defrauding the doctor banker out of $20,000. The loss of this sum wrecked the Kirby Savings Bank.

SERGEANT SHOOTS ATTACKING OFFICER.

PATROLMAN F. E. WALKER was shot in the arm at 1 o'clock this morning by Sergt. William Hackett at the Receiving Hospital, when the officer began firing at him for a fancied slight.

Walker was not seriously injured, but the affair discovered an alleged feud in the department, as Walker alleged Hackett had been trying to "get" him for a long time.

Walker began the night's trouble by shooting at some boys in a downtown district and the Chief ordered him into the station.

On arrival there Sergt. Hackett took the patrolman to the Receiving Hospital to learn whether he was intoxicated. On the way out Walker opened fire on Hackett without warning. The sergeant, for the sake of discretion, ran, at the same time making efforts to draw his revolver. When he had unlimbered his weapon he turned and stood his ground and a pistol duel followed.

At the third shot the sergeant winged his man and disarmed him.

Walker was taken back to the Receiving Hospital and the surgeons found the bullet had pierced the fleshy portion of the arm and the wound would not be serious.

Hackett denies that he has an object in harassing the patrolman, saying that what ill-feeling developed was only in the line of duty.

WHERE LINCOLN PRAYED WILSON MAY WORSHIP.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 5.—[Special Dispatch.] Just which church Gov. Woodrow Wilson and his family will attend when they take possession of the White House is a question being discussed everywhere. The Wilson family are Presbyterians, and it will be the first time since William McKinley was in office that there has been a family in the Executive mansion in which both husband and wife attended public worship together.

Of the sixteen Presbyterian churches in Washington it is believed Mr. Wilson will choose between the two most centrally located ones—the Church of the Covenant, of which the Rev. Charles Wood is pastor, and the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, where the Rev. Dr. Wallace Radcliffe is minister.

The general belief is that the President-elect will attend Dr. Radcliffe's church, as that is where Abraham Lincoln attended, and Dr. Radcliffe is a trustee of Princeton Theological Seminary. Dr. Radcliffe, who has been pastor there seventeen years, is one of the best-known ministers of his denomination. He was moderator of the Presbyterian Church in 1898-1899.

CONGRESSIONAL CLUB TEA.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Miss Barbara Stephens, daughter of Congressman William D. Stephens of California and Mrs. Stephens will be presented to Washington society at a large tea at the Congressional Club on January 7, given by Mrs. Works, wife of Senator Works of California, and Mrs. Stephens. Mrs. Stephens and Miss Stephens will spend the Christmas holidays in New York. They are now the guests of Capt. and Mrs. Frye at the Washington Barracks, but upon their return from New York they will take an apartment at the Congress Hall for the season.

Fallacy.

BLAMES EQUAL SUFFRAGE FOR CONDUCT OF WOMEN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND, Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "The increasing misdeeds of women are directly traceable to the so-called enfranchisement of the sex," declared Rabbi Morris Friedlander last night before the First Hebrew congregation.

"Taken from the protection of the home and the domestic surroundings that protect them, thousands of young women are forced by economic pressure to work for meager wages and their downfall is due to the very freedom that has left them unguarded.

"Historians tell us that the conduct of women in the past, even in the darkest periods, was superior to that of our vaunted civilization. This higher average of virtue was due to the more rigid domestic protection which was afforded them. Today as the result of our conditions the largest cities in our land must appoint vice commissions. The Chicago commission has reported that in that city alone there are 30,000 women between the ages of 16 and 20 who are employed at an average wage of $6 a week.

"It is not bcause I have no confidence in the integrity, honesty and ability of women that I am opposed to equal suffrage, but because they cannot fulfill their duties in the domestic circle and attend to outside interests. Banish the thought that through politics women should fall into the pit of bribery and official corruption. The innocence, integrity and uprightness which they possess today should be kept intact."

FINAL FIGURES NOT OFFICIAL.

CALIFORNIA RESULT HINGES ON LOS ANGELES.

Progressives Are Credited With Having Carried the State by One Hundred and Seventy-four Votes. Two of the Electoral Votes Are Given to the Democrats.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 7.—With totals on the election received in returns from Los Angeles, the Progressives (taking the A. J. Wallace total) carried the State by 174 votes (taking the Thomas Griffin total for the Democratic vote) and the Progressives elected eleven, while the Democrats elected two Presidential electors.

These figures are final, but they cannot be made official until the Los Angeles returns are audited by the Secretary of State and certified to by the Governor, showing the totals for the entire State. This certification, so Secretary of State Jordan announced this morning, will be made immediately upon the completion of the Los Angeles audit.

Here are the electors elected at the November 5 Presidential election, and the votes they received:

A. J. Wallace (Prog.)	283,610
Thomas Griffin (Dem.)	283,436
Charles S. Wheeler (Prog.)	283,193
George C. Pardee (Prog.)	283,057
Marshall Stimson (Prog.)	282,910
Philip Bancroft (Prog.)	282,888
John P. McLaughlin (Prog.)	282,868
Frank R. Devlin (Prog.)	282,784
Florence Collins-Porter (Prog.)	282,781
R. G. Fernald (Prog.)	282,676
M. B. Harris (Prog.)	282,671
Ralph W. Bull (Prog.)	282,658
R. F. Del Valle (Dem.)	282,651

The Presidential electors, on the Progressive ticket who were defeated are J. W. Finney, who received 282,594 votes, and M. A. Luce, who received 282,383 votes.

"RUBE" SPRINGS TRAP.

California Ex-Game Warden Teaches Lesson to Two Alleged Portland Bunco Steerers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Using charity as a guise in their efforts to rid Harry Ellison, an ex-game warden of Edgewood, Cal., of $3500, which they thought he had in his possession, Charles Curry, aged 40, and C. Vietrox, aged 32, ran into a trap laid for them by the man whose appearance had led them to suppose him a "rube," and both were arrested today.

When searched at headquarters, they had $90 between them, and a roll of paper which was supposed to contain $3500 belonging to Vietrox. Ellison met Curry on Washington street and Curry engaged him in conversation. Ellison suspected Curry was a bunco man, but pretended to fall in with his ideas. They were met by Vietrox, who accosted Curry and Ellison and informed them that they were the very men he needed to aid him in the distribution of $67,000, which had been left to him by a rich uncle who had died, and before expiring had instructed his nephew to get two reliable men to distribute the amount among the poor.

"My poor uncle always did a great deal for charity," supplemented Vietrox, who acted as a stranger to Curry. Vietrox insisted that Curry and Ellison put up $3500 each in a local bank to assure him that their intentions were good and that after the money had been distributed, Ellison and Curry could reserve $1000 each for their work. Ellison was sent to the bank to get his $3500, but notified the police instead and at the next meeting of the men, Vietrox and Curry were arrested.

DEATH SEALS MYSTERY.

Three Poisoned in Kentucky Hotel from Substance Taken Into Room by One of Trio.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CATTLETTSBURG (Ky.) Dec. 7.—With the death late last night of James York, the man involved in the hotel tragedy here, the opinion prevailed today that the mystery that has surrounded the case may never be solved.

That Minnie Turner, the woman found dead in the hotel, Ida Gullett and York were poisoned, there appears to be no doubt, but how or when is not known. The testimony in the Coroner's inquest yesterday that a beer bottle found in the room was not there when the room was assigned to the three guests, but was taken into the room by one of the three, appears to indicate that the poison or substance that caused the deaths of Miss Turner and York was contained in it.

SENTENCED TO THE FARM.

Young Blackmailer Escapes Penitentiary by Agreeing to Work on Ranch for Eighteen Months.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, Dec. 7.—Instead of going from the County Jail to the penitentiary to serve a sentence for blackmailing Mrs. E. O. Long, Ivan McCargar, a young French Camp farmer, who recently pleaded guilty to the charge, this morning went out to the big ranch of A. W. Cowell near Ripon, where he is to remain by order of the court for the next eighteen months. The singular conditions were imposed by the court granting his application to be placed on probation.

Young McCargar wrote Mrs. Long a threatening letter in which he ordered her to place $1000 in a sack at a designated spot under the penalty of death. The matter was reported to the officers and a handwriting expert from San Francisco soon traced the letter to McCargar.

Frank Reeder.

EASTON, (Pa.) Dec. 7.—[By A. P. Day Wire]. Gen. Frank Reeder, former Secretary of State, former Banking Commissioner and son of Andrew Reeder, Kansas's "war Governor," died today at his home in this city. He was 67 years old.

SPOOKS BREAK UP A BEACH MEETING.

LONG BEACH, Dec. 7.—Members of the City Club, a civic organization composed of lawyers, bankers, doctors, preachers and newspaper men, are uneasy today over an experience last night when they met to hear a discussion on charter amendments by Rev. H. K. Booth and Attorney George Spicer. The club meets in a hall on Pine avenue, occupied by the "People's Spiritualist Church" and allied societies, and when during Dr. Booth's talk there came a gentle tapping which increased in volume, there was a general craning of heads at the charters, banners and mottoes on the wall. It seemed to be at a door in the rear of the hall and on Dr. Booth's suggestion that "the gentlemen be admitted," Banker Ed H. Wallace started boldly to the rear. A louder rap, however, caused him to hesitate, but with clenched fists he proceeded and threw the door open, looking out into the night, without seeing anyone.

Dr. Booth concluded rather quickly and then Attorney Spicer began, tap, tap, bang, bang came the knocks at intervals. "They're after me," quoth the lawyer, but the respondent laugh was forced and as the rapping continued members began to grow pale, show signs of nervousness and grin foolishly.

Nobody bolted, but at the first lag in the argument, Secretary George Roe, an old newspaper men, moved to adjourn, which carried unanimously and the members crowding into overcoats started for the door and as they filed out it was noted the wind was blowing a gale. Then the members jollied themselves into the belief that the explanation was at hand, but when Secretary Roe passed them at top speed, leaving the vicinity of the "spook" hall, conversation ceased and the members of the City Club melted into the night darkness.

Thousands Attending Land Opening

Hundreds of Acres Sold

The belief of the public in the Gibraltar co-operative plan of subdividing and selling the land has been strongly recorded. One thousand people attended the opening of Gibraltar Acres at Bloomington yesterday, when the first special Southern Pacific excursion train of seven coaches crossed the tract. At the lemon packing-house, on the Gibraltar land, sales were bulletined as fast as acreage was bought.

The second Southern Pacific excursion leaves Los Angeles this morning. Specials from Redlands, San Bernardino, Riverside, Rialto, Hemet and other inland points will swell today's attendance to over 3000 people. Music and luncheon will again be furnished.

Bonney in a Deterdussin monoplane, the make holding the international hour speed record for aeroplanes, will attempt to lower his time of 52 miles in 37 minutes, made yesterday in the smaller Caudron monoplane.

Gibraltar 8 per cent. preferred stock is unlimited in sharing greater profits. You may buy the land or you may buy the stock and exchange either for the other. Stock is now selling at 14c on twenty monthly payments. Will advance December 16.

COOLIE SMUGGLER CONFESSES.

Lands Forty Chinese at Sunset Beach and Implicates Two Men in Jail at Los Angeles.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—What Capt. Ainsworth, of the United States immigration service here characterized as the final victory in the government's fight against the Pacific Coast coolie smuggling ring, was achieved today in the arrest and confession of Julius Nyhagen, mate of the steamer Brunswick, which arrived today from Fort Bragg.

Nyhagen told of a plot in which he said he had participated a year and a half ago, and implicated Capt. John Oosterhuis, of San Diego, who recently was tried here and given a prison term on a charge of having landed contraband Chinese. Nyhagen also named Harry Lloyd and William Gerald, now in jail in Los Angeles, as fellow conspirators. He said he took the forty Chinese in the launch Tourist from San Clement Island to Sunset Beach, near Los Angeles. None of the Chinese were arrested.

Nyhagen said he had received but $25, while the $500 per man paid for landing the coolies was divided among Oosterhuis, Lloyd and Gerald.

The prisoner was indicted in May, 1911, with the other three accused men, and since then has eluded the federal officials.

"He has given us enough evidence to convict Gerald and Lloyd," said Capt. Ainsworth.

Sacramento Bartender Shot Down by Wife Who Pleads That Victim Refused to Support Her.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 7.—Frank I. Fischer, a bartender of this city, was shot and killed on a busy business street of this city at 3 o'clock this afternoon by his common law wife, Lillian B. Haskell, niece of the wife of Superior Judge L. W. Fulkerton of Stanislaus county. The woman fired two shots, the first of which struck Fischer in the side and passed through his heart. He died a few moments later.

Mrs. Haskell was arrested and at the City Jail she said that she shot him because he left her and refused to support her. She was born in San Francisco and lived for twenty-three years in Modesto. She is 33 years old. Her mother lives in Turlock. She was divorced after being married to a man named Haskill for fourteen years. She is held at the County Jail here on a charge of murder.

Fischer was about 33 years of age. His mother, Mrs. Ella Fischer, resides in Santa Cruz. His sister, Mrs. Marion Patten, resides at No. 1361 Q street, Fresno.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Standing in the lobby of the new Willard today, Senator Fall of New Mexico, who wears a broad black sombrero and a huge mustache, was approached by a brand new reporter, who, taking off his hat and smiling, said:

"I believe I am addressing Gov. Blease, am I not?"

"No," thundered the New Mexican. "I've had to plead guilty for nearly everything, but not that."

"The Times" Folio de Luxe

This special Souvenir Sheet of The Times, consisting of eight pages only, and constituting a folio de luxe, followed "The Restoration-Day Number." All the pages and also the cover were specially designed and prepared for this exceptional issue.

The eight pages are made up as follows:

Page 1, a reproduction, in fac-simile, of the title page of the regular issue of October 1.

Page 2, illustration of the unique and striking monument erected to the dead of The Times.

Page 5, "Christopher Columbus" and "California" (illustrated,) two noble poems, first published years ago and now reproduced.

Page 6, reproduction of the regular editorial page, October 1, 1912, with a notable change, introducing The Eagle.

Page 7, also a reproduction, giving an authoritative description of the New Times Building.

Page 8, (a) reduced fac-simile of that extraordinary forlorn-hope sheet, the triumphant emergency edition of October 1, 1910, issued on the fateful morning of the criminal explosion; (b) the old Times Building receding in shadow; (c) The Flag; (d) extracts from the official report of the president of the company, made October 31, 1910, further describing the awful holocaust.

The striking cover speaks for itself.

Altogether a notable and exceptionally interesting journalistic production, in the form of a pictorial anniversary or souvenir number. The aim has been to make the issue handsome, historic and unique—the equal in contents, typography and illustration of any sheet that ever came out of a daily newspaper office anywhere. It does not boast of its bulk, but of its beauty.

The Souvenir Sheet is not to be distributed with any regular edition of The Times.

It makes an admirable, inexpensive present for a friend, near or far, the like of which was never seen; and it tells about very notable events. Peculiarly interesting both at home and abroad.

Price 50 cents per copy, put up in tubes and ready for mailing.

NEW SESAME FROM TOLSTOI.

Last Message of Novelist to the World.

Declares Himself a Prophet of Divine Will.

Asks Heirs to Abandon Right to Book Royalties.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Dec. 7.—One of the most striking sentences in the diary of the late Count Leo Tolstoi (which is printed this evening in the Journal des Debats as his hitherto unpublished statement and was replaced by a brief formal will dated July 27, 1910, by which he left all his literary property to his daughter, Alexandra,) reads:

"If the people of the world wish to read my writing, let them dwell on those passages where I know the divine power has spoken through me and let them profit from them throughout their lives."

The diary is printed on the authority of Count Sergius Tolstoi. It was written by his father under date of March 27, 1895.

Count Leo Tolstoi asked that all refrain from saying good of him after his death.

After referring to himself as the interpreter of divine power, he said:

INSPIRED PROPHECY.

"I have had moments when I felt myself to be the medium for the expression of the divine will. I have sometimes been so impure and so subject to personal passions that the light of this truth has been obscured by my own obscurity, but despite all I have served at times as the intermediary for His truth and those have been the happiest moments of my life. May God will that, passing through me, these truths have not been sullied and may mankind find in them its pasture. It is only in that that my writings have importance."

LAST TESTAMENT.

The diary begins by saying that if he does not make another this shall be his last testament. Tolstoi then requests to be buried where he dies—if in a city, in the least expensive coffin and in the least expensive cemetery, "as the poor are buried."

He continues:

"Let there be no flowers, no wreaths, no discourse and if possible let the funeral take place without priests and without liturgy, but if that is disagreeable to those who bury me, then let me be interred with the liturgy, only as simply and cheaply as possible."

After asking that no announcement of his death appear in the newspapers and that no obituary be printed, Tolstoi writes at length concerning the disposition of his works.

RENOUNCES ROYALTIES.

Referring to his unpublished writings he prescribes that only those be printed which will "be useful to mankind." He asks his heirs to abandon to the public the right to publish his former works—that is, to renounce the author's royalties.

After giving instructions relative to the classification of his papers by his wife and daughters, he orders his diaries to be destroyed when what is worth preserving has been extracted from them.

This applies particularly to the journals he kept when a bachelor, when he says, he led the usual miserable life of young men without principle. Then he adds:

"After all let my diaries remain as they are. It may be seen from them that despite the misery of my youth God did not abandon me and that as I grew older, I learned, however little it was, to understand and to love Him."

OIL MONOPOLY STIRS GERMANY.

BILL TO REGULATE IT IN PARLIAMENT.

Imperial Statement that American Producers, Aside from the Standard, Stand Ready to Keep the Empire Supplied—Kaiser Means to Be Fair, Kuehn Declares.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—The petroleum monopoly bill was introduced in the Imperial Parliament today. The Imperial Secretary of State for Finance, Herman N. Kuehn, in presenting the measure to the House, replied to arguments against the measures brought forward by the press and in business circles since the bill was first announced.

Herr Kuehn characterized the project as non-partisan and economic. He said it was intended to protect the German empire from having to depend on a foreign monopoly. It was, he declared, not directed either against the United States or the Standard Oil Company, if, as that company asserts, it is not striving to attain a monopoly in Germany. He regretted that the real purposes of the measure, which had been drafted in response to a unanimous resolution of the Imperial Parliament on March 15, 1911, had been obscured by the controversy between the two rival groups of banks over their stake in the future selling organization.

Regarding the questions of the possibility of obtaining supplies of oil for Germany without the assistance of the Standard Oil Company, Kuehn said there was no doubt this could be done. A surprisingly large amount of petroleum, he declared, had been offered by American producers. The German government heretofore had not acted on all of these because it wished to be fair to the Standard and to leave the door open for it to continue its sales in Germany through the government monopoly.

When Kuehn sat down there was free discussion of the measure by representatives of the various parties in the house. The Clerical Center party declared uncompromising hostility to the measure, but the others, despite frank and vigorous criticisms, generally expressed themselves in favor of attempts to improve the bill in committee and the result of these efforts will govern their attitude.

Emanuel Wurm, the Socialist-Democrat, in a long speech, said his party would accept the measure only on the condition that a state and not a private monopoly was formed and that adequate guarantees were provided that the prices of oils should not be raised. This, in the opinion of most of the speakers, will be inevitable.

The debate was adjourned.

CASTRO LANDS AT ANTWERP.

MYSTERY SHROUDS JOURNEY.

SURVEYOR-GENERAL'S REPORT.

Heavy Revenue Derived From Fees, Deposits and Payments by the Register of Lands.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 7.—Surveyor-General Kingsbury today presented to Gov. Johnson his biennial report for the period ending July 31, 1912. The report shows that the total receipts of the office were $399,578. Of this amount $78,724 was derived from fees, deposits and revenue accruing from the register of State lands paid direct into the office. The remaining $320,854 was received from county treasurers for the State principal and interest on account of school lands.

Patents were issued for 181,846 acres of land to 650 different persons.

Lieu lands that have been listed to the State of California by the United States Land Office during the two-year period numbered 6541 acres, of which 5808 is classed as indemnity land and 732 as swamp land. This is a decrease over the biennial period just preceding. It is accounted for by the fact that the greater portion of the period the government refused to list any lands owing to a dispute which has now been satisfactorily settled.

HALTS MARRIAGE ON WEDDING DAY

CONNECTICUT COUPLE AGREE TO DISAGREE.

There Are Hints that Prospective Groom Was Threatened With Disinheritance and Therefore Was Released by Bride-to-Be, Who Announces Tidings With Sobs.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NORWALK (Ct.) Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] After all arrangements had been made for her wedding to take place at 5 p.m., Miss Ethel Adelaide Sprague suddenly announced that she had decided not to be married.

At noon she began telephoning and sending written messages to expected guests that she and her fiance, George Leon Gale, the ward of Mrs. George Clarke, widow of the noted actor, had reached a "friendly agreement" to end their engagement.

As a final act, she called up the Norwalk newspapers and repeated her decision. When asked why she had changed her plans she was heard to sob. Then she cut off wire connections.

"All I have to say," she declared later, as tears started to her eyes, "is that Mr. Gale and I have mutually agreed it is best for all concerned that the wedding shall not take place."

"I have nothing to add to what Miss Sprague has said," declared Gale this evening. "The public would not be interested in the personal causes that led to calling off the marriage."

It is reported that Mrs. Clarke asked asked Gale to give up his plan to marry. She is understood to have intimated that if he contracted another marriage he could not expect to be her heir. The memory of her daughter, of whom she was extremely fond, is said to have induced her to oppose the wedding.

Tulare.

PROSPEROUS COLONY IS POPULATED BY NEGROES.

TULARE, Dec. 7.—Allensworth, the thriving community which is populated and governed exclusively by negroes, and which covers several thousand acres of land a short distance south of the Tulare dairy district, lays claim to distinction as the first village of the Coast to boast of a fire department including women as well as men. Recently completed, the fire department includes not only the stalwart men who will man the hose cart, but women who are to be equipped with brooms and buckets to protect property adjoining the anticipated fires.

J. H. Allensworth, who is a lieutenant-colonel, retired, of the United States army, with a long service record in the Philippines, according to his statement, founded the colony and is president of the provisional board of trustees of the village. An excellent system of schools, headed by W. A. Payne, a graduate of Granville College, has been established. The negroes have approximately 2000 acres of land under cultivation, mostly in ten-acre tracts. The colony is supporting a population of about 650 at the present time.

POLES ARE UNSIGHTLY.

Power Company Has Considerable Difficulty in Securing Right of Way for High-Power Line.

VISALIA, Dec. 7.—Suits have been filed in the Superior Court, the first of a series against property owners of Visalia, Tulare and Woodville districts, by the Pacific Light and Power Company, asking the court to give to the corporation a right of way for steel towers upon which to carry their high-tension electric power from Big Creek to Los Angeles. This action was taken as an answer by the company to a number of sensational controversies between the company's surveyors and owners of ranch property, at least one of which ended when a belligerent woman escorted the engineers from her ranch at the point of a shotgun.

Company officials say they desire their towers to be erected on the most direct line, which will frequently carry the line through ranch property. Ranchers are reported to be organizing for opposition to this plan, and it is said they will ask the court to order the towers erected along the public highways. Some rights of way have been secured by the Pacific company by purchase, but a large number remain to be signed up.

TO REVISE LAWS.

J. E. Buckman, County Superintendent of Schools, has started a movement for the revision of the school laws, and has appointed a Tulare County Commission to prepare a rough draft of changes they believe most needed. When these recommendations are made they will be submitted to the County Board of Education and then transmitted to other county officials for their approval.

Buckman has named as the commission for this county M. E. de Witt, former Superintendent of Schools in Porterville, and for years a well-known educator of this county; Henry Zimmerman of the Ducor district and George W. Gluyas of Dinuba.

"We can secure needed changes in the law," said Buckman, "if we can agree among ourselves. Until we get together any revision of our school system would be worse than useless."

TO DISTILL PERFUMES FROM CHICAGO GARBAGE.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Officers of the Gindele Brothers and company in explanation of their bid to buy the city's garbage informed the Council Committee today that the by-products in the garbage would be used in the manufacture of intoxicating beverages. In answer to a question Mr. Gindele said: "I am comparing the system of my twenty-five years' experience in the distillery business and will say I made 98 per cent. alcohol from sour mash. We count on glycerine and alcohol as by-products from garbage. And ammonia as well. Perfumery comes from it."

CLASH ON DIVORCE ISSUE AT CHURCH CONFERENCE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—A clash on the divorce question and criticism of the report of the Committee on Home Life, enlivened today's session of the Federal council of the churches of Christ.

The Council declared that the report was weak and it was referred back to the committee for revision.

Discussion became vigorous over a paragraph declaring persons who could not be married by pastors of their own churches should not be married by pastors unacquainted with them. It was pointed out that this would bar Roman Catholics from marrying Protestants where a priest, on religious grounds would not perform the ceremony.

Delegates insisted on the correction of this paragraph and that the report should sound a stirring, clear note for regulation of divorce.

FAVORS THE TURK.

Dr. William I. Haven, secretary of the American Bible Society, caused surprise when he criticised a resolution of sympathy with the Christians in Turkish Europe, declaring that the Servians, Bulgarians and Greeks were not worthy of Christian sympathy and saying that there would be considerably "more sympathy for the Turk when his story is fully told."

Abraham Lincoln's sincerity with regard to temperance was questioned and the use of his name in connection with the temperance pledge said to have been taught him by his mother when he was 8 years old, was discussed by the delegates.

By a vote of 104 to 105 the ministers adopted a motion to send this part of a report made by the Committee on Temperance back to the committee for revision, in deference to the possible feelings of representatives of southern churches and because it was reported that Lincoln, when a young man, worked in a grocery store where liquor was sold.

The advisability of using the Lincoln pledge was raised by the Rev. W. H. Mathews of Grand Forks, N. D. The report which was the target for attack was prepared under the direction of Rev. Rufus W. Miller, after consultation with Bishop Luther B. Wilson, head of the Anti-Saloon League, and other leaders. Dr. Mathews contended that the recommendation would meet with disfavor in the South, where Lincoln "was not a pro."

After the vote had been taken returning the report to the committee for revision and amendment, a southern delegate arose and announced that practically every southern churchman in the conference had voted in favor of retaining the Lincoln pledge as presented.

THATCHER SUCCEEDS BAKER.

Acting Governor of Nevada Names Democrat Attorney-General in Absence of Republican Executive.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CARSON CITY (Nev.) Dec. 7.—In the absence of Gov. Oddie from the State, Lieutenant and Acting Governor Gilbert C. Ross yesterday appointed Geo. B. Thatcher of Tonopah Attorney-General of Nevada for the unexpired term of the late Atty.-Gen. Cleveland H. Baker, who died Thursday. The commission was signed and delivered this evening.

Gov. Oddie is a Republican and it was expected he would appoint a Republican to succeed the late Democratic Attorney-General. Lieut.-Gov. Ross is a Democrat and his appointee is a Democrat, having been a rival of C. H. Baker for the Democratic nomination for Attorney-General two years ago.

Gov. Oddie is en route home from the Governors' conference at Richmond, Va.

Lieut.-Gov. Ross said that the family of the late Attorney-General requested that he make the appointment of a successor. This request was joined in by Raymond T. Baker, brother; Mrs. George W. Baker, mother, and Mrs. C. H. Baker, widow, who urged that the Lieutenant-Governor fill the vacancy. When the Lieutenant-Governor demurred on the score of showing respect by delaying action, he was assured that in no way could he show greater respect than by complying with the request. Today a telegram confirming the verbal request was received from the Coast.

As to the particular selection Lieut.-Gov. Ross said it was his choice because Thatcher was a good Democrat and a personal friend of the Attorney-General.

FACT AND COMMENT.

If the Ananias Club will so far, condescend as to admit into fellowship with its polished and distinguished prevaricators a clumsy liar from the humbler walks of life, the Fact and Comment man would respectfully suggest as a candidate for membership in that order the fellow in this city who is everlastingly writing letters to the Detroit Free Press, knocking Los Angeles. This idiot's mouthings would be beneath notice were it not for the apparently eager relish with which the Michigan journal seizes upon his contributions for publication. The Free Press is an old and important newspaper and its utterances unquestionably have weight with readers. In view of the fact that Los Angeles has nothing but the sincerest admiration for the big, hustling Middle West city which is the one place in the United States that even approaches us in material progress, the cause of the Detroit paper's evident animus is beyond fathoming.

On two previous occasions The Times has called the Free Press to task for giving publicity to "roasts" of Los Angeles. On December 2, the Detroit paper handed us another one, on its editorial page, under a vicious headline in large type reading as follows: "Discloses More Facts About Los Angeles—Wolverine Shows How Rapidly New Buildings Can Rise on Paper." The communication which follows is signed "Always a Wolverine" ("Always an Ass" would be more appropriate,) and bears all the ear marks of the letters previously published by the Free Press, which, without exception, have had the same signature.

"The building records of Los Angeles" declares the "Wolverine," "are faked to keep up ahead of San Francisco and other cities. I cite three instances: A $500,000 permit was taken out to build a hotel on the old Hamburger store site. The old Hamburger building is still there. Then a permit was taken out to build a $1,000,000 hotel at Fifth and Main streets, on the site of the Rosslyn Hotel. The old hotel is still there. A permit was taken out to build a $1,500,000 department store on the old postoffice site. The old postoffice is still there. Then last Sunday, another $300,000 permit was taken out to build an office building on the same site. Give it to them good; they want it bad."

Lie Nailed.

There is not a truthful statement in the letter quoted excepting the irrelevant ones that the old buildings mentioned are "still there." No permit was ever taken out for a hotel to be built on the old Hamburger site. No permit has as yet been issued for the $1,000,000 hotel which is to be built by the Hart Bros., owners of the Rosslyn, at Fifth and Main. No permit has been as yet granted to Mr. Brockman for his proposed department store on the old postoffice site. These projected buildings do not enter into the make-up of the official total of close to $30,000,000 for the eleven months of 1912.

A permit has been issued to Mr. Brockman for a $300,000 office block on the corner directly across the street from the old postoffice building, at the northwest corner of Seventh and ...d, and construction on this structure was begun two weeks ago. There is not a dollar of the Los Angeles permit valuation total that does not represent a building actually under construction or definitely projected to start at once. Furthermore, there is not a permit out for a single big downtown building which is not now actually under construction. The records of the building department will absolutely bear this out.

As to the new Rosslyn Hotel at Fifth and Main, the steel for that splendid twelve-story hostelry arrived in this city weeks ago and its construction awaits only the expiration of a lease of six months' life covering the site. Plans for Brockman's contemplated improvements at the old postoffice site are being held in abeyance until his office building across the street has been completed. The plans of the owners of the old Hamburger corner are being held up by the possibility that the city may require this property in its civic center scheme. These statements are in reality beside the point, for none of the projects in question has as yet been placed in the hands of the building department.

It is high time the Detroit Free Press woke up to the fact that an ass is working it for "free" press notice, with emphasis on the "free."

—o—

Widening of Vermont.

At least two years ago the Fact and Comment man strongly advocated a plan to widen Vermont avenue within the limits of Los Angeles to a uniform width of 120 feet and urged that the county interest itself to bring about a similar improvement from the city onward to the sea. The advantages of such a magnificent foothills-to-sea boulevard were carefully pointed out and the writer emphasized then, as he wishes to emphasize now, the necessity for early action in the event the project is ever to be attempted. It is interesting to note, therefore, that a lively campaign is now being conducted by the Vermont Avenue Improvement Association for the carrying out of an important part of the boulevard scheme.

It is fortunate for the eventual success of the project, as a whole, that the segment of the improvement now being seriously considered is that portion of the avenue extending from Sixth street north to the foothills. Eighty per cent. of the frontage along this part of Vermont avenue is now vacant, and the number of buildings to be removed in the condemnation proceedings made necessary by the enterprise would be comparatively small. Those back of the undertaking state that most of the owners of property fronting on the present avenue are willing that the entire value of the land taken for the widening should be assessed back against their frontage, asking of the owners off Vermont only that they stand the expense occasioned by damage proceedings.

That there are protestants against the movement goes without saying. Taxes are high and assessments for this and that are numerous all over the city. New burdens bring with them discouragement and the desire to enter a kick.

There are some public improvements, however, which are so clearly advantageous to those assessed that it seems like folly to oppose them. Such an improvement, it strikes the editor of this department, is that represented in the plan to widen Vermont avenue, and particularly that part of it north of Sixth. Half of the population of Los Angeles will one day almost surely live west of this mountain-to-sea thoroughfare. The Vermont Avenue Improvement Association and those supporting its campaign have it in their power to start at a comparatively small expense and in a practical way a movement which would almost certainly result in the continuation of Vermont from Sixth street to the ocean as a magnificent and peerless boulevard. Only the most shortsighted observer would hazard an opinion that the enterprise would not pay every property owner interested in dollars and cents.

The City's Duty.

The city owes it to the property owners along Vermont avenue to at once take steps to improve that portion of the avenue extending through the ravine which will soo be converted into the proposed Silver Lake Parkway and which is even now being condemned for park purposes. From Sixth street north, almost to Bimini Baths, Vermont avenue is at this time in a most wretched condition. It will never do to leave the avenue as a mere roadway along the crest of a narrow fill, whatever the result of the agitation for the widening project may lead to. It is the opinion of the Fact and Comment man that Vermont should be carried over the future parkway by an ornamental concrete viaduct, extending from the line of Fourth street to Sixth street. There may be other ways as good. The character of the now assured parkway improvements, however, makes it imperative that the avenue be made at this point at least a presentable thoroughfare.

The projected Silver Lake Parkway boulevard will cross Vermont at or near the line of Fourth street and will continue on to Alexandria avenue, which latter thoroughfare will be widened to 120 feet from Sixth street to Wilshire, making Vermont at the point of its intersection with the new parkway an important link in a world-beating boulevard system reaching from the Crescent Bay at Santa Monica to the National Forest Reserve at the head of the Arroyo Seco. It would be nothing short of a crime to leave Vermont avenue looking like a country road in Missouri at the very place where it is to be crossed by the greatest park boulevard ever projected in an American city.

SAN FERNANDO WILL BUILD MODEL INSTITUTION.

Valley Town Soon to Boast Polytechnic Group Worthy of Much Larger Place—Industrial Arts Building Will Follow Striking Architectural Designs.

SAN FERNANDO, Dec. 7.—Bids for the construction of the two new buildings which are to be erected to house the growing student body of the San Fernando Union High School are now being received by the architects, John C. Austin and W. C. Pennell of Los Angeles. The contract, it is expected, will be awarded within the next two weeks.

The two new structures, which will be known as the Industrial Arts building and the Mechanical Arts building, respectively, will, with the present high school building, constitute as fine a polytechnic group as is boasted by a place of this size in California. Approximately $50,000 is available from the recent successful bond issue for the school project.

The Industrial Arts building will be 136x70 feet in size and two stories high. It will have a concrete foundation and brick walls, the exterior being plastered. The roof will be of clay tile. The structure throughout will follow the most modern and approved lines of school-house construction, the stairs and corridor floors being of reinforced concrete and the equipment and appointments being strictly up-to-date.

The structure will be of imposing appearance. Its most striking feature architecturally, will be a row of two-story columns in front of and on both sides of the entrance. The grounds about the building are to be attractively laid out.

The Mechanical Arts building will be a single story in height and 88x92 feet in size. Structurally, it will be of the same materials as the larger building, but architecturally it will be plain. It will stand to the rear of the Industrial Arts building.

Otto Weld of Otto Weld and Company has sold to W. A. Amend and F. B. Amend, fifty feet adjoining the northwest corner of Sixteenth and Flower streets, for a reported cash consideration of $27,500. The lot is 50x155 feet to a twenty-foot alley, in size, and is improved with a four-flat building, known as Nos. 1439-41-43.

The property was purchased by Weld from Eliza O. Allen last April for a reported cash consideration of $22,500. The new purchasers will hold the property for an investment. The sale was made through the agency of W. I. Hollingsworth and Company.

SELLS PALATIAL HOME.

Life Insurance Company Official Transfers Beautiful Berkeley Square Place to Local Capitalist.

One of the most noteworthy transfers of private residence property in recent months was the sale last week by Lee A. Phillips, vice-president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, to a local capitalist, whose name is witheld, of the former's beautiful home at No. 4 Berkeley Square. The consideration involved in the deal is given at $80,000. The Harold S. Cook Company represented both seller and buyer.

The property is one of the most beautiful home places in the city and consists of grounds 160x250 feet in size and a sixteen-room house. The dwelling is of brick on the first story and plaster above, and is characterized by a charming simplicity of design. It is finished throughout the first story in mahogany and oak. Wide brick-paved verandas and grass terraces add to the beauty of the whole. The site is laid out in elaborate gardens back of the house and in wide, sweeping lawns in front.

Phillips will retain possession of the place until next July, when with his family, he will leave for an extended tour through Europe. By the time he returns the palatial new house he is now erecting in Berkeley Square, directly opposite his present home, will have been made ready for occupancy. Plans for the new place were drawn by Architects Hunt & Burns and the construction is now well advanced under their supervision.

FRANCESCA PARK.

A. C. Dezendorf, tract agent of Edward D. Silent and Company's Francesca Park tract in the Wilshire district, reports the sale for R. C. Mitchell of an elegant home recently completed on Oxford avenue, near Fifth street, for $20,000. The purchaser is George D. Ferrell, a capitalist from Tennessee, who will at once occupy the place as a home. The Silent Company has just sold to Mitchell a lot, immediately adjoining the residence. F. R. Wood, formerly of Trinidad, Colo., has plans out for a home on the northwest corner of Fourth and Oxford, recently purchased by him. Russ Avery is building a fine residence in the Spanish style on Oxford avenue, between Third and Fourth streets. Other builders on Oxford are F. E. Moore, and Stanbery and Nichols. On Cahuenga street, the most recent purchasers are Jay Spence of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank, Dr. John T. Hayden, and J. Charles F. Atsatt, all of whom expect to build handsome homes. J. C. Simonson has purchased the southwest corner of Third and Hobart, where he will build a fine residence. Other builders on Hobart are H. R. Lewis and J. H. Annundsen. Sewers are now being laid in Francesca Park and the streets are being adorned with rows of various shade and palm trees.

BIG BLOCK FOR SOUTH MAIN.

One of the largest and finest store and office buildings in Los Angeles is to be erected at the northeast corner of Seventh and Main streets by R. H. Raphael of this city, and James Moses of New York City, joint owners of that site. The structure will be exceeded in size by only one or two structures in Los Angeles, having a frontage of 176 feet on Main street, by 159 feet on Seventh. Its cost will be approximately $1,000,000.

The enterprise is as yet in its infancy, although it was made definite yesterday when Raphael and Moses formally commissioned Parkinson and Bergstrom to prepare plans for the improvement. John Parkinson, senior member of that architectural firm, stated last night that the big Main-street block would be of the latest steel frame construction and absolutely fireproof. Plans, he declared, are to be drawn at once in order that the block may be started early next year.

BAY CITY FAR BEHIND.

Issued Less than One-third as Many Building Permits During November as Did Los Angeles.

Los Angeles left San Francisco far behind in building activity during November, according to official figures issued by the Bay City Building Department. As compared with the 1476 permits issued here the northern city boasted 467 permits. San Francisco's construction valuation (including the 25 per cent. always added by the Bay City officials for "undervaluation") for November was $1,912,932, while that of Los Angeles (without the official padding) was $2,597,723.

From January 1 to December 1, inclusively, Los Angeles issued 15,159 separate building permits, these representing structures costing $29,097,315. During the same period the Bay City issued 5797 permits with a valuation (officially stuffed by the regulation 25 per cent.) of $22,412,524.

To date for the month of December 369 permits, representing a valuation of $572,984, have been issued by the local building department. These figures bring the totals for the year up to 15,528 permits and $29,670,299 valuation.

SYNDICATE SELLS TRACT.

Industrial Frontage Transferred to Market Company—Brokers in Deal Report Important Residence Sales.

Through Wm. C. Keim & Co., J. E. Farrell, representing a syndicate in which he is interested, has sold to the Young's Market Company a 200-foot frontage in the Salt Lake Railroad tract near Seventh street. The consideration is given at $16,000.

The same realty firm also reports the following sales of residence property: For Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith to Edgar E. Klauber, beautiful residence of former in Westmoreland place, $15,000; Dr. J. M. Houston to Mrs. Mary Evans McAdams, residence on Argyle street in Hollywood foothills, $13,000 cash, and Schreiner estate to Wm. C. Keim, seventy-foot, east-front lot on Manhattan place near Eighth street, $3000 cash.

BUYS SITE FOR LAUNDRY.

N. Bonfilio has just completed the purchase of four lots on the south side of East Pico street, extending from Wall street to Myrtle avenue. The holding has a frontage of 220 feet on Pico with a depth of 130 feet on Myrtle avenue to an alley. This tract of land is to be the site of Bonfilio's proposed new $150,000 laundry plant. Three of the lots were purchased of Mrs. Hannah Baldwin, the fourth from Mrs. Martha Scriver. The price is given at $40,000 cash. The sale was made by John D. Foster & Co.

APARTMENTS LEASED.

The business leasing department of the Wright-Callender-Andrews Company, reports the leasing of a forty-two-room apartment-house now under construction at No. 626 South Bonnie Brae street, for C. E. Mooney to Mamie A. Williams. The term of the lease is ten years, and the total rental amounts to $37,800. The place will be of plaster exterior, and modern throughout. It will be ready for occupancy about January 15. A garage will be erected in the rear for the convenience of the guests.

hy Improved West Adams Park Property Is Sell-g for Less than Adjoining Unimproved Property.

By ROBERT MARSH.

...condition in Los Angeles real estate today is the fact that lots in West Adams Park, ...with every residential improvement and advantage, are actually selling for less money (relatively) than adjoining unimproved ...

...fact that unimproved property adjoining this subdivision is ...sold in large parcels for as ...$5000 per acre.

...West Adams Park at a ...figure—the price was so ...we can afford to throw in the best kind of improvements—perfect street work, sewer system, shade trees, water, gas, electricity, etc., and still be away under the prevailing prices of adjoining unimproved property.

Is it any wonder that nearly $400,000.00 worth of lots have been sold in West Adams Park since last April? Adjoining properties are to be subdivided and improved at once—and do you think the subdividers of these properties can afford to sell their lots at anywhere near our prices—$890 and up? NEVER! They'd lose money on every lot.

West Adams Park is adjacent to aristocratic West Adams Heights, where property sells from $100 to $200 per front foot.

We have some choice lots left at original prices. Make an appointment to go out with us—or go out yourself via W. Adams car line. Robt. Marsh & Co. See Mr. Badger, Trust & Savings Bldg., Sixth and Spring sts. Home 10175—Main 5045.

FREE AT OUR OFFICE—50c BY MAIL. OUR idea of a home is one both PRACTICAL and ARTISTIC. By careful thought we manage to instill certain INDIVIDUALITY into each home.

It quite frequently happens that the PROSPECTIVE BUILDER'S IDEAS and PURSE do not correspond. In such cases our PRACTICAL knowledge comes to the rescue, and often where others have hopelessly FAILED, WE SUCCEED.

We build homes from the modern five-room cottage, at $800, to the most elaborate dwelling. It rests with the INDIVIDUAL, entirely, what his home will cost. By concentrating our PURCHASING POWER, combined with our PRACTICAL knowledge, and being in a position to DISCOUNT our BILLS, we can, for a given quality of work, discount our competitors' prices.

We build either by contracts on a fixed fee of 10 per cent. of estimated cost of work, or on our own lots in Los Angeles, Redondo and San Pedro, on easy terms.

We make no additional charges for our Architectural services, if we build, or if we fail to satisfy you both as to price and design. Our REFERENCES are PEOPLE for whom we HAVE BUILT, who FREELY indorse us. We make liberal building loans.

THE BIGGEST OPPORTUNITY IN WILSHIRE.

$6500.

This is the only house in the Wilshire district that can be bought on a payment as low as $800, with the balance payable monthly like rent. And in addition, there is no better-built house nor fuller value for the price in Los Angeles. It is a real sacrifice, and yet it has so many good features that any one alone should sell it irrespective of price. The house occupies one of the very highest points in the Wilshire district, with a magnificent view of the mountains; high-grade surroundings; fine corner with three street frontages; 2-story chalet type house, eight rooms; large sleeping porch; charming baths surrounded by beautiful homes; lot (hard to duplicate) is worth $3500; house could not be reproduced for $4500; built for owner's home by day's labor; on account of having to leave city, owner is forced to sell at loss of at least $1500, and on the easy terms noted above, to make quick turn; mortgage of $4000 may remain; no home buyer can afford to neglect to investigate this.

BEAUTIFUL BUNGALOW—BIG LOT.

$6500.

Very attractive, well built and charmingly located 6-room house, on a 70-ft. east-front lot; new; all large rooms; fine bath; hardwood floors of fine quality; sleeping deck above, with two rooms; cement driveway, garage; easy terms. This is a leader in its class; comparison with other houses alone will sell it.

THE BEST OF JAPAN TRANSPLANTED.

$11,500.

Artistic sounds really hackneyed in speaking of this beautiful bungalow. It is a pure type of Japanese architecture, planned and finished in every detail with the utmost fidelity by one who knows Japan. There is not one inharmonious note in plan, decoration or finish. Even the garage, the miniature lake, and the tiny curved bridge which spans it, in the typical Japanese garden, are consistent to the greatest degree in carrying out the picture.

The house is located in a beautiful section of Wilshire, on a select residence street, and is surrounded by homes of high quality. It is as perfectly built as it is charmingly laid out. The effect as you enter is genuinely pleasing, and the entire house bears out the first impression. Indeed the favorable impression is heightened by further inspection. It is, in fact, a house of continued pleasant surprises.

Features of the first floor are Juana Costa mahogany throughout; two great fireplaces, real hand-made hardware and lighting fixtures; notable ceiling decorations and hardwood floors equal to fine furniture. The dining-room looks out upon the quaintly beautiful Japanese garden. A beautiful buffet surmounted by one of the finest creations in art glass of its size in Los Angeles, adorns the room. A den, replete with built-in features, a cherry breakfast-room, two bedrooms, maid's room, bath, fine kitchen and laundry are included in the extensive first floor plan.

The upper floor includes one large, splendidly finished chamber and two porches. The lot is 60 feet wide to a good depth. There is a double entrance and a cement driveway.

CHARMING HOME IN WILSHIRE.

$12,500.

As good a value in a new 11-room house as we have ever offered; fine street; surroundings of a high character; beautiful view; honestly built and artistically planned; not hedged in by near-by houses; plenty of sunlight and air; first floor includes large and richly finished living-room, sumptuous dining-room, opening upon a pergola; a den and music-room finished in Juana Costa mahogany, with bookcases, desk, etc.; a dainty breakfast-room, maid's room and bath, kitchen and laundry; Tiffany glass lighting fixtures; beamed and coved ceilings, art glass and exceptional wall decorations are features of the first story.

Five large, well lighted bedrooms, a built-in sleeping porch and two baths are on the second floor; a dressing room with lavatory, large closets with drawers, mirrored doors, handsome decorations; handsome decorations and specially selected fixtures are attractions; hardwood and maple floors throughout the house; cellar, furnace, Ruud hot water heater, garage, lot 60x150.

NO BETTER VALUE ANYWHERE.

$14,500.

A new 12-room house in Wilshire, worthy of the choice location it occupies. The sort of house that sells itself. A beautiful first floor, every room attractive and finished in the best. Mahogany in the living room, reception room and hall; dining room in best quality quarter-sawed oak; main hall decorated in heavy silk tapestry in gold; dining room in Japanese leather; breakfast room in Japanese style; a very complete kitchen, maid's rooms and bath, and fine laundry complete the first-floor arrangement. The bedrooms on the second floor are large. There are two fine tiled baths and two showers. A sleeping porch and a sun parlor with south and east exposure. The view is magnificent. The bedrooms are hand decorated. Hardwood floors throughout house. Back stairway, furnace, Ruud heater, garage. Lot 60x150. Fine porches front and rear, and a porte cochere are details of the exterior. Let us show this to you.

$8000 TO $10,000 LESS THAN ACTUAL VALUE.

$15,000.

A charming, newly furnished home in the Westmoreland district, at a remarkably low price. The owner must sacrifice this magnificent property, as business interests are elsewhere. This fine residence, which was built for a home, has nine beautiful large rooms and three baths. It is finished in selected hardwoods, mahogany and oak. There is a large cellar, furnace, Pittsburgh water heater and garage. The house is ready to move into. The lot is 60x167.

The furniture is solid mahogany. The furniture, furnishings and fine collection of Oriental rugs are worth $5000. The house alone is worth $18,000 to $20,000. Everything new. This is a wonderful opportunity to secure a charming home, beautiful furnished, complete, away below actual cost of the house. Do you fully realize what this means to you? Let us call for you and take you to inspect.

A HOME AND AN INVESTMENT.

This is a beautiful 12-room house on a corner 80x165, in Wilshire. It is actually worth from $35,000 to $40,000 today, and eventually will have a business value, situated as it is. The owner is leaving for an extended tour of the world, therefore the extraordinary monetary sacrifice. The house is charmingly planned, perfectly built, most beautifully decorated and up-to-date in every detail.

The first floor is one of the handsomest to be found in any house in Los Angeles under $50,000. Living room, dining room, music room and den are in mahogany. Two large fireplaces, sun parlor, built-in effects, kitchen, pass kitchen and laundry all on first floor. The house has burglar system. There is a $1200 heating plant, one of the finest private systems in the city. Six fireplaces in the house.

On the second floor are five bedrooms, dressing room, three fine tiled baths and shower. There are two upstairs porches. On the third floor is a billiard room, two sleeping rooms and bath. First floor porches, pergola, garage for two large machines. While this has everything to commend it as a fine house, unimpeachably located, perfectly finished and most comfortable in every way, it will yield big profits eventually as an investment as well to the purchaser. See it.

5-ROOM BUNGALOW.
PRICE $2850.

Terms: $150 cash; balance, $25 per month, Including Interest.

The same location and about the same price house as above, but a different exterior; very much the same floor plan as the one mentioned previous to this.

It is on a 50-foot lot, on high ground, just one block from the car line.

Price includes fences, lawn, shades, sidewalks—in fact, we deliver the house absolutely complete. Beautiful electric light fixtures, fine paper in the living-room and dining-room, oak floors, paneling, handsome frieze in the living-room and dining-room, cabinet kitchen.

Don't forget that off the living-room of this house is a very attractive inglenook, big open fireplace and mantel, built-in seats, bookcases, etc.

Our price is right—the location is ideal.

6252 HAWTHORNE STREET.
5-ROOM BUNGALOW.
PRICE $2850.

This bungalow is different from anything that we have mentioned previously. It is a large house, one of those places that have a living-room across the front, and, by the way, it is a big one. Attractive dining-room, paneling, cove ceiling, pretty buffet, two large bedrooms, cabinet kitchen, hallway connecting bedrooms and bath, big screen porch.

Oak floors in the living-room and dining-room, very attractive open fireplace, and mantel; exquisite wall paper, fine lighting fixtures, lawn, fences, shades, sidewalks, complete.

It is a big house for the money.

It is well located, just one block from the car line.

It is on high ground and a place we could recommend—A Big Bargain for the Money.

FOR SALE—

5-ROOM BUNGALOW.
PRICE $3150.

Terms: $300 cash; balance, $26.50 per month, including interest.

Are you looking for a real bargain in a most unique designed 5-room bungalow, of the Swiss chalet type? It's the same proposition as a 6-room house, insomuch as there is a large porch off the dining room, which could be used as a sleeping apartment.

The living room is 19 feet across and has an especially designed inglenook with built-in seats, bookcases, etc. Oak floors in these two front rooms; the other floors are No. 1, well scraped and polished.

This particular house is an excellent bargain, on account of its being a large bungalow for the money. It has every convenience; gas, electricity, fine car service, fences, lawn, shades, sidewalks—all complete.

Don't forget the size of the living room. Don't forget—hardwood floors, inglenook and many built-in features, and a big wide cement porch 30 feet across.

LA FAYETTE SQUARE

is a genuine "RESIDENTIAL PARK" and not a mere group of "ORDINARY CITY BLOCKS."

DO YOU REALIZE THE VAST DIFFERENCE?

MAGNIFICENT IMPROVEMENTS:
PARISIAN GATEWAYS
ASPHALT BOULEVARDS
HANDSOME ELECTROLIERS AND PRIVATE PARKS.
REMARKABLE PROMINENCE—surrounded by THREE GREAT HIGHWAYS:
WASHINGTON BOULEVARD
CRENSHAW BOULEVARD
W. SIXTEENTH ST. and
THE VENICE SHORT LINE.

We strongly recommend early reservations at today's prices, for in a comparatively short time LA FAYETTE SQUARE frontage is certain to command a figure at least double present values.

FOR SALE—
WEST ADAMS HEIGHTS
GREATEST INDUCEMENTS EVER OFFERED TO BUY ELEGANT HOME SITES ON HIGH GROUNDS.

We have only a few lots left in our beautiful tract, located on West Adams and Washington Blvd.

We have sold more than $300,000 worth of high, sightly lots within the past six months, and there are now in course of construction 60 or 70 fine residences.

There has never been a high-class tract in the history of Los Angeles that has sold so as this property, and as we are now putting on a large subdivision adjoining this with asphalt streets, private gateways other high-class improvements, we are desirous of closing out the remaining lots within the next thirty days, and as the prices are already more than reasonable, we cannot in justice to ourselves, reduce the prices, but we will, however, make more than liberal terms.

Come out today and select a lot on high ground with fine mountain and valley view. Office open all day at West Adams and Also Washington and West Blvd. Phone West 595.

that will be worth $5000 per acre in three years. It's the last piece on San Vicente blvd. that can be bought for less than $2000. Millions are to be spent to make Santa Monica the greatest resort in America. This district is by far the most beautiful in Los Angeles county and there is little of it. Lots bring more money and this acreage is cheaper than any to be had between Los Angeles and the ocean, on a car line. The one who gets in just before the big boom makes the big money. The Santa Monica Bay boom has begun. More property of all kinds has been sold in the last six months, between the Soldiers' Home and the ocean along San Vicente blvd. than in all the previous five years put together. The reason is plain: It has the mountains and sea with gorgeous scenery; the best all-year-round climate in California; country club and hotels; ideal country life; good roads and transportation.

This 50 acres will make a fortune for somebody. You can subdivide now and clean up 100 per cent. See

FOR SALE—IN ITS RELATION TO HILL street real estate values the factor of greatest importance is the opening of the Panama Canal. The idea that Los Angeles is to be a city of a million population has grown into a certainty and this certainty will be clinched in 1915 by the opening of the canal. The present consensus of opinion puts off the million mark until 1920. In our opinion it will be reached somewhere between 1915 and 1920. As business is transacted in an [illegible] city under all the year-round mild conditions of climate, there is not room enough on Broadway for the shopping traffic of the city of a million population. There is but one other street which can accommodate this business—Hill street. All of Hill street is a good investment from First to Washington but those corners at the lower end of the street look very cheap to us. The Southwest corner of Hill and Sixteenth, 104 feet square for $125,000, is the best thing south of Pico.

FOR SALE—

DON'T BE A HIND-SIGHTER.

One year from today the hind-sighters will be saying, "I could have bought in HARBOR CITY and doubled my money."

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS

are being spent at Los Angeles Harbor by the city and United States Government, and many millions more are being expended by private enterprises there and near-by, and the work has just fairly begun.

THE PANAMA CANAL

means that Los Angeles Harbor will be one of the World's Greatest Sea Ports, and Southern California's development means that about this port will be built one of the Nation's greatest manufacturing centers.

HARBOR CITY

is only ten minutes from San Pedro on the Pacific Electric Railway.

It adjoins Bixby Slough, a natural ship-channel, likely to be connected with the inner harbor.

It lies between San Pedro, Wilmington, the site of the ten-million-dollar steel plant, and other industrial centers.

It has graded streets, natural drainage, fine soil and an abundant water supply.

It is on a direct line of the Pacific Electric Railway to Los Angeles Harbor, and on a magnificent automobile boulevard.

It lies squarely in the pathway of growth, both from the Harbor and the city.

It is in the Shoestring Strip.

Not only is it planned to be built up with mills and factories, shops and manufacturing plants, but it promises to become the very hub of a great industrial zone.

Property on all sides of Harbor City has doubled and trebled in value during the last few years. Harbor City should exceed that record. It offers the last opportunity to get in "on the ground floor" in that section.

DON'T PUT IT OFF.

DO IT NOW.

WE ASK ONLY THAT YOU INVESTIGATE.

A visit must convince. Get plat and other details at our office. Then see the property.

W. I. HOLLINGSWORTH & CO.,
Main 6760. 600 South Hill st. Home 10777.

FOR SALE—

Delightful home with all city modern conveniences, in an acre of beautiful garden; convenient to the best suburban car service; only 25 minutes' ride from Broadway.

Seven-room residence that could be easily enlarged if desired. Garage. Water piped over entire garden and fruit orchard. There is every variety of fruit, in bearing, that succeeds in this climate; grand old shade trees; a profusion of roses and ornamental shrubs. A magnificent, unobstructed view, over orange groves, of the mountains. Honeysuckle and rose hedges secure privacy.

The house has furnace, two fireplaces, two bathrooms, lavatory bowls with hot and cold water in bedrooms.

The place must be seen to be appreciated. It is an ideal California home, in a splendid neighborhood, and the ground will increase rapidly in value; the lot will eventually accommodate two or three more houses. Only $5000 cash necessary. For photographs and appointment to view, see OWNER, 619 Consolidated Realty Bldg., Sixth and Hill sts.

FOR SALE—

570 ACRES.

OPTION SACRIFICE.

Extraordinary alfalfa and fruit land with soil, irrigation and drainage conditions of the very best. Located at Hughson, Cal. (Stanislaus county,) a dairy center second to none in the State.

This land is surrounded by highly improved and prosperous dairy farms and orchards.

Price $100 per acre, on good terms. Will sell part with slight variation in price.

This is not a "cheap john" proposition, where alkali, poor drainage, water soaked crops and malaria conditions prevail, but is high-grade and desirable in every respect and is a snap, which must be taken advantage of at once, as it is $25 to $50 per acre below market price of any land in that section.

An unexpired option enables us to make this unusually cheap price.

FOR SALE — THERE ARE BIG OPPORTUNITIES in Maricopa county, Arizona. Government reports tell of good rich dirt twelve to sixty feet deep, rich as the Nile. Approximately 90,000 acres of uncultivated, irrigatable land now open to settlers. This land will grow alfalfa, wheat, oats, corn, oranges, lemons, dates, olives, peaches, apricots, grapefruit, pears, plums, apples, grapes and almost anything else that you might want to plant. Engineers estimate that there are 600,000 acre feet of water stored in the Roosevelt dam ready to irrigate with. Phoenix is growing rapidly. There are other good towns in the valley, such as Mesa, Tempe, Glendale and the new town of Chandler. There is a valley west of the Salt River Valley known as the Buckeye Valley, where special attention is given to alfalfa, seed, stock raising and honey. Good markets. Railroad facilities excellent. Maricopa county prides herself on her splendid schools. $40 per acre is about the average net profit from raising alfalfa. They cut an average of six tons to the acre and this has been selling from $8 to $16 per ton. For literature and full particulars about this fertile country, address VERNON L. CLARK, Immigration Commissioner, Department 5, 403 Fleming Blk., Phoenix, Ariz.

FOR SALE—

I SELL THE EARTH.
R. S. BASSETT.

800 ACRES

In the San Joaquin Valley in Tulare county, on the township line and road, we have for sale 800 acres of good land underlaid by artesian water supply. The soil is fertile, being sedimentary, and is covered with a good growth of grass that furnishes good pasturage for stock. This would be splendid land for alfalfa, fruit or general farming. Being about midway between Los Angeles and San Francisco, a good market is assured. Land in this section of country and in this immediate neighborhood sells for prices much higher than is asked for this, but we can deliver this at $35 per acre.

R. S. BASSETT, 202½ S. Broadway.
Member of Los Angeles Realty Board.

FOR SALE—

GOVERNMENT LAND—

STATE LAND.
YOU can buy all sizes of State Land. YOU can buy less than an acre subdivision, close-in, near car line, or a section farther out. YOU can get far better location of this State land than U. S. land. YOU women, foreigners, non-residents, minors, can buy one kind of State land without affidavit. Pay the price, get your deed at once and sell next day at large profit. YOU can write for circulars, particulars and references. YOU have a right to buy all kinds of State lands. YOU can find land from my plain directions. YOU will be surprised at the bargains. YOU will recommend me to others. YOU are entitled to the best obtainable. YOU really want land, don't YOU? YOU need the result of my years of searching State Records to see, select and buy bargains in State Land. YOU will find my directions plain, easy to see and select land. YOU will want some pieces well located, now used until owner calls for it. YOU can get possession without difficulty. YOU can buy some State land for a friend or in partnership without affidavit. YOU can buy from official at less than one-tenth the price YOU can buy adjoining land. YOU can make payments. PAY me ten-dollar check to register you 100 pieces and particulars. YOU can pay official small payment, balance later, or all cash.

YOU send me ten-dollar check. YOU receive registered to you particulars how to see, select and buy from lists of 100 pieces of State land that you can buy now. YOU will receive other lists free, including list of some overflow land that you can buy now, State price $1 an acre; also list of twenty-five pieces of School State land about thirty days before a million acres of School land will be put on the market at $2.50 an acre on time. YOU know California sells all State land regardless of present value. No appraisement. Positively some School land cancelled, ready to file on in the southern counties, including Los Angeles and Riverside, when it comes on the market. You will receive advance information free about some good openings of U. S. land now held by Indians and railroads. Some in California. I trust you to pay me ten dollars more after you buy or take up each piece. I honestly endeavor to give good service to you. YOU write me an order and enclose a check now. YOU may be too busy tomorrow. Tomorrows never come, YOU know. Values are increasing. YOUR rights used now will do you more good than used later. YOUR interest and profit says start now. Anybody can delay. Can you afford to hesitate to order now. Write JOSEPH CLARK, Searcher State Records, Residence and Office, 1511 K st., Sacramento, Cal.

FOR SALE—
DO YOU KNOW
THIS IS THE LAST CALL FOR A FREE FARM
Under the greatest government irrigation project in the United States?
These farms are the surest opportunities ever offered to any people at any time.
This land means enormous and quick returns. All other parties are asking $100 to $300 per acre in this valley. We get $1 per acre location fee.
WHY IS THIS YOUR ONE GREATEST OPPORTUNITY?
BECAUSE it is only one hour's ride from city of 30,000.
It is on transcontinental railroad.
It is early orange, alfalfa, Egyptian cotton and winter garden land.
It has four water supplies.
It is worth $100 per acre today.
COME AND GET 320 ACRES and achieve the success that the work of many men and enormous capital is bringing to this valley.
Now if you are interested sufficiently to come and look for yourself we are giving you the opportunity to do so WEDNESDAY, DEC. 11. We have a cheap excursion.
To the young man who looks ahead the value of undeveloped land is obvious. See

PLAIN FACTS ABOUT ARIZONA.
Murray J. Morley, secretary of the Benson Arizona Board of Trade will be at the Hollenbeck Hotel, Los Angeles, all of this week, and will be glad to furnish reliable information about the San Pedro Valley. There are still several good homestead locations open within a few miles of Benson, in the proven Artesian Flowing wells district, 200 flowing wells in the valley, 4000 acres of land under cultivation. Come and see what we raise and try a Benson Apple. The equal of the finest eastern fruit. This will be my last trip to Los Angeles for some time so if you are looking for a place to make a home, see me this week.

FOR SALE—IN THE IMPERIAL VALLEY, our list of government land, relinquishments, assignments and deeded land is the best in the valley. Several snaps for the coming week's business from people who must water stock their land or lose same. See me quick, as the time limit is short on several of these places. See or write EDWARD H. ALCOTT, 441 Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles, Cal.

IN FLOWING WELLS DISTRICT, R.R. line. Why not take 320 acres of government land close to Los Angeles? Most of the great fortunes of the S.W. were accumulated by so doing. PIONEER GROWERS OF ORANGES
LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CAL.

Planted first trees at what is now Claremont, year 1875. Engaged in real estate business and orange and lemon growing at San Dimas, Cal., year 1886. Since which time maintained offices in Pomona for 13 years. Los Angeles City and Branch Office at Lordsburg for 13 years. Have from 1886 been continuously growing oranges and lemons in the districts of San Dimas and La Verne. Past 5 years have established our own brands for our oranges and lemons, and looked after our own shipments. Have now a reputation for our oranges throughout the Eastern markets second to no other. Brands now established. We now solicit consignments from other growers, as well as buy outright for cash, pack and ship under our own private and independent brands. We now have some excellent buys in large income orange and lemon groves, located in the San Dimas, La Verne, Charter Oak and Claremont districts. Any grove we recommend will always prove profitable to the buyer. Call in our offices, Corner D and 2nd sts., Lordsburg, and talk real estate and orange growing with us. We pledge ourselves not to hurt you. W. T. MICHAIL & SON, Lordsburg, Cal. Phone, Office 212; Res. 303.

ORANGE AND LEMON GROVES—
For Sale, Exchange, Wanted.

FOR SALE—
A BEAUTIFUL COUNTRY HOME AND INCOME PROPOSITION.

This property consists of ten acres of oranges and lemons, in full bearing, trees varying from 5 to 15 years old; 40 young Valencias, coming into bearing, 7 acres in navels, Mediterranean sweets, seedlings and bloods, all old trees and very productive. The grove is in the best of condition; pruned, fumigated and heavily fertilized within the past year; a 9-room house, outside sleeping quarters for help and a barn and lemon-house combined; the first two are in good condition; the barn needs repairs. The house has a large living-room, dining-room, upstairs sitting-room, four bedrooms, kitchen, etc. The living-room is built after the Italian style of architecture, with stairway and mezzanine, and large mirrors; Della Robbia panels set into the walls; parquet floors and large cobblestone fireplace that cost $3000 to build. The grounds were laid out by a landscape artist of wide repute, and they contain many rare and beautiful trees and shrubs not to be found elsewhere. There are about twenty fine old palms of different varieties, and old trees, among which are grevilleas, deodoras, sequoias, larches, magnolia, rubber, camphor and cinnamon trees. Pure sparkling mountain water is piped from Deer Canyon into the house, same being used for irrigation. With the place are 40 shares of water company stock, which has a market value of $150 per share ($6000.) The cost of maintaining this water system is less than $2 per annum per share. The production of this ranch varies from 4000 to 5000 boxes of fruit per year, and will with proper care reach a much larger amount each year. Fruit boxes, implements, etc., go with the ranch. The P. E. R. W. to San Bernardino passes within 50 feet of this ranch. The price of this property for a short time is only $25,000. We have photos of the ranch and will be pleased to show you at any time. FOR SALE—
CHEAPEST RANCH IN POMONA VALLEY.

The property here described has just been placed in my hands for immediate sale. Have thoroughly inspected it. I confidently believe here is the best ranch for the money now on the market in Pomona Valley. Located about four miles from Pomona. Condition of property, soil and water supply the best. The owner, a widow of means, owning considerable other real estate, with a view to relieving herself of the care incidental to running a ranch, has made the price so extremely low that a sale should be effected quickly. Only $32,000—$9000 down, balance easy annual payments. Positively no trade considered.

Forty-eight acres, 15 acres in oranges, 10 acres about 15-year-old navels, 5 acres about 6-year navels and Valencias, in good condition; heavy crop now on the trees; 25 acres in alfalfa, good stand; 8 acres fine fruit or alfalfa land, now vacant.

Improvements—Modern 5-room bungalow, nearly new; good barn.

Water supply—Good well and pumping plant, equipped with new 40-h.p. engine, throwing 75 inches water; also stock in irrigating company.

Any one looking for a decided bargain in ranch property better see me at once.

FOR EXCHANGE—
That property lying between 7th and 9th streets and Montana and Nevada avenues, Santa Monica, and known as the Palisade district, probably has no better natural conditions for homes in the world. Lying high and level with a gently slope towards the ocean, it commands a magnificent view of the surrounding country, the ocean, the mountains and the plain. The climate is unexcelled, being 10 degrees cooler in summer and 10 degrees warmer in winter than in Los Angeles, making ideal home conditions. I have a number of very choice residence lots within this district which I will sell on exceptional terms. I will take as partial payment any good property here or in the eastern States. This will permit you to make some money on your investment. I will take you to the property in our auto at any time. This is a rare opportunity. Let me hear from you.

BUSINESS INVESTMENTS—

FOR SALE—
California Wood and Novelty Manufacturing business, which has been established here twelve years. The only factory like it employing help. This certainly is the proper time to buy this kind of factory, for both the San Francisco and San Diego expositions coming. Without doubt not a single one who comes to these expositions that will not buy a California souvenir of either orange-wood, manzanita, redwood bark or yucca, all California woods, which will mean at least $25,000 worth of profit for nothing better than the expositions as California woods, besides the regular business. Just the right time and at a big bargain. Factory, large stock and cheap lease, for only $7500. Owner will leave Los Angeles on account of sickness. 1616 SO. MAIN ST.

FOR QUICK ATTENTION! ARE YOU INterested in joining me to form syndicate and purchase very desirable tract Los Angeles to Venice acreage. Location excellent, Washington Boulevard; good improvements, plenty water. Good frontage on Washington boulevard. Land on both sides cannot be bought under $2250 per acre. Can deliver below $2000. Prefer not to mention price.
This tract tied up written option; must act quick and am willing to invest my own good money. Honestly feel with some live advertising this can be sold within 30 days. No graft connected with this deal; no exaggeration; simply a case of where money talks quick and the owner is legally tied up on an option he cannot break. Requires about $11,000 to handle, balance to suit. Be explicit in answer. Address A, box 430, TIMES BRANCH OFFICE.

WANTED—PARTY TO JOIN US IN THE manufacturing, foundry business with investment of $1000 and services. To the right party we can offer an exceptional opportunity. ONTARIO NEEDS YOU—

Ontario is the fastest growing city east of Los Angeles; only 35 miles via three transcontinental railroads; 46 trains daily. Also Pacific Electric Railway.

ONTARIO WANTS—

A DEPARTMENT STORE.
A FURNITURE STORE.
AN EXCLUSIVE SHOE STORE.
A MEN'S FURNISHING STORE.
A STEAM LAUNDRY.
A BAKERY.
A PAINT AND WALL PAPER SUPPLY STORE.

Right now Ontario offers exceptional opportunities. An ideal place to live, and a place to make money. If you are looking for a business opening, investigate Ontario. Ontario is the center of a rich and growing section. Orange and lemon groves, deciduous fruits, alfalfa. And besides these, Ontario is a manufacturing center of importance.

Buildings recently completed and under course of construction—
Chaffey High School, cost $100,000.
Southern Cal. Cannery, cost $150,000.
Methodist Episcopal Church, cost $60,000.
Congregational Church, cost $50,000.
South Side High School, cost $40,000.

Besides the above, the Frankish Company is excavating for the construction of a $75,000 business block for their new business addition, "Commercial Square."

Among the prominent industrial plants in Ontario are the Golden State Cannery Co., the Hot Point Electric Heating Company, manufacturers of the "Hot Point" electric iron and other electrical devices.

Ontario invites you to come over, stay a few days and look around. There is nothing to conceal at Ontario. The Chamber of Commerce people will be pleased to furnish you any desired information.

DO YOU NEED MONEY?
GET IT FROM US TODAY.

All we ask is that you own furniture, piano or other chattel property, then the money is yours.

Our new system of meeting the demand of the people is the most reliable, the best and safest yet devised. We act entirely as your agent; your promise to pay is our guarantee. We will tell you just to the penny what the accommodation will cost you, and if satisfactory to you the understanding is perfect and you get the money.

All our transactions are made in a clear, straightforward manner. We are a new company in the field, loaning money in a new way.

Call on us for your next loan, get all your small bills together, get the money of us and have but one place to pay.

It makes no difference if you now owe another company, we will gladly advance the money to pay all your bills. Our offices are especially arranged for privacy and the convenience of our customers.

If inconvenient to call, write or phone and we will send our confidential agent to your residence to explain our terms.

We make a specialty of loans where the borrower is not drawing a salary, by taking limited security, and in no case are any papers recorded or any publicity.

We also make loans to people drawing a salary. Why. Because a person drawing a salary has a steady income and is easily able to meet our payments, and not because the salary is our security.

The salary is not bought, neither does the EMPLOYER or any one else know of the loan.

A PERSONAL INTERVIEW IS SOLICITED.

Which will in no way obligate you, should you not want to borrow.

WE TREAT YOU RIGHT.

TO LOAN—

It will cost you nothing to call and procure our terms before you decide to get that loan. We know that our interest charges are less than those asked by other companies and if you will only take the trouble to compare rates, you too will find that our terms are the best. We loan on HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, PIANOS, HORSES, WAGONS and CATTLE, leaving them in your possession, keeping the matter strictly confidential and only charging you for the actual time you use the money. No trouble to answer questions. If you are unable to call at the office, phone us and our agent will call on you without charge whether you borrow or not.

A LOAN FROM US—
Saves Money.

If you want money on FURNITURE, PIANO, horses, wagons, live stock or other personal property, without giving up the possession by use of same,

BORROW FROM US AND SAVE MONEY.

Our plan gives you a definite amount to pay each month, including both principal and interest, and you know just where you stand at all times, and if you find that you can pay before the loan expires you will receive a substantial rebate on the total cost. In this way a loan can be paid off much quicker and cost much less than the customary loan providing for payment of interest only. The reputation we have firmly established with those who know us is

GUARANTEED MORTGAGES
POSSESS THE FOLLOWING DISTINCTIVE ADVANTAGES:

(1.) ABSOLUTE SECURITY of principal and interest—insured both by the intrinsic value of the real estate mortgaged and by the unqualified guarantee of the company.

(2.)—PAYMENT OF INTEREST quarterly on the day due—whether collected from the mortgagor or not.

(3.) A SAVING TO INVESTORS of all care of the investment—the company obligating itself to maintain fire insurance, attend to the payment of taxes and assessments, and collect the interest and principal of the mortgage loans—enforcing collection whenever necessary by legal process in the name of, but without expense to, the investor.

We offer today $200,000 in first mortgages—guaranteed and bearing 7 per cent. per annum net interest, payable quarterly. We invite you to call or communicate with us.

Riverside Defeats Los Angeles Team by Close Score in Very Exciting Game—Indian Girls Win.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In one of the most exciting games of Rugby played here this season, Riverside Polytechnic High school defeated the Los Angeles Polytechnic team by a score of 7 to 3. It was anybody's game up to within the last few minutes of play, when Capt. Horton, made a drop kick from the 25-yard line. Up to that time the score was 3-3. This game was the last game the locals have scheduled this season.

At Sherman Institute this afternoon, the girls' basketball team defeated the Orange High School girls' team by a score of 9 to 3.

"Matty Baldwin, the boy who gave Joe Mandot the worst lacing he has ever taken. Had him out, practically, on two occasions, but saved by the home referee."

RED NECKTIE "GETS" BLEASE.

"Eat 'Em Alive Governor" Sees the President.

Has a Hard Time of It With His Fellows.

Taft Urges a System of Rural Credits.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] "Eat 'em alive" Blease, Governor of South Carolina, it is believed here, made his speeches in Richmond for the voters who supported him in South Carolina and for the purpose of launching his campaign for the United States Senate.

With the rest of the Governors, Blease attended a luncheon today, given by President Taft in the State dining-room of the White House. He sat at the table almost directly apposite Taft. Before lunch the visiting executives chatted in the main corridor in groups.

Blease for several minutes stood alone.

Then he walked up to one of the Governors, who wore a red tie with a stripe running diagonally across it and taking hold of the tie, said:

"Where did you get that dandy-house necktie?"

Throughout the luncheon and afterward when the Governors gathered in the east room where there was a session of agricultural credit which was addressed by Myron T. Herrick, Ambassador to France, Gov. Blease was more or less ignored by his colleagues.

TAFT TO THE GOVERNORS.

WANTS UNIFORM LEGISLATION.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—President Taft, in a speech to twenty-six Governors today, urged the adoption of uniform State legislation which would make possible in this country a system of rural credits and low interest-bearing loans to farmers similar to that in vogue in many European countries.

"We have great capital in this country and we have farming property that is producing farm products of immense value," said the President.

"It would seem clear that with these two elements, it would be possible to introduce a third, by which the farmer engaged in producing the crops should be able, in view of the value of what he produces and the value of the land on which it is produced; to obtain money on the faith of the land and the faith of the product which will enable him to expand his acreage and better his methods of cultivation and production.

"An easy exchange between capital and farmers with proper security has been established in European countries, for the rate of interest has been lowered until the farmer is practically on the same basis of advantage in the borrowing of money as the business man. If this can be done abroad, it can be done here, and if abroad we find that government institutions adopted to form the conduit pipe between capitalist and farmer are successfully operating, why should we not adopt them here?"

The following committee was named today to draft uniform rural credit legislation to be recommended to the States:

Govs. O'Neal, Alabama, chairman; Johnson of California, Blaisted of Maine, Foss of Massachusetts, Hadley of Missouri, Harmon of Ohio, Mann of Virginia, McGovern of Wisconsin and Carey of Wyoming.

On motion of Gov. Hadley, resolutions of thanks to President Taft for his active interest in the idea were adopted.

In addition to the Governors who have been in attendance at the conference just ended in Richmond, the President sent invitations to the four Governors-elect now serving out unexpired terms in Congress.

ARMY AND NAVY NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Little Change Expected in Appropriation Bill Except Provision for Subsistence of West Point Cadets During Inauguration Ceremonies—Big Fleet Coming.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] There will be practically no new legislation on the army appropriation bill, which is now the subject of hearings before the House Military Committee. Even the estimates, in which there were substantial reductions by the Secretary of War to whom they were submitted by the bureau chiefs, are being cut by the committee in the hope that the measure as reported to the House will show a reduction as compared with the estimates. The Secretary of War has made an urgent recommendation in favor of the modification of the legislation enacted at the last session, placing restrictions upon detached service, but the chairman of the committee and a majority of the members have refused to make any change. The Secretary has been advised that the committee has no intention of putting in the bill any new legislation, such as rendered the measure notable at the last session.

TO FEED WEST POINTERS.

About the only thing which will be inserted is a clause which provides for the subsistence of the cadets from West Point during the few days they are destined to be absent from the military academy, in attendance upon the inaugural ceremonies in Washington next March. The West Pointers have been a feature in the military parade reviewed by the newly inaugurated President and the War Department officials presumed that the next inauguration would present no departure from the custom. The cost of subsistence the West Pointers is about $2000.

It is expected the committee will allow the item to remain, especially as it does not require a material increase in the appropriation for army subsistence, to which fund it is charged.

TRANSFERS ORDERED.

The following transfers have been ordered to take effect February 1, 1913:

Lieut.-Col. Walter K. Wright from the Eighth to Seventh Infantry.

Lieut.-Col. William H. Allaire, from the Seventh to Eighth Infantry.

Lieut.-Col. Wright will join his regiment March 7. Lieut.-Col. Allaire will remain at his present station until February 5, 1913, thence to Manila via San Francisco.

Among the candidates for appointment as second lieutenants in the mobile army who passed the examination in September are:

Alfred L. Rockwood, Pacific Grove, Col.; Robert C. Calder, Philippine constabulary; Clyde V. Simpson, Laramie, Wyo.; Herbert M. Ostroski, Spokane; Clarence M. Dodson, Clem, Or. Rockwood was successful.

THE MEDICAL CORPS.

Following changes of office of the medical corps are ordered: Maj.-Gen. Theodore C. Lister from Philippine division April 1, 1913, to United States; Maj. Edward L. Munson, from Presidio of San Francisco to San Francisco sailing March 5, 1913, for Philippines.

Capt. William H. Godson, from Tenth to Eighth Cavalry February 1, to remain at present station until February 5, thence to San Francisco, sailing for Manila.

Capt. Cornelius C. Smith from Fourth to Fifth Cavalry.

Capt. Varien D. Dixon from Fifth to Fourth Cavalry.

Awards for the building of the torpedo boat destroyers Numbers 51 to 56 inclusive were announced by the Navy Department today. The first three will be built by the William Cramp & Sons Ship and Engine Building Company of Philadelphia. Each will cost $842,000.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Contracts for the remaining three were awarded as follows:

Bath Iron Works of Bath, Me., $810,000; Erie River Shipbuilding Company of Quincy, Mass., $854,000, and the New York Shipbuilding Company of Camden, N. J., $873,500.

The Secretary of the Navy announced today that the plans and specifications for the Dreadnaught Pennsylvania will be in readiness within a few weeks for the advertisement of bids.

The naval authorities are already discussing what shall be the representation of the navy of the proposed opening of the Panamal Canal in 1915. It is expected that during the session there will be legislation authorizing the President to take action to insure a notable demonstration. Naval authorities entertain the hope that by that time the Atlantic fleet will be of larger dimensions than it is now. But it is feared that in the Democratic administration there may be a change in the naval policy and that some of the vessels now in active service will be placed in reserve.

The convention of field officers and adjutant-general of the National Guards of the country will probably be held in San Francisco during the Panama Exposition in 1915, was the statement of Adjut.-Gen. Forbes of the California National Guard.

Adjut.-Gen. Forbes has just arrived here from Norfolk where he attended the convention of National Guard officers.

He said Seattle made an effort to secure the convention for 1913, but was defeated, the majority of the officers believing it would be impossible to have the convention in San Francisco in 1915, so soon afterward. Chicago, accordingly, was selected as the meeting place in 1913 and some southern city will be named for 1914 with the certainty that San Francisco will be selected for 1915.

Maj.-Gen. William H. Carter, recently made commander of the Central Division of the Army, arrived in Chicago Thursday to assume charge of his command. Gen. Carter succeeds Brig.-Gen. E. D. Potts, who returns to Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.

ALCOHOL IN ARMY.

SURGEON DEPLORES USE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The use of alcohol among officers of the army and navy is declared the "most baffling obstacle to progress" in a report by Col. Mervin Maus, chief surgeon of the eastern division of the army. The report is made public in the Journal of the military service published by the officers at Governor's Island. Dr. Maus recommends that "no one who uses alcohol beverages should be appointed to important positions, civil or military, to the command of military or naval forces, or any other position of importance and responsibility."

COURT-MARTIAL ORDERED.

LIEUT. ELLIS SUMMONED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VALLEJO (Cal.) Dec. 7.—Telegraphic orders were received Friday from Washington, ordering the transference of Lieut. Ward Ellis to Norfolk, Va. Recommendation for a court-martial to try Lieut. Ellis was made ten days ago.

TAFT PROTECTS NAVY WORKERS.

PUTS TWENTY THOUSAND MEN UNDER CIVIL SERVICE.

Representative of Seattle Chamber of Commerce Contends Seamen's Servitude Act Would Transfer American Shipping on Pacific Coast to British Columbia.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—More than 20,000 skilled workers in the navy yards throughout the United States were placed under the protection of civil service today by executive order of President Taft. The President's order was issued with the approval of the Civil Service Commission and in accordance with an opinion by Atty.-Gen. Wickersham.

No navy yard employees below the grade of skilled mechanic will be affected by President Taft's order. A recent conference of navy yard commandants recommended that the men be placed in the classified service and that was approved by Secretary Meyer. Toolmakers, electricians, stone cutters, machinists, masons, moulders, ordnance men, plumbers and others will be affected by this order. Until eligible lists for the new classifications can be prepared, new appointments to such positions will be made in the regular way.

Rules for covering the 20,000 men into the classified service have been approved by the Secretary of the Navy and President Taft and will be made known to the navy yard commandants shortly. It is said that the order will not displace any employees.

INVOLUNTARY SERVITUDE BILL.

C. C. Lacey, representing the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, told the Senate Committee today that the enactment of the seamen's involuntary servitude bill into law would transfer American shipping on the Pacific Coast to British Columbia, where extensive operations were now under way for receiving it. Japanese ships in competition with American vessels, said Mr. Lacey, would also be benefited because the law would not subject them to the additional expense imposed on American vessels.

REPORT LEASES.

Wm. C. Keim & Co., report the following leases: Susanna H. Van Nuys to J. W. Leavitt & Co., distributors of Overland car, two-story brick garage, west side Olive near Pico, site 55x155 feet, total rental for ten-year lease, $63,000; Mrs. Florence M. Purdy to L. C. Buxton, agent for Moon car, five-year lease on one-story brick garage, seventy-six feet frontage south side Pico near Olive, total rental $25,000; White Car Company to Boynton & Goldman, agents Hereshoff car, room at Nos. 810-812 South Olive street, two years, $3600; Dr. William Brill to Lamberton Auto Tire Company, room at Nos. 1040-1042 South Olive, $3000; Southern California Rubber Stamp Company to Federal Telegraph Company, space at No. 725 South Spring; Merchants Exchange of Southern California to Merle & Healy Manufacturing Company, ground floor and basement, No. 396 South Los Angeles, five years, $11,000; E. C. Eddie to Hammons & King, warehouse at No. 691 Antonia street, five years, $3000; Newmark Grain Company to California Ostrich Farm, second floor at Nos. 449-451 South Los Angeles street, five years, $6000; T. J. Douglas to H. L. Wiley, room at No. 208 Boyd street, three years, $1800, and Max Goldschmidt to J. Howley, brick stable, San Fernando near Alhambra, one year.

ACQUIRES STORE SITE.

Thomas C. Bundy & Co., report the sale of a lot on the west side of Grand avenue, cornering on an eighteen-foot alley in the rear of Sixteenthstreet and adjoining the Young apartments. The lot has a frontage of sixty feet on Grand avenue, with a depth of eighty-seven feet. The property was sold by Henry Williard to a local investor, who is having plans made for a one-story pressed brick store building to cover the entire lot. The same firm reports the exchange of the northeast corner of Maple avenue and Tenth street, 73x145 feet, by W. J. Doran for a lot on the east side of Olive street, adjoining the corner of Eleventh street, improved with a three-story apartment house and owned by C. W. Baker. The valuation of the trade is given at $65,000. The deal was consummated in conjunction with W. W. Mines & Co.

BLACK TRIAL IN FEBRUARY.

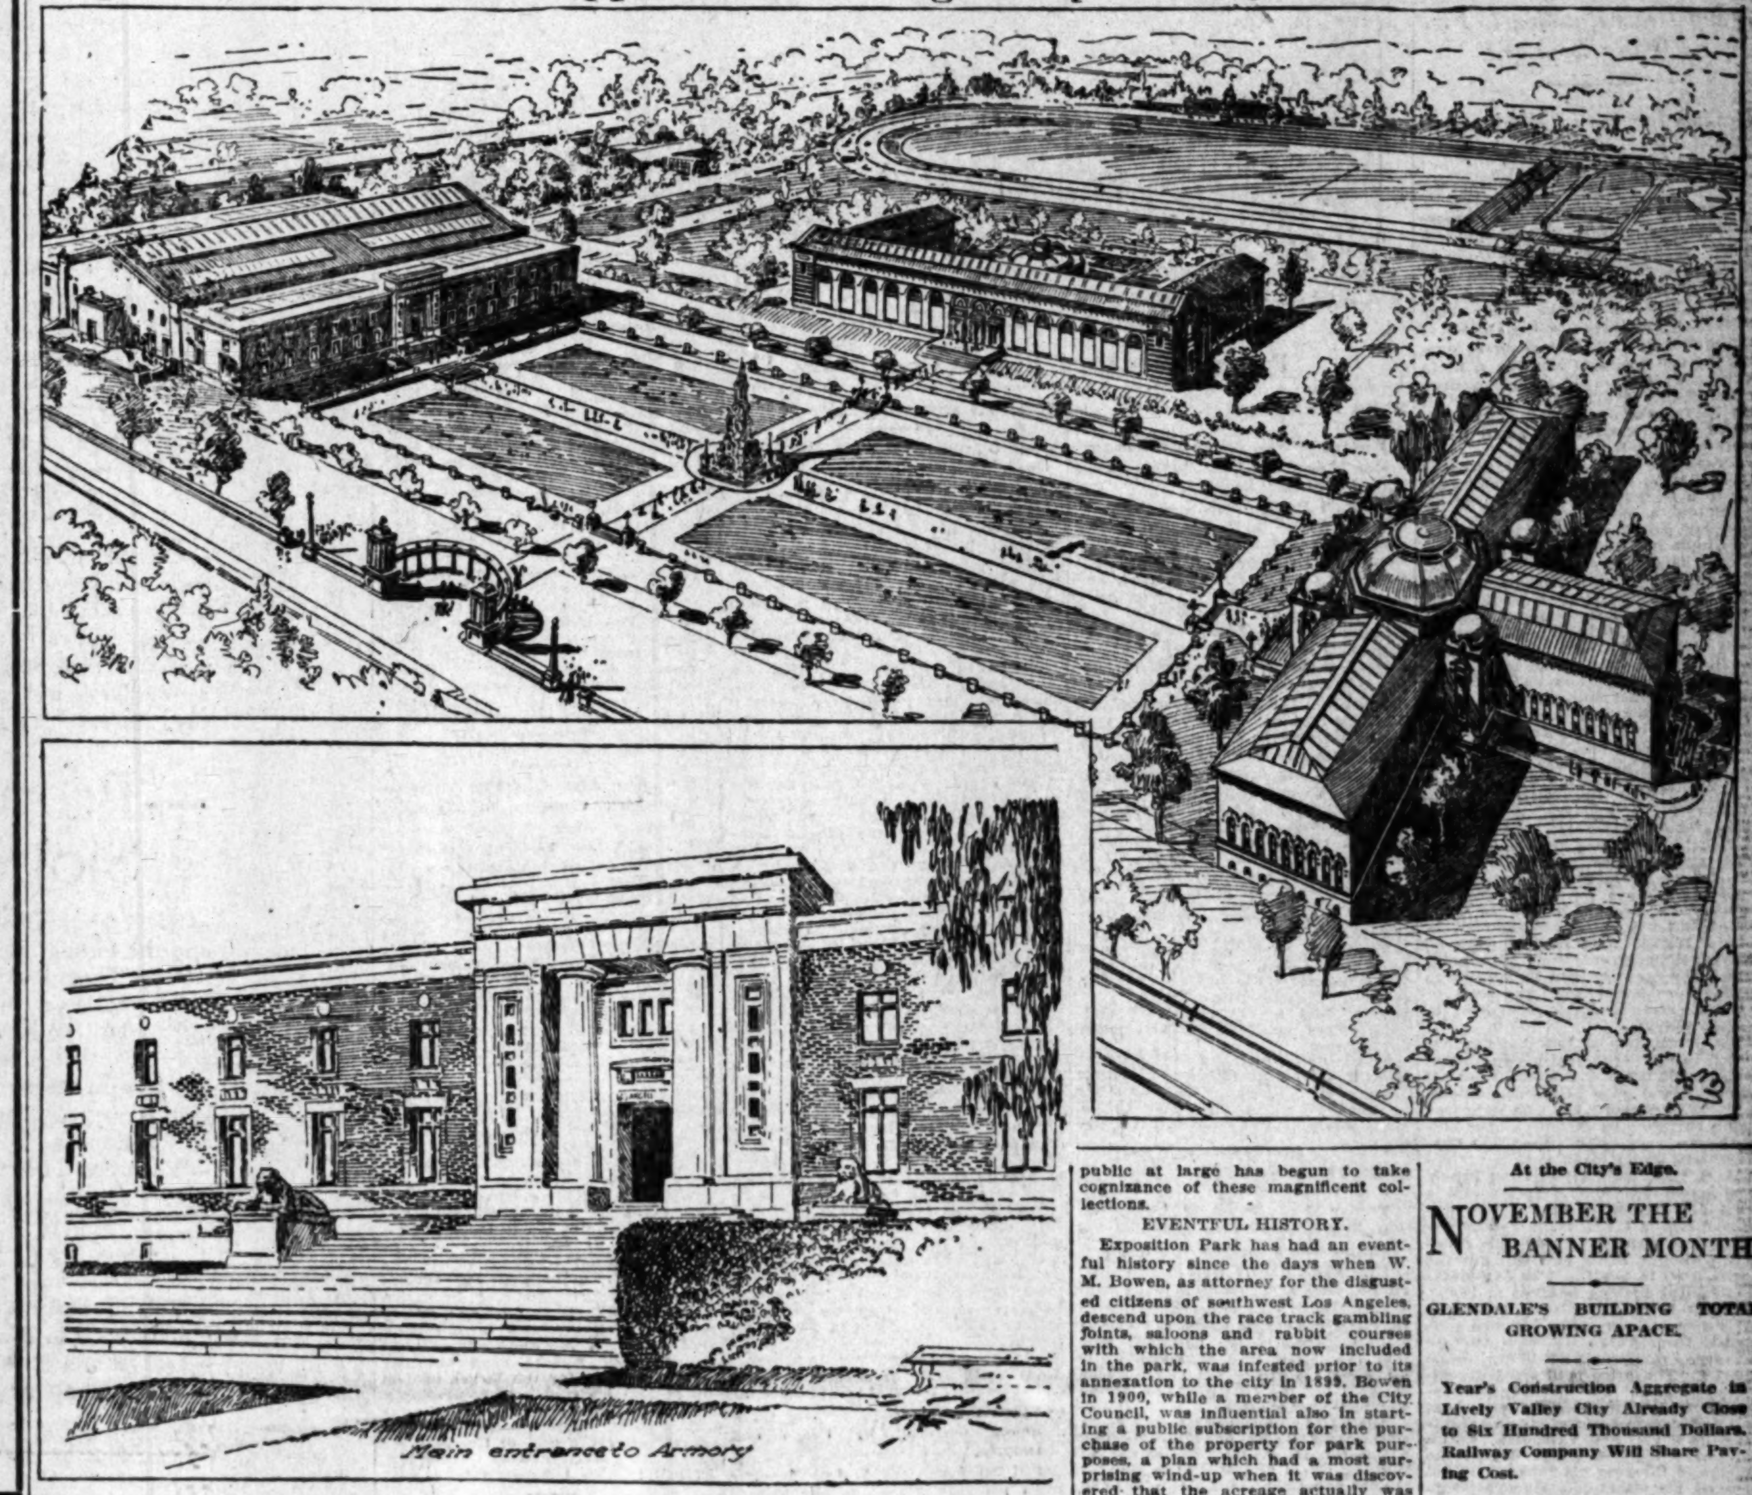
Exposition as It Will Appear Following Completion of New State Armory.



Birdseye View of Great Southwest Los Angeles Breathing Place.

The Armory building, which was started last week, is shown at the left of the group, directly opposite the present County Museum. The third structure is the recently completed State Exposition building.

A Dream Come True.

GROUND IS BROKEN FOR SPLENDID STATE ARMORY.

Final Member of Imposing Main Building Group of Exposition Park Started After Years of Delay—Landscaping of Great Hundred-acre Recreation Center Rapidly Progressing to Completion.

WHEN the graders and scrapers began to make the dirt fly early last week in the excavation for the foundations of the new State Armory at Exposition Park a dream of years was brought to the brink of a sudden realization. The great public park of southwest Los Angeles is at last to take the exact shape its planners have intended it should take ever since the State of California dedicated this magnificent piece of ground to the perpetual use and enjoyment of the people of this city and section.

The progress of the armory enterprise had been so unsatisfactory that the most optimistic of the men who had labored to bring about its construction had grown discouraged when it was announced, early in October, that a new edition of plans to replace the several sets previously rejected had been prepared by the State Architect, J. W. Woolett, and the State Engineer, W. F. McClure. The mild satisfaction upon the part of the park management occasioned by this announcement took the form of elation when dispatches from Sacramento brought the news on November 23 that the firm of Robert Trost & Co., of San Francisco, had been awarded the contract for the actual construction of the long-delayed structure and that work was to be begun at once.

The Bay City builders have tackled their big contract in whirlwind fashion and declare that they will have the armory building complete and ready for occupation within a year. The cost figure bid by the northern company was $187,500. This amount will represent the bare outlay for the building and will be exclusive of the cost of the equipment and appointments.

The armory will stand at the eastern end of the enormous sunken garden at the north edge of the park and lying parallel to Santa Monica avenue. The building will face the County Museum of History, Science and Art at the opposite end of the garden and will, with the latter structure and the recently completed State Exposition building, at the southern edge of the garden, complete the main building group contemplated in the Exposition Park scheme. It will be the largest of the three structures.

The armory, like the State and county buildings already erected, will be of absolutely fireproof construction. It will be as complete and modern as any structure of its type in the United States. The State Militia Field Hospital and Ambulance Corps will have headquarters in the building, which will combine many features of a club and office structure as well as serving as an arsenal and war college for the instruction of the citizen soldiers of California.

The building will be 280x212 feet in size and of reinforced concrete and steel frame construction. The exterior will be faced with ruffled and tapestry brick, the trim being of terra cotta and stone. The design suggests the Gothic, although the building has been designated by many architects as an architectural innovation. The building will be in harmony with the two neighboring structures, though distinctive, and will be made beautiful without any sacrifice of utility.

The basement of the structure will be occupied by the battery and ambulance corps, together with the eleven company storerooms. Two rifle ranges and a revolver range are provided for. Ammunition will be kept stored in a fireproof vault. The battery park of the basement will be connected with the outside drill grounds by an incline wide enough to accommodate several teams of horses at once. The northwest portion of the basement will be given up to a gymnasium 40x70 feet in size.

In the center of the building will be an entrance hall extending east and west through the structure. Rooms for the brigade commander and his staff and for the regimental commander, adjutant and regimental staff, are arranged at the right of the entrance. The various suites include both offices and living quarters.

To the left of the entrance hall will be the public social rooms, including a large hall for general reception purposes. The second floor will be devoted to a variety of purposes and will contain among other rooms, offices for company officers, examining-rooms, surgical-rooms and emergency sleeping-rooms.

The interior finish will be in oak, excepting in the main hall, which will be finished with marble floors and Caen stone walls. The walls of the rooms will be of rough plaster, simply decorated, and most of the floors will be of cement.

OTHER WORK STARTED.

Approximately $80,000 has already been expended in the laying out of the grounds of Exposition Park, and as much more will be required before the work is entirely completed along the lines developed by the Park Commission, the directors of the sixth agricultural district and the representative of the city, county and State charged with carrying out the enterprise in its entirety. The laying out of the sunken garden, which is 800 feet in length by 300 feet in width, has in itself been a gigantic task, but this work is well under way. At the present time graders are vigorously attacking the task of scooping out the large area at the west end of the racing speedway which is to be devoted to tennis courts, football and baseball grounds.

Work is to be begun at once upon the $50,000 steel and concrete grand stand, which is to be erected jointly by the city and county and C. A. Canfield at the southern edge of the oval race track. Plans for this structure have already been completed by Architect J. Martin Haenke of this city.

Plans are shaping now for the construction of a field house fronting on Menlo avenue, just off Thirty-ninth street, and at the western end of the park. This field house is to be connected with the main athletic field within the race track by a tunnel extending under the main drive of the park. Attached to it will be a complete bath-house and a large swimming pool.

In discussing the various phases of the park development yesterday, William M. Bowen, who is generally recognized as the father of the movement, declared that the plan for erecting a monument of heroic size in the center of the sunken gardens in commemoration of the completion of the Los Angeles aqueduct was progressing and that the committee in charge of this project might soon have a favorable report to make. Still another committee charged with raising funds for the construction of a magnificent gateway entrance on Santa Monica avenue, he stated, is meeting with success. Plans for the $75,000 stadium contemplated for the park ball grounds, are as yet in embryo. Before the proposed great celebration at the park next spring of the advent of the Owens River water in Los Angeles, it is expected that active steps will have been taken to bring about the condemnation of the fourteen acres to the west of the park which separate it from Vermont avenue. By the same time, also, it is hoped that the ten acres separating the park from Santa Barbara ave. on south will have been incorporated into the park acreage. Bowen is actively identified with both movements and predicts their early consummation.

Approximately $25,000 has been expended by the State within the past few months in preparing the new $250,000 State exposition building for the exhibits which are to be installed in it, by the different counties of California. The exhibits, it is believed will be the most complete displays of the products of a State ever gathered together under one roof in a permanent exhibition. Many of the splendid exhibits of the county museum have already been installed and the public at large has begun to take cognizance of these magnificent collections.

EVENTFUL HISTORY.

Exposition Park has had an eventful history since the days when W. M. Bowen, as attorney for the disgusted citizens of southwest Los Angeles, descend upon the race track gambling joints, saloons and rabbit courses with which the area now included in the park, was infested prior to its annexation to the city in 1899. Bowen in 1900, while a member of the City Council, was influential also in starting a public subscription for the purchase of the property for park purposes, a plan which had a most surprising wind-up when it was discovered that the acreage actually was and had always been the property of the State of California.

Years were consumed in the fight which followed to get possession of the property for public purposes, and the title to the property was not definitely vested in the commonwealth until late in 1908, when the Supreme Court settled the thing for all time.

The idea of having the State, county and city co-operate in the development of the park as a great playground and recreation center for the people began to take shape in 1908 while California was still fighting for its right of possession to the property.

SELL FIFTY-ONE LOTS.

Owners of Large Holding on Pico Street Transfer Half a Hundred Sites to Local Investors.

W. I. Hollingsworth & Co., report the sale to local investors of fifty-one lots in their new subdivision known as Pico boulevard tract. This property has not yet been placed actively on the market, nor is the improvement work completed.

The Pico boulevard tract is one of the new subdivisions in the rapidly developing section directly to the westward of Los Angeles, and lies just beyond the junction of the Venice and Redondo short line, and the Sawtelle line. It has frontages on both Pico boulevard and the Venice and Redondo short line roadway.

REPORT HOTEL LEASE.

Up-to-Date Hostelry on West Third Street Taken by Tenant for Ten-Year Term.

The W. H. Taft Company reports the following hotel and apartment leases. To Mrs. E. M. Nunnaley, ten-year lease on Marion Hotel, a three-story building now approaching completion on West Third street, near Figueroa. The building, which is owned by Paul J. Van Trees, is equipped with steam heat, private baths and other modern conveniences. The leasehold totals $45,000.

To Mrs. Anna Hony, ten-year lease on attractive thirty-five-room apartment-house on Twenty-eighth street, near Main street, being erected by C. E. Bly, rental totals, $27,000. The company also reports the sale of a ten-acre ranch at Buena Park to R. M. Howland of Long Beach, for J. A. Murray, the consideration being $9500. Murray received a $5500 bungalow at Hollywood and a cash payment.

OFF TO NEW TRACT.

Many interested persons journeyed to Gibraltar Acres, adjoining the town of Bloomington, as the guests of the Gibraltar Investment and Home Building Company of this city, yesterday, and reservations for a large number have been made for the excursion special which is to be run by the company to its properties today. The occasion marks the formal opening of 1897 acres of citrus and olive land. The opening yesterday was featured by racing events in which a monoplane, automobile and motorcycle were the contestants. The excursionists of yesterday were greeted by a reception committee composed of officers and employees of the Gibraltar company and after inspecting the tract were entertained at lunch by the company.

At the City's Edge.

NOVEMBER THE BANNER MONTH.

GLENDALE'S BUILDING TOTAL GROWING APACE.

Year's Construction Aggregate in Lively Valley City Already Close to Six Hundred Thousand Dollars. Railway Company Will Share Paving Cost.

GLENDALE, Dec. 7.—November was the crowning month of the year in the building line in this city, thirty-eight building permits, with a valuation of $73,760, having been issued. Eighty-six electrical permits were granted, and fifty-six plumbing permits taken out. November's list of permits brings the total for the year's building up to 511 permits, with a valuation of $574,210. Glendale's growth may be realized when it is shown that for the first eleven months of 1911 only 297 building permits were granted, these having a valuation of $351,650.

The permits last month include two brick business blocks, costing $12,000 and $15,000, respectively. The homes erected were nearly all of the bungalow type and ranged in price from $1000 to $9000, the average being about $3000.

A number of important real estate transactions were consummated this week, the principal one of these being the sale of a ten-acre ranch on Tenth street by Charles E. Taylor to B. W. Kenneson, who arrived recently from the East. The place lies about a mile west of the foothill mansion of L. C. Brand and is improved with a small house and fruit trees.

Miles S. Gregory, secretary of the Los Angeles Civic Center Association, has purchased from Dr. W. McDonald three lots of the Glendale boulevard tract, facing west on Louise street, south of Fairview avenue, the consideration being given at $3000. The property comprises four acres.

The improvements on Ruth street are now under way under the personal supervision of the officers of the Ruth Street Association. This street is being widened to 100 feet with a fifteen-foot park reservation in the center, extending from Remington to Pacific avenue. The association is making strenuous efforts to have the name "Casa Verdugo" placed on the front of the Pacific Electric cars plying between this city and Los Angeles, and to have the Pacific Electric company erect a station at the extreme north end of the line now know as Bliss Station, and to have this station named "Casa Verdugo."

Traffic Manager McMillan of the Pacific Electric Railway Company appeared before the local Board of Trustees this week in connection with the lowering of the company's lines on Brand boulevard. He stated that the company had agreed to pave Brand boulevard between Third and Fifth streets, providing the owners of abutting property would pay for the curbing between the two streets, and providing also that similar work would be done by the city on the adjoining streets.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Glendale will be held at the bank building, corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway, on February 11, for the purpose of increasing the capital stock from $25,000 to $50,000.

Mrs. D. O. Martin, who owns a business block facing on Central avenue and San Fernando road, just south of the Gabiag block, is having plans prepared for a brick business structure to cost about $9000. This building will have pressed brick front and plate glass windows.

Central California.

MONTH OPENS WITH A RUSH.

Market Activity Unabated in Porterville Field.

Many Deals Running to Five Figures Reported.

Covina Buyers in Evidence in Ducor District.

PORTERVILLE, Dec. 7.—Apparently December sales of realty are in a fair way to equal in total those of November, judging from the remarkable activiay of the market for the first week of the month. While there were comparatively few large deals of the importance of those reported during the last weeks of November, there have been a number of transactions running into five figures. Nearly all the buying was of small orchard properties and comparatively small tracts of raw orange lands.

Practically the only deal in large tracts during the week was the transfer to a Porterville association by W. E. Premo, a local business man, of a 60-acre parcel of alfalfa land in the Woodville dairy district. The consideration is not given. In the association appearing as the purchaser of the property are H. C. Carr, Dr. W. J. Hunter Emery, J. A. Ulmer, J. B. Dennis and Braley Brothers, all business men of this city, and W. E. Premo, the original owner of the land. It is the purpose of the new owners to put the entire tract into alfalfa. Work is to be started this week on leveling and checking and a complete irrigation system is already under way.

Several Covina buyers were added this week to an already long list of investors from that district. S. E. Hoover, W. C. Bowman, E. T. Bowman, Panter Brothers, T. W. Smith and G. W. Ellenburg are reported Covina investors who have bought small orchard tracts in the Ducor district. These men have purchased ten and twenty-acre properties and in most instances have announced their intention of beginning immediate work on the development of their new holdings. The lands bought lie just south of Hot Springs boulevard and are considered excellent for either olive or orange culture.

Dr. R. Baker of Los Angeles has added to his purchases in this district by the acquisition of a forty-acre tract of citrus land lying in the Ducor foothills. The property is to be improved and a complete irrigation plant is now in the course of installation. The consideration is not given out.

H. H. Law, formerly of Long Beach, has purchased from J. L. Kincaid a tract of forty acres of partially improved alfalfa lands in the Poplar district. Law expects to stock his property with fine cattle and will put the entire tract in alfalfa. The consideration for the holding is given at $6000.

Frank L. Smith, who is interested in Alaska salmon canneries, has purchased from Anton Konda a twenty-five-acre orange orchard in the Plano district. The price paid was approximately $25,000. The property includes nine acres of two-year-old early navels and sixteen acres of six and eight-year-old navels and Valencias. Smith will make his home here during the portion of the year his fisheries do not demand his attention. He expects to make extensive improvements in the place.

J. D. Seal, a local business man, has purchased a twenty-acre orchard tract in the South Deer Creek district. The property includes ten acres of peaches in full bearing and ten acres of land adapted to citrus culture. Seal expects to improve the vacant ten acres. The quoted price of the property is $7000.

W. C. Hauptman of Orange county purchased this week a twenty-acre tract of alfalfa land in what is known as the "Old Jewish Colony." Hauptman expects to make several improvements in the land this season and the last of the year will remove here with his family.

BUSINESS SITES SOLD.

Pomona Realty Man Reports Market Activity in City—Both Town and Country Property Handled.

POMONA, Dec. 7.—J. A. Fitch, of this city, closed several deals last week for Second street business property. These sales, together with other deals for orange groves closed during the past fortnight, aggregate $88,500, it is stated by Fitch. The transactions reported follow:

J. B. Rutherford to a local investor, two-story brick block, having a Second-street frontage of thirty feet. The ground floor is occupied by R. Vaughan, cigar dealer, and the second floor is used for office rooms. The consideration is given at $25,000.

Moses Brubaker to Mrs. J. B. Rutherford, one-story brick block, located northwest corner Second and Gordon streets, with twenty-three feet of Second street frontage; consideration, $11,000. John Johnston, to J. B. Rutherford, one-story building, having a Second-street frontage of twenty-one feet, and adjoining the property sold by Brubaker. Both stores are occupied by the Pomona Grocery Company. The consideration is given at $7000.

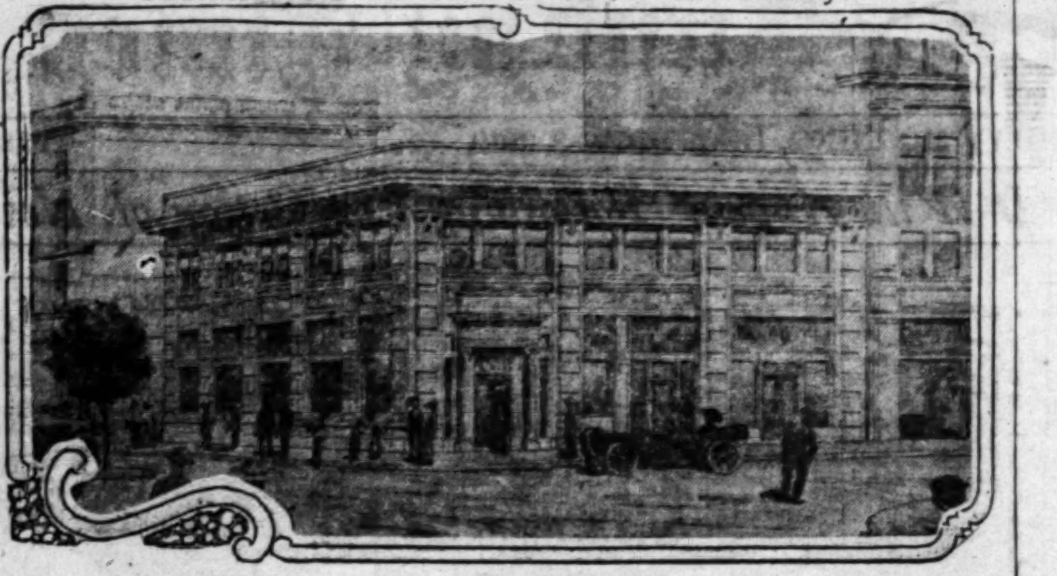
P. P. Daggs, Claremont, to T. W. McDevitt, Pomona, a ten-acre orange grove on Fourteenth street, near Euclid avenue. This is one of the best income orange groves in the Upland district, and has a heavy crop of fruit on the trees. The price is reported at $20,000.

Samuel Allen to the Richards Orange Grove Company, 6¼-acre improved orange grove on West Holt avenue, this city. The Richards Orange Grove Company turned in on the deal a new house at Monrovia. The total consideration involved was $15,500.

PLANS UNIQUE HOME.

Following the announcement of Dr. E. G. Hathaway that he intends to build a handsome home in National Boulevard Heights, the Santa Monica development of Robert Marsh & Co., comes the announcement that several other homes are to rise soon in that tract. T. W. Pate, passenger and freight agent of the Santa Fe, one of the recent purchasers of a half-acre site in the subdivision will erect a country home on his property in the near future, it is reported. Miss Ida von Aswegan has purchased a villa site which she intends to improve at once. Miss Von Aswegan is a descendant of Frederick von Schiller, the famous German poet and it is her intention to duplicate on a small scale a German castle, constructing the dwelling entirely of rough stone.

Handsome Financial Block for Shore City.



Proposed Merchants' Bank at Ocean Park. Designed by Ye Planry.

BANK PLANS OUT.

Designs of New Ocean Park Financial House Ready for Bids—Structure Will Be Fireproof.

OCEAN PARK, Dec. 7.—Plans for the handsome new financial house that is to be erected by the Merchants' Commercial and Savings Bank at the northeast corner of Marine street and Speedway in this city, have been completed by the Ye Planry Building Company of Los Angeles and bids are to be secured at once. The structure will be one of the most modern projected here since the big fire which swept away the larger portion of the business district.

The new banking structure will be of reinforced concrete construction and absolutely fireproof in type. It will be two stories in height for the present, but will have foundations of sufficient strength to support two additional stories, should the demand for these arise. The exterior finish will be of white cement, the pilaster and ornamentation being of artificial stone. The entrance will be carried out in a conventionalized design of the Ionic order.

The bank itself will occupy about half of the first story of the projected building, the other half being devoted to mercantile purposes. The second story of the block will contain offices equipped with modern conveniences.

The banking quarters will be finished in marble and tile and will have ornamental ceilings. Two vaults will be installed on the first floor and a large safety deposit vault in the basement.

CORN FIELD TO CITY.

Twelve New Buildings Completed During November at Standard Oil Town—One a Modern Apartment.

EL SEGUNDO, Dec. 7.—El Segundo, only a corn field a little over a year ago, is still keeping pace with its rapid growth as evidenced by the completion of twelve buildings during the past month. Practically all of these buildings have been erected by the El Segundo Home Builders Company.

Among the homes completed are a seven-room Swiss bungalow costing $2800 for H. J. Heffron, corner of Whiting street and Mariposa avenue; $10,000 apartment-house, consisting of twenty-two modern apartments, for Mrs. A. G. Hamburg of Pasadena; $1000 four-room cottage on Concord street for H. Scullin; $500 cottage on Holly avenue for W. R. Groger; four-room house for Edward Humphry on Palm avenue, $800; four-room Japanese bungalow for E. Booth, Belleview avenue; $900 four-room cottage for Mrs. J. McCormick on Sheldon street; five-room house on Walnut street for P. E. Sisson, $1550; and $500 four-room cottage on Sheldon street for Mrs. H. Simons.

BEACH LOTS SOLD.

Several Transfer Reported by Balboa Dealers—Move on to Extend Long Beach-Bay City Boulevard.

BALBOA, Dec. 7.—A concrete example of the rapid advance in real estate values in Balboa was the selling by F. W. Thornton of a lot on the corner of Speedway and Main street for a reported consideration of $4000. This same lot was purchased by Thornton two years ago for $1900. Among other transfers of the week was that of a water front lot on Bay avenue to Mrs. Mollie Berger, and of a lot to Mrs. M. S. Hancock of Hollywood. Both purchasers, it is said, intend to build bungalows on their sites. The sale of ten lots in Balboa is reported by E. J. Louis.

There is quite an extended movement on foot to have the auto road from Long Beach to Bay City extended on to Balboa. It is expected that the Board of Supervisors of Orange county, who recently made a large appropriation for good roads in that county, will allot a portion of sum set aside for the purpose of building this boulevard. When completed the road will bring Balboa and the other beach towns along the coast into much closer auto communication with Los Angeles.

ADDS TO HOLDINGS.

Los Angeles Company Operating Near New Merced County Townsite Increases Acreage for Sale.

PLANADA, Dec. 7.—A tract of 1600 acres, part of which is level and part gentle rolling, has been added to the immense properties held for sale by the Planada Development Corporation at this place. The tract is three miles east of town and has excellent drainage. It is located on the main roads. Water is said to be plentiful at a depth of from forty feet upwards. The property has been subdivided into twenty-acre tracts.

Work is being rushed on the irrigation system of the Whealan subdivision. This system, when complete, will irrigate 320 acres of land, which is subdivided into ten and twenty-acre farms. Each farm will be supplied directly from the central reservoir, which has a capacity of 500,000 gallons.

When complete this unit of the irrigation system to be installed in the Planada district, will contain two miles of twelve-inch pipe. It is expected that sixty days will elapse before the system is put in operation.

A party of officials headed by Ernest Ingold, the general manager of the Planada Development Corporation, General Manager F. L. Mowder of the Los Angeles Investment Company, and C. R. Woodruff of Woodruff & Gadeky, arrived here yesterday morning for an inspection of the new work. Further improvements of an extensive nature are planned for this region and it is expected that the plans for these will be made known upon the return of the inspection party to Los Angeles.

Will H. Wood took over the lease of the Diamond apartments on Stanford avenue, north of the Plaza, last week, and will add a number of improvements as the growth of the town demands. The property will hereafter be known as the Parkview Hotel. This gives Planada its second hotel.

END PROSPEROUS YEAR.

South Pasadena Chamber of Commerce Growing by Leaps and Bounds.

SOUTH PASADENA, Dec. 7.—The most prosperous year in the history of the Chamber of Commerce in this city has just closed. Since the opening of permanent headquarters in the Ong building in July, sixty-nine new members have been added to the roll, making a total membership of 202. Reports given at the annual meeting revealed that the Chamber had done much good work during the year.

Most notable among the movements championed by the Chamber was the formation of the Eri-city Commission, composed of Alhambra, Pasadena and South Pasadena; of the San Gabriel Valley Inter-city Commission, which now includes twenty cities throughout the San Gabriel Valley and of the Outfall Sewer Commission, which had its inception in South Pasadena.

Next in importance to the organization of these commissions has probably been the progress towards paving the streets. Mission street and Pasadena avenue are now practically completed, and through the work of the Chamber, a petition has been presented to the Board of Trustees, signed by over 60 per cent of the property owners, asking for the paving of Monterey road. The same body has also secured the necessary signatures to insure the paving of Fair Oaks avenue.

In the line of advertising, several thousand attractive booklets were printed and widely distributed during the year by the Chamber.

The following officers have been elected for the ensuing year, Jonathan S. Dodge, president; Don S. Gates, first vice-president; N. Ledgerwood, second vice-president; William Hazlett, third vice-president; Seward C. Simons, secretary; and the South Pasadena Savings Bank, treasurer.

VISTA ACTIVITIES.

G. H. MacGinnis, sales agent for the Vista Land Company, reports sales of acreage in the new 2000-acre subdivision of the company in San Diego county as follows: To Fred Wilson, a citrus grower of Whittier, ten acres, $3577; to the West India Gardens of Altadena, forty-one acres, $14,350; to C. H. Dunlop of Cleburn, Tex., seventeen acres, $3576; and to G. Taylor of Seattle, ten acres for $3500. Wilson has arranged to set his property out to lemon and orange trees the coming spring. The West India Garden people state that they will set out twenty-five acres to budded avocado trees. Dunlop and Taylor have arranged with the Vista Land Company to have their properties planted to lemons and oranges. Sales of Vista town lots to I. A. Rennebeck and E. A. Marsh are also reported.

OLD-TIME BLOCK SOLD.

San Francisco Capitalist Acquires Landmark Property in Heart of Fresno.

FRESNO, Dec. 7.—Among the most important real estate deals of the past week was the purchase of the Land Company building at I and Mariposa streets, by W. S. Goodfellow of San Francisco, the purchase price being reported at $140,000. The transfer was made by the Fresno Land Company, made up of the W. J. Dickie and Jack McClurg estates and by John P. Clark and O. J. Woodward. The purchaser is a noted San Francisco attorney. The building was erected in 1889 by J. G. James of the Fresno Loan and Savings Bank. The structure houses the Bank of Central California and a number of stores on the first floor and offices above. It is four stories in height.

According to the latest plans of the Building Committee, the Elks will soon have a seven-story home in Fresno. Plans are now being drawn for a structure, 75x125 feet, facing on Tulare street, or directly back of the Rowell-Chandler building. The Elks have owned these lots for several months.

The estimated cost of the seven-story building proposed is something over $100,000. As originally planned the structure was to have been six stories. Funds for the larger project are declared, however, to be available, and work on a building of seven stories and a roof garden may be begun shortly after the first of the year.

FIRST PLANS REJECTED.

New Bids to Be Asked for Seventy-five Thousand Dollar Huntington Beach Pier Project.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 7.—On last Monday night the proposition of advertising for bids on the new $75,000 pier was taken up by the Board of Trustees of this place. The specifications of the Raymond Concrete Pile Company were turned down and new bids asked for, to be opened by the Board on January 10.

A special committee, which was named at a recent meeting of the board, to care for an exhibit at the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce reports that it has selected a location for the display and it will be arranged and cared for by the Santa Ana organization as soon as prepared.

NEW VERMONT SQUARE.

During the past week alone, thirteen new houses were started in new Vermont Square. The following are the builders: B. I. Gliever, north side Forty-first street, between Gramercy and Arlington; G. W. Friberg, south side Vernon, between Normandie and Halldale; Eva A. Lewis and Ada E. Crane, north side Forty-eighth street, between Denker and Harvard; John Carlquist, west side Budlong, between Vernon and Forty-fifth street; W. C. Swett, north side Forty-first drive, between St. Andrew's and Gramercy; Paul H. Muskat, south side Forty-first street, between Gramercy and Arlington; Sarah A. LeBaillister, south side Forty-first place, between Western and St. Andrew's; Paul Garogan, corner Forty-sixth and Vermont; Jane L. Coover, north side Forty-first drive, between Gramercy and Arlington; Swan Nelson, corner Forty-seventh and Budlong; W. R. Denman, south side Forty-sixth street, between Kansas and Budlong; Jacob Setzer, south side Forty-first drive, between Gramercy and Arlington, and Caspar H. Wiseman, north side Forty-sixth street, between Normandie and Halldale.

FIRM NAME CHANGED.

CHANDLER (Ariz.) Dec. 7. — In order to increase the efficiency and to care for the enlarged business of the Mesa Improvement Company several changes have been made in that organization. The name of the company has been changed to the Chandler Improvement Company and the general Arizona office has been located at this place. Offices will be maintained as heretofore in Los Angeles.

Dr. A. J. Chandler continues as president and general manager of the company, which owns the Chandler ranch of 18,000 acres, irrigated by the Roosevelt Dam. D. B. Lyons of Los Angeles, is assistant manager, and C. D. Hellyer, superintendent of agencies of the new organization.

BROKER BUYS HOME.

Among the sales consummated within the past few days by the house and lot department of Robert Marsh & Co. was the transfer for Paul H. Blades to F. C. Ensign of a handsome residence at No. 675 South Ardmore avenue. The consideration is reported at $12,000. The house is of the English brick and half-timber type and occupies a sightly lot. The buyer is president of the Ensign-Francis Company, subdividers of the Terra Bella lands in the San Joaquin Valley.

Young Citrus Groves at Riverside

—You can get a young orange or lemon grove of real quality—right at Riverside—considerably above and overlooking this beautiful city.

—Situated right in the midst of groves owned by fruit men of large experience and renown.

—On the protected foothill slopes with perfect frost conditions.

—Having the same soil as found in adjoining groves producing the fanciest of fruit.

—With water already developed and distributed over the groves.

—In fact, with no uncertainty as to its ultimate success.

—By getting a young grove you receive both the tremendous increase in value and later, the handsome annual net income. Your grove will pay at least 25 per cent. on amount invested.

---The Sunny Slope Rancho

—Owned and developed by Geo. H. and William S. Ennis, as their own private citrus estate, with quality their first aim.

—They offer to sell a portion in order to develop the balance.

—They will care for your grove as a part of their own.

—The advantage of owning a portion of a large grove cared for as one large unit is obvious. It means the most thorough and scientific care at a very economical figure.

---Protected Foot Hill Slopes

—SEE for yourself the difference between the flat valley floors, and the foothill mesa land at Sunny Slope.

—Last Thursday we sold 14 acres, and Friday, 20 acres, to two men, who have "been the rounds." It wasn't our strong statements, but the inspection of the property that convinced them.

—Look over the pedigreed nursery stock, the remarkable adjoining groves, the wonderful view of Riverside, the complete water system, and in general the scientific care and efficiency evidenced on the Rancho.

—Then you'll be ready to talk business with us.

---But It's Limited

—This property is the last large block of first quality citrus land undeveloped in this great Riverside District.

—Of this ranch, less than twenty-five young groves will be sold.

—Such an opportunity means Action.

---The Offer in Brief

—For $550 Per Acre

You get a young grove to set next spring with best pedigreed stock, and cared for free of charge until January 1st, 1914,—at which time every tree guaranteed to be in thrifty growing condition.

Besides this, you will have a complete irrigation distributing system of the most modern steel and concrete construction, together with two shares of water stock to each acre, which guarantees you one inch to every five acres.

Ennis Brothers will care for your grove permanently, if you desire it, at actual pro-rata cost, plus a small fee for management.

—For $650 Per Acre

They offer a few groves (just 77 acres left) which were planted last season, and have advantage of one year's growth. All other conditions same as above.

ARCH MARKS ENTRANCE.

Concrete Span to Be Gateway to Huge Ranch Property—Several New Buildings at Chowchilla.

CHOWCHILLA, Dec. 7. — An immense concrete arch, the gateway to the 108,000-acre Chowchilla ranch, is now under construction on Robertson boulevard at the entrance of this place. The boulevard itself is 100 feet wide and is the main thoroughfare of Chowchilla. It extends through the ranch for twelve miles. A contract for sixteen blocks of cement curbs and walks, fourteen feet wide, has been let, and work is under way. Trees are to be planted along the boulevard for its entire length.

A new grocery store building for William Thornton has just been completed on Robertson boulevard, and a meat market is being built on First street. Plans are being drawn for a bank building and a drug store. The office and garage of the Chowchilla Colonization Company were completed this week. The tower and tank for the Chowchilla City Water Works is in the course of erection and it is hoped to have them completed in five weeks.

IMPROVEMENTS BEGUN.

Preliminary work on improvements which will entail a reported expenditure of $150,000 has just been started in Ethelwyn Manor and Ethelwyn Manor extension, by Robert Marsh & Co. Surveys for streets in the recently-acquired ninety-acre tract adjoining Ethelwyn Manor are being run. When these are completed, actual work will be begun. Plans have been drawn for several unique bungalows in Ethelwyn Manor to supplement the dozen or more homes recently disposed of in that tract. A portion of the new ninety-acre tract is covered with large live oaks, and in the center of the land a high hill rises. Winding roadways of oiled macadam will be run all over this hill, and villa sites developed.

COMPANIES COMBINE.

F. H. Redpath and associates have taken over the control of the California Home Builders, located at No. 637 South Hill street. The company will retain its name and will be run as an auxiliary to the F. H. Redpath Company of No. 4808 Moneta avenue. F. H. Redpath will be president of the new company, and L. C. Ackley will continue to act as secretary of the California Home Builders and will also be secretary of the F. H. Redpath Company. R. B. Coleman, the retiring president, still retains his interests in the corporation. The output of the two companies, it is stated, will soon exceed a house every three days.

WESTWARD ACTIVITIES.

Victor G. Kleinberger and F. H. Edwards, subdividers, report sales in their West Adams and Washington boulevard tract for the past ten days as follows: C. A. Waldron, $750; Fred C. OUTGROW QUARTERS.

The Eccles and Smith Company of San Francisco, Portland and Los Angeles, jobbers of railway supplies, have taken a lease for a term of years on the south half of the ground floor and basement of the four-story brick building at Nos. 237-43 South Los Angeles street. The lease, just closed through the leasing department of the W. Ross Campbell Company, gives the new tenants a total floor space of approximately 6000 square feet, almost three times as much space as their present quarters at No. 524 South Los Angeles street provides. The building is owned by the Harris-Newmark Company. The lessors will move into their new quarters about January 1.

THE M'CARTHY TRACTS.

The McCarthy Company reports recent sales in its various tracts as follows: T. E. Felt and W. B. Kerrick, lot on Van Ness avenue, between Temple street and Elmwood, in the Wilton Heights tract, $2000; M. Danziger, for $3500, corner lot on Ridgewood and Temple streets, on which he will build a $15,000 home; H. V. Hall, for $2400, lot in Van Ness-avenue Square tract; Mrs. Gussie Lunn, for $2000, house and lot at No. 139 West Eighty-fifth place; J. H. Ballou, for $1950, house at No. 135 East Seventy-first street; J. N. Scott, for $2150, house at 205 East Sixty-fourth street; Bert Brandon, lot in McCarthy Company's Orange Grove tract, $500; J. W. Jeffries, lot in Orange Grove tract, $500; E. S. Calvert, lot in Normandie Square tract, $825.

FOR SUBURBAN SHOPPERS.

Five local investors during the week just ended have formed a syndicate and purchased a tract of forty acres between Los Angeles and Venice. The total consideration involved in the deal is given at $92,400. Harry H. Culver of the Harry H. Culver Company, engineered the details for both buyers and sellers. It is the idea of the purchasers to place the tract upon the market through the agency of one of the subdivision companies of this city and to make it a business center for the residential subdivisions which are grouped about near it. The past few months has witnessed great activity along the new Pico boulevard and many residences and bungalows are now in course of erection, tending to produce a suburban center half way between the two cities. The piece of land in question has a frontage on Pico boulevard and on the Pacific Electric.

Mining in the Great Southwest.

Goldfield.

BEST YIELD IN THREE MONTHS.

Consolidated's Production Is Improving.

Net Output Worth Nearly Quarter of a Million.

Milling Plant Good Asset of Nevada Hills.

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) Dec. 6.—The estimated November production of the Goldfield Consolidated Mines Company, just released, is as follows: Total tons mined, 27,614; gross value recovered, $429,000; operating expenses, $185,000; net realization for the month, $244,000. This is better than for the two preceding months.

The Consolidated officials also have just made public the final report of production and profits for the month of October, showing that the estimates for that month were exceeded by approximately $30,000. For October, the total production was 30,573 tons, containing $456,779.12, or an average of $14.94 a ton, and the total net realization was $242,168.07, or 7.92 a ton. During the month, 4048 feet of development work was don. The total cost of mining, development, transportation, milling, office expense and general charges, was $5.67 per ton. The detailed report of the work performed and the value of the ore extracted from each of the Consolidated's properties is as follows:

Combination—The 136 BX stope on the second level was extended and produced 505 tons of average $26.50 ore. The 2460 stope, 450 feet east of shaft, between third and fourth levels, was extended and produced 518 tons of average $38.10 ore. The sill being cut on the ore-body in the 414 C raise reduced 276 tons of ore averaging $32 per ston. The 402 DX raise being run from the 492 intermediate below the fifth level, 250 feet east of the shaft, encountered ore, and produced eighty-eight tons, averaging $34.60 per ton.

Mohawk—The forty drift on the 150-foot level, going north from the Sheets-Ish workings, produced 185 tons of $26.40 ore. The 107 X drift, driven in the hanging wall under the Sheets-Ish workings, on the 250-foot level, encountered a body of ore which has not been opened at any other point, and produced eighty-two tons averaging $28 per ton. This new ore-body should produce a considerable tonnage of good grade ore. The 215 PX stope, between the first and second levels, 650 feet northwest of the shaft, produced 500 tons of average $30.20 ore. The southern end of the 307 stope, between the second and third levels, was extended and produced 1160 tons of $26.50 ore. The 400 R stope from the intermediate between the third and fourth levels, and just south of the big 354 stope, was highly productive—1738 tons of average, $218.40 ore being extracted.

Clermont—The 420 B stope, between the 600 and 750-foot levels, just south of the 413 sill, produced 314 tons of average $55.60 ore. This is the downward extension of the big 413 ore-body, and will produce a large tonnage of excellent grade ore. The downward extension of the 510 ore-body, between the 750 and 900-foot levels, produced 443 tons of $23.20 ore. The 700 F and G stopes, between the 1200-foot level of the Grizzly Bear and the 1000-foot level of the Clermont, produced 712 tons averaging $67.60 per ton. The 802 stope on the 1300-foot level of the Grizzly Bear was extended and produced 227 tons of average $45 ore.

Jumbo No. 2—The stope carried up from the 220 drift produced 791 tons of $41 ore. A winze has been started down on this ore-shoot, and the south drift on the 300-foot level is advanced to open the downward extension on the ore.

Operating costs of the Nevada Hills Mining Company are further reduced as the milling plant gains in efficiency, and the average grade of ore now treated is such as to afford cause for gratification to the stockholders. The company is writing off monthly a sufficient sum for depreciation or mortization, to provide for its being upon a sound basis in the future, and is rapidly paying off its indebtedness. Early next year the company should be in a position to begin the disbursement of dividends. Its holdings are now classed as one of the great gold properties of the country.

The company's report for October, just issued, shows 4030 tons milled, worth $84,849.52, or $21 per ton; loss in tailings, $10,287.37; net costs, $37,-837.71; profit for the month, $41,724.44.

All patented mining claims in the Goldfield district are exempt from taxation under an order issued by Judge Peter J. Somers of the District Court, this morning. Acting under a recent decision of the Supreme Court sustaining the decision of Judge Somers that patented claims on which $100 forth of work had been done were exempt from taxation, the attorneys for the Consolidated, the Merger, the Atlanta, the Pittsburgh and a well-known mine foreman, died companies applied for an injunction against the State and county, to prevent the tax collector from attempting to collect taxes on several hundred patented claims that had been assessed at $500 each. The order just issued by Judge Somers will reduce the amount to be collected for taxes in Esmeralda county by about $2400, and exempts from taxation property that had been assessed at between $90,000 and $100,000.

John Geary, a local miner, died at the hospital the other day as a result of taking wood alcohol with intoxicating intent. He came here from Cripple Creek, Colo., and was well connected. His daughter, who arrived from Colorado, was not told the cause of her father's death.

William O. Madden, 60 years old and a well-known mine forman, died yesterday. He began his mining career on the Comstock, and in the boom days of this camp was in charge of the Florence, and later, the Little Florence, both bonanza properties.

Local mining men are looking forward expectantly to the proposed development of the Goldfield Oro property, and to the results of deep work in that territory. It has been announced by the men now in control of the company that the work would be started early in January and that a shaft would be sunk to a depth of 1000 feet.

Clyde Van Patterson of Goldfield has just undertaken the contract of moving a full-equipped boarding-house from Diamondfield to the camp of Klondyke, a distance of eleven miles, over a road that could not, by any stretch of the imagination be called a boulevard.

NEW LAW BROACHED.

Representatives of Mining Concerns Consider Suggesting New Regulation to Legislature.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Dec. 6.—For several days last week a conference was in progress in Phoenix of representatives of the larger mining companies of the State considering presentation to the Legislature of a new mine taxation law. The present system is most unsatisfactory to the companies and is alleged to be unjust and discriminatory.

The Ray Consolidated Copper Company is to start work this month taking ore from its Ray Central property. A large ore body already well developed and ready for stoping, is said to average at least 5 per cent. copper, more than twice as rich as the ore now concentrated from the main workings of the company.

The Magma Copper Company of Superior, a Thompson-Gunn corporation, is said to have purchased from Globe owners a controlling interest in the Queen Creek Copper Company, which owns a number of claims lying on two sides of the Magma. The wonderfully rich Magma vein runs into Queen Creek ground, although it will take exploration to at least 800 feet of depth to determine whether the richness of the ore body continues in that direction. The Magma itself, at one time, when it was known as the Silver Queen, was under bond for $50,000 to the Queen Creek Company, but the bond was allowed to lapse.

Bowman and Murphy, five miles north of Sunflower, on the northwestern slopes of the Mazatzal Mountains, are diligently exploring a late find of cinnabar ore. They are now down about twenty feet on a four-foot ledge, in lime spar and schist. Some of the rock sent to Phoenix is extremely attractive in appearance, with much the appearance of ruby silver, assaying as much as 40 per cent. quicksilver. It is told that globules of quicksilver often are encountered in the rock. The location is remote and in the roughest of country, comprising a serious handicap in the operation of the mine.

PROSPEROUS DAYS.

Courtland and Gleeson Camps are Thriving. Reported Activity in Oro Blanco Section.

TUCSON (Ariz.) Dec. 6.—Courtland and Gleeson camps are showing a high degree of prosperity. The Great Western is shipping eight carloads of ore a week to El Paso, the Calumet and Arizona twelve cars to Douglas and the Leadville five cars, all high grade, while shipments to the Shannon smelter from the Copper Belle are regular. Most of the ore comes from comparatively shallow depth, the richest being at only 300 feet.

Activity is reported also from the Oro Blanco mining district, where the mines are said to be in need of at least 200 additional men. American miners are wanted but Mexicans are being used in their stead.

The Morning Glory mine, near the famous Mowry property in Santa Cruz county, has been sold for $5000 by Chris Wilson to Colin Cameron of Tucson, representing the Ajo Copper Company of Gila Bend. A 500-foot tunnel will be run into the mountain, 600 feet below the present workings, to drain the mine and as well to give deeper development and better stoping facilities.

The lower workings of the Imperial mine at Silverbell have been pumped out and a small force of men has been put at work doing development and assessment work.

A controling interest in the Commonwealth Extension Mining Company at Pearce is reported to have been sold to Bisbee men for $50,000. The company has ten claims, adjoining the famous Commonwealth property and has a 200-foot shaft upon a good vein of gold and silver ore. Pearce is to have a new mill, to handle 800 tons of ore a day and to cost about $250,000.

A mill is being built upon the property of the Massoletti Gold Mining Company in the Rincon Hills, fourteen miles northwest of Benson. The property is said to have a large body of free milling gold ore.

C. T. Tryon has bonded for $60,-000 the Oceanic mine of Arivaca district.

DEAL IS OFF.

Disagreement During Negotiations Understood to Cause Abandoning of Bond.

PATAGONIA (Ariz.) Dec. 6.—The Copper Queen Consolidated Mining Company has abandoned its bond on the World's Fair mine in Patagonia district, a deal said to have involved the payment of $800,000, and the property has reverted to Frank owers, after the Queen had spent several months in very active exploration of the mine. No reason is given for the failure to consummate the deal, but it is understood that disagreements cropped out during negotiations between the buyer and the seller.

The mine which was located and always has been owned by Powers is considered one of marvelous richness, although its owner until lately has closely guarded the secrets of its stopes. It has been reported sold half a dozen times, but Powers, at the end, never seemed to want to carry out the transaction.

It would appear that the operations of the Copper Queen have conduced to the material benefit of Powers, who is preparing to load 1000 sacks of ore, said to be worth at least $100 a sack. The single shipment will have value exceeding $100,000. It will go under guard of shotgun-armed watchmen to the Selby smelter at San Francisco where reduction will be under the eye of the owner himself.

The Copper Queen will not abandon the Patagonia district, where it has taken options upon a number of copper properties considered of largest promise.

NO INCREASE ASKED.

FALL RIVER (Mass.) Dec. 7.—There will be no advance in the wages of the 30,000 cotton mill operatives of Fall River at this time. It was announced by the textile council that as a result of a conference between representatives of the manufacturers and the unions no formal demands for an increase would be presented. An advance of 10 per cent. in wages was made last spring.

Fort Bidwell.

UNDISMAYED BY STORMY SEASON.

Mining Operators to Be Active Despite Winter.

Inventor Says New Smelting Process Is Success.

Idle Plant Is Decaying; Is to Be Dismantled.

FT. BIDWELL (Cal.) Dec. 5.—Despite the stern regime of winter, several high-grade mining companies have arranged for extensive operations during the prevalence of the stormy season. Surface activities are seriously handicapped by heavy snow, but vigorous underground work is progressing at the Modoc mines, Yellow Jacket, Sunshine and one or two other properties. The more powerful companies are adding to their ore reserves during the winter in order to commence heavy production with the coming of the spring.

The most important work under way in the district is being done by the Modoc Mines Company, composed of Chicago capitalists. The shaft has passed the 135-foot point and is being sent to the 200 level. A drift was recently sent out from the 100-foot level and at a point thirty feet from the shaft encountered a three-foot shoot assaying $20 per ton. From the 200 level a second drift will be extended to cut this vein.

Should results continue satisfactory the shaft will be sent deeper and further drifting prosecuted. The management plans the erection of a milling plant in the spring. In the surface working good grade quartz is exposed.

Leasors are active on other portions of the Modoc estate.

Considerable work is under way on the Sunshine claims, owned largely by Los Angeles people. The Twin Lease Mining Company is extracting rich ore from the Sunshine tunnel and making small shipments of selected quartz. The vein is reported to be showing excellent values and fair strength as work advances. The Lucky Dutchman lease of the Spearmint Company on the Yellow Jacket claim of the Sunshine group is down fifty feet on good grade ore.

This property was one of the first to attract interest to the camp, and the owners confidently predict they have the makings of a bonanza producer. Surface ore of exceptionally rich character has been extracted, and the shoot is stated to be showing excellent ore as development progresses. The lease is controlled largely by Colorado people.

With the settlement of friction among stockholders of the Ft. Bidwell group, it is understood that plans are being formulated for the vigorous development of the Mountain View and Sugar Pine claims. It is stated that all indebtedness has been liquidated and that funds are available for the consummation of important work. The property is the most extensively developed in the district, and is equipped with a ten-stamp mill and other modern machinery. Los Angeles and Detroit people are concerned.

NEW PROCESS PROMISING.

The new electrical process for the elimination of noxious fumes from smelters, under trial at the Heroult electric iron smelter, is declared by the inventor to be a practical success.

A recent test of the apparatus was made and results proved highly satisfactory. The process has been de-

THE NEW CITY

East San Diego

(Formerly City Heights)

Incorporated—

The large tract of land adjoining San Diego on the East and for several years known as City Heights has been legally incorporated as a municipality of the Sixth class. The new city has been approved by the Secretary of State, and the charter granted. Officers for the ensuing year have been elected and regular meetings are being held in temporary quarters pending the proposed construction of the City Hall Building.

And NOW we have the City of EAST SAN DIEGO. If there ever was a time when this section was destined to grow and offered golden opportunities for profit, that time is at hand NOW. The future that looms up before this new city promises vastly greater things than even the most optimistic booster ever dreamed could come to pass. The opening of the Canal—the great 1915 Exposition, in fact, all the wonderful prosperity in store for San Diego means a greater EAST SAN DIEGO.

Phenomenal Growth—

Five years ago East San Diego was a broad stretch of sage brush. Today it is a highly developed city of 4000 people, in fact, it is the largest municipality of its age in California, and already is the second largest city in San Diego county. During these five years of phenomenal development, values in the business section have grown from $50 to a maximum of $6000 for 50-foot lots. At the present time new water meters are being installed at the rate of 30 to 50 per month, which means an increase of nearly 150 people each month.

These facts mean CERTAIN PROFITS for those who have the foresight to buy property in East San Diego today.

Strategic Location—

East San Diego lies east of the City of San Diego. It is impossible to tell where the cities unite as the whole territory is being so rapidly built up. Furthermore, San Diego is forced by geographical conditions to expand most rapidly toward the east, and here East San Diego is most advantageously situated to reap the tremendous profits, which are bound to be the result of the next few years growth.

East San Diego is 350 feet in elevation, and the entire city lies within the five-mile circle from San Diego Harbor. The territory is served by one of the best car lines in San Diego—double tracks, five minute service, five-cent fare. A great deal of the property is restricted and fully improved with all modern conveniences on the ground. The climate in East San Diego cannot be excelled.

I offer for sale over sixty acres for subdivision—the last acreage of this sort that you can buy on San Vicente Boulevard, for less than $2000. It will be worth $5000 in three years, but in order to get rid of it quickly, I have put a price on it that makes it the cheapest acreage between Los Angeles and the beaches. It adjoins the big Brentwood Place Subdivision; it is opposite Brentwood Park; it is convenient to Los Angeles and to Santa Monica. It will give you the best subdivision purchase in the county, I firmly believe. Property in this locality is more active than that in any other portion of the county, and its activity will be heightened when the $1,000,000 improvements which have been decided on by J. B. Lankershim and John W. Mitchel at Santa Monica, are well under way.

Offers for this property must be made at once.

Hundred-room apartment-house, just occupied by tenant.

THOROUGHLY MODERN.

A modern four-story and basement apartment-house, designed by R. B. Young & Son, architects, has just been completed at No. 912 South Figueroa street for F. C. Finkle, at a cost of $50,000. The building, which has a frontage of fifty feet by a depth of 150 feet, is faced with pressed brick in two colors, with plate glass and ornamental cornices. It contains 100 rooms, divided into two and three-room apartments. The interior finish is of hardwood, the lobby being in mahogany. The building has been handsomely and richly furnished by Barker Bros. for the tenant, J. E. [illegible]. The place is known as the Finkle Arms.

SAN FRANCISCO'S PICKET NUISANCE.

DESPICABLE METHODS ADOPTED BY UNIONITES.

The Industry of Tradesmen Who Pay Taxes for Protection of Their Business Assaulted by Shabby Scarecrows Who Continually Yelp "Unfair to Organized Labor."

[The Argonaut:] The plague of the pickets is once more with us and in most offensive form. Within the radius of a mile a dozen different establishments are besieged by these greasy vagabonds with their monotonous cry of "Unfair to organized labor," unfairness apparently consisting of failure to obey promptly whatever orders the union in question may have been pleased to issue. Perhaps the order may be for an increase of wages. Perhaps it may relate to any one of the hundred labor-union devices for wasting time or stealing the money of the employer and the public. But whatever it may be, the first step in coercion is to detail some shabby scarecrow to patrol the sidewalk and verbally assault a tradesman whose taxes are supposed to guarantee him a protection in his lawful industry. We may wonder what would happen to an individual who took such a course as this in the ventilation of his grievances and how long the police would allow such an impudent proceeding to continue. A peddler noisily hawking his wares is frowned on or arrested as a public nuisance. Even to give away handbills in the street is unlawful. But the labor-union picket, offensive alike to sight, sound, and smell, hurtful to legitimate business and a discredit to orderly government, is allowed to inflict himself upon the public to his heart's content. It has been said often enough by malcontents that there is one law for the rich and another for the poor. That there is one law for the unions and another for the public is obvious and indisputable, but perhaps we shall one day reach a point where labor unions and gambling-houses are not the exclusive objects of police veneration. Labor is just beginning to learn to its undisguised amazement that its charter of immunity does not include murder by dynamite. If the good work is allowed to go on it may be persuaded that even mutilation by [illegible] and brickbats is discouraged by the law. And finally a tradesman who does an honest business and pays taxes may feel himself at liberty to appeal to the police against the [illegible] rascals who now patrol the sidewalks and invoke the aid of the law against decent citizenship.

And yet it would be well to moderate our sympathy even for the victims of the picket. They have a right to protection, but it is just as well that they should recognize that they have brought their troubles upon themselves. Labor unionism has grown and fatted from the soil of a servility as disgusting as it is abject. For too many years past the tradesmen of San Francisco have fawned upon labor unionism, flattered it, prostrated themselves before it, bumped their foreheads on the floor at its bidding. Some of the very concerns that are now being persecuted have not only worn the union collar, but have displayed it and boasted of it. Others have assured the public with tiresome iteration that only one section of American labor could expect anything at their hands and they were fully prepared to support the unions in denying the right to work and live to all save a favored minority. Not that they cared for the [illegible], union or non-union, any more than Judas Iscariot cared for the poor. But they believed that they would profit by truckling to a labor domination and to an effort ruthlessly to [illegible] the workshops of the country in favor of the few and against the many. Now they can see for themselves what they have gained by it. They have done no more than earn the contempt of those whose boots they licked. Thinking to placate the unions by an abject [illegible] obedience, they are now learning that they might as well try to placate a shark. Mr. Hearst learned the same fact when his [illegible] of flattery and adulation were followed by a labor-union attack of [illegible] after he had been [illegible] so far back that he could go [illegible]. Servility always adds disgrace to [illegible], and some of the San Francisco shopkeepers are now finding that all their unworthy and undignified efforts to placate the unions have gone for nothing and that they are persecuted, without compunction at the first signs of resistance.

We may hope that the lesson will now be learned. Labor unionism in the forms in which it has been developed in San Francisco can not be conciliated. It is impossible to win either its consideration or its favor. There can be no finality to its demands, and to attempt to meet them is only to invite more demands and ultimately to invite ruin.

INTENT WAS TO KILL.

McNamaras and Their Lot of Murderers Violated All the Rules of Warfare in Their Villainous Work.

[San Francisco Commercial News:] It would be very difficult to find a more abandoned lot of murderers than those who engaged with the McNamaras and McManigal in the work of destroying life and property in the war of the unions upon the builders's association.

There is not to be found a case of as wilful violation of all of the rules of war, where the plain intent is to kill, as was practiced in the war of the dynamiters upon the builders.

There was no heed given to noncombatants, for instance, when women and children were all subjected to the wrath of these fiends if they happened to be in the way of the destruction of a victim.

Dynamite was carried in trains laden with women and children, and caches were made in districts and in public places where in case of discharge the loss of life would have been appalling.

In one instance they even pursued a woman who was supposed to have too much information, and schemed to blow her up in a car filled with people.

Humanity seems to know by instinct what to do with a wild beast—we question if even the organ of anarchy would advise turning loose upon a community the beasts of prey of a passing circus.

Yet it has fairly wept crocodile tears over the incarceration of the gang that wrought more harm to humanity than a dozen wild beasts would have been able to do in the same time.

CANADIAN PACIFIC CLERKS.

Railroad Company Says Confidential Employees Cannot Be Allowed to Belong to Any Organization.

[Railway Age Gazette:] The Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, claiming to represent 5000 men on the Canadian Pacific, has for some time been threatening a strike on that road, and late reports from Winnipeg said that 1500 of these men, mostly clerks in the freight department, had left their work. They had demanded a large increase of pay. Officers of the road said that the places of the strikers would be filled without much delay. The government Minister of Labor refused to appoint a board of conciliation, and the railway company not only refused to deal with the representatives of the brotherhood, but announced that it would not nominate a member of the proposed conciliation board. Giving its reasons for its position, the railway company said: "We cannot permit any employees engaged in confidential positions or who have access to the company's correspondence to be a member of any organization, as such would be contrary to the interests of the company. If the employees were permitted to join an organization such as this the records of the company would be confidential no longer. The company from time to time has granted and quite recently granted substantial increases to the above-mentioned class of employees."

NEW SMELTER IN SUMMER.

Calumet and Arizona Plant Will Start Operations to Be Running About July.

BISBEE (Ariz.) Dec. 6.—The new Calumet and Arizona smelter at Douglas is to be ready for operation next July, though the reverberatory plant will probably be started in the springtime. The two great stacks, over 300 feet high, have been completed, as well as most of the brick and steel structural work. Another furnace has been started in the Calumet and Arizona works especially to handle Shattuck ore, which is coming at the rate of 250 tons a day. The Calumet and Arizona shipments from Bisbee to Douglas amount to twenty-eight carloads a day, with three carloads more purchased by the El Paso smelter. Taken altogether the Copper Queen and Calumet and Arizona ore shipments from Bisbee now amount to 110,000,000 pounds a day.

After next July the Shattuck has contracted to deliver 500 tons a day. Within the last few weeks a great lens of high-grade ore, 30x60x90 feet, has been developed in the mine. It is said to be worth about $2,000,000.

Offices of Union Tool Co. at Torrance.

One of a hundred handsome homes, just completed at Torrance.

Administration Building at Torrance.

Comparatively few people realize the tremendous amount of development work completed, under way, and slated for the modern industrial town of Torrance.
Although thousands of people have visited this beautiful and systematically-planned industrial center during the past few weeks—Southern California in general is not as yet thoroughly awake to what is being accomplished here by some of the strongest industrial and financial industries in the West.

Millions of dollars are being expended with a lavish hand—no expense is being spared to make Torrance the most beautiful and practical industrial city in the world. When fully completed, Torrance will compare favorably, from a civic and public improvement standpoint, with Southern California's finest cities.

A visit to Torrance today will prove really educational and highly interesting—the vast plant of the Union Tool Co. will impress you—the sites and preliminary operations of the various other industries will show you the trend of things—the high type of municipal improvements, the asphalt and oil macadam street work, the extensive residential development, erection of large business and hotel buildings and the general activity along other lines WILL PROVE TO YOU THAT TORRANCE IS A CITY OF SPLENDID REALITIES.

The Modern Industrial City

An investment in either business or residence property at Torrance today is bound to ultimately bring two to fourfold profits. Nothing can stem the tide of progress of this favorably located and strongly financed industrial city. Torrance has everything in its favor. Commandingly located between two great centers of development—Los Angeles and her Harbor district—Torrance can only grow, progress, expand—the logical location for the industries of a city that is destined to be the New York of the Pacific Coast.

Torrance is the haven of the manufacturer who seeks a moderate-priced location, terminal rates, natural gas, fuel oil, electric power and ideal civic and industrial conditions.

FARMERS WANTED

IN FERTILE MARICOPA COUNTY

SALT RIVER VALLEY ARIZONA

THIS fertile country wants actual settlers. There is an abundance of "stored water" for all irrigation purposes and the land awaits the hand of man to make it produce with great profit.

The sun shines in Arizona and you can make hay and lots of it. It is the greatest growing country in the world and the home of big alfalfa crops and big profits.

Arizona oranges are shipped east in time for Thanksgiving. The fruit is ripe, sweet and splendidly flavored.

The Salt River Valley is famous for fattening stock. Hundreds of car loads are being shipped here for winter feeding. A Swiss who has lived in the Salt River Valley eight years and who has been in the dairy business all his life, writes: "I never have seen a country where stock does so well and matures so quickly."

Phoenix, the Capital of Arizona, is a winter paradise. It has a climate unsurpassed by Egypt or Italy. Phoenix has many beautiful schools, churches and public buildings. There are other good towns in the Salt River Valley, such as Mesa, Tempe, Glendale, Peoria and Chandler.

The mining community of Arizona consumes a great deal of the early fruit, vegetables and other products of the soil. There is, however, such a strong demand east of the Rocky Mountains for all our products, that a good many of them are shipped to distant points at splendid prices.

For the man with a little money and a willingness to work, Maricopa County, Arizona, offers wonderful opportunities.

For further particulars, address VERNON L. CLARK, Immigration Commissioner, Department Five, 403 Fleming Block, Phoenix, Arizona.

GUAM IS DEVELOPING.

The Island Has Great Agricultural Possibilities Which Are Being Developed by Experiment Station.

[Washington Star:] Little Guam is developing under the tutelage of the Federal government into an almost self-supporting community. The Department of Agriculture has just received the annual report of the experiment station there and the island is shown to have possibilities that have been neglected for generations.

When the department first took hold of the island even plows were unknown among the natives, and, simple as this implement was, its introduction worked quite an agricultural revolution. The experience of the experiment station has shown that the principle trouble with the island was neglect. The climate was good and it was found, after a few experiments, that all the soil needed was a little rational cultivation.

The experiment station has raised and distributed forage grasses, fruits and vegetables. There has been a great lack of good varities in all these lines. The natives seemed to have no idea of anything except what happened to grow naturally and the varieties of this sort were limited.

An introduced variety of pineapple was a case in point. The new variety grew well and the fruit reached ten pounds in weight. None of the native specimens ever reached five. Both pineapples and forage grasses have been distributed as widely as possible.

The experiment station has been a missionary influence in its buildings and neatly-kept grounds, as much as in its agricultural work. The example to the natives has been good and Mr. Thompson, the author of the report, says it has been much needed.

There are still a number of mysteries connected with agriculture that need working out. It has been impossible, for some unknown reason, to grow onions from seed, and, in the case of some introduced corn, the seed raised in Guam failed to germinate at all.

Right beside it, in a patch of native corn apparently planted and cared for under exactly similar conditions, the yield was good.

The work of the station is being extended and it is probable in a little while that the island will be able to raise its own food and stop importing rice from Japan.

NEW OIL FIELD IS PROMISING.

VERDE VALLEY LOOKS LIKE A COMING DISTRICT.

Expert Has Examined Territory and Says Indications Are as Good as in Leading Regions—Development Work Has Not Been in Skilled Operators' Hands.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the minds of all who have made investigation there is no doubt that in the Verde Valley is one of the coming oil fields of the nation. One California expert who was recently on the ground declared he considers the indications fully as good as ever known in Pennsylvania or California. The extent of the field is surprising, for oil of a paraffine base has been found at a depth exceeding 1000 feet in wells twenty-five miles apart, the lower being only a short distance from old Camp Verde.

The principal trouble has been that the development of the field has not been in the hands of skilled oil men, coupled with the fact that little capital was available. One well, sunk to the depth of 1500 feet, is said to have cost less than $4000, while similar work elsewhere, under the same conditions, usually is estimated as involving an expenditure of $20,000.

The result has been in this particular well that the drill has been ruined by an artesian flow of water and now another well will have to be sunk, well-cased and much more carefully handled. All this will take much money and the promoters are looking around for moneyed men.

In the three wells which have been sunk to any depth, several strata of oil-bearing sand have been penetrated, though the greatest flow is from shale, struck near the bottom. From one well the flow of artesian water, when run into a reservoir, carries with it a gallon or so of oil an hour.

The Verde Valley lies between the Black Hills, an ancient granitic mass, and the great rim of the Mogollon Plateau, which has been thrust up on the eastward to the height of a couple of thousand feet. This plateau, of comparatively modern geological formation, is capped to several thousand feet of depth with carboniferous and blue limestone, and gray and red sandstone. These strata are plainly defined in the great gash of the Grand Canyon, and at their base is found a deep deposit of slate, in place for hundred of miles of length

It is believed that this deposit of slate is the very same in which oil is found in the Verde Valley, where the floor of the country, though much more deeply eroded, is the same as that of the plateau, of which undoubtedly it was once a part.

Nearer the Grand Canyon and in the extreme northern edge of the Verde Valley, tremendous volcanic action was known during a comparatively late geologic period, mainly centering around the tremendous bulk of the San Francisco peaks, which themselves are surrounded by not less than 500 volcanic cones. But the Verde Valley is still in place, with the strata almost undisturbed. This is the reason for the comparatively small surface showing of oil and there is admiration for the pluck of the men who put their dollars into the ground upon only the basis of a geological probability.

DOUBLE FRONTAGE.

New Apartments to Face Both on Twelfth and Winfield Streets—Fire Escapes to Be Artistic.

Construction will be begun within a week upon a three-story brick apartment-house of attractive design and modern appointments which is projected by S. L. Weintraub for a site fronting on both Twelfth and Winfield streets and situated between Georgia and Sentous streets. Plans for the improvement have just been completed by the architect, R. M. Tayor, and bids are being taken.

The lot to be improved is fifty feet wide by ninety feet in depth The building will contain twenty-one apartments of two and three rooms each, together with a large lobby, a basement amusement room and a sun parlor. Both street fronts will be handsomely finished in pressed brick. Fire escapes will be carried through reinforced concrete balconies and will enhance rather than detract from the appearance of the building. The windows throughout will be of the casement type.

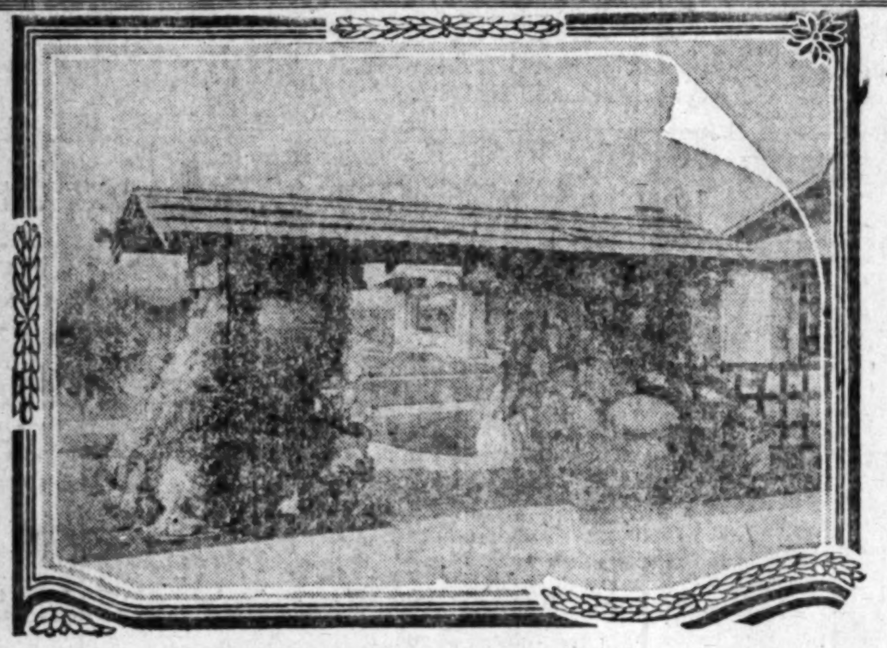
Live Without Lungs.

[Sunday Magazine:] It is a fact that, while the common snail has lungs, heart and a general circulation, being in every respect an air-breathing creature, it is nevertheless able to live indefinitely without inhaling the least bit of air, an element supposed to be essential to the existence of all creatures endowed with lungs.

A high authority once said, "To all organized creatures the removal of oxygen, water, nourishment and heat causes death to ensue."

It thus appears that when that statement was made the authority quoted did not appear to take into consideration the snail as being one of the "organized beings." The experiments of one scientist, however, have clearly demonstrated that any or all of the usual life conditions may be removed in the case of the snail without terminating its existence, or indeed impairing its functions.

The snail retreats into its shell on the approach of frosty weather, and causes the opening or mouth of its shell to be hermetically sealed by a secretion of silky texture absolutely impervious to air and water. In this condition, therefore, it is plain that the little creature is deprived of three of the four elements of life, viz., air, water and naurishment.



The Beautiful Entrance to Hampton Court

Hampton Court is the Place to Build Your New Home

For the discriminating person who desires a location for a home, none will be found that will compare with Hampton Court, located in the heart of the fashionable Wilshire district.

Hampton Court with its vine and rose-covered pergolas—its beautiful private drive—its broad parkings — its commanding view of the mountains—its protective restrictions—should appeal to those who desire distinctiveness and exclusiveness. MARTIAL LAW IS JUSTIFIED.

State Commission Reports on Coal Strike.

West Virginians Paid Better Than Union Miners.

Operators Within Rights in Open Shop Policy.

CHARLESTON (W. Va.) Dec. 3.—The commission appointed by Gov. Glasscock to investigate conditions in the mine strike territory has made its report. It criticises both the coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America. It charges the operators with "the vicious strife-promoting, un-American guard system."

The miners are charged with an effort to insert a "thin wedge of unionism in the district."

The commission was headed by Bishop J. B. Donahue of Wheeling. The report states, in citing the conditions that led up to the martial law proclamation, that in the opinion of expert witnesses on the scene, martial law was the only measure to meet a desperate situation.

MORE POWER FOR EXECUTIVE.

The commission recommends that greater power be given the Governor to remove peace officers who fail to enforce the law and that the Governor be authorized to appoint special police and prohibit the employment of private guards. It advocates the workingmen's compensation law.

OPERATORS RIGHT.

The commission finds that the operators are within their rights in declining to recognize the union which would place them in a helpless minority when joined to those of the four competitive States of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. The miners have the right to organize and with the West Virginia operators agree upon a scale. It is stipulated that the organization enforce terms of contract, punish parties violating the contract, and fix some standard of membership to raise efficiency.

BETTER PAY THAN UNION.

The commission found the miners in the West Virginia strike territory averaged between six and seven hundred dollars annually, while the entire State for the years 1905-1911, inclusive, average a little more than $554. The State of Illinois, a unionized State, was given as $510, while Ohio and Western Pennsylvania are said to be below Illinois.

It also finds that a blacklisting system existed at some places and that excessive prices were charged for foodstuffs.

THE DYNAMITERS.

Confessions of the McNamaras Enable the Public to Believe the Revelations Made by McManigal.

[Portland Spectator.] If they had not before them the confessions of the McNamaras, it is likely that the people would have refused to believe the story of Mc.Manigal. It is without parallel in the criminal history of this country, and it was to prevent its publication from the witness stand as much as to save their necks that the McNamaras confessed to the destruction of the Times Building and the murder of twenty-one men in Los Angeles.

The leaders of the ironworkers' union were bad for murder and destruction. Men of a low order of intelligence their idea of winning "industrial justice" centered about the use of dynamite; they arbitrated their difficulties with employers with nitroglycerine when the people they employed as tools knew too much they sought to assassinate them with the gun and bomb. The McNamaras were for blowing Los Angeles off the map; and one of the brothers plotted to kill with dynamite the stenographer to whom he had dictated his murderous orders, and with whom he professed to be in love.

These union leaders were as devoid of heart as they were lacking in mentality. They destroyed valuable property without regret and murdered innocent persons without compunction; and they thought that their broad trail of destruction and blood would never be crossed. The immunity they temporarily enjoyed made them bold, to the point of rashness, and they placed their dynamite and exploded their nitroglycerine with a recklessness that, while it terrorized those whom they sought to intimidate, proved their own undoing.

As the trial in Indianapolis proceeds, the public gains an insight into the methods by which some union leaders have worked to inculcate the doctrine of industrial justice. When the trial is over, and the men who conspired with the McNamaras to destroy property and life, are sent to join the McNamaras, it will be better for unionism. Many—very many—union men will rejoice as heartily as the independent workmen when the prison doors close on the last of the union dynamiters and murderers.

RAILWAY WORKERS' WAGES.

No Limit to Demands Short of the Ability of the Roads to Secure the Requisite Money.

[The Square Deal:] Representatives of organized railway labor have set no limit to their demands short of the utmost ability of the railroads to pay; railway wages in their opinion can never be high enough; they are willing to indorse the railroads' demands for higher rates, out of which higher wages might be paid, and, in fact, this proposition has been seriously advanced by some of the leaders; they will not, however, concede that railway wages can be limited, that, for example, the locomotive engineer should be restricted to a maximum of $150 per month, a salary upon which he can purchase his home and send his children to the high school. They desire that his wages should rise to $250 per month, upon which he can send his children to college. No matter how high railway wages go, they are still too low, in his own opinion, for his abilities, his responsibilities and his hours.

"INDUSTRIAL UNIONISM."

[EDITORIAL.]

BY a vote of almost two to one, industrial unionism was defeated November 20, in the Rochester (N. Y.) convention of the American Federation of Labor. To everybody's surprise, John Mitchell, one of the Federation vice-presidents, whose handling of labor questions in the past has been comparatively conservative, strongly declared that he was in favor of industrialism, which is, by the way, a socialistic phase of labor's attitude and action. On the other hand, James P. Eagan, delegate of the Ohio Federation of Labor, a member of the Typographical Union, characterized those who urged industrialism as "papier-mache revolutionists, advocating free love and Fletcherism."

Industrial unionism proposes to unite in the same organization, members of all trades and workers in occupations that are not recognized as trades, in order (as its advocates wrongly think) to secure a more thorough community of interest and action. What they are really aiming at is to compel all strikes to be general strikes, even though only one particular trade is in dispute with employers. That plan is monstrous, as it practically amounts to "confiscation of property" (interest on capital and profits are "property") as against employers in the trades where no labor dispute is active when the general strike is forced on.

The theory is hopelessly faulty. Interests thus merged would be so inherently diversified that community of them would be utopian. Each trade has its own particular interests, different entirely from the interests of other trades. Skilled labor would, naturally, be in direct opposition to unskilled labor, while the latter predominates in quantity.

The proposition failed completely a quarter of a century ago in the organization, a very large one, then known as the Knights of Labor, whose chief, Terence V. Powderly, afterwards publicly admitted that, as such chief, he had knowingly been deceiving labor for sixteen years. This statement was a matter of current knowledge and caustic comment at the time. That organization tried to succeed by sheer strength of numbers (as industrial unionism now proposes.) It acted unwisely, and went to pieces. Public sympathy was not behind it in its "crushing-down" programme, and no programme of labor action can ever succeed without the aid of public sympathy. It was braving the public and trying to "starve London out" that recently cost the dock workers of London their ten weeks' strike, at a loss of nearly three hundred million dollars, with thousands of them and many more thousands of their wives and children, starving yet.

It is the Socialist and I.W.W. element in the Federation of Labor that is now trying to bring about a revival of promiscuous industrial unionism. The aim is extension of the tyrannous, anarchistic and property and life destructive principles of the I.W.W. Its members are almost, if not altogether, unskilled or semi-skilled workers (mainly foreigners) who would like the assistance of the strong trades unions (particularly the decent 90 per cent. of their membership) for its propaganda for the confiscation, the stealing of employers' property.

Intelligently-conducted trades unionism, the 90 per cent decent part of it particularly, must be constantly on guard against, and aggressively and eternally opposed to the efforts of its Socialist members, to dominate its councils and shape its policies, in order to avert ultimate demoralization of the unions, their principles and their power.

Bravo.

LOYAL LEAGUE OF WOMEN TO COMBAT SOCIALISM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With its purpose that of preserving loyalty to home, nation, flag and American courts by counteracting the work being done by the "red flag" Socialists of the country, the women of Oregon have started a nation-wide campaign to establish a loyal league.

President Taft's sanction has been obtained. The league is open to women over 16 years, regardless of birth. Pledges to loyalty are required.

League colors are red, white and blue; the flower, a white carnation; the motto, "E Pluribus Unum," and the insignum a small American flag.

The officers of the league are: President, Mrs. L. Bronson-Salmon; vice-presidents, Mrs. L. Belle Misner, Mrs. Jessie C. Reed, Mrs. Helene Tomlins; secretary, Mrs. Laura B. Bartlett; treasurer, Mrs. L. H. Edwards; instructor, Mrs. E. E. Tinney.

Dr. Mary A. Thompson, for forty-five years an earnest, loyal and devoted worker along the lines of woman's uplift in Oregon, now 87 years old, was by a rising vote elected exalted past president.

Tantrums.

GO TO THE DICKENS DEBS SAYS TO COURT.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

TERRE HAUTE (Ind.) Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Eugene V. Debs, indicted by the Federal Court of Kansas last week, dictated the folowing statement:

"I am going to tell them to go straight to hell. They can put me in jail if they want to, but before they get through I will turn their courts and jails bottomside up. It will take some time to do it, but I will live long enough to see it done.

"Harry Bone, United States Attorney in Kansas, who is responsible for the indictment, is a degenerate scoundrel. If that statement is contempt of Federal Judge John C. Pollock's court let him make the most of it. The whole court is rotten.

"I may go to the penitentiary, but if I do they will wish they had let me alone. Stories will be brought out on Bone that will make him wish he had never been born. I don't care how quickly the marshal comes, but there will be something doing after they arrest me."

Labor's Unrest.

STRIKES ON AND OFF AND STRIKES COMING.

THE Sun of New York is of the opinion that the $7,000,000 a year wages increase demanded by the engineers of the fifty-two eastern railroads has been cut down by the arbitrator's award to nearer $2,000,000 a year, but a worse result than the present inroad into net earnings is feared. Those who fear the worst in the railroad offices believe that the award will immediately stimulate other classes of the employees of the fifty-two roads to insist on demands already formulated, which, if granted, will impose an additional yearly wage expense on these roads of $52,000,000. The trainmen alone ask for $20,000,000 a year more. How easily and fairly all such matters as these could be equitably adjusted under a Federal compulsory arbitration law — giving labor its fair share each year (based on earnings of the previous year) and not, as now, making a sudden dead cut, solely for labor's benefit, into this year's decreased profits of the stockholders. It is only fair that labor shall suffer, in poor times, decreased earnings on its capital—labor —while the stockholders are suffering decreased earnings on their capital — cash — the capital which makes it possible to regularly find the money for labor's pay rolls.

Leaders and other members of the I.W.W. are deluded if they regard, as one of them does, the acquittal of Ettor, Giovannitti and Caruso in the Lawrence murder case as "a vindication of the Industrial Workers of the World." That organization was not on trial. The verdict in the case is not an indorsement of or judgment upon, its activities, its methods, its aims. Three men were on trial, as individuals, charging a specific crime. Of that they were declared not guilty. The verdict concerns only them, as the trial concerned only them. The status of the I.W.W. remains unCharged. Its tendencies are toward anarchism. Its avowed aim is confiscation of property. Its leaders confess openly and boast openly that in their effort to accomplish that fell purpose they will harass employers with frequent strikes, caring little whether demands made to give semblance of justification for striking are granted or not, but having in view always their declared ultimate purpose to make the business of employers so unprofitable that they will be compelled to surrender it. The I.W.W. remains what it was from the beginning, an organization formed for a lawless purpose, a menace, therefore, not only to industrial peace, but also to society at large, and therefore to be combated by all legitimate means available. England is troubled with the same brand of dangerous labor union (so-called) because Ben Tillett, the notoriously blasphemous labor leader and agitator of London (whose blasphemous and incendiary speeches kept the busted London dockers' strike alive for ten weeks at a loss of $300,000,000,) said on November 26: "English workingmen's hearts are gladdened by the acquittal of our comrades, Ettor, Giovannitti and Caruso. It shows that in spite of all charges of judicial corruption workingmen can get justice in America." William D. Haywood, the I.W.W. leader, won't like that, as he gets money, big money, for lecturing to the contrary. There is also rejoicing in Italy in labor circles. The revolutionary Socialists, however, although they profess to be pleased with the verdict, are disappointed at being deprived of three more "martyrs."

"Big Bill" Haywood, promoter of violence in labor disputes, came out in his true colors at the Rochester A. F. of L. convention by striking one of the delegates a blow in the face. He was ordered to be "removed" from the hall, but the delegates forestalled such action by rising from their seats and "going for" Haywood. That valiant orator took to his heels and sped swiftly through the streets, pursued by the angry delegates. Finding himself closely pursued, he took refuge in a laundry, where the women employees protected him until policemen arrived. That's the cowardly kind of "valiant" leader Haywood of the I.W.W. is. He is a disgrace to union labor, even the I.W.W.

"J. B. McNamara told me if we detectives did not take the $30,000 (offered to let him escape,) Clarence Darrow would," said Police Sergeant Guy Biddinger of Chicago under oath at the Indianapolis dynamite conspiracy trial the other day. Was that $30,000 part of the $200,000 sent by Gompers to Darrow for "my friends the innocent McNamaras?" Or did Darrow get that $30,000 in addition to the $200,000, and if so, how much of it did Harriman and Scott get—jointly or severally? Biddinger also swore that J. B. McNamara said "it would be the greatest case ever heard of, for the American Federation of Labor (Gompers & Co.) would defend him." Gompers's friend, J. B. McNamara, the murderer, said that, remember.

If an effective railroad strike had occurred in the eastern part of the United States it would not only have been disastrous to the railroads and resulted in great loss to the engineers and all other employees, whose payroll, excluding general officers is $466,000,000 a year, but would have meant a loss to the public vastly larger than that of both parties to the conflict. A successful general railway strike in the East would have put that great section of the country in much the same situation as France was placed a few years ago, when there was a general railroad strike in that country. The yearly pay roll (before the $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 arbitration award increase,) was $38,000,000, or 41 per cent. of the total wages of all railroad engineers in the country. These fifty-two eastern roads serve $37,600,000 people, or more than 40 per cent. of our entire population. They operate nearly 70,000 miles of main track—more than one-fourth of our total railroad mileage.

Strike trouble is again brooding in the English and Irish railway world. The men want to "go back" on their three years' settlement agreement of August, 1912. J. M. Thomas, member of Parliament, and secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, says the trouble is rapidly developing into serious proportions. He insists that there is danger of another general British railway strike, and he, if anyone, ought to know.

Chicago union men evidently have no "ear for music." All they want is union labels on the violins played in Chicago. Stradivarius need not apply—nor a Cremona either. As one delegate from the Band Makers' Union said, "Music from a tin pan would sound sweet to a union man if a union label was on the pan." What is more musical, a "Strad" or a union label? In the last twenty years, strikes have cost German workers, for relief money, besides the many millions of lost wages, the gigantic sum of $25,869,548. The year 1910 was the most costly, $4,641,000, followed by a cost of $4,117,000 in 1911. Twenty years ago (1892) the strike cost was only $11,900. So much for union labor strike foolishness in Germany, though we are wasting millions more here each year in the same silly way.

Lawrence, Mass., had an unusual Thanksgiving Day celebration. In gratitude for the restoration of peace, and in protest to the I.W.W. red flag of anarchy, bells were rung, the Stars and Stripes freely displayed, and crowded, impressive services held in the churches.

The cloak pressers of New York demanded a raise of wages from $21 to $25 a week; the under pressers also demanded $22 a week, instead of $18. There are 10,000 members in the pressers' branch of the Cloakmakers' Union, with its membership of 75,000. The Cloakmakers' Union is the largest local union in any trade in New York's gigantic clothing industry.

A big strike is fomenting at Homestead, Pa. The men demand an increase of 70 cents a day. Hundreds of trainmen in the yards and mills of the Steel Corporation are already out. Three mills have closed down, throwing out 20,000 workers. Organizers of the revolutionary I.W.W. are active among the men, urging a general strike in the whole Pittsburgh district. Predictions are made that the present trouble is the forerunner of a great strike that has been developing for several years in the steel mills. Early in the summer Gompers annnounced that Pittsburgh would be the battleground in the contest for establishing unionism throughout America, says the Sun of New York. A strike at the National Tube Works, a Steel Corporation subsidiary immediately followed, with shootings and clubbings in the streets. That's Gompers all over; he hypocritically talks "peace" and secretly practices "war." National Organizer Thomas Flinn of the A. F. of L. has been in the Pittsburgh district most of the time since last July, following Gompers, and now the strike follows Flinn, with Haywood there recently adding Socialist-anarchist fuel to the flame. Another Homestead strike and riots of 1892, is threatened.

W. E. Clark, representing the I.W.W., has (like Mayor Lunn of Schenectady, at Little Falls, N. Y.,) landed himself in jail at Utica, N. Y., for incendiary speeches to mill workers. He and other agitators went to Utica to get sympathy and help for the Little Falls striking textile workers. The city judge of Utica attended the meetings and heard Clark threaten to incite there another Chicago "Haymarket" riot.

The bakers of London, England, will postpone their projected Christmas, strike.

Customs inspectors along the Niagara frontier want their pay raised from $3 a day (where it has stood for fifty years) to $3.50. It's about time (fifty years) that these fellows had a raise. The New York City inspectors get $6 a day, and the Niagara men want that pay eventually. There is reason in these claims. Chief Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers says the talk of a strike against the award by the eastern engineers is "all nonsense." They will stay by the award till it expires on May 1, 1913. No one can now tell what may happen when that day comes.

REPORTS ON WAGES AND CONDITIONS

Timely Bulletins from All Parts of the World.

IT is simply monstrous, the way that women are allowed to work in the foundries of the State of New York, as disclosed to the Factory Commission, headed by Senator Robert T. Wagner of that State. Any one who has visited a foundry, especially at the "pour" hour, will have noted, from the condition as to clothing of the men, that it is no place whatever for a woman to be working in. Furthermore, the work itself is entirely too arduous and exhaustive for women. The male molders are strongly and properly urging that women be prohibited by law from such employment. Till such a law is passed the State of New York stands disgraced in its treatment of working women. It's no excuse for the representative of the National Founders' Association to say to the commission that only 200 women are so working. Be it two hundred, or twenty, or only two, this un-American treatment of women should be stopped and stopped right away, even though women can be found who are willing to work in a foundry.

"The spectacle of women working in foundries in this State," declared T. Probert of the Molders' Union of Brooklyn, "is a disgrace. I know of thousands of sick and death benefits that have been paid as a result of this work."

The New York State Factory Commission, whose work for months has been painstaking and thorough, has unearthed another very bad condition of factory work, by children and women in the canneries of that State. The commission employed Miss Mary Elizabeth Chamberlain, a Vassar College graduate, as a private detective. She secured employment in the canneries and now reports under oath, partly as follows:

"I saw children ranging in ages from 4 years up employed "snipping" beans, husking corn, or sorting peas or beans (mark that—children from 4 years up.)

"The spectacle of these little human machines, some of them 4 or 5 and 6 years old, and some of them with their fingers wrapped up in bandages, the result of having them split in their work, was as sad as it was shocking."

During the busy season, testified Miss Chamberlain, the youngsters worked regularly from 4 o'clock a.m. until 10 p.m. [18 hours, less brief intervals for snatches of food, not real meals, doubtless—the writer,] and sometimes until midnight. Appalling as it is to see these little tots on cold mornings wrapped in blankets, at work in the canning sheds, scarcely awake.

"Some of the children would fall asleep; others would cry and want to quit work, but I have seen them whacked by their parents and compelled to stay at their places." [This complicity on the part of the parents does not relieve the cannery owners from the primary and continuing guilt of allowing these "babies" to work in the cannery at all.—The writer.]

"Yes," continued Miss Chamberlain, "happily enough these parents were not Americans; most of this compulsory work was at the hands of foreigners, the American mothers being more considerate of their offspring.

"One little fellow, Little Jack, I called him, told me that one morning he had been pulled out of bed at 3 o'clock and he had been up until 12 the night before." "Honest, Miss Chamberlain," said he, confiding in her, "it did not seem as if I was in bed a minute." Little Jack had worked one day from 4 o'clock a.m. until 11 o'clock p.m. and had made $1.40.

Miss Chamberlain said she slaved with other girls in the canneries for 10 cents an hour, often for fifteen or sixteen hours a day and lived in crowded apartments with the cannery toilers.

"After the commission visited one of the canneries where I was working," said the witness, "the boss said children under 5 years of age (mark that—'under 5 years of age') could not work there any more."

Zenas L. Potter, another of the commission's investigators, reported, corroborated by others, that children and women were worked excessive hours in the canneries. In some instances the women worked 119 hours a week. Their weekly average working time during the busy seasons was 70 or 80 and sometimes 90 hours a week.

More than 1300 children are employed in the canneries of New York State, of whom 952 are under 14 years of age and 141 under 7. This is all the pay they get for 10 hours' work:

Under 10 years of age	25 cents
From 10 to 14 years	50 cents
From 14 to 16 years	90 cents

The "regular" working hours for women are from 10 to 18 daily, for which they are paid 7 to 15 cents an hour. Even the children have to lift heavy boxes.

It is to the shame of the New York State Legislature that when it restricted the working hours for women to fifty-four per week, the canning industry was exempted, though to their personal credit be it stated, many of the legislators submitted to the exemption to save the rest of the bill.

Is California Free from Blame?

The foregoing makes a very bad showing for New York State as to the employment of children in its canning industry, but is California free from blame as to its use of child labor in its canneries, packing-houses, factories and workshops?

Here is part of what State Labor Commissioner Mackensie of California says in his 1909-1910 (latest) report:

"In some of the factories, workshops and packing-houses in California,

CALLING A SPADE A SPADE.

Plain Talk to a Congressman Who Supports the Anti-Injunction Movement of Gompers's Unionists.

[The Square Deal:] That some newspapers in this country are not afraid to speak out when it comes to a question of discussing labor matters in the heat of a political campaign has been shown quite frequently of late. As an example we reproduce an editorial from the Battle Creek Enquirer, a Republican paper, protesting against the return of J. M. C. Smith to Congress. The editorial was:

Now comes John M. C. Smith of Charlotte asking the people of this district to re-elect him to Congress.

He was elected before on the implied understanding that he stand for and defend the best interests of the people of this district.

He has been traitor to his trust.

He voted to prevent courts from protecting citizens, their homes and property when threatened by lawless men and rioters.

As the law now stands, whenever it is known that a band of men intend to blow up the home of a workman or intend to slug him and perhaps murder him because he works to keep his family in food, or intends to burn the factory where he works, or intends to slash harness and cut the tongues out of the horses he drives or throw acid on them, or intends to commit any other barbarous and inhuman crime against citizens; whenever, as we say, any of these things or many more, equally hideous, are intended then under our present law the courts can issue an injunction saying to these would-be criminals "You shall not thus attack citizens and their property."

But designing men who want to make the way free for their gang to do these things in order to terrorize people are demanding a law of Congress that will prevent the courts from issuing injunctions to forestal such acts.

This movement of intending rioters and law-breakers is supported by the vote of John M. C. Smith.

To further add defiance to the freedom of the common people, he flaunts in their faces his card bearing the imprint of a label of a printers' union which denies to other men the right to work unless they first "join" and pay monthly fees to the Labor Trust which has the union under control. This label is notice to everyone that only the select few who belong to the union shall print or work.

All the balance of mankind must stay out of employment in that craft. For a union to have its insignia is no harm, but it should not be used tyrannically.

Out of every 10,000 people in this district, from 9500 to 9800 are not members of the American Federation of Labor dominated by Gompers and his pals.

The few Labor Trust leaders, of course, seek all the power possible, and one way is to pass anti-injunction bills so the courts cannot stop them from committing any violence they like, when they find it necessary to frighten or beat men away from work, blow up their homes or do any other desperate act, intended to drive people to obey their commands.

We need a manly man in Congress who will represent and defend the whole people, the farmer, merchant, mechanic, clerk, doctor, manufacturer, printer, bricklayer, lawyer and every other man, no matter what his church, fraternal or political affiliation.

BETWEEN THE CITY AND THE SEA

Beverly Hills

Where Property Values Are Rising Rapidly

Beverly Hills is the finest subdivision in Southern California and probably hasn't an equal in any part of the world. Already over a million dollars has been expended by the owners in making it in every respect, an ideal, exclusive residential property. Beverly's magnificent parks, water gardens, beautiful winding avenues, give it a charm that is indescribable.

While Beverly has a very pleasing appearance from an electric car window, it is hardly just to Beverly to stop at that. You should motor along its avenues, up to some of those country estates along the foothills and to the beautiful new Beverly Hotel.

The more you study this property, the more it will appeal to you as an ideal home place; as a place where it is absolutely safe to invest money.

Whether for a home or for an investment, you cannot make a mistake at Beverly.

Hotel Beverly

We want you to see Beverly and if you will phone us when it will be convenient to make the trip, we will be glad to arrange to take you by motor car direct from our office.

EARN TWO CENTS AN HOUR.

Pitiful Wages Paid Women Workers in the Birmingham District of Free Trade, England.

[London Dispatch to New York Tribune.] Extraordinary revelations concerning the earnings of women workers in the great industrial center around Birmingham have been made by the government inquiry held in connection with the special order for the inclusion of married women within the compulsory provision of the insurance act.

Employers themselves testified that women engaged at home in hook and eye carding and similar work often earned only two cents an hour, while many of them, even by working fifty-four hours a week, could not earn more than a dollar a week. A representative of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce said that a carder of hooks and eyes might reasonably expect to earn $2.25 a week if she worked the whole week, while larger sums might be earned at carding miscellaneous goods. These, he added, were entirely unskilled workers and a child could do the work. Indeed, many children, he said, did assist their mothers.

This testimony, which met with a hostile reception from the trade unionists at the inquiry, was hardly substantiated by a director of a limited company, who said that of the 270 women outworkers employed by his firm, 20 per cent. earned under 25 cents a week, 36 per cent. under 50 cents, 21 per cent. under 75 cents, 13 per cent. under a dollar, 7 per cent. under a dollar and a quarter, 2 per cent. under a dollar and a half and 2 per cent. under a dollar and three-quarters. The highest price they paid for carding was 20 cents per great gross and the lowest, 10 cents per great gross.

Mrs. Emma Farrington, a contractor for carding, said that the most industrious of the carders did not earn more than a dollar weekly, even if they worked fifty-four hours a week, and Mrs. Scott, another employer, said an average worker could not earn more than 2 cents an hour.

Other witnesses pointed out that the majority of the women engaged in this class of work entered into it with the object of augmenting their husbands' earnings, but the general tenor of the revelations has created quite a sensation in England, where there is ever a tendency to cry shame when the subject of sweated labor is under notice, but precious little is ever done to remedy the evils.

FONTANA SALES.

Following are recent sales reported in the Fontana tract: George F. Hawks, El Paso, twenty acres; Felix Hess, Los Angeles, five acres; Charles E. Moyer, Rochester, N. Y., ten acres; T. A. Livesay, Los Angeles, ten acres, and John W. Harris, Winnipeg, Can., ten acres.

Reports on Wages and Conditions.

children of ages varying from 9 to 13 years have been found at labor of the same character as that performed by their parents and other adults, in many instances necessitating their standing throughout nearly the whole of the day. In some cases, in the vacation time, the parent undertakes to excuse the presence of the child on the ground that there are no other means of looking after its welfare during the working hours. [A veritable subterfuge.—The writer.] The superintendents and managers of these establishments also make the excuse that the children are not employed by them, and are not paid by them, but are employed and paid by their parents, if paid at all. [Another and a worse subterfuge.—The writer.] But the fact remains that the child has accomplished in the day or the week a certain amount of labor that has earned a certain specified sum, and that this sum is actually paid by the employer to the parent, and thus constitutes, though indirectly, a payment by the employer for the services of the child. In other cases, the parent declares that the earnings of the child, especially in vacation time, are necessary to the maintenance of the home; and many of them go further and declare that this necessity reaches also into those periods when the schools, in obedience to the laws, are demanding the attendance of all children within school age. . . . It is the duty of the State, its first and greatest duty, to protect the minor from the evils of labor in factory and workshop."

The Engineers' Wage Increase.

The wage advance asked by the engineers of the fifty-two eastern railroads amounted to $7,172,542, as follows:

Freight engineers	$3,383,068
Passenger engineers	1,192,291
Switching engineers	1,045,012
Due to adoption of new rules	1,552,171
Total demand	$7,172,542

The recent award gives them an advance of $3,000,000. The new yearly pay roll will be $40,000,000.

The wage rates fixed by the award run to May 1, 1913, when, it is pretty certain, the whole matter will be up again. In the meantime, the trainmen of these roads are demanding $20,000,000 a year more.

Labor Agitators' Wages Cut.

Welsh miners (coal) are making a determined effort to cut the wages of their many employed "agitators" from $20 to $15 a week, most of the miners now (as they themselves say) doing far more work for less money. The agitators are very resentful and loudly say: "We'll strike," to which the miners reply, "So will we." The sore point is that these agitators made a mess of the last strike.

Farm Wages in Ireland.

The highest farm wages in Ireland are paid in the neighborhood of Belfast and Dublin. In certain cases the wages of plowmen rise to $4.37 per week, but the general average in the better districts may be placed at $3.16 to $3.89. For all Ireland the average is $2.92 per week. These rates do not include board and lodging.

Protecting American Labor.

A raincoat-making firm in New York imported two workmen from Manchester, Eng., in violation of the alien labor contract law. The United States government sued and has been given a verdict for $2000.

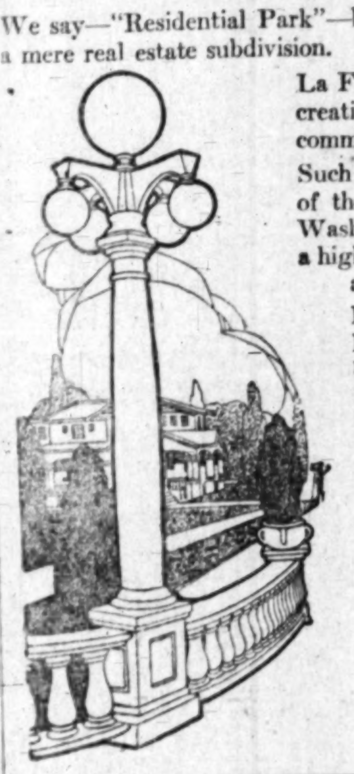
More Workers Employed Than Ever.

The General Electric Company of Schenectady, with factories there and in several other places, is now employing the largest number of people in its history. The total number September 1 was almost 50,000, which is an increase of 9000, or over 20 per cent. since the first of the year. Many other of our big manufacturing concerns could tell the same story.

La Fayette Square

A Unique Residential Park

We say—"Residential Park"—because La Fayette Square is more than a mere group of ordinary cityblocks—more than a mere real estate subdivision.



La Fayette Square was laid out with the definite thought in mind of creating a residential park that should forever stand distinctive — a community for those who wish to avoid the commonplace.

Such property—located as is La Fayette Square—on the sightly mesa of the most traversed boulevards in Southern California, between Washington Blvd., Crenshaw Blvd., and West Sixteenth, improved in a high-grade character as is La Fayette Square—and safely restricted as is La Fayette Square—must invariably command a heavy premium over ordinary city lots—for the reason that such property is extremely limited and in this aesthetic community it is in great demand.

From every practical and significant standpoint—La Fayette Square is unquestionably the most beautiful residential park in Los Angeles

In a comparatively short time La Fayette Square frontage should command a figure at least double today's prices.

Early reservations can scarcely fail to prove immensely profitable.

"Home Builders" supplies the investor with information about its financial condition

"Home Builders" management believes that the investor is entitled to the most reliable information, consequently it does just as the bank does when it issues a full Financial Statement. It makes it under oath. You cannot afford to take less authoritative information, and it is entirely proper for you to be that particular when you invest your money in the stock or securities of any company.

"Home Builders" is equally thoughtful and careful of the investor's interests in other matters; this is one of several reasons for its steady substantial growth and is reasonable assurance why it will be a very much larger institution.

"Home Builders" does not speculate—its stockholders' money is invested in well secured interest-earning channels—it is different from other companies of similar name—certainly it is safely operated—this is easily proven—you are safe here.

"Home Builders" does not subdivide acreage into city lots—it leaves that for the real estate man to do, but it does build homes for people who own these lots, and just as long as lots are made by wholesale, "Home Builders" will have a wholesale demand for its service. See the point? "Home Builders" makes its profits without speculation. It makes an initial profit (as in its building operations) when it invests its stockholders' money. It secures these investments by mortgage or otherwise, just as you would when you loan your money, and thus its invested capital is on an interest-earning basis.

"Home Builders" earnings from interest alone are more than it pays out in dividends—another good piece of financiering. From its various profit sources it pays good dividends and accumulates a surplus. It puts at least $2.00 away into surplus for every $1.00 it pays out in dividends. While it could pay larger dividends it is safer not to, because you can't eat your apple and have it.

Don't you think this is safe enough management to handle your money? You can become a stockholder and profit-sharer, you know.

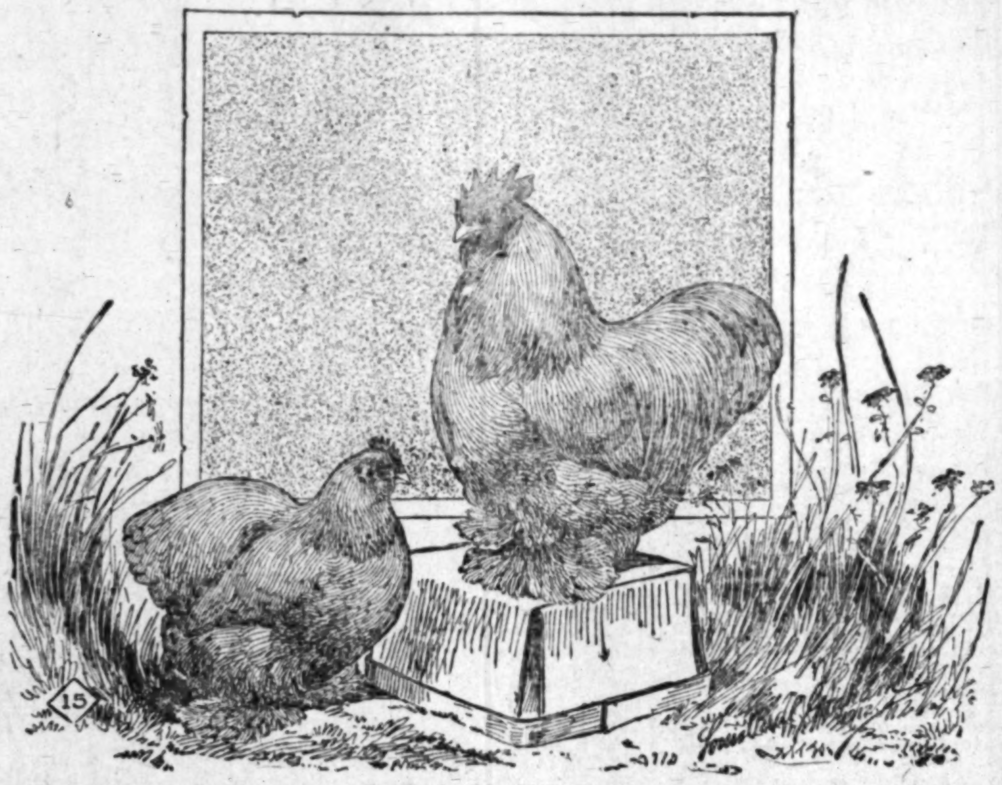
PIGEON KEEPING AND PRODUCTION OF SQUABS FOR THE MARKET.



Buff Cochin Bantams.

One of the most popular breeds. Its ancestors, known as Peking Bantams, were among the spoils taken from the Summer Palace in Peking, when it was sacked by the Anglo-French expedition in 1860. They found their way to England, where the painstaking fanciers bred and developed them gradually into the beautiful Buff Cochin Bantam of today. They are very small; weighing, males, thirty ounces; females, twenty-six ounces; but nevertheless, lay a large egg when considered in proportion to their size. Are great layers and the chicks mature early. They are very docile and easily confined, becoming great pets, especially with the children.

The fact that pigeons may be kept in restricted quarters where chickens would not thrive has already been commented upon. This is of special importance to the city dweller. It might also be noted that in most cases the city laws prohibiting the keeping of fowls in certain localities do not seem to operate against pigeon breeding. Apparently, their cooing note is not as objectionable as the louder and shriller calls of chickens.

As compared with baby chicks, pigeon squabs make wonderfully rapid growth. They reach full size in about a month, though the development of muscle and feathers continues for a somewhat longer period. To the breeder of exhibition stock this means "quick action," an opportunity to early judge the results secured from given matings and to change matings early enough to get results the same season. To the producer of squabs for the home table it insures a supply of delicious and nutritious meat throughout the season, always in the proper condition. Squabs may be produced every month in the year without great expense for equipment or continuous care on the part of the attendant. The same is not true of broilers or roasting chickens. Appreciating these facts, some one has aptly said that the poultryman with limited space at his disposal might well keep hens for eggs and pigeons for meat.

The consumption of squabs seems to be increasing in America. This is probably due to two separate causes. First, the general recognition that well-grown, properly-cooked squabs are mighty good eating, and most nutritious as well. The second factor is the scarcity of many of the wild game birds, quail, prairie chickens, partridge, etc., that were commonly found on the markets in huge quantities a few years ago. Not only are these birds fewer in numbers than formerly owing to the fact that they are hunted so persistently, and their natural covers greatly reduced in area, but their sale is positively prohibited in many States. This is especially true in those sections of the country where the population is dense and where the consumption would naturally be heaviest.

Hotels, restaurants and private families must look to the poultryman to supply something to take the place of these game birds, and the answer to the demand has come in the way of lightweight broilers, ducklings, pheasants, guinea chickens and squabs.

The commercial supply of squabs now comes in large measure from the countless small flocks found all over the country. These are usually picked up by dealers or hucksters and shipped to dealers in the large cities. A small proportion of the supply is shipped direct by owners of exclusive squab plants or flocks of pigeons of sufficient size to turn out enough squabs each week to make economical shipments possible. Obviously the young pigeons must be marketed when they have reached the proper size, and the shipments must be large enough to be worth while. The cost of transportation any considerable distance eats up the profit on small lots.

In a later issue the question of squab raising as a business will be discussed in detail. Let it be sufficient at this time to say that this line may be started in a small way at comparatively slight expense and that it offers satisfactory opportunities to the right man to make a comfortable income. Like all businesses that deal with living things and are influenced by market fluctuations, both for the raw material purchased and the finished product sold, squab breeding is not free from risk and disappointment. But the demand for squabs is certainly increasing, prices have been moving steadily upward, and there is a good margin of profit when the work is properly done. The many established squab plants are sufficient proof that some favored individuals are making good in this field.

Because of their adaptability to a wide range of conditions, the ease with which they may be handled, their beauty and attractiveness, a select flock of pigeons is well worth owning. And not the least important consideration is a regular supply of squabs for the table, fresh, delicious and produced at a very low cost, as compared with retail prices.

OPENING DATE SET.

The formal opening of the Palmyra Heights tract of the Conservative Investment Company has been announced by the company to take place on Sunday, January 5, 1913. All improvements and street work in the tract will be rushed to completion before this date. Palmyra Heights is located at the junction of the Pacific Electric Railroad to Redondo and the Harbor boulevard.

Little, But Oh, My!

AN ATTRACTIVE AND USEFUL BANTAM

BY LOUIS PAUL GRAHAM.

When the Anglo-French expedition sacked the Summer Palace in Peking, China, in 1860, among the spoils secured and sent back to England were some specimens of bantams that had previously been bred for and owned exclusively by the Chinese Emperor. They were very small and red in color, and had feathered blue legs and five toes on each foot. Because of their place of origin they became known as Peking bantams, and were so bred for years. Their similarity to the large Cochins in so many respects eventually led fanciers to attempt to breed them in exact duplicate of the larger fowl, but in bantam size. The color was changed from red to a golden buff, the legs from blue to yellow and but four toes allowed on each foot. This took considerable time and hard work, but was eventually accomplished, so that today the Buff Cochin bantam is the exact reproduction of the Buff Cochin in everything but size. They are very small, the males weighing only twenty-six to thirty ounces and females twenty-four to twenty-six ounces. They become great pets and are very heavy layers, laying an egg that is extremely large considering the diminutiveness of the hen that laid it.

The hens get broody, sit and rear their chicks and are such careful and successful mothers that there is a steady demand for Cochin bantam hens in large numbers, to be used by breeders of large fowls expressly for use in rearing chicks.

The Buff Cochin bantam chick matures rapidly, and there are many instances on record of pullets hatched in March maturing and laying early and then becoming broody, sitting, hatching and rearing a brood of chicks in the same year.

These bantams do well in very small quarters and are inexpensive to keep. They can be fed the table scraps and will require but little grain.

Their eggs, while small, are useful on the home table; and the surplus young chickens, when dressed and roasted, are as toothsome as partridges.

Buff Cochin bantams should be literally a ball of feathers, rounding in every section, the legs and feet being profusely covered; and the soft feathers of the thighs, termed the fluff, are so loose and full as to make them appear to be a continuous mass of feathers right down to the ground.

In color, they are rich, golden buff, the shade of a new gold piece, and wherever exhibited, this color, combined with their wonderful shape, is bound to claim the attention of all.

These bantams are very docile and easily confined, becoming great pets, especially with the children of the family. It is a good plan to interest the boy or girl by presenting a pair or two of these bantams. They will not only serve to keep the attention of the child at home, but will also teach, in a small way, proper methods of raising poultry.

An Attractive Pigeon House and Enclosed Flights.

Such a structure permits the keeping of a goodly number of birds on small ground space.

TO BOOST SOUTH END.

In an effort to further the development of that section of the city lying south of Manchester between Figueroa street and South Park avenue, immediate steps will be taken for the organization of an association to be known as the Green Meadows Improvement Association. It is the plan of those behind the movement to keep up with the development of the harbor by extending city improvements as far to the southward as is possible and to modernize much of the district now just outside of the city in the Green Meadows precinct. Those instrumental in the organization of the association are E. J. Hill, George Burns, R. H. Mouser, the Rev. G. McCarthy, James Nielson, P. J. McDonald, John Withers, Richard Fitzgerald, George Graham and Edward Shaw.

WATER SUPPLY AMPLE.

Immediate work on the beautifying of Washington Park, the 150-acre tract of the Southern California Home Builders on Washington boulevard, midway between Los Angeles and the sea, is occupying the attention of the developers of that property. The new well at Palms, which will supply water to the surrounding neighborhood and to Washington Park, is reported in operation and delivering a sixty-inch stream of water. Work on the development of the new Putnam boulevard to Redondo has progressed rapidly during the past week on the section of the boulevard that borders the Pacific Electric right of way through Washington Park. This section of the boulevard is being built of hard-rock bed with oiled surface.

BUYS RAMPART FLAT.

The Harold S. Cook Company reports the sale of the property at No. 723 Rampart street, consisting of a site running through to Hoover street and improved with a two-story flat building and cottage for George W. Fox, to Mrs. Emma C. Satterlee. The sale of 54x156 feet on the west side of Hope street between Sixteenth and Eighteenth streets for a local syndicate to two associates represented by Robert H. Bloome is reported by the same company, which also reports the following sales in the Lockhaven tract adjoining Inglewood. Residence and acre-tract to Mary E. Vencell, $3200, and acre lots to C. B. Jacobs, May L. Andrews, Mrs. E. M. Freeman, Harry J. Parlin and R. D. Carley at $1000 each.

TEMPLE STREET WAY.

The McCarthy Company reports the sale to M. Danzifer of the northwest corner of Temple street and Ridgewood place in its Wilton Heights tract. The buyer will erect an attractive home. W. B. Kerrick will at once start a house in the same tract. The company has also taken contracts for the erection of $5000 homes on lots recently purchased by A. L. Johnson and W. H. Tarver in the same sub-division. The company reports the sale to an eastern bank of two and one-half acres at the northeast corner of Temple street and Van Ness avenue. The new owner, it is stated, will improve the site with a $30,000 home.

WANT ESTIMATES.

W. I. Hollingsworth & Company have been asked by a representative of eastern capitalists to furnish data and estimates connected with the possible opening and dredging of Bixby Slough, which adjoins the Hollingsworth Harbor City tract. The slough is separated from the inner harbor by a narrow neck of land. The project would call for the cutting through of this barrier, and the dredging to a greater depth of the slough. The plan, if carried out, would give additional harbor frontage of considerably over a mile, and would mean tremendous enhancement in value to all the adjoining territory.

TO STOP SMUGGLING BY RICH AMERICANS.

Special Agents, Sly Persons With Eyes Like Hawks and Noses Like Foxes, Watch Americans in All Parts of Europe and Notify Washington About Large Purchases of Dresses, Millinery and Jewelry.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—A professional smuggler, upholding the consistencies of romance, should be provided with a wicked knife and a large revolver. He should be bearded—black, preferably—and his eyes should be evil and restless. At 1 o'clocw, say, on a moonless morning he should peer—not look, but peer—into the darkness and listen. Catching no signs of spying or patrolling oars, he should draw his hidden boat from among the rushes and, springing panther-like within, softly row or pole across the silent waters of the river to a confederate, also bearded—this time red, preferably—waiting in a cave at the edge of the water.

How unlike, however, is the professional smuggler of reality and the twentieth century. Maybe he owns a sugar refinery. Perhaps he is the proprietor of a wholesale establishment. His wits are his weapons and he shudders when he thinks of vulgar daggers and shooting irons. No night work for him. Instead of a boat he rides in a limousine. His pals do not wait in caves. Bankers talk to him intimately. Policemen salute him dignity.

A smuggler is a smuggler, nevertheless, whether he gets the goods into the country by stealth or cheats the government through the instrumentality of doctored scales or the devices of crooked book-keeping. Amateurish smugglers, ladies and gentlemen home from Europe, have been denying and confessing on the docks in New York for a year or more. Under old garments, at the bottom of the baggage, have been found new jewelry and costly lingerie. "Another ostrich," the inspector usually says to himself in such cases of awkward hiding. Now and then a figure in finance or trade tests his skill with diamonds and pearls for a woman with whom his wife is unacquainted. An idiotic risk, imperiling peace at home and a loud laugh from the world.

SERIOUS SMUGGLING SITUATION.

But these are common though spectacular tricks. They are printed, sometimes with portraits, in the star reporter's best and most unsympathetic language. Such smuggling, with its tears, its hysterics and its noisy show of righteous ignorance or forgetfulness, is merely a trivial element of a large and serious situation. Indeed, so prevalent had smuggling become, not of high-priced gowns, gloves and laces, but of manufactured merchandise in large bulk, that Secretary MacVeagh of the Treasury ordered John E. Wilkie, chief of the secret service, which deals mostly with counterfeiters, to break it up. Smuggling as used in this article is a generic word, and includes false invoices, short weights and so on.

A large part of the money required to support the national government is collected on goods made in foreign countries and brought here to be sold. The appropriations of Congress now amount to $1,000,000,000 a year. Most of the money to meet the appropriations comes from the collectors of customs at the different ports on the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. To them are paid the duties charged against foreign merchandise shipped to the United States. If all Americans were honest the collectors of customs would need no experts to help them in what can properly be called the criminal branch of their business.

Such help is required, however, and is obtained from a group of shrewd and watchful men known as special agents. Their headquarters are in Washington, although they operate in twenty different districts. In the eye of the law, they are the personal representatives of the Secretary of the Treasury, and are in the field to see that the collectors of customs do their work efficiently and to prevent importers from cheating the government by undervaluing or wrongly classifying their merchandise. When a special agent is sent to a foreign country he is called a confidential agent.

Special and confidential agents are sharp-sighted, ingenious and technical persons. Some of them are not lawyers, but they know more law than do many practitioners. The tariff law is long and complicated, containing numerous schedules, and in each schedule is a large number of separate items. A paper of pins is an item; so is a machine for weaving cloth out of cotton. Confidential agents are on duty in London, Paris, Cologne, Berlin, Yokohama and St. Gall, in Switzerland, whence annually comes to this country about $17,000,000 worth of fine embroidery.

THEY GET $4000 A YEAR.

Foreign goods are taxed two ways—a definite amount or on a basis of value. Special and confidential agents, therefore, must have a knowledge of the cost of production, which, naturally, compels them to study raw materials, labor and interest on capital. When they see a bolt of silk, a case of hose, or a consignment of crockery or cutlery they should know what it is worth at the factory and when it is placed on the market for sale. Special agents of the Treasury are the best-paid field men in the government service. Their salaries range from $8 a day to $4000 a year and expenses. Confidential agents receive $10 a day net. The result of the work these officers perform can be measured in money. Last year, for instance, special agents in New York caused the collection of nearly $4,000,000 from delinquent importers.

There is a business man at the head of the Treasury. Mr. MacVeagh used to be a wholesale grocer in Chicago. He saw, sensed or heard that frauds were being practiced on the government by conspicuous citizens, who belonged to boards of trade, and were never suspected to be engaged in any of the forms of smuggling. No dangers for them, nor pistols, but only unadventurous lying as to values and a little unsensational juggling with respect to classification.

Wilkie, too, hails from Chicago, where he was once a newspaper writer, "doing" police, of course, which work, formerly, was the starting point of every reporter. He came here—a tall, sagacious, worldly-wise man, dressed up to date and smoking a pipe when doing his hardest thinking—to be the director of the secret service. During the war with Spain he organized a force of spy-catchers and the spies he did not catch hurriedly departed this country. Secretary MacVeagh has never said it publicly, but he made Wilkie supervising agent in charge of the special and confidential agents of the Treasury so that the men who were robbing the government more successfully than ever before might be caught in the act and disciplined.

CROOKED IMPORTERS GROAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury is not a law officer. He cannot drag an importer into court and prosecute him for forgery, or perjury or conspiracy—that must be done by the Attorney-General—but he can "settle" and the settlement being pecuniary and retroactive, he can make the importer feel that the Sheriff, carrying a red flag, is fooling around outside his door. Wilkie has discovered the facts; MacVeagh has given the facts a quiet but drastic application. In the meanwhile, Wilkie has also been acting chief of the secret service. He has toned up the special agents and toned down the smugglers. From counterfeiters he has turned to importers—not to all importers, but to some of them; to those who, by defrauding the government, have been enabled to undersell their competitors.

"An American buys a $25,000 necklace in Paris," I said to him. "You learn of the act and a polite but prigmatical agent of the customs service meets him at the dock when he comes home. Will you kindly elucidate your modus operandi?"

"I'll not scramble my eggs at this juncture," Mr. Wilkie answered. "We know when an American pays $25,000 for a necklace in Paris or when he makes a large purchase in any line, either in Paris or elsewhere, but as to how we get the information, I have nothing to say—that is one of the secrets of our business. If an American were to run around and spend $10,000 for a number of things, however, we might not hear of it. In that event of the inspectors on the docks at New York would be expected to find the goods in his possession on his return home.

"And the inspectors, probably, would find the goods. They are smart and seasoned men. Travelers occasionally complain of them, but considering the thousands of Americans who yearly go and come, the complaints, relatively, are small in number. The inspectors are instructed to be courteous and as expeditious as possible, but they are also told to be thorough. An American can bring $100 worth of new personal belongings into the country free of charge, but if a woman has a gold-headed cane or a man has a sample of Paris millinery it will be taxed.

HOW OLD TRAVELERS PACK.

"Old travelers place all the things they purchase abroad at the top of their baggage; inexperienced travelers pack them at the bottom. Some trunks are pulled to pieces, consequently, and the inspectors are condemned, whereas the travelers themselves are to blame. Many persons believe, I suppose, that dutiable articles put at the bottom of a trunk will escape the scrutiny of the inspectors. An old traveler knows better."

"Are women more inclined to smuggle than are men?" I asked.

"That is a metaphysical question and a sex problem. I decline to discuss such a matter. It can be said, however, that women, as a whole, while honest, do not realize that the national government is maintained chiefly by the money collected at the customhouses. They fail to get the masculine view of the case, and look on the examination and taxation of Ores.

Nov. 22.—Q.: I your valued paper and sending you samples but have refrained fearing that to do so much. However, per- as much for me as sending three sam- questions cause too much remuneration, kindly as I am a prospector and opinion of an chemist may save labor and trouble that be expended. Sam- greenish ore, comes in a dioryte forma- and is about two twenty feet long. On above is a cross- blue-green rock, but of kindly tell me valuable contents and No 2 is from a vein thick, and appears to full of shining and small round can be traced a as it strikes north- takes place in with the lime is also of porphyry probably cutting through the is granite, and in large eruptions of A shaft forty feet deep in the lime, disclosed at thirty feet, a two-foot vein of talc with a faint copper-stain. Formation here seems to be rhyolite and granite, overlapped by dioryte. Kindly tell me if there are any values and what they are. Sample No. 3 is from the same vein as No. 2 and at a point about 110 feet south of shaft, the soft lime appearance has changed to a harder form. The ore at this point is beautiful to look at, but assays for gold and silver have been very discouraging. There are also, to the south, large bunches of hematite on the surface, and further on a whole mountain of heavily iron-stained rhyolite. Kindly tell me if there are any values in No. 3 W. H.

A.: We are always glad to hear from prospectors, and it is a pleasure to test ores for everybody. Sample No. 1 is a variety of hematite, and specifically it is the variety of hematite known as "micaceous iron ore." This mineral in graphite-like form and brilliant bakes is what makes the ore at this point beautiful to look at, and it is the material that is in the "lime-vein shot full of shining black particles." No. 2 is a gritty, siliceous talcose-lime combination, and in seams, throuhout the mass, the micaceous-iron ore appears. Sample No. 3 is fairly good hematite (micaceous iron ore.)

It is manifestly shown by your reference to the term "apple-green" color that you have the nickel ores in mind. Sample No. 1 was further tested, and we find copper present in low percentage; nickel—not even a trace.

From your letter it appears that "assays for gold and silver have been very discouraging."

In our humble opinion, you are in a locality where iron ores may be located in considerable quantity, but whether or not the claims would pay to mine for such ores depends upon the distance from railroad; or water, fuel and flux present near the deposits in question.

Pigmentary Materials.

VENTURA, Nov. 25.—Q.: I am sending you under separate cover several samples. Will you kindly give me a determination of the same? They were taken from hills northeast of Ventura, Cal. J. E. D.

A.: All depends as to what treatment you gave to the powdered material shown in the samples numbered from Nos. 1 to 7 inclusive.

The massive (loose) specimens in container are reddle (ruddle,) "red-iron chalk" of the mining boys in the hills. Some of the material is "off color," as it were, but still each and all of the samples represent material that is bought and sold in the open market (properly refined) for crayons, paints, etc. Sample No. 1 is an aluminous silicate with iron oxide, now of yellowish-pink color, which sample oxydizes to a red color in acds. No. 2 is a reddish-brown reddle. No. 3 is on the order of sienna, but not of high-grade. No. 4 is buff-yellow reddle. No. 5 is a pinkish-brown reddle. No. 6 is an altered No. 5. No. 7 is on the order of 5 and 6, mixed together.

Amblygonite and Spessartite.

PALA, Nov. 21.—Q.: You will please find herewith four mineral samples on which I am in doubt, and all of them are from within fifteen miles of Pala in an out-of-the-way country. I think No. 1 is kunzite. No. 2, is this zircon? No. 3 I take to be columbite and No. 4 wolfranite. I am a regular reader of The Times and always read the rare mineral column with profit to myself. W. P.

A.: Glad to hear from you. No. 1 is ambylgonite (phosphate of alumina and lithia with double fluoride of aluminum and lithium,) of vitreous luster, and mountain-green in color. The sample carries approximately 47 per cent. phosphoric acid. No. 2 is simply garnet (variety spessartite.) No. 3 is black tourmaline, and No. 4 is a mixture of hematite with titanic iron ore.

Black Sand.

DELANO, Nov. 22.—Q.: Please give results of tests on the enclosed black sand. C. H. S.

A.: The sample carries approximately 50 per cent. magnetic iron ore. Quartz, hematite, ilmenite (titanic iron ore,) almandite garnet, and spessartite present, with traces of pistachio-green epidote, biotite (mica) and trace of monazite in the sample. Platinum absent.

Colemanite.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—Q.: The enclosed sample appears to me to react as colemanite. It is from Nevada. May I ask that you name it for me? P. T. C.

A.: It is a pleasure to name the sample, but you had the correct name. It is a high-grade specimen, and if you have much of a deposit of this "borax-ore" you are to be congratulated.

Fine Obsidian.

YUMA (Ariz.) Nov. 23.—Q.: While out hunting for game I came across this lot of samples taken from a two-foot lead of what I take to be the same material, and the locality from which I got them is not far from the Salton Sea. I do not know what to make of the samples as I have never come on to material like it, but it may be black-opal of some kind. I will thank you to give me some information on the samples through the usual column. E. B. T.

A.: The samples represent a fine-grade volcanic-glass, and from such material low-priced gems are made, such as so-called "jet," etc. There is some 8 per cent. potash in this variety of obsidian, but, as yet, no suitable process is at hand by which the potash values can be obtained at a profit.

Lava and Salines.

SANA ANA, Nov. 26.—Q.: With this you will find two samples. No. 1 a piece of rock from north of Amboy, and would like to know the common name of it, and also if it contains any mineral of value? No. 2 (incrustations) from Dry Lake, east of 29 Palms, San Bernardino county, Cal. Would like to know what it is? Thanking you for this and past favors. W. W. H.

A.: No. 1 "north of Amboy": This is a lava-like variety of rock in connection with augitic matter, and Trachyte in part. Potash present approximately 7 per cent. in a combination that cannot be extracted at a profit. No. 2 is sodium and magnesium chlorides, with low per cent. sulphates of lime, soda, and magnesia. Aluminum sulphate in traces. Potash sparingly present.

Fuller's Earth.

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 26.—Q.: I am sending you in another package three samples of rock. All of the samples are from a locality fourteen miles from Bakersfield. I desire that you will assay these for me, and I am of opinion that some of them may be of commercial value. I hope so at least. L.M.B.

A.: Glad to hear from you. Sample No. 1 is a fine-grade Fuller's Earth, but owing to the synthetical formation of the product on commercial scale the earth has not the value that it possessed formerly. No. 2 is a ferruginous low-grade Fuller's earth of doubtful commercial value. No. 3 is so poor a grade of the earth in question that it is not worthy of further notice.

veloped along new principles, hydraulic vacuum being employed to create the desired draft instead of the ordinary smokestack method. By this means the gases are prevented from escaping into the atmosphere until all mineral particles have been recovered.

Thus far the process has been only applied to iron smelting, but it is planned to make an early run on a shipment of copper ore. The inventor declares that the copper ore will prove vastly more amenable to treatment than the iron and that he is confident the vexing smoke problem will soon be a thing of the past.

If the process proves all that has been claimed, it means a new era of prosperity in the great copper fields of California, as the red metal resources of this State are among the most important and extensive in the world.

DISMANTLING SMELTER.

Orders have been received at Coram to ship electric motors and other machinery from the idle Balaklala smelter to Tacoma. The plant has been idle two years, and the brick work rapidly falling into decay. The giant smokestack is badly cracked and a high wind is liable to send the huge pile of masonry crashing down upon the equipment at any moment. Consequently the management is removing large quantities of the costly machinery and is shipping to other points.

The Balaklala mines are the most extensive on the Shasta Copper Belt, but the war against fumes prevented the company from operating when immense profits seemed assured. When conditions permit the resumption of activity the company will be forced to undertake extensive reconstruction work before smelting can be incepted.

The new ten-stamp mill at the South Carolina, on Carson Hill, has been placed in commission, and production will start at an early date. Excellent ore is being developed in the property and the outlook is pronounced exceptionally good. The South Carolina has lain idle for years after establishing a fair record, but some months ago passed under the control of Joseph A. Pelrago & Co.

The Finnegan Extension, adjoining the famous old Morgan mine, is operating at full capacity. The ten-stamp mill is running day and night and the season is pronounced one of the best in the company's history. The recently-discovered shoot is stated to be yielding ore of unusually high grade. The monthly clean-up is about due.

The owners of the Hardy-McCreight mine, three miles south of Angels, are arranging for the installation of a five-stamp mill. The old workings have been cleaned out and thoroughly repaired, and a large quantity of ore is on the dumps. This is another old property that yielded fair values in past years, but was subsequently neglected.

GOLDFIELD MEN IN INYO.

The Lone Star Consolidated Company of Goldfield has inaugurated vigorous developments at the St. Ives mine, in the Chidago district. The shaft has been straightened and retimbered, and sinking is projected in the near future. Several small veins have been proven, with the bottom of the shaft in a low-grade ore body, apparently of important dimensions. While improving the shaft a narrow shoot of $40 quartz was intersected.

In the past considerable work has been done by leasers, and regular shipments of $40 ore have been made. Large quantities of ore averaging around $15 per ton were neglected, and the Goldfield people plan to handle this grade of quartz at a profit. It is stated prospects are decidedly encouraging for the development of a good property. E. E. Green is directing operations.

RAND DISTRICT ATTRACTS.

Recent discoveries in the Good Hope, King Solomon and other properties in the vicinity of Randsburg have once more stimulated widespread interest in the noted Rand field. It was formerly thought the Yellow Aster was the only property of importance in the district and the reduced production of this company proved anything but cheering to owners of neighboring mines. Early in January cheap electrical power will be available, and the coming year is expected to prove a memorable one in the old district. The present favorable aspects are due largely to the energy and enterprise of leasers, who risked their all when owning companies hesitated.

At the Good Hope drifting is progressing rapidly from the 300-foot level in both directions. The shoot recently opened from the 230 level is reported holding out splendidly in size and values as drifting and crosscutting proceeds. Much of this ore is said to average around $100 per ton. Twenty-two men are working, with two shifts employed. Another shipment of high-grade quartz will be sent out shortly.

Unwatering of the Siskiyou coal mine, near Snowden, Siskiyou county, has been completed and active developments are about to start. The material is stated to be of good quality, and the owners have an excellent market for their product. Ample finances have been secured for prosecution of activities. E. C. Gamble is manager.

Manganese and Ilmenite.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—Q.: I have been prospecting for the ores of cobalt and platinum near Yucca, Ariz., and you will please find herein seven samples that I would be glad to know, definitely, just what values are in them. I have had them assayed for gold and silver in Los Angeles, by reliable chemists with negative results. I then sent specimens of the ores East, and have returns showing that they all run well in platinum and cobalt values. I am very anxious to know the results of tests made by you, and will you please tell me the names of the minerals? H. C. F.

A.: The samples are the so-called "tin ores of Yucca," but no sample carries a trace of tin. All of them carry manganese dioxide, with this oxide we find: No. 1 hematite, ilmenite (titanic iron-ore) and alumandine (iron-alumina garnet.) No. 2 ilmenite. No. 3 ilmenite and same garnet as No. 1. No. 3 is ilmenite. No. 4 hematite with garnet named. No. 5 almandine garnet in massive form and variety. No. 6 almandine and ilmenite. No. 7 hematite.

All of the samples were sampled carefully together, and the result shows that neither cobalt nor platinum is present.

VERDICT

BY SATISFIED SHAREHOLDERS

The verdict of approval has been rendered by the profit-making army of satisfied shareholders in the PACIFIC HOME BUILDERS. As many of these stockholders as possibly can do so have set the seal of their approval upon the management and earning power of the Company by increasing their holdings from time to time and by telling their neighbors and friends of the opportunity for safe, conservative and profitable investment.

The main reasons for this verdict by the SATISFIED SHAREHOLDERS rest in the management of this Company by men who are experts in the various lines of business which are involved in its success, and each of these men devotes his entire time and energies to this company and its associated interests.

LOSE HEAVILY IN FORCED SALE.

SHAREHOLDERS IN OCTAVE COMPANY UNLUCKY.

Property Sold to Bostonian for Thirty-five Thousand Dollars. Stockholders Said to Be Out Half Million—Humboldt Company Gets High Returns.

[Special Correspondence to The Times.]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Dec. 6.—Losses of at least $500,000 to eastern stockholders are assumed to have been involved in a late sale by Receiver John H. Page, of the property of the Octave Mining Company, which was purchased under bankruptcy proceedings by H. C. Gibbs of Boston for $35,000. This sum has been paid over and possession of the property has been passed. The sum named would hardly pay for the surface buildings on the property, which has seven miles of underground workings at great depth and has elaborate surface equipment with a large and modern milling plant.

Gibbs is said to represent a number of large stockholders who are prepared to furnish all money necessary to put the property on a producing and paying basis. Mining engineers concur in the belief that the property is one of the most important in Arizona and that it can be made to pay large dividends if properly and economically worked. The ore is in well-defined ledge formation, pyritic in character and well adapted for concentration.

From a carload of ore lately shipped to the Needles smelter the Humboldt Consolidated Mining Company received a net return of $123 a ton. The ore sampled 17 per cent. in lead and 176 ounces in silver. This company is mainly capitalized in Los Angeles.

From a vein two feet wide in the Monte Carlo mine near Columbia assays run from $60 to $400 a ton in gold at the bottom of a shaft sixty-five feet deep. Several tons of this ore already are on the dumps, and a home-made arastra, with power from a gasoline engine, has been started up for its reduction. It is believed that by this means enough money will be secured to pay for a five-stamp mill.

A small mill will be placed at once at the Alto mine, six miles east of Skull Valley, where W. L. Roberts has several hundred tons of ore of good grade on the dump.

The Home Run mine on Groom Creek is reported sold to an eastern company at a large figure, based upon a showing of high-grade milling ore three feet wide, lately cut by a tunnel.

The Lake Superior and Western Mining Company has abandoned the property of the Lake Superior and Nevada Development Company, near Crown King. The new corporation will pay all indebtedness and will make an issue of new stock to the old stockholders.

W. A. Gates of Los Angeles has assumed charge of the property of the Climax Mining Company in the Hassayampa district. He is preparing to place the mill in the best of shape and will install air compressors and other modern equipment. During the past year, with only six men at work, this force alternating in getting out ore and running the mill, the bullion output amounted to $33,000 in gold, with concentrates remaining on the ground. Some of the ore ran as high as $400 to the ton.

A. W. Farney of Kansas City has purchased the dredging plant of the Speck Mining Company on Lynx Creek, and will transfer it to gravel beds about one mile below the old workings.

New England.

TO BREAK I.W.W. POWER IN TEXTILE INDUSTRY.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] The textile manufacturers of New England are quietly discussing plans to break the power of the I.W.W. and with the help of the various State and city officials are hopeful that some method may be devised to accomplish this end.

The situation is becoming such, through the action of the I.W.W. in calling strikes with or without provocation that the very existence of those industries in which they have secured a foothold are menaced.

The wanton stoppage of work on most trivial excuses, frequently with no excuse at all, has seriously interfered with profits and the situation is growing steadily worse. The lawlessness of the members of this organization of aliens, the contempt they feel and express for the American flag and for American institutions, will, it is believed, be a potent influence in bringing about their downfall, as it insures the backing of public opinion for any plan which may be devised by the manufacturers and the officers of the law.

An executive officer of one of the big manufacturing establishments of Massachusetts said today:

"We are very hopeful that we will be able to drive the I.W.W. from New England. In fact, it is a case of necessity. We must do it if we expect to continue business. For manifest reasons, we must keep quiet until we are ready to act and to act vigorously and successfully.

"The next foolish strike precipitated by these irresponsible agitators probably will find us ready to fight them to a finish all through New England."

Graphic Granite.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—Q.: You will find herein a sample of rock or mineral that I found the past summer on a foothill near Mt. Shasta. The peculiar combinations of this rock is a surprise to me, and it is apparently a combination that only nature can duplicate. MISS T.

A.: The sample is typical Pegmatite. It obtains the name "graphic granite" from the fact that there appears characters of cuneiform markings throughout the rock. The rock is a mixture of quartz and feldspar, and possesses a low value for use in the clay working industry.

Irrelevant Testimony.

[Green Bag:] At a term of the Circuit Court in Iowa not long ago a "horse case" was on trial and a well-known horseman was called as a witness.

"You saw this horse?" asked counsel for the defendant.

"Yes, sir, I—"

"What did you do?"

"I opened his mouth to ascertain his age and I said to him: 'Old sport, there's a lot of life in you yet.'"

Whereupon counsel for the other side entered a vigorous protest.

"Stop!" he cried. "Your Honor, I object to any conversation carried on between the witness and the horse when the plaintiff was not present."

To Stop Smuggling.

their baggage as an outrage on their personal rights. Now and then, therefore, a woman lands and does not inform the inspector that hidden away somewhere in her baggage is a $700 sable coat. Escaping from the docks, she goes triumphantly to her home.

"Then other things, strictly feminine, perhaps, occur subsequently. The woman shows her coat to her intimate friends. They pretend to admire it, and she smiles and whispers that she smuggled it through. In a day or two one of her most cherished comrades writes us an unsigned letter. Thereupon a special agent calls at the house of the lady with the coat. He is courteous and sympathetic and diplomatic enough to be a regular Ambassador in Europe. Well, in the end, he walks away with the coat. It is tied up, and from the exterior may look like the family wash.

"'Tell your husband,' the inspector counsels in his most compassionate tone of voice, 'to come down to the office, and bring a lawyer.'

"The husband appears with his attorney. We say: 'The coat was bought for $700. Very well, pay us $700, also a duty of 50 per cent., or a total of $1050.' Thus the coat, so gayly smuggled, costs the woman's husband $1750, exclusive of the sum he pays the lawyer. That is the money cost. The mental cost—the wear on pride and nerves—is still another matter. Thus ends the transaction, so far as the government is concerned. Now, the coat, you understand, was only illustrative. The article smuggled might have been a diamond sunburst, but the march of events would have been the same—victory, exhilaration, exhibition, betrayal, humiliation, and a large cash payment."

THE TRICKS OF SMUGGLERS.

"Are professional smugglers causing you any trouble?"

"No more than usual. Such people are always at work or are likely to be. If they have any new tricks, we haven't found them out. Oh, yes, I had forgotten a party of Italians who meekly climbed out of the steerage not long ago. We had word beforehand and were waiting for them on the wharf. Their baggage seemed honest at first glance. At a guess the inspectors examined a can of tomato-paste, an Italian delicacy that is often brought here by immigrants. The can, except for an inch of paste at the top, was filled with coral jewelry enough to stock a retail establishment.

"Dressmakers and milliners are unusually active and resourceful in the smuggling line. 'Sleeper trunks,' until recently, were sneaked off the decks undetected. A dressmaker would pack a number of Paris gowns in a trunk, take it to the baggage room of a steamship company and leave it with an employee who had been bribed into the transaction. The dressmaker sailed on one ship; the trunk addressed to Mrs. John Smith, followed on the next ship as 'left over' baggage. Unloaded in New York, the trunk would stand around for a day or two. Then an expressman would appear with an order. Another bribed employee of the steamship company would give the trunk to the expressman. We traced several "sleeper trunks" to their destination, compelled the owners to pay all the way from $2500 to $5000, and put that particular method of smuggling out of commission.

"But another way of beating the government was immediately thought out by milliners and dressmakers. We know when any American modiste is making large purchases at the gown and hat stores in Paris. Accordingly, we wait and watch for her. By and by, she appears. Nothing is found in her trunks.

LOOKS LIKE MILLION DOLLARS.

"A week later, however, a woman comes down the gangplank looking like $1,000,000. She has half a dozen trunks filled with Paris dresses. Her name, she says, is Mrs. A. De Muggins Astorfeller. Yes, she was once an American, but for years and years has been living in Europe on the income her husband left her. 'I am a "non-resident,' she exclaims. 'These dresses,' she goes on to say, 'are my personal property. I mean to wear them and to take them to Europe after my visit to Newport is over.' And she surely looks the part, and her accent harmonizes with her bluff.

"Nevertheless we seize the outfit. We had heard that Mme. So-and-So, a fashionable New York dressmaker, whose baggage we had examined the week before, was in Paris buying gowns, and that Mrs. A. De Muggins, the reputed widow of an American multi-millionaire, and a leader in society, was much in her company. Leaders of high society, generally, do not fraternize with dressmakers. Therefore we linger at the dock and confiscate, and the dressmaker loses her dresses and must pay, besides, the expenses of Mrs. A. De Muggins Astorfeller over to Paris and back."

"How do you prevent smuggling across the Canadian border?"

"Smuggling from Canada and Mexico in a small way is unpreventable unless we had a line of men standing shoulder to shoulder, day and night, along the boundary of each country. Opium for smoking is prohibited from entering the United States, yet quantities of it are brought in from Canada and Mexico. Ships land it in Mexico and some banks there near the American frontier will accept it as collateral for loans. It is financed like wheat or cotton and syndicates of Chinese, Mexicans, and Americans manage to get it into this country. Porters of sleeping cars have been known to hide it in berths and linen closets.

HOW OPIUM IS BOUGHT IN.

"Sharp men in our service go through every vessel that reaches San Francisco from the orient. They have found cans of opium floating in fresh water tanks, hidden in pipes, which seemed to be a part of the equipment of the ship, and in huge pulleys made of tin and painted to look like wood. A smuggler at Seattle shipped opium in a safe by express to Portland and San Francisco. Finally the secret service was put on the case. The man was permitted to send two consignments of opium in the safe and then growing confident, he filled a piano, first taking out the wires and all the inside works. We appropriated the piano. The man lost heavily, financially, and also went to the penitentiary."

"Your greatest difficulty, however, is with business men who undervalue the merchandise they purchase abroad?" I said.

"That is true," Mr. Wilkie replied. "A merchant will buy a lot of goods in Europe and a fraudulent bill made out in his name will accompany the shipment. The goods may be undervalued so much as 50 per cent. We are supposed to figure the tax according to the face of the bill. The bill that is actually to be paid, remember, is sent the merchant by mail. Honest importers cannot compete with smugglers and they are helping the government whenever they can. Frauds in undervaluations have been particularly numerous with invisible hair nets for women, Panama hats, feathers and artificial flowers, woolen goods, linings, linens from Ireland and Scotland, cutlery made in Germany, linoleum, musical instruments, and machinery for textile factories.

"Classifying goods wrongly is another common swindle on the government. A shipment of German razors, for example, is received in New York. The tariff on razors goes upward, according to their price. Those valued at less than $1 a dozen pay 35 per cent. duty; those valued at $1 and less than $1.50 pay 35 per cent. and 6 cents each additional, and so on through the grades to the highest. A change of classification in the two cheapest kinds of razors would mean about $1.25 a dozen to the crooked importer. With that advantage, don't you see, he could outsell his square-dealing competitor

"About $600,000 was collected last year from tricky importers of woolens. They were cutting prices, and other dealers surmised that they had practiced some deception on the government. Foreign manufacturers, of course, are always parties to schemes of undervaluation and false classification. They want to do business in this country, and are hostile to any law that hinders them from entering or shuts them out of our market. It is a common experience among individual buyers or tourists to have a merchant in Europe say: 'The price of that article is $100 in your money, but I can bill it to you for $50, and thus you will need to pay only half the regular American duty.' A great many of our people, I am proud to remark, refuse to cheat their own government, and promptly send us the names of the shopkeepers who suggest that they shall. The names are written on our 'suspect' list, and goods from those dealers are closely scrutinized thereafter.

"A certain firm of importers had to pay more than $1,000,000 in settlement of the civil suits which could have been entered against it. Antique sideboards were one of its principal specialties. The wood was antique, all right, but the workmanship wasn't. A large sideboard would come crated and fortified with sheet iron. There would be a $1200 silk rug in one of the lower drawers. A number got through. Then a rug was found. The importers, however, were ready with an alibi, as it were. They showed a letter from the European shipper, notifying them that a rug had been put in the sideboard and stupidly overlooked by their clerks and packers. They apologized for the blunder, and asked that the rug be returned by the next steamer.

"It was a crafty little letter, but we traced other rugs which had come here in sideboards. We went through the books and correspondence of the firm, added all the items together, and demanded a sum considerably in excess of $1,000,000. It was paid. LARGE INVESTMENT.

Frank E. Hartigan has just completed the purchase of twelve lots in the Country Club Tract on Gramercy place, adjacent to Tenth street. He has begun the improvement of this property with residences of twelve and thirteen rooms to be finished in mahogany and oak and imported tapestries. The lots are to be highly improved with plants and shrubbery. The houses are to be principally of mission and English exteriors. When the improvements are completed they will together with the value of the lots represent an investment of $175,000, delares the builder.

PROFIT FOR XMAS BUYERS

James J. Hill says: "There are two classes of men. The successful ones are those who save money."

Christmas buyers may well ponder these words of the man who owns or controls nearly all the railways of the Northwest.

Judicious donors of Christmas gifts—faced by the question, "Expense or Profit?"—unhesitatingly choose the latter.

Of all sensible presents a financial asset like HIBERNIAN HOME BUILDERS' shares is most highly appreciated and the most profitable.

Possessing permanency and latent values based on land, our shares are now in demand for Christmas gifts.

They offer a maximum income yield on security of real estate in the center of city advance, where values increase periodically.

An Honest Guarantee Fund, growing automatically, daily and at a rate hitherto unequaled, stands behind them.

This Ideal Guarantee Fund meets the up-to-date requirements of careful investors.

It protects the small investor up to 10,000 shares, and at this stage has no equal in the field.

HIBERNIAN SAFETY FOR SAVINGS HOME BUILDERS

Our operations are directed by a group of skilled men, each an expert in his particular line.

Keen sense of responsibility and a conservative policy actuates all their activities.

Impressed by the conservative nature of our investment, the president and vice president of one of the large city banks joined our shareholders and advisory board this week.

Our large family of co-operative stockholders is daily joined by investors attracted by our ironclad Guarantee and our high standard of corporate conscience.

Become one of our family. Invest your savings in your own enterprise, and see it multiply for yourself.

The best Christmas gift for yourself or those in whom you have an interest is a block of HIBERNIAN HOME BUILDERS' shares.

The New Year will see our shares advance. Begin before the Old Year closes. One dollar monthly gives you 100 shares. Pay cash if you like.

To keep in touch with the advances of investment science ask us to mail you "THE VISION," a booklet of surpassing interest to investors.

DESERT TRANSFORMED INTO DAIRY.

Three Hundred Thousand Acres of Wild Land Converted Into Model Ranch Where Over Two Thousand Cows Flourish on Cactus Pads.

BY W. D. HORNADAY.

It is a fact not known to many people, even in Texas, that the largest dairy herd of cattle in the South, and one of the largest in the United States, is situated near Falfurrias, Tex. It consists of 2300 Jerseys, many of them being high-grade stock and all the others registered animals. The dairy industry is usually associated with thickly populated communities and sections. One would hardly expect to find in the chaparral-covered, sparsely-settled ranch region of South Texas a dairy of the size which is in operation there. It is owned by Lasater, who went into that remote part of the State about eighteen years ago and purchased a tract of 000 acres of wild land which he has converted into one of the most famous ranches in Texas. His ranch is situated thirty miles inland from the Gulf of Mexico and about ninety miles north of the Rio Grande. At the time he settled there the ranch headquarters were thirty-six miles from the nearest railroad. Through his efforts a line of railroad was constructed this intervening distance, and as a result of the establishment of a transportation outlet the present thriving town of Falfurrias was laid out and wonderful agricultural development has taken place, not only upon Mr. Lasater's ranch, but upon other land in that region.

It was in the fall of 1909 that Mr. Lasater began to build up his present dairy herd. It was a new industry for him, and many people who were aware of his plans took a pessimistic view of their probable outcome. In the first place, old-time cattlemen told him that registered imported Jersey cattle such as he had purchased for his dairy herd could not stand that climate and that they would die of splenetic fever. Mr. Lasater laid off 00 acres for his dairy herd and after freeing 700 acres of pasture land of the ticks which cause the fever, he placed his imported stock therein. The balance of the Jerseys must necessarily have ticks on them, to become immune when young, as no other kind could be marketed in the South. He has sustained no loss whatsoever by reason of splenetic fever. This is a matter of much significance to breeders both above and below the quarantine line.

Mr. Lasater has his dairy herd divided into eight groups, each of which is handled separately and a careful record is kept of the milk and butter production of each animal in order that they may be properly graded. The reason, however, for dividing the herd into this number of units is that better pasturage may be provided for the cows. Each unit has separate pastures for cows in milk and for dry cows. Three of the pastures are operated exclusively with registered animals and the other five with high-grade cows. It is stated that the average daily milk production per cow is approximately nineteen pounds, and the average daily production of butter per cow a fraction over one pound. Mr. Lasater has also experimented extensively with different feed products with a view of obtaining the best results as to the milk and butter production. He obtains the best results by feeding a ration of six pounds of cold pressed cottonseed cake, per cow per day, at a cost of less than 6 cents, including native pasturage. In that far southern part of Texas the winters are mild and grass can be usually counted upon nearly the entire year. The weed crop is also profuse, beginning early in February. The cows thrive on this pasturage and are carried through the summer on grass in fine condition.

CATTLE LIKE PRICKLY PEAR.

Mr. Lasater is also putting the thorny cacti, or native prickly pear, as it is commonly called, to practical valuable use upon his ranch and dairy farm. He is said to be the only man in this country who cultivates the prickly pear for commercial use. This plant is indigenous to that part of Texas, the ranch lands being usually covered by a thick growth of it. It has long been known by stockmen that cattle have a special liking for the juicy, nutritious pads of the prickly pear, but owing to the multitudinous thorns that cover the product, they and other live stock are unable to eat it in its natural state. Mr. Lasater began conducting a series of experiments of the fattening and nutritious properties of the prickly pear a few years ago. He kept a force of Mexicans employed burning the spines off the pads, the plants being then cut and fed to the cattle. He obtained marvelous results, it is stated, from the natural forage crop, and this led him to begin planting the cacti on an extensive scale. He now has about 600 acres devoted to growing the plants and from them an enormous annual tonnage of forage is obtained. This product gives a yield that is so enormous as to be almost unbelievable by persons who are not familiar with its productiveness. It is stated that where proper attention is given to its cultivation 100 to 200 tons per annum may be obtained per acre. During the winter months of November, December and January, and possibly the early part of February, Mr. Lasater feeds his dairy cows these prickly pear pads. The spines are burned from them by means of a patent gas generating machine, the cows eating the cactus as it stands in the field. While spineless cacti are often found growing wild in protected spots in the ranch region, it is not found practicable to attempt to grow this variety for stock feeding purposes. The cost of burning the spines off of the plants is so nominal and the yield so abundant that the native thorny variety promises to become a very important and profitable forage crop in a wide, broad scope of border territory of Texas.

Supplemental to the prickly pear forage the cows are provided with ensilage. Mr. Lasater is a great believer in silos. He already has erected twenty-one silos upon his dairy farm and is preparing to build twenty-one more. The ones that are now in operation have an aggregate capacity of 2600 tons of ensilage. They are filled with corn, Kaffir corn, sorghum and pea vines. When all the silos he now has in contemplation are erected he will be able to store in them the forage crop of several thousand acres and his dairy and ranch cattle will always be assured of an ample supply of valuable ensilage products.

The milk from each of the units of the dairy is hauled to the two central separating stations and separators are used at each station to supply sufficient separated milk for feeding the calves raised at that station. The balance of the separated milk is fed to hogs.

THE CREAMERY.

In connection with the dairy, a large creamery is operated in Falfurrias. The cream is brought to this creamery and manufactured into butter, which product is marketed in all of the larger cities of Texas.

Besides his large dairy herd, Mr. Lasater has upon his ranch about 20,000 stock cattle, 700 head of horses, a large flock of sheep and many hogs.

The water supply of the ranch and dairy farm is unusually abundant. The property is watered by more than 100 wells, which are so located that no part of the land is more than two miles from a watering place.

As a direct result of the establishment of a veritable oasis in what was until a few years ago an undeveloped and little known ranch region, many other industrial enterprises have been established, not only in the town of Falfurrias, but in adjacent territory. Comfortable homes have been provided for hundreds of people and the spirit of progress is to be seen on every hand.

Owing to the abundance of cheap Mexican labor, Mr. Lasater is able to operate his dairy and ranch at much less expense than is usually encountered in such enterprises. This condition also applies to other character of business all through the border territory where the Mexican population is large.

WILL BUILD HOMES.

INGLEWOOD, Dec. 7.—The Industrial Home Builders is the name of a new home building company recently organized by a number of Los Angeles and Inglewood capitalists.

The activities of the new company are not to be confined entirely to territory adjoining Inglewood, although Inglewood expects to be materially aided in growth and development through the efforts of the new concern. C. P. Campbell and A. F. Andres of this city are president and vice-president, respectively, of the new company.

PLAN SCORE OF HOMES.

The Security Home Builders of Los Angeles announce that they will build twenty bungalows in the Figueroa-Street Square tract of the O. A. Vickrey Company. The construction of five of these houses will be started immediately. The bungalows will be of artistic design and from five to seven rooms in size.

DEAL CLOSED FOR OIL LAND.

BRITISH MONEY BACKS NEW ENTERPRISE IS REPORT.

New Owners Have Already Started Development Work—Prominent Oil Man Called East in Government Suit—Continued Activity in Derrick District.

[Special Correspondence to The Times.]

COALINGA, Dec. 5.—The Confidence Oil Company, which for several years has been operating on section 31, 19-15, has recently consummated a deal with the California Commercial Oil Company whereby the latter concern took over the lease on November 1 and has already started new development work. The new company is reported to be backed by English capital, in the hands of Brunting & Hillis of Los Angeles.

The deal was closed on the first of the month and at that time the Confidence Oil Company ceased to be owners of the property, but will not entirely give up the management and running of the lease until subsequent payments are made.

Since the new company came into possession a rig has been erected for well No. 16, and as soon as the derrick is rigged up drilling will be commenced. In a short time material will be hauled for well No. 17, and it is reported that the new company expects to keep two strings running all the time. The property now has eleven wells on the producing list.

The case wherein the United States government has brought suit against A. L. Weisher, Meyers & Humphrey and others for the fraudulent use of the mails in connection with the promoting of oil and mining schemes in California, Nevada and other States, which is now in progress in New York, is attracting considerable attention. The operators at one time were promoters and owners of the P. M. D. & O. and other leases in this field, which were later sold to the British Consolidated Company.

This week Guy H. Salisbury, one of the well-known oil men of this field; Karl Eastman and A. A. Lewis, also of Coalinga, left for New York City, having been subpoenaed as witnesses in the case. Salisbury a few years ago had charge of the company's operations in this field, and Eastman also worked for them here. Lewis was at one time in charge of mining properties of the defendants in Nevada. Salisbury is making his second trip to New York on the case, having only last week returned from a ten days' stay there.

The United Development Company, operating on Southern Pacific land which is now in the limelight through the government suit to return to the United States holding mineral lands now held by the railroad in this State, has entered the oil sand in its well No. 1 on section 17, 20-15, at 2825 feet in 6¼-inch casing. The string of 15⅝-inch casing in well No. 2 on the same section has been landed at 900 feet and drilling resumed for the next string. The wells of the United Development Company on section 19, 20-15, are all producing oil into the storage tanks and sumps on the lease. The oil is not being moved.

The Kern Trading and Oil Company is preparing to drill on the east line of section 35, 19-15. Derricks are being erected for wells Nos. 21, 29, 30 and 31. The new wells will be drilled in for the sand recently struck by the Standard Oil Company in its Sontag well.

The Sontag well was only recently brought in and is producing a large flow of light oil. It is located on section 36, 19-15. The drilling of well No. 10 on this section of the K. T. & O. has been completed and it will be tested out in a few days. Considerable new development work is going on in this section of the field.

The Progressive Oil Company, a new concern which is pioneering in the shallow territory on section 34, 20-14, has its well No. 1 nearly 400 feet deep in 10-inch casing. The company is drilling for the same sand from which production is obtained by the Spokane, Berkeley and Washington-Coalinga oil companies on section 2.

OWENSMOUTH

—THE COMING METROPOLIS OF THE SAN FERNANDO VALLEY.

Free Barbecue and Opening of Electric Road Bring Record-Breaking Crowd—

Thousands of people attended the big barbecue and partook of the delicious meats and sauces served, watched the baseball game and auto speeding on the boulevard, and joined in the celebration at this greatest of new towns.

From early morn until afternoon the electric cars poured a steady stream of happy picnickers, homeseekers and investors into Owensmouth.

Thousands of Dollars Business and Residential Lots Sold

The wonderful progress shown since the opening of Owensmouth nine months ago, aroused enormous interest. The splendid business blocks, the wide spacious streets and big improvements, convinced scores of the great future in store.

Today—Owensmouth IS the shipping metropolis of the San Fernando Valley. Surrounding are thousands of acres of the richest land in the Southwest. Think of this city two years from now!

Visitors who came to look—purchased residential and business sites, many purely as an investment, realizing the splendid quick profits of these young cities.

The arrival of the electric car means an advance in prices. The announcement will be made in a few days.

Now Is the Time to Get in—Free Auto Trips Daily

Original opening prices are still in effect—choice sites, $300 and $500 and up—on easy terms.

Autos leave office daily at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m., or take Owensmouth car at P. E. Hill Street depot. Come—investigate this great new town—Mr. Business Man and Investor.

The Fairest, Squarest, Cleanest Cut Business Proposition Offered to the Public in Many a Day

Read Carefully and Be Convinced

Aren't you interested in having your money earn more than it is at the present time? Don't you want to own a home or buy some choice lots in a well selected neighborhood around LOS ANGELES, PASADENA, ALHAMBRA, VENICE, SANTA MONICA, the HARBOR DISTRICT, or in fact, any of the rapidly growing sections adjacent to LOS ANGELES? Are you contemplating buying a five, ten or twenty-acre Alfalfa, Fruit or Farm Tract upon which you wish to build a home, put into cultivation and bring up to the highest standard of production? If you do, then you should be a member of our organization.

The CITY BUILDERS INVESTMENT COMPANY stands alone in a genuine, bona-fide CO-OPERATIVE EASY INSTALLMENT SYSTEM, organized for the purpose of assisting the individual in placing his money where the largest possible returns can be obtained and applied at will upon a home or lots, or a small farm.

If you are considering buying property of any kind and are not able to pay in full for it, then for that reason alone you should be one of us. If you purchase a house or have a home built, or purchase lots or a small farm and make a first payment upon the same, you will then be obliged to pay interest on your deferred payments, at the rate of 7 or 8% for four or five years and possibly longer, until the same is paid for. Our proposition is to have you avoid paying interest on your own money, but just reverse matters and draw interest by becoming a shareholder with us on the CASH or INSTALLMENT PLAN. While your money is accumulating we will pay you 12% PER ANNUM, payable in quarterly periods, which you can reinvest if you so desire, thereby receiving compound interest. If you wish a three, four or five thousand dollar home, or small farm, then become a shareholder for that many shares—pay as much cash down as you can and the balance in monthly payments as convenient to you, until your shares are paid for. Then and thereafter when you desire to purchase a home, or select lots that you desire to build on, or purchase a small farm, you have your own money to do it with and all the earnings that your money has earned during the time you have it invested, then select from our long list of choice property anything that you desire and we will accept your shares as payment upon the same in full or in part, as the case may be, and in the meantime your money has been earning 12% or better, because your shares participate also in the accumulative profits of this institution. With this method we pay your interest for you, because we buy our acreage in large tracts, we buy our lots in blocks and half blocks, consequently our rate of interest is smaller and upon better terms than you can get. We then carry the property for you until you are able to turn your shares in full payment for the property you select. You are therefore not only making 12% on your money invested with the accumulative profits, but you are saving 8% which you would be obliged to pay on the deferred payments if you purchased otherwise.

Should you want to purchase property before you have your shares paid for, you may do so at any time with the shares so paid, less the last quarterly dividend payment.

Our shares will positively be advanced to $1.25 per share on the 1st day of March, 1913—therefore if you become a shareholder now, at $1.00 per share and later desire to turn your shares in for property, we will accept your shares then and thereafter at $1.25 per share.

Have You Read the Above? Yes? All Right, Now Read This If You Must Be Shown, We Can Show You

We own three solid blocks of well selected, choice building lots (75 lots) in the very heart of the rapidly improving section of Santa Monica.

We own fifty choice lots facing on macadamized streets, parked sidewalks, in Huntington Park.

We are building two rows of beautiful bungalows in Pasadena.

We are building, under contract, several houses in Los Angeles.

We just bought eighteen well selected lots at Alhambra upon which we are starting to build.

We have been in business since January 12, 1912.

We have invested our own money first and made a success.

When this Company was organized nearly a year ago the officers and directors subscribed for 150,000 shares of stock at $1.00 per share and in ten months have run our assets up to nearly $300,000 and still have 850,000 shares of stock in the treasury.

We only have a few stockholders on our books. Average 5250 shares to each one shareholder.

We will positively pay our first dividend of 3 per cent. on par, January 1, 1913.

We will positively advance the price of this) stock to $1.25, March 1, 191[illegible]

We will positively pay our second dividend of 3 per cent. on par, Ap[illegible] .3.

We will positively advance the price of this stock to $1.50 May 1, 19

We will positively pay our third dividend of 3 per cent., July 1, 1913.

Not one dollar in salary goes to any officer or director of this Company. They paid for their stock at par and must work on the co-operative plan the same as other stockholders do until the stockholders vote a salary to their officers and directors.

Our books are now open to subscriptions of this stock at par, $1.00 per share, either cash or on the installment plan. All those subscribing and paying for their stock in full now will participate in the January 1st dividend of 3 per cent. This is the first time we have advertised in this manner to offer our stock to the public for sale. We invested our own money and made the business a success first, and now ask the public to invest their money with us on the same basis that we invested our money first.

Isn't this a fair proposition?

In making subscriptions, make all payments payable to the undersigned.

Call or write for our printed matter, setting forth our plan of operation in full detail.

The Answer

In the make-up of the Packard "38" carriage are more features directly appealing to the owner and driver than ever before have been embodied in any one motor vehicle.

Left Drive
Avoids the necessity of stepping into the street. This result in connection with other far reaching improvements.

Electric Self-Starter
Easily and simply operated from a driving position.

Centralized Control
Complete mastery of the car from the driver's seat. A compact arrangement at the finger tips operated with the slightest effort.

Electric Lighting
Controlling switches at the centralized control board.

Magneto Ignition
A high tension dual ignition system independent of the self-starting battery and motor generator. Insures Packard efficiency at all speeds.

Short Turning Radius
The Packard "38" turns in a circle forty-one and one-half feet in diameter.

Six-inch Depth of Frame
Prevents body distortion and cramping of doors.

Hydraulic Governor
Enables the novice to drive with the assurance of an expert. Prevents "stalling" the motor in crowded traffic; prevents racing the motor when "declutching"; affords agreeable uniformity of road speeds without requiring skillful use of the accelerator pedal.

Six-Cylinders Perfected
Flexible, efficient, silent, giving motion with no sense of exerted power.

Dry Plate Clutch
Proof against "burning" and certain of engagement without "grabbing."

Forced Feed Oiling
Especially desirable for "sixes." An auxiliary system feeds oil directly to the cylinder walls and is automatically regulated for different power requirements.

Size of Crank Shaft
The diameter of the crank shaft is 2¼ inches. Ample size of bearings insures maximum period of service without refitting.

The sum of these essentials is to be found in no other car. This comprehensive solution, in one motor carriage, of all the chief problems of recent years, compels the consideration of the critical patron.

"RICHIE" WINS THREE FIRSTS.

Rugby Player Takes Three "American" Events.

Football Carnival Proves to Be Big Success.

Annin Best Man in Big Cross-Country Run.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

The first annual Occidental football carnival was pulled off yesterday with much eclat on Baer Field. The Hollywood, Los Angeles, Long Beach, Venice, Chaffee Union, Pomona and Pasadena High Schools were represented and some very good competition was developed. Rugby and American teams were on the field and one of the features of the day, was the winning of several of the American events by the Rugby players.

Richardson of Hollywood was a star, taking first in the punting for distance, place kicking and drop kicking in the American events, while Gerry Craig of Poly won the forward pass contest, with Al Maguire of L.A. High second.

In the Rugby kicking to touch, Candee of Hollywood took first honors with a beautiful boot, which rolled across the side line sixty-six yards from the spot where his toe hit the leather.

BEST EVENT.

One of the best events of the day was the two open field dodging races, saved for the final display of the afternoon. The event was run off in two heats. First, the Rugby players were sent over the seventy-five-yard course, on which an obstacle was placed every ten yards. Some real speed was shown here, when Maurer, of Pomona High, tore off the distance in 7 and 4-5 seconds, which is some running in a football suit. Candee of Hollywood was a close second, with Brooks of L.A. well up for third. In fact, all these runners in the Rugby event showed remarkable speed.

LONG BEACH WINS.

In the American dodging event, Works of Long Beach took the medal, with Drown of Venice second and McDowell of Pasadena third. The time here was not quite so good, but showed well, being eght seconds flat.

While the football carnival was going full blast one of the annual cross-country runs was held for the Tiger long distance men. Little Bill Annin romped home a winner over the three and a half-mile course with apparent ease, though he was quite heavily handicapped. His time of twenty minute and twenty-nine seconds flat is considered very good for so early in the season and it looks as though the Tigers were going to have Bill running in a football suit. Candee this spring.

Following are the results of the day:

AMERICAN EVENTS.

Punting for distance—Won by Richardson (Hollywood;) Hayes (Pasadena,) second; Iverson (Long Beach,) third. Distance, 49 yards.

Place kicking—Won by Richardson (Hollywood;) Hayes (Pasadena,) second; Lenz and Iverson (Long Beach,) tied for third. Winning per cent. .333.

Drop kicking—Won by Richardson (Hollywood;) Wilcox (Long Beach,) second; Ogden (Chaffee,) third.

Forward passing for distance—Won by Craig (Poly;) Maguire (L.A. H.S.,) second; Simpson (Long Beach,) third. Distance, 46 yards.

Open field dodging, 75 yards for time—Won by Works (Long Beach;) Drown (Venice,) second; McDowell (Pasadena,) third. Times, 8s.

Team play—Won by Long Beach; percentage 76, out of ten plays on defense and offense. Venice, second; perecntage, 72.

RUGBY EVENTS.

Kicking to touch—Won by Candee (Hollywood;) Brooks (L.A.H.S.,) second; Toland (L.A.H.S.,) third. Distance, 66 yards.

Place kicking—Won by Briggs (Hollywood;) Crary (L.A.H.S.,) second; Brooks (L.A.H.S.,) third. Winning per cent., 55½.

Drop kicking—Won by Crary (L.A.H.S.;) Parker (Pomona,) second; Cresswell (Pomona,) third. Winning per cent., 40.

Open-field dodging, 75 yards for time—Won by Maurer (Pomona;) Candee (Hollywood,) second; Brooks (L.A.H.S.,) third. Time 7 4-5s.

Team play—Won by the Los Angeles High School, making the best time from scrum to a five-man passing rush over 25 yards. Time of winning team, 5 4-5s.

Occidental cross-country run, course, 3½ miles—Annin, first, time 20m. 29s.; Cook and Pettitt tied for second, time 21m. 12s.; Mackintosh, fourth, 21m. 54 3-5s.; Bickford, fifth, 21m. 57 2-5s.; Knudson, sixth, 22m. 14s.

NEW LEADER CHOSEN.

WEST POINT (N. Y.) Dec. 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The Army has elected as its football captain for 1913 Benjamin F. Hoge, who has played left end for two years. Hoge is a member of the second class, and was one of the Army's best ends a year ago, showing remarkable form during that season. Because of his weight he had some trouble in filling the position during the season just closed, and his chief competitor, Merrillat, was selected at the last moment by thhe coaches to start against the Navy last week. Before the game was over Hoge had succeeded him.

HOGAN AND "MAC" PLAN BIG TRADE.

One of the biggest Coast League trades in recent years may be put through at the meeting of the magnates to be held in Sacramento Monday.

The swap, if made, will be between "Happy" Hogan and Walter McCredie. The deal calls for the transfer of Pitchers Carson and Castleton of Vernon to Portland in exchange for Pitchers Harkness and Koestner.

Although no announcement has been made of the fact, it may be stated authoritatively that the deal has been pending for some time. It is not certain that it will be consummated, however.

McCredie generally is opposed to trading in his own league, arguing that one man or the other is likely to be "showed up." He and Hogan will thresh the thing out at the coming meeting.

Carson broke into the Coast League as a member of the Portland team. Koestner formerly played in this city, but as a member of the Los Angeles club.

Daylight Fireworks.

A.A.A. GETS ULTIMATUM, NEW ASSOCIATION FORMED.

Summary Action Taken at Meeting Held Yesterday, but Offer Is Made to Contest Board that May Mean Affiliation—Western Automobile Association Now to Govern Our Race Meets—Everybody in Line.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

DAYLIGHT fireworks that mean another page in automobile racing history, were exploded yesterday. Summary action was taken on a proposition to form a new racing association and as a result the Western Automobile Association was born, with some of our most prominent citizens back of the big project which will mean the entire transformation of the automobile racing situation as it now exists.

Instead of peremptory rulings we are to have a Contest Board right in our midst. Instead of "automatic disqualifications" we are to have fair trials by unbiased men. No longer will it be possible for a racing promoter to say what shall be done with the racing drivers, but he will be obliged to state his case to the proper authorities who will be qualified to act. Mud-slinging tactics will no longer be tolerated. Racing will be conducted along sane lnes.

DRASTIC ACTION.

Decisive action, following the loud protest against the recent rules of the Automobile Association of America, came yesterday at a meeting in the Los Angeles' Athletic Clubrooms. Taxation and peremptory rulings will no longer be possible wthout local representation.

Frank A. Garbutt, one of our well known authorities on racing matters was temporary chairman and Earle Y. Boothe, the National agent, secretary. Percy H. Greer, president of the Automobile Dealers Association took an active part in the discussion and W. E. Bush, Pierce-Arrow agent, and formerly Technical Representative of the A.A.A., pledged himself to help form the new organization.

Loud in protest against the recent action of the Contest Board, the meeting resolved itself into a session with every speaker anxious to formulate the new racing association. Though conducted along sane lines each was fearless in condemning the arbitrary rulings of the Automobile Association of America and agreed that the time has come when it is necessary to govern race meets with a representative on the ground.

PLAN OF ACTION.

The plan of action is that an organtion be formed at once with headquarters in San Francisco. Chairman Garbutt was authorized to select a committee of ten men and these will prepare plans for the Western Automobile Association's campaign. Funds are to be raised, from the members of the organization, and it is proposed to swing each automobile owner in Southern California who takes an interest in racing into the ranks.

SHETTLER IN RIGHT.

Leon T. Shettler, who has raced his Apperson cars and who has managed race meets, came out flat-footed with a statement in favor of the plan. He was seconded by Attorney E. E. Hewlett, owner of the Fiat racing team, who pledged himself to do all in his power to forward the plan as projected yesterday. There was not a dissenting voice when the proposition for this new governing body was sprung.

Ralph Hamlin, winner of the Los Angeles-to-Phoenix race, was one of those who advised immediate action. George Bentil, agent for the Simplex and Mercer, was another who agreed that now is the time to act. Clarence Smith, the Stearns-Knight agent, was also ready for something definite. With these men in line Chairman Garbutt began to make automobile history.

MAY AFFILIATE.

While the new association was actually formed yesterday, the olive branch was held out to the Automobile Association of America and if that body will consent to an affiliation there need be no summary withdrawal from the A. A. A. If not, the Western Automobile Association will handle its own affairs, pay its own expenses and receive its own money for sanction fees.

The meeting yesterday need not be revolutionary unless the contest board decides it is. Percy Walker, representative to the contest board, is in this city and can be given power to act. It is hardly expected, however, by those who are in touch with A. A. A. affairs that the older organization will agree to unite.

HILLMAN IS THERE.

Roy P. Hillman, former representative of the contest board, was of the opinion that the Western Automobile Association can handle its own affairs in a more satisfactory manner than it is possible to conduct them over a distance of 3000 miles. He is qualified to speak on this subject, as he now is suspended by the contest board.

The following is the communication wired to the contest board last night, stating existing conditions here and offering the board a chance to turn down the proposition or co-operate with the Western Automobile Association:

THE ULTIMATUM.

"William Schimpf, Contest Board, New York City, N. Y.: A number of circumstances, into the details of which we would prefer not to be obliged to go, have caused us to arrive at the conclusion that for the good of automobile racing upon the Pacific Coast, it becomes necessary that a representative body of western men should form an organization to manage and control our own affairs within conservative lines.

NO CHANCE IN FRANCE FOR JACK.

[By Atlantic Cable. By Wireless Overland to The Times.]

PARIS, Dec. 7.—An announcement today that Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight pugilist who recently married another white woman, would fight Bombardier Wells, the dapper English champion, in Paris caused the utmost astonishment in French sporting circles.

Officials of the Boxing Federation immediately declared that they would take steps to prevent the champion's exhibition and it was said that the police would forbid the fight on the ground that it might cause trouble. Negroes have been unpopular in Paris since the McVey-Langford bouts which were alleged to have been fakes.

Eternal Question.

WHO WILL RUN BIG ROAD RACE?

Neither "The Times" nor "Chronicle" Desires To.

Both Valley and Coast Route Offer Advantages.

Next Step in Drama Is to Choose Manager.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

When The Times-Chronicle pathfinder, which routed the course for the Los Angeles-San Francisco road race, reached the Bay City, many wondered what would be the next step in the racing drama. The car has completed the run. The 120-horse-power Fiat has covered the roads. Now that the tour is over, the next step is to hand the management of the race to the right parties.

There is no desire on the part of either The Times or the San Francisco Chronicle to run this race. It is to be a big affair with everybody boosting. The valley towns are in line and the Coast cities want the race. Let the best bidder have the contest. The Times has no desire to conduct the race and the Chronicle is ready to boost, but not run the battle.

Then comes the problem which is to be answered this week. Let either the Automobile Dealers' Association or the Automobile Club nominate a committee to handle the speed fest. It can be held. There is $11,000 in sight, but the men who are to collect this money must get busy. There is plenty of time between now and the Fourth of July for the cars and drivers to be groomed, but the money must be in sight before the first car is started.

ONE-DAY RACE.

It should be a one-day race. It can be held over the valley where the roads are good. It also can be held over the Coast route, where the roads are fair and where thousands are anxious for the contest. The tour was successful. Teddy Tetzlaff drove some fast laps, but he returned satisfied that the race will be one of the greatest speed contests ever conducted. He is right.

The automobile men who have been approached in this matter agree that it is best for a committee to handle the race. This committee should consist of men who are used to conducting meets in which fast cars and crack drivers are entered. The Los Angeles-San Francisco race will be a hummer and will call out the best men we have in the industry.

With the prospects so bright for the contest, it is up to the men of this city to get together, choose a committee of five or ten, and prepare the plans, formulate the rules and arrange for the collection of money. Several plans for raising this cash have been offered. The plan as outlined by the men of Bakersfield, whereby the cash is raised by popular subscription, seems the best.

The towns along the valley route, that is the men in them, seem to realize what a big boost it would be for Bakersfield and Fresno and the other cities. There are still thousands of people who desire the speed battle. At Salinas we found numbers there prepared to compel us to route the cars down the Coast. Action is wanted by the men in this city.

We have the cars and we have the men. What more could you ask? Why, only the money. The drivers will race if they have the right kind of a prize and no matter what action the Automobile Association of America takes, we can get the men.

That New Henderson, One of the Handsome Cars in the Line of Parade Wednesday.

This is the late model 1913 touring car which J. W. Wilcox has to offer. It is a foredoor four-cylinder car with all the latest improvements known to the motor industry.

Happy Workmen.

RIFLES FOR FACTORY MEN.

Garford Car Builders Enjoy Life at Their Big Plant.

Vie With Overland Experts in Many Outdoor Exercises.

Enjoy Life Motto of Concern Where Thousands Labor.

"The days of peonage have long been passed, but few people today realize to what extent the American workman has come into his own," says Vice-President G. W. Bennett of the Garford factory. "Carrying out the policy adhered to by him in his other plants, President John N. Willys has made the study of healthful conditions for his employees a fine art in the Garford factory. An instance of this is shown in the fact that one man devotes his whole time to the regulation of temperature in the plant and does nothing but this.

"'Thermometer Tommy' is what the other men call this workman who is constantly on the go about the plant, supplying more heat here, opening a ventilator there, keeping the temperature at the right degree for the best comfort. An interesting feature on the needs of workmen has been demonstrated under this plan, too; that is, that men doing close, accurate work need more heat than those doing ordinary duty. In other words, the men whose brain and eyesight are constantly keyed to the highest limit are more subject to temperature conditions than are those whose work is more nearly mechanical and not so trying. This is shown by the statement of 'Thermometer Tommy' that, while 60 deg. Fahrenheit is sufficiently high for all other departments of the plant, the toolroom employees, whose duty it is to make tools, dies and jigs accurate to one ten-thousandth part of an inch, cannot get along with less than 65 or 70 deg. This is, I believe, a unique, but proved phenomena of physiology."

GREAT IDEA.

"Teaching the young idea how to shoot," the figurative term employed in teaching, has been put to liberal use in the automobile business, with the idea of promoting the growth of ideas through the development of the physical man. A rifle club, with fifty-one charter members, which has the sanction and encouragement of the president of the concern, has been started among the employees of the Willys-Overland company, of Toledo, O. While the primary object of the club is to provide interesting and healthful outdoor recreation for the members, the ultimate accomplishment of mental and physical reinforcement, gathered through the activities of the range, has not been overlooked.

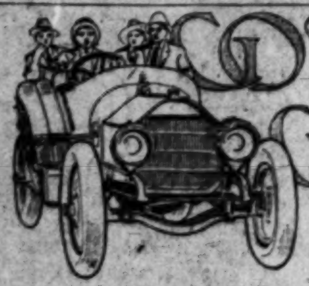
"Shooting is just as profitable a game for automobile workers as for soldiers," says Vice-President Bennett, who has been made honorary president of the Overland Rifle Club. "The accurate, exciting work on the indoor and outdoor ranges trains the eye and the body in the best possible way, making more active and efficient men. And we do not propose to limit membership to the young men of our organization; young, old and middle-aged are being urged to join. What is of help to one will prove valuable to all."

The Overland Club, which is strictly a civilian organization, has affiliated with the National Rifle Association of America, the national organization which is under the direction of the Secretary of War. Regulation Springfield army rifles and ammunition will be furnished through the War Department and the work will be carried on summer and winter. During the cold months a fine indoor range, located in the basement of one of the big factory buildings, will be utilized and in summer regular practice will be possible on the range of the Toledo contingent of the Ohio National Guard. Rifle experts from the State militia will act as instructors for the auto-maker marksmen.

LOZIER MAN DEPARTS.

John G. Perrin, chief engineer of the Lozier factory, who has recently been elected vice-president of the Society of Automobile Engineers, sailed last week for Europe. Perrin's trip is for the purpose of comparing the progress of the foreign manufacturers with that of motor car builders in this country. He will study the design of the foreign motor car industry and while he is abroad he will visit all the leading automobile factories and in-leading automobile factories.

The German automobile industry shows a steady and material growth. In 1905 and 1911 the German aggregate exports were, respectively, 15,953,000 and 49,913,000 marks.



GOSSIP ALONG GASOLINE ROW

BY BERT SMITH

That automatic disqualification of Teddy Tetzlaff proved a real boomerang. It's not easy to slip it over on the westerners. They will not stand for arbitrary action. When A. M. Young, Attorney E. G. Kuster and Roy P. Hillman were disqualified it was the first real act. Then came the last straw and a new association is to be formed.

Barney Oldfield is made of the right stuff. He has not shown the white feather and he's not trotting around trying to kill off Ernie Moross. Oldfield is willing to wait. Every dog has his day and, believe me, it will be Barney's inning next.

Can't see what Moross expected to pull off by springing that rot about Oldfield. He has certainly been given some publicity, but it's the kind I'd be sorry to have handed to me. The meet at Ascot is not half the race it should have been had Moross handled the matter right. It could have been a $10,000 meet.

P. J. Walker, the Automobile Association of America's representative, has his troubles. If he can settle this squabble amicably he is a star performer. Think he has more than he can handle now. The A.A.A. has gone too far, and now the West will control its own racing.

Don Lee, Cadillac distributer for California, and Phil Prather, San Francisco manager for Don Lee, left last week to attend the annual winter conference of agents at the Cadillac factory. At this meeting the general tendency and desires of the motor-buying public are discussed and the opinion of all agents is secured as to what they consider the important improvements which have been made and are yet to be made in the motor car. In this way the officials of the Cadillac company feel that they can keep their hand on the public pulse. The meeting this year will certainly be a jubilee, as the present season is proving a phenomenal one in every section of the country. It is the same story everywhere, the demand exceeding the supply, and although the Cadillac company has increased its output to 15,000 cars for this season, from present appearances every one of the 15,000 will have been not only ordered by dealers, but ordered from the dealers by the first of the year. California alone will take over 1000 of the 1913 Cadillacs and the only thing that has kept the number under 1500 for this State has been the inability to get the cars.

Guy Irwin, formerly salesman for Ralph Hamlin, writes that he has accepted a position as superintendent of the Pacific Motor Car Company of San Francisco. Guy left in a hurry, but he wishes to let his friends know that he has landed a job that will net him a good salary and give him a chance to show his mechanical skill. It will be remembered that Guy rode with Ralph Hamlin in each of the Phoenix races, in which Air-Cooled Ralph failed to finish first. As fortune would have it, Guy did not ride this year, and Ralph won.

A. M. Young will leave tomorrow morning for the East. He will spend some time in Buffalo and then will take in the factories in Detroit. He expects to put in at least five days at the Paige-Detroit plant looking over the 1913 models. He has large plans for this year and is prepared to handle about 200 of the Paige cars if he can only secure enough deliveries.

C. Fred Grundy is at it hard. He is preparing to place the Coles all over Southern California and has already established a record with the Americans. His place is beseiged with many anxious prospects who are looking over both lines and this season is to be one of the biggest in the history of the Grundy Motor Sales Company.

Don Lee is the man who first thought of the Los Angeles-San Francisco road race. It was with no desire to steal the honors from the Cadillac man that the route-choosing trip was undertaken. Let's give Don all the credit for being a jolly good fellow and may he become an outlaw with the rest of us.

A copy of the telegram which R. C. Hamlin sent the Martin Sales Company immediately upon winning the Los Angeles-to-Phoenix race was forwarded to the motor show, recently held at London, England.

The motor show was a tremendous success, the biggest ever held in London. The telegram read as follows: which read as follows:

"I cannot praise your Martin shock absorbers too much. They worked fine all the way, enabling me to negotiate the rough roads at a speed that won for me the Phoenix race and I would not think of entering a race without Martin shock absorbers on my car.

R. C. HAMLIN."

Leland S. Reeves of San Francisco, sales-manager of the Renfro Speed-O-Meter Sales Company, is a Los Angeles visitor this week. The Renfro speedometer is meeting with marked success in both San Francisco and in this city. The inventor is A. D. Renfro, formerly of Los Angeles. From here he went to Detroit, where he succeeded in interesting a number of capitalists of that city in his invention and who organized a large company for the purpose of manufacturing Renfro speedometers. Mr. Renfro is the western representative for this instrument, covering all the territory west of Denver.

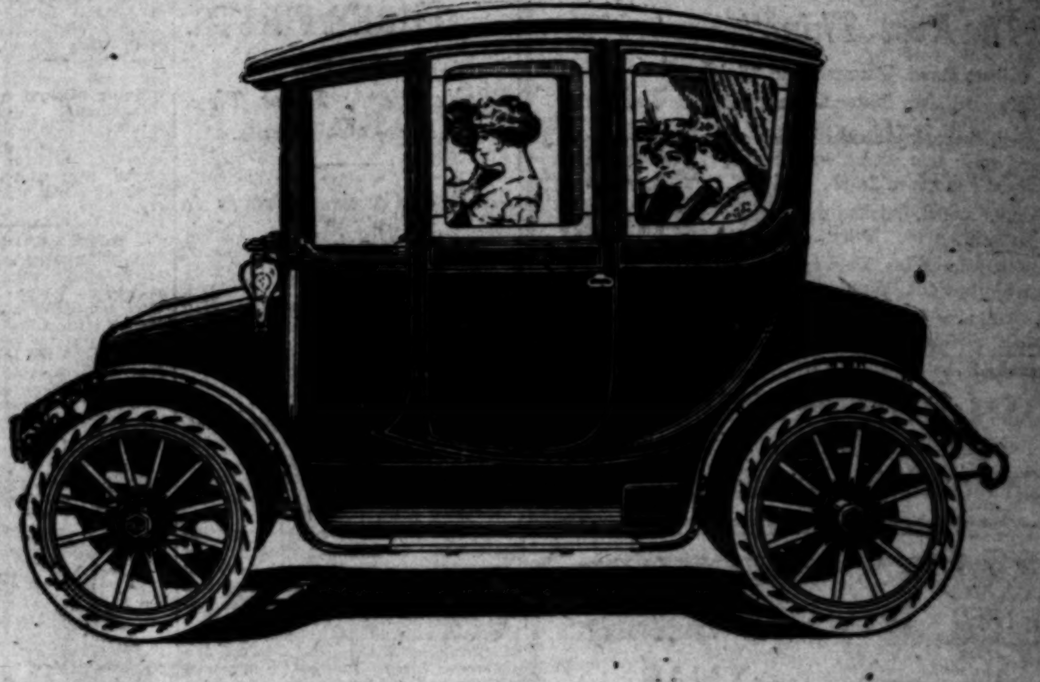
In San Francisco the instrument has enjoyed its greatest popularity among the owners of taxicabs and trucks. Because of its recording features, whereby the exact speed of the car is recorded at every minute of the day, a complete check can be had on reckless driving, and loafing of drivers. The tape with the record of the speed thereon, and the time of the day when same was made, can be used as evidence in any legal action involving the car.

C. E. Halliwell is going to Tulare county in his National roadster this week, to shoot wild geese. Halliwell has a friend up there and he has been hearing some tales about geese being so thick they could be killed with clubs. In fact, according to the information, Halliwell has, the farmers are walking into their grain fields and actually clubbing the geese. Naturally, the local accessory man figures that if the geese are plentiful enough to be clubbed, he should be able to shoot a few. As a result, he has been taking orders from all his friends for wild geese. Anyone desiring a wild goose can secure same by telephoning to the Halliwell company. In the absence of C. E., his brother, W. H., will take the orders.

With thirty-four Pierce Arrow cars already delivered this season, W. E. Bush will eclipse all former records and reach his top figure in sales for the year. It has been impossible to keep cars in stock this season and Sales-manager L. R. Wadsworth says there is no sign of a betterment of this condition with the present demand. Bush expects to place seventy-five Pierce Arrow cars in Southern California for 1913. The demand this season has been for all models, eight of the large six-66 types having already been delivered.

Bush is now firmly established in his new home at Seventeenth and Grand avenue. The last work has been done and if any Pierce cars remain under the roof long enough they will have an appropriate seeting. The garage and shops are large and Bush is able to give even better service than that which has made Bush and his car so popular in the past. Two Pierce Arrow trucks were sold to the Hammond Lumber Company, last week. These were of the seventeen-foot type and will be used in hauling loads of four and five tons.

Ohio Electric



THIS IS the only five passenger electric made that can be driven from both the front and rear seats. All passengers face forward.

When riding alone with your wife, sit beside her and drive from the rear seat. Don't sit in front and look like a hired chauffeur.

When riding with three or four people, drive from the front seat and have an unobstructed view.

WOMEN WOULD DRIVE CARS.

Many Fair Damsels Desire to Handle the New High-Powered Gasoline Motors.

Many women accustomed to driving horses would like equally well to be able to handle a powerful gasoline car. Hitherto the dangers and difficulty of cranking by hand has prevented. The perfection of the dependable electric starting device, such as the Peerless electric starter, recently installed on all the six-cylinder cars of the Peerless Motor Car Company, opens up new pleasures for the woman driver.

These large cars are started at the pressure of the pedal and the steering mechanism with large steering wheel is so easily controlled that it is no harder to manage one of these cars than it is to drive an electric. Moreover, there is no restriction of distance on roads to limit its usefulness, as in the case of electrics.

MOTOR HINTS.

Flooding the carburetor and priming are common means of starting in cold weather, as is also the shutting of the air passage, allowing the full suction of the motor to fall upon the spray nozzle. These should not fail with a motor that has been running well up to that time. With a cold and stiff motor, however, even priming will fail at times and the other methods produce no effect whatever. In such instances five drops of ether to each cylinder of the motor have been found efficacious by many physicians and others who know of this method. Another trick that has been tried with success is the placing of about a tablespoonful of carbide in a small tin having a friction top. A hole is then cut through the cover and the cover placed on the tin. Through the hole in the cover is run a small rubber tube or a piece of hose into the air intake of the carburetor. Through another opening in the tin is poured a half glass of water. After waiting for about a half minute the motor is cranked.

Demand a "T-head" motor

The "T-head" motor is the finished product of the best brains in the automobile industry, working with practically unlimited funds.

Every high-priced car has a "T-head" motor, but the expense of manufacture bars it from most popular-priced cars, although endorsed by all prominent engineers.

We use a "T-head" motor in MOON cars, because it remains permanently in perfect running condition.

If there were a better type of motor, we would make it.

The same high engineering standards control every detail of MOON construction.

MOON cars are right!

On these cold winter days, when your engine is stiff—the MOON Electric Cranker will spin it without a miss—plenty of excess cranking power has been provided.

mind delivering the car at all this afternoon and drive myself. You know I have Hudson cars in my home town for several years."

you ordered your 1914 car

This is the query that Jack Jevne, the well known and popular club- man, business man, golf and automobile enthusiast, is propounding to his friends at the Los Angeles Country Club and at the big Broadway store in which he is so prominent a factor.

"You want to hurry and join the procession of 1914 buyers," advises Jevne as he confidentially mentions that not only has he just secured a new 1913 Hudson six-cylinder torpedo, but has placed an order with Manager H. C. Arnold of the Hudson Sales Company for a 1914 car to be delivered on his return from a trip around the world.

Jevne never bothered to ask what the 1914 Hudson features are to be. A hastily-written check in the shape of a substantial deposit, and the deal was closed.

Mr. Arnold, himself, could not have given the purchaser of the 1914 Hudson the slightest bit of information regarding what Howard Coffin and his associate engineers of the Hudson factory will turn out for their 1914 achievement.

Mr. Jevne, very naturally, will have no use for his 1913 Hudson during his trip around the world, and in consequence he proposes to present it to his brother-in-law, Mr. H. Henneberger, the treasurer of the H. Jevne Company.

The 1914 Hudson model will be delivered to Mr. Jevne at Detroit, in August.

The new car will be ready for the Los Angeles buyer on his return from his globe encircling journey. It has been suggested that he give the new car the severe test of completing his long trip by driving it from the Hudson factory, in Detroit, to Los Angeles, thereby creating a record for travel that would be unique as well as unprecedented.

They Have Gone.

STUDEBAKERS IN SPLIT CHASSIS.

STRIPPED CARS REMOVED TO THE DETROIT SHOWROOMS.

Cars That Show the Mechanism of the Handsome Line Offered This Year, Prove of Great Interest to the Crowds but Demand Is Made for Them in the East.

Out-of-town visitors to the Studebaker corporation wholesale house on East Seventh street, are having an unexpected treat this week. The celebrated $10,000 split chassis which proved such an attraction when exhibited at the retail house on Olive street, has been moved to the other branch of the Detroit firm, and those who stray in there are given opportunity to look it over.

Along with the split chassis went the cut-out types of both the Studebaker "20" and "30." Sales Manager La Casse, when besieged with visitors to the Olive-street place last week, sent both his exhibits down to the wholesale house, for the mobs which surged around the latest Studebaker "25" and "35" types would permit of nothing else on the floor.

"The split chassis and the cut-outs of our other two models were unusual attractions for those seeking mechanical knowledge," said La Casse yesterday. "When the latest types of our cars arrived, however, there was room for little else on the floor, and I was forced to part with my star exhibits. Manager Ollier has promised them back to me, so as soon as possible I will have them on display again."

The split model which La Casse values so highly, has been in big demand hereabouts for classes at the various technical schools. It shows all the working parts in the clearest possible manner, and has been of great help to instructors.

Ready for Immediate Delivery

The New Coupe the Whole Country is Talking About

In beauty of body design and luxury of appointment, in comfort and convenience, the new Baker stands absolutely unparalleled as a stylish yet conservative coupe. It is built in two types, in both of which is introduced the greatest electric car innovation of the year—REVOLVING FRONT SEATS, which permit the occupants to face forward or turn about. One of these types has the control and steering levers operated from the rear seat; the other has a wheel steer (controlling levers attached) operated from the left front seat. ¶Increased wheel base, longer springs, easier riding, more room; full limousine back, graceful, low-hung body lines; front and front-quarter windows are lower than usual to permit full view of road from rear seat. ¶Even aside from this unexampled comfort, convenience and luxury, the Baker is the standard electric today in refinement of construction and carefulness of workmanship. To its economy, ease of handling and dependability many thousands of users enthusiastically testify.

Arrange at once for a demonstration in this magnificent "Car of Silence."

MOTOR SALON PLANS LARGE.

Grand Canyon of Colorado on the Mezzanine Floor.

Handsome Decorations Prepared for Big Show.

Commercial Vehicles to Have an Important Place.

Great preparations are being made for the two automobile shows to be held in New York January 11 to 25. This is the thirteenth national automobile show, and will be held, one part in the Madison Square Garden and the other in the Grand Central Palace. Rival artists and architects have been secured for the decorations and as each will probably do his best to outdo the other, it is expected that it will be the most attractive show ever held.

The entire interior of the new Grand Central Palace is to be redecorated, as will also the Madison Square Garden, have an entirely new scheme of decoration. On the walls of the main floor will be several Long Island scenes, a view of the magnificent Delaware Water Gap, views in the Berkshires, and a painting of scenes along the Hudson near West Point.

On the mezzanine floor, western views will be found, including the Grand Canyon of Colorado, gorges and passes in the Rocky Mountains, California views, and sections of the cattle country and prairies. The balcony will be devoted to the South and paintings of the beach at Ormond, Fla., where numerous world speed records have been made. Savannah and other points of interest will be depicted.

There will be much trellis work and flowers in profusion. A general outdoor atmosphere will prevail throughout, and will allow the cars to show to better advantage. It is predicted by the management that the palace will present a prettier interior than has been seen in any show. The details of the Madison Square Garden decorations have not been made public, but the color scheme will be carried out in gold and white.

There is a new feature added to the national show this year. During the second week which is devoted to commercial vehicles, it has been decided to hold a tool exhibit. This decision was reached early in the week by the management of the show, after a conference with President Bullard of the National Machine Tool Builders' Association, and with the approved of the Executive Committee.

The Society of Automobile Engineers, most of whose members will attend the show, have expressed themselves in favor of such an exhibit as it is an ideal time for machine tool builders to reach the men who are interested in their product. Automobile factories are continually increasing their tool equipment and engineers and makers of cars will be only too glad to see such an exhibit. To the general public the exhibit will be of an educational value. It is the intention to carry this exhibit at the shows each year following.

PIERCE-ARROWS AT WORK.

Two Big Trucks Sold to Local Firm for Hauling Heavy Loads of Lumber in City Service.

W. E. Bush closed a sale last week of two Pierce-Arrow motor trucks to the Hammond Lumber Company. These trucks will be put into city service at once and will be used in hauling four and five tons of lumber from the yards at Twenty-first and Alameda streets.

One truck was delivered last week and the other will start its labors this week. Both are the seventeen-foot models.

The Elder Lumber Company has had one of these trucks in service for over six months. The machine hauls the longest cuts without difficulty and one truck easily does the work of several horse-drawn trucks. The experience of this truck company has been that the work is done much easier and with less trouble and annoyance than with horse-drawn wagons.

All the large lumber companies are putting trucks in service. It is a progressive step, being taken by progressive companies.

Bush is having a big year with his Pierce trucks. He is having difficulty keeping them in stock and last week placed another order for the immediate shipment of four trucks.

MOTION PICTURE TRUCK.

L. S. Davidson of Portland, Or., has equipped a one-ton motor with a complete motion picture outfit, and is touring. The power wagon was piloted out of the city recently to visit towns where electric lights are not used. With the power from the gasoline motor, a 110-volt dynamo generated enough electricity to run the moving-picture outfit and one arc light. His equipment weighs 1500 pounds, and the truck is rated at twenty-five horse power.

Big Gun Here.

OLDSMOBILE FACTORY CHIEF GUEST OF MANAGER RYUS.

THE general manager and vice-president of the Olds Motor Works, Oliver C. Hutchinson, was a recent visitor in this city, in the interest of the automobile industry. While here, he was a guest of H. D. Ryus, manager of the Oldsmobile Company of California. Hutchinson has much to say in regard to the new 1913 "Six" equipped with self-starter, electric lighting and ignition system. His visit here was to arrange with the local company for the coming season's business. In an interview Hutchinson had the following to say:

"Never in the history of the industry has the future of the Oldsmobile been so auspiciously indicative of a wonderful season of business. Before we have had an opportunity to give our new series more than passing publicity, it seems the news of our new features and refinements has traveled by some unknown, underground route from one section of the country to the other.

"Inquiries have literally poured in, and everyone wants to know if it is really true that we have made a six-cylinder car with Delco self-starting, lighting and ignition system, and if our springs are actually sixty inches long, and the upholstery over twelve inches deep. In fact the features which are installed on the Oldsmobile Six represent every new improvement of worth, and we have endeavored to make the car for this season so entirely complete that we can safely say that not one item which makes for comfort or stability has been omitted.

"We have been pioneers in the manufacture of sixes and have ever known that some day the Six would come to its own, but we did not predict an avalanche of Sixes as is now the case. Every automobile manufacturer in Michigan is clamoring to get into the six-cylinder field.

"The automobile purchasing element have become motor wise and now appreciate the powerful, quiet six-cylinder motor. The popularity of the Six does not indicate that there is anything wrong with the four-cylinder, but merely points out the superiority of the Six. In Michigan it was not so much a matter of Taft, Roosevelt or Wilson as it was—can we supply the demand for Sixes. The Olds Motor Works will try to keep pace with the demand for Oldsmobiles, although the outlook so far points to an early season and since we do not manufacture in greater quantities than is consistent with perfect workmanship it will be simply a case of the 'early bird catches the worm.'"

ANOTHER RACE MEET.

Encouraged by its success in holding the recent race meets at Brighton Beach, the Motor Dealers' Exhibit Company of New York now plans to obtain the Vanderbilt cup race for a Long Island course. Negotiations are under way between the dealers and the American Automobile Association and the Motor Cups Holding Company, the two organizations controlling the race, looking toward holding the famous event on Long Island next September.

The Ohio State Association of Automobile Owners is laying plans to secure two new laws, which it is hoped to have enacted by the Legislature, which will have a far-reaching effect and which will be of special interest to all owners of motor cars. One of the desired laws will make it a penitentiary offense to steal an automobile.

Nashville has received the first of the three motor-driven fire engines ordered by the city.

STUDEBAKERS IN THE BALKAN WAR.

WAGONS ANSWER MANY PROBLEMS SEEMINGLY DIFFICULT.

Play Important Part in Fight Against Turks and Prove of Great Value in Keeping Lines of Communication Open—Interesting History of Things on Wheels.

BY PAUL HALE BRUSKE.

Although the returns from the seat of war are still lacking in detail, there exists a strong possibility that an American-made vehicle has played an important part in the stirring advance which the Christian allies have made on Constantinople.

Briefly, Studebaker wagons are fighting their sixth great war.

Only a few months before the opening of hostilities, the Studebaker corporation sold the Ottoman Empire an order of over 2000 ammunition wagons and ambulances. Quite naturally, the big Detroit and South Bend corporation was greatly interested in the early battles of the Bulgarian advance, reports of which almost always chronicled the capture of Turkish supplies and wagons.

That these were Studebaker wagons and that they have played an important part in the transportation of supplies required for the Bulgarian advance, is logically inferred. In the meantime, Charles Heske, a veteran member of the Studebaker staff, is telling his friends the entertaining story of the sale of the wagons; a story doubly interesting because of the close acquaintance which Mr. Heske secured, with Turkish methods and the personnel of the Turkish war office.

"The Turks may have deteriorated as a fighting race," Mr. Heske comments, "but they are as shrewd buyers as I have ever seen. When they decided to buy their new army wagon equipment, they advertised for demonstrations. When I arrived on the ground with my samples, I found representatives of vehicle plants in Russia, Hungary, Germany, France and Great Britain, all there. The officers put our wagons through actual road and field tests of the severest character. It was really wonderful that even my own wagon survived, for they seemed to expect a steady string of near-impossibilities.

"There were two of the wagons left, after the tests were over. The Turkish commissary officers then showed themselves just as clever at bargaining as at trying out the wagons. They finally got me down to my rock-bottom figure—a figure that I could meet only because the wagon I had was simply the stock Studebaker farm type, especially equipped with the army fixtures, and is regularly produced by us in immense quantities."

Mr. Heske is planning another trip abroad as soon as peace is declared. He is inclined to think that the Bulgars will be good Studebaker converts from their experiences with the wagons, captured from the Turks.

The Society of Automobile Engineers is already arranging to receive the visit of the British engineers next summer. The party, according to latest estimates, will consist of from thirty to forty members and will be somewhat in the nature of an official repayment of the visit of the S.A.E. to England last year.

ALCO BACK IN SERVICE.

Transcontinental Car Is Now in Daily Use After the Long Trip Across the Country.

With a run from New York to Philadelphia overtopping its 4145-milee coast-to-coast trip, the transcontinental Alco truck returned to the everyday service performed for its owners, Charles W. Young & Company of Philadelphia previous to taking the long journey.

The truck attracted much attention as it operated through the Philadelphia streets laden with merchandise. It bore few evidences of the battles it had fought and the difficulties that were encountered in hauling the first cargo of merchandise on record across the nation. The motor ran quietly and the big steel body had scarcely a dent in it.

One the side and back panels of the vehicle were the names of hundreds of men inscribed by inhabitants in nearly every city in the fifteen States through which the truck passed.

The first day of work for the truck, which according to members of the concern that own it will continue, consisted of trips for long distances both in the city, and to near-by towns in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

"One of the things which the trip across the continent proved was that a far wider radius of delivery is possible by motor trucks than by horses," declared Charles W. Young. "It is expected that the machine will run up a daily average of close to 100 miles in performing its regular service."

DON LEE TO CELEBRATE RECORDS BY CADILLAC

DON LEE is preparing to celebrate next month the second anniversary of the Los Angeles-San Francisco record which was made by a Cadillac two years ago this December. This mark of 14h. and 49m. has stood all these months despite many attempts to lower it and Lee and his forces mean to fittingly commemorate the event.

This run was made to conform to all the rules of the Fernando Nelson cup which requires that the car be fully equipped, be stock in every detail and carry four passengers all the way.

The 1913 models should arrive within a week or ten days and a visit to our salesroom will convince anyone that the Cartercar is not only up-to-date, but actually in advance of the times in construction and design.

NOVEL FEATURES.

Many novel features are installed in the new models, for instance, the gasoline tank is placed behind the dash and under the cowl, the intake for the tank being on one side, and an exposed gauge which shows the amount of gasoline in the tank is on the opposite side. This gauge can be seen from the seat and the driver knows at all times the exact amount of gasoline he has. Electric headlights and two electric side and a tail light are used, the power being generated by a small motor and run to a storage battery. There will be no more cranking of a Cartercar, as an electric starter has been installed, and after many months of experiment it has been so perfected that it never fails to start the motor. In fact, the car can be propelled a considerable distance by this electric motor, even if the gasoline is entirely shut off. The "Silent Northway" motor is used. The famous silent chain drive has been made even more quiet by an improved housing. The car has been refined throughout. Many women in 1912 were driving Cartercars, principally on account of the operation being so simple, the handling being no more complicated than an electric, and with the addition of the electric starter, electric lights, and many other refinements, the 1913 season will doubtless be a record-breaker for sales to the women of Southern California.

This season's models will include a Soudan, coupe, five-passenger tourer and a roadster, all on a forty-horse-power chassis. The only regret is that the company is delayed in 1913 shipments on account of endeavoring to build additions to the factory and at the same time build automobiles. The reputation of the Cartercar factory is to be maintained in spite of the fact that the capacity is to be practically doubled.

Turns Another Trick.

THOMPSON DRIVES JACKSON OVER CONEJO ON HIGH GEAR

THE Conejo grade on the high gear is the latest stunt to be pulled off by Charles H. Thompson, the local Jackson agent. Thompson went to Santa Barbara last week in one of his new roadsters. The great run was made on the return. There is a sharp turn at the bottom of Conejo and it is impossible for a car to get much of a start. Thompson did not start up the grade with any intention of making the hill on the high, but as the car continued to hold its own he woke up to fact that his Jackson was making some record, and as he gradually came to the steepest part of the grade the Jackson did not hesitate but topped the hill in fine shape without the necessity of changing gears.

But this was not the only record scored by Thompson last week. He sold the seventeenth car to the Cudahy Packing Company. This company had been using sixteen Jackson cars and when it became necessary to add another machine the Jackson was the choice without further consideration. These cars are used for city and country service and have given wonderful satisfaction.

Jackson cars were delivered last week to Dr. W. R. Jacobs, O. M. Loubach, J. W. Chambers, Mrs. Mary O'Donnell and A. M. Fredson.

READY FOR NEW FLANDERS.

H. O. Harrison Company to Have New Sales Manager for Local Branch of Big Concern.

Fred Phelps, for the past year prominently identified with the H. O. Harrison Company in San Francisco, has been made sales manager of the Los Angeles branch of this concern. Phelps formerly lived in Los Angeles and was well known in a business as well as a social way. He has thousands of friends in Southern California and can be depended upon to conduct a vigorous Peerless campaign in the southern end of the State. Phelps took up his new duties last week and is anxiously awaiting the coming of the new Flanders.

The H. O. Harrison Company has moved into temporary quarters at No. 1138 South Main street, preparatory to going into their large new building on Flower, near Pico. This building is under way and the contractors promise a completed garage and salesroom not later than February 1.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has placed an order for 4500 new steel freight cars, of which 1000 are to be especially fitted for automobile transportation. The cars will have wide doors, end doors, and be fitted with appliances suitable for handling motor cars.

PROMPT SERVICE FOR MOTOR TRUCKS

PURCHASER MUST BE HANDED QUICK DELIVERY.

Efficiency Is Important Item and Goods Should Be Handled With Care So That the Customer May Know Just What He Is Getting. Gramm Trucks Travel Afar.

"Promptness is our watchword," says Vice-President G. W. Bennett of the Gramm Motor Truck Company of Lima, O., in discussing the factors of success in the manufacture of commercial motor vehicles, "We have found that quick delivery creates an excellent impression in the minds of the buyers of our product, for it is only after long and careful study that the determination to purchase is arrived at and if there is a long wait after this decision is reached, there is a tendency for the renewed growth of the prejudice which everyone in the industry will admit exists.

"On the other hand, if you give a purchaser a hurry-up delivery of the truck he has purchased, he gets it into service at once and has an opportunity to see just what advantage there is over his old methods of transportation. The Gramm company has made several enviable records in the delivery of its trucks and we find that they are some of the best assets, aside from quality of construction, we could have. Recently a Seattle merchant purchased a truck and our dealers asked us to insure delivery within twelve days. Just three days after we received the order the truck left our factory.

"The American Hardware and Plumbing Company of Manila, P. I., which now operates twenty-five of our vehicles, recently ordered three more trucks, asking special promptness of delivery. Within forty-eight hours the trucks were ready for shipment. We have a number of other instances of rapid-fire work in shipments and while they have become so frequent as to be almost commonplace to us now, nevertheless we are very proud of them.

"The main reason for our efficiency in this respect is that we have standardized our product in every possible respect. Our chassis models are all made up of interchangeable parts, of course, and our body department is constantly supplied with a large number of standard bodies. This gives us the opportunity, when occasion demands, of devoting all our energies to rushing through special bodies when quick delivery is asked for."

WARREN CAR ON LONG TOUR.

Transcontinental Run in Nineteen-thirteen Car.

Bridal Tour Takes Motorists Over Many Miles of Road.

Reach Destination and Welcomed by P. A. Renton.

Across the continent in a Warren, without the least idea of mechanics, and without an experienced chauffeur Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Terry and Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Myers of Youngstown, O., reached this city on Wednesday. Their Warren car was covered with pennants. The body was scarred by the long trip, but the motor sounded as smooth as the most silent four-cylinder ever built.

P. A. Renton, the local agent for the Warren, welcomed the overland tourers and the car was housed in the Renton Motor Car Company's handsome quarters. Renton agreed to look over the machine, but after a careful inspection announced that it is ready for touring in Southern California.

The quartette of jolly tourists left Youngstown September 11. The car is a new 1913 model and was given no especial treatment before leaving the factory. Myers starred on his arrival here by driving his car in the parade in honor of the arrival of The Times-Chronicle pathfinder, which was driven by Teddy Tetzlaff. Myers sustained an injury to his arm in a collision on Spring street, but is doing well and will soon be driving again.

JOLLY FOUR.

The car had covered 4700 miles, making the trip by way of South Bend, Ind.; Council Bluffs, Denver, Colorado Springs, Santa Fe and Albuquerque.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers were married just before their departure from the Ohio city and are spending their honeymoon on a transcontinental trip.

The entire party had a narrow escape on the first part of the journey. Thirty miles out of Chicago one Sunday morning the Warren turned turtle. All jumped from the car except Meyers, who stuck to the machine and luckily escaped injury.

Like many other motorists, the Warren occupants will always remember the stretch of forty miles near Springerville, Ariz. "You might say there are no roads at all in that vicinity, especially on this side," said Terry last night. "In some places we had to get out and dig boulders out of the road before we could get by. Between Globe and Roosevelt the roads are good, and between Roosevelt and Phoenix they are in a fair condition."

The travelers also complained of the roads from Limon, Colo., to Colorado Springs and from Carthage, N. M., to San Antonio, N. M.

"There was an inch of snow on the ground when we left Colorado Springs," said Terry. "At Santa Fe, N. M., the bearings on our car gave out and we were delayed for several days. That was the only trouble we have experienced with the car."

Terry and Myers are brothers-in-law. Myers is an electrician and Terry is a baseball magnate, being connected with the Youngstown team of the Central League, which is the only twelve-club organization in the United States. A number of Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Pennsylvania cities make up the league. Ft. Wayne, Ind., won this year's pennant and Youngstown was second.

It was resolved by the Montreal (Quebec) Board of Control recently to accede to the request of the three section superintendents of the roads department to supply them with small automobiles costing $2000 each.

FLANDERS SIX REALLY COMING.

Much Expected Car at Last Is on Its Way Here.

H. O. Harrison to Hold Big Reception This Week.

Many Anxious to See Latest Creation of Big Boss.

Within the next two days the salesroom of the H. O. Harrison Company on South Main street will be thronged with people having their first look at the beautiful new Flanders "50-Six," which Manager Tom Williams announced yesterday was expected some time tomorrow. The new car will immediately be placed on exhibition and if it in the least way approaches the extravagant claims that have been made for it the Harrison salesroom will not be large enough to hold the people.

This has been one of the most talked-of motor cars of the year. Walter E. Flanders openly stated that this car would be the finest motor car he has ever turned out, and for months the entire force of the Flanders Motor Car Company has been putting their best efforts into this new Flanders Six.

The car was not hastily rushed on the market. The Flanders agents have had months of inactivity, but the time has not been lost. In California, H. O. Harrison has been getting everything in shape for a whirlwind campaign which will break this week.

From all sections of California agents will flock to San Francisco and Los Angeles for the purpose of closing contracts for this car. When the first announcement was made that Flanders would put a six on the market there was a rush from every section for agencies.

Flanders's advice from the start has been to close no contracts until the agents saw the car. They now have a chance to see that much-heralded automobile and as a result there will be a general closing of contracts this week.

The new Flanders is equipped with the Gray & Davis electric starting and lighting device. This is the most perfected starter of the day and is considered 100 per cent. perfect.

The cars are beautifully finished and equipped throughout with the one idea of providing the acme of luxuriousness and comfort. Harrison plans to place 1500 of these new Flanders cars in California this season.

EASY TO CROSS CONTINENT.

Kissel Kar Is Driven from Indianapolis to Los Angeles Without Troubles of Any Kind.

The impression has popularly prevailed that crossing the continent in an automobile is an experience entailing considerable danger and hardship. G. R. Van Auken of Indianapolis, with a party of three, recently arrived in Los Angeles and they deny any such theory and report a tour without mishap or serious inconvenience.

Van Auken drove a Kissel Kar "Six" the entire distance, and was accompanied by Mrs. Van Auken and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bell of Kansas City. They carried a complete camping outfit and never once stopped at a hotel. The Kissel Kar took the grades of the Rockies and the plains of the Platte with equal ease. Mrs. Van Auken and Mrs. Bell are proud of their accomplishments as rifle shots en route. Mrs. Van Auken shot a deer and Mrs Bell a black bear.

A new motor-driven sprinkling wagon has been put in service by the city of New Orleans.

On the Way.

NEW FLANDERS SIX IS EXPECTED THIS WEEK.

At last the much heralded Flanders Six will be here the last of this week unless the train on which the first carload is coming is wrecked or the track is washed away.

The first shipment left the Flanders factory November 30 and the latest reports received by H. O. Harrison showed the cars well on their way through the Middle West.

Giving the train plenty of time the cars should be here ready for exhibition not later than Saturday. This means that the Harrison salesroom, temporarily located at No. 1138 South Main street, will be far too small to accommodate the interested motorists who have been awaiting the coming of this machine. Not only will the retail customers be in attendance, but the many dealers throughout the State who have been endeavoring to contract for this agency are expected to be on hand to inspect the car and close for territory.

So confident has been the factory in this new car that no subagencies have been closed, the order sent out being to the effect that the dealers would be more enthusiastic and would want more cars when once they saw the sample.

The eastern demonstrators have been delivered in New York, Chicago and a few of the other large cities near the factory and telegraphic reports received daily by Charles Boothe, the factory's western district manager, are to the effect that the car has created such a sensation that in every section there has been a big demand for an increased allotment.

The six-cylinder Flanders is rated as fifty horse power. Its oiling is by means of positive gear pump overflow system. There is a sight feed gauge on the dash. The carburetor is especially designed for this car and there is an adjustment on the steering post.

The front axle is of the Timkem I beam type and the rear axle is the floating type. All gears and shafts are put to the most rigid tests and must conform absolutely to specifications and test demanded by the laboratories. The differential and drive pinions are supported by heavy roller bearings. Axle shafts are also carried on oversize roller bearings, carried at the ends of the shafts. The axle housing carries all the weight of the car.

Fifties will be furnished in both the seven and four-passenger styles. The bodies are exceptionally roomy and comfortable. The deep rich upholstery combined with the long, flexible springs makes an unusually easy riding car.

COFFROTH WANTS TWO LIVE ONES.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] If promoter James Coffroth can coax Willie Ritchie away from the footlights and get him to sign articles for a return match with Ad Wolgast for Washington's birthday, the local promoter declares he can pay the champion as much money as he would make in six months on the stage.

Coffroth is planning a return match between the present champion and the former champion and if he can get the boys together, he declares that in his opinion they will draw $60,000 or upwards.

"I sincerely think that Wolgast and Ritchie would attract a $60,000 house with all conditions favorable," said the promoter today. "It is easily the best card and the biggest that any promoter can arrange."

FREDDIE WELSH WANTED.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch to The Times by Wireless Line.] Negotiations have been opened by the Garden A.C. for a ten-round bout between Freddie Welsh, the lightweight champion of England, and either Packy McFarland or Willie Ritchie, who recently won the world's title from Ad Wolgast. As Ritchie's manager, Billy Nolan, has demanded a $10,000 guarantee for a bout in this city it is more than probable that McFarland will be selected to meet the clever Briton. Welsh has been notified that he can have a percentage while McFarland is ready to accept any reasonable terms.

PONIES ARRIVE.

Twenty-two polo ponies from Honolulu arrived in Coronado Friday evening, having been received in San Francisco the early part of the week. These animals will be used in the big polo tournament that is scheduled to begin next month. The owners of the ponies will arrive later on.

Inside History.

EARLE BOOTHE TELLS OF SELF-STARTING NATIONAL.

It is generally conceded that the self-starter question on motor cars is now the most widely-discussed problem among owners and makers. E. T. Boothe, president of the National Motor Car Company offers some clear and interesting "inside information" on this subject in describing the self-starters on the new National cars. He says: "Our system is the Gray & Davis, which consist of a dynamo which charges the battery and furnishes electric lights. This dynamo is placed near the front of the engine and is run with silent chain off of sprocket on cam shaft. It is of the constant speed type so that voltage is held extremely constant and eliminates any possible danger of overcharging the battery. At the same time it produces a current at such low speed of the car that the battery is continually being charged.

"The electric motor used for the starting in connection with this dynamo is geared to the engine in such a manner that the simple pushing of a plunger with the right foot throws this motor in gear with engine, and automatically throws in the starting switch, turning the engine over at a speed of about 100 revolutions a minute. When the foot is taken off this plunger after the engine is started it automatically throws out the switch and disconnects the starting motor from the engine itself, so that the motor is entirely out of commission until it is required again to start the engine, thus eliminating all wear on commutator and danger of its being injured in any way.

"A sufficiently large storage battery is used, which is placed on the front of the left running board to run the lights for a number of hours, even when the engine is not running and to start the engine a great number of times, and while it is not recommended, the starting motor can be used to propel the car should emergency arise in the case of the driver accidentally allowing his engine to stop.

"The engines on these cars have their power slightly increased, though they are now one of the most powerful of their size on the market, and also have been made even quieter than in the past. This has been accomplished by the use of special pistons and by special cams which have been developed by the National company after several years of careful experimenting."

AUTOMOBILE SHOW PICTURES.

H. K. Butterfield, the local Kissel Man, Tells What We May Hope to Find at Bug Exhibit.

"The approach of the big automobile shows in New York and Chicago," says Mr. H. Butterfield, manager of the Kissel Automobile Company, "pictures to my mind not alone what the thousands who attend will see, but the equally important features of the industry that they will not see.

"They will look upon a bewildering exhibition of handsome cars, brought to the highest degree of mechanical as well as esthetic perfection. They will try the most comfortable seats, listen to the buzz of the most silent motors, test the simplest and easiest operation, wonder at the efficiency and convenience of the new starting and lighting devices—in fact, in every feature of the invisible chassis and the visible tonneau they will not, and wonder at the progress made by the car makers.

"Yet, if it were possible, we would rather show those thousands through one of our service buildings, situated throughout the country, than meet them at the shows. While we are proud of our product, we are prouder perhaps of the manner in which our service facilities have been organized and developed. The car owner today is entitled to have mechanical care taken entirely off his hands, and this kind of service standing back of the Kissel Kar is an inestimable added value offered to every purchaser. It cannot be seen at the shows but in our service buildings which are located here and in all principal cities, the proof is gladly exhibited and demonstrated.

The Automobile Club of Maryland is pushing its campaign for a more sane and just motor vehicle law. Another thing the club will ask is reciprocal relations with the motorists of the District of Columbia.

To me, a match between Corbett and Johnson would have been a joke.

ANOTHER LIVE ONE.

Peter Jackson, who once held the championship of Australia and England and a man of the same color as Johnson, would easily have stopped Jack inside of ten rounds.

Peter was one of the best body fighters that ever entered a ring, and as with Corbett, Johnson would have been a mark for Peter's body blows.

Jackson was one of the most aggressive fighters that ever fought and game as they made them. He was cool and while not what might be called a "knocker out," he made every blow tell and seldom missed a punch.

Jackson was built much like Johnson and about the same height. He was a well-educated man and had a great head.

GODDARD VERY FIERCE.

Joe Goddard, another great Australian fighter, would have defeated Johnson had they ever met in their prime.

It was this same Goddard that beat Joe Choynski twice in Australia after Joe had him cut to ribbons. While not as clever as Sullivan, Corbett or Jackson, Joe was the most determined man of all. He weighed near the 200-pound mark and was about six feet tall, built much like Tom Sharkey and fought much like that tough sailor. Goddard fought like a bull terrier chasing a rat around a barrel. He would never stop an instant, until he won or was lying on the floor.

The terrific pace he would set would have taken all the heart out of Johnson, and he was a hard hitter and one of the toughest men in the ring. Jim Flynn's style is slow in comparison to the way Goddard would fight.

Bob Fitzsimmons would have had a good chance to beat Johnson, only his lighter weight would be a handicap to him against a man like Johnson.

While Jack Johnson is perhaps the best heavyweight in the game today, he was far behind men of twenty and twenty-five years ago, and this holds good in all classes.

JIM WOULD HAVE WON.

A fight between Jim Jeffries and Johnson when they were at their best would never have gone ten rounds. Jeffries would have easily stopped him. Jeff was much more clever, stronger, a harder hitter and faster than Jack Johnson ever was in his life.

I have not made these comparisons to take anything away from Jack Johnson as a boxer or fighter, or in trying to take a "knock" at him because he is in trouble. But the fighters of today are far behind the times.

Johnson's ending as a pugilist, while a bad thing for the fighting game, is a great thing in other ways, for it settles all questions of ever matching white and black men.

The race prejudice in this country will always be as it is today. Negroes are often given the worst of decisions when matched with whites and the sympathy of the fans is always with the white man, which is not fair to the colored fellow.

Most of our colored fighters have conducted themselves like gentlemen and kept themselves with their own kind, outside of the ring.

Jack Johnson's conduct since he has been champion has settled all questions about ever matching whites and blacks again, and it should be so.

MANY AUTOMOBILES.

Nearly 3500 automobiles are at present running on the streets of Indianapolis. That it means much to the city in the way of revenue is shown by the total amounts collected for the licenses, which aggregate $25,043. The license ordinance lists runabouts and roadsters at $5 each, touring cars at $8, light trucks at $10 and heavy trucks at $15 each. In 1911 the license fee was $3 for each vehicle, regardless of size and class, and only 2600 licenses were taken out by the owners. This netted the city $7800, or less than one-third the amount realized this year.

The Toledo (O.) Automobile Dealers' Association has voted to form an exhibition company to float an automobile show in January.

MANY COLLEGES TO GET PREPS.

Eight Long Beach Men for Local Varsity Squads.

Santa Monica Stars to Go to Eastern Colleges.

Pomona to Secure Five of the Chaffee Union Boys.

BY AL. G. WADDELL.

Many colleges are to share the profits of this year's Southern California High School football crop. A large percentage of the players who starred on the prep elevens during the past season are to graduate from high school in the spring and, with few exceptions, are to enter college in the fall.

This desirable varsity material will scatter to various sections of the country. Some of the high school stars intend to go East. Many are to remain in Southern California and attend Pomona, Occidental or Whittier, and a few have signified their intention of registering at California, Stanford or U.S.C.

With the ranks of prepdom thinned out by graduation, the southern high schools should not suffer for want of material next season. Coaches have developed men this year who almost displaced the seasoned veterans; and these men from the reserve lists should come into their own next fall and the teams should be as strong as they were this season.

EIGHT FROM LONG BEACH.

Long Beach High will lose eight first team men. Three of these are to go to Pomona, four to Occidental and one to U.S.C. The four which are to report to Coach Pipal of the Tigers are as follows: Riddick, center, who is 20 years of age, weighs 178 pounds and has had three years' experience; Barton, tackle age 20, weight 165 pounds, with four years' experience; Iverson, half-back, age 18, weight 174, with three years' experience, and Hayward, half or end, age 20, weight 130 pounds.

Pomona is to get Lenz, the veteran quarter-back; Deems, a tackle, and Bell, a husky guard. Lenz has played on the Long Beach team four years, is 20 years old and weighs 145 pounds. Deems is a youngster of 18, weighs 160, and has had three years' experience on high school teams. Bell weighs 167, is 18 years of age and has played on the team two seasons.

Ohl, a fast 145-pounder who plays at end, is the contribution to U.S.C. He is 19 years old and has played one year.

MANY BEACHERS GO.

Coach Church of Santa Monica High will lose nine first-team men by graduation. Hollywood, the big tackle and all-round athlete, intends to enter Stanford. Cobb, the other tackle, does not expect to go to college, but will enter business. Gilroy, quarter, and Richmond, half, are planning on registering at Cornell.

Schrader, guard, is undecided, but may register at Michigan. Jackson, one of the best prep ends seen this

BREAKING INTO BASEBALL.

First o' a Series of Articles Telling How Well-known Players Came to Make Baseball a Profession—This One Deals With Johnny Kane, Center Fielder of the Tigers.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

WHEN JOHNNY KANE decided to become addicted to baseball professionally, he did not sit down and wait for the job to come to him, but he issued forth and roamed the land until he found it.

Kane is a native of Chicago, where pork is packed in vast quantities, and which was once famous as the domicile of two championship teams. He grew up on the south side. He thrived and flourished in a block which was populated equally by the Irish, the Dutch and the Swedes. The boys of the neighborhood were divided into racial clans. Johnny was a member of the "Irish gang." This cluster ran true to form, and ruled the roost.

In the course of human events, Kane attended high school, and shed considerable luster as a member of the baseball team and track squad. He was the star sprinter of the school. He has never forgotten the tutelage he received as a [illegible], evidenced by the quick start which he makes when intent on stealing a base. There may be players who can circle the bases in less time than Kane, but none of them has anything on him when it comes to making a quick get-away.

All this time Johnny was harboring an ambition to illuminate the big league diamonds, so when he left school and took a job in a packing establishment it seemed all to the prosaic and very much contrary to the dreams of his boyhood. He became convinced that a young man engaged in canning "pigs' knuckles" could not hope to be a hero if he stuck to his last. Later he accepted a job in a packing-house in the great city of St. Joseph, Mo.

LOOKS FOR JOB.

Kane had been a chronic reader of the baseball sheets, and from day to day his ambition to convert baseball into a "meal ticket" for himself became more pronounced.

Finally his ambition reached that ingrowing stage where it was forced to seek an outlet. He sought to find this in correspondence. He spent considerable postage in letters to "Doc" Shively, president of the Missouri Valley League, and "Shorty" Hurlburt, president of the Springfield club. Dick Bayless was playing with the latter team at the time. Neither Shively nor Hulburt deigned to reply.

Kane returned to Chicago, and after a brief vacation left, ostensibly to resume his work in St. Joseph. At least, that is the impression which his folks had. In reality, Kane started on a still hunt for a job at playing baseball. He landed in Pittsburgh, Kan., somewhat depleted in finances but undaunted.

He looked up the ball park. A bespattered individual was engaged in painting flambouyant signs on the fence. He engaged the artist in conversation. While he was standing there, a well-dressed, athletic gent came up, said a few words to the sign painter and passed on into the hotel. It was Claud East, manager of the Pittsburgh club. Kane learned this much from his new-found acquaintance. He promptly sought a bunk in the same hostelry. Housed under the same roof as the manager, it was but a question of time until they would become acquainted, especially as Kane made such a meeting the one object of his life.

GETS HIS CHANCE.

Kane was offered a try-out with the Pittsburgh club. Wild for the chance, he repressed his emotions and demurred. It would not do for him to betray the fact that he was an out-and-out busher by appearing over-eager. His try-out came in a couple of exhibition games with the Kansas City Blues, then under the management of Charley Nichols, the old Boston pitcher. He was played at short and made good from the jump. Three days later he signed at his own terms. These were modest, but they looked opulent to Kane. Had East known the youngster's innermost thoughts, he could have signed him for a song. It was the chance that Kane craved above all else. Salary was a secondary consideration. Later he asked Shirley and Hurlburt why they had not answered his appeals. They replied that they received a dozen letters of that kind every week.

Kane continued with Pittsburgh for two years. To date that has been the maximum of his service with any club. The following winter he came West to grow up with the country. He was signed by Russ Hall, then manager of the Seattle club, in 1905, winning at third base over Voorhees and Dick Egan, the latter now with Cincinnati. In 1905, while the Seattle club was training at Santa Barbara, Kane advised Hall to give Pete Daley a try-out. "Pete" was then a mere "broiler," and Hall sent him to Victoria for needed ripening.

INVADES NATIVE CITY.

Kane led the base stealers of the Coast League in 1906, and the following year was sold to Cincinnati. He admits that it was the proudest moment of his life when he entered the Chicago grounds as a member of the Cincinnati team. All the friends of his school days were there to see him. The Irish, the Swedes and the Dutch with whom he had played and quarreled and scrapped on the vacant lot that served as a common playground for his neighborhood on the South Side, since grown to manhood, were there to do the hero worship act. The dreams of his boyhood were at last realized.

Kane continued with the Reds for two years and was then sold to the Chicago Cubs for Blaine Durbin, with the Oakland club part of last season, and Tom Downey, who has been secured by the Sacramento club in exchange for Third Baseman McDonald. To play in his native city as a member of a world's championship team surpassed anything that Kane, as a boy, had imagined in his wildest forays of imagination.

Kane played utility for the Cubs in 1909 and 1910. Ill-health affected his work in 1911, and early that season he was tagged for the minors. Hogan, learning that he would be available, lost no time in closing a deal with Chance. Not until last season did he show his true form, when he and his old friend, Pete Daley, easily were the outfield luminaries of the league.

PLAYFUL AUTO SPREADS HAVOC.

Realty Man Neglects to Throw Out Clutch and Motor Starts Things When He Starts It—Three Men Floored and Boy Chased Into a Hole—Enter the Hero.

An auto belonging to G. Hegyi, No. 1724 Morton avenue, ran amuck at First and Broadway yesterday afternoon, knocked down three men, including its owner, narrowly missed several women and chased a boy into an excavation.

Hegyi is a real estate operator with offices in the California building. He stopped his machine on Broadway, just above First street, forgetting to throw out the clutch. When he recranked the car it shot forward all but run down by the playful knocking him to one side, and headed down Broadway. At the intersection of First street several women were runaway.

The auto hurried on until it reached a street entrenchment. Ahead of it was a small boy, running for his life. As the boy climbed the guard fence and dropped into the excavation a rock deflected the course of the auto westward on Broadway.

William Ormsly, No. 518 Central avenue, and George Valbrich, a Slavonian laborer, standing near the curbing below police headquarters, were knocked down but not injured. At that moment, as the auto struck the curbing, an unidentified man jumped into the machine, and shut off the power.

TOURS IN WINTON SIX.

Says Much Work Is Being Done on the New Coast Highway—Many Tourers Here.

H. W. Curtis of San Francisco, who arrived here last week in his Winton "Six," says that active work is being done on the State highway "The survey is completed most of along the coast road. the distance," said Curtis, "and there is some grading being done. The road which has been traveled for years is by way of Jolon, but the State highway will cut across by way of San Ardo and King City and save some sixteen miles. At present this road is in the best shape although it is ploughed up in places for a short distance."

Curtis will tour in the southern end of the State before returning.

J. G. Oliver of Buffalo, Wyo., arrived here last week for the winter. He is shipping his 1912 Winton which was purchased here from the W. D. Howard Company last season.

A. J. Wells of Buffalo, N. Y., has also shipped his Winton here for the winter. He comes every winter to Southern California.

Among the new models received by the W. D. Howard Company is a beautiful four-passenger Winton, finished in gray, with a cerise stripe around the top of the body and cerise upholstery. The effect is very striking.

In Buying a Pleasure Electric

The All-Important Thing Is Getting Good Tires

A few years ago, the selection of an electric pleasure car was extremely difficult. There were many things to consider.

Today it is an easy matter. For any electric is now a good investment. The all-important thing is to get the right kind of tires.

Remember this: the best pneumatic tires in the world are liable to puncture, or blow out at any moment—demand constant repairs and seldom give over 3000 miles' service.

On the other hand, solid rubber tires allow an electric to jolt and quickly ruin its mechanical parts. They also lessen greatly the occupant's comfort.

But there is a tire which combines the good points of pneumatic and solid tires, yet has no disadvantages.

It's the Motz Cushion Tire.

A tire that after 4 years' test is used by most owners of electrics and adopted by every leading maker of pleasure electrics.

No user of Motz Cushion Tire was ever annoyed by punctures or blowouts, or by damaging bumps or jolts.

These tires have no air in them, yet they ride as if air-inflated, except under excessive speed.

Pneumatic resiliency and easy-riding qualities have been duplicated by means of a great mechanical invention—by the creation of ingenious double treads, slantwise bridges and undercut sides.

Look at the picture. Note the double, notched treads (A in picture,) which prevent skidding and distribute the weight to the sides. The sides are undercut (see B,) which allows free action of slantwise bridges (see C.) These bridges are elastic. They give and yield like the air in a pneumatic tire. Note D in the picture, showing shock-absorbing qualities when tire runs over a stone.

The End of Burdensome Tire Expense

Motz Cushion Tires cost a little more than some tires, but note their economy. Practically no expense for tire repairs. No extra, emergency tires needed.

And instead of giving the average 3000 miles' service, they give at least 10,000 miles. Each set, on pleasure electric cars, is GUARANTEED for 10,000 miles—two years.

Send for this Book

Motz Cushion Tires are easily applied to any standard clincher, universal quick-detachable or demountable rim.

If you are in the market for a new electric or for tires for your present electric, don't fail to read our latest Tire Book. It's ready for mailing and you may have a copy sent to your home or office simply by sending your name and address on a post card. Send specifications—name of car, model, size of rims, etc.

Record Shipment on Way to Howard Auto Company.

Fortune in Cars Ready for Coast, Many Happy

One Hundred and Fifty Cars Each Week the Record.

There will soon be received on the Pacific Coast the largest single shipment of automobiles on record.

This record-breaking shipment consists of seventy-five double-decked carloads of Buicks, containing 375 automobiles, valued at $482,400, and is the largest single shipment of automobiles ever made, all consigned to the Howard Automobile Company, Pacific Coast distributors for the Buick.

It will be remembered that the Howard Automobile Company established the record for large shipments of automobiles last year, when the concern received a trainload of fifty-two cars, in addition to three other trainloads nearly as large. In fact, C. S. Howard's activities in these immense shipments has won for him the name of "Trainload Howard," and has established his reputation as the country's premier automobile distributor.

The popularity of the Buick car is well attested by these shipments, the present world's record trainload being in addition to the regular allotment which has been increased to 150 cars a week.

Remedies Needed.

GOOD OFFICIALS ARE REQUIRED.

FOOTBALL HURT BY IGNORANCE OF THE RULES.

League Must Provide or Develop Umpires and Referees Who Understand the Game—Many Instances of Actual Incompetency During the Year Just Closing.

BY AL. G. WADDELL.

One of Southern California's most successful football seasons has been marred by a scarcity of competent officials. The work of certain men who judged the play in intercollegiate contests has been severely criticised by coaches and players; but some of the interscholastic matches were played under the judgment of men who were sadly lacking in even a general knowledge of the rules of the game.

No man should ever attempt to referee or umpire a football game without a keen understanding of the rules. Not only is a general, but a technical knowledge of the game necessary, which will give the official absolute mastery of the difficult situations which are likely to arise.

NO EASY THING.

A successful football official must continually study the "blue book" after once thoroughly mastering the rules. His application of the rule must be ready the instant the foul is committed. There is no time for deliberation and study on the field of play.

With twenty-two men in a play, it is extremely difficult to see every evasion or violation of the code; but the officials are expected to do this and render decisions immediately and impartially.

Some of the officials who acted in prep. school games this season were unable to interpret the simplest rules. One referee allowed the loser of the toss to receive, at the beginning of the first quarter, after the winner of the toss had selected the goal for his team to defend and the rule reads: "If the winner of the toss selects the goal, the loser must take the kick-off."

Another official insisted that a forward pass striking the ground within the end zone was an incompleted forward pass, when the code clearly states that it shall count as a touchback to the defenders of the goal.

POOR DECISIONS.

In one game, the referee ruled that the pass was not completed after it had been legally passed forward and went out of bounds before touching the ground. It should have gone to the opponents at the point where it crossed the side line. The same official, gave the ball to the opponents after it had been legally passed forward, and went out of bounds after striking the ground within the field of play.

One of the "rawest" decisions of the season was one which gave the ball to the defenders of the goal on their own five-yard line and saved what was almost a certain touchdown and defeat. The defenders had the ball on their own twenty-yard line and a punt was attempted. The ball was passed over the full-black's head and he recovered it on his five-yard line.

The referee declared it to be the defending side's ball, and first down on the grounds of a fumble. The ball should have gone to the opponents, as the punt was attempted after the fourth down had been declared and for the continuity of downs to be broken, the ball must have passed into actual control and possession of the other side and be recovered before it is declared dead by the referee.

SLOW OFFICIALS.

Many of the officials who acted this season were slow with the whistle and did not keep up with the play. They stood several yards behind the offensive backs and when the play started were either too lazy or too decrepit to keep up with the progress of the ball.

In one case it was learned that a referee had placed bets on the game which he was judging. Such a thing is detrimental to clean amateur sport and no matter how good the intentions of the official may be, he naturally becomes biased when he has money up on the outcome of the contest which he is refereeing or umpiring.

A man who should have known but the rule in regard to disqualificaalty to be declined by the offended side. Other penalties may be refused bu the rule in regard to disqualification is: "In case of disqualification by any official, the disqualification may not be declined by the offended side nor may the distance penalty accompanying it be offset by a foul by the other side, unless such foul be also punishable by disqualification."

PASSED THE BUCK.

Before one important interscholastic match, the man selected to officiate found it necessary to borrow a rule book from a spectator and study diligently for an hour before the game commenced.

When, at the beginning of the second half, this official was to change places with the referee, he "passed the buck," and it was well for the game that he did. His work on the field meant about as much to the game as the cheering of the spectators in the bleachers.

Officers of the Southern California Interscholastic Football League plan to remedy this sad condition of affairs next season. It is proposed to have the principal of each high school in the league appoint two officials.

The corps of officials will then be instructed on the fine points of the new rules and two men are to be assigned to each contest, regardless of where the game is to be played.

In this manner it is hoped that some competent officials will be developed early in the season, and the decisions of these men are to be backed up by the officers of the league.

Last Chance.

U.S.C. TEAM TO PLAY FINAL GAME CHRISTMAS.

THE U.S.C. Rugby team will start hard training tomorrow night for the Christmas Day game with the Los Angeles Athletic Club. This will be the last football game of the year and the Trojans are bent on bringing home the scalp of the clubmen.

For the first time this season the Trojans are going up against even competition. The L.A.A.C. team is made up of former Stanford and California players in almost every position, but the team as a whole is likely to lack the condition of the Trojans.

There is another thing which will slightly favor the U.S.C. team and that is the fact that it has been together for almost two seasons and every man knows his team mate. On the other hand, the L.A.A.C. squad has just been brought together and may be lacking in team play, though it is a known fact that Rugby requires less of team play than the American game.

NO ALL-STAR TEAM.

In the past all-star games have been fakes, with the exception of the one last Christmas, when the S.C.A.C. walloped the Navy so badly. This will not be an all-star game, though there will be any number of stars on the club team.

It will be a case of a lot of wonders playing a lot of hard pluggers. However, stars can make good in a game of Rugby, as shown when the California All-Stars made such a great showing against the Waratahs last month.

Phil Harrigan has been lately added to the club team and makes a decided improvement in the backfield. Stan and Mow Mitchell have been playing the fives up to date, but with Harrigan in the team, Stan can be moved out to center three, where his ability to carry the ball should gain many yards for the L.A.A.C. colors.

Harrigan played for two seasons on the Stanford varsity and is counted one of the best fives in the game today. With Harrigan, the two Mitchells and Ted Giessler in the backfield, the men behind the scrum give the club team a Stanford look. The line-up of the team is not known yet, but after the next two weeks' practice Mow Mitchell will have about selected the men who will face the Trojan varsity on Christmas.

CLUB WON TWICE.

The L.A.A.C. ruggers have twice defeated the U.S.C. second team, though the first time the score was larger than in the second game, which looks good for the Trojans and rather bad for the clubbers.

In the first game the score was 14 to 0 and in the second 6 to 3. What the team will do with the regular varsity is open to conjecture, but before U.S.C. wins the game it will take some of the best Trojan Rugby.

After the exhibition put up by Manning's men against California on Thanksgiving Day, anybody would be justified in placing more confidence than usual in the Trojans. The team opened up and pulled off some passing rushes and handled the ball well in this game, though the boys were up against the best team that has been south this season.

MAY BE DEVELOPMENT.

One of the interesting features of this game will be in watching the club team develop. If Southern California can have one team in the field next fall similar to the Olympic Club squad of San Francisco, U.S.C. will get competition in its own class and that means that the Methodists may rush to the front.

Stiff competition has been lacking for the past two seasons. The only thing that the Trojans could get was practice with the various High School squads and these boys have to be handled so gently that the varsity men can do nothing in the way of development, so the L.A.A.C. may be the solving factor in the Southern Rugby problem.

Nothing But Class.

STATE RUGBY HONORS TO BE SETTLED NEXT WEEK.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

THE State Rugby interscholastic championship will be played off on Bovard Field next Saturday afternoon between Los Angeles High School and the Berkeley High School and a rousing good game is expected. The Berkeley team had a hard time winning the northern title, but finally managed to nose out the Palo Alto team, after a bitter struggle, which was protested by the losing team.

However, the northern Rugby Union would not reverse the decision of the referee, so the title stands as won by Berkeley, despite what is said by Palo Alto or Pomona.

The local High School had much the same experience here. Pomona was beaten for the title of the south and then came to the front with a robbery riot call. The game was played and Pomona lost, and even if the L. A. team might be open to criticism, there is no way of settling the matter, after a game has been played and won.

The Pomona authorities knew who was going to play for Los Angeles and should not have played the game if these men were not satisfactory.

The Berkeley team is probably the strongest northern high school team that has come south for a number of years. Several of its members have been playing on the Barbarian team in San Francisco, which is in itself enough recommendation to point to class galore.

Coach Noble said that he expected the hardest game of the season, but that the Hill Top team would be in far better shape than at any previous time this fall. The High School suffered a decided slump this season and only during the last three weeks has shown anything like the old-time form in the games played here.

There was a certain amount of crabbing among the members of the team during the first part of the season, but since Ralph Noble has taken hold of the squad this has been stopped. At once the results became apparent and now we can feel sure that the Los Angeles High School will be represented by a strong team in the coming game for the title of the State.

If all the reports concerning the snap and dash of the northern team are true, the local boys will have to play a forward game to win and if the Blues and Whites can dribble as well as they did in the past, Berkeley will have a hard time taking the banner north.

CZAR FAVORS AUTO BUSINESS.

Gives His Sanction to Great Show for Next May.

American Machines Are Very Highly Thought Of.

Motor Trucks for War Uses Are Most Desired.

At St. Petersburg, Russia, on May [illegible] 1913, the Emperor of Russia will inaugurate the international automobile exhibition, which is organised by the Imperial Automobile Club of Russia, under his patronage and with the backing of the imperial government, as an event of national import. The honorary president of the exhibition will be the president of the Council of Ministers, Mr. Kokoftzeff. It is the first show of its kind in Russia to have enlisted direct support of the government authorities and the patronage of the Czar.

The American manufacturers, who will in all probability be exhibitors at this exhibition, are not only paid marked attention, but the American products are distinctively given official indorsement from the outset. In his official invitation to the United States Department of State, George Bachmeteff, the Russian Ambassador at Washington, expresses himself as follows:

"Considering the fact that the American type of automobile is the most indicated for country use in Russia, adapting itself more than the machines of European construction to roads not macadamized, the Automobile Club of Russia is keenly interested in seeing the great American manufacturers of motors and automobiles exhibit their new models at St. Petersburg in the spring of 1913."

V. Swetchine, aide-de-camp to the Emperor and vice-president of the Imperial Automobile Club of Russia, addressed the automobile manufacturers at large and spoke on the automobile in Russia and its interest to the Russian people. He spoke in flattering words of the American product as it is in use in their country, being more suited to Russia on account of the similarity of the automobile conditions of the two countries.

Great interest will be taken in the exhibition by the Russian military authorities in the line of trucks. Here again it is stated that the American made trucks are more suited to the conditions in Russia. The authorities are particularly interested in the following list of special types of trucks:

Motor trucks fitted for carrying military stores; trucks fitted for transporting aeroplanes; trucks suitable for radio-telegraph stations; trucks fitted for radiography stations; searchlight motor trucks, field kitchen motor trucks; wagons adapted for traveling work-shops; tank cars; armored cars for conveying quick-firing guns; field ambulance motor wagons; field service surgeries; wagons adapted for housing stretchers with wounded; motor fore-carriages for fortress artillery; military telegraph cars; power plant cars; light runabouts for reconnoitering service; appliances for enabling motor cars to drive through sand; tractor cars, seventy and eighty-horse-power, with three trailers; motor car equipped with ninety c. m. projectors; and trucks with cranes for lifting guns, etc., while moving uphill on steep grades.

COUNTRY SPORTS ASK CHANGE IN LAWS.

[Special Correspondence to The Times.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 6.—Some very notable changes in the game laws and the game seasons are to be recommended to the next session of the Legislature by the San Bernardino county branch of the Fish and Game Protective Association. A campaign to secure a law absolutely forbidding the sale of any kind of game or fish taken from the inland waters will be urged, and a law forbidding the transportation of such by the railroads.

It is also desired that the seasons for dove, quail and rabbits be made the same and thus avoid killing protected game when in the field hunting some of the other kinds, as is often the case under the present arrangement. The duck limit is desired extended in this county, as the birds do not breed here and can only be hunted when they migrate here, which is not in the breeeding sagon.

The changes desired are:

Deer—October 1 to November 1. Limit, two bucks to the season. Present season—August 15 to September [illegible]

Rabbits—October 1 to February 1. Limit, fifteen per day. Present season—August 1 to February 1.

Doves—October 1 to February 1. Limit, twenty per day. Present season—September 1 to November 1.

Valley quail—October 1 to November 15. Limit, twenty per day. Present season—October 15 to November [illegible]

Ducks—September 1 to April 1. Limit, twenty-five per day and fifty per week. Present season—October 1 to March 1.

All trout—May 1 to December 1. Limit, fifty per day or twenty-five pounds and one fish. Present season—April 1 to November 1.

Black bass—June 1 to January 1. Limit, twenty per day. Present season—same with limit of fifty per day.

TIRE MEN RETURN EAST.

Month Spent in Los Angeles and San Francisco Teaches Them Much Concerning Trade.

J. M. Gilbert, general manager of the United States Tire Company, and J. D. Anderson, the general salesmanager, have returned East after a month spent in the West, visiting the agencies and holding conferences at the different branches. C. A. Gilbert, the western district manager, met the head officials in Seattle and accompanied them on their tour of the Coast branches. They ended their Coast visit in Los Angeles and several days were spent seeing the beauties of that end of California.

Both men were highly pleased with conditions as they found them. Their business in all its branches is showing remarkable growth and each month the shipments to the West grow larger.

"And this wonderful increase in our western business is making itself felt in our factories," said Gilbert. "We now have the five plants working capacity to keep up with the demand and we expect this condition to continue. Great improvements are being made in all branches of our organizations and the next year will see many additions to our many plants."

Salesmanager Anderson was on the Coast a year ago and was even more favorably impressed than at that time. His one wish was that he could always be able to come to the Pacific Coast at least once each year.

Don't Blame Him.

MARION MAN MAKES BIG HIT.

THEN TAKES CLASSY CAR AND HAS WIDE TERRITORY.

Watched Development of the Line He Now Represents and Is Sure the New Cars This Year Will Be Better Than Ever—Tells of Nineteen-thirteen Models.

M. D. MacNab of Chicago, a well-known figure in the automobile world, recently joined the Marion forces as vice-president, of the Indianapolis concern. This announcement caused considerable comment among the industry, as MacNab leaves the United Motor Chicago Company, where he was general manager, and which is one of the largest distributing houses in the automobile field, to take up his new duties. He will have direction of sales and will at once enlarge the interests which he has had in automobile distribution.

For three years MacNab has had charge of the distribution of Maxwell and Columbia cars over a wide range of territory, and will be a valuable addition to the executive force of the Marion Company. It is through the efforts of J. I. Handley, president of the Marion Company, that they have been able to secure the services of MacNab. It is the policy of Handley to get together experienced men, each in his own field, and who will be able to keep up the wonderful growth of the Marion factory. MacNab will make his headquarters in Indianapolis.

"I have been watching the development of the Marion Company with a great deal of interest, since Handley has been at its head," said MacNab, in commenting upon his new connection, "and after seeing and riding in the new 1913 models I could not hold out longer, but had to surrender. I have great confidence in the future of the Marion organization as is evidenced by my decision in accepting this new position and severing my connections with the Chicago concern. After going over the field situation with the sales manager, F. G. W. Sudrow, I am entering upon my new duties with great anticipations for the future."

AUTO FIRE FIGHTERS.

Going even a step beyond the aims of most cities that are seeking to introduce automobile fire fighting apparatus on a large scale, municipal authorities of Cleveland are at work upon a plan to adopt an electric pumping system, patterned somewhat after that employed in the city of Berlin, Germany. With the co-operation of the municipal lighting system, electrical connecting plugs will be established alongside the water plugs, so that current for operating the pumps may be directly obtained. The pumps will be mounted on automobile chassis, and manufacturers estimate that outfits to pump 1000 gallons a minute will weigh about three tons each, and cost in the neighborhood of $2000.

MOTOR CLUB.

San Jose, Cal., has established something like a record in the quick organization of a motor club. At the beginning of the present month a number of enthusiasts decided that the Garden City ought to have an automobile organization and a clubhouse. Promptly they got together and organized a country club. Within the next two weeks they secured a membership of 275, raised $45,000 in actual cash, bought ninety acres of foothill land near Alum Rock Park and let a contract for the erection of a handsome clubhouse and the laying out of extensive golf links. There will also be a large and elaborate garage.

Matty Baldwin has sent another passionate outburst through the United States mails to announce that he is a wonder.

Business Booming.

UNIVERSAL MOTOR TRUCK FIRM PLANS CHANGES.

THE Universal Motor Truck Company of Detroit is one of the new concerns planning to turn out a large number of commercial cars this year. The factory equipment contains every facility for building the 1913 commercial car and a large output is promised for this year. The concern built $3,350 trucks last season and this year will double the output.

The [illegible] is quite a new model which they are just bringing out and is generally conceded to be the strongest, sturdiest and most-up-to-date one-ton truck on the market. They have used the imported English worm drive which has been used a number of years abroad, giving the best satisfaction.

[illegible] is in the torque rod propeller, a universal fastening used at the front end of the same. This is patented and of course can not be used by any other firm. It gives a perfect rigid torque rod, at the same time allowing a wide range of weave for the rear wheels. This model has been put to an exceptionally hard test, making two trips a day between Detroit and Pontiac over very bad roads, making a total distance each day of about 100 miles. One way the truck is driven light but on the return trip is loaded with a weight of 3800 pounds.

The factory where the Universal truck is constructed is 65 by 270 feet. It is of four stories and built of reinforced concrete. It is entirely devoted to the manufacture of commercial vehicles. There is also a two-ton and a three-tone machine of this make. F. K. Parke, is the general manager; H. L. Winter, general sales manager; V. Link is the chief engineer and E. W. Dobson the general superintendent. Both the latter men were formerly connected with the Packard Motor truck builders.

Glad of It.

TWO FAST CARS FOR RACE MEET.

Studebaker Camps to Have Rival Teams This Year.

When Smoke of Burman Tetzlaff Blows Then Watch.

Crack Pair of Drivers to Handle the Small Cars.

Two Studebaker racing camps pitted against each other will be one of the features of automobile track meets in Southern California this winter, if the Burman-Oldfield-Tetzlaff affair ever reaches mother earth long enough to permit of such things being held here.

The Studebaker corporation has hurled defiance at the A.A.A. Never while the present governing body controls racing will a Studebaker team be in the field. But this does not prevent Studebaker cars from being raced, and that's how it happens two of the little speeders are in Los Angeles looking for engagements.

At the close of the last racing season Paul Hale Bruske, publicity dispenser for the big Detroit firm, sent two of his racers out here to L. J. Ollier, the Los Angeles manager. "Use them any way you want to," urged the factory man, but Mr. Ollier, knowing the attitude of the home office, found that his best "use" was to sell the machines.

Frank Good and Lloyd Staples, members of Bill La Casses force at the local Studebaker retail branch, immediately put in a bid for one car, and "Skew" Shannon and Arch Kincaid, of the Detroit company's wholesale house here, followed suit for the other. In the drawing that followed the retail employees secured the celebrated "No. Ten," which was driven to a world's record in Tacoma last summer, while Shannan and Kincaid secured the "Salt Shaker," looked on as equally as speedy a racing craft.

Each branch of the house of Studebaker now claims it has the fastest car, and each side is willing to prove it for anything from money to talk. The little speeders will be entered in every event around here to which they are eligible, and the Shannon-Kincaid and Good-Staples teams are waiting for the starting gun to definitely settle their little argument over speed superiority.

THISTLES WIN FROM SHAMROCKS AT HOCKEY.

By a score of 6 goals to 4 goals, the Thistles beat the Shamrocks at Exposition Park yesterday afternoon, in the first of a series of hockey games before the cup games commence next month.

Miss Marguerite Miller, captain of the winning team, played in her usual spectacular style. Mrs. Clifton on the right wing and Miss Brack on the left prevented several hard rushes by the Shamrock forwards.

At the end of the first half, the combination play of Miss Crosby, Miss Lillian Cheesman and C. C. Bufkin, left guard of Whittier College football team, proved too much for the Thistles. The score at that period was 4 goals to 2 goals in favor of the losers.

By changing the positions of several of the players, Miss Miller was enabled to form an exceptionally strong forward line. J. F. W. Allan, F. H. Palmer and Mrs. Clifton, by passing, worked the ball into the striking circle, from whence the winning hit was made by Miss Brack just before the call of time.

Owing to the ground having been recently graded, play was rather slow, as the ball hung, owing to sand and weeds. This will be rectified by next Saturday, when Duarte, the present cup-holders, will meet a combined team of Los Angeles and Santa Monica players.

Following is the line-up of yesterday's game:

Thistles—Miss Marguerite Miller, captain, Mrs. A. Clifton, Miss G. M. Brack, Miss Gladys Barnes, Miss C. Mytton, Miss B. Wien, Miss Ethel Barnes, Miss Helen Snodgrass, Miss A. Grunwold, J. F. W. Allan, F. H. Palmer.

Shamrocks—Miss M. Crosby, captain; Miss Lillian Cheesman, Miss Nora Wilson, Miss J. Cheesman, Miss G. Wild, H. Mansfield, C. C. Bufkin, H. F. Blue, E. Manico, G. Blue, H. Mackle.

Very Quick One.

FRENCH MANAGER LEARNS WAYS OF AMERICANS.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] The Frenchman who is bantamweight champion of France has "cottoned" onto the ways of the American managers of fighters in regard to holding out for his price.

After accepting a guarantee for $750 for Ledoux to fight Kid Williams six rounds at the National Athletic Club of Philadelphia next Wednesday night, the Frenchman learned that Williams was getting $1000 and he promptly made the club give him an additional $250 for his fight.

SAME OLD STORY.

Feeling all broken up over the poor showing he made in his recent bout with Eddie McGoorty, Mike Gibbons has decided to go back to his home at St. Paul where he intends to rest up for six weeks before taking on another battle. Accompanied by his brother, Tom, and his manager, Eddie Reddy, Gibbons will leave for the West tomorrow.

CHANCE FOR JACK.

One Round Davis, the heavyweight of Buffalo, who recently stopped Jim Stewart, the Brooklyn boxer, in a bout at Buffalo and who is said to be a coming man in the heavyweight class, has been signed to meet Jack (Twin) Sullivan for ten rounds at the Queensbury Athletic Club of Buffalo on Christmas night. They fought a ten-round draw at the same club a few weeks ago.

More Bluff Talk.

REAL DEVELOPMENTS DUE AT BIG LEAGUE MEETING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Baseball "fans" here are expecting interesting developments when the annual meeting of the National League convenes here Monday.

Headed by James Gaffney, owner of the Boston team, some of the magnates arrived here today and informal conferences in preparation for the matters to be taken up at Monday's meeting were begun. Of these the most important is the election of a president and while several names have been mentioned for the post, the general talk is that Thomas J. Lynch, who successfully led the fight to force Horace Fogel, the Philadelphia president, out of the league, will be re-elected without much opposition.

Another matter to be taken up is the case of Roger Bresnahan, who was discharged from the position of manager of the St. Louis club after serving one year and who claims that under a five-year contract he is entitled to $40,000 at $10,000 a year, together with 10 per cent. of the profits of last year's earnings from Mrs. Britton, owner of the club.

Bresnahan is coming to New York, it is said, with a lawyer, to present his case and it is stated Mrs. Britton will have a lawyer on hand also.

The controversy between Garry Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati club and Charles W. Murphy, president of the Chicago team, over the transfer of Joe Tinker from the Cubs to the Reds may come up.

According to a story from Chicago, Herrmann has "something up his sleeve" which may induce Murphy to release the famous shortstop.

MORE WORK FOR MORRIS AND BROWN.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Carl Morris, who has knocked out two fightrs in quick succession in bouts in the South since he returned to the ring, has signed articles for another battle. His opponent will be Bob Williams, a western heavyweight whom he will take on for eight rounds at the National Athletic Club of Chattanooga, Tenn., on December 10.

Knockout Brown, the local lightweight, and Young Reilly, the West Side fighter, have been secured by Eddie McMahon to meet in the main bout of ten rounds at the next show of the Olympic Athletic Club, on Monday night. Reilly recently fought a great battle against Patsy White and stowed him away in the ninth round after White had the better of the mill.

HAYNES

LOS ANGELES FACTORY BRANCH

The Haynes Auto Sales Company has opened a factory branch, fully equipped and in charge of factory trained experts, at 1225 South Olive street, Los Angeles. The Service Department already is in operation and at the disposal of Haynes owners.

Every mechanic who will handle Haynes cars about the branch will have received his training in the Haynes factory. No guess work about it. Each will know what he is doing all the time. Factory responsibility means factory standards in repairs.

Owners will be given the advantage of every bit of expert knowledge the company has gathered in its nineteen years of the manufacture of the Haynes Automobile. The branch and Service Department are intended for that purpose. It is to the company's interest that owners should learn all there is to know about their cars and the Branch officials will see that they are given every opportunity to do so.

The newest model Haynes 22, electric starting and electric lighting, is everything that you will demand of an automobile. It is the complete car. Its completeness is expressed in its powerful, durable, dependable, easy-running, silent, simple and accessible working parts—its sturdy frame—its graceful lines—its roominess—the luxury of its upholstery, the deepest used in American cars—and in its electric starting and electric lighting system of utmost simplicity and 100 per cent. efficiency.

The Haynes cars have always been known for the superlative quality of their materials and workmanship—for the durability, efficiency and dependability of their easy-running working parts—their splendid motor and sturdy frame—combining to make a car for years of service. It is on the merit of this mechanical superiority that the Haynes has built its reputation.

No prospective owner can in justice to himself or his purse afford to overlook the Haynes. Arrange for a demonstration and judge for yourself the merits of this perfect, complete car.

FLYNN AND M'CARTY BOTH GOAT GETTERS.

Jim Flynn has lost his reputation as a "goat getter." When he and McCarty were introduced at Vernon before the Rivers-Mandot fight on Thanksgiving Day, Jim turned Luther around and said to him, "Gee, but you are a big stiff." Luther looked sheepishly at Jim, grinned and walked away. When Flynn got off the platform, he said he had a lot of those "big stiffs" licked before he got them into the ring.

But the tables have turned and Luther and his clever manager, Billy McCarney, have got Jim's "goat," nanny and kid, good and hard.

McCarty's picture appeared in one of the daily papers a few nights ago with a monkey sitting on one of his shoulders. Luther named the monk Jim Flynn.

Willie Rooney called on Jim Thursday afternoon and asked what he thought of Luther naming his monkey after him. Jim went up in the air instantly and said:

"Wait until I get that big stiff in the ring next Tuesday night and I will start on his stomach and by the time I get up to his head he will think he has a whole menagerie of monkeys on his shoulders.

"When this fight is over, I will buy him a hand organ, set him down on the corner of Fourth and Spring streets and as I pass him I will drop a nickel in the monkey's hand.

"He has been pulling a lot of that stiff Bristly. He has been giving exhibitions of his rope twirling to a bunch of kids down at Venice, but when he gets mixed up in the ropes next week with me he will think he is roping a bunch of broncos before I get through with him. He is getting so funny that he cannot see a clown in a circus and he is the funniest man in the bunch."

This goat getting often works better than expected sometimes. Especially when it is turned against the other fellow.

If Flynn loses his head in the coming fight, he might get himself into trouble. Don't get mad, Jim, you cannot think well when angry.

December 15 has been set for the annual convention of the New York State Automobile Association, at Utica.

Here They Are.

OCCIDENTAL HAS EIGHT MEN IN ALL-STAR TEAM.

Experts Who Were on Winning Southern Team in the South Picked as Best—Holten of Whittier Is the Premier Center While Pomona's One Man Is Brooks at Right Half.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

THE following selections have been made for the all-southern intercollegiate football team for 1912:

Leon Yakeley, Occidental, right end.

Drury Wieman, Occidental, left tackle and captain.

"Tad" Jones, Occidental, right tackle.

Hermon Siefert, Occidental, right guard.

Bob Smith, Occidental, left guard.

"Cookie" Holten, Whittier, center.

Duffy Seay, Occidental, quarterback.

"Speed" Brooks, Pomona, right half.

Sid Foster, Occidental, left half.

"Buck" Finch, Whittier, fullback.

At last the day for choosing an all-star team has rolled around and the duty must be met with resolution. Of course, some of the young men who rammed the earth all season will be hurt at not finding their names on the list, but everybody cannot make a team, so we have to take the best and let it go at that.

The men on the all-southern team for 1912 have been selected after a careful study of the various charts taken at each game. Consistency, ability and spirit are the main assets in selecting a team of this nature and for these reasons the above knights of the gridiron are gracing The Times all-southern team this year.

There are several positions where the running was very close and in another year the man who was left out this time may be chosen instead. All-star means all-around, and a team of this nature is selected for results, should the men be put on the same field of play and on one team.

WIEMAN CAPTAIN.

Drury Wieman of Oxy, left tackle and captain, is the only man for this position. The fact that Drury is the best line man in the south and can play any backfield position, makes him probably the most valuable football player in the south. He is a great leader and knows the game from the ground up.

This was his fourth year with the Tigers and he surely brought his team through a splendid season. He is a great man and we will be sorry to see him sitting on the bleachers next year, but four years is a man's allotted time on a college gridiron. It is good-by to the mighty Tiger captain, one of the greatest football players in the football history of the West.

STRONG END MEN.

The race for the end positions was close during the early part of the season, but after the Oxy-Pomona game there is but little to say. Yakeley of Oxy on right end and Harry Kirkpatrick of Oxy on left makes a combination capable of playing open football and putting up a great defense. Reeves and Wilson of Pomona played a good defensive game this season, but offense is absolutely necessary this year and this is where the Pomona wings fell down.

McCaslin of Whittier also deserves honorable mention. He can handle the forward pass almost as well as Kirk and a little better than Yakeley, but he is weak on the defense, doing most of his tackling around the eyebrows. Yakeley played brilliant ball all year. He handled the forward pass well, getting away for good gains in all the games this season, but the way he breaks up his opponent's plays is highly satisfactory.

KIRKPATRICK A SENSATION.

Harry Kirkpatrick is a sensation. At taking the forward pass he is without an equal in the south. He makes every catch sure and time after time has planted the ball behind the enemy's goal posts after the heave.

Not only does he make good with the pass from the scoring end, but in the Pomona game showed that he can break up any passes sent against him, and generally runs for a score. Kirkpatrick can produce more thrills in one game than all the ends in the South. He does not try for sensations, but they come naturally to him. Yakeley and Kirk made an ideal pair of wings.

TAD JONES EASY.

"Tad" Jones of Oxy has been selected for right tackle because he is one of the most steady line players in the South today. There is nothing brilliant or sensational about Tad, but he can open up a hole in almost any line and has outplayed all the local men sent against him this season.

Like a rock, he stands through thick and thin, battling from first to last, never quitting and furnishing ballast for his team. I do not suppose Jones has done anything that would set a river on fire this year, but the fact that he is always there in the pinch, doing the work where it does not show, gives him his berth.

Herman Siefert of Oxy, the fighting Dutchman, is the one and only man for right guard. He is about the fiercest thing in the South today; can tackle like a wild man, never misses a runner, and is one of the greatest defensive guards in Southern California.

RACE FOR LEFT GUARD.

Bob Smith for left guard might cause some of the wise ones to quibble, but this young man showed his ability in the line in the Pomona game. The charts indicate that he stopped almost every play sent against him. He is a free tackler and does not confine himself to one given position, gets the man with the ball and does it quickly. Smith played tackle most of the season, but if a man can play tackle the way Smith played it, he can play guard and get by without a shadow of doubt or turning.

Eakin and Heath of Pomona and Chester Bradbeer of Occidental should be mentioned for this position. Bradbeer has it on the two Pomona men in class and speed, but is not quite as aggressive as Smith, though there is but a shade between them.

Heath and Eakin proved too sieve-like in the Pomona-Oxy game, but two weeks later came back in the game with the Miners, but the one slump was a little too much.

HOLTEN AT CENTER.

"Cookie" Holten of Whittier is recognized as the best center in the south this year. He has been working hard and long and at last has shown the class. He is a little light, but makes up for this by a wonderful fighting spirit.

He led his Quakers all season against big odds without wavering. The competition was not very close here, as Gillette of Pomona went back this season and Lane of Oxy lacks the varsity experience and a certain amount of aggressiveness necessary to make a star man.

It gives one great pleasure to announce that Duffy Seay of Occidental is the All-Southern quarter-back. There is no question here and the man that would raise one, would be considered crazy. Seay is a wonder-

BROWN TO START BASEBALL CLASS.

[BY WIRELESS LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] Mordecai Brown, former star twirler of the Chicago National League club, now a cast-off, is seriously considering opening a school of baseball in Chicago.

Tentative plans include instruction in the art of pitching; fielding the pitcher's position; running bases.

"Fans who admired me as a pitcher gave me the idea," Brown said today, "and already I have had enough encouragement to warrant my establishing such a school.

"There is a lot about pitching which I should be able to teach youngsters. The reason so many good pitchers step out of the game when they are comparatively young is because they do not know how to take care of their arms. All they know is to pitch and they pitch and pitch until they have pitched themselves out at an age when they should be at their best.

"The method of holding a ball would be taught. The good pitcher holds the ball the same way regardless of whether he intends to throw a slow or a fast one, a straight one or a curve. The same motion must be used—otherwise the batter cannot be fooled. I believe I can teach a youngster with some ability how to develop into a first-rate twirler. I can discover their weaknesses and aid them in correcting their faults."

Members of the Indiana Automobile Manufacturers' Association will send their exhibits to the New York show in January by special train.

No-Rim-Cut Tires 10% Oversize

What They Ended

Note what these tires have ended.
Rim-cutting has been made impossible.
The oversize has ended overloading.
And now we end skidding without, at the same time, giving a short-lived tire.
That's why Goodyears far outsell all others.
That's why last year's sales exceeded our previous 12 years put together.

$1,000,000 Saved Monthly

Men had used, up to Nov. 1st, 1,700,000 Goodyear tires.

They are used today on some 250,000 cars.

And they are saving tire users, beyond any question, a million dollars monthly.

This Is How

Statistics show that 23 per cent of all clincher tires get rim-cut. Our patent type saves that 23 per cent.

The 10 per cent oversize, under average conditions, adds 25 per cent to the tire mileage.

These savings are actual. Tens of thousands have proved them. And one swift glance will tell you how they come about.

Now Non-Skids

Now we have a double-thick non-skid. An extra tread, made of very tough rubber, vulcanized on to the regular.

A tread with deep-cut blocks, immensely enduring.

A tread with [illegible] angles, insuring a bulldog grip.

And a tread whose [illegible] spread out at the base, so the strain is distributed. The lack of that feature has made non-skids short-lived.

Just compare it. You can see that we have the ideal [illegible]. And 200,000 in actual use have proved it.

Ask for the Goodyear Tire Book —14th year edition. It tells all known ways to cut tire bills down.

ONORS AT POLO DEPEND ON QUALITY OF PONIES.

BY BEATRICE BRYAN.

E Duke of Westminster, who ill defray the entire cost of the English polo team's visit to ca, always has possessed a good of ponies. He has, however, d to it by purchase, during the and is still on the lookout for ponies. While it is possible that will be loaned for the Anglo-ican match, the Duke has made peal to the English players to him the first refusal of any good they own.

looks from this as though the ing of the international match nds not so much on the players t does on the ponies.

STEVENSON BUSY.

Stevenson, who will probably play on the American team, will Coronado for the polo season. stated that Stevenson is really to California to procure for the international match. J. Mackay of Beauchamp Hall, who has taken California ponies England each year, has written to friends asking them to be on the for ponies for him.

Velie of Kansas City has recently bought Quail, one of Walter ponies, for the sum of $3000. Velie has a splendid string, and several California ponies them. This string will probably placed at the disposal of the team.

year Walter Dupee gave Harry Whitney the use of his string match. He will undoubtedly same this year. He recently four of Harry Weiss's ponies ing for which he paid $10,- years ago Sleepy John was quarter horse in California. He belonged to a man by the of O'Leary in Riverside. He horse he ever raced on a track. Sleepy John was half and half English thoroughbred. His colts are among the best in California. Frank J. took one of them, Pomona England with him last year. Weiss owns Sleepy John, Jr.. has another one which Herrera, Dr. Malaby owns and Robert Neustadt owns Mugging.

LOCAL PONIES GOOD.

ponies have every quality to polo—intelligence, formation and disposition. of the best ponies are of bucking broncho and thoroughbreds. One of the best-trained ponies that Harry Weiss owns is Sixbits, a broncho whom he bought from a Mexican for $75.

When polo was introduced into England from India only Arabian horses were used. The Americans changed the rules of the game, adding speed to it. While the Arabs possessed the necessary qualities, and were especially long on endurance, they did not have the required speed. One at a time they were discarded and other horses, such as the small hunter, and any small thoroughbred were used instead. The thoroughbred, however, lacked the patience and the power of getting away quickly, which was needed in the new game.

For a time England retained the reputation for having the only real ponies.

Gradually, the news that good ponies were beginning to develop in California was scattered broadcast until, now, at any place where two or three horses are gathered together, there are men looking for polo ponies.

This fact is accounted for in polo circles by the following story:

When the Spaniards first came to California they brought their horses with them. These horses were Arabs, descended from the fighting horses of the Bedouin desert. The Spaniards permitted them to graze in herds and in this manner they lost their speed, still retaining their conformation and indomitable courage. They were used as cow ponies later, were taught the value of quick turning in a tight corner and developed the lungs, hearts and legs that go to make up the build of the polo pony. Hard riding taught them patience and the willingness to be trained.

So through the years, through strains intermingled with English thoroughbreds, and after hard battles in a new country, the gentle Arab has at last come into its own and is once more the best polo pony in the world.

WILL MEET TO TALK OF GAME LAWS.

[Special Correspondence to The Times.]

VISALIA, Dec. 6.—Officials of the Tulare County Game and Fish Protection Association have called a meeting for next week at which the members will be asked to adopt desired recommendations for changes in the present game laws of this State. After the resolutions are adopted delegates will be chosen to attend the district game protection convention which is to be held in Fresno the same day.

While no definite prediction can be made as to the nature of the changes which will be recommended, it is almost certain the Tulare county sportsmen will ask for changes in the deer law, making the season open during only October and November and for a deer reserve which will include a portion of the foothills and in which hunting of deer will be prohibited for a term of years.

WANTS GRAND PRIZE.

Savannah wants the 1913 Grand Prix and Vanderbilt cup races, and is only waiting to be sure of her ground before making formal application for them. A meeting of the Savannah Automobile Club was held recently, following a canvass of the leading business interests of the city. It was found that the only thing that stood in the way, so far as Savannah is concerned, is the matter of guarding the course. A number of officers of the State militia were present at the meeting, and went on record as being in favor of the races, and having the course guarded by the soldiers, as in the past. They would not, however, answer for the attitude of the men under them. Until definite promise of support has been obtained from the soldiers themselves, nothing in the way of an official application for the races is to be made.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 6.—E. B. Hall, '14, of Los Angeles; J. H. Thoburn, '13, football captain-elect; W. P. Darsie, '14; W. R. Finney, '12; C. Smith, '11, and W. L. Smith, '12, were initiated indo the Skull and Snakes, the honor society, yesterday.

Henry L. Loud, '13, has been unanimously elected editor-in-chief of The Daily Palo Alto for next semester.

Dan Carroll, the crack wing of the Waratahs, is now at San Francisco and has definitely decided to enter Stanford in January. He was the only Australian who remained in this country. The others sailed for Sydney from Vancouver last week. Two or three probably will return to San Francisco next spring.

The end-semester examinations are to begin December 14 and will end December 20. A special train will carry many of the southern students home for the holidays.

TRACK OUTLOOK AT STANFORD.

Cinder Path Team Will Be Strong Aggregation.

Point Winners in Sight for Every Event.

Wealth of Stick Artists Is Pleasing to Students.

[Special Correspondence to The Times.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 6.—Stanford is preparing for a big season in track and field sports next spring. The fall training has been completed and it proved a great success, bringing to light an unusually large amount of top-notch material with which the trainers will be able to work.

Soon after the second semester begins, early in January, the track men will begin regular training that will occupy their time until the intercollegiate meet with California is held in April. From present indications there will be nearly 200 men on the cinder path and field this year—a larger number than ever turned out before. The freshman class contains a big bunch of live wires who promise to make their mark in college sports in the first rattle out of the box.

Only in the hammer throw is there a scarcity of material, but King, a freshman, is coming right in that event. He has thrown the weight 124 feet and is getting better every day. In the shot put, although Woolley is no longer eligible, V. Sheldon, '15, of Los Angeles, is looming up like a point winner. In the fall work he put the pill 43 feet, which looks good to the Cardinal students.

George Horine, '15, the world's champion high jumper, is to rematriculate next semester and as a side kicker will have "Cap" Finney, '12, who has been jumping 6 ft. 1 in. this semester and who will probably do better in the spring.

In the broad jump Morrison, who does better than 23 feet, is still on deck and Court Knight, '14, of Pasadena, and Dingley, a freshman who cleared nearly 23 feet in "prep" school will be available.

In the pole vault, Miller, '13, a veteran point winner, who is always good for 12 feet, will be out again. The freshman class contains several boys who have done better than 11 feet and with expert coaching should show well.

THE SPRINTERS.

McKee '14, looks like the logical successor to Tom Coleman, as Stanford's mainstay in the sprints. Then there is McNair, '14, of Los Angeles, and Brown, '14; Roy Needham, '16, who was one of the best "prep" sprinters in the North last year; Morosco, '16, of Long Beach, and Barker, '15, who attended Pomona College last year, are others of whom big things are expected. Carroll the Australian, who is to enter the university next month, is reported to be a ten-flat man.

"Mickey" McClure, '15, of Los Angeles, looks like the best bet in the 440-yard event. "Mickey" has all the earmarks of a world beater and if he doesn't cover the distance in 50s. flat this season everybody will be surprised. E. P. Campbell, '13, track captain, also is a great quarter-miler. His record is better than 51s. Guv Needham, Wallace, who ran the last lap of the relay last year in 49 3-5s.; Stammer, an da couple of others, will round out the quarter-mile band.

Bonnett, '15, the find from Riverside, who won the half-mile race in the intercollegiate meet last year, will be available. "Lin" Murray, '13, also a two-miunte man, will be on hand.

For the mile run, the freshmen will contribute Wilson, who hails from Oregon with a High School record of 4m. 25s. Murray also does the four laps in 4m. 30s., and there are other men who may come through.

Dodge, '13, of Los Angeles, Stanford's best two-miler last year, is at the university, and Price, the second best man, will turn out again. The cross-country running this semester brought to light a bunch of crack long-distance men and it looks as if Stanford would be very strong in the eight-lap event.

HORDE OF HURDLERS.

The outlook in the hurdle events is better than it has been for years. No less than five crack timber toppers will be in the squad. Of course, Herb Whitted, '16, of Azusa, is the best bet, and barring accidents will be a big point winner in every meet. Kern, '13, of Pasadena, an "S" man in the hurdles, also will be available and the freshman class will be represented by Murray and Norton of Palo Alto, and Urban of Santa Clara, who have excellent High School records. These three boys are especially strong in the low barriers and all of them show signs of getting over the sticks on the furlong course in close to 25s.

A Game Guy.

JIM FLYNN'S REAL NAME HAYNES--NOT CHIARIGLION.

Thrilling Life Story of the Big Pueblo Fireman—Interfered in Family Row, Beat Three Policemen, Stole Switch Engine—Starved Into the Ring—His Indomitable Courage.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

THE gnarled hand of Jim Flynne continues to grope after the heavyweight championship.

The "Fighting Fireman" seems to be nearer the goal of his ambition than ever before. But two men block the way. Luther McCarty and Al Palzer, huge hunks of raw fighting material, stand between him and the prize.

It is possible that either of these may topple the veteran right at the threshold of the throne room. Should this happen it will be no new experience for Flynn. The Fireman has always fallen just short of the mark. Never a champion, it has generally taken a champion to beat him.

Los Angeles has been Flynn's principal battleground. When he faces McCarty Tuesday night it will be his twentieth local fight. Sprinkled through this record are a number of knockouts and decisions against him, but never has Flynn played to a small house.

GAMENESS THE REASON.

A single word lies at the bottom of Flynn's success. It is "gameness."

He was the one white man who did not stand in awe of Jack Johnson and Sam Langford. He fought these men when it looked like sheer suicide. When these black monsters were driving the others to cover, Flynn alone stood his ground. Men will pay real money to witness courage like that, even though that courage carry him down to certain defeat.

I said recently that Luther McCarty would make a good subject for the fiction writers. After probing around in Flynn's past I have come to the conclusion that the Fireman offers better material.

HAS MANY NAMES.

Flynn has been afflicted with a superfluity of names. He had no choice in the matter. He has never yet had a name of his own selection. Anyone who felt like labeling Flynn anew did so, and generally without consulting. Jim Flynn is three names removed from his right one. He is down in the "dope book" as Andrew Chiariglion, but that isn't the one that he started with.

JIM'S NAME HAYNES.

Jim Haynes was born in Hoboken, N. J., December 24, 1879. This youngster grew and expanded into the Jim Flynn of today. Flynn's father was Irish-American, and his mother Italian-German. Thus, three great fighting strains course though his veins.

He has the stoicism of the German, and the Teuton's tremendous power for fighting when once aroused. Mingled with this is the fire of the Celt; the all-conquering Irishman, whether it be in politics or in a free-for-all roughhouse.

He has none of the craftiness of the Italian, but the racial instinct for revenge crops out in his ring work. Flynn does not believe in a blow going unrepaid. The opponent who stings him is likely to start something that he will have trouble in stopping.

HOW HE CHANGED.

The Haynes family moved to Pueblo when Jim was about 4 years of age. His father died soon after, and his mother was married to Andrew Chiariglion, who is now the editor of an Italian paper in that city. Jim took the name of his stepfather, or rather it was given to him without consulting his pleasure.

Jim eventually blossomed into a locomotive fireman, working largely in the switchyards at Pueblo. His first fight was in that city, and he didn't get anything out of it except the satisfaction of feeling that he had done the right thing.

BEAT POLICEMAN.

His first fight was with the strong arm of the law, as personified by a policeman.

In fact, Jim just about subjugated the entire police force of Pueblo. He didn't realize it, but this was the beginning of his career as a professional fighter. It resulted in him entering the ring through force of circumstances.

HAS SOFT HEART.

With all his fierceness in the ring, Flynn has a soft spot in his heart, in fact, a tenderness that is strangely at variance with his rough exterior.

I saw him rescue a stray dog that had been run over by an automobile at Vernon the other day. The animal had one of its legs broken. The officers wanted to shoot it.

Flynn gathered the quivering beast in his arms, carried it into the cottage, fixed up its shattered leg and nursed it back to health and happiness.

WOMAN TURNED EASILY.

Paradoxically, it was this characteristic, this soft spot in his heart, that made Jim Flynn a professional fighter. In the hotel where he was living he found a burly miner abusing his wife. Flynn knocked the fellow down and otherwise treated him with considerable violence.

As is often in such cases, the woman turned against Flynn and wailed out a cry of murder that brought a couple of policemen pell-melling into the house. With the other fellow licked to a finish, and the woman pointing an accusing finger at Flynn the evidence seemed to be against him and a copper cracked him over the coco with a "billie."

Flynn cleaned up with both of the policemen. The case by this time appeared sufficiently urgent to demand the presence of the Chief of Police. Flynn relieved that worthy of his gun and left him wondering at the amazing nerve of the strapping young fireman.

STEALS BIG ENGINE.

Jim realized by this time that he had committed an unpardonable sin against the law.

He tried to make enough of a "raise" to get out of town, but couldn't work the riffle. He then did the next best thing.

He went down to the yards and stole a switch engine. Now, a man who will swipe a locomotive can't be accused of being a piker. There is nothing small about him.

Jim drove the engine out a couple of miles, deserted it, and swung onto a convenient brakebeam on an outgoing train.

EARNS EASY MONEY.

Eventually he landed in Salt Lake City with cinders in his hair and in urgent need of food and finances.

Passing along the street, he spotted a sign in front of the operahouse offering $100 to anyone who would stay four rounds with Willard Bean.

"If I can lick a whole police force, I guess I can earn that hundred," soliloquized Jim, rubbing a sympathizing hand over his neglected stomach.

Flynn earned the hundred, all right. In fact, they say that he messed Bean horribly. This was his first taste of professional fighting, and he liked it.

Bill Rishel, a Salt Lake sporting writer, then took it upon himself to embellish the budding heavyweight with the excellent ring name of "Jim Flynn."

WINS CURLEY'S FAVOR.

Flynn came within the ken of Jack Curley, his present manager, in 1904, when the latter was managing George Gardner.

Curley sent Gardner out to Denver to fight Flynn and held the latter so lightly that he didn't even accompany his man.

They fought a hard ten-round draw and Gardner came home considerably bruised. From that moment Curley has held Flynn in considerable esteem. Lou Houseman, who is now in Los Angeles, sent Jack Root out to box Flynn in 1903. Root was lucky to get the decision in eight rounds—a decision that did not meet with the approval of the crowd.

REAL LOCAL BOUT.

Los Angeles fight fans had their first glimpse of Flynn in 1906. The fireman was little more than a novice even then, with hardly a semblance of defense. He gave Burns about the hardest fight of his career, and was whipped only after fifteen rounds of terrific milling.

Flynn's gameness under punishment gives the impression that he is almost immune to pain. He never winces under the most terrific bombardment. Sam Langford punished him as few men have been punished since fighting was invented. Flynn was badly hurt, but this was not betrayed in his face.

THINK HIM MACHINE.

Ring followers have grown to look upon Flynn simply as a machine—a creation of hard bone and tough sinew, sans nerves and feeling.

But in reality Flynn is very human. He is as sensitive to pain as the average man who walks the streets. His real emotions are sheathed in the armor of a strong heart.

In other words, the fireman is game enough to take the gaff and pretend that he likes it.

PASADENA BOY LATEST STANFORD TENNIS STAR.

[Special Correspondence to The Times.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 6.—Herbert L. Hahn, '16, of Pasadena, is the tennis sensation at Stanford. The youngster has just won the trophy in the Theile tournament, in which he took the measure of the best players on the Cardinal campus.

Hahn did little in tourneys in the South, but since entering the university he has shown all sorts of class. In the first round of the Theile tourney he put out R. L. Murray, '13, former varsity tennis captain, in straight sets, which was the first defeat the veteran had sustained this season. In this match, Hahn had a handicap, but it was his brilliant playing that returned him the victor.

Then Hahn defeated F. S. Pratt, '13, of Ontario, and G. L. Shaol, '13, of San Diego, both of whom are varsity players. He met both of them on equal terms.

Hahn will be eligible for a place on the varsity team next spring and from his showing in the Theile tourney should have little difficulty in winning a berth.

CARLISLE INDIANS ESCAPED ALL INJURY.

The physical condition of the Carlisle Indian football players during the season just closed was so good that, with the exception of a few minor injuries, not a single man is out of condition. A jammed nose, bruised ankle tendons and a couple of painful "charley horses" are the only evidences that the heaviest football schedule in the country has just been successfully concluded.

Thorpe and Welsh are planning to take a long rest. They will go bear hunting in Oklahoma. The entire team was taken to Philadelphia to witness the Army and Navy game.

dence at the present time in the integrity of your organization and its officers, we do not feel that the present arrangement makes for the good of the sport.

"We desire, however, to co-operate with you to the fullest possible extent of which our mutual interests will permit, in order that there may be no unnecessary conflict of authority. We have called a meeting of the strong men of our community and are discussing ways and means to make our work effective and beneficial. We are organizing upon broad lines under the name of the Western Automobile Association, and we propose, if the matter is agreeable to you, to confine our field to the West, feeling that unless future developments rendered it imperative, that it would not be politic nor conservative for us to invade a field so far from the seat of our organization.

"We have behind us the sentiment of this entire community and of the press, which is without exception loyal to the interests of the Pacific Coast. If there should develop an occasional individual of this section who is not with us heart and soul, it will be because he is not acquainted with the situation as we see it, or because he has some petty ax of his own to grind.

"Trusting in your spirit of fairness and honesty of purpose, we invite you to meet us on common ground to formulate plans for our affiliation, in order that our mutual interests may be conserved, and we ask you to appoint a committee or representative with full powers to act, to correspond or to confer with us as to details. We would prefer that you would send a committee here in order that a personal examination of the situation might better qualify them to advise you, and if you will send such a committee we will pay half of their railroad fare, and will in addition entertain them while engaged in this work here. We think they would find their stay here enjoyable.

"We sincerely hope and trust that you will give our seriousness of purpose the consideration which we believe it deserves, and that nothing will be said or done upon your part or ours which will in any way tend to discredit the purposes we are both interested in furthering. We feel that such rivalry as naturally will exist should be made to work for the good of the sport and for the good of all concerned.

"Awaiting with confidence your early reply, we remain, gentlemen,

"Yours very truly,

"THE COMMITTEE."

PRESS FAVORED.

The following notice was sent the press of San Francisco:

"We transmit you, herewith, a copy of telegram we are sending to the A.A.A., which is self-explanatory. We earnestly desire you to give it such publicity as it deserves, at the same time inviting all interested parties in your portion of the State to join in organizing and in selecting a preliminary committee to meet with us in effecting a permanent organization along broad lines. We recognize broadly that the control and head office of such an organization belongs in San Francisco, on account of her geographical position, if for no other reason, and we feel satisfied that if such appears to be the consensus of opinion of the majority of the interested parties that we will have no difficulty in securing fair and impartial treatment from your section at all times.

"As the situation here is at present rather acute, it would afford us much direct benefit and gratification if the committee selected by your people would do us the honor to meet with us here for the consideration of the preliminary steps. We know in advance that you will select only strong men who have the confidence and respect of your entire community, and if they will so honor us, we will pay one-half of their railroad fare and entertain them here.

"With friendly greetings and expressions of esteem to your automobile men and sportsmen, we are, gentlemen,

"Yours very truly,

ERRORS TO BE COSTLY. IN OWENSMOUTH GAME.

For each error $50—this is the unusual premium placed on all bobbles in the game scheduled for Owensmouth this morning between the Owensmouth Babes and the Maier All-Star team.

The offers to give $50 to charity for every error come from Manager A. Steinmetz of the Babes and Eddie Maier, owner of the opposing team. The unusual rivalry caused Steinmetz in issuing the challenge to declare that the Owensmouth was good enough to go through without an error. So probably for the first time in the history of the national game in this State, there will be a $50 penalty for every misplay.

McDonnell of Vernon, and Rawlings of San Francisco were added to the Maier line-up yesterday.

J. H. Richmond, a retired postman of Nottingham, England, has been granted the imperial service medal for long and meritorious service. He served for forty years, and during that time covered over 25,000 miles.

OFFICIALS DECIDE THAT FOOTBALL TIE EXISTS.

BY AL G. WADDELL.

AT A MEETING of the Southern California Interscholastic Football Conference, held at the Los Angeles Y.M.C.A. yesterday morning, it was decided that Long Beach High and Santa Ana had tied for the championship and Pasadena was third.

After a prolonged session, which lasted until after 2 o'clock, the Pasadena representatives finally relinquished all claim to the league title, but insisted that the tie should not be played off, as there was no provision made for such a condition in the constitution of the league.

Pasadena claimed that the tie game with Whittier was to have been played off, but that the conference officials forbade it; and that the tie for the championship should also remain unsettled.

GOOD ADVICE.

C. W. Russell, faculty athletic manager of Long Beach High School, and president of the conference, stated that as there was no provision in the constitution for the playing off of a tie game or a tie for the championship, he believed it would be to the interest of the organization to let the result of the season's play stand, with Santa Ana and Long Beach tied.

Prof. Russell further declared that other student activities were coming on and that several of the players would be ineligible to play next Saturday and the following Saturday, and that the Christmas vacation would be on.

Coach Radcliff of Santa Ana High agreed with the president and corroborates his statement to the effect that football was played for the sport of the thing and the development of all the powers of the high school athlete and that the championship was of minor importance.

Capt. Warren of the Santa Ana team and Capt. Lenz of Long Beach expressed themselves as disappointed at the opposition of the faculty manager to the contest, but in a sportsmanlike manner agreed that after all, it was better for the game. Some of the Santa Ana players insisted that Long Beach should play, as the members of the team had accepted the challenge; but at Long Beach High the students have no authority to make arrangements for athletic contests without the consent and approval of the faculty manager.

The fact of the matter is, members of both teams are anxious to play and the elevens were to go into active training tomorrow. Coach Elliott of Long Beach had his men out Friday afternoon and Coach Radcliff called his men together and definitely stated that practice would be resumed tomorrow afternoon.

BURMAN MAKES NEW RECORD.

Shows Fastest Mile on Ascot Dirt Course.

Star Is Dimmed by Janette and Earl Cooper.

Small Crowd Witnesses Bob's Speedy Mile.

BY BERT SMITH.

Bob Burman drove a mile on the Ascot dirt track yesterday afternoon in 47 4-5 seconds. This is the fastest mile ever turned on a dirt mile track in Southern California.

It was the only sensational feature of a race meet that was witnessed by a handful of spectators. The crowd was a bitter disappointment to E. A. Moross, manager for Burman, who had predicted that 3000 spectators would attend.

Earl Cooper, in a Stutz, defeated Bob Burman in a Cutting and injected some ginger into the meet. This was followed by a stunt not on the programme, when Tony Janette walked away from Burman in the first heat of a race to be decided best two of three heats. When Tony came bouncing over the line ahead of Burman the wrath of Moross was sad indeed.

WRONG TIP GIVEN.

It seems that Tony did not take the right tip. He flew away with the Benz, hitting a merry clip. He took the lead and kept the pace. Now it was Burman and not Tony whom Moross expected to star yesterday afternoon, but instead, Janette, a mechanician, defeated the main attraction and the manager was furious.

Some of the daylight fireworks that have been exploded for Barney Oldfield's benefit were turned loose on Tony. The poor driver was frightened and agreed to be good. Moross called him down proper and the next heat proved that Tony had listened wisely and well. Bob Burman won.

Then of course in the natural sequence of events Burman went out and took the next heat and the race. He was only beaten for one lap, but think of the tragedy to Moross's racing stable, which includes a fine string of cars. If his "main squeeze" had been defeated, Tony Janette would then have been crowned speed king, but he would have been obliged to change his name, as Tony does not sound dignified enough for a speed marvel.

FUNNY STUNTS.

Then came another funny stunt. Frank B. Goode was not good. He drove the Studebaker racer that was outlawed at the same time that Teddy Tetzlaff slipped under the ban of the A.A.A. at San Fernando. That Studebaker figured in a race with a Hupmobile and Percy Walker of the Contest Board of the Automobile Association of America was there to see the fun.

Automobile disqualifications and the "strong arm" kind were invoked to no avail. Walker did not see the Studebaker start. His assistant, C. F. Chiffens, was in charge of the meet yesterday, but did not have his eyes open at the particular moment that the Studebaker got away.

Bill La Casse, manager of the local Studebaker retail branch, was also on the track. Of course, Bill knew, but why should he worry and get a wrinkle. The car won. That's what Bill is himself, a winner, and he saw Frankie Goode humming into the money and he kept his mouth shut. Then someone told.

Poor Goode is an outlaw for fair this time. He came swinging out to the line for the next race and Walker was talking with Secretary S. C. Geary of the Automobile Club. Just before the starting flag was waved Walker hurdled the barricade and came full tilt across the track. Goode heard him, and then saw him.

"Here, you can't start in this race. What's the matter with you?" said Walker, who is usually polite and affable, but who was worked up to the right pitch of excitement by the flagrant act of little Goodie.

WE SHOULD WORRY.

Well, Goode knew what was the matter with him, but the way he threw that motor into the reverse and swung back from the line certainly showed there is nothing the matter with the car. There was also nothing missing with the grin on Bill La Casse's face.

"We're going to organize a new racing association," laughed La Casse in explanation to Walker. "Why should we worry now? We've got you fellows going and we'll make you outlaws if you're not careful."

Comes Baby-faced Leonard Jones with the Hupmobile into the scene of action. If Good was disqualified, then Jones would get $25. Leonard is attending the L. A. High and that amount of cash looks good to a lad who can drive some himself, but who, between drives, is attending school. Walker told Jones to call on him later at the Hotel Alexandria. I think little Baby-face will get the cash that Good fought so hard to win.

The Burman race meet was a farce. The cars were good. The track was fair. The crowd, well there wasn't any crowd. A "corporal's guard" lined the track's edge. A larger number of fans was on the track and a few shivering mortals were lost in the immense grand stand. It would have required a magnifying glass to call it a throng.

Teddy Tetzlaff was at the track ready to drive an exhibition with the Fiat "cyclone." Think of the nerve of the outlaw. Well, when Teddy appeared a force of deputies, don't know who they are, or where Moross secured them, pounced down off the car and driver and Teddy was driven from the track. Horrors. Think of letting a simon-pure racing star like Bob Burman appear on the same track with Outlaw Teddy.

Burman drove a great mile. He is a real driver and his record of 47 4-5 seconds proves him to be a contender for any kind of short distance honors in any kind of a race. He risked his life and he sent the "Blitzen Benz," the car Barney Oldfield made so many records with, fast enough to prove him one of our great dirt track drivers and a star of high class. The rest of the meet, which is to be continued tomorrow had no thrills.

START MADE FOR NEXT YEAR'S SHOOT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Col. H. G. Catrow of Dayton, O., of the Third Infantry National Guard was today chosen Commissioner-General for the international rifle matches to be held at Camp Perry, O., next September in connection with the centennial celebration of the Perry victory on Lake Erie.

The executive committee of the National Rifle Association of America approved today the programme for the official matches of the International Union, which next year will be held for the first time in the United States.

Camp Perry will have next year the second Pan-American shoot, held for the first time last May in Buenos Ayres, Argentine.

Additional matches open to the world include the famous Palma trophy competition and a Pan-American match for a two-man team for a trophy offered by John W. Garrett, United States Minister to Argentine.

One of the most interesting contests will be for the long range individual military championship of the world, calling for fifteen shots at 800, 900 and 1000 yards.

The trophy for this contest was established only a few days ago at the convention of the National Guard Association of America at Norfolk, Va. The prizes for the international matches alone will amount to about $20,000.

France, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, Sweden, Belgium, Canada, Peru and Argentina already have sent assurances that they will send delegates to the United States for the competitions and it is expected that in all about twenty-two nations will be represented. Formal invitations will be sent to all nations by the State Department.

Many Colleges.

season, is expected to enter the Colorado School of Mines. Hull will go to Stanford. Barton and Horn have not decided where they will go as yet, but it is believed that they will enter one of the local colleges.

PASADENA DROPS SIX.

Six Pasadena men are to graduate. Gibbs, the sensational end, will go either to California or Michigan. He is sweet on Berkeley, but his friends want him to go to Ann Arbor, where he will have a chance to show his real class. Hayes, the fullback, will go either to Oregon Agricultural College or Colorado School of Mines.

McDowell, one of the best little backs developed this season, expects to go to Denver University. McEuen, captain of the team and the best High School guard in the State, will lose himself at Stanford, but Hayes has hopes of persuading him to go to Colorado. Coffeen, tackle, is undecided, but will go to some college where the American game is played. Williams, center, expects to go into business, but may enter Whittier College.

FIVE FOR POMONA.

Chaffee Union High School is to send five good men to Pomona College in Siemon, captain of the team this year and left tackle; Waltz, the 170-pound center; McCulloch, right tackle; Couch, end, and Stone, a halfback. Siemon and McCulloch have had four years' experience; Waltz and Stone have played two years and Couch is a one-year man.

Siemon is 19 years of age and the other four are 18. With the coaching these men have had by Shutt they should be valuable additions to the Pomona varsity squad.

Venice Polytechnic does not lose a man by graduation this year and Coach Charles Jennings expects to have a team next season which will hold its own with any High School organization in the South.

South Pasadena High will graduate five football men. Stockman, fullback, is the most likely for varsity honors. It is reported that he will attend Occidental. Van Den Braac, half; Ewing, end; Thornburg and Lord, tackles, are the others.

It is believed that Whittier College will get most of the seniors from Whittier High. Six members of the Whittier High School team are to graduate in June. Hood, quarter; Clif and Harry Horton, tackles; St. John, full-back; Reis, end, and Hatch, guard, are the men who will leave the interscholastic ranks this season.

SAN DIEGO HEARD FROM.

Three members of the San Diego team are to go up this year. Ferguson, left guard, a lad of 18, weighing 160 pounds, hopes to register at Yale, but his parents wish him to attend Stanford. Ferguson played tackle on the St. Paul High School, (Concord, N. H.) team for two seasons before entering San Diego High. He also rowed on the crew and starred on the hockey team, at the Concord school.

Fry, the other tackle, expects to enter California in the fall. He weighs 165 pounds, is 19 years of age and has an enviable prep school athletic record. He was pitcher on the ball nine three seasons, tennis champion three years, played on the basketball team one year and two years on the football team. Burdick is also to graduate, but it is believed that he will go into business instead of going to college.

SIX FROM SANTA ANA.

Santa Ana High is to send six men into the intercollegiate ranks. West, a little 145-pound quarter-back is to enter Michigan and says he will go out for the freshman team. Tedford, one of the best quarters in the south, says he will go to Stanford where his 150 pounds will help the Rugby squad. Timmons, end, weighing 140 pounds, is to go to Stanford, also. Pomona is to get Visel, the 175-pound tackle, and Walters, the little 135-pounder who plays end. Smith, one of the best prep half-backs seen in the south this year, is to join the Occidental Tigers.

Escondido High School will lose five of her football stars by graduation. Carroll, 170-pound tackle, expects to attend a business college in Los Angeles and will probably play on Dean Cromwell's Y.M.C.A. eleven.

Hatch, the big 180-pound half, is to go to Stanford and forget real football. Schweickhardt, a tackle weighing 170, will go to either Stanford or California. Stewart, half, 145 pounds, and Rice, quarter, 150 pounds, have decided to enter California and try the Rugby game.

Never before in the history of Southern California football have the high schools turned out such a galaxy of stars, not even in the days of Rienschield, Leo Henry and Walter Hawk.

BASEBALL BRIEFS.

President Chivington of the American Association asserts that none of the magnates of his league have any intention of bolting organized baseball.

Providence has sold Catcher Wade Reynolds to Sioux City and Infielder Jimmy Gillespie to Chattanooga.

Al Orth, former pitcher, now a member of the National League umpire staff, has signed a contract to coach the Washington and Jefferson baseball team.

Umpire Johnstone is quoted as saying he will quit the National League staff if President Lynch is re-elected.

Advance news on the opening of the American Association has Toledo opening at Columbus, Indianapolis at Louisville; Milwaukee at Kansas City and St. Paul at Minneapolis.

Eddie Gonsetro, who had his name on the St. Louis Brown's list a year ago and then went back to the minors, has been sold to the Vancouver club of the Northwestern League.

News that President Navin of the Detroit American League team will shake up his team has served to put Manager Jimmy Callahan of the White Sox on the trail of two Tigers. The two sought are George Mullin, veteran pitcher of the Tigers, and "Red" Corridon, who played with Kansas City in the American Association last summer.

Callahan has been made happy by Jim Scott, the big pitcher, who was out of last season because of rheumatism, announcing his willingness to get back in the game in 1913.

Ohio has so far this year contracted for the construction of more than 170 miles of road. Between now and January 1 contracts will be let for the construction of about twenty-five more miles.

The prisoners in Sing Sing, New York, have completed a six-ton motor truck, made entirely in the prison, with the exception of the motor. The truck has been offered to New York City for $5000.

Glycerine and Kerosene mixed in equal parts form a good mixture to apply to windshields. It prevents rain and mist from accumulating and fogging the glass, the drops running down as soon as they touch.

Occidental Team.

ful player from the mechanical standpoint, but better than this, has a great head. I think he is one of the best quarter-backs that has ever been seen in the game here. Duffy had no competition for his job and somebody would have to develop a Sprackling to beat him.

"Buck" Finch of Whittier made full-back, but by a rather narrow margin. His ability to deliver the forward pass and buck the line has given him the job. However, if Lutz of Pomona had had a chance to play in more games at his regular position, which is full, Finch might have been out in the cold.

Furthermore if Bruce Dill, the steady plugging wonder at Occidental, had not suffered with a bad leg he might also have been counted in on the list of notables. As it is, Finch is the only man for the place. He is game and brainy, and next year should make a real sensation. He has one fault and that is fumbling.

At the two halfback positions we have two of the fastest men that ever played the game in the South in Sid Foster of Oxy at left half and "Speed" Brooks of Pomona at right half. Brooks is remarkable on the offense and is probably as great an open field runner as the famous Shutt. On the defense he is not quite as strong as Foster, but his speed makes him valuable here.

In Sidney Foster we have one of the most marvelous little bear-cats in the game today. He is light, but can do the work of a dray horse in a game. In carrying the ball he is good, but shines in running interference and breaking up forward passes and other plays sent against him. I have rarely seen Sid miss a tackle and have seen him make many an Oxy touchdown possible by cutting off a sure tackler with his remarkable interference.

Had Sammy McClung not been hurt in the Whittier game, he would probably be in somewhere in the backfield. Sam is good and if he could have had a chance all season, would undoubtedly have shown more class than many of the backs in the game.

On this team Wieman would do the punting and Finch the forward passing. Wieman would also kick the goals.

It will be noticed that Occidental has a large portion of the players on the team, but we must remember that the Tigers won all the games played against local competition and also defeated the University of Denver. The loss to the Oregon Aggies came late in the season when the team had gone stale. A winning team is a big argument. The men on it must play pretty good ball, or why would the Tigers be on top at the end of the season?

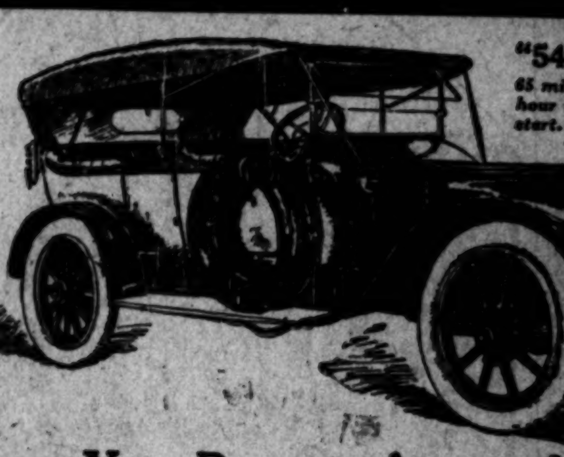
The Fallacy of Buying a "Discount" Automobile



"54" HUDSON—a Six
65 miles an hour. To 50 miles an hour in 30 seconds, from standing start.

When You Buy an Automobile at Cut Price You Forfeit More Than You Gain

There are two kinds of "Discount" cars—those that are purposely listed at a high figure so that their price may be cut and those on which the dealer divides his profit. Cars of the first named class have no definite value. The prices at which they are sold are seldom the same to any two buyers. While you might receive a 10% discount, as likely as not some other buyer is given a 20% cut.

Since no two have paid the same price there is no basis of valuation if you ever wish to re-sell the car.

You should avoid the dealer who cuts his prices.

You cannot afford to patronize an automobile dealer or manufacturer who is not prosperous. A car is not of as much value if once having been represented in the community it no longer is sold there.

If dealers split their profits they must sooner or later go out of business. They cannot stand back of the car with the service it should have.

And after all, that is the biggest item to consider. Don't buy any car that does not carry with it a complete service from the dealer.

By securing even a 20% discount you put yourself in a position to pay double that apparent saving in repair and service charges, before the year closes.

The New HUDSONS

are sold at the same price everywhere. No dealer has an advantage over any other dealer. All agree to maintain the price, which accounts for the fact that second-hand HUDSON cars always sell for a higher proportion of their original cost than do other cars.

HUDSON dealers are required to give a service that is much more complete, much more satisfactory, than is usual with other cars. There is an advantage in owning a car that does not carry with it the liability of constant repair, that is not laid up because the dealer can't or won't handle your needs.

48 Engineers Designed Them

Remember the importance of that statement. They were trained in 97 European and American factories and had a hand in building over 200,000 cars. They combined their experience and skill in perfecting the New HUDSONS.

What better assurance could be asked than that these men who possess about all the knowledge that has thus far been gained in automobile building have joined in saying "The New HUDSONS are the best we know."

The HUDSON "37" is their four-cylinder Masterpiece. It sells with either Touring body, 5-passenger Torpedo or Roadster, $1875, completely equipped with electric self-cranking device and electric lights, speedometer, clock, top, windshield and twelve-inch upholstery. There is nothing more to buy.

The "54" HUDSON—a Six, capable of doing 65 miles an hour and which will attain a speed of 50 miles in 30 seconds from a standing start, is offered as a car superior to any automobile on the market. It sells at $2450, completely finished and equipped as above. Prices are f. o. b. Detroit.

1.—Oh, see what has happened to Dick and to Dolly!
They find half a dollar! No wonder they're jolly.

2—They dance in their gladness and make quite a noise,
Their heads filled with visions of candy and toys.

3.—But surely some man left the money behind him,
And they ask every one in the hope that they'll find him.

4.—But they can't find the owner, despite their appeal,
So they skip down and buy a toy automobile.

5.—Dick winds up the spring, then Twee makes them small,
And in jump Twee Deedle, Dick, Dolly and all.

6.—They fly down the street with a clattering noise,
And badly they frighten two bad little boys,

7—Who run round the corner, all screaming with fright,
While the good children laugh at the ludicrous sight.

8—Then Twee makes them large—their ride's at an end,
And they pat the small doggie, who's henceforth their friend.

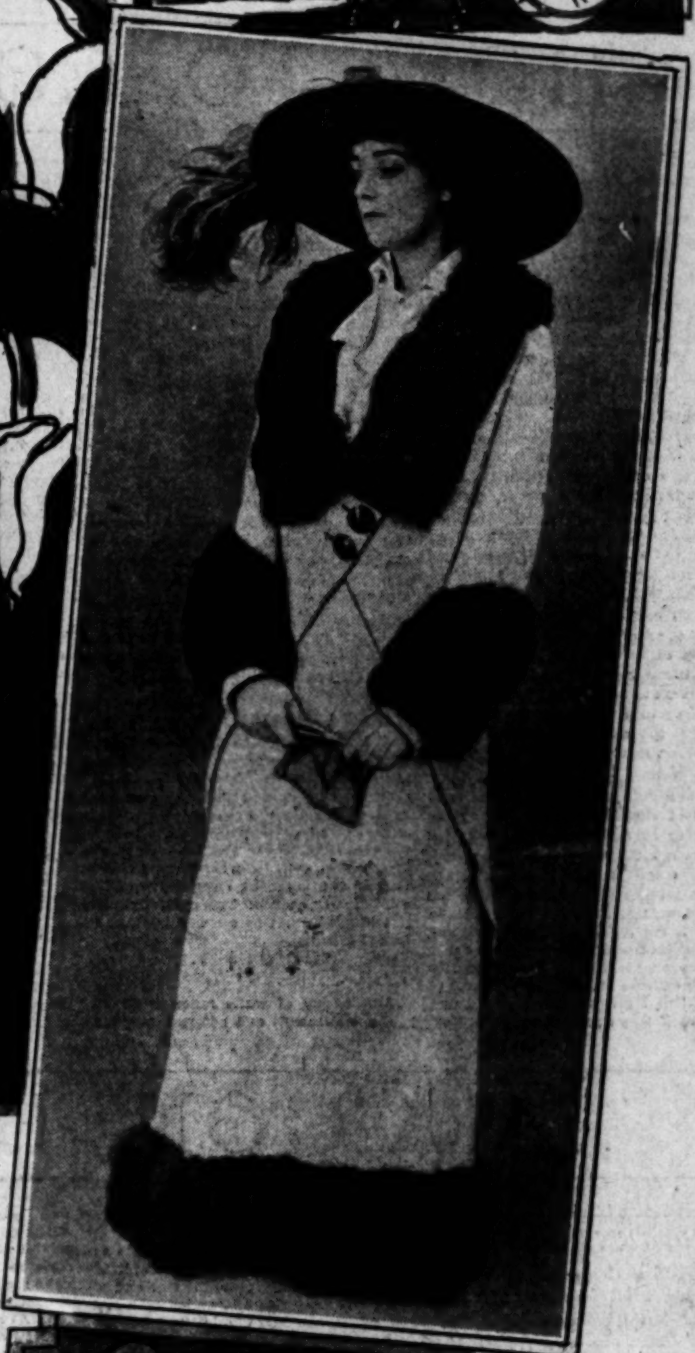
Fur Trims the Evening Wrap



ADD FUR AS A FINAL TOUCH

UNDOUBTEDLY, the addition of fur to the winter costume is an inspiration of the designers, and the importance of this kind of trimming on dress, suit, blouse and hat cannot be overestimated in the planning of the season's costume.

Fur in the real or imitation can be added by the amateur, and is so rich in itself that no other trimming is required, and therefore the initial outlay is not so great, after all.

In the afternoon suit of white brocade the beauty of a contrasting black fox is proved. Here a sailor collar at the back is continued in long square revers on the cutaway coat. Deep cuffs of fox are excellent for the plain coat sleeves, and the straight skirt has a deep hem of the fur. A set of furs—and it can be any variety, by the way, can be utilized in this manner, making an elegance that will carry the wearer through the formal hours of the day.

On the chiffon blouse over satin there is a touch of fur undeniably attractive. It outlines the long vest, extending in a round line at the back and down in a V shape to the belt. The sleeves have a trimming of fur on the extreme edge. Moleskin is used on this model, but any short-hair fur banding can be used.

Ermine trims the chiffon tunic on the satin evening gown. It outlines the tunic in two straight lines down the front, a soft cascade of silver lace giving additional beauty. The crossed effect of satin under the chiffon underskirt is worthy of notice, while the large butterfly bow of velvet strikes a new decorative note.

The evening wrap claims its furry touch and stands before you in a rich exploitation of oriental line and coloring. The kimono sleeves have bands of embroidery edged with skunk fur. The upper part of the wrap is trimmed with fur, ending at the huge corded disk which fastens the embroidered band that suggests the line of the waist. Fur edges the bottom of this satin wrap, contrasting again with the exquisite embroidery.

White coney gives a new note on the black charmeuse frock that has a lovely white addition in the pleated vest, the satin pipings and the underskirt which shows beneath the draped black. The coney edges the collar and the pointed cuffs that fall over the white undersleeves.

Our collection would be incomplete without a hat that has claimed favor from designers and wearers. Over a silk brocade shape with a dark contrasting underbrim a band of rich marten is wound and held at one side under a bunch of pink roses. How simple this model is, and yet how distinctive and copyable! Here is an idea for using a short band of fur.

The addition of fur is a note easily struck. It is beautiful, and has long been recognized by the artistic as an important factor of decoration. You will be wise if you use the idea in giving any garment the final touch of elegance and beauty.

COMMON SENSE in the HOME

EDITED by MARION HARLAND

HOW TO COOK WITHOUT FRESH MEATS.

THE following letter from one of my constituency will prove of general interest, since it describes a situation which in one form or another is familiar to most housekeepers:

"Dear Marion Harland: As we are getting ready to move on to a farm, where fresh meat is not to be had every day, and as I have been brought up in the city, I am at a loss what to cook instead of fresh meat. I will have plenty of eggs, milk, and salt meat. We are not fond of eggs, boiled or fried. You will help me much by giving me some good advice. MRS. K."

You are fortunate in having eggs at command. The cost of these makes it hard for some of us to use them as substitutes for meat. So varied are the methods of cooking them that you could offer them to your household in a different style every day for a month, but at the end of that time you would probably have a bilious family on your hands.

The high cost of meat has directed the attention of all of us who have to economize to savory dishes which may be prepared either without meat or with only enough of it to serve as seasoning. Some of these I am happy to give you, and I hope that the recipes will not only be of use to you, but to those who wish to save on their meat bills.

You have heard me dilate on the good qualities of cheese so often that you will not wonder at my giving it a prominent place among meat substitutes. Experts on nutrition claim that it possesses three times as much nourishment as an equal weight of meat. In addition to its value in this line it has appetising properties, and when combined with bread crumbs to supply the starches it lacks, is not indigestible except to delicate stomachs. Try some of the directions I give for hot cheese dishes and tell us if they do not win popularity.

On a farm you have probably winter vegetables, and good canned vegetables are happily within the reach of everyone now. Experiment with combinations of vegetables with only enough salt meat to give a zest to your dish. Put salt meat with eggs, too, and cook cheese with eggs. Give rice and macaroni a prominent place on your menu and see if you do not find your health and appetite as good as when you ate more heavily of fresh meat.

Creamed Eggs and Cheese.

Cook together a tablespoonful each of butter and flour until they bubble, pour upon them a cup and a half of milk and stir until your sauce is smooth and thickened. Put in, then, a half cupful of grated dairy cheese and cook until this is melted and blended with the sauce. Have ready four hard boiled eggs, cut the whites from the yolks, and chop the whites fine. Add them to the sauce, season with a scant teaspoonful of salt and a dash of cayenne or paprika and turn upon buttered toast laid in a hot dish. Put the yolks through a vegetable press and strew over the tops of the whites and sauce.

Baked Cheese Puff.

Soak a small cupful of fresh breadcrumbs in two cupfuls of warm milk, beat in a tablespoonful of melted butter and a saltspoonful of salt and three eggs whipped light. Add a cupful of grated cheese and a pinch of red pepper, turn into a buttered pudding dish, cover and bake in a hot, steady oven for fifteen minutes. Uncover, brown, and serve at once in the dish in which it was cooked. This puff falls quickly and should not be allowed to stand before it is eaten.

Cheese Souffle.

Make a cup of white sauce as directed in the first recipe, and before taking from the fire stir into it a cupful of grated cheese. Have ready four eggs beaten light; pour the hot mixture of sauce and melted cheese upon these, and put into a buttered pudding dish or into individual nappies or custard cups. In either case butter the inside; set in a pan of hot water in a quick oven and cover with a paper until the souffle begins to rise. Uncover and cook until lightly browned. Eat at once.

Cheese Corn Souffle.

Make a white sauce as already directed, stir into it a cupful of grated cheese, and when this is blended add a cupful of canned corn drained from liquid and chopped fine. Put in the well beaten yolks of three eggs; season to taste with salt and pepper, and then add the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Bake in a buttered bake dish in a moderate oven for half an hour.

Corn and Tomato with Cheese.

Cook a sliced onion for five minutes in a tablespoonful of butter; remove the onion, put in a heaping cupful of grated cheese, and stir until this is melted. Have ready a cupful of drained and chopped canned corn and half a cupful of thick stewed tomato, free from lumps and sweetened with a teaspoonful of white sugar. Put this with the cheese, stir well, and when all are heated, add slowly the beaten yolks of two eggs. Cook one minute, season with a teaspoonful of salt and a pinch of cayenne, and serve on buttered toast.

Macaroni and Ham.

Break a half-pound of macaroni into inch lengths; boil it tender in hot salted water. Make a white sauce of a tablespoonful each of butter and flour, and a cupful of milk, put into this the macaroni and a cupful of cold boiled ham chopped fine and seasoned with a pinch of dry mustard and a little red pepper. Add a beaten egg and turn the mixture into a buttered pudding dish. Strew bread crumbs and grated cheese over the top and bake, covered, for half an hour, then uncover and brown.

Steamed Macaroni.

Break a quarter pound of macaroni in short pieces and cook it until tender in salted boiling water. Drain it and put it with a cupful of breadcrumbs which have been soaked for five minutes in a cupful of hot milk, add a tablespoonful of chopped parsley and a teaspoonful of onion juice, a pinch of sweet herbs, two tablespoonfuls of butter, and, lastly, two well beaten eggs. Season to taste with salt and pepper; cook in a steamer for one hour.

Savoring Rice with Ham.

Boil a cupful of rice in two quarts of salted water for twenty minutes, having the water at a galloping boil when the rice goes in. Drain and add a cupful of hot milk, into which you have stirred two raw eggs, two tablespoonfuls of grated cheese, and a tablespoonful of butter. Mix well, add half a cupful of boiled ham, chopped fine; put into a greased mold and steam for an hour and a half. Turn out on a flat dish and pour over it a sauce made by cooking together a tablespoonful each of butter and flour with a cupful of milk, and when these are smooth, stirring into it a tablespoonful of grated cheese. Salt and pepper to taste.

Ham Souffle.

A cupful of chopped boiled ham mixed with a cupful of white sauce, a teaspoonful of onion juice and as much minced parsley, salt and pepper to taste. Put this over the fire, add the beaten yolks of two eggs; cook two minutes; remove from the fire and fold in the stiffly whipped whites of the eggs. Bake half an hour in a buttered bake dish.

* *

A Mexican Farm Dish.

Cut up small a quarter pound of dried beef or boiled ham and put over the fire with a cup of stewed tomatoes and a quarter cup of dry rice, a sliced onion, pepper, and salt. Cook slowly until the rice is soft and serve hot.

Stuffed Cabbage.

Lay a small firm cabbage in cold water for half an hour and boil it in salted water for thirty minutes. Remove it, drain the water from it, and set the cabbage aside to become very cold. When this stage is reached cut the center from the cabbage with a sharp knife in such a way as to leave a good sized hollow surrounded by thick walls of the cabbage leaves. Chop the part you have removed fine with an equal quantity of cold boiled ham or of salt pork which has been fried crisp in its fat and then drained. Add a tablespoonful of bread crumbs. Put the mixture back into the cabbage box, lay in a baking pan, pour around it stock in which corn beef has been boiled, cover the dish and bake for an hour. Uncover, strew dry crumbs over the top, dot with bits of butter, and brown.

Scalloped Cabbage with Meat.

Boil a head of cabbage in two waters, and when you cook cabbage always leave the pot uncovered and have standing near it on the stove a cup of vinegar. Drain the cabbage, let it cool, and chop it fine. Butter a pudding dish and strew it with fine crumbs. On this put a layer of minced cabbage seasoned with salt and pepper; dot it with bits of butter, then put on more crumbs and a layer of chopped corned beef. You may use ham, but in this case omit the salt from the layer of cabbage. Continue in this way until your dish is full. Pour in a cupful of the liquor in which your corned beef was boiled, strew crumbs on the top, and over this grated cheese, bake, covered for half an hour, uncover and brown. Serve in the dish in which it was cooked.

"BEING a faithful reader of your page I have noticed several times where people wanted young women to help in the housework and instead of paying them for the work they would teach them stenography.

Do you know of an honest girl who would like to learn the business and would be willing to do the housework? My mother wants an honest white girl to help her, but here in the south the white people that you get are more low down than the negroes and my mother will not have a negro. I should like to get an honest white girl who would like a home in a nice family and would be willing to do the housework. We would give her a good home. I would teach her to be a stenographer, and would help her to get a place if she wanted one here, and in time would pay her a small salary per month. Of course I should want one of a good character and can furnish all the evidence you want that we are of a good stock of people and are honest, hard working folk. Would give a girl a good home, teach her a business where she could support herself, and guarantee a salary after a while. The work is not hard and there are only four of us in the family, all the children being grown.

"Do you know of such a girl we could get, or that you could recommend? If so we would be glad if you would give me her address so I could write to her. "F. B."

I make room for this letter hoping to do a good turn to more than one woman and to help some honest girl to a means of earning a livelihood. Housemothers will not resent the invasion of their territory in reading that one of their number seeks a helper worthy of the name. I know personally of no one who is likely to apply for the position. The case is turned over to southern readers. The number of young women in that section of our country who are preparing themselves for self-support is rapidly increasing, and to their credit be it said there is no sacrifice of social standing when one settles down to office work, to nursing, or any other honorable profession.

Says Corner Solves Problem.

"As the mother of three small children I can say truthfully that I find in your corner the only solution of the problem of the present high cost of living. I think macaroni prepared with tomatoes and cheese makes a nice change for the little ones' luncheon, and a very fair substitute for meat. We are putting up green tomatoes by the recipe for cucumbers and raisins.

"If any member of the big family has a baby carriage for which she has no further use I know of a home in which it would be gratefully received. MRS. F. H."

When the youngest of the flock has outgrown the perambulator or baby buggy it becomes "rubbish," and thrifty housewives do not store rubbish in our utilitarian age. This letter offers a chance of getting rid of it, "upon favorable terms." Readers of the H. H. C. do not require to have the phrase interpreted.

The matter (and it was never more serious than now!) of the high price of living commands attention from the rich and oppresses the poor to distraction. An eminent clergyman says in a letter to a friend: "The problem confronting us now has two parts—the high price of living and the cost of high living." Our readers as a body have comparatively little concern with the second part of the puzzle. Today's familiar talk is an effort to simplify the problem as a whole.

Rhubard Marmalade.

"In a late issue of the Exchange I saw an inquiry as to the best way of washing feather pillows. I have just washed mine according to the rules given in the Corner and had good luck. The washing should be done in very hot weather, as it takes a great deal of heat to dry the feathers thoroughly.

"If any one has a recipe for rhubard marmalade containing, besides rhubard, oranges, and lemons—no nuts or raisins—I should be glad to get it. F. E. M."

The request is passed down the line, the editor having no recipe to suit the demand. In fact, I have never eaten rhubarb marmalade of any kind. Will the fortunate owner of the desired recipe let us have it?

* *

Arrowroot Pudding.

"One Sunday last spring I saw in the exchange, under the head of 'Cookery for Invalids,' a recipe for arrowroot pudding. I cut it from the paper, meaning to keep it, but it has vanished out of my sight. I should be grateful if you would send me a copy of it.

"I should also be obliged to you for a recipe for iceland moss jelly, if you can get it for me. Miss G."

Was this what you saw in that far off time?

ARROWROOT PUDDING.—Two cups of boiling milk, three heaping teaspoonfuls of Bermuda arrowroot, wet to a smooth paste with a little cold milk, four tablespoonfuls of white sugar beaten light, with two eggs.

Mix the arrowroot paste with the boiling milk, stir three minutes over the fire; take from the range and beat in the eggs and sugar. If too stiff, stir in a little more milk. Turn into a buttered bake dish and bake, covered, for twenty minutes. Then uncover and brown lightly. You may if you like make a meringue of the whites of two eggs and a little powdered sugar and spread over the surface before drawing the pudding from the oven. In that case leave it upon the upper grating of the oven to color lightly.

Eat ice cold with cream.

ICELAND MOSS JELLY.—Allow for a quart of jelly about a cupful of dry moss, and wash it in five waters after it is measured. Be faithful in this cleansing to get rid of sand and salty particles. Have ready a quart of boiling water, the juice of two lemons, and a cupful of granulated sugar (scant). Flavor with a pinch of cinnamon and a glass of sherry.

Soak the washed moss in enough water to cover it well and leave it there for an hour. Have the boiling water upon the range and stir the soaked moss into it with the sugar. Simmer until the moss is dissolved and the mixture is clear. Take from the fire, stir in the lemon and spice, lastly the wine, and pour into molds wet with cold water.

For a fever patient you may substitute cider for the wine.

Let the jelly get ice cold and eat with cream. This is excellent for one suffering with a cold or cough, and is very nourishing.

If you omit the wine and cider, flavor with vanilla or bitter almond.

* *

Devil's Food Cake.

"I have trouble with my cakes. They fall as soon as they are taken from the oven, when they are apparently done. What do you suppose is the fault—in the mixing or the baking?

Please find room in the Corner for this cake recipe. It may be considered rich, but is excellent and keeps well.

"DEVIL'S FOOD.—Half a cup each of sweet milk and of granulated sugar, two squares of chocolate.

"Boil these until they are thick and smooth, and set aside to cool while you prepare the batter.

"One cup of granulated sugar, half a cup of butter, and the same quantity of sour milk, in which dissolve a scant teaspoonful of soda, two eggs [saving the white of one for frosting], two cups of sifted flour and a teaspoonful of vanilla. After mixing all the rest of the ingredients, beat in the chocolate mixture last of all. Put the layers together with boiled icing.

"A fine cake and economical.

"MARGARET."

I discern nothing amiss with the cake except the name. I should rather carry the pledge to "renounce the devil and all his works" into the kitchen as well as into the outer world.

Now as to your trouble with falling cakes. You either mix the batter too soft or you bake too quickly. Keep the cake covered with paper until it has risen to its full height, and do not have too hot a fire to begin the baking with. Increase the heat gradually after the cake has gained its full height. Again, do not draw the cake from the oven abruptly. Open the door of the oven and cover the cake again. Leave it thus for from three to five minutes, then take it out gently and set as gently upon the table. A jar or thump will cause a delicate cake to fall.

Bread Made from Dry Yeast.

In laying before readers the last recipe for bread we shall insert today, I think it will be well to say if we seem to make a run upon this branch of housewifery it is from principle rather than inclination.

Housewives, all over the country, are coming to the knowledge of the fact that by serving good homemade bread to their families they save at least one-third upon the baker's bill, to say nothing of providing more wholesome and palatable breadstuffs than may be bought from shops or manufactory. The economical side of the question may appeal more strongly to a small percentage of mothers than the wholesomeness of the homemade loaf. Combined, the two considerations are a powerful argument in favor of every woman learning an art our foremothers accepted as a matter of course.

"I am sure there are many women who, like myself, live where they must depend upon dry yeast for bread making. I am inclosing a formula which I studied out for my own use. It is quite correct, as I have made bread by it for my own use, and it is good.

"Hard winter wheat makes the best bread, but we can hardly ever get it here.

"BREAD MADE FROM DRY YEAST.—Boil enough mealy Irish potatoes to make two cupfuls when they are done, in enough water to cover them deep. When the (peeled) potatoes are cooked and mealy, drain off the water and mix it to a batter with nearly a pint of flour. Mash and beat in the potatoes. The batter should be as stiff as you can stir with a spoon, as it will thin in cooling. When it is lukewarm stir in a yeast cake that has been softened in a little warm water. Beat well and set to rise in a warm place all night. In cold weather set it at noon for next morning. When the dough is light and covered with air bubbles, stir and beat hard, and set for the second rising. (This will be in from four to six hours.)

"In the morning put a good quart of buttermilk that is not too sour upon the stove to scald. Let it cool to lukewarmness. Sift about five quarts of flour into a big bowl, and stir in a tablespoonful of salt. Make a hollow in the center of the salted flour; pour in the milk and stir some of the flour down into it. Add the yeast sponge and knead all together steadily, working from the center toward the outer portions of the dough, and turning over and over to subject every part of the mass to the kneading, until the dough is smooth and elastic. Cover with a cloth and set to rise in a moderately warm place out of all drafts of cold air. When it is light and has doubled the original bulk, cut it down with a dull knife. Set for another rising; cut it down again when it is light, and set for the next to the last rising. The last rising is given when the risen dough has been made into loaves. Put it then into pans, and when they are light, bake.

"This quantity will make four two pound loaves. If you have too much for one baking, put half of the sponge into a glass jar, cover it with cold water, and keep in the closed jar in a cool place for the next time. It will keep good for three or four days in a cold place. MRS. T. E. H."

Southern cooks are famous for the excellence and variety of their "breads." This recipe, albeit it may seem rather elaborate, may be depended upon for accuracy. The buttermilk softens and enriches the loaves.

* *

Home Made Crackers.

"We eat a great many crackers in our family, and as we are some distance from the grocery, we sometimes run short of them just when we wish to use them. My mother used to make crackers at home when I was a girl that were nicer than those we buy. Can you tell me how to do this? CAROLINE C."

My mother, too, fed us with home made crackers that were sweeter and better in every way than the sawdusty affairs that are bought by the box under divers names nowadays. Here is one recipe which you may try with fair hope of securing a satisfactory product:

HOME MADE CRACKERS—On baking day take out a pound or so of dough from the quantity prepared for the day's baking. Do this before you set the dough for the last rising. Work into the reserved portion an even tablespoonful of butter for cupful of the dough. Knead upon the board for three minutes to incorporate the butter well. Then with the rolling pin beat the dough out into a sheet an inch thick. Roll it up as you would pastry, and pound flat again. This done, roll the sheet out smooth and less than a quarter of an inch in thickness. Cut out with a small tumbler or cake cutter. Prick around each all the way through with a fork in several places and bake quickly to a pale brown. Work the scraps left by the cutter into a sheet and cut out to the last bit.

Let them get cold before putting into a box lined with white paper.

Some Desired Recipes.

"Will you be good enough to let me have the following recipes?

"1. Stuffed green peppers.

"2. Individual Charlotte russe.

"3. How do cafés make their baked potatoes so puffy.? Do they scoop out the inside and mash it, then fill the skins with it?

"4. Must peas always be strained out of the liquor in which they are boiled?

"5. Potatoes au gratin? I find no directions for making this dish in any of my cook books. MRS. R. S. P."

STUFFED PEPPERS.—Mince enough cold chicken to make a cupful and mix with it two tablespoonfuls of minced cold boiled ham and one of melted butter.

Select fine peppers of uniform size; remove the stems so that the peppers will stand upright. Then cut a piece from the blossom end large enough to allow you to dig out the seeds. Do this with a pair of sharp scissors and do not let the seeds touch the sides of the peppers in withdrawing them. The peculiarly pungent taste, unpleasant to many, lies in the seeds. Parboil the emptied shells for five minutes to make them yet more mild. Lay them then in ice water to make them firm enough to hold the stuffing. When they are cold wipe and arrange them in a buttered bake dish; fill with the prepared mixture and fit the scalded tops on again.

Pour about them a cup of chicken stock, made by thinning gravy from the roast fowls with a little water. If you have none, substitute a 10 cent can of strained chicken broth. Bake, covered, half an hour.

You may vary this popular dish by filling the prepared peppers with a forcemeat of crumbs, chopped pork, and tomato sauce; with rice seasoned with cheese; with cold minced fish or with French mushrooms, halved and mixed with a good [illegible] butter.

INDIVIDUAL CHARLOTTE [illegible] Slice a stale sponge cake rather thin [illegible] cut each slice round with a cake cutter. Stir half a cupful of powdered sugar [illegible] a pint of chilled cream and whip stiff. [illegible] done, stir into the standing whipped cream two teaspoonfuls of vanilla or other essence.

Fit a round of cake into the bottom of a china "nappie"; soak it with wine or [illegible] custard, as you prefer. Fit strips of cake around the sides of the nappie [illegible] it even with the top. Heap the [illegible] cream within the cup thus made, and [illegible] a maraschino cherry upon the top.

Eat from the nappie.

OR—You may bake "individual [illegible] cake" in cups with straight sides and [illegible] they are done and cold excavate the [illegible] carefully; then fill with the whipped [illegible]

3. I have never eaten potatoes [illegible] claimed to be baked and were merely [illegible] stuffed with mashed potato. The [illegible] would be too palpable. A perfectly [illegible] and sound potato will bake "mealy" [illegible] is also the practice of the cook [illegible] mealiness and whether it is done [illegible] heart by a skillful pinch that breaks [illegible] skin slightly and makes the [illegible] and friable.

4. Yes. Peas should always be [illegible] in a hot colander. Season with [illegible] pepper and after they are dished [illegible] lightly a good lump of butter. [illegible] oven for one minute to heat them [illegible] and serve. It is slovenly to send [illegible] table swimming in liquid.

POTATOES AU GRATIN.—[illegible] slice the potatoes rather thin and [illegible] layers into a buttered bake dish, [illegible] each layer with salt, pepper, and [illegible] butter.

Pour into the dish a cupful of [illegible] and cover closely. Bake for half [illegible] and pour in a cupful of hot milk [illegible] you have stirred a [illegible] ter. Strew fine bread crumbs [illegible] the top. Salt and pepper and [illegible] butter. Set back in the oven and [illegible] slightly.

Some cooks strew Parmesan [illegible] the crumbs and over each layer of [illegible] potato. This is a matter of taste.

I do not know what cook book [illegible] that fails to give a recipe for [illegible] dish. Yet it is comparatively [illegible] That from which I copy the [illegible] issued ten years ago.

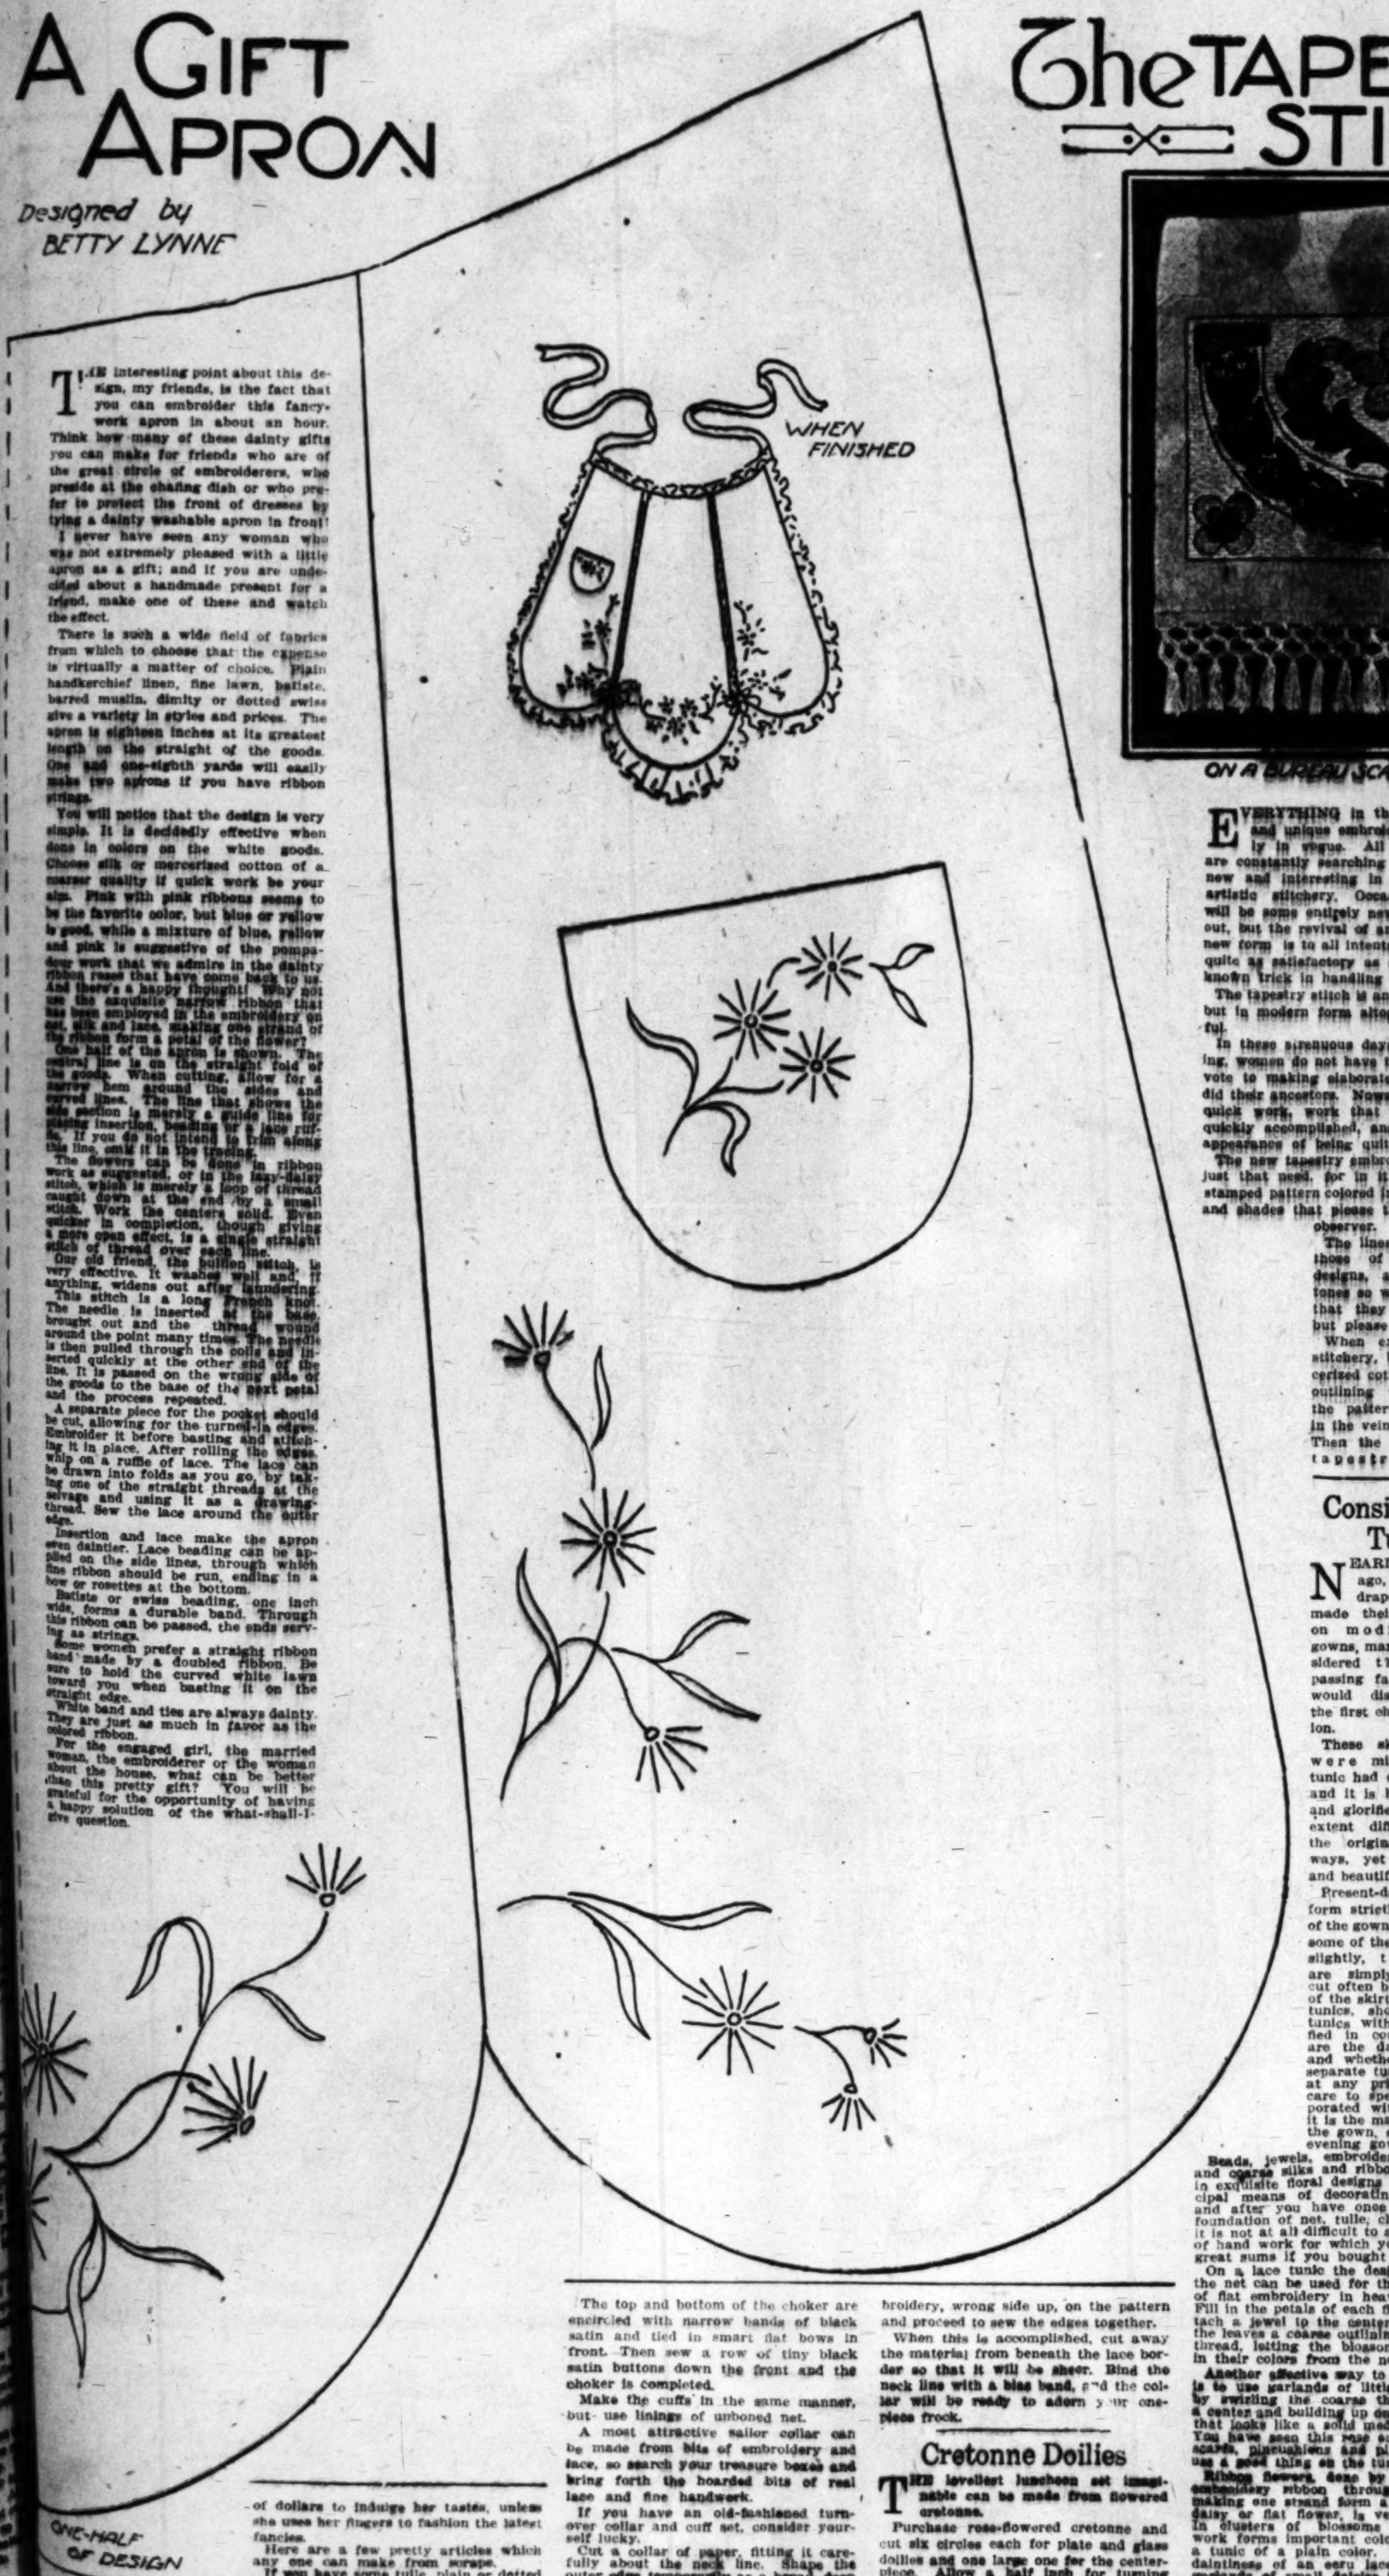
For the INDUSTRIOUS NEEDLEWOMAN

By ADELAIDE BYRD

A GIFT APRON

Designed by BETTY LYNNE



THE interesting point about this design, my friends, is the fact that you can embroider this fancywork apron in about an hour. Think how many of these dainty gifts you can make for friends who are of the great circle of embroiderers, who preside at the chafing dish or who prefer to protect the front of dresses by tying a dainty washable apron in front!

I never have seen any woman who was not extremely pleased with a little apron as a gift; and if you are undecided about a handmade present for a friend, make one of these and watch the effect.

There is such a wide field of fabrics from which to choose that the expense is virtually a matter of choice. Plain handkerchief linen, fine lawn, batiste, barred muslin, dimity or dotted swiss give a variety in styles and prices. The apron is eighteen inches at its greatest length on the straight of the goods. One and one-eighth yards will easily make two aprons if you have ribbon strings.

You will notice that the design is very simple. It is decidedly effective when done in colors on the white goods. Choose silk or mercerized cotton of a coarser quality if quick work be your aim. Pink with pink ribbons seems to be the favorite color, but blue or yellow is good, while a mixture of blue, yellow and pink is suggestive of the pompadour work that we admire in the dainty ribbon roses that have come back to us. And there's a happy thought! Why not use the exquisite narrow ribbon that has been employed in the embroidery on net, silk and lace, making one strand of the ribbon form a petal of the flower?

One half of the apron is shown. The central line is on the straight fold of the goods. When cutting, allow for a narrow hem around the sides and curved lines. The line that shows the side section is merely a guide line for placing insertion, beading or a lace ruffle. If you do not intend to trim along this line, omit it in the tracing.

The flowers can be done in ribbon work as suggested, or in the lazy-daisy stitch, which is merely a loop of thread caught down at the end by a small stitch. Work the centers solid. Even quicker in completion, though giving a more open effect, is a single straight stitch of thread over each line.

Our old friend, the bullion stitch, is very effective. It washes well and, if anything, widens out after laundering.

This stitch is a long French knot. The needle is inserted at the base, brought out and the thread wound around the point many times. The needle is then pulled through the coils and inserted quickly at the other end of the line. It is passed on the wrong side of the goods to the base of the next petal and the process repeated.

A separate piece for the pocket should be cut, allowing for the turned-in edges. Embroider it before basting and stitching it in place. After rolling the edges, whip on a ruffle of lace. The lace can be drawn into folds as you go, by taking one of the straight threads at the selvage and using it as a drawing-thread. Sew the lace around the outer edge.

Insertion and lace make the apron even daintier. Lace beading can be applied on the side lines, through which fine ribbon should be run, ending in a bow or rosettes at the bottom.

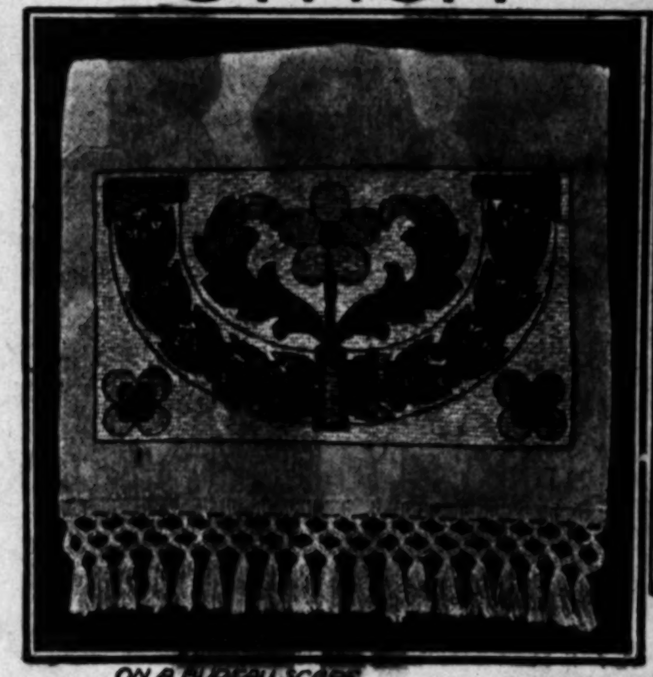
Batiste or swiss beading, one inch wide, forms a durable band. Through this ribbon can be passed, the ends serving as strings.

Some women prefer a straight ribbon band made by a doubled ribbon. Be sure to hold the curved white lawn toward you when basting it on the straight edge.

White band and ties are always dainty. They are just as much in favor as the colored ribbon.

For the engaged girl, the married woman, the embroiderer or the woman about the house, what can be better than this pretty gift? You will be grateful for the opportunity of having a happy solution of the what-shall-I-give question.

The TAPESTRY STITCH



ON A BUREAU SCARF

FOR THE SEWING BAG

THE COUCH CUSHION

EVERYTHING in the way of odd and unique embroidery is strongly in vogue. All needleworkers are constantly searching for something new and interesting in the line of artistic stitchery. Occasionally there will be some entirely new idea brought out, but the revival of an old stitch in new form is to all intents and purposes quite as satisfactory as a hitherto unknown trick in handling the needle.

The tapestry stitch is ancient of usage, but in modern form altogether delightful.

In these strenuous days of rapid living, women do not have the time to devote to making elaborate tapestries as did their ancestors. Nowadays we want quick work, work that is easy and quickly accomplished, and yet has the appearance of being quite elaborate.

The new tapestry embroidery supplies just that need, for in it we have the stamped pattern colored in varying tints and shades that please the eye of the observer.

The lines followed are those of conventional designs, and the color tones so wide in variety that they cannot help but please all tastes.

When executing the stitchery, black or mercerized cotton is used in outlining the lines of the pattern, and often in the veining of leaves. Then the long, uneven tapestry stitches are done in heavier silk or cotton in colors matching or corresponding with the colors in the design.

Green is the predominating color in the bureau scarf here illustrated. Dark green shading off into pale leaf tones are worked with those same shades of silk, while the background is done in the palest shade of green.

This on natural-colored linen is extremely effective. In making the stitches a straight line is followed across the material, then parallel lines follow this. The stitches are about an eighth of an inch in length or a little longer and a very short space left between each stitch.

Natural-colored rose tones, with dark green foliage, are used in the design on the couch cushion.

This also is of heavy, loosely woven linen. The vogue now is to trim the ends of such oblong cushions with fringe. You can use linen, silk or mercerized cotton fringe, the silk, of course, on pillow covers made of silken material.

Stencil designs can be used to advantage for this work, for after the dyes have dried thoroughly their outlines may be worked with black or dark-colored silk and the interior filled in with the tapestry stitch.

Anything decorated in this way would make an attractive gift to a friend who loves artistic decorations in her home.

Or if you have a masculine friend, the pillow or table scarf would be ideal for his study or den.

Consider the Tunic

NEARLY four years ago, when tunic draperies first made their appearance on modish evening gowns, many people considered them just a passing fancy, which would disappear with the first change in fashion.

These skeptical ones were mistaken. The tunic had come to stay; and it is here, modified and glorified, to a great extent differing from the original in many ways, yet as graceful and beautiful as of yore.

Present-day tunics conform strictly to the line of the gown itself. While some of them are draped slightly, the majority are simply overskirts, cut often by the pattern of the skirt itself. Long tunics, short tunics, tunics with lines modified in countless ways are the day's offering, and whether the whole separate tunic is bought at any price that you care to spend or incorporated with the dress, it is the main feature of the gown, especially the evening gown.

Beads, jewels, embroidery in thread and coarse silks and ribbon work done in exquisite floral designs are the principal means of decorating the tunic, and after you have once planned the foundation of net, tulle, chiffon or lace it is not at all difficult to add the touch of hand work for which you would pay great sums if you bought the models.

On a lace tunic the design woven in the net can be used for the guide lines of flat embroidery in heavy silk floss. Fill in the petals of each flower and attach a jewel to the center of it. Give the leaves a coarse outlining with green thread, letting the blossoms burst out in their colors from the net.

Another effective way to trim a tunic is to use garlands of little buds made by swirling the coarse thread around a center and building up on itself a rose that looks like a solid medieval flower. You have seen this rose embroidery on scarfs, pincushions and pillows. Well, use a good thing on the tunic.

Ribbon flowers, done by pushing the embroidery ribbon through net and making one strand form a petal of the daisy or flat flower, is very effective. In clusters of blossoms this ribbon work forms important color masses on a tunic of a plain color. Imagine the daintiness of an ecru lace tunic with garlands of small daisies in pink, yellow, pale blue and lavender. Little wreaths of flowers are exquisite when placed at the top of a valance or lace flouncing. Lace ends of a sash should be weighted down with rows of embroidery or ribbon flowers.

Tunics that have taken Paris by storm have the brilliant incrustations that easily can be added to flowers in clusters. Strands of beads and mock jewels can be bought at a price as low as 3 cents a string. The best effect is obtained by massing jewels or beads rather than dotting them over the whole surface.

Sunbursts of crystals or transparent glass in blue, amber or green glass are used on black and colored nets. These are merely radiating lines of different lengths. Serpentine lines running in graceful curves in and out a heavy border on a tunic can be added to give a touch of color. A piece of tissue paper can be marked with the pattern, basted on under the net and the beads sewn on the lines, the thread between being on the wrong side. When the whole design is completed, the tissue paper is torn away.

The incorporation of large silk flowers cut from pompadour ribbon or silk is a note that sounds promising. Many French designers have used this, and the effect is too good to be overlooked on this side of the water. The flowers are cut out and applied, raw edges and all, to the under surface of the net, under the roses or leaves. An indistinct color effect is given that is most important in contributing a good tone to a costume. The pattern of the lace is a deciding note in the cutting of the flowers. Even silk muslin and soft cretonne are used, proving that nothing is too cheap for use, if the artist's eye is yours.

Consider the tunic and decorate it as has been suggested. An old gown can be used for the foundation and a handsome frock for the young girl or the middle-aged woman will result from the combination of net or chiffon over silk.

Have you thought of the joy with which a hand-decorated tunic would be greeted as a Christmas gift? There is time, and the effect will amply repay you for the work.

How to Transfer

HERE are suggestions for transferring the pattern before you to any material before working.

Perhaps the easiest way is the "window-pane" method. This is successful when the material is thin, like linen, batiste, etc. Pin the sheet of paper and the material together and hold them up against the glass of a window. With a sharp pencil draw on the material the design, which can be easily seen through the goods. If one-half of the design only be given, unpin the paper and turn the other side to the fabric. The strong light behind will make it plain.

If you have carbon paper, you should place the sheet between your fabric and the newspaper. This latter is on top. With a sharp pencil go over the outline of the design. The impression will be left in fine lines and will last until worked. This method is successful on heavy material.

The last way is also easy. On wax paper or ordinary tissue paper trace the pattern before you. When the design is completed, turn over the paper and outline the pattern with a heavy lead pencil. Then place the design down on the fabric and redraw the outline, pressing hard with the pencil. The pattern will be transferred without difficulty.

Surely the way is easy.

Why Not Embroider a Blouse?

IF YOU were to buy one of these, the cost would startle you—and your husband; but this message is to the woman who admires the beautiful and who has enough of the practical in her to use the needle in behalf of the blouse.

Many models rely upon hand embroidery for their attractive beauty, and each one can be copied by you. Either washable fabric or chiffon is used this season with equal success.

In one simple little blouse of handkerchief linen wide valenciennes lace is applied in straps over the shoulders. A band crosses these at the lower front, and two pieces are used on each sleeve. This wide lace is used for the background of lovely embroidery. The stem is worked solid, and some of the leaves, also the central part of each flower, are embroidered, and the design is then continued over the lace in a spray on the linen. Chain stitching outlines the top and the edge of each sleeve. This blouse can be done in two shades of cerise, but blue, green and tan are very effective.

Coinspots and a running vine on another model are simple, yet indescribably dainty in pale blue on white batiste. A row of dots is worked on the group of four tucks in the center. On each side a running stem with leaves on it is used in a pointed design, with coinspots in the center. The collarless bodice is finished with shallow scallops. Each full sleeve receives the same treatment. The whole blouse is cool, comfortable and serviceable.

A more ornate model for afternoon wear is a blouse that combines color and Irish lace. A pointed yoke is inset, surrounded by a band of tucks and insertion. Panels of tucks and insertion are used on the long sleeves. Blue thread is then applied on the flower forms of the lace, and tiny flowers of blue are used on the material, spotted here and there on bodice and sleeves.

Graduated coinspots in red are used on a linen blouse. The top is scalloped, and three rows of dots are used on the front. A group of tucks at each shoulder is held down under embroidered disks. The cuffs are decorated in the same simple fashion.

French knots are combined with couching on a favorite model. A square yoke is outlined with rose thread. There is an extended line from the shoulder to elbow, defined by couching. A running vine and leaves fill in the space between the lines. The yoke is embroidered in French knots, blue, pale green and old rose giving a Persian effect on the marquisette. Crocheted buttons are used on the front below the yoke.

Just a suggestion of embroidery is given to the shallow yoke on another model. The lower edge drops in curves and is outlined in couching stitch. Coinspots are used as a border, and a conventional motif is embroidered at the front. This yoke can be used on a lingerie blouse of any material. It is a simple, easy method of decoration.

Surely these suggestions are compelling in their appeal. By embroidering a blouse at home you can own a garment that hints of France (and high cost), but brings beauty within the reach of any one clever with her needle.

ts From Old Scraps

prices ask- luxuries for the the work of dollars to indulge her tastes, unless she uses her fingers to fashion the latest fancies.

Here are a few pretty articles which any one can make from scraps.

If you have some tulle, plain or dotted net, sheer mull or point d'esprit, make a choker and cuffs to match. For the long, slender throat there is nothing so becoming as a choker.

Purchase a collar foundation of boned net the desired height, and cut the net wide enough to form an inch frill at the top and two inches wide at the bottom. Have the tulle knife-pleated and stitch it to the foundation.

The top and bottom of the choker are encircled with narrow bands of black satin and tied in smart flat bows in front. Then sew a row of tiny black satin buttons down the front and the choker is completed.

Make the cuffs in the same manner, but use linings of unboned net.

A most attractive sailor collar can be made from bits of embroidery and lace, so search your treasure boxes and bring forth the hoarded bits of real lace and fine handwork.

If you have an old-fashioned turnover collar and cuff set, consider yourself lucky.

Cut a collar of paper, fitting it carefully about the neck line. Shape the outer edge temporarily as a broad, deep sailor collar. Arrange the three strips of embroidered linen which formed the collar and cuff set on the paper collar, using one strip on each of the three sides. Now fill in the bits of lace or medallions you possess to suit your personal taste. After having planned the border of the collar, remove the scraps and cover the paper pattern with fine batiste and baste the lace and embroidery, wrong side up, on the pattern and proceed to sew the edges together.

When this is accomplished, cut away the material from beneath the lace border so that it will be sheer. Bind the neck line with a bias band, and the collar will be ready to adorn your one-piece frock.

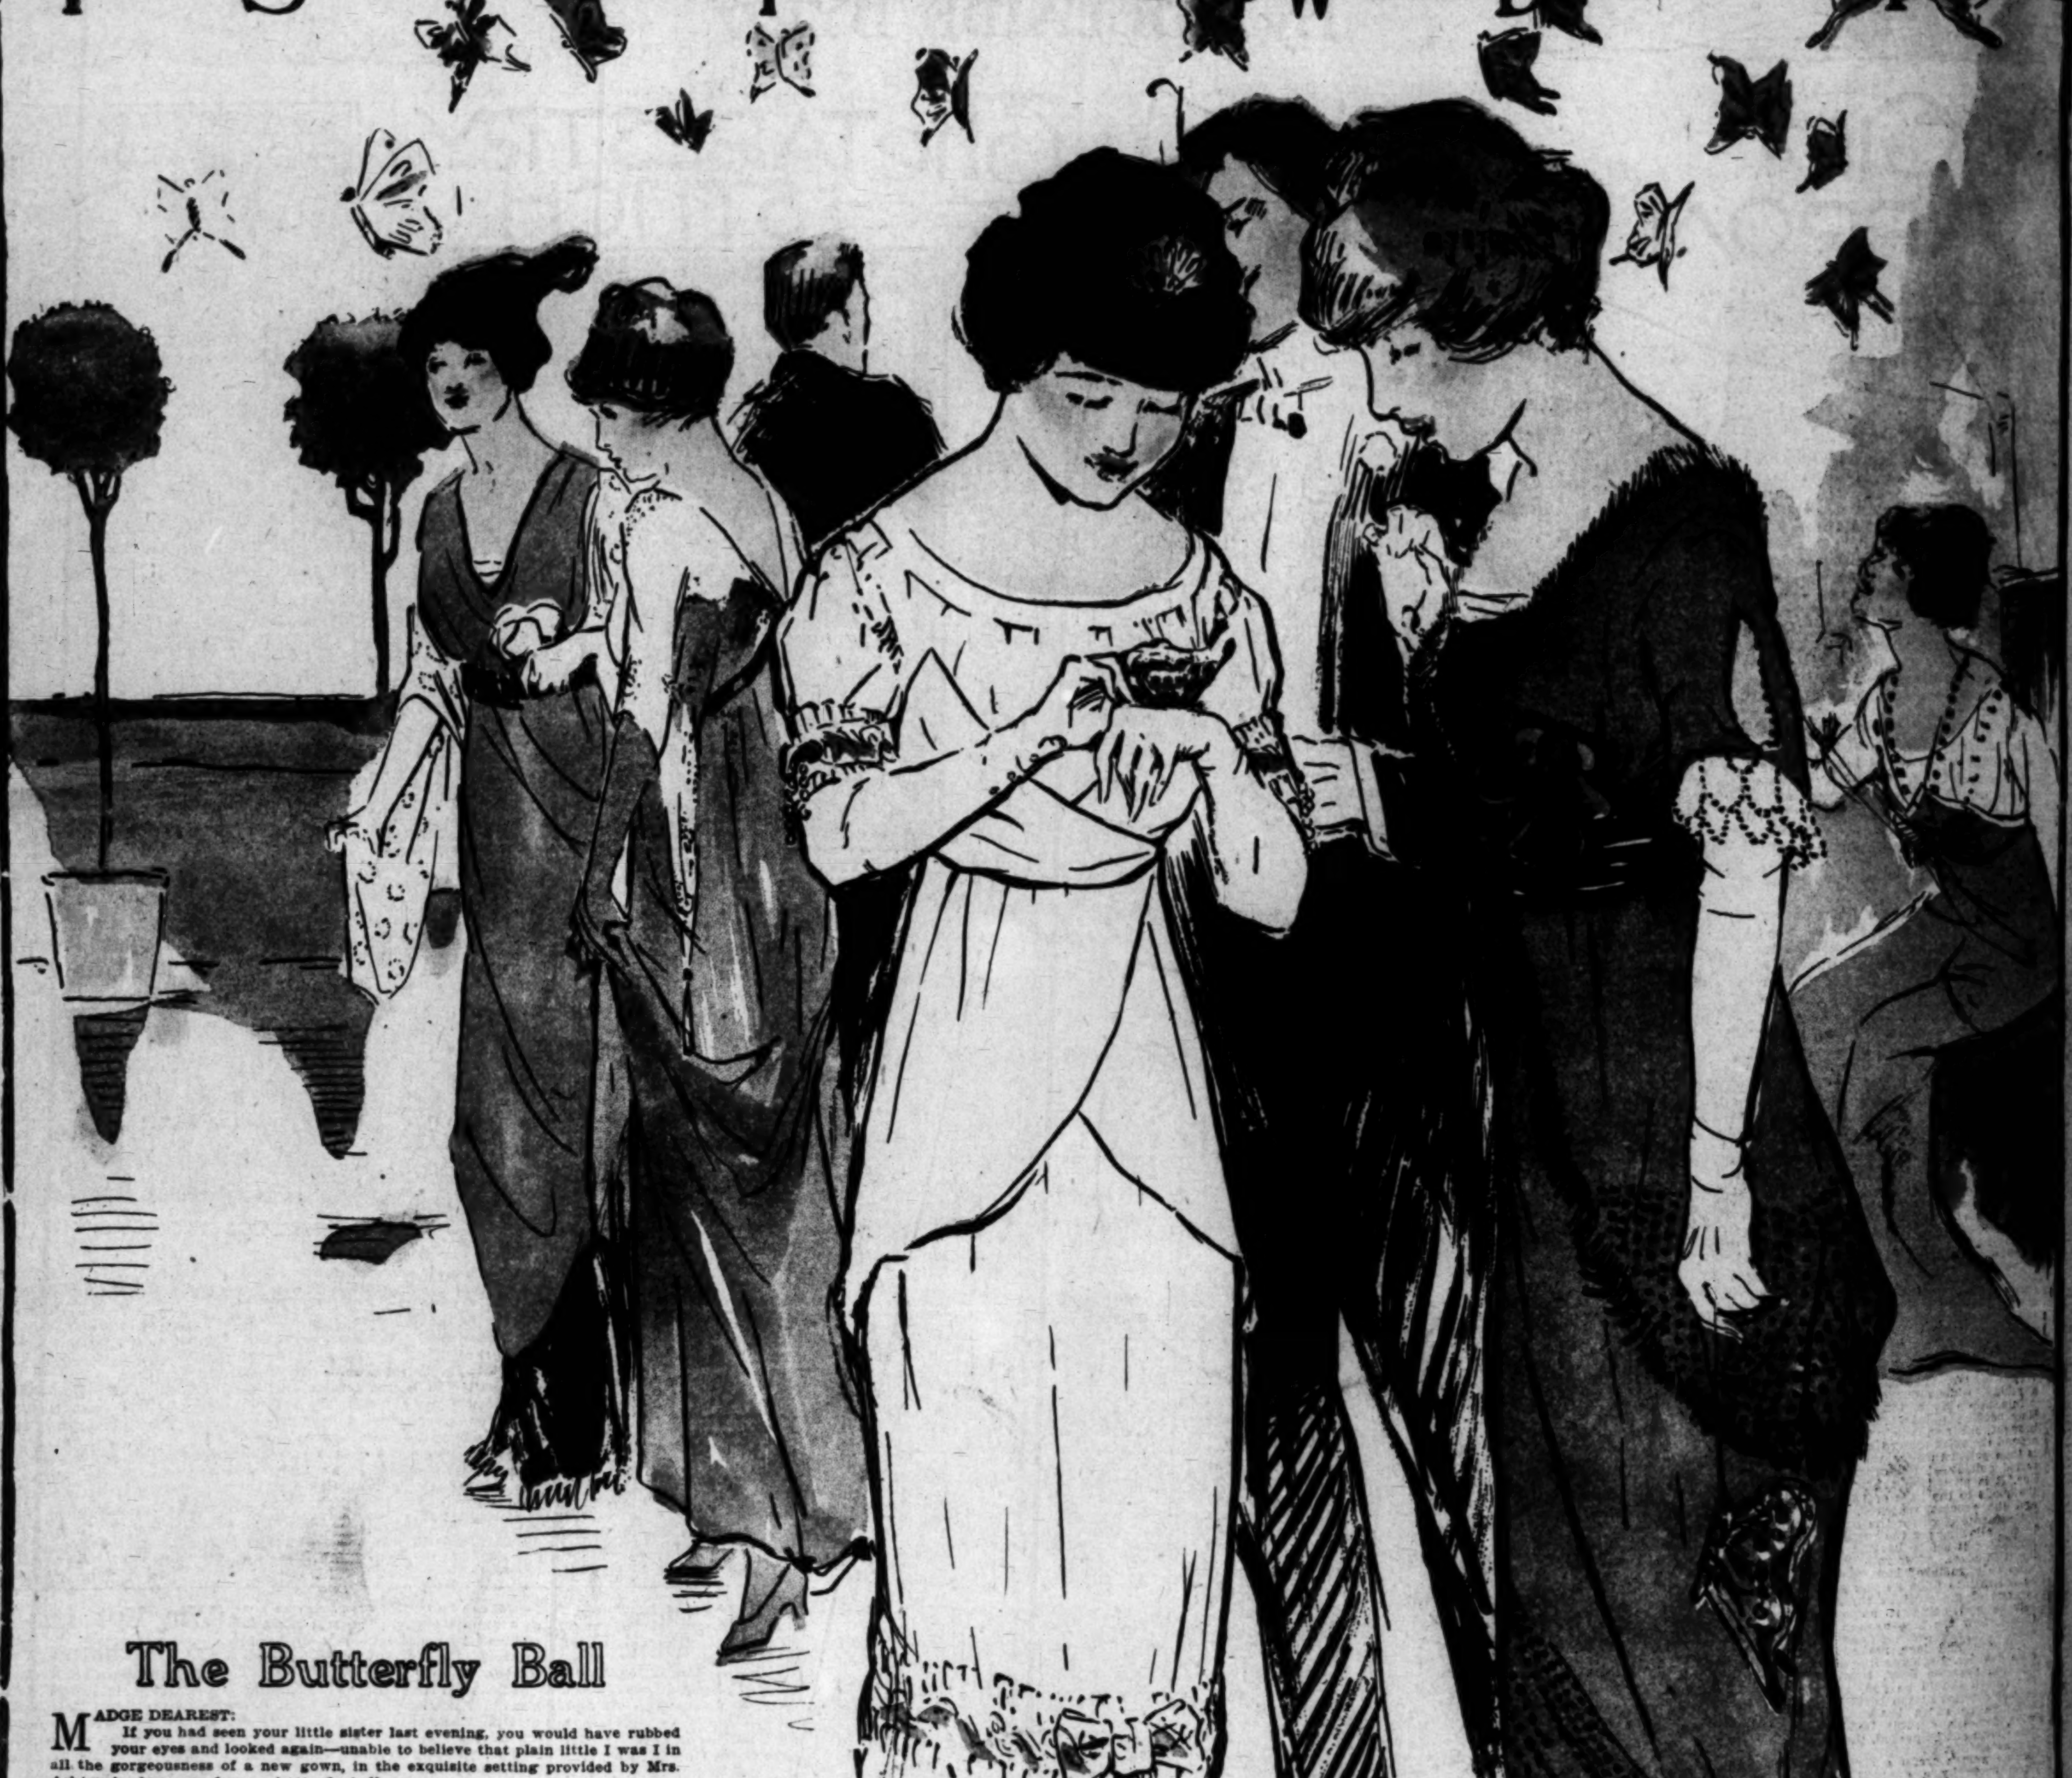
Cretonne Doilies

THE loveliest luncheon set imaginable can be made from flowered cretonne.

Purchase rose-flowered cretonne and cut six circles each for plate and glass doilies and one large one for the centerpiece. Allow a half inch for turning under to produce a neat finish. Overcast this narrow hem by hand and border the doilies with cluny lace three inches in width. This set is most effective when used on a highly polished table.

This should appeal to the clever needlewoman as an excellent suggestion for a wedding, engagement or Christmas gift.

THE SMARTEST FASHIONS of WELL-DRESSED FOLK



The Butterfly Ball

MADGE DEAREST:

If you had seen your little sister last evening, you would have rubbed your eyes and looked again—unable to believe that plain little I was I in all the gorgeousness of a new gown, in the exquisite setting provided by Mrs. Ashton by her now famous butterfly ball.

You will be interested to read the accounts of it I am inclosing, clipped from various newspapers. It was indeed a "brilliant social success," as the society reporter has aptly put it. It was even more: a distinct novelty in the way of entertainment and the most colorful spectacle I have ever witnessed.

Imagine, if you can, a large ballroom, converted into a tropical garden by the use of palms and growing plants, literally alive with brilliant-hued butterflies, which quivered and throbbed in the flower-scented air as if they were actually alive, floating on their gossamer wings from one honey-laden blossom to another.

They were really cunningly made of rice paper and chenille, then suspended from the ceiling by the finest of twisted wires, which allowed them to sway in the air like living things.

All the decorations were butterflies; the dance cards were of satin lettered in gold; even the ices were replicas of butterflies kissing some lovely flower.

But I must hasten and tell you about the lovely gowns I saw there, for I think every woman had on a new frock.

Our hostess wore a French model (she confided to me that it had just arrived from Paris) of intensely blue charmeuse and black satin. The bodice was slightly draped into a high girdle of satin, revealing a V-shaped vest of the same. It was bordered with a narrow band of fur which was continued around short pannier draperies as well. This drapery had a wide border of cut jet, laid on in even rows, and the same effect was carried out on the lower portion of the charmeuse overskirt. The underskirt was black satin.

A deep red velvet poppy added the brilliant touch of color that is distinctly Parisian in effect.

Dorothy's frock of maize-colored chiffon had an overdrapery of a deeper-hued satin, forming points each side of the front, then falling in a short pannier over the hips. Note how strong is the pannier mode—and it is growing in strength every day.

Narrow flat frills of lace bordered bands of embroidered trimming which encircled the skirt, joining in front with bows and short festoons of beads. It was one of the smartest frocks for a debutante that I have seen this season.

Colored gloves have come into their own again. Gloves that match the gown, with few exceptions, were worn at the ball, as they will be throughout the winter.

Elsie was charming in pale-blue silk tissue over a pastel shade of charmeuse. The outlining girdle on the bodice was of narrow black velvet, and the skirt was draped up on the side with a narrow strip of tissue beaded with jet.

She is such a pretty girl!

Of course you want to know about my own gown. It is flame-colored chiffon over white satin, with a deep hem border of black. Both bodice and skirt are draped toward the side—but just how is impossible to explain. You will have to see the gown.

A narrow outlining of black around the decolletage gives my neck and shoulders that creamy loveliness so much to be desired. It has lace sleeves—and a black girdle. More I cannot tell you now, for Robert, Sr., is calling me and I must hasten to administer to his needs. That is my wifely duty.

Au revoir, sister mine. Let me hear soon from thee and thine.

Affectionately, ELEANOR.
